5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to giue care, and willing to prophetic: for thou hast no longer space but this life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant to entreat thee, that thou mayest giue seede vnto our heart, and builde our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby each man may liue that is corrupt: then who shall steppe foꝝth in the place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thy hands, like as thou hast sayd.

8 For when the body is fashioned now in the mothers wombe, and thou givest the members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine moneths doeth thy worke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her:

9 But the thing that keepeth, and that is kept, shall both be preserved: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserved deliuereth by the things that grow in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruit of the breasts:

11 That the thing which is created and fashioned, may bee nourished for a tyme, till thou disposest and orderest it with thy mercie.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturerst it in thy lawe, and refoꝝmerst it with thy vnderstanding.

13 Worshipp it as thy creature, and makest it liuing as thy worke.

14 Seeing then that thou destroyed him which wth great labour is created and fashionned through thy commandement, thou couldest lightly ordaine also that the thing which is made, might be preferred.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speake, (foz concerning all men in general thou shalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, foz whose sake I am foz,

16 And thine inheritance, foz whose cause I mourne, and Israel, foz whom I am woeful, and Jacob foz whose sake I am grieved:

17 Therefore begin I to pray before thee foz my selfe, and foz them: foz I see the faults of vs that dwell in the land.

18 But I haue heard the swiftnesse of the iudge which is to come.

16 Therefore heare my voice, and vnderstand my words, and I shall speake before thee. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken vp:

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in etterlastingnesse, which beholdest from aboue things in the heauen and in the eye:

21 whose thzone is inestimable, whose glory and maicke may not bee comprehended, before wh<sup>o</sup> the hostes of angels stand with trembling,

22 whose keeping is turned in wind and fire, whose word is true, whose sayings are stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordi- nance is fearefull,

23 whose looke drieth by the depths, whose wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away, and whose crueth beareth witness:

24 Hear the prayer of thy seruant, and make with thine carcs the petition of thy creature.

25 foz while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.

26 Looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them which serue thee in cruethy.

27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the heathen: but to the desire of those that keepe thy testimonies with afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy will haue knowen thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy wil to destroy them which haue had beastly manners: but to looke vpon them that haue cleerly taught thy law.

30 Take thou no indignation at them which are worke then beastes: but loue them that al- way put their trust in thy righteousnesse and glory.

31 foz wee and our fathers haue all the same sicknesse and diseale, but because of vs sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 foz if thou hast mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull to vs that haue no workes of righteousnesse.

33 foz the righteous which haue layd by ma- ny good workes together, shall out of their deeds receiue rewarde.

34 But what is man that thou shouldest take displeasure at him: or what is this corruptible and mortall generacion, that thou shouldest bee so rough toward him?

35 foz of a trueth there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the saithfull, there is none which hath not done amisse.

36 foz in this, O Lord, thy righteousnes and thy goodnes shall be praised and declared, if thou be mercifull vnto them which are not rich in good workes.

37 When answered he mee, and sayd, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy words it shall be.

38 foz I will not verily consider the workes of them which haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction:

39 But I will reioice over the worke and thought of the righteous, I will remember also the pilgrimage, the saluation, and the reward that they shall haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

41 foz as the husbandman soweth much seed vpon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet alway the thing that is sowed or planted, is not all kept safe, neither doeth it all take roote: euen so is it of them that are sowed in the world, they shall not all be sau'd.

42 In answered then, a sayd, If I haue found grace, then let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seed perissheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not thy raine in due season, or if there come too much raine vpon it, and corrupt it:

44 Euen so perissheth man also, which is created with thy hands, and is like vnto thine owne image, and to thy selfe, foz whose sake thou hast made all things, and listned him vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Bee not wroth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thine owne inheritance: foz thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 When answered he me, and sayd, Things present, are foz the present, and things to come, foz such as be to come.

47 foz thou lackest yet much, seeing thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times dyu<sup>o</sup>en nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but nether to the vnrigh<sup>te</sup>ous.

48 In this also thou art marueilous before the highest,

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to bee much glorified among the righ<sup>te</sup>ous.

50 foz many and great miseries remaine foz them that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they are haue walked in great pride.

51 But vnderstand thou foz thy selfe, & seeke out the glory foz such as be like thee.

52 foz vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, the citie is builded for you, and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnes and wisdom.

53 The roote of euill is marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hid from you, and vnto hell fleeth corruption in forgetfulness.

54 Sorrowes are banished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortality.

55 And therefore aske thou no more questi- ons concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the highest, thought some of his law, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreover, they haue troden downe his righteous.

58 And sayde in their heart, that there is no God, yea and that wittingly, for they die.

59 For like as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you, euen so is thirt & paine prepared for them: for it was not his will that man should come to nought.

60 But they which bee created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are bthankesfull vnto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to such as bee like thee. Then answered I, and sayd, 63 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to doe in the last times: but at what time, and when, thou hast not shewed me.

The ix. Chapter,

5 All things in this worlde haue a beginning and an ende. 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

He answered me then, and sayd, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

2 When shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the very same time wherein the highest will begin to visit the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seene an earthquake, and bproxe of the people in the world,

4 Then shalt thou well vnderstand that the most highest spake of those things from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and end, and the ende is manifest:

6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and end in working and in tokens.

7 And euery one that shall be saued, and shall be able to escape by his works, & by faith wherein ye haue beleued,

8 Shall be preserved from the sayd perils, and shall see my sauour in my land, and with in my borders: for I haue halowed me from the world.

9 Then shall they pittie themselves, which nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shall dwell in paines.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefits, and haue not knowen me:

11 And they that haue abhorred my law, while they had yet freedome, and when they had yet open leasure of amendment and conuer-tion, vnderstood not, but despised it:

12 The same must knowe it after death in paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more carefull how the brigodly shall be punished: but enquire how the righteous shall be saued, and whole the world is, and for whom the world is, and when it is.

14 Then answered I, and sayd,

15 I haue sayd before, and now I speake, and will speake it also hereafter: that there bee many moe of them which perish, then of them which shall be saued:

16 Like as the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed: as the flowers be, such are the colours also: such as the workman is, such is also the worke: and as the husbandman is himselfe, so is the husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

18 And when I prepared for them that are now, or euer the world was made, wherein they should dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.

19 For then every one obeyed, but now the maners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seed, and by a law whereout they cannot rid themselves.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was peril, because of the thoughts that were come into it.

21 And I saw, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a winebery of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perish then which are growen by in vaine, and let my grape and wineberie be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it by.

23 Neuertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seuen dayes moe, but thou shalt not fast in them:

24 So thy way then into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eate onely of the flowers of the field, taste no flesh, drinke no wine, but eate flowers onely.

25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so will I come and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me, and there I sate among the flowers, and did eate of the herbs of the field, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my heart was bered within me like as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and sayd,

29 O Lord, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:

30 And thou spakest, saying, Heare mee, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seede of Jacob.

31 For behold, I sowe my law in you, and it shall bring fruite in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the law, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinances and statutes, and the fruit of thy lawe did not 33 For they that receiued it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And loe, it is a custome when the ground receiueth seede, or the Sea a shippe, or a vessel meat and drinke: that when it perisheth, or is broken, wherein a thing is sown, or wherein any thing is put,

35 The things also perish and are broken, which are sown or put therein and received, and the things that are receiued, remaine not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.

36 For we that haue receiued the law, perish in time, and our heart which also receiued the lawe:

37 Notwithstanding, the * law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things in my heart after this manner, I looked about mee with mine eyes, and vpon the right side I saw a * woman which mourned sore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voice, and was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes, and shee had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughts goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And sayd, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sozry in mind?

41 And shee sayd vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and take yet my sorowe, for I am soze bered in my minde, and brought very lowe.

42 And I said vnto her, what ayleth thee? Or who hath done any thing to thee? tell me.

43 Shee sayde vnto mee, I thy seruant haue bene vnfriutfull and barren, and haue had no childre, though I haue had an husband thirtie yeeres.

44 And these thirtie yeeres I doe nothing els day and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the highest.

45 After thirtie yeeres God heard me thy handmaiden, looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne: and I was glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours, and wee gaue great honour vnto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great trauaile.

47 So when hee grewe vp, and came to the time that hee should haue a wife, I made a feast.

The x. Chapter,

Eldras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

ANd it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lights, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: then tooke I my rest vnto the second day at night.

3 And when they had all left off to comfort mee, that I should bee quiet: then I rose vp by night, and fledde, and am come hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 And am purposed not to returne into the cite, but to remaine here, and neither to eat nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast vtill I die.

5 Then let I my meditation and thoughts fall that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, saying,

6 Thou foolish woman aboute all other, seest thou not our heauinesse and mourning, & what happeneth vnto vs?

7 How Sion our mother is all wofull and sozie, and how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?

8 Seeing we be all now in heauinesse, and make our moone, for we all be sozowful: art thou so heaue for one sonne?

9 Demaund the earth, and shee shall tell thee, that it is shee which ought by reason to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are bozne of her, and other shall come: and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be rooted out.

11 Who should then by reason make more mourning, then shee that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sozie but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto mee, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth: for I haue lost the fruite of my body, which I brought forth with heauines, and bare with sorowes:

13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth againe into her, as it is come to passe:

14 Then say I vnto thee, Like as thou hast bozne with trauaile and sorow, even so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man, even to him that laboureth her.

15 *And therefore withhold thy sorowe and heauinesse by thy selfe, and looke what happeneth vnto thee, beare it strongly.

16 For if thou iudgest the marke and end of God to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended herein.

17 Goe thy way then into the cite, to thy husband.

18 And she sayd vnto mee, What will I not doe: I will not goe into the cite, but here will I die.

19 So I communed more with her, and said,

20 Doe not so, but be counselled, and follow me: for how many fallies hath Sion? We of good comfort, because of the sorow of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is layde waste, our altar broken, our temple destroyed,

22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songs are put to silence, our mirth is banished away, the light of our candlesticke is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, all our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Leuites are caried away into captiuitie, our birgins are defiled, and our wiuces rauished, our righteous men spoiled, and our children destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake:

Heb. 12.2.

23 And Sion our seale, which is the greatest of all, is looted by from her worship: for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauynesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mighty may be mercifull vnto thee, and that the highest may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauaile.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and musd what it might be.

26 And immediatly she cast out a great voice, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared vnto mee no more: but there was a citie builded, a place was thewed from the ground and foundation: then was I afraid, and cryed with a loud voice, and sayd, 28 Where is Uriel the angel, * which came to me at the first: for he hath caused me to come in many considerations and high thoughts, and in mine ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, hee came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And loe, I lay as one that had bene dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered: and hee tooke me by the right hand, and comforted mee, and set me vpon my feete, and sayd vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding bereb, and the vnderstanding of thy heart? wherefore art thou so?y?

32 And I sayd, * Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy wordes, I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 He said vnto me, Stand by, and be manly, and I shall giue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayd I, Speake on to me, my Lord, forsake me not, lest I die through my rashnesse:

45 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I doe not knowe:

36 What is my vnderstanding deceiued, or both my soule dreame?

37 Now therefore I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answered me then, and said, Heare me, and I shall enforce thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the highest hath opened many secret things vnto thee.

39 He hath seene that thy way is right, for that thou takest sorow continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 And therefore vnderstand the vision which thou sawest a little while agoe, after this manner:

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded:

43 And where shee told thee of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it:

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and whereas shee told thee, (even shee whom thou seest now as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that shee sayd vnto thee, that she hath bene thirtie yeres vnfertill and barren: those are the thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeres, Solomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas shee told thee that shee nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Hierusalem.

48 But whereas shee told thee that her sonne died as his chance was, when she came into her chamber: that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And behold, when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, and beganest to comfort her: of these things which haue changed, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the most highest seeth that thou art so?y in thy minde, a succrest from thy whole heart for her, and so hath shee thewed thee her clearenesse, and the fairenesse of her beauty.

51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the field where no house was builded.

52 For I knewe that the highest would shew this vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to goe into the field where no foundation nor building is.

54 For in the place where the highest beginneth to shew his citie, there can no mans building be able to stand.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thine heart be afraid, but goe thy way in, and see the beauty and greatnesse of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest as the se?w.

58 But to morow at night thou shalt remaine here:

59 And so shall the highest shew thee visions of the high things, which he will doe vnto them that dwell vpon the earth in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, like as hee commaunded me.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The vision of an Eagle comming forth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a Lion comming out of the forest.

When sawe I a dreame, and behold, there came by from the sea an Eagle, which had twelue feathered wings, and thre heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, shee spread her wings ouer all the earth, and all the winds of the aire blew on her, & gathered them together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers, and small.

4 But her heads remained still, the head in the middelt was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreover, I sawe that the Eagle flew with her wings, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer all them that dwell vpon the earth.

6 And I saw that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I saw also that the Eagle floode by vpon her clawes, and I gave a sound with her scyfers, and a voice, saying after this manner,

4. Esdr. 4.1.

4. Esdr. 5.20

||Or, purpose.

||Or, to her, when shee was ing.

8 Watch not all together, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preferred for the last.

10 Neutrallye, I saw that the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her bodie.

11 And I numbred her contrary feathers, and beheld, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and beheld, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And so it was that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood vp, and reigned, and had a great time.

14 And it happened that when it reigned, the end of it came also like as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voice vnto it, and said, 16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long, this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more.

17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and beholde, in proceesse of time the feathers that followed stood vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings:

23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but two heads that rested, and six wings.

24 Then saw I also that two wings diuided themselves from the first, and remained vnder the head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and beholde, the feathers that were vnder the wing, thought to set vp themselves, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second was sooner away then the first.

28 And I behelde, and loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselves to reigne:

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely that was in the middle: for that was greater then the two other heads.

30 And then I saw that the two heads were ioynd with him:

31 And the head was turned with them that were with him, and did cate by the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth, with much labour: and he had the gouernance of the world ouer all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, and beheld, the head that was in the middle, suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.

34 But there remained the two heads which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side, deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voice which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 Then I saw, and beheld as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and said,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the hieft shall say vnto thee, 39 Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beasts, whom I made to reigne vpon earth and in my world, that the ende of their times might come through thee?

40 And the fourth came, and ouerran all the beasts that were past, and had power ouer the world with great fearfulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he vpon the earth with deceit.

41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with truth,

42 for thou hast troubled the mecke, thou hast hurt the peaceable and quiet, thou hast loued liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing and blasphemie come by vnto the hieft, and thy pride vnto the mightie.

44 The highest also hath looked vpon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wings, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngacious heads, and thy sinfull clawes, and all thy baine bodie:

46 That the earth may be refreshed, and come againe to her selfe, when she is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

The xij. Chapter,

The declaration of the former visions,

AND it happened when the Lion spake these words vnto the Eagle, I saw:

1 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hand appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more that came to him, and were set vp to reigne, and their kingdome was small and full of vpproare.

2 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole bodie of the Eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and from great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

3 Loe, this hast thou giuen me, in that thou searched out the wayes of the highest.

4 Loe, yet am I weak in my mind, and very weak in my spirit, and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

5 Therefore wil I now beseech the highest, that he will comfort me vnto the end.

|| Or, art not thou he that remainest of the foure beasts?

7 And I sayd, Lord, Lord, if I haue found grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer indeed be come by before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation and plaine difference of this horrible sight, that thou maiest perfectly comfort my soule.

9 For thou hast iudged mee worthy to shew me the last times.

10 And he sayd vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight:

11 The Eagle whom thou sawest come by from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniel:

12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall rise by a kingdome vpon earth, and it shall be feared aboue all the kingdomes that were before it.

14 In the same kingdome shall twelue kings reigne one after another.

15 Wherefore the second shall beginne to reigne, and shall haue moze time then the other twelue.

16 And this doe the twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for þ boyce which thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, it betokeneth, 18 That after the time of that kingdom, there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in perill of falling: neuertheless, it shall not then fall, but shall be refojed againe into his beginning.

19 And the eight feathers vnder the wings, which thou sawest hang vnder their wings, betoken, 20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose time shall be but small, & their yeres swift, and two of them shall perish.

21 But when the middell time cometh, there shall be foure kept for a time, whilest his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended: but two shall be kept vnto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads rising, this is the interpretation:

23 In his last dayes shall the most high raise by three kingdoms, and call many things againe into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein, with much labour, aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the Eagle.

25 For it is they that shall bring forth his wickednesse againe, and that shall perfozme and finish his last.

26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no moze, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bedde, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remain shall be slaine with the sword.

28 For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himselfe.

29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers vnder the wings, passing toward the head that is on the right side, 30 It signifieth, that it is they whom the highest hath kept vnto their ende: this is the small kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou sawest.

31 And the Lyon whom thou sawest rising by out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the Eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrigh-teousnesse, with all the words which thou hast heard, 32 Is the wind which the highest hath kept for them and for their wickednesse vnto the end: he shall reprove them, and cast before them their owne spoylings.

33 For he shall set them aliuie in iudgement, and shall rebuke them, and correct them.

34 For the residue of my people shall be deliuer by trouble, those that be preserved vpon my borders: and hee shall make them ioyfull vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast bene meete to know this secret of the highest.

37 Therefore write al these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them, 38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.

39 But waite thou here thy selfe yet seuen dayes moe, that it may be shewed thee whatsoever it pleaseth the highest to declare vnto thee: And with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and said, 41 What haue we offended thee? and what euill haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs, as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen of thy preferred from the tempest.

43 Haue we not els aduersitie ynough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had bene burnt with Sion?

45 For we are not better then they that died there. And they wept with loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Jacob.

47 For the highest hath you in remembrance, and the mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, because of the misery of Sion, that I might seeke mercy for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And now goe your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commanded them:

51 But I remained still in the selde seuen dayes, as the Angel bade me, and did eat onely of the herbes of the field, and had my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 The vision of a winde coming forth of the Sea, 3 which became a man. 5 His propertie and power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.

After the seven dayes, I dreame d a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde from the sea, that it mooued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and behold, there was a strong man with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, al the things trembled that were seene vnder him:

4 And whē the voice went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth saileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After these I saw, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the soure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and behold, he graued himselfe a great mountaine, and flew by vpon it.

7 But I would haue seene the region oꝝ place wherout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 And I saw after these, that all they which came to fight against him, were soꝝe afraid, and yet durst they fight.

9 Neuerthelesse, when he saw the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lift vp his hand, nor helde sword, nor any weapon:

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lips the winde of the flame, & out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and soꝝmes.

11 And they were all mixt together: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, & the great soꝝme:
and fel with a rush vpon the people which was prepared to fight, and burn them by euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene but onely dust and smell of smoke: when I saw this, I was afraid.

12 Afterward sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable people.

13 And there came much people vnto him, some were glad, some were soꝝy, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I like through great feare, and I awaked, and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shew me now yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding: woe vnto them that shall be left in those dayes, and much moꝝe woe vnto them that are not left behind:

17 For they that were not left, were in heauennesse.

18 Now vnderstand I the things that are laid vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he which is in danger, fall into these, and now to see that which shall chance hereafter, then to passe out of this world as a cloud. Then answered he me, and said,

21 The interpretation of the sight shall I shew thee, and I will open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation,

23 Hee that beareth the perill in that time, hath kept himselfe: they that be fallen into danger, are such as haue woꝝkes and saith vnto the most mighty.

24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behinde, are moꝝe blessed they they that be dead.

25 This is the meaning of the vision, wher-as thou sawest a man coming by from the deepe of the sea,

26 The same is hee whom God the highest hath kept a great season, which by his owne self shall deliuer his creature: and he shal order them that are left behind.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, fire and soꝝme:

28 And how that he list by neither sword nor weapon, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight against him: it signifieth,

29 That the daies come, when the most highest will beginne to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

30 And in a trance of minde shall he come vpon them that dwell in the earth.

31 And one shall vnder take to fight against another: one cite against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realme against another.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shal the tokens come that I shewed thee before: and then shall my forme be declared, whom thou sawest clime by as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne land leaue the battell they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as they that bee willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stand vpon the toppe of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, for their wickednesse and euill imaginations,

38 And into torment like to flame, wherewith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shall he destroy them, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest, that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him,

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their owne lande in the time of Dleas the king whom Salmana-sar the king of Assyria tooke prisoners, and cari-ed them ouer the water, and so came they into another land.

themselues, themselves, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to go forth into a further country, where neuer mankind dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their own land:

43 And so they entered in at the narrow passages of the riuer of Euphrates.

Iofu. 3. 15.

44 For the most highest then shewed * tokens for them, and held still the flood till they were passed ouer.

45 For thow to the country there was a great way, namely of a yeere and an halfe iourney: and the same region is called Arareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe.

47 The highest shall holde still the springs of the braine againe, that they may goe thow to: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be left behind of thy people, are those that are found within my borders.

49 Now when he despoiled the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend his people that remaine:

50 And then shall he shew them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, shew me this: wherefore haue I seene the man coming by from the deepe of the sea?

Or, midst.

52 And he said vnto me, Like as thou canst neither seeke out nor knowe the things that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, or those that be with him, but in the time of the day.

Or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here lightned.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the highest. After other three dayes I will shew thee moze, and talke with thee moze at large, yea, heauy and wonderous things will I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the field, giuing praise and thanks greatly vnto God, because of his wonders which he did in time.

58 And because he gouerneth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 How God appeared to Moses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 16 The latter age worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

Vpon the third day I sate vnder an Oake tree, then came there a voice vnto me out of the bush, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord: and stood by vpon my feet.

Exo. 3. 1.

3 Then said he vnto me, In the * bush did I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him by to the mount Sinai, where I held him by me a long season:

5 And told him many wonderous workes, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end, and commanded him, saying,

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay by in thine heart the signs that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt be taken a way from among all, and henceforth thou shalt remaine with my counsaile, and with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe old.

11 For the worlde is diuided into twelue parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and halfe of a tenth part.

12 And there remaineth there that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

13 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption.

14 Let goe from thee mortall thoughts, cast away the burdens of men, put off the weake nature,

15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times:

16 * For as for such euill and wickednesse as thou hast now seene happen, they shall doe yet much worse.

Mat. 24

17 For the weaker that the world is by reason of age, the moze shall euils increase vpon them that dwell therein.

18 For the trueth is fled farre away, and leasing is hard at hand: for now hasteth the diuion to come which thou hast seene.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said,

20 Beholde, Lord, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people which are present: but they that shall be borne afterward, who will admonish them? Thus the world is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shall be done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath bene done in the world since the beginning, which was written in thy Law, that men may find the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

23 And he answered mee, saying, Goe thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou gather thee many bore trees, and take with thee Sarea, Zabzisa, Solumia, Eranus, and Auel, these siue, which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfect, and some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morow this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commaunded mee, and gathered all the people together, and said,

28 Heare these words, O Israel,

29 Our * fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,

30 And receiued the * Law of life, which they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, euen the land of Si-on, parted among you by lot, to possesse: but your fathers, and ye your selues haue done vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kept the waies which the highest commaunded you:

32 And for so much as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time, the thing that he had giuen you,

33 And now are ye here, and your brethren among you,

34 Therefore, if so be that yee will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your heart, ye shalbe kept aliuie, and after death shall ye obtaine mercie.

35 For after death shall the iudgement come when wee shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor seeke after me these forty dayes.

37 So I tooke the five men, as he commaunded mee, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 The next day a boyce called me, saying, Edras, open thy mouth, and * drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cuppe, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dranke it, my heart had vnderstanding, and wisdom grew in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in remembrance.

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The highest gaue vnderstanding vnto the five men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for me I spake in the day, & held not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie daies they wrote two hundred and foure booke.

45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it:

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them onely to such as be wise among the people.

47 For in them is the spring of vnderstanding, the fountaine of wisdom, and the streame of knowledge.

48 And I did so.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The prophesie of Edras is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lord will auenge the innocent blood.

Behold, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,

2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for it is the truth.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the vnfaithfulness of them trouble thee, that speake against thee:

4 For all the vnfaithfull shal die in their vnfaithfulness.

5 Behold, (saith the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpon the worlde, the sword, hunger, death, and destruction:

6 For wickednesse hath the vpper hand in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfilled:

7 Therefore saith the Lord,

8 I will holde my tongue no more of their wickednesse, which they doe so vngodly, neither will I suffer them in the things that they deale withall so wickedly: behold, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iust complaine continually.

9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is ledde as a flocke of sheepe to be slaine, I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:

11 But will bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afoze, and will destroy all the land of it.

12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations of it shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring vpon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blasting and hayle, and by an horrible starre.

14 No worthy the worlde, and them that dwell therein:

15 For the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stande by to fight against another, and swordes in their hands.

16 For men shalbe vnstedfast, and some shall doe violence vnto other, they shall not regard their king, and the princes shal measure the way of their doings by their power.

17 A man shall desire to goe into a citie, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride, the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shalbe afraid.

19 A man shall haue no pittie vpon his neighbour, but shal destroy their houses with his sword, and spoyle their goods, because of the hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.

20 Beholde, sayth God, I call together all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which are from the || bysing, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:

21 Like as they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lord God.

22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shal not cease ouer them that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

|| Or, they are faithfull and true.

Apo. 6. 10. and 19. 2.

|| Or, for there shall be sedition among men.

|| Or, lacke.

|| Or, West.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe that is kindled.

24 Who worth them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: goe your way yee children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them into death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, and yee shall remaine in them: for God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Behold, an horrible vision commeth from the East,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charers, and the multitude of them shall be caried as the winde vpon earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall goe sooth as the wilde boyes of the forest, and with great power shall they come, and stand fighting with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons haue the upper hand, and remembering their nature, shall turne about, conspiring together in great power to persecute them.

32 Then these shall be troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shall flee:

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy bessege them, and consume some of them, and in their holse shall be feare and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold clouds from the East and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme:

35 They shall smite one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shall be from the sword vnto the belly,

36 And the dung of man vnto the cammels litter,

37 And there shall be great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath, shall be afraid, and trembling shall come vpon them:

38 And then shall there come great raines from the South, and from the North, and part from the west:

39 And strong windes shall arise from the East, and shall open it, and the cloud which he rayed by in wrath, and the starre stirred to cause feare toward the East and west winde, shall be destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shall be lift by, and the mighty clouds full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powze out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,

41 Fire, and haile, and fleeing swordes, and many waters: that all fields may be full, and all riuers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaines, and hilles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meadowes, and all their corne.

43 And they shall goe steadfast vnto Babylon, and make her afraid.

44 They shall come to her, and bessege her, the starre and all wrath shall they powze out vpon her, then shall the dust and smoke goe vp into the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall betwayne her:

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Woe be vnto thee thou wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast decht thy daughters in whozedom, that they might triumph, and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whozedom with thee.

48 Thou hast followed the abominable citie in all her workes and inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will sende plagues vpon thee, widowhood, pouerty, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waite thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dyed by as a floure, when the heate riseth that is sent ouer thee:

51 Thou shalt be like as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and louers shall not be able to receiue thee.

52 Would I so hate thee, saith the Lord,

53 If thou hadst not alway laine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, and laide out their death when thou wast drunken.

54 Set soorth the beautie of thy countenance:

55 The reward of thy whozedom shall be recompensed thee in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receiue reward.

56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen, so shall God doe vnto thee, and shall deliuer thee into the plague.

57 The children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.

58 They that be in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eat their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou as unhappie shalt come therto the sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the same citie, and shall roote out one part of the land, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.

61 They shall tread thee downe like stubble, and they shall be thy fire:

62 And shall consume thee, thy cities, and thy land, and thy mountaines, all thy woods and thy fruitfull trees shall they burne by with the fire.

63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

Ye be into thee Babylon and Asia, wo be unto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gird by your selues with clothes of sache and haire, and mourne your children, be soze: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that will driue them away?

6 May any man driue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or may any man quench the fire in subble when it hath begun to burne?

7 May one turne againe the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and what is he that will driue them away?

9 The fire is kindled, and gone soorth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it?

10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not utterly be beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, the sea ariseth by with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are in quiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not misse when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe till they come vpon earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty Archer, returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

17 Woe is me, woe is mee, who will deliuer me in these dayes?

18 The beginning of sorowes & great mourning, the beginning of dearth and great death, the beginning of warres, and the powers shall stand in feare: the beginning of euils, and they shall tremble euerie one.

19 What shall I do in these things, when the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger, and plague, trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment:

21 But for all these things, they shall not turne from their wickednes, nor be alway mindful of the scourges.

22 Behold, bitailes shall be so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke themselves to be in good case: and euen then shall mischief grow vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great disorder.

23 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy:

24 And the dead shall be cast out as downy, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be waisted, and the cities shall be cast downe.

25 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.

26 The trees shall giue fruit, and who shall plucke them off, and gather them?

27 The grapes shall be ripe, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men:

28 So that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voice.

29 For of one whole citie, there shall be tenne left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thicke bushes, and in the clefts of stones.

Or, woods.

30 Like as when there remain thre or foure Oliues, in the place where Oliues grow, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thowow the vineyard:

32 Euen so, in those daies, there shall be thre or foure left, by them that search their houses with the sword, 33 And the earth shall be layd waste, and the fields thereof shall warc old, and her wayes, and all her pathes shall grow full of thornes, because no man shall trauaile threthowow.

34 The birgines shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbands, their daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpers.

35 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish of hunger.

36 But ye seruants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.

37 Beholde the worde of the Lorde, & receiue it: beleeue not the gods of whom the Lord spake, 38 Behold the plagues draw nigh, and are not slacke in taryng.

39 Like as a trauailling woman, which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when the houre of the birch is come, an houre two or thre afore that, the paines come vpon her body, and when the child cometh to the birch, they tarie not the twinkling of an eye:

40 Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euerie side:

41 O my people heare my worde, make you ready to the battell, and in all euill be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

42 Hee that selleth, let him be as hee that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:

43 Who so occupieth marchandize, as he that winneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

44 He that soweth, as they that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

45 They that marry, as they that shall get no children: and they that marry not, as the widowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.

47 For strangers shall reape their fruits, and spoyle their goods, ouerthow their houses, and take their children captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they get children.

48 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberte, the more they deche their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons.

49 The more will I punish them for their finnes, saith the Lord.

50 Like as a whoze enuieith an honest and bertuous woman:

51 So shall righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shall byde the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof:

53 For: or euer it be long, iniquitie shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall reigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for coales of fire shall burne vpon his head, which saith, Before the Lord God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

Luk. 16. 15. 55 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts.

Gene. 1. 1. 56 For he spake but the word, Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made, and it was created.

Psal. 146. 4. 57 In his word were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them.

58 He searcheth the ground of the deepe, and the treasures thereof, he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens like a bault, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In the desert and by wildernesse hath he made springs of water, and pooles vpon the tops of the mountaines, that the floods might poure downe from the stonie rockes to water the earth.

62 Hee made man, and put his heart in the mids of the body, and gaue him bycatch, life, and vnderstanding,

63 Pea, and the spirit of the Almighty God which made all things, and hath searched the ground of all the secrets of the earth,

64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thinke when ye sinne, and would hide your finnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lord searched and sought out all your workes, and he shall bewray you all:

66 And when your finnes are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your owne finnes shall be your accusers in that day.

67 What will ye do: or how will ye hide your finnes before God and his angels?

68 Beholde, God himselfe is the iudge, feare him: leaue off from your finnes, and forget your vnrightheousnesse, & meddle no more with them: so shall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

69 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they shall take away certaine of you, and shall slay you for meate to the idoles.

70 And they that consent vnto them, shall be had in derision, laughed to scoorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection vpon those that feare the Lord.

72 They shall be like mad men, they shall spare no man, they shall spoyle and waste such as yet feare the Lord:

73 For their goods that they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 When shall it bee knownen who are my chosen, and they shall be tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, saith the Lord: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afraid, despaire not: for God is your captaine.

77 Who so keepeth my commandements and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your finnes weigh you downe, and let not your vnrightheousnesse be lift vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bound with their finnes, and covered with their wickednesse, like as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thornes, that no man may trauaile thow: it is shut by, and is cast into the fire for euer, to be consumed therewith.

The booke of Tobias.

The first Chapter.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godlines. 6 His equitie.
8 His charitie and prosperitie. 23 He fleeth, and his goods are confiscate, 25 and after restored.

Tobias was of the tribe and cite of Nephthali, which lyeth in the high countreys of Galilce aboue Naaston, beside the way that leadeth to the west, hauing the cite of Sephet vpon the left side.

2 Though hee was taken * prisoner in the daies of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, neuertheles being in captiuitie, he forooke not the way of truethe:

3 Inasmuch that whatsoeuer he might get, he parted it dailie with his fellow prisoners and brethren that were of his kindred.

4 And though hee were yonger then all the tribe of Nephthali, yet did not he behaue himselfe childishly in his workes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden Calues, which * Jeroboam the king of Israel had made, he alone fled all their companies:

6 And gate him to Hierusalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worshipped the Lord God of Israel, faithfully offering of * all his first fruits and tithes:

7 So that in the third yeere, he ministred all the tithes vnto the strangers and conuertes.

8 These and such like things did he obserue, according to the law of God, when hee was yet but yong.

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wife called * Anna: and of her he begate a sonne, whom he called after his own name.

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to restraîne from all sinne.

11 Now when hee with his wife, his sonne, and with all his kindred, was come in captiuitie vnto the cite of Ninue:

12 * what time as they all did eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.

13 And so much as he was mindfull of the Lord in all his heart, God gaue him saouour in the sight of Salmanasar the king:

14 which gaue him power to goe where hee would, and so had he libertie to doe whatsoeuer he would.

15 So went Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuitie, and comforted them, and gaue them wholesome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages, a city of the Medes, hauing tenne talents of siluer (of the things wherewith the king had honored him.)

17 And saue among a great company of people of his kindred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gate him the sayd weight of siluer, vnder an handwritting.

18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his stead, which hated the children of Israel:

19 Tobias went dailie throughout all his kindred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goods to euery one of them, as much as he might.

20 He fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and flaine, and that diligently.

21 And when * Sennacherib the king came againe, and fled out of Iurie (what time as God punished him for his blasphemie) & in his wrath slew many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodies.

22 But when it was tolde the king, hee commanded to slay him, & tooke away all his goods.

23 Neuerthelesse Tobias with his sonne, and with his wife, fledde away naked, and was hid: for there were many that loued him.

24 * But after fortye and siue daies, the king was flaine of his owne sonnes:

25 Then came Tobias againe to his house, and all his goods were restored vnto him.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 He leaueh the feast to bury the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 19 His wife laboureth for his liuing. 22 Shee reprocheth him bitterly.

After those things, vpon a solemne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his house,

2 And said vnto his sonne, Go thy way, and bring hither some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came againe, and tolde his father that one of the children of Israel lay flaine vpon the streete.

4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came fasting to the dead coarfe, tooke him, and bare him priuily into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury him.

5 And when he had hid the coarfe, he did eat his meat with mourning and feare,

6 Remembryng the wordes that the Lorde sayd by the Prophet Amos, Your * high feastes shall be turned to sorow and heauinesse.

7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way, and buried him.

8 Then all his neighbours reproued him, saying, It is not long since it was commaunded to slay thee because of this matter, and hast scarce escaped the danger of death, and burpest thou the dead againe?

9 Neuerthelesse, Tobias fearing God more then the king, tooke the bodies of the flaine, and hid them in his house, and buried them at midnight.

10 It happened vpon a day, that hee had buried the dead, and was weary, came home, and layd him downe by the wall, and slept.

11 And while he was asleepe, there fel downe vpon his eyes warme dung out of the swallows nest, so that he was blind.

12 This temptation did God suffer to happen vpon him, that they which came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.

13 For in so much as he euer feared God from his yowth by, and kept his commandements, he grudged not against God, that the plague of blindness chanced vnto him :

14 But remained steadfast in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.

15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kings : euen so was hee laughed to scoone of his elders and kinsfolke, which said vnto him,

16 Where is the hope for the which thou hast done almes, and buried the dead :

17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so :

18 For we are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which God shal giue vnto them that neuer turne their beleeve from him.

19 And Anna his wife went dayly to the weauing worke :

20 And looke what liuing she could get with the labour of her hands, she brought it. And it happened that shee tooke a kid, and brought it home :

21 And when her husband heard it crie, hee sayd, * Looke that it be not stolen : restore it againe to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate of to touch any thing of thest.

22 Then was his wife angry, and said, * Now is thy hope become haine openly, & thine almes deedes are manifest.

23 With these and such like words did she cast him in the teeth.

The iij. Chapter.

3 The prayer of Tobias. 7 Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

Deut. 22. 1.

Iob. 2. 9.

Or, sighed.

When Tobias tooke it heauily, and with teares began to make his prayer,

2 Saying, O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy iudgements are true : yea, all thy wayes are mercie, faithfulness, and iudgement.

3 And now, O Lord, be mindfull of me, and take no vengeance of my sinnes, neither remember my misdoedes, neither the misdoedes of my forefathers.

Deu. 28. 15

4 For we haue not bene obedient vnto thy commandements, * therefore are wee spoiled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whom thou hast scattered vs.

5 And now, O Lord, thy iudgements are great : for wee haue not done according to thy commandements, neither haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And now, O Lord, deale with mee according to thy will, and command my spirit to bee receiued in peace : for more expedient were it for me to die then to liue.

7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaidens,

8 That she had seuen husbands, which as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slaine of the deuill, called Asmodeus.

9 Therefore when shee reprooued the maiden for her fault, shee answered her, saying, God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou killer of thy husbands.

10 Wilt thou slay me also, as thou hast slaine seuen men : At this voice went Sara into an high chamber of her house, and three dayes and thre nightes shee neither ate nor dranke :

11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.

12 Upon the thirde day it came to passe, that when she had made an end of prayer, she praised the Lord, 13 Saying, Blessed bee thy name, O God of our fathers, which when thou art wroth, shewest mercie, and in time of trouble thou forgiuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.

14 Vnto thee, O Lord, turne I my face, vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes :

15 I beseech thee, O Lord, loose me out of the bonds of this rebuke, or else take mee vtterly away from the earth.

16 Thou knowest, Lord, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vnclenly lust :

17 I haue not kept company with those that passe their time in sport, neither haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behaviour.

18 An husband haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

19 Now peradventure, either I haue bene unworthy of them, or els were they vnmeet for me : for thou happily hast kept me to another husband.

20 For why : thy counsell is not in the power of man.

21 But every one that serueth thee, is sure of this, that if his life be in trying, it shall be crowned, and if it be in trouble, that God no doubt shal deliuer him : and if his life be in chastening, that he shall haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our damnation : and why : after a storme, thou maketh the weather faire and still, after weeping and heauinesse, thou giueth great ioy.

23 Thy name, O God of Israel, bee praised for euer.

24 At the same time were both their prayers heard, in the sight of the maiestie of the highest God.

25 And Raphael the holy Angel of the Lord was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers came at one time together before God.

The iij. Chapter.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

When Tobias thought his prayer to bee heard, that he might die, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias :

2 And sayd vnto him, My sonne, heare the wordes of my mouth, and lay them in thine heart as a foundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and how great perils he suffered for thee in her wombe.

5 And when thee a lso hath fulfilled the time of her life, bury her | beside me.

6 Have God in thy thought all the dayes of thy life, and beware, leass at any time thou consent into sinne, and leass thou let slippe the commandements of the Lord our God.

7 Give almes of thy goods, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lorde shall not be turned away from thee.

8 *Be mercifull after thy power.

9 If thou haue much, giue plentiously: if thou hast little, doe thy diligence gladly, to giue of that little:

10 For so gatherest thou thy selfe a good reward in the day of necessity.

11 For *mercie deliuereth from all sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come into darkenesse.

12 A great comfort is mercie before the high God, vnto all them that thew it.

13 My sonne, *keepe thee well from all whoredome: and beside thy wife, suffer not thy selfe to know of sinne.

14 Let neuer pride haue rule in thy minde, nor in thy word: for in *pride began all destruction.

15 Whosoever worketh any thing for thee, *immediatly giue him his hire, and looke that thy hired seruants wages remaine not at all with thee.

16 Looke that thou netter doe vnto *another man, the thing that thou wouldest not another man should doe vnto thee.

17 Eat thy bread with the hungry and poore, and *couer the naked with thy clothes.

18 Set thy bread and wine vpon the burfall of the righteous, and do not thou eat and drinke thereof with the sinners.

19 A he euer counsell at the wise.

20 Be alway praising of God, and beseech him that hee will | order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou desirest or takest in hand, it may remaine in him.

21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered ten talents of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hand writing haue I by me:

22 And therefore seeke some meanes, how thou mayest come by him, and receiue of him the sayde weight of siluer, and giue him his hand writing againe.

23 My sonne, be not afraid: *trueth it is, we leade here a poore life, but great good shall wee haue if we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and doe well.

The v. Chapter.

2 Tobias is sent to Rages: 5 Hee meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

Then Tobias answered his father, and sayd, father, all that thou hast commaunded mee, will I doe, and that diligently.

2 But howe shall I requyre this money, I cannot tell, neither doeth hee know mee, nor I him: what token shall I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knew it.

3 Then his father answered him, and sayd, I haue his hand writing by mee, which when thou shewest him, immediately he shall pay thee.

4 But goe thy way now, and get thee some faithfull man to goe with thee for an hire, that thou mayest receiue the money while I am yet liuing.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he found a faire yong man standing girded by, and as it were one ready to take his iourney.

6 And he knew not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd, from whence art thou, thou good yong man?

7 Hee answered, Of the children of Israel. And Tobias sayd vnto him, knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the Countrey of the Medes?

8 He answered, I know it wel, and all those streets haue I gone oft times, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages, a citie of the Medes, which lieth vpon the mount Ecchatanis.

9 Tobias sayd vnto him, I pray thee tarie for me till I haue told my father these things.

10 Then went Tobias in, and told his father all: at the which his father maruelled, and prayed that he would come vnto him.

11 Now when hee came in, hee saluted him, and sayd, Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And old Tobias said, what ioy can I haue, that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?

13 The yong man said vnto him, Be of good cheere, God shall helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayd vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Media? and when thou comest againe, I shall pay thee thy hire.

15 And the Angel sayd vnto him, I shall leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.

16 Then Tobias answered him, Tell mee, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The Angel Raphael said vnto him, Seekest thou after the hired of an hirling, or an hired man himself for thy sonne to go with him?

18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great hired: but I pray thee, be not displeased, that I desire to know thy hired.

20 The Angel sayd vnto him, Thy sonne shall I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sound to thee againe.

21 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, wel, go on your way, and God bee in your iourney, and his Angel beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared all things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewell: and they went on their way both together.

23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayde, *The lasse of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs.

24 Would God that money had neuer bene, for the which thou hast sent him away.

||Or, wayes.

Tob. 10. 4.

25 For our powerty was sufficient for vs: why, we should haue counted it riches that we saw our sonne here.

26 Then sayd Tobias vnto her, weepe not, our sonne shall goe safely and come to vs againe sound, and thine eyes shall see him.

27 For I trust that the good Angel of God shall beare him company, and order well all the things that he doth, so that he shall come to vs againe with ioy.

28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and held her peace.

The vj. Chapter.

2 Tobias deliuered from the fish. 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19 He conducteth him toward Sara.

S Tobias went on his way, and a dogge followed him, and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to wash his feete, and behold, there came forth an horrible fish to deuoure him.

3 Of whom Tobias was afraid, and cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Lord he commeth vpon me.

4 And the Angel said vnto him, take him by the gyll, and draw him to thee. And he did so, and drew him vnto the land: and the fish began to leape at his feete.

5 Then said the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for the heart, the gall, and the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these things are necessary and good for medicines.

6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fish, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they saited, as much as was sufficient for them, till they came to Rages a city of the Medes.

7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and sayd vnto him, I pray thee, brother Azarias, tell me, whereto are these things good of the fish that thou hast bidden me keepe?

8 The Angel answered him, and said, If thou layest a piece of the heart vpon the coales, the smoake thereof driueth away all euill spirits, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thenceforth the same shall come no more vnto them.

9 The gall is good to anoint or to strike the eyes withall, whereas there is any blemish in them, so that they shall be whole.

10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, where wilt thou that we remaine? The Angel answered, 11 And said, Here is a nigh kinsma of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.

12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, & thou must marry her.

13 And therefore desire her of her father, and he shall giue her thee to wife.

14 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, As I vnderstand, she hath bene married vnto seuen husbands, & they all are dead: and I haue heard say that the deuill slew them.

15 I am afraid therefore, least such things happen vnto mee also: which if it come to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorrow to their graues.

16 Then sayd the Angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I will tell thee what they be of whom the deuill hath power:

17 Namely, they that receiue marriage after such a fashion, that they shut God out fro them, and from their heart, & giue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were an horse and mule which haue no vnderstanding: vpon such hath the deuill power.

18 But when thou takest her, and art come into the chamber, withhold thy selfe from her three daies, and giue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.

19 And in the first night roste the liuer of the fish, and the deuill shall be driuen away.

20 The second night shalt thou be receiued into the company of the holy Patriarks.

21 The third night shalt thou obtaine the blessing of God, so that whole children shall be borne of you.

22 After the third night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshy lust, that in the seebe of Abraham thou mayest obtaine the blessing in children.

The vij. Chapter.

Tobias marieth Sara Raguels daughter.

Then went they vnto Raguel, which receiued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he said vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?

3 And when he had spoken this, he said, Whence be ye, ye yong men, and our brethren? They sayd, Of the tribe of Saphthai, out of the captiuitie of Babilone.

4 Then said Raguel vnto them, Know ye my brother Tobias? They said, Yea, we know him well.

5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the Angel said vnto Raguel, Tobias, of whom thou askest, is this yong mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, and wept, and tooke him about the necke, and kissed him.

7 And sayd, Gods blessing haue thou, my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.

8 And Anna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept also.

9 Now when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, and to make a feast: and when hee had exhorted them to sit downe to dinner,

10 Tobias said, I will neither eat nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt mee my petition, and promise me to giue me thy daughter Sara.

11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonished: for he knew what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he began to feare that it should chance vnto him in like manner. And while he stood so in a doubt, and gaue the yong man no answer, 12 The Angel said vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that searcheth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.

Num. 17.8.

13 Then sayd Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight:

14 And I beleue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might be married in her owne kindred, according to the *law of Moses: and now doubt thou not, but I will giue her vnto thee.

15 So hee tooke the right hand of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hand of Tobias, and sayd, The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.

16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the marriage.

17 And then made they merry, and praised God.

18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.

19 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.

20 Then sayd he vnto her, Be of good chere, my daughter: the Lord of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauynesse that thou hast suffered.

The viij. Chapter.

3 Tobias driueth away the euill spirit. 7 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. 16 Raguel blesteth the Lord.

Nowe after that they had supped, they brought the young man in to her.

2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the Angel, and tooke out of his bagge a piece of the luer of the fish, and layd it vpon the hot coales.

3 So the Angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuill, and sent him away, and bound him in the wilderness of the higher Egypt.

4 Then spake Tobias vnto the bvirgine, and sayde, say Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and || ouer morowe: for these threec nights will we || reconcile our selues with God: and when the thirde holy night is past, we shall ioyne together in the duety of marriage.

5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together as the heathen that know not God.

6 When stood they by both together, and besought God earnestly || that hee would preferue them.

7 And Tobias sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, praised be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floods, and of all thy creatures that be therein.

8 Thou * madest Adam of the mould of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.

9 And now Lord, thou knowest that it is not because of holyproudnesse that I take this suster of mine to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whome thy name may be blessed for euer.

10 And Sara sayd, Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age.

11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:

12 And they went with him to make a graue.

13 For hee sayd, It is chanced now vnto him peradventure, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.

14 Now when they had made the graue, Raguel came againe to his wife, and said vnto her, Send one of thy maydens to looke if he be dead, that I may bury him afoze it be light day.

15 So he sent a mayden to see: which when shee came into the chamber, found them whole and sound, sleeping together.

16 And so he came againe, and brought good tidings: then Raguel and Anna his wife praised the Lord.

17 And sayd, Praise be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.

18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemy that persecuted vs.

19 And hast shewed mercie vnto yonder two, the onely boyme children of their parents: O Lord, cause them to magnifie thee moze perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy praise and of their health: that all people may knowe that thou onely art God in all the earth.

20 And immediatly Raguel commanded his seruants to fill the graue that they had made, with earth, afoze it was light:

21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make ready all things that were necessary for meat to such as went by the way.

22 He caused two fat hinde also and foure wethers to be slaine, and meates to be prepared for all his neighbours and friends.

23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.

24 As for all the good that hee had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writing, That the halfe which remained, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: which deliuereth the letter, & receiueth the mony.

When Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whom he thought to haue bene a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my wordes.

2 If I should giue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.

3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wilt take the beastes, and the seruants, and goe vnto Gabelus in Rages the city of the Medes, and deliuer him his handwritting, and receiue the money of him, and pray him to come to my marriage.

4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doeth number the dayes: and if I tary one day too long, he will be fory in his minde.

5 Howe feell thou howe earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I cannot say him nay.

6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruants, and two camels, and went vnto Rages the city of the Medes: and when hee had found Gabelus, he gaue him his handwritting, and receiued all the money.

7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how all things had happened: and caused him to come with him to the marriage.

8 Now when he came into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped by, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and praised God.

13 Then sayd Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight: 14 And I beleue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might be married in her owne kindred, according to the *law of Moses: and now doubt thou not, but I will giue her vnto thee. 15 So hee tooke the right hand of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hand of Tobias, and sayd, The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you. 16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the marriage. 17 And then made they merry, and praised God. 18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber. 19 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept. 20 Then sayd he vnto her, Be of good chere, my daughter: the Lord of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauynesse that thou hast suffered. 9 And sayd, the blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and giueth great almes:

10 And blessing haue thy wife, and your elders,

11 That yee may see your children, and your childrens children vnto the third and fourth generation: and your seede be blessed of the God of Israel, which reigneth world without end.

12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lord held they the feast of the marriage.

The x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wife thinke long for their sonne. to Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

NOwe while young Tobias made long tarrying, by reason of the marriage, his father was full of care and heauinesse, saying, Canst thou thinke what should bee the cause that my sonne tarryeth so long? or why he should be kept so long there?

2 Thinkest thou Sabelus is dead, and no man will giue him the money?

3 Thus began hee to be very sorrowfull, hee and Anna his wife with him: and beganne to weepe both together, because their sonne was not come againe vnto them at the day appointed.

4 As for his mother, shee wept with discomfortable teares, and sayd, woe is me my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to sende thee away into a strange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation?

5 Seeing all the things that wee haue are only in thee, we should not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias comforted her and said, Hold thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sound: the man that wee sent him withall, is faithfull yough.

7 Pettersticelle, shee might in no wise bee comforted: but daily went out, looked about, and went about all the streetes whereby shee thought hee should come againe, that if it were possible, she might see him comming asafarre off.

8 But Raguel sayd vnto his sonne in lawe, Stay here, and I shall send a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias sayd vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their hearts are sore.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and hee would in no wise heare him, hee deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of all his goods, in seruants, and handmaidens, in sheepe, in camels, and in hine, and much money: and so sent him away from him with health and ioy.

11 And sayd, The holy Angel of the Lord be with you in your iourney, and bring you forth safe and sound: that yee may finde all things in good case with your elders, and that mine eyes may see your children afoze I dye.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed her, and let her goe:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in law, to loue her husband, to rule well her household, to keepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe faultlesse.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 How hee was receiued. 15 His father hath his sight restored, and praiseth the Lord.

AS they nowe were going homeward againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lieth in the halfe way toward Ninue.

2 And the Angell sayde, Brother Tobias, thou knowest how thou hast left thy father.

3 Therefore if it please thee, we two will goe before, and let the household, with thy wife and the cattell, come faire and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they should goe before, Raphael sayd vnto him, Take of the gall of the fish with thee: for it shall be necessary. So Tobias tooke of the gall, and they went their way:

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate daily by the way side vpon the top of an hill, from whence she might see farre about her.

6 And while shee was waiting there for his comming, shee looked asafarre off, and anon shee perceiued her sonne comming, and ranne and tolde her husband, saying, Beholde, thy sonne commeth.

7 And Raphael sayd vnto Tobias, As soone as thou comest into the house, immediatly worship the Lord thy God, and giue thanks vnto him: then goe to thy father, and kisse him.

8 And straightwayes strike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fish that thou hast brought with thee: for be sure that his eyes shall straightway bee opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, and shall reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had bene with them in their iourney ran before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his taile for gladnesse.

10 So the blind father arose, and beganne to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruant his hand, and ranne to meet his sonne.

11 Receiued him, and kissed him, hee and his wife, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Howe when they had worshipped & thanked God, they sate downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fish gall, and anoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taried halfe an houre, and then began the blemish to goe out of his eyes, like as it had bene the white skinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke and drew from his eyes, and immediatly he receiued his sight.

16 Then they praised God, hee and his wife, and all they that knew him.

17 And Tobias said, O Lord God of Israel, I giue thee praise and thanks, for thou hast chastened me, and made me whole: and loe, now do I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wife also whole and sound, with all the household and cattell, with camels, and much money of his wiues, and with the money that hee had receiued of Sabelus.

19 And hee tolde his father and his mother, all the benefites which God had done for him by the man that ledde him.

20 Achtoz also and Nabath Tobias sisters sonne came, and were glad, and reioyced with him, by reason of all the good things that God had shewed vnto him: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made merry, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The xij. Chapter.

2 Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had done him: 5 The which hee would recompence.

Then Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and sayd, what may we giue this holy man that went with thee?

2 Tobias answered his father, and sayd, father, what reward shall we giue him: or what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath bene my guide, and brought me safe againe, hee receiued the money from Gabelus, hee caused me to get my wife, hee droue the euill spirit from her, he hath bene an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fish, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receiued great good of him.

4 How should wee worthily deserue these things vnto him: But, I pray thee my father, that thou wilt desire him, if haply he will bouchsafe, to take with him the halfe of all that wee haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called him, tooke him aside, and beganne to pray him, that he would be content to take in good worth, the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then sayd hee secretly vnto them, Praise yee the God of heauen, and giue thanks vnto him before all men liuing: for hee hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the things secret: but to shewe and to praise the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercie is better then hoord by treasures of gold.

9 For mercie deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercie and life euerlasting.

10 But they that doe sinne and vnrighteousnesse, are the enemies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the truth, and will hide no secret thing from you.

12 When thou prayest with teares, and buriedst the dead, and ledest thy dinner, and hiddest the dead in thine house vpon the day time, that thou mightest bury them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lord.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation should try thee.

14 And now hath the Lord sent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wife from the euill spirit.

15 For I am Raphael an Angell, one of the seuen that stand before the Lord.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afraid, and trembled, and fell downe vpon their faces vnto the ground.

17 Then sayd the Angel, peace be with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue bene with you, it is the will of God: giue praise and thanks vnto him.

19 * You thought that I did eat and drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that cannot be scene of men.

20 Nowe therefore is the time that I must turne againe vnto him that sent me: but be yee thankfull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderful workes.

21 And when he had spoken these wordes, hee was taken away out of their sight, so that they could see him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flat vpon their faces, by the space of thre houres, and praised God: and when they rose vp, they tolde all his wonderful workes.

The xiij. Chapter.

A thanksgiuing of Tobias, who exhorteath all to praise the Lorde.

Then old Tobias opened his mouth, and praised the Lorde, and sayde, Great art thou, O Lord, for euermore, and thy kingdome worlde without end.

2 For thou scourgest and healest, thou leadeest vnto hell, and bringest out againe: and there is none that may escape thine hand.

3 O giue thanks vnto the Lorde, yee children of Israel, and praise him in the light of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen which know him not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that yee should shew forth his maruelous workes, and cause them for to know, that there is none other God Almighty but he.

5 Hee hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercies sake shall he saue vs.

6 Consider then how he hath dealt with you, and praise him with feare and dread: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your workes.

7 I will praise him euen in the land of my captiuitie, for he hath thewed his maiestie vnto a sinnefull people.

8 Turne you therefore, O yee sinners, and doe righteousness before God, and be yee sure that he will shew his mercie vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, wee will reioyce in God.

10 O praise the Lord all ye his chosen: holde the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankfull vnto him.

11 O Hierusalem thou city of God, the Lord hath punished thee for the workes of thine owne hands.

12 O praise the Lord in thy good things, and giue thanks to the euerlasting God, that hee may builde vp his Tabernacle againe in thee, that dee may call againe vnto thee all such as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a faire light shalt thou shine, and all thee ends of the world shall honour thee.

14 The people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shall bring giftes, and worshippinge the Lorde in thee, and the lande shall they haue for a Sanctuarie: for they shall call vpon the great Name in thee.

15 Cursed shall they be that despise thee, and all that blaspheme thee shall be condemned: but blessed shall they be that build thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy childzen: for they all shall be blessed, and gathered together vnto the Lord.

17 Blessed are al they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.

18 Praise thou the Lord, O my soule: for the Lord our God hath deliuered his city Hierusalem from all her troubles.

19 I will count my selfe happie, if my seede remaine to see the cleerenesse of Hierusalem.

20 The gates of Hierusalem shall be builded with Saphir and Smaragde, and all the compassse of her walles with precious stones.

21 All her strectes shall be paved with white and faire stone, and in all strectes shall Alleluia be sung.

22 Praised be the Lord which hath exalted her, that his kingdome may bee vpon her for euermore. Amen.

The xiiij. Chapter.

5 Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6 He prophecieth the destruction of Ninie, 7 and the restoring of Hierusalem and the temple.

AD so Tobias made an end of speaking: and after that Tobias had gotten his sight againe, hee liued fourtie and two yeeres, and sawe his childzens childzen.

2 Now when he was an hundred and two yeeres old, he dyed, and was buried honourably in Ninieue.

3 For when hee was fire and fittie yeeres of age, hee lost the sight of his eyes: and when hee was threetye yeeres olde, hee gate his sight againe.

4 The residue of his life led he in ioy, and increased well in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his death, hee called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young

|| Syngals his somes childzen, and sayde vnto them,

6 The destruction of Ninieue is at hand (for the word of the Lord cannot faile) and our brethren that are scattered out of the land of Israel, shall come thither againe.

7 And the whole lande of it that hath bene waste, shall be filled, and the house of God that was burnt in it, shall be builded againe: and all such as feare God, shall returne thither.

8 The heathen also shall forsake their idols, and come to Hierusalem, and dwell there:

9 And all the kings of the earth shall be glad in her, and worship the Lord God of Israel.

10 And therefore, my childzen, heare your father, serue the Lord in the tructh, seeke after his will, to doe the thing that pleaseth him:

11 Commaund your childzen that they doe right, giue almes, be mindfull of God, and euer to be thankfull vnto him in tructh, and with all their power.

12 Heare me now therefore, my childzen, and abide not here: but in what day soeuer yee haue buried your mother by me in one sepulchre, get you from hence:

13 For I see that the wickednesse of it, shall bring it to destruction and end.

14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Ninieue, with his wife and childzen, and with his childzens childzen, & came againe to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And found them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and hee closed their eyes, and was heire vnto all Raguels goods, and sawe the fiftie generation, and his childzens childzen.

16 And ninetie and nine yeeres being ended in the feare of God, they buried him with ioy.

17 And all his kinred & posteritie continued in a good life and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the land.

The first Chapter.

2 The building of Ecbatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and overcame him. 12 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

ARpharad the King of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong city, which hee called Ecbatanis.

2 The walls of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, and thyrtye cubites broad: hee made towres there vpon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, every side was twentie foote broad, hee made the ports in the height, like as the towres.

4 This king trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his gloriozous charrets.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his reigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, which reigned in the great citie of Ninieue, fought against Arpharad:

6 And overcame him in the great field called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Tadason, in the helde of Erioth the King of the Elites.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift by: and he sent vnto all them that dwell in Cilicia, in Parnactus and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwell in Carmel and Cedar, and to such as dwell in Galile in the great field of Chazelon:

9 To all them that dwell in Samaria, and beyond the water of Jordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole land of Jelle, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 vnto all these did Nabuchodonosor the King of the Assyrians send messengers.

11 But they all with one consent would not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptye, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the King tooke indignation at all those landes, and sware by his thzone and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreys.

The ij. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people should be brought in subiection.

In the thirteenth yeere of King Nabuchodonosor, vpon the twentieth and two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the King of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge himselfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines and men of warre, and shewed them his secret counsel,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Nowe when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the King called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres,

5 And said vnto him, Goe thy way soorth against all the kingdomes of the west, and specially against those that haue despised my commandement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaines and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustered the souldiers vnto the hoste, like as the King commanded him, namely an hundred and twenty thousand fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousand archers vpon horsebacke.

8 All his ordinance sent hee before with an innumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was wel provided for with oren and small cattel, and that without number.

9 Hee appointed to prepare come out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Much gold and siluer also tooke he out of the Kings house.

11 So he tooke his journey, and al his hoste, with charrets, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many, that they covered the ground of the land, like the grasshoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came toward the great mountaines of Ange, which lie vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so he went by into all their castles, and wonne euery strong hold.

13 As for the wealthy cite of Melothus hee brake it downe, and spoyled all the children of Charus, and the Ismaelites, which lay toward the wildernesse, and vpon the Southside of the land of Chellon.

14 Hee went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, & brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the brooke of Pambze, til a man come to the sea:

15 And hee tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, toward the South.

16 Hee caried away all the Adianites, and spoyled all their goods, and whosoever withstood him, he slew them with the sword.

17 After this, hee went downe into the felde of Damascus in the time of harvest, and burnt by all the corne, and all the trees and vines hee caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwell on the earth.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 Hee destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might only be worshipped.

So the Kings and princes of all the cities and lands, sent their Ambassadors, namely, they of Syria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and said,

2 Let thy wraith cease toward vs: it is better for vs to serue the great King Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should die, and with our slaughter suffer the euils of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, all mountaines and hills, all fields, great and small, cattel, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goods and households, be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy subiection be all that we haue.

5 We our selues, and also our children, will be thy seruants.

6 Come vnto vs, peaceable lords, and use our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaines, with horsemen and great power, and conquered all strong fenced cities, and all that dwell in the land.

8 And out of all cities hee tooke strong men, and such as were meete for the warre to helpe him.

9 And there came such a feare vpon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to meet him as he came:

10 And receiued him honourably with garlands and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pipes.

11 Neuertheless, though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomache, 12 But hee destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the King had commanded him that hee should roote out all the gods of the land, to the intent that hee onely might be called and taken for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

14 So went hee thorow Syria Sobal, and thorow all Appamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the lande of Gabaa.

15 And tooke their cities, and remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused all the whole multitude of his hoste to be gathered together.

The iiij. Chapter.

5 Eliacin the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should fortifie themselves. 8 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled themselves before him.

Or, earth.

When the children of Israel that dwelt in Iury heard this, they were for a frayd of him.

2 There came such trembling also and feare vpon them, lest hee should doe vnto the city of Hierusalem and the Temple of the Lord, as he had done to other cities and their temples.

3 So they sent into all Samaria round about vnto Jericho, tooke in and occupied al the tops of the mountaines.

4 And made fall the towne with walles, and prepared corne for them against the battel.

5 Eliacim also the Priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt toward Eshelon, which lyeth ouer against the great field by Dothain, and vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them.

6 That they should take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way and passage vnto Hierusalem, and that they should holde diligent watch where any strait was betwixt the mountaines.

7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the Priest of the Lord had commanded them.

8 And al the people cried vnto the Lord earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The Priestes put on hairy clothes, and layd the yong babes before the Temple of the Lord, and couered the Altar of the Lord with an hairy cloth:

10 And with one accord they cryed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that their children should not be giuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoile, that their cities should not be layd waste, and that their Sanctuary should not be inhallowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

11 Then Eliacim the high Priest of the Lord, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lord will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastings and prayers in the sight of the Lord.

13 Remember * Moyses the seruant of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Amalekites that trusted in their might and power, in their horse, in their shields, in their charets, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begun.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord.

16 Insomuch that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, offered the offerings vnto the Lord, being arrayed in hairy clothes, and had ashes vpon their heads.

17 And they all besought God from their whole heart, that he would blate his people of Israel.

Thev. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Isralites.

And word came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared themselves to make resistance, and how they had stopped the wayes betwixt the mountaines.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon,

3 And said vnto them, Tell me, what people is this that keepeth in the mountaines? Of what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is their power? Of what maner of hoste haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why do they despise vs more then all those that dwell in the East, and come not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

5 Then * Achior the captaine of all the Ammonites, answered and sayd, Sir, if it please thee to heare, I wil tel the truth before thee, concerning this people that dwell in the mountaines, and there shall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwell first in * Mesopotamia, for they would not follow the gods of their fathers that were in the land of the Chaldees:

8 And so forsooke they the custome of their forefathers which had many gods, and worshipped one God that made heauen & earth: which also * commanded them that they should goe from thence and dwell at Charran.

9 Now when there came a dearth into the whole land, they went downe to Egypt, a there they dwell foure hundred yeeres, in the which they multiplied greatly, that their hoste might not be numbred.

10 And when the King of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in building of his cities, with making of clay and bricke, they cried vnto God their Lord, which punished the whole land of Egypt with diuers plagues.

11 And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceased from them, and they following after them to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage:

12 While they were fleeing a way, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters flood fall vpon both the sides as a wal: and thele went thoro to the bottome of the sea dryshod.

13 In the which place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remained not one to tell them that came after how it happened.

14 So when this people was passed thoro to the * red Sea, they came into the wilderness of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested.

15 There were the bitter * waters made sweet for them, that they might drinke, & forty yeeres had they meat from heauen.

16 Wheresoever they went, without bow and arrow, without bucler or sword, their God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victoery.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaithfully from the worshipping of the Lord their God.

18 But as oft as they worshipped any other beside their God, he gauz them ouer to be spoiled, to be slaine, and to be put to confusion.

19 Neuerthelesse, as oft as they were fory for their departing from the worship of their God:

||Or, holy things.

the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstand their enemies.

20 Moreover, they * slew the King of the Chanamites, Jebusites, Perezites, Hethites, Heutes, and Amozites, and all the mightie in Hesebon, and took their lands and cities in possession :

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went well with them : for their God hateth vnrightheousnesse.

22 * For in times past, when they went out of the way which God had giuen them, that they should walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battels of many nations, and many of them were caried away prisoners vnto a strange countrey.

23 * But now lately they haue turned themselves againe vnto the Lord their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were scattered abroad : & thus haue they conquered these mountaines, and dwell therein : and as for Hierusalem where their Sanctuary is, they haue it againe in possession.

24 And therefore, my lord, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue done wickednes in the sight of their God, then let vs goe bp against them : for doubtlesse their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shall not be able to withstand them : for their God shal defend them, and so shall we be a shame to all the world.

26 Now when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and said one to another, 27 What is he this which dare say that the children of Israel are able to withstand Nabuchodonosor the King, and his hostes : whereas they are an vnrweaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feats of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may know that he hath deceived vs, we will go bp into the mountaines : and when the mighty men of them are taken, he with them shalbe slict with þ sword.

29 That all the people may know that Nabuchodonosor is the god of the earth, and that there is none other beside him.

The vj. Chapter.

Holophernes blasphemeth God whom Achior confessed.

¶ When they had left off speaking, Holophernes tooke soze indignation, and said vnto Achior,

2 For so much as thou hast prophesied vnto vs, saying, that the people of * Israel shalbe defended of their God: I wil shew thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor.

3 Yea, when wee slay them all as one man, thou also shalt perish with them through the sword of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thee :

4 And then shalt thou seele that Nabuchodonosor is the lord of the whole earth: then shall the sword of my knighthood go thoro thy sides, and thou shalt fall down slict among the wounded of Israel, and I shalt not come to thy selfe againe, but be vtterly destroyed with them.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkest thy prophesie to be true, why doest thou then change thy colour: why art thou afraid? Thinkest thou that my wordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou maest know that thou shalt seele these things with them, beholde, from this houre forth, wil I send thee vnto ponder people, that when the punishment of my sword (which they haue worthily deserued) falleth vpon them, thou maest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his seruants to take Achior, and to cary him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

8 Then Holophernes seruants tooke him, and went thoro the plaine selde : but when they drew nigh vnto the mountaines, the sling casters came out against them.

9 Neuertheless, they gate them away by the side of the mountaine, & bound Achior hand and foote to a tree, and so left him bound with withs, and turned againe vnto their lord.

10 After that, the children of Israel went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, loosed him, brought him into Bethulia, set him in the middell of the people, and asked him what the matter was that the Assyrians had left him bound.

11 Dias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charni, which is also called Gethoniell, were the principall rulers at the same time.

12 Now when Achior stood in the middell of the Senators, and before them all, he told them what answer he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he asked him, and how Holophernes people would haue slaine him for so saying.

13 And how Holophernes himselfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the same cause to be deliuered vnto the Israelites: that when he ouercame the children of Israel, hee might command Achior also to be put to death with diuers torments, because he said, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achior had plainly told out all these things, al the people fell downe vpon their faces, praising the Lord, and prayed out their prayers together vnto the Lord, with a generall complaint and weeping.

15 And said, O Lord God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pride, and looke vpon our lowlinesse, and consider how it standeth with thy Saints, and make it to bee knowne that thou forsakest not those which hold them fast by thee, and how that thou bringest them low that presume of themselves, and make their boast in their owne strength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long, was ended) they comforted Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whose power and strength thou hast prayed, shall so reward thee, that thou shalt rather see their destruction.

18 When the Lord our God then shal giue his seruants this libertie, God be also with thee among vs : so that as it shall please thee, so thou wilt all thine maest dwell with vs.

19 Now when Dias had ended the counsel, hee tooke him into his house, and made a great supper.

¶Or, within the Church.

20 Called the elders to it: and so they refreshed themselves after the fasting.
21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their prayers al the night long in the Congregation, and besought the God of Israel for helpe.

The vij. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth besiege Bethulia.

The next day Holophernes commanded his hoste to goe by against Bethulia.

2 There were an hundred and twentie thousand fighting men on foote, and two and twenty thousand horsemen, beside the preparing of them that were womne, and came to them on euery side out of the countreys and cities which he had taken.

3 All these prepared themselves vnto the battel against the Israelites, and came on by the hill side, vnto the top that looketh ouer against Dothain, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lyeth toward Eszelon.

4 Now when the children of Israel sawe so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, strawed ashes vpon their heads, and prayed with one accord that the God of Israel would shewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And so they tooke their weapons, and sate betwixt the mountaines in the narrow place, and kept the way day and night.

6 But while Holophernes was going round about, hee found the water spring, which from the Southside was conueyed into the citie by a conduit, and he commanded their conduit to be cut in sunder.

7 There were wells also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretly, moze for pleasure, then for necessitie.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and said, The children of Israel trust neither in speare nor arrowe, but haue taken in and kept the mountaines, and seepehilles defend them.

9 That thou mayest ouercome them therefore without the striking of any battell, let men to keepe the wells, that they draw no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without sword: or at the least they shall be so feeble, that they must bee faine to giue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wonne, soz so much as it lyeth in the mountaines.

10 These wordes pleased Holophernes wel, and all his men of warre, and he set an hundred at euery well round about.

11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cisternes and all that had water, failed them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drinke ynough for one day, for the people had water giuen them daily in a measure.

12 Then came the men and women, pong persons and children, all vnto Dias, and said al with one voyce, Exod. 5. 21.

13 God bee iudge betwixt vs and thee, for thou hast dealt euill with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the King of the Assyrians, therefore hath God solde vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas wee are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.

15 Therefore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that wee may al yeeld our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes:

16 For better it is that wee be captiue, and praise the Lord with our liues, then to be slaine and perish, and to bee laughed to scozne, and shamed of euery man, when wee see our wiues and children die before our eyes.

17 Wee take heaven and earth this day to record, and the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to the deseruing of our finnes, and giue you warning that ye giue by the city now into the power of Holophernes hoste, that our ende may be thort with the sword, which els shall endure long for want of water, and for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these wordes, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole Congregation, and that of euery man, and they cryed a whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

19 Saying, * wee haue sinned with our fathers, we haue done amisse, wee haue dealt wickedly:

20 Thou that art gracious, haue mercy vpon vs, or punish our bnrighousnesse with thine owne scourge, & giue not those ouer that know ledge thee, vnto a people which know thee not:

21 That they may not say among the heathen, where is their God?

22 And when they were so weary with this crying and weeping, that they held their peace, 23 Dias stood vp with watry eyes, and said, Take good hearts vnto you, deare brethren, and be of good cheare, and let vs waite yet fure dayes for mercy of the Lord.

24 Peraduenture hee shall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his Name.

25 But if he helpe vs not when the fure daies are past, we shall do as ye haue said.

The viij. Chapter.

The parentage, life, and conuersation of Iudith.

As it happened when these wordes came to the eares of Iudith, a widowe, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Dias, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnoz, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Baphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Bethchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:

2 And her husband was called Manasses, which died in the dayes of the barley haruest.

3 For while he was binding the sheaves together in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.

4 Now was Iudith his desolate widowe three yeeres and sixe moneths.

5 And in the higher parts of her house shee made her selfe a priuie chamber, where shee dwelt, being closed in with her maydens:

6 She ware a smocke of haire, and fasted all the dayes of her life, except the Sabbathes, and new moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kept.

¶Or, me
houres,
Psal. 101

Rom. 8.17

7 Shee was a very faire and beautiful person, her husband also had left her great riches, a plenteous household, great immouable possessions, and many cattel.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for shee feared the Lord greatly, and there was no bodie that spake an euill word of her.

9 When this Judith heard how Olias had promised the people, that after the fifth day hee would giue by the citie vnto the Assyrians, shee sent for the Elders, Chabzi and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, she sayd, what thing is this, wherein Olias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fīue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord?

12 This deuice obtēneth no mercie of God, but prouoketh him vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Will ye see the mercie of the Lord a time, and appoint him a day after your will?

14 Neuertheless, for so much as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, pouring out teares, and beseeching him of grace.

15 For God threatneth not as man, neither will he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.

16 And therefore let vs heartily say down before him, and serue him with a meeke spirit, 17 And with weeping eyes say vnto the Lord, that hee deale with vs according to his owne will speedily in mercie: that like as our heart is now vexed and brought lowe through the pride of them, it may to be comforted through his grace.

18 Inasmuch as wee colow not the sinnes of our fathers, which forsooke their God, and worshipped other gods:

19 For the which sinne they perished with the sword, were spoiled and brought to shame of all their enemies: as for vs, wee know none other God but onely him.

20 For whose comfort let vs tarie with meeknesse, and he shall require and make inquisition for our blood from the vexations of our enemies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise by against vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lord our God.

21 Therefore deare brethren, seeing ye are the honourable and Elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth all vpon you, lift vp their hearts with your exhortation, that they may call to remembrance howe our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might be prouoed if they worshipped their God aright.

22 They ought to remember how our father Abraham being tempted, and tried through many tribulations, was found a louer & friend of God.

23 So was Isahac, so was Jacob, so was Moses: and all they that pleased God, passed steadfast in faith through manifold troubles.

24 Again, they that receiued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put themselves forth with impatience and murmuring against God, 25 perished of the destroyer, and were slaine of serpents.

26 And therefore should wee not undertake to be auenged for the things that are done vnto vs:

27 But to consider that all these punishments are farre lesse then our sinnes and misdeedes, and beleeuing that this correction cometh vnto vs as to the seruants of God, for amendment, and not for our destruction.

28 Then sayd Olias and the Elders vnto Judith, All that thou speakest is true, and no man can reproboue thy words.

29 Pray thou for vs now therefore vnto God, for thou art an holy woman, and fearest God.

30 And Judith sayd vnto them, Seeing ye know that my words are of God, 31 Then prouue my counsaile and deuice if it be of God: and beseech God that hee will bring my counsaile to good end.

32 Thus haue I deuised, Ye shall stand this night before the port, and I will goe forth with Abza my maiden: and pray ye therfore vnto God, that hee will graciously remember his people of Israel within fīue dayes, as ye haue sayd.

33 As for the thing that I goe in hand with, all, aske ye no questions of it: and til I bring you word againe of it, do ye nothing els but pray vnto the Lord our God for me.

34 Then Olias the prince of the people of Iuda sayd vnto her, Go thy way in peace, the Lord be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enemies. And to they went from her againe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Judith humbleth her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

When they were gone their way, Judith went into her closet, put on a haire smocke, strawed ashes vpon her head, fell downe before the Lord, and cried vnto him, saying,

Or, gone vp.

2 O Lord God of my father Sinceon, which gaued him a sword for a defence against the enemies that shed violence in their uncleauynesse, and that rauished the birgine, and put her to shame and confusion:

Gen. 34.25. Or, to reuengement of the strangers.

3 Thou that gaued their wiues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuitie, and all their pray for a spoile vnto thy seruants which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widow, O Lord my God, I beseech thee.

4 For thou hast made the first things: and after that, looke what thou hast taken in hand and deuised, it came euer to passe.

5 For all thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgments are put in thy cuerlasting foreknowledge.

6 I looke now vpon the armies of the Assyrians, like as it was thy pleasure sometime to looke vpon the host of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed, persecuted thy seruants, and put their trust in their charrets, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

Or, tents.

7 But thou lookedst vpon their hoste, casting a thicke darkenesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lord, let it goe with these that trust in the power and multitude of their men of warre, in their charrets, arrowes and speares.

Or, and that it appertaineth to thee to be called Lord.

10 And knowe not that thou onely art our God, which destroyest warres from the beginning, and that thou art the Lord.

11 I lift vp thine arme nowe like as euer from the beginning, & in thy power bring their power to nought: cause their might to fall in thy wrath, which make their boast that they will bring down and defile thy Sanctuarie, & to waste the tabernacle of thy Name, and to cast downe the home of thine altar with their sword.

12 Bring to passe, O Lord, that the pride of the enemy may be cut downe with his owne sword.

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smite him with the lips of my loue.

14 O giue mee a stedfast minde, that I may despise him and his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shall bring thy Name an euerslasting remembrance, if the hand of a woman ouerthrow him.

16 For thy power, O Lord, standeth not in the multitude of men, neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neither was there from the beginning any proude persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke hath thy pleasure bene euermore.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Lord of all creatures, heare me poore woman calling vpon thee, and putting my trust in thy mercy.

18 Remember thy covenant, O Lord, and minister words in my mouth, and stablish this deuice in my heart, that thy house may continue still in holinesse:

19 And that all the heathen may know that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth forth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

And when shee had left off crying vnto the Lord, she rose vp from the place where she had lien flat before the Lord,

2 And called her maiden Abza, went downe into her house, layed the haire cloth from her, put off the garments of her widowhood,

3 Washed her bodie, anointed her selfe with precious things of sweete sauour, braided and platted her haire, set a coryffe vpon her head, and put on such apparell as belongeth vnto gladnes, slippers vpon her feete, bracelets, spangs, earrings, finger rings, and decked herselfe with all her best aray.

4 The Lord gaue her also a speciall beautie and fairenesse, for at this decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therefore did the Lord increase her beautie, so that shee was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her maiden Abza also a bottell of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cakebread and cheefe, and went her way.

6 Now when they came to the port of the citie, they found Dnias and the elders of the citie waiting there.

7 Which when they saw her, they were astonished, and marueiled greatly at her beauty.

8 Neuertheless, they asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers giue thee grace, and with his power perforce all the deuice of thy heart, that Hierusalem may reioice ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous.

9 And all they that were there, sayd with one voice, So be it, so be it.

10 Iudith made her prayer vnto the Lord, and went out at the port, she and her maid Abza.

11 And as she was going downe the mountaine, it happened that about the spring of the day, the spies of the Assyrians met with her, and tooke her, saying, Whence comest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 Shee answered, I am a daughter of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for I know that they shall be giuen vnto you to bee spoiled, because they thought scozne to feeld themselves vnto you, that they might finde mercie in your sight.

13 Therefore haue I deuised by my selfe after this maner: I will goe before the prince Holophernes, and tell him all their secrets, and will shew him how he may come by them, and win them: so that not one man of his host shal perish.

14 And when these men had heard her words, and considered her faire face, they were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent beauty)

15 And sayd vnto her, Thou hast saued thy life by finding out this deuice, that thou wouldest come downe to our Lord.

16 And bee thou sure, that when thou comest vnto him, hee shall entreate thee well, and thou shalt please him at the heart. So they brought her into Holophernes pavilion, and told him of her.

17 Now when shee came in before him, immediately he was overcome and taken with her beauty.

18 Then sayd his seruants, who would despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so faire women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?

19 So when Iudith saue Holophernes sitting in a canopie, that was wrought of purple lilke, gold, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed her selfe, and fell downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruants tooke her vp againe at their lords commandement.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3 and asketh the cause of her comming. 5 She deceiueth him by her faire words.

Then sayd Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheere, and feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.

2 As for thy people, if they had not despised me, I should not haue list by my speare against them.

3 But tell me now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherefore art thou come vnto vs?

4 And Iudith saide vnto him, Sir, understand the words of thy handmaiden: for if thou wilt doe after the wordes of thy handmaiden, the Lord shall bring thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth liueth, and as his power liueth, which is in thee to the punishment of all men that go wrong: all men shall not only be subdued vnto him through thee, but all the beasts also of the field.

6 For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer bene reported how thou onely art good and mighty in all his kingdome, and thy discretion is commended in all lands.

7 The thing is manifest also that Achioz spake, and it is well knownen what thou commandedst to do vnto him.

8 For this is plaine, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his Prophets vnto the people, how that for their sinnes he will deliuer them ouer vnto the enemy.

9 And forsomuch as the children of Israel knowe that they haue so displeas'd their God, they are afrayd of thee.

10 They suffer great hunger also, & for want of water, they are dead now in a manner.

11 Moreover, they are appointed to slay all their cattell, that they may drinke the blood of them:

12 And are purposed to spend the holy things of their God, which hee hath forbidden them to touch, as of come, wine, and oile, and they will consume those things which they ought not to touch with their hands: Seeing now that they do these things, it is a plaine case that they must needs be destroyed.

13 Which when I thine handmaiden perceiued, I fled from them, and the Lord hath sent me to shew thee these things.

14 For I thine handmaiden worship God, euen now here beside thee: and thy handmaiden shall go forth, and I will make my prayer vnto God.

15 And he shall tell me when he will reward them their sin, then shall I come and shew thee, and bring thee thither to the midd of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue all the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shall not so much as one dogge bark against thee.

16 For these things are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And forsomuch as God is displeas'd with them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.

18 These words pleased Holophernes, and all his seruants, which marvelled at the wisdom of her, and sayd one to another, 19 There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beauty, and discretion of words.

20 And Holophernes sayde vnto her, God hath done well that he hath sent thee hither before thy people, that thou mayest giue them into our hands.

21 And forasmuch as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shall be my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, and great in the Court of Nabuchodonosoz, and thy name shall be spoken of in all the land.

The xij. Chapter.

Judith would not pollute her selfe with the meat of the Gentiles.

Then commanded hee her to goe in where his treasure lay, & charged that she should haue her dwelling there, and appointed what should be giuen her from his table.

2 Judith answered him, and sayd, As for the meat that thou hast commanded to giue me, I may not eat of it as now, lest I displeas'e my God: but will eat of such as I haue brought with me.

3 Then said Holophernes vnto her, If these things that thou hast brought with thee saile, what shall we do vnto thee?

4 And Judith sayd, As thy soule liueth, my Lord, thy handmaiden shall not spend all this, till God hath brought to passe in my hand the things that I haue desired. So his seruants brought her into the tent where as he had appointed.

5 And as he was going in, he desired that she might haue leaue to goe forth by night, and before day to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lord.

6 Then commanded Holophernes his chamberlaines, that she should goe out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those thre dayes.

7 And so in the night season she went forth into the balley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the well water.

8 And conning by, she besought the Lord God of Israel that hee would prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in her tent, till shee tooke her meat in the evening.

10 Vpon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruants, and sayd vnto Agao his chamberlaine, Go thy way, and counsell this Hebr' welle, that she may be willing to consent to keepe company with mee.

11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a woman should so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from him brimed with all.

12 Then went Agao vnto Judith, and said, Let not thy good daughter be afrayd to come in to my Lord, that shee may be honoured before him, that she may eat and drinke wine, and be merry with him.

13 Vnto whom Judith answered, Who am I, that I should say my lord nay?

14 Whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shall doe it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I liue.

15 So shee stood by, and deckt her selfe with her apparell, and went in, and stood before him.

16 And Holophernes heart was whole moued: for he burnt in desire toward her.

17 And Holophernes sayd vnto her, Drinke now, and sit downe, and be merry, for thou hast found fauour before me.

18 Then sayd Judith, Sir, I will drinke, for my minde is merrier to day then euer it was in all my life.

19 And she tooke, and did eat, and dranke before him the things that her maiden had prepared for her.

20 And Holophernes was merrie with her, and dranke moze wine then euer he did afoze in his life.

The xij. Chapter.

7 Judith prayeth for strength. 10 Shee smiteth off Holophernes head. 12 She returneth to Bethulia, and reioycest her people.

Now when it was late in the night, his seruants made haste euerie man to his lodging, and waggas shut the chamber doores, and went his way.

Psal. 105. 1.

2 * For they were all overladen with wine.

3 So was Iudith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, hee lay vpon the bed all drunken, and of very drunkennesse fell asleepe.

5 Then commanded Iudith her maiden to stand without before the dooze, and to waite.

6 And Iudith stode before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and moued her lips secretly,

7 And sayd, Strengthen mee, O Lord God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of mine hands in this houre, that thou mayest let by thy cite of Hierusalem, like as thou hast promised: and grant that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may be done by thee, I haue deuised.

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the pillar that was at Holophernes beds head, and loosed his sworde that hanged vpon it, and drew it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabbard, shee tooke hold of the hairie lockes of his head, and sayd, Strengthen me, O Lord God, in this houre.

Ecc. 31. 30

10 * And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote off his head: then tooke she the canopie away from the pillars, and rolled the dead body aside.

11 Immediately she gate her forth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her maiden, and bade her put it in her wallet.

12 And so these two went forth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoste, and came about thorrow the valley vnto the port of the cite.

13 And Iudith cried a far off vnto the watchmen vpon the wals, Open the gates, said she, for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they heard her voice, they called the elders of the cite together.

15 And they came all to meete her, little and great, yong and old: for they thought not that she should haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candles, and gathered about her euery one: but she went by into an high place, and caused silence to be proclaimed.

17 And when euery man now held his peace, Iudith sayd, Praise the Lord our God, for hee hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmaiden hee hath performed his mercie, which hee promised vnto the house of Israel: Pea, in my hand this same night hath hee slaine the enemy of his people.

19 And with that shee tooke forth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Behold, the head of Holophernes the captaine of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is the canopie wherein he lay in his drunkennesse, where the Lord our God hath slaine him by the hand of a woman.

20 But as the Lord sueth, his Angel hath kept mee, going thither, remaining there, and coming hither againe from thence: and the Lord hath not suffered mee his handmaiden to be defiled, but without any besiling of sinne hath he brought me againe vnto you, and that with great victorie, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.

21 * O giue thanks vnto him euery one for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

1. Sam. 15.

22 So they praised the Lord all together, and gaue thanks vnto him, and to her they sayd, The Lord hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee hee hath brought our enemies to nought.

23 And Olias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israel, sayd vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the Lord the high God, above all women vpon earth.

24 Blessed be the Lord the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aright to wound and to smite off the head of the captaine of our enemies.

25 For this day hee hath made thy name so honourable, that thy praise shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall alway remember the power of the Lord, seeing thou hast not spared thine owne selfe, but put thee in iopardie, considering the anguish of thy people, and so hast helped their fall before God our Lord.

26 And all the people sayd, Amen, Amen.

27 Achior also was called, and he came: then sayd Iudith vnto him, The God of Israel, vnto whom thou gauest witness that hee would be auenged of his enemies, euen hee hath this night through my hand smitten off the head of all the vnfaithfull.

28 And that thou mayest see that it is so, behold, this is the head of Holophernes, which in his presumptuous pride despised the God of Israel, and threated thee with destruction, saying, when the people of Israel is taken, I shall cause thee also to be sick with the sword.

29 When Achior sawe Holophernes head, hee fell downe vpon his face to the ground, for very anguish and feare, so that hee swooned withall.

30 But after that hee was come againe to himselfe, he fell downe before her, and praised her, saying, 31 Blessed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heere of thy name, shall praise the God of Israel, because of thee.

The xiiij. Chapter,

1 Iudith causeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes.

6 Achior ioyneth himselfe to the people of God.

7 The Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

Iudith sayd vnto all the people, Behold, then, heare mee, * Strike vp his head vpon our walles.

1. Mac. 35.

2 And when the Sunne ariseth, take euery man his weapon, and fall out violently: not as though ye would goe beside them, but to ruine vpon them with violence.

3 When the spies see this, they shall of necessity be compelled to flee backward, and to raise by their captaine to battel.

4 So when their captaines come into Holophernes pavilion, and finde the dead bodie wrapped in the blood, fearefulnesse shall fall vpon them.

the shall e the your

5 So when yee perceiue that they flee, fol- low them without all care, for God shall deli- uer them vnto you to be destroyed.

6 Then Achioz seeing the power of God, which he had the wed vnto the people of Israel, fell off from his heathenish beliefe, and put his trust in God, and let himselfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Now as soone as it was day, they sticht by Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euerie man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible cry.

8 When the spies saw that, they ran vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great rushing, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him by, but by their noise.

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knoche, go in, or open.

11 But when the captaines and princes, and all the chiefe in the king of the Assyrians hoste came together, they said vnto the chamberlains, 12 Go your way in, and wake him by: for the mice are crept out of their holes, and dare pro- uoche vs vnto battell.

13 Then Nagao went into his chamber, stood before the bedde, and clapped with his hands: for he thought he had bene sleeping with Judith.

14 But when hee hearkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceiue no stirring, hee went nigher to the bed, and lift it bp, and when he saw the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, weltring in his blood vpon the earth, he cried with a loud voice, and with wee- ping rent his clothes.

15 And went into Judiths tent, and found her not.

16 And so he lept out vnto the people, and sayd, One woman of the Jewes hath brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lieth vpon the ground, and hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of the Assyrians hoste heard that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembling vpon them: so that their minds were soze afrayd.

18 And there was an exceeding great crie, in the whole hoste.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Assyrians are afrayd and flee. 6 The Israelites pursue them.

When all the hoste heard that Holophernes was beheaded, their minde and counsell fell from them: and being amazed with feare only and trembling, they saued themselves by fleeing away.

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe their heads, left all behinde them, and made haste to escape from the Hebrewes: for they heard that they were hasting to come after with their weapons, & so they fled by the wayes of the fields, and thoro' all the footpathes of the dales.

3 And when the children of Israel saw that they fled, they followed vpon them, and went downe with trumpets, blowing, and making a great crie after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and kept not themselves together, but fled their way: neuerthelesse, the children of Israel fell vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Olias sent messengers vnto all the cities and countreys of Israel.

6 So all the region, and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the sword, till they came to the bettermost parts of their borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, came into the cents of the Assyrians, and tooke all that they which were fled had left behinde them, and so they found great good.

8 And they that came againe to Bethulia from the battell, tooke with them such things as had bene theirs: there was no number of the cattell, and of all costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were all made rich of the spoiles of them.

9 And Joachim the high Priest, came from Hierusalem to Bethulia, with all the elders, that they might see Judith.

10 Now when he came out vnto them, they began all to praise her with one voice, saying, Thou worship of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people, 11 Because thou hast done manly, and thy heart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hand of the Lord comforted thee, and blessed shalt thou be for euer.

12 And all the people sayd, So be it, so be it.

13 In thirty dayes could the people of Israel scarce gather by the spoiles of the Assyrians.

14 But all that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had bene his specially, whether it were of golde, of siluer, precious stone, clothing, and all ornaments, they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.

15 And all the people reioyced, both women, maidens, and yong people, with pipes and harps.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Iudeth praiseth God with a song. 15 She offereth to the Lord Holophernes stuffe. 26 Her continency, life and death. 29 All Israel lamenteth her.

Then sang Judith this song vnto the Lord, saying,

2 Begin vnto the Lord vpon the tabrets, sing vnto the Lord by on the cymbals, & sing vnto him a new song of thanksgiving, be ioyfull, and call vpon his Name:

3 It is the Lord that destroyeth warres, euen the Lord is his Name:

4 which hath pitched his tents in the midd of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hand of all our enemies.

5 After came out of the mountaines of the North in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, and their horses covered the balleys.

9 For she layd away her widowes garment, and put on the apparell of gladnesse, to the reioicing of the children of Israel.

Gene. 1. 1. psal. 23. 9.

16 Lord, Lord, thou art a great God, mighty in power, whom no man may overcome.

17 All thy creatures must serue thee: * for thou spakest but the word, and they were made, thou sentest thy spirit, and they were created, and no man can withstand thy voice.

18 The mountaines shall moue from the foundations with the waters, the stonie rocks shall melt before thee like waxe.

19 But they that feare thee, shall be great with thee in all things.

20 Woe vnto the people that rose by against my generation: for the almighty Lord will avenge himselfe of them, and in the day of iudgement will he visit them.

21 For he shall giue fire and wormes in their flesh, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.

22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, all the people came to Hierusalem, to giue praise and thanks vnto the Lord: and when they were purified, they offered all their whole burnt sacrifices, and their bowes, and their promised offerings.

23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons, and all theiewels that the people had giuen her, and the canopie that she tooke from his bed, and hanged them by || vnto the Lord.

25 So after these dayes, euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in all the land of Israel.

26 Vnto her vertue also was chastity ioyned, so that after her husband Mariasses died, she neuer knew man all the dayes of her life.

27 Vpon the high solemne dayes, she went out with great worship.

28 She dwelt in her husbands house an hundred and fve yeeres, and left her handmaiden Abia free.

29 And died, and was buried beside her husband in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.

30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeeres also after her death.

31 The day wherein this victorie was gotten, was solemnly holden, & reckoned of the Jewes in the nuber of the holy dayes, as it is yet greatly holden of the Jewes euer since, vnto this day.

The xj. Chapter after the Latine.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

Mardocheus the sonne of Jari, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, of the tribe of Benjamin,

2 A Jew, which had his dwelling in the city of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kings court.

3 Neuertheless, he was one of the prisoners whom * Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had caried away from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, with Jechonias the king of Iuda.

4 In the second yeere of the reigne of great Artaxerres, in the first day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus such a dreame.

5 He thought he heard a great trumpe, horrible thunderclaps, earthquakes, and great uprore in the land,

6 And that he saw two great dragons, ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crye was great: at the which roaring and drie, all the heathen were by to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darknesse, and very vnclere, full of trouble and anguish, yea, a great fearefulnesse was there in the land.

4. Reg. 24. 1. 5. Jer. 24. 1.

9 The righteous were amazed, for they feared the plague and euill that was deuised ouer them, and were at a point with themselues to die: So they cried vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle well grew into a great riuier, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the sunne rose by againe: and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proud.

12 Now when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, hee awoke, and mused stedfastly in his heart what God would doe: and so he desired to know all the matter, and his minde was thereupon vntill night.

The xij. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth the treason deuised against the king, and is therefore rewarded of him.

At the same time dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara in the Kings Court, the Kings chamberlaines and porters of the palace.

2 But when he heard their deuice, and had diligently considered their imaginations, hee perceived that they went about to lay their cruell hands vpon the king Artaxerxes, and so hee certified the king thereof.

3 Then caused the king to examine the two gelled with torment: and when they had granted it, they were put to death.

4 This the king caused to be put in the chronicles for an euerlasting remembrance, & Mardocheus wrote by the same matter.

5 So the king commanded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for this faithfulness of his, he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in great honour and reputation in the Kings Court, vnderooke to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

He great king Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seue lands, sendeth his friendly salutation vnto all the princes and deputies of the countreys which be subiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my minde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt my self, by the reason of my power: but purposed with equitie alway and gentleness, to gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdiction, and w<sup>h</sup> holly to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdom vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely go thorow on euery side, and to reneue peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how these things might be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wisdom, whose good will, trueth, and faithfulness hath oft bene shewed and proued, (which was also the principall and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 which certified vs, how that in all lands there was scattered abroad a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes against all other people, and haue alway despised the proclaimed commandements of kings, and howe that for this cause it were not to be suffered, that such rule should continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeing now we perceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vsing strange and other maner of lawes, and withstand our statutes and doings, and goe about to stablisch these matters, that our kingdom should neuer come to good estate and stedfastnesse,

6 Therefore we haue commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing, and shewed vnto you by Aman, which is ordeined, and set ouer all our lands, and the most principall next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, shall with their wiues and children be destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies and aduersaries, and that there shall be no mercie shewed, and no man spared: and this shall be done the fourteenth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere:

7 That they which of olde, and now also, haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquillitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon all the works and noble acts of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, thou balsant and almighty king, for all things are in thy power: and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand or let thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and what woondrous thing soeuer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thy maiesty, O Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest Lord that it was neither of malice nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I would not bow downe my selfe, nor worship ponder proud presumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue bene content, and that with good will, if it might haue done Israel any good, to haue kiss euen his footsteps.)

14 But that I did it because I would not set the honour of a man in the head of the glorie of God, and because I would worship none but only thee, my Lord: and this haue I done in no pride nor presumption.

15 And therefore, O Lord, thou God and King, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, their minde and desire is to destroy and to overthrow thy people that haue euer bene thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion, which thou hast deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy people whom thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe, turne our complaint & sorrow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lord, and praise thy name, O Lord, suffer not the mouths of them that praise thee, to be destroyed.

18 All the people of Israel in like maner cried as earnestly as they could vnto the Lord, for their death & destruction stood before their eyes.

The xiiiij. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

Or, perill.

ueene Esther also being in the battell of death, resorted vnto the Lord,

2 Layd away her glorious apparell, and put on the garments that serued for sighing and mourning. In the stead of precious ointment, shee scattered ashes and doung vpon her head: and as for her bodie she humbled it with fasting, and brought it very lowe: All the places where she was wont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with her owne haire that she pluckt off.

3 Shee prayed also vnto the Lord God of Israel with these words, O my Lord, thou onely art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee:

4 for my miserie and destruction is hard at my hand.

Deut. 4. 29.

5 * From my youth by, I haue heard out of the kiured of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among all people, and so haue our fathers of their forefathers, that they should be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou diddest promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee, therefore hast thou giuen vs into the handes of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: Lord thou art righteous.

8 Neuerthelesse, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter & heavy captiuitie, and oppressed among them, but they haue layed their hands vpon the hands of their gods,

9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordered and appointed, to destroy thine inheritance, to shut and to stop the mouthes of them that praise thee, to quench the glory and worship of thine house and thine altar:

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshy king for euer.

11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our misery and fall: but turne their deuce vpon themselves, and punish him that hath begunne the same ouer vs, and set him to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and of our trouble: strength me, O thou King of gods, thou Lord of all power:

13 Giue me an eloquent and pleasant speech in my mouth before the lion: turne his heart into the hate of our enemy, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hand, and helpe me thy handmaide, which haue no defence nor helper, but onely thee, Lord.

15 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest that I loue not the glory and worship of the vnrightheous, and that I hate and abhorre the bed of all the vncircumcised, and of all heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence & worship, which I beare vpon my head, what time as I must shew my selfe and be seene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet alone and by my selfe.

17 Thou knowest also that I thy handmaiden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kings feast, that I haue not drunke the wine of the drinke offerings, 18 And that I thy handmaiden haue no ioy, since the day that I was brought hither, vnto this day, but onely thee, O Lord, O thou God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboute all, heare the voice of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus moueth Esther to go in vnto the king, and make intercession for her people. 9 And she performeth his request.

Mardocheus also bade Esther goe in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember (sayeth hee) the dayes of thy low estate, how thou wast nourished vnder my hand: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath giuen sentence of death against vs:

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the king, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day it happened that Esther layd away the mourning garments, and put on glorious apparell,

5 And deckt her selfe goodly (after that shee had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauour of all things) and tooke two maidens with her:

6 Vpon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other followed her, & bare the traine of her besture.

8 The shine of her beauty made her face rose coloured, the similitude of her face was chearefull and amiable: but her heart was sorrowfull for great feare.

9 She went in thoro' all the doores, and stood before the king: the king sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all shining with golde, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lift vp his face that shone in the clearenesse, and looked grimly vpon her: then fell the queene downe, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of her maide that went with her.

11 Neuerthelesse, God * turned the kings minde, that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seat for feare, and gate her in his armes, and held her by till shee came to her selfe againe, hee gaue her louing words also, and sayd vnto her,

12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:

13 Thou shalt not die, for our commandment toucheth the commons, and not thee: come nigh.

14 And with that he held by his golden rod, and layd it vpon her necke, 15 And embraced her friendly, & sayd, Walke with me.

 16 Then sayd she, * I saw thee, O Lord, as an Angel of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy maiesty and clearenesse.
 17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou, O Lord, and thy face is full of amitie.
 18 But as shee was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnesse.
 19 For the which cause the king was astrayed, and all his seruants comforted her.

The xvj. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those which he first sent forth.

The great king Artaxerxes, * which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen lands, sendeth vnto the princes & rulers of the same lands, such as loue him, his friendly salutation.

2 There* be many that for the sundry friendships and benefits which are diuersly done vnto them for their worship, be euer the more proud and high minded:

3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subjects (for plenteous benefits may they not suffer, and beginne to imagine some thing against those that do them good,

4 And take not only all thankfulness a way from men but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull and vthankfull for the good deeds, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all things, which iudgement hateth and punisheth all wickednesse.

5 It happeneth oft also, that they which be set in office by the higher power, & vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subjects are committed to be handled, waxe proud, & desile themselves with shedding of innocent blood, which bringeth them to intollerable hurt.

6 Which also with false and deceitfull words, and with lying tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.

7 Now is it profitable and good that we take heed, make search thereafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shameful, vnbonest, and noisome things that the deputies haue now taken in hand before our eyes,

8 And thereby to beware in time to come, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for all men, and that we might sometime draw it to a change.

9 And as for the thing that now is present before our eyes, to withstand it, and to put it downe after the most friendly maner,

10 What time nowe as * Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger verily of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was come in among vs as an aliant, 11 And had obtained the friendship that wee beare toward all people, so that he was called our father, and had in high honoz of every man, as the next and principall vnto the king:

12 He could not forbear himselfe from his pride, hath vnderaken not onely to robbe vs of the kingdome, but of our life:

13 With manifolde deceit also hath he desired to destroy Hardocheus our helper and preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the like partaker of our kingdome, with all her people.

14 For his minde was (when hee had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we find that the Jewes (which were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vs reasonable & right lawes:

16 And that they be the children of the most high liuing God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath bene well ordered hitherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters & commandments that were put forth by Aman, the sonne of Amadathu, ye shall do well if ye holde them of none effect.

18 For he that set them by & inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the port, with all his kindred: and God which hath all things in his power, hath rewarded him after his deseruing.

19 And vpon this ye shall publish, & set by the copy of this letter in all places: that the Jewes may freely and without hinderance holde themselves after their owne statutes:

20 And that they may be helped, and that by on the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their anguish and trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For the God that governeth all things, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Whereouer, among the high solemnne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse:

23 What now, and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of good, for all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians: but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and lands that do not this, shall horribly perish, and be destroyed by the sword and fire, and shal not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beasts and fowles.

The end of the rest of the booke of Esther.

Wise righteousnesse, ye that be * Judges of the earth: consider deeply of the Lord in goodnesse, and seeke him in singlenesse of heart.

2 * For he will be found of the that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as put no distrust in him.

3 For wicked thoughts separate from God, and his power when it is || tried, reprocueth the brutish.

4 For why? wisdom shall not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 * For the holy spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, & withdraweth himselfe from thoughts that are without vnderstanding, and is declared when wickednesse commeth.

6 * For the spirit of wisdom is lowing, and will not absolue him that blasphemeth with his lippes, for God is witness of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of his tongue.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth the round compass of the world, and the same that vpholdeth all things, hath knowledge also of the voyce.

8 Therefore he that speaketh vnrightrous things, can not be hidde, neither shall the iudgement of reprocue let him escape.

9 And why? inquisition shall be made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sound of his words shall come vnto God, so that his wickednesse shall be punished.

10 For the care of ielousie heareth all things, and the noise of the grudgings shall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing woorth, and refraine your tongue from slander: for there is no word so secret, that it shall goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth the soule.

12 ¶ Seeke not your owne death in the error of your life, * destroy not your selues through the works of your owne hands:

13 * For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing.

14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being, and || the generations of the world were healthfull, and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdome of hel by on the earth.

15 For righteousness is euerlasting and immortall, but vnrightrousnesse bringeth death.

16 Nevertheless, the vngodly * call it vnto them both with works and words: and while they thinke to haue it their friend, they come to nought, and they haue made an agreement with it, for they are woorthy to be of her part.

The ij. Chapter.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsell against the faithfull.

For the vngodly say, reasoning with themselves, but not aright. Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neither is there any man known to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduerture, and we shall be hereafter, as though we had neuer bene: for our breath is as a smoke in our nostrils, and words as a sparke raised out of our hearts:

3 Which being extinguished, our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall banish as the lost aire.

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloud, and come to nought as the mist that is diuen away with the beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heat therof: our name also shall be forgotten by little and little, and no man shall haue our works in remembrance.

5 * For our time is a very shadow that passeth away, and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

6 * Come on therefore, let vs enjoy the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearcfully be the creatures like as in youth:

7 Let vs fill our selues with good wine and ointment, and let there no slowze of the time escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buds, afoze they be withered.

9 * Let there be no faire medow, but our lust go thozow it. Let every one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in every place: for that is our portion, and this onely our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore righteous, let vs not spare the widow nor olde man, let vs not regard the heads that are gray for age.

11 Let the law of vnrightrousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothing woorth.

12 Therefore let vs defraud the righteous: and why? he is not for our profit, yea, he is cleane contrary to our doings, he checketh vs for offending against the law, and slandereth the faults of our maner of liuing.

13 * He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea, hee calleth himselfe Gods sonne.

14 * He is made vnto vs for a reprocue of our thoughts.

15 * It grieveth vs also to looke vpon him, for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

end of the lust, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his words be true, let vs proue what shall happen in the end of him.

18 * foz if the iust man be the sonne of God, hee will receiue him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs examine him with * despightfull rebuke and tormenting, that we may know his meeknesse, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him with the most shameful death : for, as himselfe sayth, he shall be rewarded of God.

21 Such things doe they imagine, and goe astray, for their owne wickednesse hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstand them not, they neither hope for the reward of righteousnes, nor regard the worship that holy soules shall haue.

23 * foz God created man to be vnderstod : yea, after the image of his owne likenesse made he him.

24 * Neuerthelesse, through enuy of the deuill came death into the world, and they that hold of his side do finde it.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The consecration and assurance of the righteous. 7 The reward of the faithfull. 11 Who are miserable.

But the * soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

2 * In the sight of the vnrwise they appeared to die, and their end is taken for miserie.

3 And their departing from vs to be bitter destruction : but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer paine before men, yet * is their hope full of immortallitie.

5 They are punished but in few things, neuerthelesse in many things shall they be well rewarded, for * God proueth them, and sendeth them meet for himselfe.

6 As golde in the soynace doth he trie them, and receiuethe them as a burnt offering : and when the time commeth, they shall be looked vpon.

7 * They shall shine and run thoro'w, as the sparkles among the stubble,

8 * They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people : and their Lord shall reigne for ever.

9 They that put their trust in him, shall vnderstand the trueth, and such as be faithful, shall perseuere with him in loue : for his saints haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

10 * But the vngodly shall be punished according to their owne imaginations, for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

11 For whoso despiseth wisdom and || nurture, he is || vnhappy, and as for the hope of such, it is but vaine, their labors vnfruitfull, and their works vnprofitable.

12 Their wiuers are vndiscreet, and their children most vngodly.

13 Their offspring or progenie is cursed : wherefore blessed is the barren that is vnderstod, * which hath not knowen the full bed, she shall haue fruit in the visitation of soules :

14 And the gelded which with his handes hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked things against God : for vnto him shall be giuen the speciall gift of faith, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 foz glorious is the fruit of the good labour, and the root of wisdom shall neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to a perfect end, and the seed of an vnrighteous bed shall be rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and their last age shall be without honour.

18 If they die quickly, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of iniquitie.

19 foz horrible is the end of the vnrighteous generation.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

How faire is a chaste generation with bertie: the immortall thereof is immortall : for it is knowen with God and with men.

2 when it is present, men take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desire it : it is crowned, and euer triumpheth when it hath woon the reward of the vnderstod battels.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in children, shall profit nothing, nor giue deepe root by the seed of adulterie, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For * though they bud forth in the branches for a time, yet shall they be shaken with the wind, for they stand not fast, and through the vehemency of the wind they shall be rooted out.

5 The vnperfect branches shall be broken, their fruit shall be vnprofitable, and so we to eat, yea, meet for nothing.

6 And why : all the children that are bozne of the wicked bed, must beare record of the wickednes against their fathers and mothers when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous be ouertaken with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 foz honorable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres :

9 But a mans wisdom is the gray haire, and an vnderstod life is the olde age.

10 He * pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that wheras he liued among sinners, he translated him.

11 Yea, speedily was hee taken away, to the intent that wickednesse should not alter his vnderstanding, and that deceit should not beguile his soule.

12 foz wickednesse with be witching, doeth darken the honest things : and the lightnesse of || voluptuous desire, || turneth aside the single minde.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much time :

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore halted he to take him away || from among the wicked.

15 This the people see, and vnderstand it not, they lay not by such things in their hearts, how that the louing fauour and mercie of God is upon his saints, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly which are liuing: and the pouty that is soone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrightheous.

17 For they see the end of the wise: but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him: and wherfore the Lord hath taken him away to be in saletie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise him, therefore shall God also laugh them to scozme.

19 So that they themselues shall die hereafter without honour, yea, in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voice shall he burie those that be puffed vp, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be layed as bitterly walled: they shall be in sozow, and their memorie all perish.

20 So they shall come astrayed in remembrance of their finnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The v. Chapter.

1 The constantnes of the righteous before their persecutors. 14 The hope of the vnfaichfull is vaine.

15 The blessednesse of the Saints and godly.

Then shall the righteous stand in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, and taken a way their labours.

2 When they see it, they shall be bered with horrible feare, and shall wonder at his health, so farre beyond all that they looked for.

3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the rebelle of mind, they shall say, This is he whom sometime we had in derision, and iested vpon.

4 * Wee fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his end to be without honour:

5 But lo, how he is counted among the children of God, & his portion is among the saints.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of truetie, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sun of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, yea, we haue gone thorow tedious deserts, but as for the way of the Lord, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride done vnto vs? or what profit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 * All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the wauyes of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it in the floods:

11 * Or as a bird that flieth thorow in the aire, and no man can see any token where he is flown, but only heareth the noise of her wings, beating the light wind, parting the aire through the becemeny of her going, and flieth on, shaking her wings, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a marke, it parteth the aire, which immediatly cometh together againe, so that a man can not know where it went thorow:

13 Euen so we in like maner, alsoone as we were borne, beganne immediatly to dye to our end, and haue thewed no token of bertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 Such words they that haue sinned speake in the hell:

15 For the hope of the * vngodly is like a dry thistle flower, that is blowen away with the winde, like a thin scum that is scattered abroad with the stozme, like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the wind, and as the remembrance of a stranger, that tarrieth but a day, and then departeth.

16 But the * righteous shall liue for euermore, their reward also is with the Lord, and the care for them is with the highest.

17 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall he couer the, and with his arme shall he defend them.

18 * His selouie also shall take on harness, and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enemies.

19 * He shall put on righteousnesse for a breastplate, and take vnfained iudgement in sted of an helmet.

20 The inuincible shield of equitie shall hee take.

21 His fierce wrath shall hee sharpen for a sword, and the whole compasse of the world shall fight with him against the vniuers.

22 When shall the thunder boltes goe right out of the lightnings, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appointed.

23 And as from an angrie caster of stones, there shall fall thicke hailes, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall run roughly together.

24 Yea, a mighty winde shall stand by against them, and a stozme shall scatter them abroad: thus vnrightheous dealing shall bring all the land to a wildernesse, and wickednesse shall ouerthrow the royall seats of the mightie.

The vj. Chapter.

2 The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisdom.

Wisdom is better then strength: and a man of vnderstanding is more worth then one strong.

2 Heare therefore O ye kings) and vnderstand: O learne, ye that be Iudges of the endes of the earth.

3 Giue eare, yee that rule the multitudes, and gloz in the number of peoples.

4 * For the power is giuen you of the Lord, and the strength from the highest, which shall trie your works, and search out your imaginations:

5 Howe that yee bring officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawes of righteousnesse, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right soone, shall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shall they haue that beare rule.

7 Mercy is granted vnto the lowest: but they that be in authority, shall be soze punished.

8 * For he whiche is Lord ouer all, shall accept and a pure influence flowing from the gloz of the Almighty God: therfore can no defiled thing come to her.

26 For she is the brightnesse of the everlastig light, the undefiled mirror of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And being but one, she can doe all things: and remaining in her selfe, she renueth all, and in all ages of times entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friends, and Prophets:

28 For God loueth none, if he dwel not with wisdom.

29 For she is moze beautiful then the Sunne, and giueth moze light then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For vpon the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisdom.

The viij. Chapter.

The effects of wisdom.

Wisdom reacheth from one ende to another mightily, and louingly doeth she order all things.

1 I have loued her, and laboured for her from my youth by: I did my diligence to marrie my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her beauty.

2 That she hath the company of God, it commendeth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himselfe loueth her.

3 For she is the schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chuser out of his workes.

4 If a man would desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisdom that worketh all things?

5 For if prudence worke, what is it among all things that worketh better?

6 And if a man loue righteousness, her labours are but vertues: for why? she teacheth sobrenesse and prudence, righteousness and strength, which are such things as men can haue nothing moze profitable in their life.

7 If a man desire much knowledge, she can tell the things that are past, and discern things so: to come: he knoweth the subtilties of words, and caner pound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders or ever they come to passe, and the endes of all times and ages.

8 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I will take her into my companie, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie shee shall giue mee good counsell, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.

9 For her sake shall I be well and honestly taken among the commons, and with honour among the elders, though I be yong.

10 I halbe found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shall bee marueilous in the sight of great men: and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.

11 When I hold my tongue, they shall bide my pleasure, and when I speake, they shall giue good care vnto me, and if I talke much, they shall lay their hands vpon their mouth.

12 Moreover, by the meanes of her, I shall obtaine immortallitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memoriall among them that come after me.

13 I shall set the people in order, and the nations halbe subdued vnto me.

14 Horrible tyrants halbe afraid when they doe but heare of mee, among the multitude I shall be counted good, and mighty in battel.

15 When I come home, I shall finde rest with her: for her companie hath no bitterness, and her felowship hath no tediousnesse but mirth and ioy.

16 Howe when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in my heart, how that to be ioyned vnto wisdom is immortalitie, 17 And great pleasure to haue her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that whoso keepeeth companie with her, shall be wise, and that he which talketh with her shall come to honour: I went about seeking how to get her vnto me.

18 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good vnderstanding.

19 But when I grew to moze vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body.

20 Nevertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it mee, and that was a point of wisdom also to knowe whose gift it was, I stepped vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I sayd after this maner.

The ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obtaine wisdom.

God of my fathers, and Lord of mercie, thou hast made all things with thy word,

2 And ordeined man through thy wisdom, that hee should haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

3 That he should order the world according to equitie and righteousness, and execute iudgement with a true heart:

4 Give me wisdom, which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put me not out from among thy children:

5 For I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmaid am a feeble person, and of a short time, and too young to the vnderstanding of iudgement and lawes.

6 And though a man bee neuer so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, hee shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters:

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an altar in the cite wherein thou dwellest, a likeness of the holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning:

9 And thy wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was with thee when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments.

10 Send her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that shee may be with me, and labour with me, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For shee knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, and she shall leade me soberly in my workes, and preferue me in her power.

12 So shall my workes bee acceptable, and then shall I gouerne thy people righteously,

The x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisdom.

She preferred the first formed father of the world that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall:

2 * And gaue him power to rule all things.
 3 But when the vnrigheteous went away in his wrath from her, * hee perished by the furious desire to murder his brother.
 4 foz whom when the water * destroyed the whole world, wisdom againe preferred it herselfe, governing the iust man by no costly worke of wood.
 5 * Moreover, when the nations were confounded or ioined together in their malicious confederacie, she found out the righteous, and preferred him faultlesse vnto God, and kept him strong against the loue of his sorne.
 6 * She preferred the righteous when hee fled from the vngodly that perished, what time as the fire fell downe vpon the five cities.
 7 Like as yet this day the vnfruitfull, waste and smoking land giueth testimony of their wickednesse: yea, the | bnrripe and vntimely fruits that grow vpon the trees, and foz a token of a remembrance of the vnfaitfull soule, there standeth a pillar of salt.
 8 foz all such as regarded not wisdom, gate not onely this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good: but also left behinde them vnto men, a memoziall of their foolishnes, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they could not be hid.
 9 But as foz such as tooke heed vnto wisdom, she hath deliuered them from sorow.
 10 * when the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, | wisdom ledde him the right way, she wed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledg of holy things, made him rich in his labours, and brought to passe the things that he went about.
 11 In the | deceitfulnesse of such as defrauded him, she stood by him, and made him rich.
 12 She saued him from the enemies, and defended him from the | deceiters: in a strong bat-tel she gaue the him victoory, that he might know how that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

13 * when the righteous was solde, shee fozsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: she went downe with him into the | dungeon,
 14 * And failed him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that opprest him: as foz them that had accused him, she declared them to be liars, and brought him to perpetuall | woorthip.
 15 * She deliuered the righteous people, and faultlesse seed, from the nations that opprest them.
 16 * She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stood by him in woonders and toliens against the dreadfull kings.
 17 Shee gaue the | righteous the rewarde of their labours, and ledde them forth a maruelous way: on the day time shee was a shadow vnto them, and a light of starres in the night season.
 18 * She brought them thozow the red sea, and caried them thozow the great water.
 19 But shee drowned their enemies in the sea, but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.
 20 * So the righteous tooke the spoiles of the vngodly, and * praised thy holy Name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious hand with one accord.
 21 foz wisdom openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 28 The great power and mercie of God.

She | ordered their workes in the hands of the holy Prophet:
 2 So that they went thozow the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched their tents in the waue desert.
 3 * They stood against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.
 4 * when they were thirsty, they called vpon thee, and water was giuen them out of the most high roche, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.
 5 foz by the things wherethrough their enemies were punished, were the | children of Israel helped in their need.
 6 foz in sted of a fountaine of the perpetuall running flood, all troubled with gozie blood,
 7 In reproch of the commandement published to murder the infants, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked foz neither:
 8 Declaring by that thirst them, how thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.
 9 * foz when they were tried and nurtured with fatherly mercie, they knew how the vngodly were iudged and punished in the wrath of God.
 10 * foz these hast thou exhorted as a father, and ppooued them: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boisterous hing, | layed hard to their charge, and condemned them.

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike.

12 For their griefe was double, and mourning for the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they perceived that their punishments did them good, they thought upon the Lord.

14 For whom, in his casting out before as an abject, they had denied with derision, him in the end, when they saw what happened, they wondered at: for they were of an other thirt then was the iust.

15 But for the foolish detrailes of their wickedness, wherewith being deceiued, they worshipped serpents that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnrasonable beastes upon them for reuengance.

16 That they might know, that looke wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall hee be punished.

17 For vnto thy Almighty hande that made the world of nought, it was not vnpossible to send among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions,

18 * Or cruel beastes of a strange kinde, such as are vnrknown, or spout fire, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of their eyes:

19 which might not only destroy them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

20 Yea, without these beastes might they haue bene slaine with one winde, being perfected by the reuengance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power: neuerthelesse, thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and weight.

21 For thou hast cuer had great strength, and might, and who may withstand the power of thine arme?

22 For why? like as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee: yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth downe upon the earth.

23 * But thou hast mercy upon all, for thou hast power of all things, and makest thee as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amend.

24 For thou lovest al the things that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 Yea, howe might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could any thing bee preserved, except it were called of thee?

26 But thou sparest all, for they are thine, O Lord, thou louer of soules.

The xij. Chapter.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The works of God are vnreprouable. 19 God giueth leaseure to repent.

Why thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lord, is in all things.

2 Therefore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them, by putting them in remembrance in what things they haue offended, that leauing their wickednesse, they may beleeue on thee, O Lord.

3 * As for those olde inhabitants of thy holy land, thou mightest not away with them:

4 For they committed abominable works against thee, as witchcraft, sojcery, and wicked sacrifices:

5 They slewe their owne children without mercie, they did eat by the bowels of mens flesh, and deuoured the blood in abominable banquets, and had their mad fanaticall priests:

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, these doers thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers:

7 That the land which thou lovest aboue al other, might be a meet dwelling for the children of God.

8 Neuerthelesse, thou sparedst them also as men, and sentest the forerunners of thine hoste, euen hornets, to destroy them out by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruel beastes, or with one rough word to destroy them together:

10 * But thy minde was in punishing them by litle and litle, to giue them place for amendment, knowing wel that it was an vnrightheous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might neuer be altered:

11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginning, yett hast thou not pardoned their sinnes wherem they offended, for that thou fearest any man.

12 * For who dare say vnto thee, what hast thou done? or who will stand against thy iudgement? or who will blame thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who will come before thy face to bee reuenged for the vnrightheous men?

13 * For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.

14 There dare neither King nor tyant, in thy sight, require accompts of them whom thou hast destroyed.

15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou orderest all things righteously, thinking it vnseemely for thy power to cōdemne him that hath not deserved to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnes, and because thou art Lord of all things, it maketh thee to be gracious vnto all.

17 For when men thinke thee not to be of a full strength, thou declarest thy power, and reprovest the boldnesse of the wise.

18 But thou || mastering thy power, doest iudge with equitie, & orderest vs with great fauor: for thou mayest vse power when thou wilt.

19 By such workes nowe hast thou taught thy people, that the iust man should bee louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, because thou giuest roome to repentance for sinnes.

20 For in so much as thou hast punished, and with such deliberation and obtestation, the enemies of thy seruants which were worthy to die, wherethrough thou gauest them time and place of amendment, that they might turne from their wickednesse:

21 With howe great circumspection then punishest thou thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast swoorne, and made covenants of good promises?

24 * For they went astray very long in the wayes of errour, and helde the beastes (which euen their enemies despised) for gods, deceived as children of no vnderstanding.

25 Therefore hast thou sent them thy iudge-

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God.
 10 Idolaters and idols are mocked.

Surely baine are all men by nature, which were ignozant of God, and * could not out of the good things that are seene, knowe him that of himself is cuerlasting, neither tooke so much regard of the woorkes that are made, as thereby to knowe who was the craftsmen of them:

2 * But some tooke the fire, some the winde or swift aire, some the course of the starres, some the running water, Some tooke Sunne & Moone, or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the world.

3 But though they had such pleasure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue bene gods, yet should they haue knowen howe much more || fairer he is that made them: for the || maker of beautie hath ordeined all these things.

4 ¶ If they maruelled at the power and worke of them, they should haue perceiued thereby, how much he which made these things, is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie and of th creatures, the maker thereof compared with them, may plainly be || knowen.

6 Not withstanding, they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and would finde him,
 and yet peraduenture || misse:

7 * For they being occupied in his woorks, do seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the light, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howber, yet neither are they to be excused.

9 For if ther: vnderstanding and knowledge be so great, that they can || discern the world and the creatures, why w they not rather find out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and || among the dead is their hope, that all them gods which are but the woorks of mens hands, golde, silver, and the thing that is found out by || cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any baine stone that hath bene made by hand of old.

11 * ¶ As when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meet for the purpose, and pareth off all the barke cunningly, and so by art comely maketh a bessel profitable to the vse of life:

12 And with that which is cut off from his worke, doeth dreffe his meate to fill his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is left, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood, and full of knobs) hee carueth it diligently by leasure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, hee giueth it some proportion, fashioeneth it after the similitude of a man,

14 ¶ He maketh it like some vile beast, straketh it ouer with redde, and painteth it, and looke what soule spot is in it, hee casteth some colour vpon it,

15 Then maketh hee a || conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wal, and maketh it fast with yron:

16 ¶ Providing so for it, lest it happen to fall,
 || for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of ne-cessitie be helped.

17 When making prayer for his goods, for his marriage, and for children, he is not ashamed to speake to that which hath no soule.

18 For health, hee maketh his petition vnto him that is || lucke: for life, he humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: hee || calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to send him a good iourney, hee prayeth him that may not goe.

19 And for gaine, for worke, and for successe of his affaires, hee asketh power of him which is without all manner of power.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath

3 But thy providence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast * made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the midst of the waues,

8 But cursed is the idole that is made with hands, yea, both it, and he that made it: he, because hee made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a fraile thing.

9 For the bngodly and his bngodlinesse are both like abominable vnto God.

10 Euen so the worke, and hee that made it also, shall be punished together.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idoles of the heathen: for out of the creature of God they are become an abomination, a temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

12 For why? the seeking out of idoles, is the beginning of whoredome, and the bringing vp of them, is the destruction of life.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

14 The vaine glory of men hath found them out vpon earth, therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

15 For when a father mourned heauily for his sonne, suddenly taken away from him, hee made him an image: and him which then was but a dead man, hee nowe began to worship as a God, and ordeined for his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Thus by procelle of time this bngodly custome being wahren strong, was kept as a law, and images were worshipped by commandement of tyrants.

17 As for those that were so far off, that men might not worship them present, their visage being drawn out from farre off, was made as the cleare image of an honourable king, that they might with affection flatter as well the absent as the present.

18 Againe, the singular ambition of the crafts man gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to encrease the superstition.

19 For he willing to please one, peraduenture that bare rule, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the common people being thereto allured, tooke him now for a God, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was to the deceiuing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or tyrannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and lockes that shewe of God which ought not to be giuen to any thing els.

22 Whocouer, this was not ynough for them, that they erred in knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so many and great plagues, called they peace.

23 For either they slew their owne children, and offered them in sacrifice, or bled secret ceremonies, or followed mad drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice.

24 So that they kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but eiter one slewe another traitously, or grieved him by adultery.

25 So that there reigned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulness, sedition, periurie.

26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulness, dechling of soules, changing of birth, disordering of marriages, adulterie, and vncleanness.

27 For why? the honouring of images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of all euill.

28 For they that worship idoles, either they are made when they are merrie, or prophetic lieg, or liue bngodly, or else lightly forswear themselves.

29 For in so much as their trust is in the idols which haue no soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them.

30 Therefore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthily for both causes: for they haue an euill opinion of God that giue heed vnto idoles, and they sweare vniustly in deceit, despising holinesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare, but it is the iust vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the bngodly doers.

The xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faithfull praying the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue no idoles.

But thou, O our God, art gracious, true, and long suffering, and in mercie orderest thou all things.

2 Though we sinne, yet are wee thine, for wee knowe thy strength: but wee will not sinne, because wee knowe we are counted thine.

3 For to knowe thee is perfect righteoulnesse: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitye.

4 As for the thing that men haue founde out through their euill science, it hath not deceiued vs, nor the painters vnprofitable labour, to wit, an image spotted with diuers colours,

5 whose sight enticeth the ignorant to lust after it, and hee desireth the picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, & they that worship them, loue euils, and are worthy to haue such things to trust vpon.

7 For the potter tempereth soft earth, labourerh it, and giueth it the fashion, of whatsoever vessel serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same clay he maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also such as serue to the contrary: whereunto euery vessel serueth, the potter himselfe being the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour hee maketh vaine god of the same clay, this doeth euen he which a litle before was made of earth himselfe, and within a litle while after returneth to the same out of which he was taken, when the one of his life shal be demanded from him againe.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not the more for this that he must labour, nor that his life is short: but strueth to excell Goldsmiths and siluermiths, and endeuoureth to do like the copyersmiths, and taketh it for an honour to make deceivable things.

10 His heart is but ashes, his hope is more vaine then earth, and his ike of lesse honour then clay.

11 For as much as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule of power to worke, and breatheth in him the breath of life.

and our conuersation to bee but a market for ting, yea, though it were by euil meanes.

13 Nowe hee that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth himselfe to offend aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people that holde them in subiection, are most vnwise, and are moze miserable then || very fooles.

15 For they iudge al the idoles of the heathen to be gods, which neither haue * eyesight to see,
nor noses to || smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers oꝝ handes to grope, and as for their feete they are too slow to goc.

16 For man made them, and he that borrowed his owne spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous handes:
hee himselfe is better then they whom hee worshippeth, for he liued, as they did neuer.

18 Yea they worshipped such beastes also as are || most hatefull: for if they were compared,
for || madnesse they are worse then others.

19 Neither haue they any beautie why to be desired in respect of other beastes: but are all boyd of the praise of God, and his blessing.

The xvj. Chapter,

1 The punishment of idolaters. 20 The benefits done vnto the faithfull.

Herefore by such things are they worthily punished, and through the multitude of beastes are they || rooted out.

2 In stead of the which punishments, thou hast graciously ordered thine owne people, preparing for the desire of their appetite, a strange taste, euen Quailles to bee their meate:

3 To the intent that by the things which were shewed and sent vnto them, they that were so greedy of meate, might beginne to lothe euen their necessary appetite, and they which had suffered penurie for a short space, might bee parta-kers of the new taste.

4 For it was requisite that without any excuse pouertie should come vpon those which bled zyantie, and to the w onely vnto the other how their enemies were || destroyed.

5 For when the * cruel || woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished through the stings of the cruel Serpents, notwithstanding thy wrath endured not perpetually.

6 But they were || put in feare for a litle season, that they might bee reformed, hauing a || token of saluation, to remember the commandement of the Law.

7 For he that looked backe to it, was not healed by the thing hee saw, but by thee, O sauour of all.

8 So in this thou shewest our enemies, that itis thou which deliuerest from all euil.

9 * For then when they were bitten with grasshoppers and flies, they died, neither was there found any remedy for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But not the very teeth of benemous dragons did overcome thy children: for thy mercie was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy wordes, but speedily were they healed againe, lest they should fall into so deepe forgetfulness, that they might not bee called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neither herbe nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 * It is thou, O Lord, that hast the power of life and death, thou leadeest || vnto deaths doore,
and bringest bp againe.

14 A man in deede through his wickednesse may slay another, but when his spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither may hee call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

16 * For the brigodly that would not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme: with strange raines, hailes, and snowes were they persecuted that they could not auoyd, and through fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might do moze then water which quenchet all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometimes was the fire so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punish the brigodly burnt not, and that because they should see and knowe that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the midd of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust land.

20 * In steade whercof, thou hast fedde thine owne people with Angels food, and sent them bread ready from heauen without their labour,
|| being very pleasant and of good taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children declared thy sweetness, and seruing to his apptite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 * But the snow and yce abode the violence of the fire, and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the haile, and sparkeling in the raine, destroyed the fruite of the enemies.

23 The fire also forgate his owne strength againe, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie and gentle to do good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same time into al fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is the nurse of al things, according to the desire of them that had need thereof:

26 * That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovest, might knowe that it is not the || growing of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy word which preferueth them that put their trust in thee.

27 For looke what || might not bee destroyed at all with the fire, alsoone as it was warned with a litle Sunne beame, it melted:

28 That all men might knowe that thanks ought to bee giuen vnto thee before the Sunne rise, and that thou oughtest to bee || worshipped before the day spring.

29 For the hope of the brithankfull shall melt away as the winter yce, and flowe away as vn-profitable water.

The xvij. Chapter.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

1 For great are thy iudgements, O Lord, & cannot be expessed: therefore men do erre that wil not be reformed by thy wifedome.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bonds of darkenesse and long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternall p[ro]uidence.

3 And while they thought to be hidde in the darkenesse of their finnes, they were scattered abroad in the very midst of the darke covering of forgetfulnessse, put to horrible feare, and wonderously bered.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not scape them from feare, because soundes came round about them, and bered them, yea, many terrible and strange visions appeared vnto them:

5 No power of the fire might giue them light, neither might the cleare flames of the farrres lighten the horrible night:

6 But there appeared vnto them sudden fire onely, very dreadfull: at the which light, where in they saw nothing thoughly, they were so affraide, that they thought the thing which they saw to be the more fearefull.

7 As for the illusions of the Magicall art, they came to nought, and it was a most shamefull reproche of the pride that they had of their owne wifedome.

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares & troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke themselves with feare, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did feare them, yet were they affraide at the beastes which passed by them, & at the hissing of the serpents.

10 In so much that with trembling they swooned, and said they saw not the aire, which no man yet may escape.

11 For malice is a dreadfull thing that is condemned by his owne witnessse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer suspecteth cruel things.

12 For feare is nothing els but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

13 And looke how much the lesse his hope is within, the greater doeth hee recount his ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But they that did endure the night that in deed was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, keeping the same sleepe, 15 were sometimes chased with monstrous apparitions, and sometimes they swooned as their owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastic feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus whosoever was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaines.

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandry, or had bene an herdman, or labourer in the woods, if he were taken, hee suffered intollerable necessitie.

18 For they were all bound with one chain of darkenes: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the behemencie of halcy running water.

19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the cunning of playing beastes, which they sawe not, or the mighty noyse of roaring wild beastes, or the found that answered againe in the holowesse of the mountaines: these terrible things made them swoone for very feare.

20 For all the earth shined with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

21 Only vpon them there fel an heauy night, an image of darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselves more heauie then darkenesse.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 The ferie pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull.

Nerthelesse, thy saints had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, & not seeing their figure, for that they suffered not the same things, they thought them blessed.

2 And for that they did not hurt them now of whom they had bene wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of that they had bene enemies.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vnknown way, and the Sunne not to hurt them in their honourable iourney.

4 But reason it was that they should seeke the light, and be put in the prison of darkenesse, which had kept thy children: but by whom the vncoorrupt light of the Law was to be giuen vnto the world.

5 After, when they thought to slay the babes of the Saints, one childe being cast out, and preserved to reprocue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what ordes they had giuen credence, might be of good cheare.

7 Thus the people received the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For like as thou hast reuenged our enemies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a godly law with one consent, that the Saints should in like manner receiue together both good and euill, and that the fathers now should first sing praises.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing noise of the enemies, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were betrayed.

11 The master and the seruant were punished after one manner: and like as the King, so suffered the common people.

12 So they had innumerable that died with one kinde of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to bury the dead: for in the twinkling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whereas they would discredit all things, by reason of the enchantments, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For while all things were still in silence, and when the night was in the midst of her course, thy Almighty word, O Lord, leapt down from heauen out of thy royal throne, 15 As a rough man of warre in the middell of the land that was destroyed.

16 And brought thine vnfaigned commandement as a sharpe sword, and standing by, filled all things with death, yea, it good upon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 When the sighes of the euill dreames bered them suddenly, and fearefulnesse came vpon them bntawares.

18 Then lay there one heere, another there, halfe dead, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that bered them, shewed them these things afoze, that they might not be ignozant wherefoze they perished.

20 Yea, the temptation of death touched the righteous also, and among the multitude in the wilderness there was insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

21 * For the blamelesse man went in all the haste, and tooke the battell vpon him, brought forth the weapon of his ministracion, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the misery to an ende, declaring thereby that hee was thy seruant.

22 For he ouercame not the multitude with bodily power, or foze of weapons: but with the word he subdued him that bered, alledging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heaps one vpon another, he stood in the middell, pacified the wrath, and parted the way that it might not come to the liuing.

24 * And why? in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was writen in the crowne of his head.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afraid of them: for it was ynough that they onely tasted of the wrath.

The six. Chapter.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the greatioy of the Hebrewes.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the end: for he knewe befoze what should happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they woulde repent, and follow vpon them.

3 * For whilst they were yet mourning and making lamentacion by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whome they had cast out afoze with prayer.

4 For the necessitie which they had deserued, brought them vnto this end, & made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might by tormentes fulfill their punishment which remained:

5 And that thy people might try a marueilous passage: and these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kind was fastened againe of new, seruing the peculiar offices, as was commaunded them, that thy chyldeyn might be kept without hurt:

7 For the cloud ouerhadowed their tents, and the dry earth appeared where afoze was water: so that in the red Sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene field:

8 Where thozowe all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marueilous strange wonders.

9 For as the hoxles, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, praising thee, (O Lord) which hadst deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet mindfull of the things that were done while they dwelt in the strange land, how the ground brought forth fishes in stead of cattell, and how the riuer crawled with the multitude of frogs in stead of fishes.

11 * But at the last they saw a new generacion of birds, what time as they were stirred with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 For why? the quailles came by to them from the sea for their comfort: but punishment came vpon the sinners, not without the signes which came befoze to passe by behemencie of the thicke lightnings: for they suffered wo:thily according to their wickednesse, because they dealt to churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

13 For some would not receiue men that came vnto them, and were vnknowen: and some brought the strangers into bondage that did them good.

14 Not onely so, but if they had bene any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated strangers very despitesfully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their societie, they afflicted them with grieuous labours.

16 * Therefore were they stricken with blindness, like as when they that were couered with suddaine darkenesse at the doozes of the righteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his doozes.

17 Thus the elements being changed, agreed among themselves, like as when tunes are changed vpon an instrument of musick, and yet keepe still a melodie: which may easily be perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the earthly things were turned into watrie: and the thing that befoze swam in the water, now went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water fogate his owne kind to quench the fire.

20 Againe, the flames hurted not the flesh of the corruptible liuing things, though they walked therein, neither melted they that ycie kinde of immortall meate, that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in all things hast thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour, thou hast not despised them, but alway and in all places hast thou stood by them.

The end of the Booke of Wisedome.

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach,

which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The Prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

Many and great men haue declared wisdome vnto vs out of the Lawe, out of the Prophets, and out of other that followed them, in the which things, Israel ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisdome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not onely themselues be wise therethrough, but serue other also with teaching and writing. After that my grandfather Iesus had giuen diligent labour to reade the Lawe, the Prophets, and other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exercised himselfe therein: he purposed also to write something of wisdome and good manners, to the intent that they which were willing to learne, and to be wise, might haue the more vnderstanding, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it louingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our words be not so eloquent as the famous Oratours. For the thing that is written in the Hebrew tongue, foundeth not so well when it is translated into another speech: not only this booke of mine, but also the Lawe, the Prophets, and other bookes found farre otherwise then they doe, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the thirte and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the time of Ptolome Euerges, and continued there a long season, I found bookes there left full of great and profound learning. Wherefore, I thought it good and necessarie to bestowe my diligence and trauaile to interpret this booke: and considering that I had time, I laboured and did my best to performe this booke, and to bring it vnto light, that the strangers also which are disposed to learne, might apply themselues vnto good manners, and liue according to the Lawe of the Lord.

The first Chapter.

1 Wisdome commeth of God. 11 A praise of the feare of God. 19 The means to come by wisdome.

Al wisdome commeth of God the Lord, and hath bene euer with him, and is before all time.

2 Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, the drops of the raine, and the dayes of time? Who hath measured the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepnesse of the sea?

3 Who hath sought out the ground of Gods wisdome, which hath bene before all things?

4 Wisdome hath bene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerslasting.

5 Gods worde in the height is the well of wisdome, and the euerslasting commandements are the entrance of her.

6 Unto whome hath the root of wisdome bene declared? or who hath knowen her wit?

7 Unto whome hath the doctrine of wisdome bene discovered and shewed? and who hath vnderstood the manifold entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the highest, the maker of all things the Almighty, the king of power, of whome men ought to stand greatly in awe, which sitteth vpon his throne, being a God of dominion.

9 Hee hath created her through the holy ghost, he hath scene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 Hee hath powred her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift he giueth her richly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is worship and triumph, gladnesse, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merrie heart, giueth gladnesse, ioy, and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shall goe with him at the last, and in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

14 The loue of God is honourable wisdome: looke vnto whome it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what wonderous things it doth.

15 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdome, and was made with the faithfull in the mothers wombe, it shall goe with the chosen women, and shall be knowen of the righteous and faithfull.

16 The feare of the Lord is the right Gods seruice.

17 That preserueth and iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse:

18 Who so feareth the Lord shall be happy, and when he hath neede of comfort, he shall be blessed.

19 Shee hath built her euerslasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wisdome that maketh rich, and bringeth all good with her.

21 Shee filleth the whole house with her gifts, and the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdome, and giueth plenteous peace & health: hee hath scene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstanding of wisdome hath hee powred out as raine, and them that held her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wisdome, and her branches are long life.

Or, and is with him for euer.

Or, the world.

R6. 11. 34.

25 In the treasures of wisdom is understanding and devotion of knowledge, but wisdom is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne, and when shee is present, shee driueth away anger.

27 For hee that is without feare, cannot be made righteous, and his wilfull boldnesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer vnto the time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding will hid his words for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisdom.

30 In the treasures of wisdom is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 Why sonne, if thou desire wisdom, keepe the commandment, and God shall giue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisdom and nurture: hee hath pleasure in faith and louing meeknesse, and he shall fill the treasures thereof.

33 Bee not obstinate and vnfaithfull to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Bee not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Crale not thy selfe, least thou happen to fall, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discover thy secrets, and cast thee downe in the middelt of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is full of fainednesse and deceit.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhortheth the seruants of God to righteousness, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11 To trust in the Lorde. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

Manne, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stand fast in righteousness and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient, bowe downe thine care, receiue the words of vnderstanding, and shynke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increasc at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and bee patient in thy trouble.

5 For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleeue in God, and hee shall helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: hold fast his feare, and grow therein.

7 O ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercie, shynke not away from him, that yee fall not.

8 O yee that feare the Lorde, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.

9 O yee that feare the Lorde, trust in good things, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure.

10 O yee that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shall be lightened.

11 Consider the old generations of men and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lord? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?

12 For God is gracious and mercifull, hee forgiveth sinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the truth.

13 Woe be vnto them that haue a fearefull heart, wicked lippes, and euill occupied hands, and to the sinner that goeth two manner of wayes.

14 Woe be vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their strength in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of him.

15 Woe be vnto you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, and are turned backe into froward wayes: what will yee doe when the Lord shall begin to visite you?

16 They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his commandments.

17 They that feare the Lorde, will seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his lawe.

18 They that feare the Lorde will prepare their hearts: & humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commandments, and will be patient, till they see himselfe.

20 Saying, If we doe not repent, wee shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men.

21 For his mercie is as great as himselfe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

The children of wisdom are a congregation of the righteous, and their offspring is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement, O my deare children, and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

3 For the Lorde will haue the father honoured of the children: and looke what a mother commandeth her children to doe, hee will haue it kept.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiven him: and he shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: and when hee maketh his prayer, hee shall be heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life: and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doth their seruice as it were vnto Lords.

9 Honour thy father and mother in deede, in word, and in all patience, that thou mayest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shall abide with thee at the last.

10 The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worship of a mans father, is his owne worship: and the reproch of the mother, is the dishonour of the sonne.

13 Thy sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as hee liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, & despise not him in thy strength.

15 For the good deed that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shall be rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea, it shall be founded for thee in righteousnesse.

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembered: thy sinnes also shall melt away, like as the yce in the faire warme weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shall come to shame: and he that defiecth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 Thy sonne, performe thy workes with louing mekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

19 The greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe in all things, and thou shalt find sauour in the sight of God.

20 Many are excellent and of renoume: but the secrets are revealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth onely vnto God: and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 Seeke not out the things that are aboue thy capacite, and search not the ground of such things as are too mightie for thee.

23 But looke what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needfull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Make not too much search in superfluous things, & be not curious in many of his workes: for many things are he wed vnto thee already, which be aboue the capacite of men.

25 The meddling with such hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wits in vanitie.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therefore professe not the thing that thou hast not.

27 An hard heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and he that is froward of heart, will euer be worse and worse.

29 An obstinate heart shall be laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner will heape one sinne vpon another.

30 The counsell of the proud hath no health, and his footstaps shall be plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken root in him.

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue high things: and a good eare will gladly hearken vnto wisdom.

32 An heart that is wise and hath vnderstanding, will abstaine from finnes, and increase in the workes of righteousness.

33 Water quencheth burning fire, and mercie reconcilseth finnes.

34 God hath respect vnto him that is thankfull: hee thinketh vpon him against the time to come, so that when hee falleth, hee shall finde a strong holde.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentleness. 12 The studie of wisdom and her fruit. 20 An exhortation to eschew euill, and to doe good.

My sonne, defraud not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thine eyes from him that hath neede.

2 Despise not an hungry soule, and desie not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Grieue not the heart of him that is helpelesse, & withdraue not the gift from the needfull.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.

5 Cast not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill will, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if hee complaine of thee in the bitterness of his soule, his prayer shall be heard: euen he that made him shall heare him.

7 Be courteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bow downe thy head to a man of worship.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bow downe thine eare vnto the poore, but pay the debt, and giue him a friendly answer, and that with mekenesse.

9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressor: and be not saint heard when thou litte it in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and bee in stead of an husbnd vnto their mother: so shalt thou be an obedient sonne of the highest, and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doth.

11 Wisdom exalteth her children, receiueth them that seeke her, and will goe before them in the way of righteousness.

12 Hee that loueth her, loueth life: and they that seeke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, shall inherite glory: for where shee entreteth in, there is the blessing of God.

14 They that honour her, shall be the seruants of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloved of God.

15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

16 Hee that beleueth her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.

17 For when he shall faileth, shee doeth goe with him, and chooseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptation shall be bring vpon him, and try him in her doctrine, till she haue so proued him in his thoughts, that hee commit his soule vnto her.

18 Then shall she stablish him, bring the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shew him her secrets, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousness.

19 But if he goe wrong, she shall forsake him, and giue him ouer into the hands of destruction and ruine.

20 My sonne, make much of the time, eschew the thing that is euill:

21 And for thy life haue not to say the truth: for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, & there is a shame that bringeth worship and sauour.

Deut. 19. tob. 4. 7. mat. 23.

It is a man that is full of grace, hee can see the good in the poore, hee can see the euill in the rich, hee can see the truth in the liars, hee can see the life in the death, hee can see the glory in the shame, hee can see the kingdom in the lowly.

10. 20

10. 20

It is a man that is full of grace, hee can see the good in the poore, hee can see the euill in the rich, hee can see the truth in the liars, hee can see the life in the death, hee can see the glory in the shame, hee can see the kingdom in the lowly.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou bee not confounded to thine owne decay: Be not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsell when it may doe good, nei ther hide thy wisdom in her beauty.

24 For in the tongue is wisdom knowne, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, and learning, in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnes.

25 In no wise speake against the worde of truth, but be ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the riuier.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the perion of the mighty.

28 And strue thou not against the streame: but for righteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, and for the truth strue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee against thine enemies.

29 Bee not hasty in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a lion in thine owne house, destroying thy household folke, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldest giue.

The v. Chapter.

1 In riches wee may not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

Butt not vnto thy riches, and say not, Cush, *I haue enough for my life, for it shall not helpe in the time of vengeance and temptation.

2 Follow not the lust of thine owne heart in thy strength.

3 And say not, Cush, howe haue I had strength? or who will bring mee vnder, because of my workes? for doubtlesse God shall avenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath happened me? for the Almighty is a patient rewarde.

5 Because thy sinne is forgiven thee, be not therefore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another.

6 And say not, Cush, the *mercy of the Lord is great, he shall forgive mee my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth his wrath from him also, and his indignation comineth downe vpon sinners.

7 *Make no tarrying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for sodainly shall his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shall destroy thee.

8 Trust not in *wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath.

9 Be not caried away with euery wind, and goe not into euery way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand fast in the way of the Lord, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding, abide by the worde, and follow the word of peace and righteousnes.

11 Bee gentle to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstand it, and make a true answer with wisdom.

12 *Be swift to heare, but slow and patient in giuing answer.

13 If thou had vnderstanding, shape thy neighbour an answer: if no, lay thy hand vpon thy mouth, lest thou bee trapped in an vncreated word, and so confounded.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiscreete is his owne destruction.

15 Be not a proude accuser as long as thou liuest, and vse no slander with thy tongue: for shame and sorrow goeth ouer the therse: and an euill name ouer him that is double tongued: but hee that is a proude accuser of other men, shall be hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Doe not rashly, neither in great noise.

The vj. Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euill tongued. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

DE not of a friend an enemy: for such a man getteth an euill name, shame, and rebuke: and whoso euer beareth enuie, & a double tongue, offendeth.

2 Bee not proud in the deuice of thine vnderstanding: lest thy soule rent thee as a bull.

3 And lest thy leaues wither, and thy fruit be destroyed, and so thou bee left as a drie tree in the wilderness.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to bee laughed to scoyne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete word multiplieth friends, and pacifieth them that bee at variance: and a thankfull tongue will bee plentous in a good man.

6 Hold friendship with many: neuertheless, haue but one counsellor of a thousand.

7 If thou gettest a friend, prouee him first, and be not hasty to giue him credence.

8 For some man is a friende but for his owne turne, and will not abide in the day of trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enemy, and taketh part against thee: and if he know any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

10 *Again, some friend is but a companion at the table: and in the day of neede he continueth not.

11 But in thy prosperitie hee will be as thou thy selfe, and deale plainely with thy household folke.

12 If thou be brought low, he will be against thee, and will be hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, yea, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friend is a strong defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure.

15 A faithfull friend hath no peere, the weight of gold and siluer is not to bee compared to the goodnesse of his faith.

16 A faithfull friend is a medicine of life and immortallitie, and they that feare the Lord shall find him.

17 Who feareth the Lord, shall prosper with friends: and as he is himselfe, so shall his friends be also.

Iacob. 1. 19.

18 My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou finde wisdom till thou be old.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth & soweth, and waite patiently for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but little labour in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her fruits right soone.

20 How exceeding sharpe is wisdom to vnlearned men? an bultedfast body will not remaine in her.

21 Wanto such she is as if were a touchstone, and he catcheth her from him in all the haste.

22 For wisdom is with him but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, shee abideth euen vnto the appearing of God.

24 Giue eare my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell.

25 Put thy foote into her linkes, and take her yoke vpon thy necke.

Mat. 11. 29.

26 Bowe downe thy shoulder vnto her, beare her patiently, and bee not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, & shee shall be shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, and that shall be turned to thy great ioy.

30 When shall her setters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious raiment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstanding, and if thou wilt applye thy minde, thou shalt be wise.

34 If thou wilt bow downe thine eare, thou shalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

Ecc. 8. 9.

35 Stand with the multitude of such elders as haue vnderstanding, and consent vnto their wisdom with thine heart, 36 That thou mayest heare all godly sermons, and that the worthy sentences escape thee not.

37 And if thou seest a man of discrete vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foote tread vpon the steps of his doores.

Psa. 1. 2.

38 Let thy minde bee vpon the commandements of God, and be earnestly occupied in his lawes: so shall hee stablish thy heart, and giue thee wisdom at thine owne desire.

The vij. Chapter.

1 We must forsake euil, and yet not iustifie our selues.
23 The behauiour of the wife toward his wife, his friend, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

De no euill, so shall there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, and no misfortune shall meddle with thee.

3 My sonne, looe no euill things in the furrowes of vnrighthouse, so shalt thou not reape them seuen fold.

4 Labour not to the Lord for preeminence, neither vnto the king for the seat of honour.

5 Justifie not thy selfe before God, for hee knoweth the heart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king.

6 Make no labour to be made a Judge, except it were so that thou couldest mightily put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stand in a we of the presence of the mighty, thou shouldest faile in giuing sentence.

7 Offend not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thy selfe among the people.

8 Bind not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

9 Say not, Tush, God will looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he will accept it.

10 Bee not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scoone in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all things) is he that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

12 Accept no leasing against thy brother, neither doe the same against thy friend.

13 Use not to make any maner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayest, make not much babbling.

15 Let no laborious workes be tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandrie which the almighty hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thine heart.

17 And remember that the wrath shall not be long in tarying, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly is a very fire and worme.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faithfull brother for the best good.

19 Depart not from a discrete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy position in the feare of the Lord: for the gift of her honestie is aboue gold.

20 Whereas thy seruant worketh truly, entreate him not euill, nor the hireling that is faithfull vnto thee.

21 Loue a discrete seruant as thine owne soule, defraud him not of his libertie, neither leave him a poore man.

22 If thou haue cattell, looke well to them: and if they be for thy profit, keepe them.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bring them vp in nurture and learning, and hold them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and the w not thy face cheerefull toward them.

25 Marrie thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weighty matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine owne minde, forsake her not: but commit not thy selfe vnto the hatefull.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole heart: and forget not the sorrowfull trauaile that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

32 Reach thine hande vnto the poore, that God may blesse thee with plenteousnesse.

33 Be liberall vnto all men liuing: yet let not, but doe good euen to them that are dead.

34 Let not them that weepe be without comfort, but incurne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not grieue thee to visit the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

The viij. Chapter.

We must take heede with whome we haue to doe.

Strive not with a mightie man, least thou chaunce to fall into his handes.

2 * Make no variance with a rich man, least he happen to bring by an yard quarell against thee: for * golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea, euen the hearts of kings hath it made to fall.

3 Strive not with a man that is full of words, and lay no tickes vpon his ire.

4 Keepe no company with the vnclearned, least he giue thy kured an euill report.

5 * Despise not a man that turneth himselfe away from sinne, and cast him not in the teeth withall: but remember that wee are fraile eue-ry one.

6 * Thinke scorne of no man in his old age: for we were olde also.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemy: but remember that wee must die all the sort of vs, and saue we would come into foy.

8 * Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe with the wise sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisdom, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and howe to serue great men without complaint.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou mayest make answer in the time of need.

10 Kindle not the coles of sinners when thou rebukest them, least thou be burnt in the fierie flames of their finnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemers, that they lay not wayt for thy mouth.

12 * Lende not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie about thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

14 Goe not to lawe with the iudge: for hee will iudge according to his honour.

15 * Trauaile not by the way with him that is hainelesse, least he doe thee euill: for hee follo weth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perish through his folly.

16 * Strive not with him that is angry and cruell, and do not with him into the wildernes:

The ix. Chapter.

1 Of ieaousie. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a newe.

Be not ieaous ouer the wise of thy bosome, that shee shewe not some shee we poyn- t, least thou teach her an euill les- son against thy selfe.

2 Giue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, least thou fall into her snares.

4 Talk not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, least thou perish through her entiling.

5 Beholde not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her beauty.

6 Call not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, least thou destroy both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gazing in euery lane of the city, neither wander thou abroad in the streetes thereof.

8 * Turne away thy face from a beautilfull woman, and looke not vpon the fairenesse of e- ther: many a man hath bene decciued through the beautie of women, for through it the desire is kindled as it were a fire.

9 An adulterous woman shall be troden vnder foot as a wyre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man wondering at the beauty of a straunge woman, hath bene cast out: for her words kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with another mans wife by any means, lye not with her vpon the bed, make no words with her at the wine, least thine heart consent vnto her, and so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an old friend, for the new shall not be like him: a newe friend is as newe wine, let him be olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sin- ner: for thou knowest not what * destruction is for to come vpon him.

14 Delight not thou in the thing that the vngodly hath pleasure in, being sure that the vngodly shall not be accepted buttill their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to be afraid of death: and if thou commest vnto him, make no fault, least he happen to take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the midst of snares, and vpon the buswarthes of the city.

16 * Beware of thy neighbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle with such as be wise, and haue vnderstanding.

18 Let the remembrance of God be in thy mind. and let all thy talking be in the commandements of the highest.

19 In the hands of craftsmen shall the works be commended: so shall the princes of the people in the wisdom of their talking.

20 A man full of words, is perillous in his cite: and he that is rash in his talking, shall be abhorred.

The x. Chapter.

1 Of kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 38 Labour is praised.

A wise iudge will order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.

2 As the iudge of the people is himselfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the cite is, such are they that dwell therein also.

3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people: but where they that be in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the cite prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and all iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when time is, he shall set a profitable ruler vpon it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

6 Be not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and all wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, and diuers deceits, a realme shall be translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a couctous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? such one hath his soule to sell, yet is he but filthy dounge while he liueth.

10 All tyrannie is of small endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, griueth the Physician.

11 And though the Physician shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, Today a king, to morrow dead.

12 For when a man dieth, he is the heire of serpents, beasts, and wormes.

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of all sinne: who so taketh holde thereof, shall be filled with curlings, and at the last it shall ouerthrow him: therefore hath the Lord brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the end.

15 God hath destroyed the seats of proud princes, and set vp the meeke in their stead.

16 God hath withered the roots of the proud heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the lands of the heathen, and destroyed them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wither away, hee hath brought them to nought, and made the memorial of them to cease from out the earth.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proud, and left the name of the humble in mind.

19 Pride was not made for man, neither wrathfulnesse for mens children.

20 The seede of men that feareth God, shall be brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the commandements of the Lord, shall be shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by cruelty and pride.

23 The glory of the rich, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the rich vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mightie in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 Unto the seruant that is discrete, shall the free do seruice: he that is wise and well nutured, will not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shall not come to honour.

27 Be not proude to doe thy worke, and despise not in the time of aduersitie.

28 Better is he that laboureth, and hath plentifulnesse of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.

29 If some, get thy soule honour by meeknesse, and giue her her due honour.

30 Who shall iustifie him that sinneth against himselfe? who will honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faithfulness and truethe: but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that ordereth himselfe honestly in pouerty, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in riches: and who so ordereth himselfe honestly in riches, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in pouertie?

The xj. Chapter.

1 The praise of humilitie, 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge.

He wisdom of him that is brought low, shall lift vp his head, and shall make him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his bitter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a small beast among the foules, yet is her fruit exceeding sweet.

4 Be not proud of thy raiment, and exalt not thy selfe in the day of thy honour: for the workes of the highest only are wonderfull: precious, secret, and vnknoen are his workes.

5 Many tyrants haue bene faire to sit down vpon the earth, and the vnliely hath worne the crowne.

6 Many mighty men haue bene brought lowe, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens hands.

Deut. 7. 2.

Do so toucheth pitch, shall be defiled withall: and he that is familiar with the proude, shall clothe himselfe with pride.

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man then himselfe, therefore keepe no familiarity with one that is richer then thy selfe: How agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, and threatheneth withall: but the poore being oppressed, and wrongfully delt withal, suffereth scarcenesse, and giueth faire wordes. If the rich haue done wrong, yet must he be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight waies be threathed.

4 If thou be for his profit, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thine owne, he shall be a good fellow with thee: yea, he shall make thee a dare man, and not be sozie for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he shall defraud thee, and with a prouie mocke shall he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good wordes, and say, what wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meat, vntill he haue sypht thee cleane by twise or thrixe, and at the last shall he laugh thee to scoyme: afterward, when he seeth that thou hast nothing, he shall forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and waite vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou bee not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: be not too humble in thy wisdom, least when thou art brought low, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe, so shall hee call thee to him the more oft.

11 Please not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but goe not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy selfe from his speech, but beleue not his many wordes: for with much communication shall he tempt thee, and with a prouie moche shall he question with thee of thy secretes.

13 The vnnmercifull mind of his shall marke thy wordes, he shall not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware and take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing: now when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon him in thy need.

16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and euery man will keepe companie with such as he is himselfe.

18 But as the wolfe agreeth with the lambe: so doth the vngodly with the righteous.

19 What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? how can the rich and the poore agree together?

20 The wilde Ass is the Lions pray in the wilderness: euen so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doeth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a rich man fall into an error, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proud wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man speake, they say, what fellow is this? and if he doe amisse, they shall destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A cheerefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for else it is an hard thing to knowe the thought.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happy is he that continueth in wisdom.

Called is the man that hath not fallen with the worde of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne.

2 Happy is he that hath no heauines in his mind, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 It becommeth not a couctous man and a niggard to be rich: and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnesse heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folkes, and another man shall make good cheare with his goods.

5 Hee that is wicked vnto himselfe, howe should he be good vnto other men: how can such one haue any pleasure of his goods?

6 There is nothing worse then when one dissaouureth himselfe: and this is a reward of his wickednesse.

7 If he doth any good, he doth it, not knowing thereof and against his will, and at the last he declareth his vngraciously.

8 A niggard hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

Eccle. 5. 10.

11 For * mercie and wrath is with him, he is both mighty to forgive, and to powze out displeasure.

12 Like as his mercie is great, even so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of him that seeth mercie, shall not bide behind.

16 His mercie is knowne to all creatures, he hath separated his light from the darkenelle with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from God: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowne in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

2. Pet. 7. 10.

18 * Behold the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shall be mooued at his presence.

19 The mountaines, the hills, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These things doth no heart vnderstande worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stornes, and the most part of his workes are secret.

22 Who will declare the workes of his righteousness? or who shall be able to abide them? for the covenant is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the end.

23 He that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vniwise and erroneous man calleth his mind vnto foolish things.

24 By soune, hearken thou vnto me, & learne vnderstanding, & marke my wordes with thine heart: I wil giue thee a sure doctrine, and plainly shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my wordes then in thine heart: for in righteousness of the spirit do I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the truth doe I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his workes from everlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all maner of liuing beastes hath he couered the ground, and they all shall be turned vnto earth againe.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The creation of man, & the goodnes that God hath done vnto him. 20 Of almes, 26 and repentance.

D * Shaped man of the earth, and made him after his owne image, and turned him vnto earth againe, and clothed him with his owne strength.

2 * He gaue him the number of dayes, and certaine time, yea, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 He made all flesh to stand in a tow of him, so that he had the dominion of all beasts and foules.

4 * He made out of him an helper like vnto himselfe, and gaue them discretton and tongue, eyes, and eares, and a heart to vnderstand:

5 He gaue them a spirit, and a speech to declare his workes, and filled them with instruction and vnderstanding.

6 He created for them also the knowledge of the spirit, filled their hearts with vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 He set his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his great and noble workes,

8 That they should praise his holy name together, reioyce of his wonders, and be telling of his noble acts.

9 Besides this, he gaue them instruction, and the lawe of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were mortall.

10 Hee made an euerlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his righteousness and iudgements.

11 They saw the maiestie of his glory with their eyes, and their eares heard the maiestie of his voyce, and he sayd vnto them, Beware of all vnrighteous things.

12 * He gaue euery man also a commandement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 * Euery man from his youth is giuen to euill, and their stony hartes can not become flesh.

15 He hath set a ruler vpon euery people, * but Israel is the Lords portion:

16 Whom hee nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light, and doth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the Sunne in the light of God, and his eyes are alway looking vpon their wayes.

18 All their vnrighteousnesses are manifest vnto him, and all their wickednesses are open in his sight.

19 And as he is mercifull, and knoweth his worke, he doth not leaue them, nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 The mercie that a man seeth, is as a scale with him, & the grace that is giuen to man, preferueth him as the apple of an eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes and daughters.

21 At the last he shal awake, and reward euery man vpon his head, and shall turne them together into the nethermost parts of the earth.

22 But vnto them that will *repent, hee hath giuen the way of righteousnesse: as for such as be weake, he comforteth them, suffereth them, and sendeth them the portion of the be-ritie.

23 ¶ Turne then vnto the Lord, forsake thy sinnes, make thy prayer before the Lord, doe the lesse offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the Lord, for he will bring thee from darknes vnto wholesome light, forsake thine inrighteousnesse, be an vtter enemy to abomination.

25 Learne to knowe the righteousnesse and iudgements of God, stand in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the most high God:

26 Goe in the portion of the holy world with such as be liuing, and giue thanks vnto God.

27 ¶ Who will praise the Lord in the hell? abide not thou in the error of the vngodly, but giue thankes before death.

28 As for the dead, thankfulness perisheth from him as nothing: giue thou thankes in thy life, yea while thou art liuing and whole halt thou giue thankes, and praise God, and reioyce in his mercie.

29 ¶ How great is the louing kindnes of the Lord, and his mercifull goodnesse vnto such as turne vnto him?

30 For all things may not be in man, & why? the sonne of man is not immortall, and he hath pleasure in the vanitie of wickednesse.

31 What is moze cleare then the Sunne? yet shall it faile.

32 What is moze wicked then the thing that flesh and blood hath imagined? and that same shall be reprovud.

33 The Lord seeth the power of the high heauen, and all are but earth and ashes.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The marueilous workes of God. 6 The miserie and wretchednesse of man. 9 Against God ought we not to complaine.

That liueth for euer moze, *made all things together: God onely is righteous, and there is none other but he, and remaineth a victoriorus king for euer.

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 Who shall be able to expresse the workes of him? who will seeke out the ground of his noble acts?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatness? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must beginne againe: and when he thinketh to be come to an end, he must goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto is hee worth?

what good or euill can he doe?

8 ¶ If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeres, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledg of his death.

9 Like as the droppes of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand: so are these fewe yeres to the dayes of euerlasting.

10 Therefore is the Lord patient with them, and pouereth out his mercy vpon them.

11 He saue and perceiued the thoughts and imaginations of their heart that they were euill, therefore heaped he by his mercifull goodnesse vpon them, and he wed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercy of God is vpon all flesh: He chasteneth, he reacheth and nurturcth: yea, euen as a shepheard turneth againe his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastening, nurture, and doctrine.

13 Mercifull is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, speake no discomforable words.

15 Shall not the deaw coole the heate? euen so is a word better then a gift.

16 Is not a friendly word a good honest gift: but a gracious man giueth them both.

17 A foole shall cast a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gift of the niggard putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou speake, and go to phisicke or euer thou be sicke.

19 Examine and iudge thy selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou find grace in the sight of God.

20 ¶ Humble thy selfe afoze thou bee sicke: and whilest thou mayest *sinne, be we thy conuersion.

21 Be not let to pay thy bowe in good time, and tary not to be iustificd vnto thy death: for the reward of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God.

23 Thinke *vpon the wrathfull indignation that shalbe at the end, & the houre of vengeance when he shall turie away his face.

24 When thou hast pough, *remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon the time of pouertie and scarcenesse.

25 From the morning vntill the evening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done in the sight of God.

26 A wise man feareth God in all things, and in the daies of transgression he heepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doth not obserue the time.

27 A discreet man hath pleasure in wisdom, and he that findeth her, maketh much of her.

28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue dealt wisely in wordes, haue vnderstood the truetieth and righteousnesse, and haue sought out wise sentences and iudgements.

29 The chiefe authoritie of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.

 ousnesse, and meddle not too much withall.
 33 Make not too great cheere of the thing that thou hast won by aduantage, lest thou fall into pouertie, and haue nothing in thy purse, els thou shouldest slanderously lie in waite for thine owne life.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Wine and whoredome bringeth men to pouertie.
 6 In thy words must thou vse discretion.

A Labouring man that is giuen vnto drunkennesse, shall not be rich: and hee that maketh not much of smal things, shall fall by little and little.

2 * Wine and women make wife men runnagates, and put men of vnder-standing to reprove.

3 And he that companieth adulterers, shall become an impudent man: moths and wormes shall haue him to heritage, yea, he shall be set by to a great example, and his soule shall be rooted out of the number.

4 * He that is hastie to giue credence, is light minded, and doth against himselfe.

5 Who so reioiceth in wickednesse, shall be punished: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: he that refraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublefome man: he that ha-teth to be reformed, his life shall be shortened: and he that abhorreth babbling of words, quencherh wickednesse.

6 He that offendeth against his owne soule, shall repent it: and he that reioyceth in wickednesse, shall be punished.

7 Rehearse not a wicked and churlish word to wife, and thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Shew thy secrets neither to friend nor foe:
 and if thou hast offended, tell it not out.

9 For he shall hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he findeth opportunitie, he shall hate thee, and so shall he be alway about thee.

10 * If thou hast heard a worde against thy neighbor, let it be dead within thee: and be sure thou shalt haue no harme thereby.

11 A foole trauaileth with a worde, like as a woman that is payned with bearing of a child.

12 Like as an arrow shot in a thigh of flesh, so is a word in a fooles heart.

13 * Tell thy friend his fault, lest he be ignorant, and say, I haue not done it: or if he haue spoken, that he doe it no more.

14 Reproue thy neighbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy neighbour his fault, for oft times an offence is made: and giue not credence to eue-ry word.

16 * A man falleth sometime with his tongue, but not with his will: for what is hee that hath not offended in his tongue?

17 Giue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten him: and giue place vnto the law of the Lord.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to be receiued of him: and wisdom obtayneth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord, is the doctrine of life: and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruit of immortality.

20 The feare of God is all wisdom: and he that is a righteous man, keepeth the law.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I wil not doe as it pleaseth thee: though afterward he do it, he shall displeafe him that nourisheth him.

22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wisdom, and the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednesse and abomination, and a blaspheming of wisdom.

23 A simple man of small vnderstanding that feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, & transgresseth the law of the highest.

24 A craftie subtil man can be wise, but he is vnrighteous, & with gifts he yppseth the open and manifest law: againe, there is that is wise, and iudgeth righteously.

25 A wicked man can behaue himselfe humbly, and can duce with his head, and yet is hee but a deceiuer within: he hideth his face, and disguiseth it, & because he should not be knowen, he preuenteth thee, to hurt thee.

26 * And though he be so weake, that he can doe thee no harme, yet when he may find opportunitie, he shall doe some euill.

27 A man may be knowen by his face, and one that hath vnderstanding, may be perceiued by the looke of his countenance.

28 * A mans garment, laughter, and going, declare what he is.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Of correction and repentance. 6 Of the gift of the wife man, and of the foole. 23 Of lying.

Some man reprooueth his neighbour oft times, but not in due season: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and hee is wise and discrete.

2 It is much better to giue warning and to reprove, then to beare euill will: for he that knowledgeth himselfe openly, shall be preserued from hurt and destruction.

3 * Like as when a gilded man through desire and lust defileth a maiden: euen so is it with him that vseth violence and vnrighteousnesse in the law.

4 How good a thing it is, a man that is reprovod, to shew openly his repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wise: but he that is not ashamed what he saith, is hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not vnderstanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, waiting a conueni-ent time.

7 * A wise man will hold his tongue till he see opportunitie, but a wanton and indiscrete body shall regard no time.

8 He that vseth many words, shall hurt his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things: againe, some man getteth much, and hath harme and losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth:
 againe, there is some gift whose rewarde is double.

6.5. 13 * A wise man with his wordes maketh himselfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles shalbe poyred out.

14 The gift of the vnwise shall doe thee no good, nor yet of the enuious: for his importunitie is seuen folde, for he looketh to receiue many things for one.

8.1. 15 * He shall giue litle, and say he gaue much: he openeth his mouth and cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wide.

16 To day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole saith, I haue no friend, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes, yea, euen they that eate my bread, speake no good of mee: O how oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to come?

18 He taketh a more perillous fall by such wordes, then if he fell vpon the ground: euen so shall the fall of wicked men come hastily.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vncouenient and brumet wordes.

20 A wise sentence shall not be allowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithall, and in his rest he shall be singled.

22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, & for an vnwise bodie sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shall he vndoe himselfe.

23 Some man promisseth his friend a gift for very shame: and getteth an enemie of him for nought.

24 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwise.

25 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of liars are vnhonour: and their shame is euer with them.

4.4. 27 * A wise man shall bring himselfe to honor with his wordes: & he that hath vnderstanding, shall be set by among great men.

28 * He that tilleth his land shall encrease his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnesse, shall be exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape much euill.

8. 29 * Rewards and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and make him dumbe that he cannot tell men their faults.

8.8. 30 * Wisedome that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded by, what profit is in them both?

31 Better is hee that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

32 The necessary patience of him that followeth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The praier of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reprobud. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

M Sonne, * if thou hast sinned, doe it no more: but pray for thy forefinesse, that they may be forgiven thee.

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou comest too nigh her, she will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednes of man is as a sharpe two edged sword, which maketh such wounds that they can not be healed.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing shall waste away a mans goods, and through pride a rich house shall be brought to nought: so the riches of the proud shall be rooted out.

5 * The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and cometh vnto the cares, and his vengeance or defence shall come hastily.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, will remember himselfe.

7 A mighty man is knowne a farre off by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding, perceiuet that he shall haue a fall.

8 Who so buideth his house with other mens cost, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

9 * The congregation of the vngodly is like stubble gathered together, their end is a flame of fire.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in their end, is hell, darkenesse, and paines.

11 He that keepeth the law, will hold fast the vnderstanding thereof: and the end of the feare of God, is wisdom and vnderstanding.

12 He that is not wise, will not be taught in good, but the vnwise man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstanding.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall flow like water that runneth ouer: and his counsaile is like a pure fountaine of life.

14 * The heart of a foole is like a broken vessel, he can keepe no wisdom.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise word, he shall commend it, and make much of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behind his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like an heauie burden by the way: but to heare a wise man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shall ponder his wordes in their hearts.

18 Like as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wisdom vnto a foole: As for the knowledge of the vnwise, it is but darke wordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderstanding, euen as fetters about his feete, and like manacles vpon his right hand.

20 * A foole listeth by his voyce with laughter: but a wise man shall scarce laugh secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a seowell of golde, and like an armelet vpon his right arme.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

A Slouthfull body is moulded of a Stone of clay, and euery man will speake to his displeasur.

2 A slouthfull body is made of the dung of oxen, and euery one that toucheth him, must wash his hands againe.

3 A misnurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: a foolish daughter shall be little regarded.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that commeth to dishonestie, bringeth her father in heaumesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame dishonoureth both her father and her husband: the vngodly shall regard her, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musicke in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewithall, they shall put away the shame of their parents:

8 But if children be proud with haucinesse and foolishnesse, they blot out the nobilitie of their kindred.

9 Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that giueth a potshard together, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that raiseth a man out of a heauie sleepe.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is euen as a man which speaketh to one that is asleepe, when he hath told his tale, he saith, what is the matter?

11 * When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, because the light faileth him: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but a litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

12 * Seuen dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vngodly and vngodly, should endure all the dayes of their life.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not with him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to trauaile, & thou shalt not be defiled with his sinne: Depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and shalt not be drawen backe into his foolishnesse.

14 What is heavier then lead? and what should a foole be called els but lead?

15 Sand, salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolish, and vngodly man.

16 Like as the band of wood bound together in the foundation of the house cannot be loosed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsaile. The thought of a wise shall neuer feare, nor be offended at any time.

17 Like as a faire plastered wall in a winter house & a highbuilding may not abide the wind and storme: euen so is a fooles heart afraid in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and cannot endure.

18 A wauering heart in the imagination of a foole, will not euer stand in awe: but he that abideth in the commandements of God, will alway feare.

19 * Hee that nippeth a mans eye, bringeth forth teares: & he that pricketh the heart bringeth forth the meaning and thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birds, straiteth them away: and he that blasphemeth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou dreyest a sword at thy friend, yet despaire not: for thou mayest come againe to thy friend.

22 If he speake so wisely, feare not: for ye may be agreed together againe, except it be that thou blasphemest him, disdainest him, open his secrets, and wound him traiterously: for all such things shall driue away a friend.

23 Be faithfull vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heere with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the rich that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euill words, rebukes, and theatnings, goe before bloodshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defend thy friend: as for me, I wil not hide my face from him though he should doe me harme: whosoener heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 * Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that mine offences be not many in number, and that my finnes exceede not: lest I fall before mine enemies, and so mine aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

Psalm

5 Take from mee the lustes of the body, let not the desires of uncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And giue me not ouer into an vnchamefull and obstinate minde.

7 Heare me, O ye children, I will giue you a doctrine how ye shall order your mouth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lippes, nor be hurt through wicked wordes.

8 As for the sinner, he shall bee taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proud and cursed shall fall therein.

9 Let not thy mouth be accustomed with swearing, for in it there are many falies: let not the naming of God bee continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of Saints, for thou shalt not be excused of them.

10 For like as a seruant which is oft punished, cannot be without some sore: euen so, whatsoeuer he be that sweareth, and nameth God, shall not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that bleseth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednesse, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house, if he beguile his brother, his fault shall be vpon him, if he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, and if hee sweare in vaine, he shall not be found righteous: for his house shall be full of plagues.

12 The wordes of the swearer bring death, God grant that it bee not found in the house of Jacob: but they that feare God eschew all such, and lie not waiting in sinne.

13 Use not thy mouth to vnhonest and filthy talking, for in it is the word of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: leaue God forget thee in their sight, and lest thou doing in thy custome, suffer rebulke, and wish not to haue bene borne, and so curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 The man that is accustomed with the wordes of blaspheemie, wil neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 To sinne twice is too much, but the third bringeth wrath & destruction: An hot stomacke cannot be quenched (euen like a burning fire) till it haue swallowed by some thing: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesh, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweete to an whozemonger, he will not leaue off till he die.

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, Curs, who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenes, the walles couer me, no body seeth mee, whom neede I to feare? the highest will not remember my finnes:

19 He vnderstande: he not that his eyes see all things, for all such feare of men driueth a way the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lord are clearer then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the ground of the deepe, and looking euen to mens hearts in secret places.

20 The Lord God knewe all things or euer they were made, and after they bee brought to passe also he looketh vpon them all.

21 The same man shall be openly punished in the streets of the cite, and shall be chaled abroad like a yong horse foale: and when hee thinketh least vpon it, hee shall be taken.

22 Thus shall hee bee put to shame of every man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord: and thus shall it goe also with every wife that leaueh her husband, and getteth inheritance by a strange marriage.

23 First, shee hath bene vnfaithfull vnto the Law of the highest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husband: thirdly, she hath played the whoore in adulterie, and gotten her children by another man.

24 Shee shall be brought out of the congregation, and her children shall be looked vpon.

25 Her children shall not take roote: and as for fruit, her branches shall bring forth none.

26 A shamefull report shall she leaue behinde her, and her dishonour shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of God, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take herde vnto the commandements of the Lord.

28 A great worship is it to follow the Lord: for long life shall be receiued of him.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 A praise of wisdome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her workes and place where she resteth.

Wisdome shall praise her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the middelt of the people.

2 In the congregations of the highest shall shee open her mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.

3 In the middelt of her people shall she be exalted, and wondered at in the holy sunneste.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shall be commended, and among such as bee blessed, shee shall be praised, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the highest, first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that faileth not to arise in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloud.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my seate is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearced the ground of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the floods of the sea, and haue stand in all landes, my dominion is in euery people, and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all both high and lowe.

10 In all these things also I sought rest, and adwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue mee a commandement, and he that made me, appointed me a Tabernacle, and sayd vnto me, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

12 I was created from the beginning, and before the world, and shall not leaue off vnto the world to come: in the holy habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I established in Sion.

13 In the holy cite rested I in like manner, and in Hierusalem was my power.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lord, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fullnesse of the saints.

16 I am cradled like a Palme tree in Cadex, and as a Rose plant in Jericho, as a faire Olive tree in the field. I am exalted like as a plantan tree by the water side.

15 I have given a smell in the streets as the Cinnamon and Balme that hath so good a savour, yea, a sweete odour have I given as it were myrthe of the best: I have made my dwellings to smell as it were of Ronin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not he wen down, and mine odour is as the pure Balme.

18 As the Cerebint have I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and loving savour.

16 As the vine have I brought forth fruit of a sweete savour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautifull love, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my chyldren to whome God hath commanded.

21 In me is all grace of life and trueth, in me is all hope of life and vertue.

22 Come vnto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruits.

23 For my spirit is sweeter then honie, and so is mine inheritance more then the honie combe: the remembrance of me endureth for evermore.

24 They that eat mee, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me shall thirst the more.

25 Whoso hearkeneth vnto me, shall not come to confusion, and they that worke in me shall not offend: they that take mee to be knowen, shall haue euermore.

26 All these things are the booke of life, the covenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth.

27 Moses commanded the Lawe in the precepts of righteousnesse for an heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and committed the promise vnto Israel.

28 Be not weary to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lord, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him, for the Lord Almighty is but one God, and besides him there is no other sauour.

29 (Out of Dauid his seruant hee ordained to raise by a most mighty King, sitting in the seate of honour for evermore.)

30 This filleth with wisdom, like as the flood of Euphrat, as the flood of Tygris, when the newe fruits are a growing.

31 This bringeth plenteous vnderstanding like Euphrates, and filleth by as Jordan in the time of haruest.

32 This maketh nurture to breake forth as the light, and as the water Gehon in the haruest.

33 The first hath not knowen her perfect: for no more shall the last seeke out the ground of hert.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the great deepe.

35 I wisdom haue cast out floods, I am as a great water brooke out of the riuer, I am as the riuer Euphrat, and as a water conduit an I come out of the garden of pleasure.

36 I said, I will water the garden of my pong plants, and fill the fruit of my birth: So my water brooke became exceeding great, and my riuer approached vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to be vnto all men as light as the faire morning, and I shall make it to be euer the cleerer.

38 I will pearce thorow all the lower party of the earth, I will looke vpon all such as bee asleepe, and lighten all them that put their trust in the Lord.

39 I shall yet powze out doctrine like as prophesie, and leaue it vnto such as seeke after wisdom, and their generation shall I neuer faile vnto the holy euermore world.

40 Behold how that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely: but for all them that seeke after the trueth.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Of three things which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that bee not to bee suspected, and of the tenth. 15 Chiefly of the malice of a woman.

Three things there are that my spirit saoureth, which bee also allowed before God and men: The bntic of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree well together.

2 Three things there bee which my soule hateth, and I betterly abhorre the life of them: A poud man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an olde body that doteth, and is brachaste.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what wilt thou find in thine age?

4 How pleasant a thing is it when gray headed men are discrete, and when the elders can giue good counsaile?

5 How comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men: yea, vnderstanding and counsell to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experience: and the feare of God is their worship.

7 There be nine things which I haue iudged in my heart to be happie, and the tenth will I tell forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he liueth hath ioy of his chyldren, and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 Well is him that dwelleth with an hyswife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not bene faine to serue such as are vnnete for him.

9 Wel is him that findeth a faithfull friend: and well is him that talketh of wisdom to an eare that heareth him.

10 How great is he that findeth wisdom and knowledge: Yet is hee not about him that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe about all things.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is granted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shall he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the beginning of his loue, and the beginning of faith, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

Cerebint, is a hard tree forto abound with long boogbra, wherof our ranneth y gumme called a pure Turpentine, which cleaueth the flowers marke of purrified humors, and purrifieth the excrese in the wisdom of God declared in his scriptures, sprang abouo the manifold branches of knowledge and vnderstanding to purge the inward reace and corruption of the soule.

14 The beatynesse of the heart is all the punishment, and the wickednes of a woman goeth aboute all.

15 All punishment and plague is nothing in comparison to the plague of the heart: euen so, all wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his euill willers doe vnto him: and all vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the enemye.

17 There is not a moze wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboute the wrath of a woman.

18 I will rather dwell with a * Lion and Dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednes of a woman changeth her face, she shall mussle her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sache shall shee shew it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sigh.

21 All wickednesse is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

22 Like as the climbing by a sandie way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife full of woords to a still quiet man.

23 * Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou bee prouoked in desire toward her.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: if a woman get the masterie, then is shee contrary to her husband.

25 A wicked wife maketh a sozry heart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wound: weake hands and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better for.

26 * Of the woman came the * beginning of sinne, and through her we are all dead.

27 Giue thy water no passage, no not a little, neither giue a wicked woman her will.

28 If she walke not after thy hand, shee shall confound thee in the sight of thine enemies: cut her off then from thy flesh, that she do not alway abuse thee.

The xxvj. Chapter.

3 The praise of a good woman. 6 Of the ieaiousie and drunkennesse of a woman.

Happie is the man that hath a vertuous wife, for the number of his yeeres shall be double.

2 An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyfull man, and shee shall fill the yeres of his life in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shall bee giuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a man be rich or poore, he may haue a merie heart, and a chearefull countenance.

5 There be three things that my heart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, & noisome tongues: all these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is ieaalous ouer another, it bringeth paine and sorow to the heart: and a woman that telleth out all things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euill wife, it is euen as when an vnlike paire of oxen must drawe together: he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she cannot couer her owne shame.

9 The whozedom of a woman may bee knowne in the pride of her eyes and eye lids.

10 * If thy daughter bee not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest she abuse her selfe through ouermuch libertie.

11 Beware of all the dishonestie of her eyes, and marueile not if she doe against thee.

12 As a wayfaring man that is thirstie, when hee hath found a well, drinketh of euery next water: so will she sit downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioiceth her husband, and feedeth his houses with her wisdom.

14 A woman of fewe woords is a gift of God: so well nurtured mindes may nothing bee compared.

15 An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboute other giftes: and there is no weight to bee compared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the Sunne when it ariseth is an ornament in the hie heauen of the Lord: so is a vertuous wife the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candlesticke: so is the beauty of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are the faire feete vpon a woman that hath a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that bee layd vpon a whole stonie rocke: so are the commandements of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

20 There bee two things that grieue my heart, and in the thurd is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenelle and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisdom are not set by, and when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: whoso doeth such, the Lord hath prepared him vnto the sword.

21 There be two maner of things which me thinke to bee hard and perillous: A merchant cannot lighly keepe him from wrong, neither a tauerner himselfe from sinne.

doth temptation of trouble trie righteous men.
 6 The tree of the field is known by his fruit: so is the thought of mans heart known by his words.
 7 Praise no man, except thou haue heard him, for a man is known by his words.
 8 If thou followest rightousnes, thou shalt get her, & put her vpon thee as a faire garment: and thou shalt dwell with her, and shee shall defend thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt find stedfastnesse.
 9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doeth the truth turne vnto them that be occupied withall.
 10 The Lyon waiteth the pray: so doth sinne vpon them that worke vnrightousnesse.
 11 The talking of him that feareth God is nothing but wisdom: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.
 12 If thou be among the vndiscreete, keepe thy wordes to a conuenient time: but among such as be wise, speake on hardly.
 13 The talking of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.
 14 Much swearing maketh the haire to stand vp: and to striue with such, stoppeth the cares.
 15 The strife of the proud is bloodshedding, and their blaspheming is heauy to beare.
 16 Who so discovereth secrets, leeseeth his credence, and findeth no friend after his will.
 17 Loue thy friends, and binde thy selfe in faithfullnesse with him: but if thou betray his secrets, thou shalt not get him againe.
 18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enemy: so is he also that dealeth falsely in the friendship of his neighbour.
 19 Like as one that letteth a birde goe out of his hand, cannot take her againe: euen so thou, if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canst not get him againe.
 20 Yea, thou canst not come by him: for he is too farre off: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.
 21 As for woundes they may be bound by againe, and an euill word may be reconciled: but who to betrayeth the secrets of a friend, there is no more hope to be had vnto him.
 22 He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth some euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.
 23 When thou art present, see shall highly commend and praise thy wordes: but at the last, he shall curie his tale, and slander thy saying.
 24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill: for the Lorde himselfe also abhorreth such a one.
 25 Who so casteth a stone on high, it shall fall vpon his owne head: and he that smiteth with guile, woundeth himselfe.
 26 Who so diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, and hee that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, and he that layeth a snare for an other, shall be taken in it himselfe.
 27 Who so giueth a wicked noysome counsel, it shall come vpon himselfe, and he shall not know from whence.

 30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abominable things, and the vngodly hath them both vpon him.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

He that seeketh vengeance, shall find vengeance of the Lord, which shall surely keepe his sinnes.

2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shall thy sinnes be forgiuen thee also when thou prayest.

3 A man that beareth hatred against another, how dare he desire forgiuenesse of God?

4 He that sheweth no mercy to a man which is like himselfe, how dare he aske forgiuenesse of his sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred, and keepeth it, who will entreate for his sinnes?

6 Remember the end, and let enmitie passe, which seeketh death and destruction, and abide thou in the commandements.

7 Remember the commandements, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neighbor: thinke vpon the couenant of the highest, and forgiue thy neighbours ignorance.

8 Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer.

9 For an angry man kindleth variance, and the vngodly disquieteth friends, and putteth discord among them that be at peace.

10 The more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches, his anger encreaseth, and the longer the strife endureth, the more it burneth.

11 An hasty brawling kindleth a fire, and an hasty strife sheadeth blood: a tongue also that beareth false witness, bringeth death.

12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne, if thou spit vpon it, it shall goe forth, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 The slanderer and double tongued is cursed: for many one that be friends, setteth he at variance.

14 The third tongue hath disquieted many one, and driuen them from one lande to another: strong cities of the rich hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and benee the decay of nightie nations.

15 The thirde tongue hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto such, shall neuer find rest, and neuer dwell safely.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh prints in the skinne: but the stroke of the tongue smiteth the bones in sunder.

18 There be many that haue perished with the sword: but many moe through the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which draweth not the poke of such, and is not bound in the bands of it.

 23 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein, and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuoure them as a Leopard.
 24 Thou hedgest thy goods with thornes: why dost thou not rather make doozes & barres for thy mouth?
 25 Thou weighest thy golde and siluer: why dost thou not weigh thy wordes also vpon the ballance, and make a dooze and a barre, and a sure bydle for thy mouth?
 26 Beware that thou lide not in thy tongue, and so fall before thine enemies that lay waite for thee, and thy fall bee incurable, euen vnto death.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 How wee ought to lend our money, and doe almes.
 15 Of a faithfull man answering for his friend. 22 Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

Who so will shewe mercie, let him lend vnto his neighbour: and hee that is able, let him keepe the commandements.

2 Lend vnto thy neighbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

3 Keepe thy word, and deale faithfully with him: and thou shalt alway finde the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 There hath bene many, that when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and made them trauaile and labour that had helped them.

5 While they receiue any thing, they kisse the handes of such as giue them, and for their neighbours good they humble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they keepe it back, and giue euill wordes, and make many excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, and reckoneth the other to be found: and if hee withhold not his money, yet hath he an enemy of him, and that vnder serued: he payeth him with curling and rebuke, and giueth him euill wordes for his good deede.

7 There be many one which are not glad for to lend, not because of euill, but they feare to loose the thing that they lend.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withhold not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commandements sake, and let him not goe emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Loose thy money for thy brother & neighbours sake, and bury it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.

11 Gather thy treasure after the commandement of the highest, and so shall it bring thee more profit then gold.

12 * Lay vp thine almes in the || hand of the poore, and it shall keepe thee from all euill.

13 * A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and after ward shall it arise, and pay every man his reward vpon his head.

14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a gyant, or speare of the mightie.

15 A good honest man is a suretie for his neighbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy suretie: for he hath giuen his soule for thee.

17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie:

18 The wicked will not become suretie, and the vnthankfull and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.

19 Some man promisseth for his neighbour: and when hee hath lost his honestie, he shall forsake him.

20 Suretishippe hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoued them as the waves in the Sea, mightie people hath it driuen away, and caused them to wander in strange countreys.

21 An vngodly man transgressing the commandement of the Lorde, shall fall into an euill suretiship: and though hee force himselfe to get out, yet shall he fall into iudgement.

22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not in such debt.

23 * The chiefe thing that keepeth thy life, is water, and bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer thy shame.

24 Better is it to haue a poore liuing in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.

25 Be it little or much that thou hast, holde thee content withall: and thou shalt not be blamed as a bagabond.

26 For a miserable life is it to goe from house to house, and where a man is<sup>b</sup> frende, hee dare not open his mouth.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet hee shall be taken as vnworthy, and heare many bitter rough wordes, namely thus,

28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast.

29 Giue place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother commeth into my house: and so tellyth him the necessitie of his house.

30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, namely, the forbidding of the house, & that the lender casteth him in the teeth, him that is like him.

5 In his life he saw him, and had joy in him, and was not sorie in his death, neither was hee ashamed befoze the enemies.

6 For hee left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and a good doer vnto the friends.

7 For the life of children hee shall binde the woundes together, and his heart is grieved at euery cry.

8 An vntamed horse will bee hard, and a wanton child will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring by thy sonne delicately, hee shall make thee afraide: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with him, leaſt thou weepe with him also, and leaſt thou gnash with thy teeth at the last.

11 * Giue him no libertie in his youth, and excuse not his folly.

12 Bowe downe his necke while he is yong, hit him vpon the sides while he is but a child: leaſt he ware stubborne, and giue no more force of thee, and so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teach thy childe, and be diligent therein, leaſt it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore beeing whole and strong, then a man to bee rich, and not to haue his health.

15 Health and welfare is aboue all gold, and a whole body aboue all treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound bodie, and no joy aboue the joy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, and eternal rest better then continuall sicknesse.

18 The good things that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is layd vpon the graue.

19 What good doth the offering vnto an idole? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smell: euen so is he that is chased of the Lord, and beareth the reward of iniquitie.

20 Hee seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lyeth with a virgine, and sigheth.

21 Giue not ouer thy minde into heauinesse, and bere not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.

22 The joy and cheerefulnesse of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart, as for sorow and heauinesse, driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slaine many a man, and bringeth no profit.

24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the life, carefulnesse and sorow bring age befoze the time.

25 Vnto a merry heart euery thing hath a good taste that he eateth.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 We ought to giue diligent heede to honestie. 2 Of them that take paine to gather riches.

Trauaile and carefulnesse for riches, taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesh to consume.

2 When one lyeth and taketh care, hee waketh euery by, like as a great sicknesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches hee taketh his rest, and is refreshed.

4 But who so labourerth, and prospererth not, he is poore: and though hee leaue off, yet is he a begger.

5 He that louerth riches, shall not be iustified: and who so followeth corruption, shall haue enough thereof.

6 * Many one are come in great misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue found their destruction befoze them.

7 It is a tree of falling vnto them that offer it by, and all such as be foolish fall therein.

8 * Blessed is the rich which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after golde, nor hoped in money and treasures.

9 Where is there such a one, and wee shall commend him, and call him blessed: for wonderful things doth he among his people.

10 Who so is tryed and found perfect in such things, shall bee commended and praised: who might offend, and hath not offended: who could doe euill, and hath not done it?

11 Therefore shall his good be stablished, and the whole congregation shall declare his almes.

12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.

13 Remember that an euill eye is a shewe: what thing created is worse then a wicked eye? therefore weepeth it befoze euery mans face.

14 * Laye not thine hand vpon euery thing that thine eye seeth, and strue not with him in the dish.

15 Ponder by thy selfe what thy neighbour would faine haue, and bee discrete in euery point.

16 Eate the thing that is set befoze thee mannerly as it becommeth a man: and eate not too much, leaſt thou be abhorred.

17 Leauethou off first of all, because of mixture, leaſt thou be he whome no man may satisfie, which may turne to thy decay.

18 When thou sittest among many men, reach not thine hand out first of all, neither call thou first for drinke.

19 * How well content is a wise man with a little wine: so that in sleepe thou shalt not be sicke thereof, nor feele any paine.

20 A sweete wholesome sleepe shall such a one haue, and feele no inward grieſe: hee riseth by betimes in the morning, and is well at ease in himselfe: but an vnſatiable eater sleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and paine of the body.

21 If thou feeleſt that thou hast eaten too much, arise, goe thy way, cast it off thy somacke, and take thy rest, and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sicknesse vnto thy bodie.

22 My sonne, heare mee, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in all thy workes be diligent and quicke, so shall there no sicknesse happen vnto thee.

23 * Who so is liberal in dealing out his meat, many men shall bleſse him, and praise him with their lippes, and the same is a sure token of his loue and faithfulness.

wine hath destroyed many a man.

doth wine prouue the hearts of the proud, when they be drunken.

27 Wine * soberly drunken, quickeneth the life of man: if thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: what is the life of him that is o-uercome with wine: what taketh away the life:

28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse: wine measurably drunken, is a reioycing of the soule and body: a measurable drinking, is health to soul and body.

29 But if it be drunken with excessse, it ma-keth bitternesse and sorrow vnto the mind.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Of the discretion and praise of the preacher & of the hearer. 15 Of the feare, faith, and confidence of God.

If thou bee made a ruler, pride not thy selfe therein, but bee thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, & looke wel thereto.

2 And when thou hast done all thy duty, sit thee downe, that thou mayest see merrie with them, and receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hinder not mulicke.

4 Speake not where there is no * audience:
and poyne not forth wisdom out of time at an importunitie.

5 Like as the Carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde, so doeth a long garnish the wine feast.

6 And as the Smeragde that is set in gold:
so is the sweetnesse of mulicke by the wirth of wine.

7 Giue care, and be skill, and for thy good behaviour thou shalt be loued.

8 Thou yong man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable: and yet scarce when thou art wise asked.

9 Comprehend much with fewe wordes, in many things bee as one that is ignorant: giue eare, and hold thy tongue withall.

10 If thou be among men of high authority, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many wordes therein.

11 Before the thunder goeth lightning: and before nurture and shamefastnesse goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stand by betimes, and be not the last: but get thee home soone.

13 And there take thy pastime, and doe what thou wilt: so that thou doe no euill, and desie no man.

14 But for all things giue thanks vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodnesse.

15 Who so feareth the Lord, will receiue his doctrine: & they that get them to him betimes, shall finde grace.

16 Hee that seeketh the lawe, shall be filled withall: as for him that is but fained, hee will be offended therat.

17 They that feare the Lord, shall finde the iudgement: and their rightcounesse shall be kindled as light.

18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but can helpe himselfe with the example of others in his purpose.

19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth no good counsell: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare, yea, euen when he hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doing shall be his rebuke.

20 Thy sonne, doe nothing without aduisement, so shall it not repent thee after the deed.

21 Go not in the way where thou mayst fall, nor where thou mayst stumble against the stone:
again, neither trust thou to the way that is plaine.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thine owne house-holde.

23 In all thy workes put thy trust in God, from thy whole heart: for that is the keeping of the commandements.

24 Who so beleueth Gods worde, taketh heede to the commandements: and hee that putteth his trust in the Lord, shall want nothing.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 12 Man is in the hand of God, as the earth is in the hand of the potter.

Here shall no euill happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lord shall deliuer him, and keepe him from euill.

2 A wise man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite: as is a ship in a raging water.

3 A man of vnderstanding giueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faithfull vnto him.

4 Be sure of the matter, then talke thereof:
be first well instruct, then mayest thou giue an-swere.

5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart wheele, and his thoughts runne about like the areltree.

der euery one that sitteth vpon him, so is it with a scoonefull friend.

7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing all the dayes of the yeere come of the sunne?

8 The wisdom of the Lord hath so parted them asunder, and so hath he ordained the times and solemne feasts.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and halow-ed before other dayes.

10 And all men are made of the ground, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of science hath the Lord sundred them, and made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed, brought them lowe, and put them out of their estate.

2. Cor. 6. 14.

12 Like as the clay is in the potters hande, and all the ordering thereof at his pleasure: so are men also in the hand of him that made them, so that hee may giue them as lieth him best.

13 * Against euill, is good, and against death, is life: so is the bngodly against such as feare God.

14 Behold, these are the woakes of the high-est, and there are euen two against two, and one set against another.

Ecc. 24. 26.

15 I am awaked by last of all, as one that gathereth after in harvest, in the giftes of God, and in his blessing I am encreased, and have filled my winepresse like a grape gatherer.

16 * Behold how I haue not laboured onely for my selfe, but for all such as loue nurture and wisdom.

17 Heare me, O yee great men of the people, and hearken with your eares yee rulers of the congregation.

18 Giue not thy sonne a wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while thou liuest: and giue not away thy substance and good to another, lest it repent thee, and thou be faine to aske of them againe.

c. Let no man vie thee as a seruant, when thou shalt come into all thy goods into his hands.

19 As long as thou liuest and hast breath, let no man change thee.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou shouldst be faine to look in their hands.

21 In all thy woakes bee excellent, that thy honour be neuer stained.

22 At the times when thou shalt ende thy dayes and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritances.

23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burden belong vnto the Ass: meate, correction, and worke vnto the seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him goe idle, hee shall seeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bow downe the hard necke: but tame thou thy euill seruant with bonds and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idleness bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him well.

28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but doe not too much vnto him in any wise, & without discretion doe nothing.

Ecc. 7. 22.

29 * If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: entreat him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruant, hold him as thy selfe, for thou hast need of him as of thy selfe.

30 If thou entreatest him euill, and keepest him hard, and makest him to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Of dreames, diuinations, and enchantments. 6 We ought to confute vaine hope, and lying. 13 The praise of them that feare God.

Wise people beguile themselves with vaine and deceitfull hope, and fooles trust in dreames.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that will take hold of a shadow, and follow after the wind.

3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames: befoze the face is the likenesse of a face.

4 Who can bee cleansed of the vncleane? or what truethe can be spoken of a lyar?

5 Soothlaying, witchcraft, sozery, and dreaming, is but vaine: like as when a woman trauaileth with child, and hath many fantasies in her heart.

6 Whereas such visions come not of God, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many a man, and they failed that put their trust therein.

8 The law shall be fulfilled without lies, and wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?

9 A wise man that is well instruct, understandeth much: and hee that hath good experience, can talke of wisdom.

10 Hee that hath no experience, knoweth little, and hee that erreth, causeth much wickednesse: hee that is not tryed, what things knoweth hee? hee that hath beene deceiued, is full of subtiltie.

11 When I was yet in error, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I could not expresse it all.

12 And came oft in perill of death therefore, till I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.

13 Nowe I see that they which feare God haue the right spirite, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue him.

14 Who so searcheth the Lord, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afraid: for the Lord is his hope and comfort.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that searcheth the Lord: in whome putteth hee his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection & strong ground, a defence for the heat, a refuge for the hot noon day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes, he giueth health, life, and blessing.

18 * Hee that giueth an offering of vnrigh- teous good, his offering is refused: and the scornfull dealings of the vnrigh- teous please not God.

19 The Lord is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of the truth and of righte- ousnesse.

20 * The highest doth not allow the giftes of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offerings of the bngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations.

21 Who so bringeth an offering out of the goods of the poore: dotht euen as one that kil- leth the sonne befoze his fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needfull is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of blood.

Or make to him... things be vail cleas way.

23 Who so robbeth his neighbour of his living, doeth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

24 When one buildeth and an other breakech downe, what profite haue they then but labour?

25 When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wil the Lord heare?

26 He that waileth himselve because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doeth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and doeth them againe: who wil heare his prayer, or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 It is well done to pray and to do sacrifice. 14 The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widowe, and of him that humbleth himselve.

Who so keepeth the Lawe, bringeth offerings ynow: hee that holdeth fast the Commandements, offereth the right health offering.

2 He that is thankfull and recompenseth, offereth sine flowre: who so is mercifull and giueth almes, that is the right thank-offering.

3 God hath pleasure when one departeth from sinne: and to forsake vnrighteousnesse, reconcilieth vs with him.

4 Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lord:

5 For all such is done because of the Commandement of God.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the Altar fat, and a sweete smell is it before the Highest.

7 The offering of the righteous is acceptable vnto God, and shall neuer be forgotten.

8 Gine God his honour with a chearefull heart: and keepe not backe the firstlings of thine handes.

9 In all thy gifts shewe a cheerefull countenance, and halowe thy tithes vnto God with gladnesse.

10 Gine vnto God according as he hath enriched and prospered thee: and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a cheerefull eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth and giueth thee seven times as much againe.

12 Gine no vnrighteous gifts, for such will be not receiue: beware of wrong offerings, for the Lord is a righteous Judge, and regardeth no mans person.

13 Hee accepteth not the person of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

14 Hee despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse, nor the widow when shee poureth out her prayer before him.

15 Doeth not God see the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widow? or heareth he not the complaint ouer such as make her to weepe? for from her cheekes doe the teares goe by vnto heauen, and the Lord which heareth them, doeth accept them.

16 Who so serueth God after his pleasure, shall be accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the clouds.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himselve, goeth thoro' the clouds: til he come nigh the will not bee comforted, nor goe her way till the highest God haue respect vnto her, giue true sentence, and perfoyme the iudgement.

18 And the Lord will not bee slacke in coming, nor tarry long, till he haue smitten in sinder the backs of the vnrighthefull, & auenged himselfe of the heathen, til hee haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, til he giue euery man after his woorkes, and reward them after their doings, till hee haue deliuered his people, mainteined their cause, and reioyced them in his mercie.

19 How faire a thing is mercie in the time of anguish and trouble: it is like a cloud of raine that commeth in the time of drought.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men. 22 The praise of a good woman.

Aue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, thou God of all things, haue respect vnto vs, shewe vs the light of thy mercies.

2 And send thy feare among the heathen & strangers which seeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may shewe thy wonderous woorkes.

3 Lift vp thine hande ouer the outlandish heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power.

4 Like as thou art hallowed in vs before them: so bring to passe, that thou mayest be magnified also in them before vs.

5 That they may knowe thee, like as wee know thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.

6 Renue the tokens, and change the wonderous woorkes: shewe thine hand and thy right arme gloriously.

7 Raise by thine indignation, and powre out thy wrath: take away the aduersary, and smite the enimie.

8 Make the time short, remember the Covenant, that thy wonderous woorkes may be praised.

9 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that liue so carelesse: and let them perish that do thy people hurt.

10 Smite in sunder the head of the Princes that be our enemies, and say, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together againe, that they may knowe howe that there is none other God but onely thou, that they may shewe thy wonderous woorkes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, like as from the beginning.

12 O Lord haue mercy vpon the people that hath thy Name, and vpon Israel whom thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.

13 O be mercifull vnto Hierusalem the citie of thy Sanctuary, the citie of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion with thine vnspokeable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Gine witness vnto thy creature whom thou madest from the beginning, and rayle by the propheties that haue bene shewed in thy Name.

people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteousness: that all they which dwell vpon the earth may know that thou art the Lord the eternal God, which is from euerlasting.

18 The belly deuoureth all meates: yet is one meate better then another.

19 Like as the tongue tasteth benison: so doth an heart of vnderstanding marke false words.

20 A froward heart giueth heauinesse: but a man of experience listeth him by againe.

21 The woman receiueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 A faire wife reioycest her husband: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there bee in her tongue gentlenesse, mekenesse, and wholesome talke: then is not her husband like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possession: she is vnto him a helpe, and a pillar whereon he resteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are spoyled: and where no husband is, there the friendlesse mourneth.

26 Like as there is no credence giuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleued that hath no nest, and must turne in where he may abide in the night.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 How a man should know friendes and counsellors,
12 and search the company of an holy man.

Every friend sayeth, I will bee friendly vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O most wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with falsehood and deceit?

4 * There is some companion which in prosperitie reioycest with his friende: but in the time of trouble he taketh part against him.

5 * There is some companion that mourneth with his friend for his bellies sake: but when trouble cometh, he taketh holde of the shield.

6 Forget not thy friende in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counsell at thy husband, & hide thy counsel from such as beare thee no good wil.

8 * Euery counsellor praiseth his counsell: neuertheless, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.

9 Beware of the counsellor, and be aduised afore wherto thou wilt vse him: for he wil counsell for himselfe, least he cast the lot vpon thee.

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and after ward hee stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

11 Aske no counsell at him that suspecteth thee for an enemy, and hide thy counsell from such as hate thee: aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iustice, of him that hath no iustice: aske no counsell at a woman, touching her of whom thee is ielous: nor at a fearefull and faint hearted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, how deare hee wil cheape thy wares toward his: or at a buyer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thanksgiuing: or at the vnnumerous, of louing kindenesse:

or at an vn honest man, of honestie: or at the slothfull, of working: or at an hireling which hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no such folkes to counsell.

12 But be diligent to seeke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the Commandements, which hath a mind after thine owne minde, and is soyr for thee when thou stumblest.

13 And holde thy counsell fast in thine heart: for there is no man moze faithfull to keepe it, then thou thy selfe.

14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tell out moze, then seven watchmen that sit aboue in an high place, looking about them.

15 And about all this, pray the highest, that he wil leade thy way in faithfulness and truth.

16 Before all thy workes, aske counsell first: and or euer thou doest any thing, be well aduised.

17 There be foure things that declare a changed heart, whereout there springeth euill and good, death and life, and a manerfull tongue that babbleth much.

18 Some man is apt, and well instructed in many things, and yet very vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man there is that can giue wise and prudent counsell, and yet is hee hated, and continueth a begger.

20 For that grace is not giuen him of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of all wisdom: yet is hee wise vnto himselfe, and the fruite of vnderstanding is commendable in his mouth.

22 A wise man maketh his people wise, and the fruits of his wisdom faste not.

23 A wise man shall be plentifully blessed of God: and all they that see him, shall speake good of him.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shall obtaine faithfulness and credence among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy selfe, and if thou see any euil thing, giue it not vnto her:

27 * For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

28 * Bee not greedie in euery eating, and bee not hastie vpon all meates.

29 For excessse of meates bringeth sickness, and gluttonie cometh at the last to an vnumerable heate.

30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth himselfe temperatly, prolongeth his life.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

him to great worship, & in the sight of the great men of this world he shall be honourably taken.

4 The Lord hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wise wil not abhorre it.

5 Was not the bitter water made sweete with a tree, that men might learne to know the vertue thereof?

6 The Lord hath giuen men wisdom and vnderstanding, that hee might be honoured in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doeth the Apothecarie make a confection, yet can no man performe al his workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperous wealth ouer all the earth.

9 My sonne, despise not this in thy sickness: but pray vnto the Lord, and he shall make thee whole.

10 Leauce off from sinne, and order thy hands aright, cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Giue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fine flour for a token of remembrance: make the offering fat, as one that giueth the first fruits.

12 And giue rounie to the Physitian: for the Lord hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 The houre may come, that the sick may be helped through them.

14 When they pray vnto the Lord, that hee may recouer and get health to liue longer.

15 He that sinneth befoze his maker, shall fall into the hands of the Physitian.

16 My sonne, bying forth thy teares ouer the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou hadst suffered great harme thy selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his burial.

17 Enforce thy selfe to weep and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, and be earnest in mourning, and be lamentation as hee is worthy, and that a day or two, least thou be euil spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of the heauinesse.

18 For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauinesse of the heart breaketh strenght.

19 Heauinesse and pouertie grieueth the heart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauines to heart, driue it away, and remember the last things.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt doe him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thine also shall be likewise: vnto me yester day, vnto thee to day.

23 Let the remembrance of the dead cease in his rest, and comfort thee againe ouer him, seeing his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisdom of the Scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth from exercises and labour shall be wise.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, & he that hath pleasure in the goad and in driving the oxe, and is occupied in their labours, and his talk is but of the breeding of bullockes?

26 He setteth his heart to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the hie fodder.

27 So is every Carpenter also and worke-master that laboureth still night and day: he carueth, grauet, cutteth out, and his desire is in sundry cunning things, his heart imagineth how hee may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also and watching performeth the worke.

28 The yron Smith in like maner, bideth by his stichie, and doeth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire burneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the furnace: the noise of the hammer euer foundeth in his eares, and his eyes looke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that hee wil make out his worke, and therfoze he watcheth how he may set it out, and bring it to an end.

29 So doeth the pottier sit by his worke: hee turneth the wheele about with his secte, hee is diligent and carefull in all doings, and maketh his worke in number.

30 Hee fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it, his heart imagineth how he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their handes, and every one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the city be maintained, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seat: they vnderstand not the couenant of the Lawe, they cannot declare equitie and iudgment, they cannot finde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them that the creature of the world hee maintained, their desire concerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 A wise man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things doe profite: but vnto the euill, euen good things are euil.

That applieth his minde to vnderstand the Lawe of God, doeth diligently seeke out the wisdom of them of the olde time, & exerciseth himselfe in the Prophets.

2 Hee keepeth the saying of famous men, and preacht to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wisdom.

3 Hee seekech out the mysterie of secret sayings, & exerciseth himselfe therein continually.

4 Hee doth seruise among great men, and appeareth befoze the prince, he goeth into a strange countrey, and trauaileth thoroze it: looke what good or euill is among men, hee proueth and seekech it out.

5 Hee purposeth in his heart to reioyce early vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray befoze the highest God: hee openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lord wil, hee shall be filled with the spirit of vnderstanding, that hee may then pouze out wise sentences, and giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 Hee shall order his deuiſe, and leade his knowledge aright, and giue him vnderstanding of secret things.

8 Hee shall shewe forth science of his learning, & reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lord.

9 The whole Congregation shall commend his wisdom, and it shall neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shall continue from one generation to another.

10 His wisdom shall be spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his praise.

Eccle. 44. 14.

11 While he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousand beside: and after death, the same name remaineth vnto him.

12 Yet wil I speake of moe men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the Moone.

13 Hearken vnto mee ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the field.

14 And giue ye a sweet smell as incense, flourish as the rose garden, sing a song of praise, & giue thanks vnto God ouer all his workes.

15 Giue magnificence vnto his Name, and set him forth in his praise with your lips, and with musicke and harmonie: yea, euen with the song of your lips, with harpes and playing, & in giuing thanks vnto him, say after this maner, 16 *All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his Commandements are meete and conuenient in due season.

17 A man need not to say, what is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: at his Commandement the water was as a wall, and at the word of his mouth the water stood still.

18 In his Commandement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his health cannot be diminished.

19 The workes of all flesh are befoze him, and there is nothing hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing too wonderfull or high vnto him.

21 A man need not to say then, what is this, or that? for he hath made all things to doe good vnto man.

22 His blessing shal run ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drought: so shal his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 * For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euil things for the vngodly.

26 All things necessary for the life of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, yron, and salt, meale, wheat, and hony, milke and wine, oyle and clothing.

27 * Al these things are created for the best to the faithfull: but to the vngodly shal all these things be turned to hurt and harne.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, & in their rigorousnesse haue they fastened their torment: in the time of the ende they shal powze out their strength, and pacifie the wrath of him that made them.

29 * Fire, haile, hunger, and death: all these things are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wild yoyfome beasts, the scorpions, serpents, and the sword, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shalbe glad to doe his Commandements, and when need is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shal not ouerpasse the Commandement of the Lord.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these things in writing, & to leaue them beinde me:

33 * All the workes of the Lord are good, and hee giueth euery one in due season, and when need is.

34 So that no man need to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all pleasant and good.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, & giue thanks vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Many miseries light in a mans life. 11 All things passe away, but a firme and stable faith remaineth. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

A Great trouaile is created for all men, and an heauie yoke vpon all the sommes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, till they be buried in the earth the mother of all things.

2 Namely their thoughtes and imaginati- ons, feare of the heart, counsell, meditations, longing and desiring the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glozious seat, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloziously arrayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, feare- fulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger, & strife: and in the night when one should rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the sleep changeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, as well as in the day of labour: he seareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And in the time of health he awaketh, and maruellet that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things happen vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but scuen folde to the vngodly.

9 * Whereouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and sword, oppzession, hunger, destruction, and punishment:

10 These things are all created against the vngodly, * and for their sakes came the flood also.

11 * All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe, and all waters ebbe againe into the sea.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shall be put away: but faithfulness and tructh shall endure for euer.

13 The substance and goods of the vngodly shalbe dried vp, and sinke away as a water flood, * and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

14 Like as the righteous reioycest when he openeth his hand: so shall the transgressours be faint, when their goods banish and consume away.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the high rocks, shall be rooted out befoze the grasse by the water side, and vpon the riuer banks.

17 Friendlinesse & liberalitie in the increafe and blessing of God, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: such mercie also and kindenesse endureth for euer.

Gen 1. 3. 1. mark. 7. 37.

2 The crea- tures of God are good by creation. But as good men vnto the glory of God, the pious of others, & their vnto necessite: so the vngodly doe not acknowledge them as the good gifts of God, but abhorre them either in riot and excess: or else in malice: like as the pious at them, take them for curse of God. 1. 19 To beget children and to repaire the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest wo- man is moze worth then they both.

20 Wine and minstrelie reioiceth the heart: but the loue of wisdome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a sweete noise: but a friendly tongue goeth beyond them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beauty: but a greene serde time, rather then them both.

23 A friend and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wife that agreeth with her husband.

24 Wethers & helpers are profitable in time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer moze then they both.

25 Gold and siluer fasten the feet: but a good counsell is moze pleasant then they both.

26 Tempozall substance and strength lift by the minde: but the feare of the Lord moze then they both: the feare of the Lord wanteth no- thing, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothing to beautifull as it is.

28 My sonne, lead not a beggers life: for bet- ter it were to die then to begge.

29 The life of him that looketh vpon ano- ther mans table, is not to be counted for a life, for he bereth his soule in other mens meate: but a wise and well nurtured man will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the vn- shamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The xlj. Chapter.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the law of God.

Death, howe bitter is the re- membrance of thee to a man that seeth rest and comfozt in his substance and riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to bere him, and that hath prosperie in all things, yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate?

2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in his last age, and that in all things is full of care and fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in despaire, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Bee not thou afraid of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou bee against this pleasure of the highest? whether it be ten, an hundred, or a thousand yeres, | death asketh not how long one hath liued.

5 The children of the vngodly are abomina- ble children, and so are they that keepe company with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall come to nought, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetuall shame and confusion.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly fa- ther: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Doe he vnto you, O yee vngodly, which haue forsaken the lawe of the highest God: for though ye doe increase, yet shall you perishe.

9 If ye doe liue, yee shall be accursed: if yee die, the curse shall be your portion.

10 * All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so goe the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their bodie: yet the * name of the vngodly shall be put out, for it is nothing worth.

12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that shall continue surer by thee then a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth for euer.

14 My children, keepe wisdome in peace: for wisdome that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is bet- ter then a man that hideth his wisdome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good in all things and alway to be ad- mired: true faith must prouice and measure it.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: bee ashamed of leasing before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of of- fence, before the congregation and people: of vni- righteousnesse, before a companion and friend:

19 Of theft, before thy neighbours: as for the truth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed thereof: be ashamed to lie with thine elbowes vpon the bzead, or to bee reprovued for giuing or taking:

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: be ashamed | to take and not giue:

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wife, and to make many trifling wordes with her maiden, or to stand by her bed side:

23 Be ashamed to bpbzaide thy friend: when thou giuest any thing, call him not in the teeth withall:

24 Do to report the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secret wordes: so shalt thou well bee shamefast, & shalt find fauour with all men.

15 I will remember the words of the Lorde, and declare the thing that I haue seene: In the words of the Lorde are his workes.

16 The Sunne ouerlooketh all things with his shine, || & all his workes are full of the clearnesse thereof.

17 Hath not the Lord brought to passe, that his saints should tell out all his wonderful workes which the Almighty Lorde hath stablished: all things endure in his glory.

18 Hee seeketh out the ground of the deepe, and the heart of man, and he knoweth all their imaginations and wisdom: for the Lorde knoweth all science, and he looketh into the token of the time.

19 Hee declareth the things that are past, and so to come, and discloseth things that are secret.

20 No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 He hath garnished the high excellent workes of his wisdom, and he is from euerslaking to euerslaking: vnto him may nothing bee added, neither can he be diminished, he hath no neede also of any mans countell.

22 How amiable are all his workes, and as a sparke to looke vpon?

23 They liue all and endure for euer: and whensoever neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.

24 They are all double one against another: hee hath made nothing that hath fault or blemish.

25 He hath stablished the goods of euery one: and who may be satisfied with his glory when he seeth it?

The glory of the height is the faire and cleare firmament, the beauty of the heauen is his glorious clearnesse.

2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous worke of the highest.

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abide for the heate thereof?

4 Who so keepeth an ouen when it is hote, three times more doeth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaines: when it breaketh out the fiery beames and shineth, with the brightnesse of it, it blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made it, and in his commandement he causeth it to runne hastily.

6 * The Moone also in all things according to her season, is a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

7 The * token of the solemne feast is taken of the moone, a light that minisheth and increaseth againe.

8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth wonderously in her changing.

9 The arnie of heauen also is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it giueth a cleare and a glorious shine: this is the clearnesse of the starres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparell that the Lord lightneth in the height.

10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them faileth in his watch.

11 * Looke vpon the Rainebowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in his shine.

12 Hee compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the * hands of the highest haue bended it.

13 Through his commandement he maketh the snow to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite hastily.

14 Through his commandement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules.

15 In his power hath hee strengthened the clouds, and broken the hailstones.

16 The mountaines || leape at the sight of him, the winde bloweth according to his will.

17 The sounde of his thunder beateh the earth, and so doeth the storme of the North: the whirlewinde also lighteth downe as a scarthered foule, casteth out, and spreadeth the snowe abroad, and as the Grasshoppers that destroy all, so falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is afraid at the raine of it.

19 Hee powreth out the frost vpon earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.

20 When the colde North wind bloweth, hard Christall commeth of the water: hee lighteth downe vpon all the gatherings together of water, and putteth on the water as a brasse plate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wildernesses: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out like fire.

22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloud commeth hastily, and when a dewe commeth vpon the heate, it shall be refreshed againe.

23 In his word hee stilleth the winde, in his 25 For there be strange wonderous workes, diuers maners of nice beastes, and whole fishes.

26 Through him are all things set in good or- der and performed, and in his word all things endure.

27 I speake much, but I cannot sufficiently attaine vnto it: for he himselfe onely is the per- fection of all wordes.

28 We should praise the Lord after all our po- wer, so he is great in all his workes.

29 The Lord is to be feared, yea, very great is he, and maruileous is his power, 30 Praise the Lord, & magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doeth he farre exceede all praise: Magnific him with al your power and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wise able sufficiently to praise him.

31 Who hath seene him, that hee might tell vs? Who can magnifie him so greatly as he is?

32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lord hath made all things, and giuen wisdom to such as feare God.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 The praise of certaine holy men, 16 Enoch, 17 Noah, 18 Abraham.

Let vs commend the noble famous men, and the generation of our foreelders and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes hath the Lord done in them, and shewed his great power euer since the begin- ning.

3 The noble famous men reigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wis- dome and vnderstanding, they followed the counsel shewed in the Prophecies:

4 They ledde the folke through the counsell and wisdom of the scribes of the people, wise sentences are found in their instructions:

5 They sought the sweetenesse and melodie of musick, and brought forth the pleasant songs in scripture:

6 They were rich also, and could comfort and pacifie those that dwelt with them.

7 All these were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were well repo- zed of in their times.

8 These haue left a name behinde them, so that their praise shall alway be spoken of.

9 Afterward there were some whose re- membrance is gone, they came to nought and perished, as though they had neuer bene, and be- came as though they had neuer bene borne, yea, and their children also with them.

10 Neuertheles, they are louing men, whose righteousness shall neuer be forgotten, but conti- nue by their posterity.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the covenant.

12 For their sakes that their children and seed continue for euer, and their praise shall neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.

14 The people can speake of their wisdom, and the congregation can talke of their praise.

15 Enoch walked right and acceptably be- fore the Lord, therefore was he translated for an example of amendment to the generations.

16 Noe was a steadfast and righteous man, and in the time of wrath hee became a reconcil- ling: therefore was hee left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

17 An euerlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more with the water.

18 Abraham was a great father of many people, in glory was there none like vnto him.

19 He kept the lawe of the highest, and came into a covenant with him.

20 He set the covenant in his flesh, and when he was proued, he was found faithfull.

21 Therefore I woze God vnto him with an oath, that he would blesse all people in his seed, that he would multiply and increafe him as the dust of the earth, & to erale his seed as the starres: yea, and that his seed should haue the possession and inheritance of the land, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the borders of the world.

22 With Isahac did he stablish the same coue- nant, for Abraham his fathers sake: Yea, that gracious blessing and health of all men, and cou- enant did he stablish with Isahac, and made it rest vpon the head of Jacob.

23 He knew him in that he prospered him so well and richly, and gaue him an heritage, and sundred his portion by it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Mercifull men brought hee out of him, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

5 For he heard his voice, and led him in the darke cloud, and there he gaue him the com- mandments, yea, the law of life and wisdom: that he might teach Jacob the covenant, and Is- rael his lawes.

11 Upon the same also there was a worke fastned and set with costly precious stones, all bound with gold, and this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastned for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure gold, a graven image of holinesse, a famous and noble worke, garnished, and pleasant to looke upon.

13 Before him were there seene no such faire ornaments, and these it behoued him alway to vse: there might none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Dayly performed hee his burnt offerings two times.

15 * Moses filled his handes, and anoynted him with holy oyle: this was now confirmed him with an euerlasting covenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely, that his children should alway minister before him, and performe the office of the Priesthood, and wish the people good in his name.

16 Before all men liuing chose hee him, that he should offer incense before the Lord, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembrance, that hee should reconcile the people of the Lord with him againe.

17 * He gaue him authoritie also in his Commandements, and in the Couenant, that hee should teach Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and enforme Israel in the Law.

18 * Wherefore there stood by certaine against him, and had enuie at him in the wilderness: namely, they that were of Dathan and Abiram's side, and the furious congregation of Choz.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: a great wonder did hee vpon them, and consumed them with the fire.

20 Besides this, hee made * Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, hee gaue him an heritage, and parted the first frutes vnto him: vnto him specially hee appointed the bread of sustenance.

21 For the priestes did eate of the offerings of the Lord: this gaue he vnto him and his seed.

22 * Else had he no heritage nor portion in the land and with the people: for the Lord himselfe is his portion and inheritance.

23 The thirde noble and excellent man is * Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar, which pleased the God of Israel, because hee had the zeale and feare of the Lord: for when the people were turned backe, he put himselfe forth right soone, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that hee should be the principall among the righteous in the people, that hee and his posteritie should haue the office of the Priesthood for euer.

25 Like as there was made a covenant with Dauid of the tribe of Iuda, that from among his sornes onely there should be a king, and that Aaron also and his seed should be an heritage, to give vs wisdom in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goods should not come into forgetfulnesse, and that their honour might endure for euer.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 The praise of Iosue, 9 Caleb, 13 Samuel.

M Anly and strong in battell was Iesus the sonne of Naue, and was the * succellour of Moses in prophesies, and was giuen to be captaine of the people, which according vnto his name was a great sauour vnto the elect of God, to punish the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel might obtaine their inheritance.

2 * O how great, noble, and excellent was he, when hee lift vp his hand, and drew out his sword against the cities!

3 Who stood so manly before him? for the Lord himselfe brought in the enemies.

4 * Stood not the sunne still at his commandement, and one day was as long as two?

5 He called vpon the highest and most mighty, when the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, and the mighty Lord heard him with the haile stones.

6 They smote the heathenish people mightily, and in falling downe, they slew all the aduersaries: so that the heathen knew his host, and all his defence, that the Lord himselfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them.

7 In the * time of Moses also he and Caleb the sonne of Iephunne did a good worke, which stood against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, and killed the wicked murmuring.

8 * And of sixe hundred thousand people of foot, they two were preferred, to bring them into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth with milke and honny.

9 The Lord * gaue strenght also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his age, so that he went vp into the hie places of the land, and his seed conquered the same for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Israel might see how good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lord.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euery one after his name, whose heart went not a whoying, nor departed from the Lord, and that forsooke not the Lorde vnfaithfully, whose remembrance hath a good report:

12 Yea, their bones flourish out of their place, and their names shall neuer be changed: but honour remaineth still with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuel the Prophet, * beloned of the Lord his God, ordeined a king, and anoynted the princes ouer the people.

14 In the law of the Lord ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The Prophet was found diligent in his faithfulness: yea, and he was knowen faithful in his wordes, because he saw the God of light.

16 * He called vpon the Lord almighty, when the enemies pleased upon him on every side, what time as he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lozde thundered from heauen, and made his voice to bee heard with a great noise.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyze, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

12. 19 * Before his last end, he made protestation in the sight of the Lozd and his anointed, that he tooke neither substance nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoe: and no man might accuse him.

20 After this hee tolde that his end was at hand, and shewed the king also his end & death, and from the earth lift he by his voice in the prophetic, that the vngodly people should perish.

The xlvij. Chapter.

1 The praise of Nathan, 2 Dauid, 12 and Solomon.

13. Afterward, in the time of king Dauid, there * rose by a Prophet called Nathan.

2 For like as the fat is fallen away from the offering: so was Dauid cholen out of the children of Israel.

3 He playd with the lions as with kids, and with beares, like as with lambs of sheepe.

4 * Slew hee not a giant when hee was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he tooke the stone in his hand, and smote downe proud Goliath with the sling?

5 For hee called upon the highest Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hand, so that hee ouerthrew the mighty giant in the battell, that he might set by the home of his people againe.

6 * So hee glorified him in ten thousand, and made him to haue a good reposit in the praise of the Lozd, that he should weare a crowne of glory.

7 * For hee destroyed the enemies on euery side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their home in sunder, like as it is broken yet this day.

8 In all his workes hee praised the highest and holiest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole heart did hee praise the Lozd, and loued God that made him.

9 Hee set * singers also before the altar, and in their time he made sweet songs, that they might giue praises euery day to God, with songs.

10 He ordeined to keepe the holy dayes worshipfully, and that the soleinne feasts thow the whole yeere should be honourably holden, with praising the Name of the Lozd, and with singing betimes in the morning in the Sanctuary.

11 * The Lozd tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his home for euer: he gaue him the covenant of the kingdome, and the throne of worship in Israel.

12 After him there rose by the wise sonne called Solomon, who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake hee browe the enemies away farre off.

13 This * Solomon reigned with peace in his time, and hee obtained glory: for God gaue him rest from his enemies on euery side, that hee might build him an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer.

14 Howe wise wast thou in thy youth, and filled with wisdom and vnderstanding, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou coueredst and filledst the whole land with similitudes, and wise prudent sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroad in the Isles, because of thy peace, thou wast beloved.

17 All landes marueiled at thy songs, proverbs, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 * And in the Name of the Lozd God, which is called the God of Israel, thou gatherdest gold as time, and thou haddest as much siluer, as lead.

19 * Thou wast moued in inordinate loue toward women, and wast overcome in affection.

20 Thou stainedst thy honour and worship, yea, thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lozd vpon thy children, and hast felt sorrow for thy folly.

21 So that thy kingdome was diuided, * and Ephraim became an vnfaithful and a rebellious kingdome.

22 * Neuertheless, God forsooke not his mercie: neither was hee bitterly destroyed, because of his workes, that he should leaue him no posteritie: as for the seed that came vpon him, which hee loued, hee brought it not bitterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him.

23 This reked Solomon with his fathers, and out of his seede hee left behinde him a very foolishnesse of the people, and such one as had no vnderstanding: euen * Roboam, which turned away the people through his counsaile, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, * which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlinesse.

24 In so much that their sinnes and misdeeds had the vpper hand so fore, that at the last they were driuen out of the land for the same.

25 Yea, hee fought out and brought by al wickednesse, till the vengeance came vpon them.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The praise of Elias, Elifeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

13. Hen stood by * Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his word burnt like a cresset.

2 Hee brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale hee made them few in number: for they might not a way with the Commandements of the Lozd.

3 * Through the word of the Lozd hee shut the heauen, and thre times brought he the fire downe.

4 O Elias, how honourable art thou in thy wonderful deedes: who may make his boast to be like thee?

5 * One that was dead thou raisedst by from death, & in the word of the highest thou broughtest him out of the graue againe.

6 Thou hast cast downe Kings, and destroyed them, and the honourable from their seat.

7 Upon the mount * Sina thou heardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

8 * which diddest anoynt Kings to recompense, and ordeinedst Prophets after thee.

9 * Thou wast taken by in the forme of fire, in a charet of fiery horses.

10 Thou wast ordeined in the reppouings in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lozd before it raged, to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the childe, and to set vp the tribes of Iacob againe.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and were garnished in loue, for wee liue in life: but after death we shall haue no such name.

4.Reg.2.11 12 * Elias was covered in the skymt. but Elixus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was afrayd of no pynce, and no man might overcome him.

4.Re.13.21 13 * There could no word deceiue him, and after his death his body prophesied.

4.Reg.5.14 14 He did wonders in his * life, and in death were his woꝝ his maruellous.

4.Re.18.12 15 For all this the people amended not, neither departed they from their sinnes, till they were caried a way prisoners out of the land, and were scattered abroad in all countreys, so that of them there remained but a very litle people, and a pynce vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit, some of them did right, and some heaped vp vngodlinesse.

4.Reg.18.2 17 * Ezechias made his city strong, conueyed water into it, digged thoroꝝ the stonie rocke with pyre, and made vp a wall by the water side.

4.Re.18.13 18 In his time came * Sennacherib by, and sent Rabshakes, lift vp his hand against Sion, and desired them with great pryde.

19 They trembled their hearts and hands, so that they sorrowed like a woman trauellling with child.

20 So they called vpon the Lord which is mercifull, and lift vp their hands before him, immediately the Lord heard them out of heauen.

21 He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies: but deliuered them by the hand of Eaias.

4.Re.19.22 22 * He smote the hoste of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and remained stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Eaias the great and faithfull Prophet in the sight of God had commaunded him.

4.Re.20.10 24 * In his time the Sun went backward, and he lengthened the kings life.

25 With a right spirit prophesied he what should come to passe at the last: and to such as were sorrowfull in Sion, he gaue consolation, wherewith they might comfort themselues for euermore.

26 See he shewed things that were for to come, and secret, or euer they came to passe.

The xlix. Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Ielus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Ioseph.

4.Reg.22.1 2.Chr.34.3 The remembrance of * Iosias is like as when the Apothecarie maketh many precious sweet smelling things together: his remembrance shall be sweet as honie in all banquettes, and as the playing of musicke, at a banquet of wine.

These also were sinners, but either they were iust laborers, which were in their countenances, or else they did repent, so that their sinnes were covered, so that they were admitted to be righteous.

2 Hee was appointed to turne the people againe, and to take a way all abominations of the vngodly.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lord, and in the time of the vngodly he set vp the worship of God againe.

4 All kings, except Dauid, Ezechias, and Iosias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kings of Iuda also forsooke the law of God.

5 For they gaue their home vnto other, their honour and worship also to a strange people.

6 Therefore was the elect cite of the Sanctuary burnt with fire, and the streets thereof layd desolate and waste in the hand of Ieremy.

7 For they intreated him euil, which neuertheless was a Prophet, ordeined from his mothers wombe, that he might root out, brake off, and destroy: and that hee might build vp, and plant againe.

8 Ezechiel saw the glory of the Lord in a vision, which was shewed him vpon the chariot of the Cherubims.

9 For he thought vpon the enemies in the raine, to do good vnto such as had ordered their wayes aright.

10 And the bones of the twelue Prophets flourished from out of their place, for they gaue comfort and consolation vnto Iacob, and deliuered them faithfullly.

11 * How shall we praise Zorobabel, which was a ring on the right hand.

12 So was * Ielus also the sonne of Iosedec: these men in their times builded the house, and set vp the sanctuary of the Lord againe, which was prepared for euerlasting worship.

13 And among the elect was * Nehemias, whose renowne was great, which set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the ports and barres againe, and builded our houses anew.

14 But vpon the earth there was no man created like * Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto Ioseph, which was lord of his brethren, and the vp-holder of his people: his bones were covered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboute all the beastes when he was created.

The I. Chapter.

1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord.

1 Simon the sonne of * Onias the high Priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, & in his dayes made fall the Temple.

2 The height of the Temple also was founded of him, the double building, and the high walles of the Temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his city, & made it strong, that it should not be besieged.

5 How honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house covered with the haire?

6 He gaue light as the morning starre in the middelt of the clouds, and as the moone when it is full:

7 He shined as the Sunne in the Temple of God, hee is as bright as the raine bowe in the faire clouds, mount Libanus in the time of Summer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde set with all manner of precious stones,

10 And as an Olive tree that is fruitfull, and as a Cypress tree which groweth by on high.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beauty, when he went to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.

12 When hee tooke the portions out of the priests hand, he himselfe stood by the hearth of the altar, and his brethren round about in order, as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, so stood they round about him:

13 And as the branches of the Olive tree, so stood all the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that hee might sufficiently performe his service vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the highest God.

15 He stretched out his hand, and tooke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: so he powred vpon the bottome of the altar a good smell vnto the highest prince.

16 Then began the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noise, for a remembrance and praise vnto the Lord.

17 Then all the people together were halled, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces, to worship the Lord their God, and to giue thanks to the almighty God.

18 They sung goodly also with their voices, so that there was a pleasant noise in the great house of the Lord.

19 And the people in their prayer besought the Lord the highest, that he would be mercifull till the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had ended their ministracion and service.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they should giue praise and thanks out of their lips vnto the Lord, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He beganne yet once also to pray, that he might openly shew the thanksgiving before the highest,

22 Namely thus, O giue praise and thanks alwey vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great things, which hath increased our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy:

23 That hee will giue vs the ioyfulness of heart, and peace for our time in Israel:

24 Which faithfullie keepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two manner of people that I abhorre from my heart, as for the third, whom I hate, it is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Sichimis.

27 I Iesus the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus of Hierusalem, haue tokened by these informacions and documents of wisdom and vnderstanding in this booke, and powred out the wisdom of my heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth himselfe there:

in: and whoso taketh such to heart, shall be wise for euer.

29 If he do these things, he shall be strong in all: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, which giueth wisdom to the goodly: the Lord be praised for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The Ij. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I will thanke thee, O Lord a King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I will peeld praise vnto thy Name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preferred my body from destruction, from the snares of traitorous tongues, and from the lips that are occupied with lies.

3 Thou hast benee my helper from such as stood by against me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaring of them that prepared the felucy to deuoure me, out of the hands of such as sought after my life, from the multitude of them that troubled me.

4 And from them that went about to set fire vpon mee on every side, so that I am not burnt in the midst of the fire:

5 From the decep of hell, from an unclean tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the king, and from an brighteous tongue.

6 My soule shall praise the Lord vnto death: for my life drew nigh vnto hell downward.

7 They compassed me round about on every side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about me if there were any man that would succour me: but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lord, and vpon thy acts that thou hast done euer of olde: namely, that thou deliuerest such as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the hands of the heathen.

9 Thus list I by my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the poud.

11 I will praise thy name continually, peelding honoz and thanks vnto it: and so my prayer was heard.

12 Thou savedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the brighteous time: therefore will I acknowledge a praise thee, and magnifie the Name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet but young, or euer I went astray, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 I came therefore before the Temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flourished shee vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.

15 My heart reioyced in her, then went my foot the right way: yea, fro my youth by sought I after her.

16 I bowed downe mine care, and receiued her: I found me much wisdom, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therefore will I ascribe the glorie vnto him that giueth me wisdom.

18 For I am aduised to do thereafter, I will be ielous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shall I not be confounded.

a Collatione is obtained by one of these three manners: first, by prayer, as Solomon did, and Iacob secondly, by diligent reading of Gods booke, wherein wisdom is contained, Dial. 10. Chap. 6. Thirdly, by goodly conversation and continuing in the grace of God, Job. 2. Job. 7. If any man will doe my will, he shall know my doctrine.

19 My soule hath wept with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her: I lift by my hands on high, then was my soule lightened through wisdom, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.
 20 I ordered my soule after her, shee and I were one heart from the beginning, and I found her in cleanness, and therefore shall I not be forsaken.
 21 My heart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.
 22 Through her the Lord hath given mee a new tongue, wherewith I will praise him.
 23 * Come vnto mee yee vnlearned, and dwell in the house of wisdom.
 24 Withdrow not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these things: for your soules are very thirsty.

 25 I opened my mouth, and spake, & come and buy wisdom without money.
 26 Bow downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shall receiue wisdom: she is hard at hand, and is content to be found.
 27 * Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but little labour, and yet haue found much rest.
 28 Receiue wisdom, and ye shall haue plentifulnesse of siluer and gold in possession.
 29 Let your minde reioyce in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.
 30 Worke his worke betimes, and hee shall giue you your reward in due season.

The end of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

And these are the words of the booke, which were written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maaias, the sonne of Sedechias, the son of Helchias at Babylon,
 2 In the fifth yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalem, and burnt it by with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the words of this booke, that Iechonias the son of Joachim king of Iuda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the booke.

4 And before all the nobles, the kings sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of Sodi:

5 Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachim the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with other priests, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem.

8 What time as they had gotten the vessels of the Temple of the Lord that were taken away out of the Temple, that they might bring them againe into the land of Iuda the tenth day of the moneth Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedechias the sonne of Iudas king of Iuda had made)

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with all his princes, lords, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they sayd, Beholde, we haue sent you money to buy you burnt offerings and incense withall, prepare a meat offering, and offer for sinne vpon the altar of the Lord our God.

11 And pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the wellfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may bee vpon earth as the dayes of heauen:

12 That God also may giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruiue, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God: for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord vpon the hie dayes, and at times conuenient.

15 Thus shall ye say, * The Lord our God is righteous, but we are woorthy of confusion and shame, like as it is come to passe this day vnto all Iuda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, 16 To our kings, princes, priests, prophets, and to our fathers.

17 * Wee haue sinned before the Lord our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor giue him credence.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a misbelieuing and an vs and to our fathers.

22 But euery man followed his owne minde and wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange gods, and to do euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinses 12 The Lord will that we obey vnto princes, although they be euill.

HOr the which cause the Lord our God hath performed his deuice, wherof hee certified vs and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea, and our kings, our princes,
with all Israel and Iuda.

2 And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, like as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, * according as it is written in the law of Moses,

3 That a man should eat the flesh of his owne sonne, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreover, hee hath deliuered them into the hands of all the kings that are round about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abroad in all lands and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voice.

6 Therefore * the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers, as reason is, are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs already, the Lord hath deuised them for vs.

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodly waies.

9 So the Lord hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for hee is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded vs:

10 which we also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voice, for to walke in the commandements of the Lord, that he hath giue vnto vs.

11 And * now, O Lord God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, with tokens and wonders, with thy great power, and outstretched arme, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaved our selues vngodly in all thy righteousness.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs, we beseech thee, for wee are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thine owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs a way:

15 That all lands may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy Name.

16 O Lord, * looke down from thy holy house vpon vs, incline thine eare, and heare vs.

17 * Open thine eyes and behold, for the dead that be gone downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness.

18 But the soule that is bered for the multitude of her sinnes, which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begun to faile, yea, such a soule ascribeth praise and righteousness vnto the Lord.

19 For we poure out our prayers before thee, and require mercie in thy sight, O Lord our God, not for any godliness of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou didst threaten vs by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Bow downe your shoulders and necks, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remaine still in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 * But if yee will not heare the voice of the Lord your God, to serue the king of Babylon,

23 I will destroy you in the cities of Iuda, within Hierusalem and without: I will also take from you the voice of mirth, and the voice of ioy, the voice of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, and there shall no man dwell moze in the land.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voice, to doe the thing of Babylon service: and therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the prophets: namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of of our fathers should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, now are they layd out in the heat of the sunne, and in the colde of the night, and dead in great misery, with hunger, with sword, with pestilence, and are cleane cast forth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy Name was called vpon: thou hast layed it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast increated vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great louing mercy of thine.

28 * Like as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest command him to write thy law before the children of Israel,
saying,

29 If ye will not hearken vnto my voice, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very small people among the nations, for I will scatter them abroad.

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that all folke will not heare me, for it is an hard necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember themselves.

31 And learne to know that I am the Lord their God, when I giue them an heart to vnder-stand, and eares to heare.

32 Then shall they praise me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their ungodlinesse: then shall they remember the things that happened vnto their fathers which sinned against me.

34 So will I bring them againe into the land which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it, yea, I will increase them, and not minish them.

35 And I will make another covenant with them, such one as shall endure for ever: namely, that I will be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the land that I have giuen them.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Onely God was the finder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

And now, O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercifull God: be gracious vnto vs, for wee haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for ever: should wee then bitterly perish?

4 O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord their God, for the which cause these plagues hang now vpon vs.

5 O Lord, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name now at this time:

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captiuitie, and that wee might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, whereas thou hast scattered vs, to be an abomination, curse, and subiect to eractions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of all their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lord our God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life, ponder them well with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wisdom.

10 But how happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land? thou art warden olde in a strange countrey, and desiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become like them that goe downe to their graues?

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the well of wisdom.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truly, thou shouldest haue remained still safe in thine owne land.

14 O learne then where is wisdom, where vertue is, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest know also from whence cometh long continuance and life, the light of the eyes, and quietnesse.

15 Who euer found out her place? or who came euer into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth,

17 They that had their pastime with the fowles of the aire, they that hoozded by siluer and gold wherein men trust so much, and made no end of their gathering?

18 What is become of them that coined siluer, and were so carefull, and could not bring their works to passe?

19 They be rooted out, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come by in their steads.

20 Vong men haue scene light, and dwell vpon earth: but the way of reformation haue they not knowen.

21 For vnderstand the paths thereof: neither haue their children receiued it, yea, right farre is it from them.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene scene at The-man.

23 The Agarens sought after wisdom, but that which is earthly, like as the merchants of the land doe: they of The-man are cunning also, they labour for wisdom and vnderstanding: but the way of true wisdom they know not, neither do they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and how large is the place of his possession?

25 Great is he, and hath none end: yea, high and vmeasurable.

26 What is become of those famous giants, that were so great of bodies, and so worthy men of warre?

27 Those hath not the Lord chosen, neither haue they found the way of reformation:

28 Therefore were they destroyed, and forso-much as they had no wisdom, they perished because of their foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone by into heauen, to take wisdom there, and brought her downe from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, and hath chosen her aboue golde, and so brought her hither?

31 No man knoweth the wayes of wisdom, neither is there any that can seeke out her paths.

32 But he that woteth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his foreknowledge, the same is he which prepared the earth at the beginning, and filled it with all manner of fowles and beasts.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 The starres keepe their watch, and giue their light, yea, and that gladly: when he calleth them, they say, Heere we be: and so with chearefulness they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 It is he that hath found out all wisdom, and hath giuen her vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shew himselfe vpon earth, and dwell among men.

The iij. Chapter.

His is the booke of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that keepe it shall come to life, but such as forsake it shall come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it, walke by this way thoww his brightnesse and shine.

3 Giue not thine honoz to another, and thy worship to a strange people.

4 O Israel, how happy are we, seeing that God hath shewed vs such things as are pleasant vnto him?

5 Be of good cheere, thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel.

6 Now are ye sold among the heathen, howbeit, not for your vtter destruction: but because ye pouched God the Lord to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enemies.

7 For ye displeased the euerlasting God that made you, offering vnto devils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp, and ye haue grieved Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she saw that the wrath of God was comming vpon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes & daughters, which the euerlasting God will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them: but now must I leaue them with weeping and sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me, widow, and forsaken, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate of euery man: for why? they departed from the law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his comandements: and as for the pathys of truely and godlines, they had no lust to go in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and let vs call to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpon my sonnes and daughters.

15 He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an incourteous people, and of a strange language, which neither regard the olde, nor pity the yong.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone both desolate and childlesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O my children, goe your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackerloth of prayer, and for my time I will call vpon the most highest.

21 Be of good cheere, O my children, cry vnto the Lord, and he shall deliuer you from the power of the princes your enemies.

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea, a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shall haue of our euerlasting Sauiour.

23 With mourning & weeping did I let you goe from me: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse shall the Lord bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honoz and euerlasting worship.

25 O my children, suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone rough hard waies, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abroad with the enemies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto the Lord: for he that led you away hath you yet in remembrance.

28 And like as ye haue bene minded to swarue from your God: so shall you now indeuour your selues tenne times moze to turne againe, and to seeke him.

29 For he that brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your health.

30 Take a good heart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, crieth thee so to do.

31 The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shall perish: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shall be punished.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue carried away thy sonnes, shall be corrected.

33 For like as they be now glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shall be taken away, and their cheere shall be turned to sorow.

35 For a fire shall fall vpon them from the euerlasting God, long to endure, and it shall be inhabited of devils for a great season.

36 O Hierusalem, looke about thee toward the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abroad, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the word of the Holy one, vnto the honoz of God.

The v. Chapter.

3 For vpon thee wil God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea, an euerlasting name shall be giuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnes, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Arise, O Hierusalem, stand by on high, looke about thee toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West, which reioyce in the holy word, hauing God in remembrance.

Baruch 5.6

Baruc. 4. 36

6 They departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies : but now shall the Lord bring them carried with honour, as children of the kingdom.

7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stony mountaines, yea, and all high rocks, to fill the valleys, and so to make them even with the ground, that Israel may be diligent to live unto the honour of God.

8 The woods & all pleasant trees shall overshadow Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For hither shall God bring Israel with ioyfull mirth, and in the light of his Majesty with the mercy and righteousnesse that commeth of himselfe.

The vj. Chapter.

A copy of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were led away prisoners by the king of Babylon : wherein hee certifieth them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

BEcause of the sinnes that yee have done against God, ye shall be led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

2 So when yee be come into Babylon, yee shall remaine there many yeres, & for a long season, namely, <sup>a</sup> seven generations : and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

3 * Nowe shall yee see in Babylon gods of golde, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearefullnesse before the heathen.

4 But looke that ye doe not as the other : be not ye afrayd, and let not the feare of them overcome you.

5 Therefore when yee see the multitude of people worshipping them behinde and before, say ye in your hearts, O Lord, it is thou that oughtest onely to be worshipped.

6 Mine Angel also shall be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

7 As for the timber of those gods, the car-penter hath polished them : yea, gilted be they, and layd out with siluer, yet are they but baine things, and cannot speake.

8 Like as a wench that loveth paramours, is trimly deckt : euen so are these made, and hanged with gold.

9 Crownes of golde verily haue their gods vpon their heads : so the priests themselves take golde and siluer from them, and put it to their owne bies :

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto harlots, and trimme their whores withall : againe they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therewith :

11 Yet cannot these gods deliuer themselves from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue covered them with clothing of purple, they wipe their faces for the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hand as though he were a iudge of the countrey, yet can hee not slay such as offend him.

14 Another hath a sword or an axe in his hand : for all that, he is neither able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from murderers.

15 By this, ye may vnderstand that they be no gods : therefore see that yee neither worship them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessel that a man bleseth, is nothing woorth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods : when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feet of those that come in.

17 And like as the doozes are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue : euen so the priests keepe the doozes with barres and locks, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

18 They set vp candles before them, yea berily, and that many, whereof they cannot see one : but euen as blocks, to stand they in the temple.

19 It is sayd, that the serpents and wormes which come of the earth, gnaw out their hearts, eating them and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swallows, and birds flie vpon them, yea, and the cats run over their heads.

22 By this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue, is to make them beautifull : for all that, except some body dight off their rust, they will giue no shine, and when they were call into a soyme, they felt it not.

24 * They are bought for money, and haue no breath of life within them.

25 They must be borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feet, whereby they declare vnto men that they be nothing woorth : confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the ground, they can not rise by againe of themselves : Yea, though one helpe them by, and set them right, yet are they not able to stand alone, but must haue proppes set vnder them like dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offered vnto them, their priests sell it, and abuse it, yea, the priests wiues take thereof : but vnto the like and poore they giue nothing of it :

28 The woman with child, and the menstruous, lay hands of their offerings : by this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not afrayd of them.

29 From whence commeth it then, that they be called gods ? because women sit before the gods of siluer, gold, and wood,

30 And the priests sit in their temples, having open clothes, whose heads and beards are shauer, and haue nothing vpon their heads, 31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

32 The priests also take away the garments of the images, and decke their wiues and children withall.

33 Whether it be good or euill that any man doe vnto them, they are not able to recompense it : they can neither set by a king, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner, they may neither giue riches, nor reward euill : though a man make a bow vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his need.

In this chapter are the makers and maintainers of images mightie confuted, 38 Their gods of wood, stone, golde, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that be betwen of the mountaine: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

39 How should they then be taken for gods?
yea, how dare men call them gods?

40 And though the Chaldees worshipped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe,
and could not speake:

41 Yet they themselves offer vnto Bel, and would saue him to speake: as who say they could feele that may not moue.

42 But when these men come to vnderstanding, they forsake them, for their gods haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women girt with cords, sit in the streets, and burne oliue berries: How if one of them be conueyed away, and lie with such as come by, she casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not worthly reputed, no: her cord broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but in vaine and lost: How may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them:
neither he they any other thing but euen what the workeman will make of them.

46 Yea, the goldsmiths themselves that make them, are of no long continuance: howe should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 Vaine therefore are the things, yea, very shame it is that they leaue behind them for their posteritie.

48 For as soone as there cometh any warre or plague vpon them, then the priestes imagine where they may hide themselves with them.

49 How can men then thinke that they bee gods, which neither may defende themselves from warre, no: deliuer them from misfortune?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, of stone, of siluer, and of gold, all people & kings shall knowe hereafter, that they be but vaine things: yea, it shal be openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very worke of mens hands, and that God hath nothing to doe with them.

51 It is manifest then, that they are no gods, but the worke of mens hands, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in the land, no: giue raie vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither defend the land from wrong: for they are not able to doe so much as a crowe that lieth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 Where there happeneth a fire into the house of those gods of wood, and siluer, and of gold, the priestes wil escape and saue themselves, but the gods burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any king or bat-tel: how may it then be thought or granted that they be gods?

56 Whereouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of gold & siluer, may neither defend themselves from theues no: robbers.

57 Yea, the very wicked are stronger then they: these strip them out of their apparell that they be clothed withall, these take their golde and siluer from them, and so get them away, yet can they not helpe themselves.

58 Therefore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shew his power, or els a profit-table vessel in a house, wherein he that oweth it might haue pleasure, yea, or to be a doore in a house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then to be such a vaine god.

59 The sunne, the moone, and all the starres, seeing they giue their shine and light, are obedient, and doe men good.

60 When the lightening glistereth, all is cleare.

61 The winde bloweth in euery countrey:
and when God commandeth the clouds to goe round about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commanded, it burneth by hills & woods:
but as for these gods, they are not like one of these things, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke no: say that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, no: doe men good.

64 For so much now as yee are sure that they be not gods, then feare them not.

65 For they can neither speake euill no: good of kings.

66 They can shew no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neither shine as the sunne, no: giue light as the moone:

67 Yea, the vnreasonable beastes are better then they: for they can get them vnder the rooffe, and doe themselves good.

68 So can yee bee certified by no maner of meanes that they be gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrow in a garden of herbs keepeth nothing: euen so are their gods of wood, of siluer, and gold.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euery bird sitteth vpon, yea, like as a dead body that is call in the darke: euen so is it with these gods of wood, siluer, and gold.

71 By the purple and scarlet which they haue vpon them, and soone fadeth away, ye may vn-derstand that they be no gods: yea, they themselves shal be consumed at the last, which shal be a great confusion of the land.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Baruch,

The song of the three children vvhich

were put into the hote burning ouen. The common translation readeth this song in the third Chapter of Daniel.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The cruelty of the king.
48 The fire deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the fornace.

As they walked in the midst of the flame, praising God, and magnifying the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood by, and prayed in this manner, euen in the midst of the fire opened hee his mouth, and sayd, 26 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers, right worthy to be praised and honoured is that name of thine for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all things that thou hast done to vs, yea, faithfull are all thy workes, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements true.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hierusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement: yea, according to right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes:

29 For why? we haue offended and done wickedly, departing from thee.

30 In all things haue we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commaundements, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast bidden vs that we may prosper.

31 Wherefore all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our enemies, among bngodly and wicked abominations, and to an bnrighitous king, yea, the most forward vpon earth.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes, wee are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake we beseech thee giue vs not by for euer, breake not thy couenant.

35 And take not away thy mercie from vs for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruant Isahacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake:

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiplie their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any people, and bee kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes.

38 So that now wee haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burnt offering, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor sanctuary before thee.

39 Therefore beseech thee, in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let vs be receiued, that we may obtaine thy mercie.

40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thousands of fatte lambs: so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we followe thee with all our heart, we feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles, O Lord, and get thy name an honour, that all they which doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded:

44 Let them be ashamed through thy almighty power, and let their strength be broken:

45 That they may know how that thou only art the Lord God, and honour worthy throughout all the world.

46 And the kings seruants that put them in, cealed not to make the ouen hot with wild fire, drie strawe, pitch, towne, and faggots.

47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:

48 Yea, it tooke away and burnt by those Chaldees that it gate hold vpon beside the ouen.

49 But the angel of the Lord came downe into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, and smote the flame of the fire out of the ouen, 50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had bene a cold winde blowing: so the fire neither touched them, grieued them, nor did them hurt.

51 Then these thre as out of one mouth, praised, honoured, and blessed God in the fornace, saying, 52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art praise and honour worthy, yea, and to bee magnified for euermore.

53 Blessed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is worthy to bee praised and magnified in all worlds.

54 Blessed be thou in the holy temple of thy glory: for aboute all things thou art to bee praised, yea, and more then worthy to be magnified for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the throne of thy kingdom: for aboute all thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to bee more then magnified for euer.

56 Blessed bee thou that lookest throuwe the deepe, and sitest vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthy to be praised, and aboute all to be magnified for euer.

57 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art praise and honour worthy for euer.

58 O all ye workes of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him and let him by for euer.

59 O ye Angels of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him and let him by for euer.

The storie of Sufanna, which is the xiiij. Chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

1 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Sufanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They entice her to wickednesse. 23 She chooseth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accused. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Iocim,

2 What took a wife whose name was Sufanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very faire woman, and such a one as feared God.

3 Her father and her mother also were good people, and taught their daughter, according to the Law of Moses.

4 Nowe Iocim her husband was a great rich man, and had a faire orchard ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Jewes commonly, because hee was a man of reputation among them.

5 The same yeere were there made two

Judges, such as the Lord speaketh of, The wickednesse of Babylon connecth from the Elders, that is, from the Judges which seeme to rule the people.

6 These came oft to Iocims house: and all such as had any thing to doe in the Lawe, came thither vnto them.

7 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Sufanna went into her husbands orchard to walke.

8 The two elders seeing this, that she went in dayly and walked, they burned for lust to her,

9 Yea, they were almost out of their wites, and cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember that God is a righteous Judge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neither durst one shewe another his grieffe:

11 And for shame they durst not tell her their inordinate lust, that they would faine haue had to doe with her:

12 Yet they layd wait for her earnestly from day to day, that they might at the least haue a sight of her.

13 And the one sayd to the other, wy, let vs goe home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way one from another.

14 When they returned againe, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt themselves. yea, the one told the other of his wicked lust: then appointed they a time when they might take Sufanna alone.

15 It happened also that they spied out a convenient time, when she went forth to walke, as her maner was, and no body with her but two maidens, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden: for it was an hot season.

16 And there was not one person there, except the two elders that had hid themselves to behold her.

17 So she sayd to her maidens, Go, fetch me oile and sope, and shut the orchard dooze, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the orchard dooze, and went out themselves at a backe dooze to fetch the thing that she had commanded: but Sufanna knew not that the elders lay there hid within.

19 Now when the maidens were gone forth, the two elders gate them by, and ran vpon her, saying,

20 Now the orchard doozes are shut, that no man can see vs, we haue a lust vnto thee, therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we shall bring a testimoniall against thee, that there was a yong fellow with thee, & that thou hast sent away thy maidens from thee for the same cause.

22 Sufanna sighed, and sayd, Alas, I am in trouble on euery side: though I followe your minde, it will be my death: and if I consent not vnto you, I cannot escape your hands.

23 Well, it is better for me to fall into your hand without the deed doing, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 And with that she cried out with a loud voice: the elders also cried out against her.

25 Then ran there one to the orchard dooze, and knote it open.

26 Now when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the orchard, they rushed in at the backe dooze, to see what the matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for why? there was neuer such a report made of Sufanna.

28 On the morow after, came the people to Joacim her husband, and the two elders came also full of malicious imaginations against Sufanna, to bring her vnto death.

29 And spake thus before the people, Send for Sufanna the daughter of Helchias, Joacims wife. And immediatly they sent for her.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Sufanna was a tender person, and marvellous faire of face.

32 Wherefore the wicked men commanded to take her clothes from her face (for she was covered) that at the least they might so be satisfied in her beauty.

33 When her friends, yea, and all they that knew her, began to weepe.

34 These two elders stood by in the mids of the people, and layed their hands vpon the head of Sufanna.

35 which wept, and looked by toward heauen: for her heart had a sure trust in the Lord.

36 And the elders sayd, As we were walking in the orchard alone, this woman came in with her two maidens, whom she sent away from her, and sparrd the orchard doozes:

37 with that a yong fellow which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 As for vs, we stood in a corner of the orchard: & when we saw this wickednesse, we ran to them, & we saw them as they were together.

39 But we could not holde him, for he was stronger then we. Thus he opened the dooze, and gate him away.

40 Now when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong fellow this was, but she would not tell vs. This is the matter, and we be witnesses of the same.

41 The common sort belceued them, as those that were the Elders and Judges of the people, and so they condemned her to death.

42 Sufanna cried out with a loud voice, and sayd, O euerlasting God, thou searcher of secrets, thou that knowest all things before they come to passe:

43 Thou wotest that they haue borne false witness against me, and beholde, I must die, whereas I neuer did any such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

45 For when she was led forth to death, the Lord raised by the spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.

46 which cried with a loud voice, I am cleane from this blood.

47 Then all the people turned towards him, and sayd, What meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 Daniel stood in the mids of them, and said, Are ye such foolles, O ye children of Israel, that yee can not discern and know the truth? yee haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto death, and know not the truth wherefore.

49 So sit in iudgement againe: for they haue spoken false witness against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all the haste: and the elders, that is, the principal heads, sayd vnto him, Come sit downe here among vs, and shew vs this matter, seeing God hath giuen thee as great honour as an elder.

51 And Daniel sayd vnto them, But these two aside one from another, and then shall I examine them.

52 When they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, & sayd vnto him, O thou olde cankered carle, that hast bled thy wickednesse so long, thine vngacious deeds which thou hast done afore, are now come to light.

53 For thou hast giuen false iudgements, thou hast oppressed the innocent, and letten the guilty go free: whereas yet the Lord sayth, The innocent and righteous see thou slay not.

54 Well then, if thou hast seene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? He answered, vnder a Mulberie tree.

55 And Daniel sayd, wery well, now thou liest euen vpon thine head: loe, the messenger of the Lord hath receiued the sentence of him to cut thee in two.

56 Then put he him aside, and called for the other, and saide vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, but not of Iuda, fairenesse hath deceiued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus delt ye afoze with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare consented vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now tell me then, vnder what tree diddest thou take them companying together? He answered, vnder a Pomegranate tree.

59 Then saide Daniel vnto him, Very well, nowe thou liest also euen vpon thine head: the messenger of the Lord standeth waiting with the sword to cut thee in two, and slay you both.

60 With that all the whole multitude gaue a great shout, and praised God, which alway deliuereth them that put their trust in him.

61 And they came vpon the two elders, whom Daniel had conuict with their owne mouth, that they had giuen faile witnessse, 62 And dealt with them euen likewise as they would haue done with their neighbours, yea, they did according to the Lawe of Moses, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

63 Then Helcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Sufanna, with Ioaquim her husband, and all the kindred, that there was no dishonellie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And King Astiages was layed with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his stead.

The story of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the 14. Chapter of Daniel, after the Latin.

Daniel did eate at the Kings table, and was had in reuerence aboue all his friends.

2 There was at Babylon an image called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie sheepe, and sixe great pots of wine.

3 Him did the King worship himselfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worshipped his owne God: and the King said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

4 He answered and said, Because I may not worship things that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

5 The King saide vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? or feelest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

6 Daniel smiled, and said, O King, deceiue not thy selfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of brasse without, neither eateth he euer any thing.

7 Then the King was wroth, and called for his priests, and said vnto them, If ye tell me not who is this that eateth by these expences, yee shall die:

8 But if ye can certifie mee that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the king, Let it so be, according as thou hast said.

9 The priests of Bel were threescore & ten, besides their wiues and children: And the King went with Daniel into the Temple of Bel.

10 So Bels priests said, Lo, we will goe out: and set thou the meat there, O King, and powze in the wine, then shut the dooze fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

11 And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eate by al, we wil suffer death: or els Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

12 The priests thought themselves sure ynough: for vnder the altar they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and did eate by what there was.

13 So when they were gone forth, the King set meates befoze Bel: Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring ashes, and these hee sifted thoroout all the temple, that the King might see: then went they out, and sparrd the dooze, sealing it with the Kings signet, and so departed.

14 In the night came the priests, with their wiues and children as they were wont to doe, and did eate and drinke by all.

15 In the morning betimes, at the breake of the day, the King arose, and Daniel with him.

16 And the king saide, Daniel, are the scales whole yet? He answered, Yea, O King, they be whole.

17 Now as soone as he had opened the dooze, the King looked vnto the altar, and cryed with a lowd voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the King that he should not go in, & said, Behold the pavement, marke wel, whose footsteps are these?

19 The king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children.

20 Therefore the king was angry, and took the priests, with their wiues and children: and they shewed him the priuie doozes where they came in, and did eate by such things as were vpon the altar:

and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, which destroyed him and his temple.

22 And in that same place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

23 And the King saide vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is but a god of brasse also? Lo, he liueth, he eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say that he is no liuing god: therefore worshipp him.

24 Daniel said vnto the King, I wil worships the Lord my God, he is the true liuing God: as for this, he is not the god of life.

25 But giue me leaue, O King, and I shal destroy this Dragon without sword or staffe. The King said, I giue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitch, fat, and haire of wooll, and did seeke them together, and made lumps thereof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel saide, Loe, there is hee whom yee worshipped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon, and put the priests to death.

28 So they came to the King, and saide, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thine house.

29 Now when the King saw that they rushed in so sore vpon him, and that necessitie constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

30 which cast him into the Lions den, where he was sixe dayes.

31 In the den there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies, and two sheepe: which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Turie a Prophet called Habacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the fildes for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the Angel of the Lord saide vnto Habacuc, Go cary the meat that thou hast, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, which is in the Lions den.

34 And Habacuc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, and as for the denne, I know it not.

35 * When the Angel of the Lord tooke him by the toppe, and bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

36 And Habacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, thou seruant of God, haue, take the breakefast that God hath sent thee.

37 And Daniel sayde, O God, hast thou thought vpon me? well, thou neuer failest them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel arose, and did eat. And the Angel of the Lord set Habacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.

39 vpon the seuenth day the King went to beweepe Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel sate in the midst of the Lions.

40 Then cried the King with a lowde voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

41 And he drewe him out of the Lions denne, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

42 After this wrote the King vnto all people, kinreds, & tongues, that dwell in all countreys,

43 Saying, Peace be multiplied with you: my commandement is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God, which endureth for euer:

44 His kingdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is cuerlasting.

45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, he doth wonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

¶ The prayer of Manasses King of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, and of the righteous seed of them, which hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornament thereof, which hast ordained the Sea by the word of thy Commandement, which hast shut by the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull and laudable Name, which all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threating, the which is impoxtable to sinners, but the mercy of thy promise is great and vnsearchable: for thou art the Lord God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercifull, and repentant vpon the malice of men: thou Lord after thy goodnesse hast promised repentance of the remission of finnes, and thou that art the God of the righteous, hast not put repentance to the righteous, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the lands of the Sea, and that mine iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled with many bands of yon, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before thee, in committing abominations, and multiplying offences: And now I bow the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee, O Lord. I haue sinned, Lord, I haue sinned, and know mine iniquitie. I desire thee by prayer, O Lord, forgive mee, forgive mee, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember mine euils to punish them: but saue me (which am unworthy) after thy great mercy, & I wil praise thee euerlastingly al the daies of my life: for all the power of heauen praiseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, world without end. Amen.

A necessary Table for the knowlledge of the state of Iuda, from the beginning of the Monarchie of the Greekes (where the Table that we haue set fourth vpon Esdras endeth) vntill the death and passion of IESVS CHRIST.

¶ The 70. weekes fore-shewed by Daniel, Dan. 9.

The Angel of the Lord sent to Daniel, sayde, that it was seuentie weekes of yeeres, that is to say, seuentie times seuen, which cometh to 490. from the giuing forth of the comandement that Hierusalem should be builded againe and restored, vntill Christ the Prince. This comandement was giuen fourth by the mouth of Darius Longhand, Monarch of the Persians, the yeere of his reigne, as it is written in Nehem. 2. Therefore the said seuentie weekes ought to begin there, though al agree not therein: for some beginnie it in the second yeere of the said Darius: other, the first yeere of Cyrus. So that from the beginning of the said weekes, til the time that Alexander vsurped the Monarchie, we reckon foure yeeres and eightene weekes, which maketh 130. yeeres. To shew the verifying of the said weekes, according to the aforesaid prophety of Daniel 9. we will proportion them with the yeeres in which the kings of Syria (set here in order on the right side) haue ended their kingdom eche of them in order.

¶ The Monarchie of the Greekes.

Alexander the great, sonne to Philip king of Macedon, conquered the Monarchie of the Persians from Darius, the 192. yeere of Cyrus the first Monarch, and transported it to the Greeks: he reigned sixe whole yeeres, and the seuenth died, leauing diuers successors, to whom he diuided the saide Monarchie before his death, that is, the kingdomes of Syria, Asia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We will here treat of his successours the Kings of Syria only, because the Scripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the supputatiō of the yeres by the time that the saide Kings reigned, beginning at the first, as appeareth in the first booke of the Machabees. And wee will orderly set their names, and the time that ech of them hath reigned, to conferre them with the number of the weeks placed on the left side of this Table, to the end the saide weekes may be verified, and that the prophetic of Daniel may be plainly vnderstood, touching the coming and death of our Saviour Christ.

¶ The state of the Iewes.

After the people of the Lord were deliuered from the captiuitie of Babylon by Cyrus, and returned vnto their land vnder the conduct of Zorobabel, there was no more name of King in Iuda, but of Prince and Gouvernour, which were for the most part of the line of Iuda, and are these that followe.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

2 After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdom, fter that Alexander king of Macedonia, sonne of Philip, went forth of the land of Cethim, and slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him as hee had done before in Grecia:

2 It happened that hee tooke great warres in hand, wanne very many strong cities, & slew many kings of the earth,

3 Going thorow to the endes of the world, and getting many spoies of the people, in so much that the whole world stood in awe of him, and therefore was he proud in his heart.

4 Nowe when hee had gathered a mightie strong horse,

5 And subdued the landes and people, with their Princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceived that he must needs die,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had bene brought by with him of children, and parted his kingdom among them while hee was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander reigned twelue yeres, and then dyed.

9 After his death fell the kingdom vnto his Princes, and they obtained it every one in his roome,

10 And caused themselves to be crowned as kings: and so did their children after them many yeres, and much wickednesse increased in the world.

11 Out of these came the vngodly roote noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus the king, which had bene a pledge at Rome: and he reigned in the hundred thirtieth and seven yere of the empire of the Greekes.

12 In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsell, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathen that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, wee haue had much to do.

13 So this deuise pleased them well.

14 And certaine of the people tooke vpon them for to goe vnto the king, which gaue them licence to do after the ordinance of the heathen.

15 Then set they by an open schoole at Hierusalem, of the lawes of the heathen:

16 And made themselves vncircumcised, but forsooke the holy Testament, and toynd themselves to the heathen, and were cleane sold to doe mischief.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mighty in his kingdom, hee went about to obtaine the land of Egypt also, that hee might haue the dominion of two realmes, 18 Upon this entred hee into Egypt with a strong hoste, with charets, elephants, horsemen, and a great number of ships, 19 And beganne to warre against Ptolome the king of Egypt: but Ptolome was afraid of him, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundred fortieth and thre yere, and went toward Israel,

22 And came to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden altar, the candlesticke, and all the ornaments thereof, the table of the shew bread, the pouring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the baile, the crownes, and golden apparell of the Temple, and brake downe all in pieces.

24 Hee tooke also the silver and golde, the pretious iewels, and the secret treasures that he found.

25 And when he had taken away all together, caused a great murder of men, and spoken very proudly, he departed into his owne land.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation thorowout all Israel.

27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the young men and the maidens were defiled, and the faire beautie of women was changed.

28 The bridegrome and the bride tooke them to mourning,

29 The lande and those that dwelt therein, was moued: for all the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

30 After two yeres the king sent his chiefe treasurer vnto the cities of Iuda, which came to Hierusalem with a great multitude of people,

31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence, 32 He fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it toze, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoiled the citie, hee set fire on it, calling downe houses and walles on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away their cattell.

35 Then builded they the city of David with a great and thicke wall, & with mighty towres, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people, and vngodly men to keepe it, 37 Stored it with weapons and victuals, gathered the goods of Hierusalem, and layd them by there: thus became it a theatish castle.

38 Thus they became a heauie burden, laying wait for the people that went into the sanctuary, and for the cruell destruction of Israel.

39 Thus they shed innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:

40 Inſomuch that the citizens were faine to depart, and the city became an habitation of ſtrangers, being deſolate of her owne ſeede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.

41 Her ſanctuary was cleane waſted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbathes were had in deriſion, and her honour brought to nought.

42 <sup>k</sup> Looke how great her glozy was befoze, ſo great was her conſuſion, and her ioy turned into ſorrow.

43 Antiochus alſo the king ſent out a commiſſion vnto all his kingdome, that all the people ſhould be one.

44 Then they left euery man his law, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundment of king Antiochus:

45 Yea, many of the Iſraelites conſented therunto, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king Antiochus ſent his meſſengers with his commiſſion vnto Hieruſalem, and to all the cities of Iuda, that they ſhould follow the lawes of the heathen:

47 And forbade the whole burnt offering, meate offering, or peace offering to be made in the temple of God, & that there ſhould no Sabbath nor high day be kept:

48 But commanded that the ſanctuarie and the holy people of Iſrael ſhould be defiled:

49 He commanded alſo, that there ſhould be ſet vp altars, temples, and idoles, to offer by ſwines fleſh, and vncleane beaſts,

50 That men ſhould leaue their children vncircumciſed, to defile their ſoules with all manner of vncleaneſſe and abominations:

51 That they might ſo forget the lawe: and change all the holy ordinances of God, 52 And that whoſoever would not doe according to the commaundment of king Antiochus, ſhould ſuffer death.

53 In like manner commanded he throughout all his realme, and ſet rulers over the people, for to compell them to doe theſe things:

54 Commanding all the cities of Iuda to doe ſacrifice vnto idoles.

55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, for ſooke the law of the Loꝛde, & committed much euill in the land:

56 And they dꝛoue the Iſraelites into ſecrete places, euen wherſoever they could flee for ſuccour.

57 The ſixteenth day of the moneth || Cadeu, in the hundred threſcore and fifth yeere, ſet king Antiochus an abominable idole of deſolation vpon the altar of God, and they builded altars thꝛowout all the cities of Iuda, on euery ſide.

58 Befoze the doozes of the houſes, and in the ſtreets, where they burnt incenſe and did ſacrifice.

59 And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they burnt them in the fire, and rent them in pieces.

60 Whatſoever he was that had a booke of the teſtament of the Loꝛd found by him, yea, whoſoever endeouored himſelfe to keepe the lawe of the Loꝛd, the kings commaundment was, that they ſhould put him to death.

61 And through his authoritie they executed theſe things euery moneth, vpon the people of Iſrael that were found in the cities.

62 The twentieth and fifth day of the moneth, what time as they did ſacrifice vpon the altar, which ſtood in the ſtead of the altar of the Loꝛd,

63 According to the commaundment of king Antiochus, they put certaine women to death, which had cauſed their children to be circumciſed:

64 Not onely that, but they hanged by the children by the neckes thꝛowout all their houſes, vnto the circumciſers of them:

65 Yet were there many of the people of Iſrael, which determined in themſelues that they would not eate vncleane things: but choſe rather to ſuffer death, then to be defiled with vncleane meates.

66 So becauſe they would not breake the bleſſed law of God, they were cruelly ſlaine.

67 And this great tyrannie encreaſed very ſore vpon the people of Iſrael.

The ij. Chapter.

The mourning of Mathathias and his ſonnes for the deſtruction of the holy citie.

In thoſe dayes there did ſtand by one Mathathias the ſon of John, the ſonne of Simon the High-prieſt, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Hieruſalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,

2 And had ſixe ſonnes: John called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thai,

4 Judas, otherwiſe called Machabeus,

5 Eleazar, otherwiſe called Abaron, and 6 Jonathan, whoſe ſurname was Apphus.

7 Theſe ſaw the euill that was done among the people of Iuda and Hieruſalem.

8 And Mathathias ſaide, Woe is me, alas that euer I was boꝛne, to ſee this miſery of my people, and the pitteous deſtruction of the holy citie, and thus to ſit ſo ſtill, it being deliuered into the hands of the enemies.

9 Her ſanctuarie is come into the power of ſtrangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath loſt his good name:

10 Her precious ornaments are carried away captiue, her olde men are ſlaine in the ſtreets, and her yong men are fallen through the ſwoꝛde of the enemies.

11 What people is it that hath not ſome poſſeſſion in her kingdome: or who hath not gotten ſome of her ſpoiles?

12 All her gloꝛy is taken away, ſhe was a free woman, and now ſhe is become an handmaid.

13 Beholde, our ſanctuarie, our beaultie and honour is waſted away, and defiled by the Gentiles.

14 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

15 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his ſonnes, and put ſackcloth vpon them, and mourned very ſore.

16 Then came the men thither, which were ſent of king Antiochus, to compell ſuch as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to doe ſacrifice, and to burne incenſe vnto idoles and to forſake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and inclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remained stedfast.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayd vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this city, hauing many faire children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children bee in the kings fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewards.

19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall away euery man from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commaundements:

20 Yet will I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from the lawes of our fathers.

21 God forbid we should: that were not good for vs that wee should forsake the lawe and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus.

22 Therefore wee will doe no such sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our law, to go another way.

23 And when hee had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the altar in the city of Modin, according to the kings commaundement.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieved him at the heart, so that his reins shooke with all, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that hee start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the altar,

25 Yea, and slew the kings Commissioner that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar at the same time:

26 Such zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri the sonne of Saloni.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loud voice thoro'we the city, saying, who so is seruent in the lawe, and will keepe the covenant, let him followe me.

28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that euer they had in the Citie.

29 Many other godly men also which liued iustly and byrightly, departed into the wilderness, with their children, their wiues, and their cattell, and remained there: for the tyrannie increased foze vpon them.

30 Nowe when the kings seruants, and the hoste which was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certaine men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gone their way to the wilderness into secret places:

31 When many pursued after them, and after they had overtaken them, they carped themselves, and set the battell in aray against them in the Sabbath day, 32 And sayde vnto them, will yee yet rebell? Get you hence, and doe the commaundement of king Antiochus, and ye shall liue.

33 They answered, we will not goe for thee, neither will wee doe the kings commaundement to defile the Sabbath day.

34 Then began they to fight against them:

35 But the other gaue them none other answer, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fall their priuy places:

36 But sayd, we will dye all in our innocencie, heauen and earth shall testifie with vs, that ye put vs to death wrongfully.

37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabbath, and slue both men and cattell, their wiues and their children, to the number of a thousand people.

38 When Mathathias and his friends heard this, they mourned for them right sore, 39 And sayd one to another, If so be that we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our liues, and for our lawes against the heathen, then shall they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.

40 So they concluded among themselves at the same time, saying,

41 What soeuer he be that commeth to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, and not die all as our brethren that were murdered in the wilderness.

42 Upon this came the assembly of the Akeans vnto them, which were of the strongest men in Israel, and all such as were feruent in the lawe:

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, came to helpe them, and to stand by them:

44 Insomuch that they gathered an hoste of men, and slue the wicked doers in their ielousie, and the vngodly men in their wrath: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mathathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars, 46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel.

47 And followed mightily vpon the proude men: and this acte prospered in their hands.

48 Insomuch that they kept the lawe against the power of the Gentiles and the kings, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.

49 After this, when the time drew on fall that Mathathias should dye, hee sayd vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, now is the time of destruction and wrathfull displeasure:

50 Wherefore, O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and reopard your liues for the testament of the fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time, so shall yee receiue great honour, and an euerslasting name.

52 Remember Abraham: was not he found faithfull in temptation, and it was reckoned vnto him for righteousnesse?

53 Joseph in time of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made a lord of Egypt.

54 Phinehes our father was so feruent for the honour of God, that hee obtained the covenant of an euerslasting priesthood.

55 Josuah for fulfilling the word of God, was made the captaine of Israel.

56 Caleb bare record befoze the congregation, and receiued an heritage.

57 Dauid also in his mercifull kindnes, obtained the throne of an euerslasting kingdome.

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and inclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remained stedfast. 17 Then spake the Commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayd vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this city, hauing many faire children and brethren. 18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children bee in the kings fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewards. 19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall away euery man from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commaundements: 20 Yet will I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from the lawes of our fathers. 21 God forbid we should: that were not good for vs that wee should forsake the lawe and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus. 22 Therefore wee will doe no such sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our law, to go another way. 23 And when hee had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the altar in the city of Modin, according to the kings commaundement. 24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieved him at the heart, so that his reins shooke with all, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that hee start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the altar, 25 Yea, and slew the kings Commissioner that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar at the same time: 26 Such zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri the sonne of Saloni. 27 And Mathathias cryed with a loud voice thoro'we the city, saying, who so is seruent in the lawe, and will keepe the covenant, let him followe me. 28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that euer they had in the Citie. 29 Many other godly men also which liued iustly and byrightly, departed into the wilderness, with their children, their wiues, and their cattell, and remained there: for the tyrannie increased foze vpon them. 30 Nowe when the kings seruants, and the hoste which was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certaine men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gone their way to the wilderness into secret places: 31 When many pursued after them, and after they had overtaken them, they carped themselves, and set the battell in aray against them in the Sabbath day, 32 And sayde vnto them, will yee yet rebell? ## The iij. Chapter.

I Judas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. II Hee killeth Apollonius and Seron the Princes of Syria.

Ioseph. cap. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Lat.

IN this scoode by Judas Machabeus in his fathers stead,

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that helde with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Judas gat his people great honour, hee put on a breastplate as a Grant, and arayed himselfe with his harness, and defended the hoste with his sword.

4 In his actes he was like a Lyon, and as a Lyons whelp roaring at his pray.

5 He was an enemy to the wicked, and hunted them out, and burnt by those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enemies fled for feare of him, and all the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: such lucke and prosperitie was in his hand.

7 This grieved diuers kings: but Jacob was greatly reioyed through his actes, and hee gat himselfe a great name for euer.

8 Hee went thoroowe the cities of Iuda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receiuing such as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermoost part of the earth.

10 Then Apollonius a prince of Syria, gathered a mightie great hoste of the heathen, and out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Which when Judas perceiued, hee went forth to meete him, fought with him, slew him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fledde, and he tooke their substance.

12 Judas also took Apollonius owne sword, and fought with it all his life long.

13 Now when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation and Church of the faithfull.

14 He sayd, I will get me a name and a praise throughout the Realme: for I will goe fight with Judas and them that are with him, as many as haue despised the kings commaundement.

15 So hee made him ready, and there went with him a great mightie hoste of the vngodly to stand by him, and to bee auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a small company.

17 And when his people saw such a great host before them, they sayd vnto Judas, How are we able being so few to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we be so weary, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayd, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with few: yea, there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company:

19 For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength cometh from heauen.

20 Behold, they come against vs with a cruell & proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues and our children, and to robbe vs:

21 But wee will fight for our liues, and for our lawes,

22 And the Lord himselfe shall destroy them before our face: therefore be not yee afraid of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these words, he leapt suddenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his hoste put to flight, 24 And Judas folloved vpon them beyond Bethoron, vnto the plaine felde, where there were slaine eight hundzed men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then all the Heathen on euery side were afraid of Judas and his brethren:

26 So that the rumour of him came vnto the kings eares: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Judas.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tidings, he was angry in his mind: wherefore he sent forth, and gathered an hoste of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his hoste a yeeres wages in hand, commaunding them to be ready at all times.

29 Reuertlesse, when hee sawe that there was not money ynough in his treasures, and that through the discord and persecution which hee made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had bene of old times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:

30 Hee feared that hee was not able for to bear the colts and charges any longer, nor to haue such gifts to giue so liberally as hee did afore, more then the things that were befoze him.

31 wherfoze he was heauie in his mind, and thought to go vnto Persides, foze to take tributes of the land, and so to gather much money.

32 So hee left Lysias, a noble man of the kings blood, to ouersee the kings businesse from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus til he came againe.

34 Wherouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoste, and Elephants, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of al things that hee would haue done concerning those which dwell in Iuda and Hierusalem:

35 That he should send out an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel, and the remnant of Hierusalem, to put out their memoiall from that place:

36 To set strangers foze to inhabite all their quarters, and to part their land among them.

37 Thus the king tooke the other part of the holle, and departed from Antioch, a cite of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and foztie and seuen yere, and went thoroze the high countreys.

38 And Lysias chose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Doryminius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men, and the kings friends.

39 These he sent with fourtie thousand footmen, and seuen thousand horsemen, foze to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the plaine field.

41 When the merchants of the country heard the rumoz of them, they and their seruants tooke very much siluer and gold, foze to buy the children of Israel to be their bondmen: there came vnto them also yet mo men of warre on euery side, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.

42 Howe when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble increased, and that the host dyeme nigh vnto their borders, considering the kings words which he commaunded vnto the people, namely, that they should vtterly waite and destroy them:

43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, let vs fight foze our folke, and foze our sanctuarie.

44 When the congregation were soone ready gathered to fight, to pray, and to make supplication vnto God foze mercie and grace.

45 As foze Hierusalem it lay void, and was as it had bene a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, & the sanctuary was troden down, the aliants keepe the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the mirth of Iacob was taken away, the Pipe and the Harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha befoze Hierusalem: foze in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 So they fasted that day, & put sackclothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, rent their clothes,

48 And layd foze the bookes of the lawe, wherout the heathen sought to paint the like-nesse of their images.

49 And brought the Priests ornaments, the firthings, and the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, which had accomplished their bowes befoze God:

||Or, dayes.

50 And cried with a loude voice to ward heauen, saying, what shall we doe with these, and whither shall we carie them a way?

51 foze thy Sanctuary is troden downe and defiled, the Prielles are come to heauinesse and dishonour.

52 And behold, the heathen are come together foze to destroy vs, thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How may we stand befoze them, except thou O God be our helpe?

54 Then they blew out the trumpet also with a loude voice.

55 Then Judas ordeined captaines ouer the people, ouer thousands, ouer hundreds, ouer fiftie, and ouer ten.

Deu. 20. 5. iud. 7. 3.

56 * But as foze such as builded them houses, married wiues, planted them vineyards, and those that were fearefull, hee commaunded them euery man to goe home againe according to the lawe.

57 So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

58 And Judas sayd, Arme your selues, bee strong, O my children, make you ready against to moroze in the morning, that ye may fight with these people, which are agreed together to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 Better is it foze vs to die in battell, then to see our people and our Sanctuary in such a miserable case.

60 Neuertheless, as thy will is, O God in heauen, so be it.

The iiij. Chapter.

Iudas goeth against Gorgias, which lieth in waite.

Then tooke Gorgias siue thousand men of foote, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and remoued out of the campe by night, Iosep. lib. 12 cap. 10.

2 To come nigh where the Iewes hoste lay, and so to slay them suddenly: (Now the men that kept the castle, were the conuersers of them.)

3 Howe when Judas heard this, he remoued, and all the strong men that were with him, to smite the chiefe and principall of the kings hoste at Emmaus:

4 foze the armie was not yet come together.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night vnto Judas tents, and when he found no man there, hee sought them in the mountaines, and thought they had bene fled a way because of him.

6 But when it was day, Judas shewed himselfe in the field with three thousand men onely, which had neither harnesse nor swords to their mindes.

7 But on the other side they sawe that the heathen were mighty and well harnessed, and their horsemen about them, and all these well expert in feates of warre.

8 Then sayde Judas to the men that were with him, feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayd of their violent running.

9 * Remember how our fathers were deli-uered in the red sea, when Pharaon followed by on them with a great hoste.

10 Euen so let vs also crye now toward heauen, and the Lord that haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the coucnant of our fathers, yea, and destroy this hoste befoze our face this day:

11 And all the heathen shall know that it is God himselte which deliuereth and saucth Israel.

12 Then the heathen lift by their eyes, and when they saw that they were comming against them,

13 They went out of their tents into the bat-taille, and they that were with Judas blew by the trumpets.

14 So they buckled together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fled ouer the plaine field:

15 But the hindmost of them were slaine with the sworde: for they followed them vnto || Affaremoth, and into the fields of Idumea toward Azot and Jamnia: so that there were slain of them vpon a thre thousand men.

16 So Judas turned againe with his hoste,

17 And sayd vnto the people, Bee not greedie of the spoiles, we haue yet a battaile to fight.

18 For Gorgias and his hoste are here by vs in the mountaines, but stand yee fast against our enemies, and ouercome them, then may yee safely take the spoiles.

19 As Judas was speaking these wordes, behold, ther appeared one part of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias saw that they of his part were fledde, and the tents burnt by (for by the smoke they might vnderstand what was done) they perceiuing this, were verie soze afr aide:

21 And when they saw also that Judas and his host were in the field ready to strike battell,

22 They fledde euery one into the land of the heathen.

23 So Judas turned againe to spoile the tents, where they gate much golde, and siluer, precious stones, purple, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, & sung a Psalm of thankesgiving, and prayed God in heauen:
for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 Nowe all the heathen that escaped, came and told Lysias euery thing that had happened.

27 Wherefoze Lysias was soze afraid, and griued in his mind, because Israel had not gotten such misfortune as hee would they should, neither as the king commanded.

28 The next yere following, gathered Lysias thre score thousand chosen men of foote, and fue thousand horsemen to fight against Hieru-salem.

29 So they came vnto Jury, & pitched their tents at Bethozon: where Judas came against them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw to great and mighty an hoste, he made his prayer, and sayd, Blessed be thou, O sauour of Israel, which diddest destroy the violent power of the giant in the hand of thy seruant Dauid, and gauest the hoste of the heathen into the hand of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, and of his harnessbearer:

31 Put this hoste nowe into the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them be confounded in their multitude and horsemen.

32 Make them afraide, and discomfite the boldnesse of their strength, that they may be moued through their destruction.

33 Call them downe through the sworde of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, praise thee with thankesgiving.

34 So they strooke the battel, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste fve thousand men.

35 Then Lysias seeing the discomfiting of his men, and the manlinesse of the Jewes, how they were ready either to stue or die like men: hee went vnto Antioch, and chose out men of war, that when they were gathered together, they might come againe into Jury.

36 Then sayd Judas and his brethren, Be-holde, our enemies are discomfited, let vs nowe goe by to cleinte and repaire the Sanctuary.

37 Vpon this, all the hoste gathered them together, and went by into mount Sion.

38 Nowe when they sawe the Sanctuary layd waste, the altar defiled, the doozes burnt by, the shrubbes growing in the courts like as in a wood, or vpon the mountaines, yea, and that the priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, cast ashes vpon their heads,

40 Fell downe flat to the ground vpon their faces, made a great noise with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Judas appointed certaine men to fight against those which were in the castell, till they had cleansed the Sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an brickeane place.

44 And for so much as the altar of burnt offerings was vnhalowed, he tooke aduiselement what he might doe withall.

45 So he thought it best to destroy it, lest it should happen to doe them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therfoze they brake it downe.

46 As for the stones, they layd them by vpon the mountaine by the house in a conuenient place, till there came a Prophet to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones, according to the law, and builded a new altar, such one as was befoze,

48 And made by the Sanctuary within and without, and halowed the houses and the courts:

49 They made new holy ornaments, and brought the candlestick, the altar of incense, and the table, into the Temple.

50 The incense layd they vpon the altar, and lighted the lamps which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple:

51 They set the she w bread vpon the table, and hanged by the baile, & finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the twenty and fifth day of the ninth moneth (which is called the moneth of || Casleu) in the hundred forty and eight yere,

53 They rose by betimes in the morning, for to doe sacrifice according to the lawe, vpon the new burnt offering altar that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set by againe, with songs, pipes, harpes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and thanking the God of heauen, which had giuen them the victorie.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt sacrifices and thanke offerings with gladnesse.

57 They deckt the forefront of the Temple also with crownes and shields of golde, and halowed the ports and celles, and hanged doozes vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, because the blaspheemie of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeined that the time of the dedication of the altar should be kept in his season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the twentieth and fifth day of the moneth || Cadeu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded they by the mount Sion, with high walls & strong towres round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it downe as they did afore.

61 Therefore Judas set men of warre in it, to keepe it, & made it strong for to defend Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge against the Edomites.

The v. Chapter.

Judas vanquisheth the Heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

cap. 13.
IT happened also, that when the heathen round about heard how that the altar and the sanctuarie were set vp in their olde estate, it displeased them very soze.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them: in so much that they beganne to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Elau in Idumea at Arabathane: for they dwelt round about the Israelites, where he slue and spoyled a great multitude of them.

4 He thought also vpon the malice and unfaithfulness of the children of Bean, how they were a snare and stop vnto the people, and how they layd waite for them in the high way.

5 Wherefore they shut them by into the towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, and burnt by their towers, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he found a mighty power, and a great multitude of people with Timothie their captaine.

7 So he stroke many battels with them, which were destroyed before him.

8 And when he had slaine them, he wanne Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman.

10 And sent letters vnto Judas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs:

11 And nowe they make them readie for to come and lay siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothie is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands, for there is a great multitude of vs slaine alreadye.

13 Pea, and our brethren that were at Tubin are slaine and destroyed, well nigh a thousand men, and their wiues, their children, and their goods haue the enemies ledde away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which told euen the same tidings.

15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were gathered against them, and that all Galilee was filled with enemies to destroy Israel.

16 When Judas and the people heard this, they came together a great congregation, to devise what they might do for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enemies.

17 And Judas saide vnto Simon his brother, Choole thee out certaine men, and goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Ionathas, we will goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iurie.

19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men, for to goe into Galilee: but Judas himselfe had eight thousand in Galaaditim.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battels with the heathen, whom he discomfited.

22 And followed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and carried away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis with their wiues, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse:

24 Judas Machabeus also, and his brother Ionathas, went ouer Iordan, and trauailed three dayes iourney in the wilderness:

25 where the Nabathees met them, and receiued them louingly, and told them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bofoz, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities.)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morow they are appointed to bring their host vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Judas and his hoste turned in all the haste in the wilderness toward Bofoz, and wan

|| Or, strangers.

the city, ſlew all the males with the ſword, tooke all their goods, and ſet fire vpon the citie :

29 And in the night they tooke their iourney from thence, and came to the caſtle :

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked by, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other instruments of warre, to take the Caſtle, and ſo overcome them.

31 When Judas ſaw that the battell began, and that the people thereof went by and rang in to the heauen, and that there was ſo great a crie in the city,

32 He ſayd vnto his hoſte, Fight this day for your brethren :

33 And ſo came behinde their enemies in thre companies, and blew by the trumpets, and cryed in their prayer to God.

34 But ſo ſoone as Timotheus hoſte perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled from him : and he ſlew them right ſore, ſo that there were killed of them the ſame day almoſt eightene thouſand men.

35 Then departed Judas vnto Dalpſa, laid ſiege vnto it, and wanne it, ſlew all the males in it, ſpoyled it, and ſet fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Caſbon, Mageth, Boſoz, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After this gathered Timothie another hoſte, which pitched their tents befoze Baphon, beyond the water.

38 Judas alſo ſent to ſpic the hoſte, and they brought him word againe, ſaying, All the heathen that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoſte is very great :

39 Yea, they haue byred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tents beyond the water, & are ready to come and fight againſt thee. So Judas went on to meet them.

40 And Timothie ſayd vnto the captaines of his hoſte, when Judas and his hoſte come nigh the riuer, if he go ouer firſt, we ſhall not be able to withſtand him : for why? he will be too ſtrong for vs.

41 But if hee dare not come ouer, ſo that hee pitch his tent beyond the water : then will wee goe ouer, for wee ſhall be ſtrong ynough againſt him.

42 Nowe as ſoone as Judas came to the riuer, hee appointed certaine ſcribes of the people by the riuer, and commanded them, ſaying, See that ye leaue none behinde vpon this ſide of the riuer, but let every man come to the battell.

43 So hee went firſt ouer vnto them, and all his people after him, and all the heathen were diſcomfited befoze him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which citie Judas wanne, and burnt the Temple, with all that were in it : So was Carnaim ſubdued, and might not withſtand Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered all the Iſraelites that were in Galaaditim, from the leaſt vnto the moſt, with their wiues and their children, a very great hoſte, for to come into the land of Iſrael.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie, great, and ſtrong citie, and lay in their way : for they could not goe by it, neither on the right hande, nor on the left, but muſt goe thorow it.

47 Neuertheleſſe, they that were in the citie would not let them goe thorow, but walled by the ports with ſtones : & Judas ſent vnto them with peaceable words, ſaying, 48 Let vs paſſe thorow your land, that wee may goe into our owne countrey, there ſhall no body doe you harme, wee will but onely goe thorow on foote. But they would not let them in.

49 Wherefoze Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoſte, That every man ſhould aſſault the citie in his order.

50 And ſo they did their beſt, like haſtane men : and Judas beſieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and ſo wanne it :

51 Where they ſlew as many as were males with the edge of the ſword, and deſtroyed the citie, and ſpoiled it, and went thorow all the citie ouer them that were ſlaine.

52 Then went they ouer Iordane, into the plaine field befoze Bethſan.

53 And Judas helped thoſe forwarde that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way through, till they were come into the land of Iuda.

54 Thus they went by vnto the mount Simon, where they offered whole burnt offerings with mirth and thankſgiuing, becauſe there were none of them ſlaine, but came home againe peaceably.

55 Now what time as Judas and Ionathas were in the lande of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee befoze Ptolemais :

56 Then Iolephus the ſonne of Zacharie, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the acts that were done, and of the battailes that were ſtricken, ſaid, 57 Let vs get vs a name alſo, and goe fight againſt the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoſte a commaundement, and went toward Iamnia.

59 Then came Borigias and his men out of the city to fight againſt them :

60 Iolephus alſo and Azarias were chaſed vnto the borders of Iurie, and there were ſlaine that day of the people of Iſrael two thouſand men : ſo that there was a great miſery among the people of Iſrael.

61 And all becauſe they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they ſhould quit themſelues manfully.

62 Neuertheleſſe, they came not of the ſeede of theſe men by whome Iſrael was helped.

63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the ſight of all Iſrael, and all the heathen wherſoeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought againſt the children of Eſau in the land that lieth toward the South, where he wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beſide it : & as for the walles and towres round about it, he burnt them by.

66 Then remooued he to goe into the land of the Philiftines, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the ſame time were there many priests ſlaine in the battaile, which wilfully and without aduilement went out for to fight to get them honour.

18 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines land, he brake downe their altars, burnt the images of their idoles, spoiled their cities, and came againe into the land of Juda.

The vj. Chapter.

Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimas for a pray, is driuen away of the citizens.

Now when king Antiochus traualled thowow the high countreyes, he heard that Elimas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and gold.

1 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were clothes, coat armours, and shields of golde, which Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia that reigned first in Grecia had left behind him.

2 Wherefore he went about to take the city, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.

3 And so he fled, and departed with great heavinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

4 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in Persia, that his hostes which were in the land of Juda were driuen away:

5 And howe that Lysias went forth first with a great power, and was driuen away of the Jewes, how that they had wonne the victorie, and gotten great goods out of the hostes that perished:

6 How they had broken downe the abomination which he set vp upon the altar at Hierusalem, and fenced the sanctuary with high walls, like as it was afore, yea, and Bethsura his citie also.

7 So it chanced, that when the king heard these wordes, he was afraid, and grieved very sore: wherefore he laid him downe upon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorowe, and all because it had not happened as he had devised.

8 And there continued he long: for his grief was euer more and more, so that he saw he until needes die.

9 Therefore he sent for all his friends, and said unto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, for the very sorow and beration of heart that I haue.

10 For when I consider in my mind the great adueritie that I am come vnto, and the floods of heavinesse which I am come in, whereas a foretime I was so merry, and so greatly set by, by reason of my power:

11 Againe, considering the euill that I haue done at Hierusalem, from whence I tooke all the riches of gold and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iurie without any reason why:

12 I know that these troubles were come by on me for the same cause: and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

13 Then called he for one Philip a friend of his, whom he made ruler of all his realme.

14 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ring, that he should take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, and bring him by, till he might reigne himselfe.

15 So the king Antiochus died there, in the hundred, fourtie and nine yere.

16 When Lysias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne, whom he had brought by, to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Eupator.

17 Now they that were in the castle at Hierusalem, kept in the Jewes round about the Sanctuary, and sought euer still to doe them harine, and the strengthening of the heathen.

18 Wherefore Judas thought to destroy them, & called all the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

19 So they came together in the hundred and fifty yere, and besieged them, laying forth their ordnance and instruments of warre.

20 Then certaine of them that were besieged, went forth: vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselves also.

21 And went vnto the king, saying, How long will it be yet thou punish, and auenge our brethren?

22 We haue euer bene minded to doe thy father service, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commandments:

23 Therefore our people fell from vs, and wheresoeuer they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoiled our inheritance.

24 And they haue not only meddled with vs, but with all our countries.

25 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Hierusalem, to take it, and haue made by the strong hold at Bethsura.

26 And if thou doest not prevent them right soone, they will do moze then these, and thou shalt not be able to overcome them.

27 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his army, and all his footmen and horsemen:

28 Hee byzed men of warre also of other realmes, pertaining to the kings that were confederate with him, and of the Isles of the sea, which came vnto him.

29 And the number of his hoste was an hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and thirty and two Elephants well exercised to battell.

30 These came thowow Idumea vnto Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, and made diuers instruments of warre against it: but the Jewes came out and burnt them with fire, and fought like men.

31 Then departed Judas from the castle at Hierusalem, and remoued the hoste toward Bethzacharan, ouer against the kings armie.

32 So the king arose before the day, & brought the power of his hoste into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hostes made them ready to the battalle, blowing the trumpets.

33 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of red grapes and mulberies.

34 And diuided the Elephants among the hoste: so that by euerie Elephant there stood a thousand men well harnessed, and helmets of Steele upon their heads: yea, vnto euerie one of the Elephants also were ordeined five hundred horsemen of the best.

35 Which waited on the Elephant, going wheresoeuer he went, and departed not from him.

36 Every Elephant was covered with a strong tower of wood, fastened thereon with instruments.

instruments, whereupon were thirty and two valiant men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Jude to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them upon both the sides in two partes, with trumpets to prouoke the horse, and to stirre by such as were slow in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone upon their shields of gold and Steele, the mountaines glistered againe at them, and were as bright as the cressets of fire.

40 The kings host also was diuided, one part upon the high mountaines, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the land, were afraide at the noise of their horse, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote together: for the host was both great and mightie.

42 Judas also and his horse entred into the battell, and slew five hundred men of the kings armie.

43 Now when Eleazar the sonne of Sara did see one of the Elephants deckt with the kings badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the king should be upon him:

44 And ieoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name:

45 Wherefore he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middelt of the horse, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue many about him.

46 So went hee to the Elephants teete, and gat him vnder him, and slue him: then fell the Elephant downe upon him, and there he died.

47 Judas also and his men, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his host, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went by against the toward Hierusalem, and pitched their tents in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreover, the king tooke truce with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut by within, and the land lay vntilled,

50 The king tooke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his horse to the place of the Sanctuarie, 51 And layd siege to it a great while, where he made all inaner ordnance, handbowes, fiery darts, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slings.

52 The Jewes also made ordnance against theirs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the city there were no victuals, for it was the seuenth yere of the warres, and those heathen that remained in Iurie, had eaten up all their store.

54 And in the Sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scattered abroad, euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet liuing, had ordeined to bring by Antiochus his sonne, that he might might be king,

56 Was come againe out of Persia & Medisa with the kings horse, and thought to obtaine the kingdome, with the gouernance of all things:

57 He gat him to the king in al the haste, and to the captaines of the horse, & said, we decrease dayly, and our victuals are but small: againe, the place that we lay siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, & take truce with them, and with all their people, 59 And grant them to liue after their law as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all these things against vs, because we haue despised their law.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.

61 Now when the king and the princes had made an oath vnto them, they came out of the castle,

62 And the king went by to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was well fenced, he brake the oath that he had made, and commanded to destroy the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all the haste, and returned vnto Antioche, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the citie againe into his hands.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius reigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias.

In the hundred fiftie and one yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus, from the city of Rome, with a small companie of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioch, a citie of his progenitours, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So the holie put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene made high Priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, saying, Judas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and diuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore, send now some man to whom thou giuest credence, that he may go, and see all the destruction which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him be punished, with all his friends and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyond the water, and faithfull vnto the king, and sent him to see the destruction that Iudas had done.

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, he made him high priest, and commanded him to be aueraged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed from the king and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, sending messengers to Judas and his brethren, and speaking vnto them with peaceable words, but vnder deceit.

Or, Abaton.

a This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the commandment.

Or, broken

11 Therefore Judas and his people beleueed not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 After this came the Scribes together vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreat of reasonable covenants.

13 And the Assideans were the first among the childzen of Israel that required peace of them.

14 Saying, Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, how can he deceiue vs, though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louing wordes, & swoze vnto them, and said, we will doe you no harme, neither your friends.

16 And they beleueed him: but the verie same day tooke he threescore men of them, and slewe them, according to the wordes that are witten.

17 They haue cast the flesh of the saints, and shed their blood round about Hierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a great feare and dread among all the people, saying, There is neither truth nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appointment and oath that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his hoste from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent forth and tooke many of them that had forsaken him: he slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed he the land vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides himselfe went vnto the king.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And all such as hated Israel, resorted vnto him: in so much that they obayned the land of Iuda, and did much euill vnto the Israelites.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischiefe that Alcimus and his companie had done (yea more then the heathen themselves) vnto the Israelites.

24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iurie, and punished those vnfaithfull runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus saw that Judas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abide them, he went againe vnto the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

26 Then the king sent Nicanoz, one of his chiefe princes, which bare euill will vnto Israel, and commanded him that he should utterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanoz came to Hierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Judas and his brethren with friendly wordes: but vnder deceit, saying, 28 There shall be no warre betwixt me and you, I will come with a few men, to see how ye doe, with friendship.

29 vpon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were appointed to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuerthelesse, it was told Judas that he came vnto him but vnder deceit, wherefore he gate him away from him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanoz perceiued that his counsell was betrayed, he went out to fight against Judas beside Capharsalama:

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanozs hoste five thousand men, and the residue fled vnto the cite of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanoz by vnto mount Sion, and the priests with the elders of the people, went forth to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifices that were offered for the king.

34 But he laughed them and the people to scorn, mocked them, defiled their offerings, and spake disdainefully:

35 Pea, and swoze in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his hoste be not deliuered now into my hands, as soone as euer I come againe and fare well, I shall burne by this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priests came in, and stood before the altar of the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forso much as thou O Lord, hast chosen this house, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine with the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanoz was gone from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethozon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adarsa with three thousand men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying,

41 O Lord, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went forth, and slue an hundred fourescore and six thousand of them:

42 Euen so, destroy thou this hoste before vs this day, that other people may know how that he hath blasphemed thy Sanctuary, and punish him according to his maliciousnesse.

43 And so the hostes stroke the field the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and Nicanozs hoste was discomfited, and he himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 When Nicanozs men of warre sawe that he was killed, they cast away their weapons, and fled:

45 But the Jewes followed vpon them a whole daies iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpets, & making tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came forth of all the towines round about, and blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned against them: thus were they all slaine, and not one of them left.

47 Then tooke they their substance for a pray, and smote off Nicanozs head, and his right hand, which he helde by so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it by afore Hierusalem.

48 Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeined that the same day, namely the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, should be kept in mirth euery yere.

The viij. Chapter.

2 Judas considering the power and goodly policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The rescript of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

Judas heard also the same of the Romanes, that they were mighty and ballant men, and agreeable to all things that are required of them, and make peace with all men which come vnto them,

2 And howe they were doughtie men of strength: besides that, it was told him of their battailes and noble acts which they did in Galatia, how they had conquered them, & brought them vnder tribute,

3 And what great things they had done in Spaine: how that with their wise dome and sober behauiour they had won the mines of siluer and gold that are there,

4 And obtained all the land, with other places farre from them: how they had discomfited & slaine downe the kings that came vpon them from the vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute every yere:

5 How they had slaine and ouercome Philip and Perles kings of Cethim: and other moe in battell, which had brought their ordinance against them:

6 How they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that would needes fight with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephants, with horsemen, charrets, and a very great hoste:

7 How they tooke him selfe aliue, and ordeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay them a great tribute, yea and to finde them good sureties and pledges besides all this:

8 Howe they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best lands, and giuen them to king Eumenus.

9 Againe, howe they perceiuing that the Greekes were comming to bere them,

10 Sent against them a captaine of an hoste, which gaue them battell, slew many of them, led away their wiues and childzen captiue, spoiled them, tooke possession of their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bond men vnto this day.

11 Whereouer, how that as for other kingdomes and Isles, which sometime withstood them, they destroyed them, and brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amity with their owne friends, and those that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both farre and nigh: and that whosoer heard of their renoume, was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would help to their kingdomes, those reigned: and whom it liked not them to reigne, they put them downe: and how they were come to great preeminence,

14 Hauing no king among them, neither any man clothed in purple, to be magnified there through:

15 But had ordeined themselves a parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twenty Senatours daily vpon the counsell, to dispatch euer the bulinelle of the people, and to keepe good order:

16 And how that euery yere they chose a Prator, to haue the gouernance of all their land, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither euill will, nor dissension among them.

17 Then Judas chose Etipolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, for to make friendship, and a bond of loue with them, 18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Greekes: for the Iewes saw that the Greekes would subdue the kingdome of Israel.

19 So they went vnto Rome, a very great iourney, and came vnto the parliament, and sayd, 20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and friends.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes right well.

22 Wherefore it was written by: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bond of friendship after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by lande, and keepe the sword and enemy from them for euermore:

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends thowout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time requireth, and that with all their hearts.

26 Also they shall neither giue nor send vnto their enemies victuals, weapons, money, nor ships: but fulfill their couenants at the Romanes pleasure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Againe, if the people of the Iewes happen first to haue warre, the Romanes shall stand by them with a good will, according as the time will suffer.

28 Neither shall they giue vnto the Iewes enemies victuals, weapons, money, or ships: Thus are the Romanes content to doe, and shall fulfill their charge without any deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the Iewes.

30 Howe after these articles sayd they, If any of the parties will put to them, or take any thing from them, they shall doe it with the consent of both: and whatsoer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stand fast.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, wherefore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our friends and louers?

32 If they make any complaint of thee againe vnto vs, we shall defende them, and fight with thee by sea and by land according to iustice.

The ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine.

In the meane season, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his hoste was slaine in the fiebde, hee proceeded further to send Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iurie, and the chiefe strength of his hoste with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that leadeth vnto Balsa, and pitched their tents before Balaioth (which is in Arbellis) and won the citie, and slue much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their hoste, and laid their siege against Hierusalem:

4 But raising their campe, they came to Bera with twentie thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at Laisa, with thre thousand cholen men,

6 And when they saw the multitude of the other armie that was so great, they were sore afraid, and many conueyed themselues out of the hoste, in so much that there abode no moe of them but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste fayled him, and that hee must needes fight, it brake his heart, that he had no time to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuerthelesse, he said vnto them that remained with him, Up, let vs go against our enemies, peradventure wee shall be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stopped him, saying, We shall not be able: therefore now let vs saue our liues, and turne againe to our brethren, for should we fight against them, being so few?

10 And Iudas said, God forbid that wee should flee from them: wherefore if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tents, and stood against them, and the horsemen were diuided in two parts: and sling casters & archers went before the hoste, and all the mightie men were foremost in the field.

12 Bacchides himself was in the right wing of the battell, and the hoste drew nigh in two parts, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a field from the morowe till night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides hoste was strongest on the right side, hee tooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right side of their order, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Now when they which were the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they pursued Iudas and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine and wounded on both the parts.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Ionathas and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in their fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And all the people of Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned long, saying, 21 Alas that this worthy should bee slaine, which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other things pertaining to the battels of Iudas, the noble acts that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

23 Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came by in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose all such as did worke vngodlinesse.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselues and theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, & made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out and made search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them with great despite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was scene there.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and said vnto Ionathas,

29 For so much as thy brother Iudas is dead, there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, against Bacchides, and such as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day wee chuse thee for him, to be our prince and captaine, to order our battell.

31 And Ionathas tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 But Ionathas and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecus, with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Alphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iordan with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 Now had Ionathas sent his brother Iohn a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabuthites, that they would lend them their ordinance, for they had much.

36 So the children of Iambri came out of Madaba, and tooke Iohn, and all that he had, and went their way withall when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Ionathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Iambri made a great mariage, and brought the bride from Madaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembered the blood of Iohn their brother, and went by, and hid themselues vnder the shadow of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much a doe, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met them with Tympanies, instruments of musicke, and many weapons.

Ioseph. cap. 4. lib. 13. antiq.

Or, Ambri.

40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, rose out of their lurking places against the, and slew many of them: and the remnant fled into the mountaines, and they tooke all their substance.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of the melody into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they returned againe vnto Iordane.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Iordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabbath day.

44 And Jonathas said to his companie, Let vs get by, and fight against our enemies, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past.

45 Behold, our enemies are in our way, the water of Iordane vpon the one side of vs, with bankes, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

46 Wherefore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: So they strooke the battell.

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides, but he fled backward.

48 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, leapt into Iordane, and swimm'd ouer Iordane vnto further banke: but the other would not passe ouer Iordane after him.

49 And there were slaine of Bacchides side that day a thousand men.

50 Therefore Bacchides with his hoste turned againe to Hierusalem, a built by the castles and strong holdes that were in Iurie, Jericho, Cinans, Bethozon, Bethel, Chamnata, Phara, and Chapo, with high walles, with ports, and with lockes:

51 And set men to keepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled by the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castles, and prouided them with men and victuals.

53 He tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterward, in the hundred fiftie and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that they should destroy the walles of the inward court of the sanctuarie, and hee pulled downe, and began to destroy the mountaines of the prophets.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and smitten with a pallee, and his enterpises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped by God, so that he could no more speake, nor command any of his house concerning his business.

56 Thus died Alcimus in great misery at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the king: and so the land was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the bngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathas and his companie are at ease, and dwell without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsell:

60 Which arose to come with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherents which were in Iurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with him: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuise.

61 And Jonathas tooke fifty men of the countrey, which were the ringleaders of them, and slew them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their companie, departed vnto the citie Bethbasin, which lieth in the wilderness, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent word to them that were in Iurie.

64 Then came he and laide siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 Now Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth himself into the countrey, and came with a certaine number, 66 And slew Odomeras and his brethren, and the children of Phaleron in their tents, so that he began to be strong, and to increas in power.

67 As for Simon and his companie they went out of the citie, and burnt by the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore bered, because his counsell and trauell was in baine.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked men that gaue him counsell to come into their land, and slew many of them: then purposed he with his companie to goe away into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, for to make peace with him, and that he should deliuer him his prisoners againe.

71 To the which Bacchides consented gladly, and did according to his desire: yea, and made an oath that he should neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the land of Iuda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Iuda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Bactamas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the bngodly men out of Israel.

The x. Chapter.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathas.
48 Alexander moueth warre against Demetrius
50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemeus and Alexander.

In the hundred and threescore yeere, came Alexander the sonne of noble Antiochus, and tooke Ptolemeus, whose citizens receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathas, with louing words, and praised him greatly:

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him before he binde himselfe with Alexander against vs:

a Blood doeth require blood.

Or, Beth bessen.

Or, Ode reb.

Or, Pharethoni.
Or, Tephro

b certain counsell on the countrey.

Or, Bactamas

5 Wis he shall remember the euill that we haue done against him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Ionathas leaue to gather an hoste, to make weapons, & to be confederate with him, & commanded the pledges that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Ionathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And therefore were they foze afraide, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an hoste.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Ionathas, which restored them to their parents.

10 Ionathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and began to build by, and to repaire the citie:

11 Commanding the workemen to wall it, and the mount Sion round about with free stone, to be a strong hold: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles which Bacchides had made by, they fled:

13 So that every man left the place, & went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethsura remained certaine of the Jewes, which had forsaken the lawe and commaundements of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathas, and when it was told him of the battailes and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauels that they had taken,

16 He said, where shall we find such a man? well, we will make him our friend, and be confederate with him.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these words:

18 King Alexander saluteth his brother Ionathas,

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiant man, and meete to be our friend:

20 Wheresofore this day we ordeine thee to be the high priest of thy people, and to be called the kings friend, (vpon this he sent him a purple clothing, and a crowne of gold) that thou maiest consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seventh moneth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vpon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathas put the holy rayment vpon him: then gathered he an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius heard, he was maruelous for.

23 And sayde, Alas, what haue wee done, that Alexander hath prevented vs, in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 But will I write louingly vnto them also, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my side.

25 Wheresupon hee wrote vnto them these words, King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Wheres as ye haue kept your cotenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, not inclining to our enemies, we were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wheresofore remaine still, and be faithfull to vs, and we shall well recompence you for the things that ye haue done on our part.

28 We shall release you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge you & all the Jewes from tributes, I forgiue you the customes of salt, and release you of the crowne taxes, of the third part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruit of trees, which is mine owne dutie, I doe release them from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Iuda, nor of the three cities which are added thereunto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free, yea, the tithes and tributes shall pertaine vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle which is at Hierusalem, I remit and giue it vnto the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Jewes that are prisoners thoroout all my realme, so that every one of them shall be free from paying any tribute, yea, euen of their cattell.

34 All the solemne feasts, Sabbathes, new moones, the dayes appointed, the three dayes before and after the feast, shall be free for all the Jewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to bere any of them in any manner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousand also of the Jewes be witten by in the kings hoste, and haue their wages payde, as all other men of warre of the kings should haue: and of them shall be ordayned certaine to keepe the kings strong holdes,

37 Yea, and some of them shall be set ouer the kings secret affaires: and their governours and princes shall be of themselves, and liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda:

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Iury from the countrey of Samaria, shall be taken as Iury, and be vnder one, neither be subject to any strange lord, but to the high priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the land pertaining thereto, I giue it vnto the sanctuary at Hierusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy things.

40 Wheresofore, I will giue euery yeere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payd for things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from hence forth they shall giue it toward the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yeerely of the account appointed for the intertainment of the sanctuary these yeeres passed, euen these things shall be released, because they appertaine to the priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flee vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, whereas they are fallen into the kings danger for any manner of business, they shall be pardoned, and all the goods that they haue in my realme shall be free,

44 For the building also and repaying of the worke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe giuen out of the kings reuenues.

45 Pea, and for the making of the wals round about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the old, and for the setting vp of the strong holds in Iurie, shall the colles and charges be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Ionathas and the people heard these words, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembered the great wickednesse that he had done vnto Israel, and how soe he had bexed them.

47 Wherefoze they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt friendly with them, and so they stood by him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and brought his armie against Demetrius.

49 So the two kings strooke battell together, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander followed after, and fell vpon them.

50 A mightie foze field was it, continuing till the sunne went downe: and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 And Alexander sent Ambassadors vnto Ptolome the king of Egypt, with these wordes, saying, 52 For so much as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius.

53 Conquered our land, and stricken a fielde with him, so that we haue discomitted both him and his hoste, and sit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs nowe make friendship together: giue me thy daughter to wife, so shall I be thy sonne in law, and both giue thee rewardes and her, according to thy dignity.

55 Ptolome the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come againe to the land of thy progenitors, and set in the throne of their kingdome:

56 And now will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred three scoze and two yere, 58 where king Alexander met him: and hee gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolomais with great worship, like as the maner of kings is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Ionathas, that he should come and meete him.

60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolomais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them and their friends great presents of gold and siluer, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there came together against Ionathas certaine wicked men and ungracious persons of Israel, making complaints of him: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Ionathas, the king commanded to take off his garments, and to clothe him in purple: and so they did. Then the king appointed him to sit by him,

63 And sayd vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middelt of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers saw the worship which was proclaimed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the king made much of him, wrote him among his chiefe friends, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Ionathas went againe to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred, threescoze and sixty yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers land:

68 whereof when Alexander heard tell, he was right sozy, and returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius chose Apollonius, which had the gouernance of Coelosyria, to be his captaine: so he gathered a great hoste, and came vnto Iamnia, and sent word vnto Ionathas the high priest, saying,

70 Darest thou withstand vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scozne and shamed, because thou diddest haunt thy strength against vs in the mountaines.

71 Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thine own strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together, for thou shalt know that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt know who I am, and the other that stand by me, which say, That your foot is not able to stand before our face, for thy fathers haue bene twice chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and footemen in the field, whereas is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Ionathas heard the words of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind, wherefoze he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tents at Joppa: but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius garison was in Joppa.

76 Then Ionathas layd siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: and so Ionathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen, with a great hoste on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he would go further, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Ionathas followed vpon him to Azotus, & the armie skirmished with his reuerward, and there they strooke the battaile.

79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousand horsemen behind them priuily in the tents.

80 And when Ionathas knew that such wait was laid behinde them, they went round about the enemies hoste, and shot darts at the people, from the morning to the euening.

81 As for Ionathas people, they kept their order as he had commanded them, and the enemies horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footemen (for the horsemen were weary already:) & so he discomitted them, and they fled.

Iosep. cap. lib. 13. 40.

Iosep. cap. 6. lib. 13.

83 And they that were scattered in the felde, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue their liues.

84 But Jonathas set fire vpon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, & tooke their goods, and burnt vnto the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fled vnto it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt welnigh eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathas remooued the holse from thence, and brought them to Alcalon, where the men of the cite came forth, and met him with great worship.

87 After this went Jonathas and his holse againe to Hierusalem, with great substance of goods.

88 And when king Alexander heard these things, he thought to doe Jonathas moze worship:

89 And sent him a collar of gold, as the vse is to be giuen to such as are of the kings next blood: hee gaue him also the cite of Accaron, with the lands belonging thereto in possession.

The xj. Chapter.

3 The dissention betweene Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander.

1 And the king of Egypt gathered an holse like the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceite to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to iointe it vnto his owne realme.

2 vpon this he tooke his iourney into Syria, bling gentle words, so that he was letten into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to doe, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when Ptolome entred into any city, he left men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout all the cities.

4 And when he came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was burnt vp, with the other things which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abroade, and the graues that they had made by the wayes side for such as were slaine in the fiels,

5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these things, to the intent they might get him euill will, but the king sayd not one word thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and tooke their rest.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Cleutherus, he turned againe to Hierusalem.

8 Nowe Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 And sent Ambassadors vnto Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so that I giue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.

11 And thus he slandered Alexander, because he would haue had his realme.

12 Thus hee tooke his daughter from him, gaue her to Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that his malice was openly knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his own head, the crown of Egypt, and of Asia.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, hee came to warre against him: so king Ptolome brought forth his holse, and met him with a mightie power, and chased him away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And Zaddiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the third day after died king Ptolome himselfe, and they whom he had set in the strong holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Iury, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Hierusalem, & so they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Jonathas besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angric, and immediatly came vnto Ptolomais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege to the castle, but come and speake with him at Ptolomais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles, when Jonathas heard this, hee commanded to besiege it: hee chose also certaine of the elders and priests of Israel, and put himselfe in perill, 24 And tooke with him gold, silver, clothing, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and found him gracious.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king increated him like as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 Confirmed him in the high priesthode, with all the worship that he had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathas also desired the king that hee would make Iurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the lands pertaining thereto: vpon this did Jonathas promise him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the same, containing these words, 30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 Wee sende you heere a copie of the letter which wee did write vnto our cosin Lathenus concerning you, that ye should knowe it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lathenus his father.

33 For the faithfullnesse that our friends the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnesse which they beare toward vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore wee assigne vnto the coastes of Iudea the thre governments, Afferina, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Iurie from Samaria, and all the landes pertaining thereunto, to be freely separated for such as doe sacrifice in Hierusalem, both concerning the payments which the king tooke pecerly afozetime, and the fruit also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tithes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharged them thcrof from this time forth.

36 In like manner we grant vnto them all the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shall they haue firme and stedfast from this time forth for euermoze.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Ionathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his host, eury man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, whom he brought from the Isles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers holse hated him.

39 Howe was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afoze, which when he saw that all the holse murmured against Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought by Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 40 And layd foze vpon him to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: hee told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre loued him not: and so remained there a long season.

41 And Ionathas sent vnto king Demetrius, to dricke them out which were in the castel at Hierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they did Israel great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent worde vnto Ionathas, saying, I will not onely do these things for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I will doe both thee and thy people great worship.

43 But now thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all my armie is gone from me.

44 So Ionathas sent him thzee thousand strong men vnto Antioch, and they came vnto the king, wherefore the king was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middl of the citie, & would haue slaine the king:

46 Which fled into his court, and the citizens kept the streets of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Iewes helpe, which came vnto him all together, and went a-broade thozow the citie.

48 And slew the same day an hundred thousand men, set fire vpon the citie, and gate many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Iewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themselves disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from troubling vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Iewes gate great worship in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and were spoken of thozowout the kingdome: and so they came againe to Hierusalem with great goods.

52 So the king Demetrius late in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuerthelesse, he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew himselfe from Ionathas, neither rewarded him according to the benefits which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this came Tryphon againe with yong Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned king.

55 When there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had put away: these fought against Demetrius, which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephants, and wanne Antioch.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, saying, I confirme thee in thy priesthoode, and make thee ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this hee sent him golden vessels to bee serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coastes of Cyprus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 When Ionathas tooke his iourney, and went thozow the cities beyond the water of Iordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered them vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went hee to Gaza, but they would not let him in: wherefore hee layd siege vnto it, burning by and spoiling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza submitted themselves vnto Ionathas, which made peace with them: but tooke of their foines to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, & went thozow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Now when Ionathas heard that Demetrius Princes were come into Cadex, which is in Galilee, with a great holse, purposing to drue him out of the countrey, 64 Hee came against them, and left Simon his brother in the land.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, and layd siege to it a long season, and discomfited them.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him: which hee granted them, and afterward put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set men to keepe it.

67 And Ionathas with his holse came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning gate them to the plaine field of Azor:

68 And behold, the holles of the heathen met them in the field, and layd watch for them in the mountaines, 69 So that when Ionathas came against them, the other which were layd to watch, rose out of their places and fought.

70 And they that were of Jonathas side fled euery man, and there was not one of them left except Mathathias the sonne of Abshalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captaine of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, & made his prayer, 72 And turned againe to them in the field, where they fought together, and he put them to flight.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe vpon all their enemies vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the heathen the same day thize thousand men: and Jonathas turned againe to Hierusalem.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Ionathas sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to reneue their couenant of friendship. 20 Ionathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceit.

Ionathas seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them to Rome, for to establish and to reneue the friendship with them:

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the || counsell, and sayd, Jonathas the high priest, and the people of the Jewes, sent vs vnto you, for to reneue the olde friendship and bond of loue.

4 vpon this the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should lead them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians, 6 Jonathas the high Priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 There were letters sent long ago vnto Onias the high priest, from || Arius which reigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie hereunder written doth specifie.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassado: that was sent, honourably, and receiued the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we haue no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our hands to our comfort.

10 Neuerthelesse wee had rather send vnto you for the rening of the brotherhood and friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent word vnto vs.

11 wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the high solemne dayes and other, we alway remember you without ceasing, like as reason is, and as it becometh vs to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though wee haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kings about vs haue fought against vs:

14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and friends in these warres.

15 For we had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enemies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to reneue the old || bond of friendship and loue with them.

17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe right well to giue vs an answere thereunto.

19 And this is the copy of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the high priest:

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now, for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our mind vnto you, our cattell and goods are yours, & yours ours: these things haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fight against him with a greater hoste then afoze, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath: for he gaue the not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe & told him that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commaunded his men to watch all the night, and to be ready with weapons for to fight, and set watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was ready with his men to the bataille, they feared, and were afraid in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuerthelesse, Jonathas and his companie knew it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he might not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Cleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, flue them, and tooke their goods.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thozow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and warne it, 34 (For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part.) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and devised with them for to builde by the strong holdes in Iury, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem higher, to set by an high wall betwixt the castle and the city, for to separate it from the city, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy nor sell in it.

37 Upon this they came together for to build by the city, and for so much as the wall upon the brooke of the East side, called Caphetecath, was fallen downe, they repaired it.

38 And Simon set by Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes by-on it.

39 Now when Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the king Antiochus:

40 He was afraid that Ionathas would not suffer him, but fight against him, wherefore hee went about to take Ionathas, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathas forth against him to the battell, with forty thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

42 But when Tryphon saw that Ionathas came with so great an hoste to destroy him, hee was afraid:

43 And therefore hee received him honourably, commending him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe:

44 And sayd vnto Ionathas, why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certaine men to waite vpon thee, & come thou with me to Ptolomais, for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, men of warre, and their officers, as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my coming.

46 Ionathas beleued him, and did as he said, putting away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda.

47 He kept but three thousand by him, whereof hee sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Nowe as soone as Ionathas entred into Ptolomais, the citizens barred the gates of the city, and tooke him, and slewe all them with the sword that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plaine field, to destroy all Ionathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Ionathas was taken, and all they slaine that waited vpon him, they tooke counsell together, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fight.

51 So when they which followed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 As for the other, they went into the land of Iuda peaccably, and bewailed Ionathas and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they sayde, Nowe haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs overcome them, and roote out their name from among them.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Of whome Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Ionathas, killeth him and his children.

Nowe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it,

2 And sawe that the people was in great fearefulnesse and care: he came by to Hierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Pee know what great battailes I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuary, and what manner of troubles we haue seene.

4 Through occasion wherof, all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 And now let me not spare mine owne life in any manner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:

6 But will auenge my people and the sanctuary, our children and our wiues: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 At these wordes the hearts of the people were kindled together,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Judas and Ionathas thy brethren:

9 Order thou our battell, and whatsoever thou commaundest vs, we shall doe it.

10 So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish all the walls of Hierusalem, which he made strong round about.

11 Then sent he Ionathas the sonne of Absolomus, with a fresh hoste vnto Joppa, which drove them out that were in the castle, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolomais with a great army, to come into the land of Iuda, and Ionathas with him in ward.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at Addus before the plaine field.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood by in stead of his brother Ionathas, and that he would warre against him, hee sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Ionathas thy brother, it is for money that hee is owing in the kings account, concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore, send now an hundred talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for suretie (that when he is letten forth, he shall not forsake vs) and we shall send him againe.

17 Neuerthelesse, Simon knewe that hee dissembled in his words: yet commaunded hee the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, leaue the Israelites might haue hated him, 18 And sayde, Because hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Ionathas dead.

19 So Simon sent him the children, and an hundred talents: but hee dissembled, and would not let Ionathas goe.

20 Afterward came Tryphon into the lande to destroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Ado: but wheresoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his holle also.

21 Nowe they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wilderness, and to send them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come the same night: neuerthelesse, it was a very great snow, so that hee came not because of the snow, but hee remooued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when hee drew nigh Balsama, hee sue Jonathas and his sonnes there.

24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon for to fetch his brothers dead coarce, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So all Israel beweped him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a building, high to looke vnto, of free stone, behind and before,

28 And set vpon seven pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillars round about them, with armes vpon it, for a perpetuall memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be feerne of men failing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which hee made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the pong king Antiochus, hee sue him traitterously, 32 And reigned in his stead, crowned himselfe king of Asia, and did much euill in the land.

33 Simon also built vpon the castles in Iurie, making them strong, with high towres, great walles, portes, and lockes, and layd vpon victuals in the strong holds.

34 And Simon chose certaine men, and sent them to king Demetrius, to desire him that hee would discharge the land from all bondage, for Tryphon had spoiled it very sojre.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 Demetrius the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest his friend, with the elders and people of the Jewes:

37 The golden crowne and pretious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write vnto our officers for to release you concerning the things wherein wee made you free.

38 And the appoyntment that wee make with you, shall bee firme and stable: the strong holdes which yee haue builded, shall bee your owne.

39 As for any ouersight or fault committed vnto this day, wee forgive it, and the crowne tate that yee ought vs also: and whereas was any other tribute in Hierusalem, it shall nowe be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meet among you to be in our court, let him be written vpon, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundreth and seventieth yeere.

42 And the people of the Jewes beganne to write in their letters and actes on this manner, In the first yeere of Simon the high Priest, a Governour and Prince of the Jewes.

43 In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and besieged it round about, where hee set by ordinance of warre, and wanne a towre, which hee tooke.

44 So they that gat into the towre, leapt into the city, which was in a great feare:

45 Insomuch that the people of the city rent their cloaths, and climbed vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beseeching Simon to be at one with them, saying,

46 O reward vs not after our wickednesse, but be gracious vnto vs, and we shall doe thee seruice.

47 Then Simon for very pitie would fight no more against them, but put them out of the city, and caused the houses, wherein the images were, to be cleansed, and so entered the city with psalmes of praise, giuing thanks vnto the Lord.

48 So when hee had cast all abominations out of the city, hee set such men in it as kept the lawe of God, and made the city strong, and builded a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Nowe when they in the castle at Hierusalem were kept so straitly that they could not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, and might neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them famished to deatch:

50 Insomuch that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which hee granted them: so hee put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the twenty and three day of the second moneth, in the hundred threelcoze and eleuenth yeere, they entered into it with thankgiuing, and braunches of Palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbals, and Lutes, singing psalmes and songs of praise vnto God, for that the great enemy of Israel was overcome.

52 And Simon ordained that the same day should be kept every yeere with gladnesse.

53 And made strong the hill of the Temple that was beside the castle, where hee dwelt himselfe with his company.

54 Simon also perceiuing that John his sonne was a mightie man of armes, made him captaine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwell at Gaza.

|| Or, Gazaris.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius is overcome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnesse in Israel.

18 The covenant of friendship with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renewed.

In the hundred threelcoze & twelfth yeere, gathered king Demetrius his holle, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, hee sent one of his princes to take him aliue, and to bring him vnto him.

3 So hee went and slew Demetrius holle, tooke himselfe, brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 And all the lande of Iuda was in rest so long as Simon liued, for he fought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worship alway.

5 Simon wan the city of Joppa also for an haueu towne, and made it an entrance into the Isles of the sea.

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them moze land:

7 He gathered by many of their people that were prisoners, hee had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle which hee cleansed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that every man tilled his ground in peace, the land of Iuda, and the trees gaue their fruit and increase.

9 The Elders sate all in iudgement, and tooke their deuice for the wealth of the land, the young men put on worship and harnesse vpon them.

10 Hee provided victuals for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worship was spoken of vnto the end of the world.

11 For he made peace throughout the lande, and Israel was full of mirth and ioy.

12 Every man sate vnder his vine & figtrees, and there was no man to fray them away.

13 There was none in the lande to fight against them, for then the Kings were ouercome.

14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, he was diligent to see the law kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, hee tooke them away.

15 He set by the sanctuary, and increased the holy vessels of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten worde that Ionathas was dead, they were right ioy:

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, and how he had wonne the land againe, with the cities in it:

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made afore with Judas and Ionathas his brethren.

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent:

20 The Senators and Citizens of Sparta, sende greeting vnto Simon the great Priest, with the elders, priests, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:

21 When your Ambassadors, that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worship, honour, and prosperous wealth, we were glad of their comming, 22 And haue written the ambassage in the publique records in this manner: namely, That Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Jewes Ambassadors, are come vnto vs for to renue the olde friendship with vs.

23 Upon this, the people consented that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the copy of their ambassage should be written in the speciall bookes of the people, for a perpetuall memoriale vnto the Spartians: yea, and that we should send a copy of the same vnto Simon the great priest.

24 After this did Simon send Numenius into Rome with a golden shield of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the Romanes vnderstood, they sayd, what thanks shall wee recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For hee and his brethren and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercome their enemies, wherefore they granted him to be free, and confirmed the liberty thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copy of the writing is this. The eighteenth day of the moneth Chul, in the hundred threetye and twelfth yeere, in the third yere of Simon the high Priest.

28 In the great congregation of the priests, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at Hierusalem, were these wordes openly declared:

29 For so much as there was much warre in our land, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the children of Iarib, and his brethren put themselves in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people, that their sanctuarie and law might be maintained, and did their people great worship.

30 Ionathas in like manner, after that hee had gouerned his people, and bene their high Priest, dyed, and yeth buried beside his elders.

31 After that would their enemies haue troden their holy things vnder foot, destroyed their land, and utterly waked their sanctuary.

32 Then Simon withstood them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the balliant men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Iuda, with Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iury, where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.

34 He made fast Joppa also, which lyeth by on the sea, and Hierusalem that bordereth vpon Iordan, where the enemies dwelt afore, and there hee set Jewes to keepe it: and whatsoever was meet for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layd he therein.

35 Now when the people saw the noble acts of Simon, and what worship hee purposed to do for them, his godly behauiour and faithfulness which hee kept vnto them, and how hee fought by all wayes the wealth of his people, because hee did all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest.

36 And in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their lande, and they also which were in the city of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out, and defiled all things that were about the sanctuary, and did great harme vnto cleanness:

37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the land and city, and set by the walles of Hierusalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood

Or, Hierusalem.

Or, Gasa.

39 For these causes, made him his friend, and did him great worship:

40 For he heard that the Romanes called the Jewes their friends, louers, and brethern: how honourably they receiued Simons ambassadours:

41 How the Jewes and priests consented that he should be their prince and high priest perpetually, till God raised by the true Prophet:

42 And that hee should be their captaine to care for the sanctuary, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the land, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy things:

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the writings of the land to be made in his name, that he should be clothed in purple and gold:

44 And that it should be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these things, to withstand his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the land without him: that hee should be clothed in purple, and weare a collar of gold.

45 And if there were any which disobeyed or brake his ordinance, that he should be punished.

46 So all the people consented to allow Simon, and to doe according to these wordes:

47 Simon also himselfe tooke it vpon him, and was content to be the high priest, the captaine and prince of the Jewes and priestes, and to gouerne them all.

48 And they commaunded to make this writing in tables of brasle, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuarie, in an open place:

49 And to laye by a copy of the same in the treasury, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The xv. Chapter.

The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes.

Whereouer King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the Isles of the Sea, vnto Simon the high Priest and prince of the Jewes, and to all the people,

2 Contempning these wordes, Antiochus the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Jewes.

3 Forasmuch as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to challenge the Realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and made ships of warre,

4 That I may goe thoroowe the country, and bee auenged on them which haue destroyed our lande, and walled many Cities in my realme.

5 And therefore now I make thee free also from all the tributes whereof all things my progenitours haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoever they be.

6 Psea. I giue thee leaue to smite money of thine owne within thy land.

7 As for Hierusalem, I will that it be holy and free, and all the weapons and houses of defence which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine hands, shall be thine:

8 Whereas any thing is or shalbe owing vnto the king, I forgieue it thee, from this time forth, for euermoze.

9 And when wee haue obtained our kingdome, we shall doe thee, thy people, and the temple great worship: so that your honour shall be knownen throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him, but he fled vnto Doza, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he saw that there was mischief comming vnto him, and that his hoste had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Doza, with an hundred and twenty thousand men of armes on foote, and eight thousand horsemen: so he compassed the city round about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they bered the City by land and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had bene with him, from the city of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and prouinces, wherein were contained these wordes,

16 Lucius the consul of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolome the king:

17 The Ambassadors of the Jewes our friends, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jewes, came vnto vs for to renew the olde friendship and bond of loue.

18 Brought a shield of gold, weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore wee thought it good to write vnto the kings and prouinces to doe them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countreys, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If there be any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their owne law.

22 The same wordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to all regions: as Samlames, to them of Sparta, || Delo, || Hydo, Sicron, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Iacclidias, Coos, Sida, Arado, Cozyna, Gnidium, to Cypres, and Cyrene.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copy to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king brought his hoste vnto Doza the second time, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he should not goe either in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with golde, siluer, and other plenteous things.

Or, Delus.
Or, Mydus.

27 Neuerthelesse he would not receiue them, but brake all the covenant which he made with Simon afore, and withdrew himselfe from him.

28 Hee sent Athenobius also a friend of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, saying, We withhold from mee Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, which are cities of my realme:

29 whose borders yee haue destroyed, and done great euill in the land, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome:

30 wherefore, deliuer nowe the cities which yee haue taken, with the tributes of the places which yee haue rule vpon without the borders of Iurie:

31 Or else giue me five hundred talents of siluer, yea, and for the harme that ye haue done in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other five hundred talents: if no, wee shall come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worship and honour of Simon, in golde, siluer, and so great plentie of ornaments, hee marueiled: and told Simon as the king commanded him.

33 Then answered Simon, and sayde vnto him, As for vs, wee haue neither taken other mens landes, nor withholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrightheously in possession a certaine time.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we challenged in proesse of tinn.

35 And whereas thou complainest concerning Joppa and Gaza, they did great harme to our people, and in our land, yet will we giue an hundred talents for them. Neuerthelesse, Athenobius answered him not one word:

36 But turned againe wrathfully vnto the king, and told him all these words, and the great dignitie of Simon, with all that hee had seene: and the king was very angrie.

37 And in the meane time fledde Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him an hoste of footemen and horsemen, 39 commaunding him to remooue the hoste toward Iury, and to build by the city of Cedron, to make by the portes, and to warre against the people of the Jewes: as for the king himselfe, he followed vpon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came into Jamnia, and began to here the people, to tread downe Iurie, to take the people prisoners, to slay them, 41 And to build by Cedron: where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and goe through the streets of Iury, like as the king had commanded him.

The xvj. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoste, is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon.

Then came by John from Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done among their people.

2 vpon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and sayd vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth by vnto this day, foughten against the enemies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israel oftentimes.

3 And now, soasmuch as I am old, and yee by Gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be yee in stead of me and my bother, to goe forth and fight for our people: and the helpe of God bee with you.

4 So hee chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey, with horsemen also, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field, and behold, a mighty great host came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And John remooued the hoste toward them: and when he sawe that the people was afraid to go ouer the water brooke, he went ouer first himselfe: and the men seeing this, followed him.

7 Then John set his horsemen and footmen in order, the one by the other: for their enemies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blew by the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host: whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gat them to their strong holds.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same time, and John followed still vpon their enemies, till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had builded.

10 The enemies fled also vnto the towres that were in the fields of Azotus, and those did John burne by with fire: thus there were slaine two thousand men of them, and John turned againe peaceably into Iury.

11 And in the field of Jericho was Ptolome the sonne of Abobus made captaine: which because he had abundance of siluer and gold,

12 (for hee had married the daughter of Simon the high priest.)

13 Waxed proud in his mind, and thought to conquer the lande, imagining falshood against Simon and his sonnes, to destroy them.

14 Nowe as Simon was going about thowt the cities that were in the countrey of Iury, and caring for them, he came downe to Jericho with Mathathias and Judas his sonnes, in the hundred threelcore and seventeenth yere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabar.

15 Then Ptolome the sonne of Abobus receiued them, but with deceit, into a strong house of his called Dochus, which hee had builded, where he made them a banquet, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes were merry, and had drunken well, Ptolome stood by, with his men, whome he had hid there, and tooke their weapons, entered into the banquet house, and slew Simon with his two sonnes, and certaine of his seruants.

17 Such great vnthankfulnesse did Ptolome in Israel, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome these things, and sent vnto king Antiochus, requiring him that he should sende him an hoste to helpe him: and so should hee deliuer him the lande, with the cities and tributes of the same.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gaza, for to take John, a wote vnto the captaines to come to him, and he should giue them siluer, gold, and rewards.

Or, boly

20 And to Hierusalem he sent other, to take it, and the Sanctuary.

21 When ranne there one before, and tolde John in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slaine, and how that Ptolome had sent to slay him also.

22 When John heard this, he was soze abashed, and layed hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them: for hee knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 As for other things concerning John, of his warres, of his noble acts, wherein he behaued himselfe manfully, of the building of wallis which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the time fourth that hee was made high Priest after his father.

The first Chapter.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hidde in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

TH E brethren of the Iewes which be at Hierusalem, and in the land of Iurie, with vnto these brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God bee gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, his faithfull seruants:

3 And giue you all such an heart, that yee may loue and serue him, yea, and performe his wil with an whole heart, and a willing minde:

4 He open your hearts vnto his Law, and in his Commandements, and send you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, bee at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 For so much as now wee here be praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and nine yeere, wee Iewes wote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Jason departed out of the holy land and kingdome.

8 They burnt by the ports, and shed innocent blood: then made wee our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard, wee offered by sacrifices and fine floure, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 * And now come yee vnto the feast of Tabernacles, in the moneth of Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eightene yeere, the people that was at Hierusalem, and in Iurie, the counsaile, and Judas himselfe, sent this wholesome salutation vnto Aristobulus Ptolomes master, which came of the generation of the anoynted Priests, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no lesse at all then if we had banquished the King in battel.

12 For when hee, with those that had fought against the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persia, namely the captaine with the great host, he perished in the temple of Paneas, being deceiued thowow the deuice of Paneas Priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as hee that should marry with her, came, and his friendes with him, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money which the priestes of Paneas had set fourth, 15 He entred with a small company into the compasse of the temple, and so they shutte the temple.

16 Now when Antiochus entred by opening the priuic entrance of the Temple, the priestes stoned the captaine to death, he wed them in pieces that were with him, snote off their heads, and threw them out.

17 In all things God be praised, which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes to bee punished.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the twentieth a fifth day of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessary to certifie you thereof, that yee also might keepe the Tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was giuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set by the Temple and the Altar.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away into Persia, the Priestes which then sought the honour of God, tooke the fire priuily from the Altar, and hid it in a balley, where as was a deepe dry pit: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknown to euery man.

20 Now after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias should bee sent from the King of Persia, he sent the childrens children of those Priestes which had hid the fire, to seeke it: and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commanded he them to draw it by, and to bring it him, and the offerings withall: Nowe when the sacrifices were layd on, and ordered, Nehemias commanded the Priestes to sprinkle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was done, and the time come that the Sunne shone which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, inso-much that euery man marvelled.

23 Nowe all the Priestes prayed while the sacrifice was a making: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue answer.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this manner. O Lord God, maker of all things, thou fearfull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gracious King,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust, Almighty and euertasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offering for thy whole people of Israel, preferue thine owne portion, and halow it,

27 Gather those together that are scattered abroad from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are despised and abhored: that the heathen may knowe and see howe that thou onely art God, which art our God, 28 Punish them that oppresse and proudly put vs to dishonour.

29 Set thy people againe in thine holy place, like as * Moses hath spoken.

30 And the Priests sung Psalmes of thanksgiving, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe when the sacrifice was burnt, Nehemias commanded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the light that shined from the Altar.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was tolde the King of Persia, that in the place where the Priests which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his company had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the King, considering and pondering the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a Temple, to prouoe the thing that was done:

35 And when he found it so in deede, he gaue the Priests many gifts, and diuers rewards, yea, hee tooke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called þ same place Nephthar, which is as much to say, as a cleansing: but many men call it Nephth.

The ij. Chapter.

4 How Ieremie hid the Tabernacle, the Arke, and the Altar in the hill. 21 Of the fiue bookes of Iason contained in one.

IT is founde also in the * writings of Ieremie the Prophet, that hee commanded them which were carried away, to take fire, as it is sayd afoze.

2 He commanded them also that they should not forget the Lawe and Commandements of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their minds, when they see images of silver and gold, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commanded he them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Lawe of God goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the prophet at the commandement of God, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountaine where Moses climed vp, and saw the heritage of God.

5 *And when Ieremie came there, he found an open caue, wherein he layed the Tabernacle, the Arke, and the Altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 There came certaine men together also, following him to marke the place, but they could not finde it.

7 Which when Ieremie perceiued, he reproued them, saying, As for that place it shall be unknowne, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and receiue them vnto mercie.

8 Then shall God shewe them these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shall appeare, and the cloude also, like as it was shewed vnto Moses: and like as when Salomon desired that the place might bee honourably sanctified, and it was shewed him.

9 For he being a wise man, handled honourably and wisely, * offering vnto God in the halowing of the Temple when it was finished.

10 * And like as when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering: euen so prayed * Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering.

11 And Moses saide, * Because the sinne of offering was not eaten, therefore it is consumed.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication or hallowing, eight dayes.

13 In the annotations and writings of Ieremie were these things put also: and how hee made a librarie, and how he gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the Kings, and of the Prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the Kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 Euen so Judas also, looke what he learned by experience of warre, and such things as haue happened vnto vs, he gathered them all together, and so we haue them by vs.

15 If yee now desire to haue the same, sende some body to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, wee haue written vnto you: therefore yee shall doe well if yee keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them all the heritage, kingdom, priesthood, and Sanctuary, 18 * That he promised them in the Law, shall shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place, so: he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Maccabees, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, the dedication of the Altar:

20 Yea, and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus, and Eupator: his sonne:

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen by the haliant actes of those which defended the Jewes Religion, so that a fewe ranne through the whole countrey, and dyaue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repaired againe the Temple that was spoken of throughout all the world, deliuered the cite, doing their best, that the Lawe of the Lord which was put downe, might with all tranquillitie bee rejoyed againe vnto the Lord that was so mercifull vnto them:

23 As touching Jason also of Cyrene, wee haue undertaken compendiously to bring into one booke the things that were comprehended of him in five.

24 For wee considering the multitude of the bookes, and how hard it should be for them that should meddle with storjes and acts, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue undertaken so to comprehend the storjes, that such as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastime therein, and that they which are diligent in such things, might the better thinke vpon them: yea, and that whosoever read them, might haue profite thereby.

26 Neuerthelesse, wee our selues that haue medled with this matter, for the shortning of it, haue taken no small labour, but great diligence, watchings, and trauel.

27 Like as they that make a feast, would faine do other men pleasure: euen so we also for many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Whereas we may shortly comprehend the things that other men haue truly written.

29 For he that buildeth an house anew, must prouide for many things to the whole building: but hee that painteth it afterward, seeketh but onely that is comely, meete, and conuenient to garnish it withall.

30 Euen so doe wee also in like maner: and why? hee that beginneth first to write a storje, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wordes in order, and diligently seeke out euery part.

31 But hee that afterward will shorten it, leaues few wordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.

32 Now will wee begin to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storje it selfe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple.

What time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordeined through the godlinesse of Onias the high Priest, and other godly men that were enemies to wickednesse.

2 It came thereto, that euen the Kings and princes themselves did the place great worship, and garnished the Temple with great gifts:

3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rents bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the offerings.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, being ruler of the Temple, vpon a variance risen betwene him and the high Priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie.

5 For that hee coulde not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the sonne of Charlia, which then was chiefe lord in Coelosyria, and Phenice.

6 And tolde him that the treasure in Hierusalem was full of innumerable money, and howe that the common goods which belong not vnto the offerings, were exceeding great also: yea, and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the Kings power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the King of the money, as it was told him: the King called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement to bring him the same money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his journey, but vnder a colour as though he would goe through Coelosyria and Phenice to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfill the Kings pleasure.

9 So when hee came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high Priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming: he asked also if it were so in deed.

10 Then the high Priest told him, that there was such money layed by for the vpholding of widowes and fatherlesse children.

11 And how that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of all the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold:

12 Yea, and that it were impossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued, that had put assured confidence in the holinesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted safetie of the Temple, which is had in worship thozow the whole world, for the maintenance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answered, that the King had commanded him in any wise to bring him the money.

14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entered into the temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no small feare thozowout the whole citie.

15 The Priestes fell downe before the Altar in their bestments, and called vnto heauen by on him which had made a lawe concerning truste giuen to keepe, that they should bee safely preferred for such as committed them vnto keeping.

16 Then who so had looked the high Priest in the face, it would haue grieved his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorow of his minde.

17 The man was all in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon him might perceiue the griefe of his heart.

18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come into confusion:

19 The women came together through the streets with haire clothes about their breastes: the virgines also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some by vpon the walles, other some looked out at the windowes, 20 Yea, they all held by their hands toward heauen, and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vpon the common people, and the high Priest, being in such trouble.

22 But they besought Almighty God, that the goods which were committed vnto them, might bee kept whole for those that had deliuered them vnto their keeping.

23 Neuerthelesse, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that performed hee in the same place, hee himselfe personally being about the treasury with his men of warre.

24 But the Spirit of Almighty God betwed himselfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fell through the power of God, into a great fearefulness and dread.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse, with a terrible man sitting vpon him, deckt in goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: now hee that late vpon the horse had harnesse of golde vpon him.

26 Moreover, there appeared two faire and beautifull yong men, of notable strength, in goodly aray, which stood by him, scourged him on both the sides, and gaue him many stripes without ceasing.

27 With that fell Heliodorus suddenly vnto the ground: so they tooke him by, being compassed about with great darkenes, and bare him out vpon a beere.

28 Thus hee that came with so many runners and men of warre into the said Treasure, was borne out, whereas no man might helpe him, being destitute of harnesse and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest and known.

29 Hee lay still dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.

30 And they prayed the Lord, that hee had shewed his power vpon his place and Temple, which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, and that through the reuelation of the Almighty Lord it was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then certayne of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that in all haste hee would call vpon God, to graunt him his life which was giuing by the ghost.

32 So the high Priest, fearing least the king should suspect that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered an offering for his health.

33 Now when the high Priest had obtained his petition, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Thanke Onias the high Priest: for for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life.

34 Therefore seeing that God hath scourged thee, giue him praise and thanks, and shew euery man his might and power. And when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him which had granted him his life, thanked Onias, took his host, and went againe to the King.

36 When testified hee vnto euery man of the great workes of God, that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Hierusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemy or aduersary vnto thy Realme, send him thither, and thou shalt haue him punished, if he escape with his life: for in that place no doubt there is a speciall power and working of God.

39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen, visiteth, and defendeth that place, and all that come to do it harme, he punisheth and plagueth them.

40 This is now the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the Treasure at Hierusalem.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason desiring the office of the high Priest, corrupted the King with rewards.

His Simon now (of whom wee spake afore) being a betrayer of the money, and of his owne naturall countrey, reposed the worst of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though hee had bene a bringer by of euill.

2 Thus was hee not ashamed to call him an enemy of the Realme, that was so faithfull an ouerseer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea, and so feruent in the Law of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increased so farre, that through his friends there were certayne manlaughters committed:

4 Onias considered the perill that might come through this strife, and how that Apollonius the chiefe lord in Coelosyria and Phenice was all set vpon tyrannie, and Simons malice increased the same.

5 Hee gate him to the King, not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that by himselfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:

6 For hee sawe it was not possible to liue in peace, neither Simon to leaue off from his foolishnesse, except the King did looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, which is called the noble, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured to be high Priest:

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of the other rents fourescore talents.

9 Besides this, he promised him yet an hundred and fiftie more, if hee might haue licence to set by a schoole and an exercise of weapons, and that he might call them of Hierusalem, Antiochians.

10 Which when the King had granted, and he had gotten the superiourtie, he began immediatly to draw his kindmen to the custome of the heathen, 11 But downe the things that the Jewes had set by of loue by John the father of Eupolemus, which was sent Ambassado: vnto Rome, for to make the bond of friendship and loue, hee put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Jewes, and set by the wicked statutes.

12 For whē he had made a schoole of fence vnder the castle, he drew all the chiefe yong men on his side, and trained them to weare hats.

13 And there was such a feruent desire to come to the maners of the heathen, and to take by new strange fashions, brought in through the vngenerous and vnheard wickednesse of Iason, which should not be called a Priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the Priests were now no more occupied about the seruice of the Altar: but despised the Temple, regarded not the offerings, yea, gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wastle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but liked the glory of the Grekes best of all:

16 For the which they stroue perillously, and were greedy to followe their statutes, yea, their lust was in all things to bee like them, which also were their enemies and destroyers.

17 No woe it, to doe wickedly against the law of God, shall not escape unpunished: but of this we shall speake hereafter.

18 What time as the * Olympian sportes were played at Cyprus, the king himselfe being present, 19 This ungracious Jason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Hierusalem (which now were called Antiochians) three hundred dragnes of silver, for an offering to Hercules: these had they that carried them desired, vnder such a fashion as though they should not haue bene offered, but bestowed to other bles.

20 Nevertheless, he that sent them, sent them to the intent that they should bee offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were giuen as to the making of ships.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menelaus was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of king Ptolome Philometor. Now when Antiochus perceiued that hee was put out from meddling in the realme, he sought his owne profit, departed from thence, came to Joppa, and then to Hierusalem, 22 Where he was honourably receiued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torch light, and with great praise: and so he turned his holke vnto Phenice.

23 After thre yeres, Jason sent Menelaus (the foresayd Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring him an answer of other necessary matters.

24 But he when he was commended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe, laying bp three hundred talents of silver for Jason.

25 So when he had gotten commandements from the king, he came hauing nothing that becommeth a Priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde brute beast.

26 Then Jason, which had deceiued his own brother, seeing that hee himselfe was beguiled also, was faine to flee into the land of the Ammonites.

27 And Menelaus gate the dominion, but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he did nothing therein, albeit Sottratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.

28 For Sottratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the Priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his stead, and Sottratus left Crates ouerfeer of the Cyprians.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Charlians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were giuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kings concubine.

31 Then came the king in all haste to still them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputy, as one meete therefore.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that hee had gotten a right conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some hee solde at Cyprus, and in the cities there by.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surretie, he reprooned him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lieth by Antioch.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus, and prayed him that hee would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, hee counselled him craftily to come out of the sanctuary, giuing him his hand with an othe (howbeit he suspect him) and then he slew Onias without any regard of rightousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Jewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, and were displeas'd for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Jewes and certaine of the Greekes went vnto him, complaining for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea, Antiochus himselfe was sorie in his minde for Onias, so that it pittied him: and hee wept, remembering his sobernesse, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kindled in his mind, that hee commanded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothing, and so to be led thorowout the citie, yea, and the ungracious man to bee slaine in the same place where hee committed his wickednesse vpon Onias: thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as hee had deserued.

39 Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the Temple through the counsel of Menelaus, and the voice came abroade: the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus, for hee had carried out now much gold.

40 So when the people arose, and were full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed thre thousand vnchristes to defend him, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, which was grown both in age and woodnesse.

41 They therefore seeing the enterprise of Lysimachus, caught bp, some stones, some blockes ends, and some handfulls of dust that was next at hand, and thre w them vpon the rebels of Lysimachus band that had set vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, some being slaine, and all the other chased away: but as for the wicked Churchzobber himselfe, they killed him beside the treasure.

43 Of these matters therefore there was kept a court against Menelaus.

44 Now when the king came to Cyprus, thre men that were sent from the Senate, pleaded him guiltie before the king.

45 But Menelaus being now conuict, went and promised Ptolome the sonne of Dozymenes to giue him much money, if he would pacifie the king toward him.

46 So Ptolome went to the king into a court, whereas hee was set to coole him, and brought him out of that mind:

47 Insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of all mischief: and those poore men, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bene iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they soone punished, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, for the

These were kept in a sanctuary people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Egypt, moved with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to be very honourably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnes of them that were in power, Menelaus remained still in authoritie, increasing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the signes and tokens scene in Hierusalem. 6 Of the ende and office of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes.

ABout the same time Antiochus vnderooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there scene throughout all the citie of Hierusalem fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bands of spearemen.

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, in countering and coursing one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of darts, and drawing of swords, & shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour scene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the citie: the citizens ran vnto the walles: at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Iason, hee spared not his owne citizens in the slaughter, neither considered hee what great euill it were, to destroy the prosperitie of his owne kindred: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his friends.

7 For all this gate hee not the superiortie, but at the last receiued confusion for his malice, and fled againe like a bagabond into the land of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse, hee was accused before Artabazanes the king of the Arabians, insomuch that hee was faine to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abominable person: and at the last, as an open enemy of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, hee was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne natie land, perished from home himselfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kindred.

10 And hee that afore had cast many one out vnburied, was thrown out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: so that he neither enioyed the buriall of a stranger, neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when this was done, the king suspected that the Jewes would haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great displeasure out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 Hee commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill a noespare: but lay downe such as withstood them, or climbed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a great slaughter of yong men, old men, women, children, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there slaine fourscore thousand, fourty thousand put in prison: and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, Menelaus, that traitor to the lawes & to his owne naturall countrey, being his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings and cities had giuen thither for the garnishing and honour of the place, them tooke he in his hands vnworthily, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not how that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such confusion came vpon that place.

18 And why? if it had not happened them to haue bene lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus alsoone as hee had come, had suddenly bene punished and shut out of his presumption, like as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to rob the treasure.

19 Neuerthelesse, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but after ward shall it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was now forsaken in the wrath of almighty God: so when the great God is reconciled, it shall be set vp in high worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousand and eight hundred talents out of the temple, hee gate him to Antioch in all the haste, thinking in his pride that hee might make men saile vpon the drie land, and to goe vpon the sea: such an high minde had hee.

22 He left deputies there to bere the people: at Hierusalem left hee Philis a phigian, in maners more cruell then himselfe that set him there:

23 At Garizim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more grieuous to the citizens then the other.

24 Now as hee was thus set in malice against the Jewes, hee sent Apollonius a cruell prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousand, commanding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sort.

25 When he came now to Hierusalem, hee saued peace, and kept him still vntill the Sabbath day: and then hee commanded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Jewes kept holy day:

26 And so hee slue all them that were gone forth to the open plaine, running here and there thowow the citie with his men weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Judas Machabeus, which was the tenth, fled into the wilderness, led his life there with his companie among wilde beastes, and vpon the mountaines, dwelling there, and eating herbes, lest they should be partakers of the filthynesse.

monished that they shal not abhorre the aduerstie wherewith the Lord afflicteth them. 28 The grieuous paine of Eleazarus.

Now long after this, sent the King an olde man of Antioche, for to compell the Jewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the Law of God,

2 To defile the Temple that was at Hierusalem, and to cal it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that they should bee in Garizim, as those which dwell at the place of Jupiter the barbarous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauy vpon all the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuousnes, bibbing and boilling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull.

5 The Altar also was full of vnlawfull things, which the Law forbiddeth to lay vpon it.

6 The Sabbathes were not kept, the other solemne feasts of the land were not regarded: to be plaine, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Jew.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were compelled perforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to weare garlands of Iuie, and so to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreover, through the counsell of Ptolomcus, they went out a commandement vnto the next citie of the Heathen, against the Jewes, that the like custome and banquetting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme themselves to the manners of the Gentiles, should bee put to death: then might a man haue seene the present misery.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whom when they had ledde round about the citie, the babes hanging at their breastes, they cast them downe headlong oter the walles.

11 Some that were crept in denmes, and had kept the Sabbath, were accused vnto Philip, and burnt in the fire, because that for the feare of God they kept the Commandement so strictly, and would not defend themselves.

12 Now I beseech all those which reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these tales of aduerstie, and iudge the things that are happened, for no destruction, but for a chastning of our people.

13 And why? when God suffereth not sinners long to follow their owne minde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.

14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sin vnpunished, like as other nations:

15 That when the day of Iudgement cometh, he may punish them in the fulnes of their finnes.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraueth his mercy from vs: and though he punish with aduerstie, yet doeth hee neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that wee haue spoken nowe with few wordes, bee for a warning and exhortation of the heathen: now will wee come to the declaring of the matter.

18 Eleazar one of the principall Scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to gape with open mouth, and to eate twines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to die gloriozly, then to liue with shame, offered himselfe willingly to the martyrdome.

20 Now when hee sawe that he must needes goe to it, hee tooke it patiently: for hee was at a point with himselfe, that hee would not consent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleasure of life.

21 They that stood by, being moued with pitie (but not aright) for the old friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him that he would let such flesh bee brought him as were lawfull to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the flesh of the sacrifice, like as the King commanded.

22 For so he might be deliuered from death: and so for the olde friendship of the man, they shewed him this kindnesse.

23 But he began to consider discretely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his gray haire whereunto hee was come, and his most heuie conuersation from his childehood, but chiefly the holy Law made and giuen by God, therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not mine age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourtze yeeres old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion:

25 And so through mine hypocritie for a little time of transitorie life, they might bee deceiued: by this meanes also should I defile mine age, and make it abominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of men, yet should I not escape the hande of Almighty God, neither aliué nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will die manfully, and do as it becommeth mine age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue an example of stedfastnes for such as be yong, if I with a ready minde, and manfully, die an honest death for the most worthy and holy Lawes. when he had said these wordes, immediatly hee was drawen to the torment.

29 Now they that led him, and were milde a little afore, began to take displeasure, because of the wordes that he said: for they thought he had spoken them of an high minde.

30 But when he was in his martyrdome, he mourned and said, Thou, O Lord, which hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that whereas I might bee deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my minde I am well content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man died, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all the people to be stedfast and manly.

T happened also that there were seven brethren, with their mother, taken, and compelled by the king, against the law, to eat swines flesh, namely, with scourges and leatherne whips.

2 And one of them which was the chiefe, said, what sekest thou, & what requirest thou of vs: as for vs, we are ready rather to suffer death, then to offend the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bade heat cauldrons, and brazen pots: which when they were made hot,

4 Immediately he commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, to pull the skin ouer his head, to pare the edges of his hands and feet, yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of his brethren,

5 Now when he was cleane mangled, hee commanded a fire to be made, & so (while there was any breath in him) to be fried in the cauldron: In the which when he had bene long pained, the other brethren, with their mother, exhorted him to die manfully, saying,

6 The Lord God shal regard the truth, and comfort vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his song, saying, And he will have compassion on his seruants.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second, to haue him in derision, pulled the skin, with the haire, ouer his head, and asked him if he would eat swines flesh, yea hee were pained in the other members also, thozowout his body.

8 But he answered in his owne language, and said, I will not do it: and so he was tormented like as the first.

9 And when hee was euen at the giuing by of the ghost, he sayd, Thou most ungracious person puttest vs now to death, but the King of the world shal raise vs by, which die for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life.

10 After him was the third had in derision, & when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast faith, These haue I of heauen, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king and they which were with him, marvelled at the young mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paines.

13 Now when he was dead also, they beyed the fourth with torments in like manner.

14 So when hee was now at his death, hee sayd, It is better that we, being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shall raise vs by againe: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.

16 Then looked he vnto the king, and sayd, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abide thee, tarrie still a while, and thou shalt see the great power of God, how he will punish thee and thy seed.

18 After him they brought the sixth, which being at the point of death, sayd, Be not deceiued, O king: for this wee suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therfore maruellous things are thewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou which takest in hand to strue against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

20 This excellent mother, worthy to be well reported of, and had in remembrance, saw her seven sonnes die in one day, and suffred it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wisdom, waking vpon her wretched thought with a manly stomache, and sayd vnto them,

22 I can not tel how ye sprang in my wombe, for I neither gaue you breath, nor soule, nor life, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together,

23 But the maker of the world, which fashioned the birth of man, and beganne all things: euen hee also of his owne mercie shall giue you breath and life againe, like as ye now regard not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Now thought Antiochus that she had despised him, therefore hee let her goe with her reproofs, and began to exhort the yongest sonne, which was yet left, not onely with words, but swore vnto him with an oath, that he should make him a rich and wealthy man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he should giue him whatsoeuer were necessary for him.

25 But when the yong man would not be moued for all these things, he called his mother, and counselled her to saue her sonnes life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would speake to her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scoorne, and spake in her countrey language, O my sonne, haue pity vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my womb, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee by vnto this age:

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hang man, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue done: that I may receiue thee againe in the same mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the yong man sayd, Whom looke ye for? wherefore doe ye tarie? I will not obey the kings commandement, but the law that God gaue vs by Moses.

31 As for thou that imaginest all mischief against the Jewes, thou shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For we suffer these things because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lord be angry with vs a litle while, for our chastening and reformation, yet shall he be at one againe with his seruants.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pride not thy selfe through balme hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruants of God:

Deu. 3:4

Or, he

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgements of God, which is almighty, and seeth all things.

36 My brethren that have suffered a little paine, are now vnder the covenant of euerslasting life: but through the iudgement of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue done, I offer my soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our people, yea, and with paine and punishment to make thee grant that he only is God.

38 In me now and in my brethren the wrath of almighty God is at an end, which righteously is fallen vpon all our people.

39 Then the king, being kindled in anger, was more cruell vpon him then vpon all the other, & tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So this yong man died vndefiled, and put his trust still in the Lord.

41 Last of all, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this now bee enough spoken concerning the offerings and extreme crueltie.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Iudas gathereth together his host. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 27 The Iewes giue thanks after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse and widowes.

When Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, called their kinnesfolks and friends together, tooke vnto them all such as continued yet in the faith & law of the Iewes, and brought forth six thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gracious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, which was shortly like to be layed waste, to heare the voice of the blood that cried vnto him,

4 To remember the most vnrightheous deaths of yong innocent children, the blasphemies also done vnto his Name, and to punish them.

5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was too mighty for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 He fel vpon the townes & cities betwix, burnt them, tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies:

7 But specially hee made such chases by might, insomuch that his mannesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philly saw that the man increased by little and little, and that the matter prospered with him for the most part: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captaine in Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businessse.

9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, in all the haste, and gaue him of the common sort of the heathen, no lesse then twentie thousand harnessed men, to root out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to helpe him, one Gorgias a man of war, which in matters concerning battels, had great experiance.

10 Nicanor ordeined also the tribute which the Romans should haue had to be giuen vnto the king out of the captiuitie of the Iewes, namely, two thousand talents.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requiring them for to buy Iewes to be their seruants and bondmen, promising to sell them foure score and ten for one talent: but hee considered not the wrath of almighty God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Iudas knew of this, hee tolde the Iewes that were with him, of Nicanors coming.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, not trusting vnto the rightousnesse of God, and fled their way, and abode not in that place:

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought the Lord to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them ouer he came nigh them:

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the coucnant that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Machabeus called his men together, namely, about six thousand, exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, neither to be afraid for the multitude of their aduersaries coming against them vnrightheously, but to fight manly,

17 Considering the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea, and destroyed the lawes of their fathers.

18 For they, sayd he, trust in their weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the Almighty Lord, which in the twinkling of an eye may both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 He exhorted them also to call to remembrance the helpe that God thewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred foure score and five thousand of Sennacheribs people:

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galatians: how all the Medes that came to helpe them, being foure thousand, stood in feare: and how they, being onely but six thousand, slew an hundred and twenty thousand, through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, wherby they also had receiued many benefites.

21 Through these words, the men tooke good hearts vnto them, ready to die for the law and the countrey.

22 So he set vpon euery company a captaine, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Ionathas, giuing ech one fiftene hundred men.

23 Hee caused Eldas also to reade the holy booke vnto them, and to giue them a token of the helpe of God: then hee himselfe, being captaine in the forefront of the battel, buckled with Nicanor.

24 And God was their helpe, insomuch that they slew aboue nine thousand men, and compelled the more part of Nicanors hoste to flee, they were so wounded and feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those that that came to buy them, and followed upon them on every side.

26 But when the time came upon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they followed no more upon them.

27 So they took their weapons and spoiles, and kept the Sabbath, giving thanks unto the Lord, which had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the Sabbath, they distributed the spoiles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to widowes, and the residue had they themselues, with theirs.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to be at one with his seruants.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, which fought against them, they slew twenty thousand, wanne high and strong holdes, and diuided more spoiles, euer giuing an equall portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to widowes, and to aged persons.

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons together, they layed them all in conuenient places, & the remnant of the spoiles brought they to Hierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Jewes.

33 And when they held the thanksgiuing at Hierusalem for the victorie, they burnt those that had set fire on the ports of the temple, namely, Calisthenes, which was fled into an house, and so they gate a worthy reward for their wickednesse.

34 As for that most ungracious Sicanoz, which had brought a thousand merchantes to buy the Jewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: insomuch that hee put off his glorious raiment, fled by the sea, and came alone to Antioch with great shame and dishonour, which hee gate through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus hee that promised the Romans to pay them their tribute when he tooke Hierusalem, beganne now to say plainly, that God was the defender of the Jewes, and therefore not possible to wound them, because they followed the lawes which God had made.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Antiochus willing to spoile Persepolis, is driuen to flight. 9 Ashe persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dieth.

The same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, and undertooke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the cite, the people ranne together, and defended themselves, insomuch that hee and his were faine to flee with shame: and so after that flight, it happened that Antiochus came againe with dishonour.

3 But when he came to Ecbatana, he gate knowledge what was happened vnto Sicanoz and Timotheus.

4 Now as he was auancing himselfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was done to them, upon the Jewes: and therefore commanding to make readie his charet, hastning on his iourney without ceasing, the iudgement of God prouoking him, because he had spoken so proudly, that he would come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Jewes.

5 But the Lord God of Israel that seeth all things, smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague, which no man could heale: for as soone as he had spoken these words, there came vpon him an horrible paine of his bowels, and a sore griefe of the inner parts,

6 And that was but right: for hee had martyred other mens bowels with diuers & strange tormentes.

7 Howbeit, he would in no wise cease from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder & more malicious against the Jewes: but while he was commanding to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violently from the charet that ran swiftly, so that it bruised his body, and did him great paine.

8 And so he that thought a little before, he might command the floods of the sea, (so proud was hee beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in a paire of ballance, was now brought downe to the ground, and caried vpon an horlitter, knowledging the manifest power of God vpon him:

9 So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliuie, his flesh fel off for paine & torment, and all his army was grieved at his smell.

10 Thus hee that a little afore thought hee might reach to the starres of heauen, him might no man now abide nor beare, for the vehemency of stincke.

11 Wherefore he being brought from his great pride, began to come to the knowledge of himselfe, for the punishment of God warned him, and his paine increased euer more and more.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stincke, he said these words, It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, thinke not though proud, himselfe to be equall vnto God.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who now would haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the cite that he came vnto so hastily, to bring it downe to the ground, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he desireth to deliuer it free.

15 And as touching the Jewes, whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the fowles and wilde beasts, saying that he would haue destroyed both olde and yong, now he promised to make them like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas he had spoiled the holy temple afore, now he maketh promise to garnish it with great gifts, to increase the holy ornaments, and of his own rents to beare the costs and charges belonging to the offerings:

17 Yea, and that hee would also become a Jew himselfe, to goe thorow every place of the world that was inhabited, and to preach the power of God.

Or. rottenelle.

18 But when his paines would not cease (so) the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a very despaire he wrote vnto the Jewes a letter of intercession, containing these words:

19 The king and prince Antiochus, witheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Jewes, much health, and good prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, wee giue great thanks.

21 In my sicknesse also doe I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Persia, and was taken with soe disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common wealthe:

22 Neither despaire I in my selfe, but haue a good hope to escape this sicknesse.

23 But considering that my father led an host sometime in the higher places, and thewed who should reigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuersie, or any hard thing were declared, they in the land might know their chiefe lord, that there should be no insurrection:

25 Again, when I ponder with my selfe how that all the mighty men, and neighbours round about, are laying wait, and looke but for opportunity to doe harme: I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shall reigne after me, whom I haue oft commended to many of you when I was in the higher kingdomes, and haue written vnto him as follovveth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you, to remember the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally, and in especiall, and that euerie man will be faithfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shall be of sober and loving behauiour, and if he follow my deuice, he shall be indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murderer and blasphemor of God was soe smitten: and like as he had intreated other men, so he died a miserable death in a strange country, vpon a mountaine:

29 And his body, did Philip that went with him, carry away, which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple.

10 Hee beginneth to shew the actes of Eupator.

29 Fiuemen appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Jewes. 39 Timotheus is slaine.

Machabeus now and his companie, through the helpe of the Lord, wan the temple & the city againe.

2 Destroyed the altars and chapels that the heathen had builded thoro' the streets,

3 Cleaned the temple, made another altar of brickestone, and after two yeeres they offered sacrifices, set forth the incense, the lights, and shew bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, he himselfe to chasten them with mercy, and not to come into the hands of those aiantes, and blasphemous men.

5 Howe vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the Temple, it happened that on the very same day it was cleansed againe, namely, the twentieth and fifth day of the moneth called Casfeu.

6 They kept eight dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon the mountaines, and in denness, like beasts.

7 And for the same token they bare greene boughs, branches, and palmes, & sung Psalmes before him that had giuen them good successe to cleanse his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute, that euery yeere those dayes should be solemnly kept of all the people of the Jewes.

9 How Antiochus then, that was called the noble, died, it is sufficiently told.

10 Now wil we speake of Eupator: the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, how it hapned with him, and so with fewe words to comprehend the adueritie that chanced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the host in Phenice and Syria, ouer the matters of the realme.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macrois, being a ruler of the Jewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for such wrong as was done vnto them, bindertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traitour, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he had departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poisoned himselfe, and died.

14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, and vnder-tooke oft times to warre with the Jewes.

15 Moreover, the Idumeans that held the strong holds, receiued those that were driuen from Iherusalem, and tooke in hand to warre also.

16 But they that were with Machabeus besought and prayed vnto the Lord, that he would be their helper: and so they fell vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came against them they slew, & killed no lesse of all together then twenty thousand.

18 Neuerthelesse, some, no lesse then nine thousand, were fled into two strong to wers, hauing all maner of ordinance to withstand them.

19 Then Machabeus leauing Simon, Josephus, Zacheus, & those that were with them, which were very many, went to besiege them, and to fight where most need was.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were entreated for money, through certaine of those that lay in the castles, and tooke three score and tenne thousand dragmas, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people together, accusing those persons that they had solde the brethren for money, and let their enemies go.

22 So he slew those traitours, and immediatly went in hand with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordered themselves manly

manly with their weapons & hands, they slew in the two castles more then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Jewes had overcome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an hoste also of horsemen of the Asians, to win Iurie by strength.

25 But when he drew nigh, Machabeus and they that were with him, fell to their prayer, sprinkled ashes upon their heads, being girded with hairy cloth about their loines, 26 fell downe before the altar, and besought the Lord that he would be merciful to them, but an enemy unto their enemies, and to take part against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the law.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they came nigh the enemies, they prepared themselves against them.

28 And betimes in the morning, at the break of the day, both the hostes buckled together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, which is the guet of prosperitie, strength, and victorie, the other had a manly stomacke, which is a captaine of warre.

29 The battell now being great, there appeared into the enemies from heauen sixe goodly men upon horsebacks, with bridles of golde leading the Jewes:

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot darts and lightnings upon the enemies, wherethrough they were confounded with blindness, and so sore afraid, that they fell downe.

31 There were slain of footmen twenty thousand & sixe hundred, and sixe hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fledde vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Machabeus and his company layed siege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Now they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great craching with wicked words.

35 Neuerthelesse, upon the fift day in the morning, twenty yong men of Machabeus company, being set on fire in their mindes, because of the blasphemy, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bold stomacks smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also climed by vpon the towers, undertaking to set fire vpon the ports, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fires that they had made: others brake open the gates, and received the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they found Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, and slew Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollonaphanes.

38 When this was done, they sung psalmes with praises and thanksgiving vnto the Lord, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

At long after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of his matters, tooke soze displeasure for the things that had happened.

2 And when hee had gathered foure score thousand men of foot, with all the host of the horsemen, he came against the Jewes, thinking to win the city, to make it an habitation of the heathen:

3 And the Temple would he haue to be an house of lucre, like as the other gods houses of the heathen are, and to sell the priests office euery yeere,

4 Not considering the power of God, but was wilde in his minde, trusting in the multitude of footmen, in thousands of horsemen, and in his foure score elephants.

5 So he came into Iury, and then to Bethsura, a castle of defence, lying in a narrow place, sixe furlongs from Hierusalem, and layed soze siege vnto it.

6 Now when Machabeus and his companye knew that his strong holdes were besieged, they fell to their prayers with weeping & teares before the Lord: and all the people in like maner besought him, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 Machabeus himselfe was the first that made him ready to the battell, exhorting the other that were with him to leopord themselves, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were going south of Hierusalem together with a ready & willing minde, there appeared before them upon horsebacke, a man in white clothing, with harnesse of golde, shaking his speare.

9 Then they praised the Lord all together, which had shewed them mercy, and were comforted in their minds, insomuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruell beasts, yea, and run thorow wallies of yron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lord mercifull vnto them, 11 They fell mightily vpon their enemies like lions, slew eleuen thousand footmen, threene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them being wounded, and some gave away naked: yea, Lysias himselfe was faine to flee shamefully, and so to escape.

13 Neuerthelesse, that man was not without vnderstanding, but considered by himselfe that his power was minished, and pondered how the Jewes, being defended by the helpe of almighty God, were not able to be overcome: wherefore he sent them word, 14 And promised that he would consent to all things which were reasonable, and to make the king their friend.

15 To the which prayer of Lysias, Machabeus agreed, seeking in all things the common wealth: and whatsoever Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Jewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Jewes fro Lysias, containing these words, Lysias sendeth greeting to the people of the Jewes, 17 John and Absalon which were sent from you, deliuered me writings, and required me to fulfill all the things concerning their errand.

18 Therefore looke what might be granted, I certified the king thereof: and whatsoeuer was conuenient, he agreed thereto.

19 If pee now will be faithfull in these matters, I shall endeouour my selfe hereafter also to do you good.

20 As concerning these things, by every article thereof, I haue committed them to your messengers, and to those whom I sent vnto you to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare pee well. In the hundred fortie and eighth yeere, the twenty and fourth day of the moneth Dioscorinthus.

22 Nowe the kings letter contained these words, King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto his brother Lysias:

23 So much as our father is now translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our realme, liue without any insurrection, and every man to be diligent in his owne matters.

24 We vnderstand also that the Jewes would not consent to our father for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but slyly to keepe their owne statutes, for the which cause they require of vs also to let them remaine still after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this people shall be in rest: wee haue concluded and determined also to restore them their temple again, that they may liue according to the vse and custome of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt doe vs a pleasure therefore, if thou send vnto them, and grant them peace: that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good chere, and looke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Jewes, King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto the councill, and the other people of the Jewes, 28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire: as for vs, we are in good health.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs how that your desire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne possessions.

30 Wherefore, those that will come, we giue them free libertie vnto the thirtieth day of the moneth of April.

31 That they may vse the meats of the Jewes, and their owne lawes, like as afoze, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done in ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare pee well. In the hundred fortie and eighth yeere, the sixteenth day of the moneth of April.

34 The Romans also sent a letter, containing these words, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadours of the Romans, send greeting vnto the people of the Jewes.

35 Looke what Lysias the kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant you the same also.

36 But as concerning the things which hee referred vnto the king, send hither some with speed, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that wee may call the best to your profit: for we must depart now vnto Antioch.

37 And therefore write shortly againe, that we may know your minde.

38 Fare well. In the hundred forty & eighth yeere, the sixteenth day of the moneth of April.

The xij. Chapter.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deed of them of Ioppa against the Iewes.

When these coucnants were made, Lysias went vnto the king: and the Jewes tiled their ground.

2 But Timotheus and Apollonius the sonne of Ferneus, Jerome, and Demophon the proud, Nicanoz the captaine of Cyper, & they that lay in those places, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 They of Ioppa also did euen such a shameful deed: they prayed the Jewes that dwelt among them, to go with their wiues and children into the ships which they had prepared, and did with them as though they had ought them no euill will:

4 So much then as there was gone forth a generall proclamation thoro the city because of peace, they consented thereto, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Judas knew of this cruelty shewed vnto his people, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready.

6 Exhorting them to call vpon God the righteous Judge, went forth against those murderers of his brethren, set fire in the hauen by night, burnt by the ships: and those that escaped from the fire, he slew with the sword.

7 And when he had done this, he departed, as though he would come againe, and root out all them of Ioppa.

8 But when hee had gotten word that the Jamnites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Jewes which dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Jamnites by night, and set fire on the hauen, with the ships: so that the light of the fire was seene at Hierusalem, vpon a two hundred and forty furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney toward Timotheus, five thousand men on foot, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians fought with him.

11 So when the battel was earnest, and prospered with Judas, through the helpe of God, the residue of the Arabians being overcome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promised to giue him certaine pastures, and to doe him good in other things.

12 Judas thinking that they should indeed be profitable concerning many things, promised them peace, whereupon they hooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 Judas went also into a citie, which was very fall kept with bridges, fenced round about with walles and diuers kindes of people dwelling therein, called Caspin.

14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in their store of victuals, that they were the sacker in their doings, cursing, and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking such words as it becometh not.

Iof. 6. 20.

15 But Machabeus calling vpon the great prince of the world (which without any battell rampires, or ordinaunces of warre, did cast downe the walles of * Jericho in the time of Iosuah) fell manfully vpon the walles.

16 Cooke the city, and through the helpe of the Lord, made an exceeding great slaughter: insomuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slaime.

¶ Or, Characa.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to || Caraca, vnto the Jewes that are called Cebaneii.

18 But as for Timotheus, they could not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) hee was departed from thence, and had left certaine men in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Machabeus, slew those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus prepared him with the six thousand men that were about him, set them in order by companies, and went forth against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: for it could not be woon, and was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narrow.

22 And when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare through the presence of God, which seeth all things: insomuch that they fleeing, one heere, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in following vpon them, punishing those vngodly, and slew thirty thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he resought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because he had many of the Jewes fathers and brethren in prison: which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had promised faithfully to deliuer them againe, according to the condition made, they let him goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion, and Atergation, and there slew twentie and six thousand men.

27 Now after that he had chased away and slaime his enemies, he removed the host toward Ephion, a strong city, wherein was Lyfias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defending them mightily: In this city was much ordinance and provision of darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called vpon almighty God, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the city, and slew twenty and six thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence went they to the citie of the Scythians, which lieth five hundred furlongs from Hierusalem.

¶ Or, Scythopolis.

30 But when the Jewes which were in the city, testified that the citizens deat louingly with them, yea, and increated them kindly in the time of their aduersity, 31 Judas & his company gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weeks being at hand.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Iudumea, 33 who came out with three thousand men of foot, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Which when they met together, it chanced a few of the Jewes to be slaime.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mighty horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fledde into || Mozela.

36 When they now that were of || Gorgias side, had foughten long, and were weary, Judas called vpon the Lord, that hee would be their helper, and captaine of the field:

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and sung psalmes with a loud voice, insomuch that he made the enemies afrayd, and Gorgias men of warre tooke their flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed themselves as the custome was, and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessity required, Judas and his company came to take by the bodies of them that were slaime, and to bury them in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coats of certaine Jewes which were slaime, they found iewels that they had taken out of the Temple, and from the idoles of the Jamnites, * which thing is forbidden the Jewes by the Law: then euery man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slaime.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord for his righteous iudgement, which had opened the thing that was hid.

42 They fell downe also vnto their prayers, and besought God that the fault which was made, might be put out of remembrance: Besides that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe themselves from such sinne, forso much as they saw before their eyes that these men were slaime for the same offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certaine, and sent two thousand drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeed: in the which he did well and right, for he had some consideration and pondering of the life that is after this time.

44 For if he had not thought that they which were slaime should rise againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine to make any dovt of sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But forso much as he saw that they which die in the fauour and belife of God, are in good rest and soe, he thought it to be good and honourable for a reconciling, to doe the same for those which were slaime, that the offence might be forgiven.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iurie. 4 The death of Menelaus.

After the hundred forty and nine yeere, gate Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iurie, 2 And Lysias the steward and ruler of his matters with him, having an hundred and ten thousand men of foot of the Grecians, five thousand horsemen, twenty and two elephants, and thre hundred charrets set with hooks.

3 Menelaus also ioynded himselfe with them, but with great deceit, spake faire to the king, not for any good to the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made some great man of authority.

4 But the king of kings moued Antiochus minde against this vngodly person, and Lysias informed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of all mischief: so that the king commanded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the maner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.

5 There was also in the same place a tower of fifty cubits high, heaped with ashes: and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rolled downe into the ashes, and there whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the king commaunded that shamefull person to be cast among the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngodlynesse.

7 And reason it was that the vniuersity should die such a death, and not be buried:

8 For he had done much mischief vnto the altar of God, whose fire and ashes were holy: therefore was it right that hee himselfe also should be destroyed with ashes.

9 But the king was woe in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruell vnto the Jewes then his father was.

10 Which when Judas perceiued, hee commaunded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that hee would now helpe them also, like as he had done alway: for they were afraid to be put from their law, from their naturall countrey, and from the holy temple:

11 And not to suffer the people which a little while afore beganne to recouer, to be subdued againe of the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and besought the Lord for mercie, with weeping and fasting thre dayes long, flat vpon the ground, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready,

23 But he and the elders together deuised to goe forth first with the people, afore the king brought his hoste into Iurie, and afore he beleaged the cite, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of all things vnto God the maker of all the world, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea, euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the cite, their owne natieue countrey, and to defend the citizens: and he set his host before Hodin.

15 Hee gaue them also that were with him a token of the victorie of God, chusing out the manliest young men, went by night into the kings pavillion, slew of the host foureteene thousand men, and the greatest of the elephants, with those that sate vpon them.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and runour among the tents of their enemies, and all things went prosperously with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Now when the king perceiued the manliness of the Jewes, hee went about to take the strong places by craft, 19 And remooued his hoste vnto Bethsura, which was a well kept house of defence of the Jewes: but they were chased away, hurt, and discomfited.

20 And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 In the Jewes hoste also there was one Rhodochus, which tolde the enemies their secrets: but they sought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the king commune with them that were in Bethsura, tooke truce with them, departed, and trooke a battell with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when hee vnderstood that Philty, whom he had left to be ouerseer of this businesse at Antioch, began to rebell against him, he was aslonied in his minde, so that he yecided himselfe to the Jewes, and made them an oth to do whatsoeuer they thought right.

24 Now when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great gifts vnto it, 25 Embraced Machabeus, making him captaine and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Gerrenes.

26 Neuertheless, when hee came to Ptolomais, the people of the cite were not content with the bond of friendship: for they were afraid that he would breake the coucnant.

27 Then went Lysias by into the iudgement seat, and excused the fact as well as he could, and informed the people, shewed the cause why, and pacified them: so he came againe to Antioch. This is now the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

The xiiij. Chapter.

By the morion of Alcimus, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kill the Jewes.

After thre yeeres was Judas informed how that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come by with a great power and ships, through the haueu of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine commodious places and countreys against Antiochus and his captaine Lysias.

3 Now Alcimus, which had bene hie Priest, and wilfully defiled himselfe in the time of the mirting, seeing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundred fifty and one yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, a palme, & an oliue tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunity for his madnesse, Demetrius called him to counsell, & asked him what things or counsels the Jewes leaned vnto?

6 He answered, The Jewes that be called Maccidei (whose captaine is Judas Machabeus) mainteine warres, make insurrections, and wil not let the realme be in peace.

7 For I being deprived of my fathers honoz (I meane the high priesthood) am come hither:

8 Partly, because I was faithfull vnto the king, and partly, because I sought the profit of mine owne citizens: and why? all our people through the wickednesse of them are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore I beseech thee, O king, consider all these things diligently, and then make some pposition for the land and the people, according to the kindnesse that thou hast offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that men can liue in peace.

11 When hec had spoken these words, other friends also hauing euill will at Judas, set the king Demetrius on fire against him.

12 Which immediatly sent Nicanor, ruler of the elephants, a captaine in Iurie, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fled out of Iury from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and decay of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jewes heard of Nicanors coming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled themselves with earth and besought him which made them his people, and euer defended his owne position with euident tokens, that he would preserue them still.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remooued straight wayes from thence, and came to a towne called Bessau.

17 And Simon Judas brother fell in hand with Nicanor: but through the sudden comming of the enemies, he was afrayd.

18 Neuertheless, Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Judas, and the bold stomacks that they had to fight for their naturall countrey, durst not prooue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Possidorius, Theodorius, and Athathias before, to giue and to take peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduise ment thereupon, and the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appointed a day to sit vpon these matters quietly among themselves, and for euer one fooles also were brought, and set forth.

22 Neuertheless, Judas commanded certain men of armes to wait in conuenient places, lest there should suddenly arise any euill through the enemies: and so they communed reasonably together.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Hierusalem, ordered himselfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he married, liued in rest, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordered Judas, an enemy of the Realme, to be the kings successour.

27 Then the king was sore displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that hee wrote vnto Nicanor, saying that hee was very angry for the friendship and agreement which he had made with Machabeus, neuertheless, he commanded him in all the haste that he should take Machabeus prisoner, and send him to Antioch.

28 Which letters when Nicanor had seene, he was at his wits end, and sore grieued, that he should breake the things wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But because he might not withstand the king, he sought opportunity to fulfill his commandement.

30 Notwithstanding, when Machabeus saw that Nicanor beganne to be churlish vnto him, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceiued that such unkindnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a few of his men, and withdrewe himselfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knew that Machabeus had manfully prevented him, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commanded the priests which were doing their vsuall offerings, to desluer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oth, saying, If ye will not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shall remooue this temple of God into the plaine field. I shall breake downe the altar, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these words, he departed. Then the priests lift by their hands toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their people, saying,

35 Thou, O Lord of all, which had need of nothing, wouldest thou the temple of thy habitation should be among vs:

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop all the mouthes of the brutish.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor one Hasis, an Alderman of Hierusalem, a loue of the whole city, and a man of good report, which for the kinde heart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oft times, when the Jewes were minded to keepe themselves vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, being content steadfastly to spend his body and his life for his people.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent sixe hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought if he gate him, he should bring the Jewes in great decay.

41 Now when the people began to rush in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fire on it, he being now taken, fell vpon his sword.

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to yeelde himselfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue bene put to extreme cruelty.

43 Notwithstanding, what time he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, hee ran boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue some place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and while his blood gushed out exceedingly (for he was very sore wounded) he ran through the middell of the people, and gate him to the top of a roche.

46 So when his blood was now gone, hee tooke out his owne bowels, and with both his hands threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit to reward him this againe: and so he died.

The xv. Chapter.

2 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor.

Now when Nicanor knew that Judas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to strike a fielde with him vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless, the Jewes that were compelled to goe with him, said, Doe not so cruelly and unkindly, but halow the Sabbath day, and worship him that teach all things.

3 For all this yet sayd the vngenerous person, Is there a mighty one in heauen that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they sayd, Yea, the liuing God, the mighty Lord in heauen commanded the seventh day to be kept,

5 He sayd, And I am mighty vpon earth, to commaund them for to arme themselves, and to performe the kings businesse: Notwithstanding he might not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanor had deuised with great pride to ouercome Judas, and to bring away the victorie:

7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God, that he would helpe him.

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the comming of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, yea, and to be sure now also that Almighty God would giue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe and Propheys, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had striken afore, & made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their hearts were plucht vp, he shewed them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, and howe they would keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus hee weaponed them, not with the armour of the shield and speare, but with wholesome words and exhortations, he shewed them a dream also worthy to bee belceued, where-through he made them all glad.

12 Which was this: He thought that he saw Onias, which had bene high Priest, a vertuous and louing man, sad, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in godlines from a childe, holding by his hands toward heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honourable, and glorious.

14 And Onias sayd, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy Citie, Jeremie the Prophet of God.

15 Hee thought also that Jeremie held out his right hand, and gaue vnto Judas a sword of gold, saying, 16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite downe the enemies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were well comforted through the wordes of Judas, which were very sweete, and able to stirre by their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, so that the young men were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide stiffely at it, insomuch that in the things which they tooke in hand, their boldnesse shewed the same, because the holy citie, the Sanctuary, and the temple were in perill.

18 For the which they tooke more care, then for their wiues, children, brethren, and kind-folkes.

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those which were to fight.

20 Nowe when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and the enemies drew nigh, the horse being set in array, the Elephants and horsemen euery one standing in his place,

21 Machabeus considering the comming of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beasts, held by his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doth wonders, which giueth not the victorie, after the multitude of weapons, and power of the hoste, but to them that please him, according to his owne will.

22 Therefore in his prayer hee sayde these wordes, O Lord, thou that diddest send thine angel in the time of Ezechias king of Iuda, and in the hoste of Sennacherib slewest an hundred, fourescore and fise thousand:

23 Send now also thy good angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, in the fearefulness & dread of thy mighty arme.

24 That they which come against thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afraid. And so he made an end of his words.

25 When Nicanor and they that were with him: drew nigh, with trumpets and shoutings for toy:

26 But Judas and his company with prayer and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies.

27 With their hands they smote, but with their hearts they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thirty and fise thousand men: for through the present helpe of God they were gloriously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were curning againe with toy, they vnderstood that Nicanor himselfe was slaine with the other for all his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great showte and a crye, praising the almighty Lord in their owne language.

30 And Judas, which was euer ready to spend his body and life for his citizens, commianded to smite off Nicanors head, with his arme and hand, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called all the people and the priests to the altar, with those that were in the castle, 32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hand, which he had presumptuously holden by against the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that brigodly Nicanor to be cut in little pieces, and to be cast to the foules, and that cruell mans hand to bee hanged by befoze the temple.

34 So euerie man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, saying, Blessed be hee that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it by by on the high castle, for an euident and plaine token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed all together to keepe that day holy, name.y, the thirteenth day of the moneth || Adar:

37 Which in the Syrians language is called, The next day befoze Hardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that time forth the Iewes had the citie in possession: and here will I now make an ende.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shall be the end.

A Preface into the new Testament.

THE Newe Testament so called, containing the writings of the Euangelistes, with the Epistles of Christes Apostles, and with other such diuine bookes, declare plainly vnto vs the summe and effect of all the figures expressed in the olde Testament. That which was in figure and in obscuritie inuolued by the patriarches and prophets in their propheticall volumes, written by the inspiration of the holy Ghost: is in this booke more plainly and euidently set out, vttered also in the selfe same spirite by the children of the Prophets, and the holy Apostles. In deede the Lawe was giuen by Moyse, but grace and verity came by Iesus Christ, who by his grace this booke of the new Testament doeth most euidently commend and set out. In this is discouered the whole mystery of our saluation and redemption, purchased by our sauour Christ, here is his holy conceit on described, his natiuitie, his circumcision, his whole life and conuersation, his godly doctrine, his diuine miracles. The right hand of his father, making continuall intercession to him for vs. In this booke is contained the fourme and order of his iudgement, after the generall resurrection of our bodies. These be the mysteries of our faith, these be the grounds of our saluation, on these be thus written that we should beleue them, and by our beleife should enioy life euerlasting. Once and in times past God diuerly and many wayes spake vnto the fathers by the Prophets, but in these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs (vpon whose ends of the world bee come) by his owne sonne, whom he hath made heire of all things, whose dignity is such, that hee is the very image of his fathers glory, the very image of his substance, ruling all things by the word of his power. This heavenly doctour so indued with glory and maiestie, we ought most reuerently to beleue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heavenly father, to be heard as his most welbeloued sonne, in whom is his whole delight, by whom he will be pleased and pacified: It selfe come to passe sayeth that Prophet Moyse, that whosoeuer shall not heare and obey that prophet in the words that hee shall speake in his fathers name, I will be, sayth the father, reuenger of him. This is the last Prophet to be looked for to speake vnto vs. In him be vniuersally inclosed the riches and treasures of the wisdom and knowledge of God his father, by him he hath decreed finally to iudge the whole worlde, the liuing and the dead: by him hath hee decreed to giue to his elect the life euerlasting, and to the reprobate (who hath contemned his life and doctrine) death euerlasting. Let vs therefore seriously heare and obey our heavenly teacher, submit our selues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs esteeme his doctrine and conuersation, as a full, perfect, and sufficient patterne of all holinesse and vertue: Let vs esteeme the doctrine of this booke, as a most inflexible rule to lead vs to all trueth and newnesse of life. Here may we beholde the eternall legacies of the newe Testament, bequeathed from God his father in Christ his sonne to all his elects, I say the legacies liuely renewed vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharaos his seruitude, but from the bondage and thraldome of that perpetuall aduersarie of ours the deuil: here may we beholde our inheritance, not of the temporall lande of Chanaan, or of the translation of vs to the place of worldly paradise: but here we may see the full restitution of vs, both in body and soule, to the celestially paradise, the heavenly citie of Hierusalem aboue, there to reigne with God the Father, God the Sonne, and God the holy Ghost for euer. Which legacies of his Testament promised and bequeathed, were notwithstanding recorded in the books of the old Testament to our ancient fathers, which in hope beleued in Christ to come, was painted before them in figures and shadowes, and signified in their old sacraments ordained for that time: but now more euidently renewed and exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promise, but in open sight, in feeling, in handling and touching of this eternall life, most manifestly confirmed vnto vs in Christ his blood in this his new Testament continued and renewed yet in new sacraments, the better to beare in our remembrance this his eternal Testament of all ioyfull felicities. Let vs now therefore good Christian people, reioice in these glad tidings expressed vnto vs by the name of the Gospel of our sauour Christ, and let it neuer fall out of our remembrance that wee were sometime ouerwhelmed in darkenesse, and set in the shadowe of death: let vs consider that we were sometime by our naturall birth, the children of God his wrath, and wholly estranged from the household of God. Let vs beare in mind that we were sometime no people of God, nor his beloued, that we were by nature branches of the olde, and now by meere mercie grafted into the right and natural oliue tree: whereupon let vs the rather repose our life in thankfull reuerence. If we be now the children of light, let vs walke in this our light in all holinesse and godlines of life, approuing that which is pleasing to the Lord. Let vs haue no fellowship with the vnfruitfull workes of darkenesse, and let vs henceforth be no more children, wauering and caried about with euery wind of doctrine, and by the deceit and craftinesse of men, whereby they lay in wait to deceiue vs: but let vs follow the trueth in loue and charitie, and in all things grow vp into him which is the head, that is Christ our Sauour. If we be now the children of grace, and made liuely members of his body, though sometime strangers and foreigners, and made neere by the blood of Christ, and made citizens with the faints, and of the household of God: let vs direct our liues thither where our head is, delighting our selues in all heavenly cogitations, walking in all spirituall workes and fruits of the spirit of Gods deare elect. God grant that Christ may so dwell in our hearts by faith, that we may be able to comprehend with all sanctification vnspokeable loue of Christ, which passeth all mans knowledge. Vnto him therefore which is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we can aske or thinke, be praise in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer. Amen.

And here yet once againe, let the reader be admonished charitably to examine the translation of the newe Testament into English, and bee not offended with diuersitie of interpretation, though hee finde it not agree to his wont text, or yet to disagree from the common translation: Remembring what Santes Pagninus testifieth of that ancient interpreter Saint Ierome, that in some places of his commentaries, he doth reade and expouud otherwise then is found in the common translation: yea saith Santes Pagninus doeth retrace very many places, and doeth plainly confesse, that himselfe was deceiued by the haste or his translating, and doubtfull signification of the words. And therefore saith the said Hierome thus: I thinke it better to rebuke mine owne error (while I am ashamed to confesse my lacke of skill) to persist in an error. For who was euer saith hee, so well learned, that hee somewhere bene deceiued. Thus saith Saint Hierome: Whereupon good reader, I exhort thee, reade aduisedly, expend labour, and correct charitably, and bee not offended (good English reader) to see the holy Scriptures in thine owne language, as a newly scene: seeing that our owne countreyman that venerable Bede, many yeres agone did translate S. Iohns Gospel into his gar tongue, ad utilitatem Ecclesie, to the profit of the Church, saith Cuthbert and Durhams story, who reporteth Bedes saying: Nolo ut discipuli mei mendacium legant, I would not that my disciples should reade any lie, or spend their labour after vain nature without fruit. Which thing also the ancient life of Bede doth testify of him. In his diebus etiam Euangelium Iohannis intransiuit linguam iuxta Apostolum: Sapienibus et insipientibus debitor sum, et omnibus omnia factus. In these dayes (of his time) did translate the Gospel of Saint Iohn into the English tongue, saying with the Apostle: I am detter to the learned and vnto I am made all to all. The rather he so did saith William Malmesbery: Quia hoc Euangelium difficultate sui mentes legentium Because this Gospel by the difficulty that is in it, doth so much exercise the wits of the readers, therefore he did interpret it into English tongue: and so did condescend (saith he) to them which were not skilfull in the Latine tongue. God grant that a may take so much profite thereby, as the good translators meant vnto them. Amen.

I E S V S C H R I S T.

Or better vnderstanding of the contents of this Table, ye shal note that the Euan-gelists, S. Matthew, and S. Luke, haue di-uerly recited the generation of our Sa-uiour Christ, according to the flesh, and yet tend both to one ende: that is, to proue (that according to that which is written of him in the prophecies) he is descended of the royal blood of Dauid, and rightly succeeded him in the kingdome. So the diuersitie of the said recitall consisteth in this: that S. Matthew set- teth fourth the said generation descending from father to sonne: and S. Luke ascendeth from sonne to father, which come all to one ende. But to shewe the agree- ment of S. Luke, with S. Matthew, we haue here set forth the generation by him described, descending after the order of S. Matthew, to the ende that the one may be conferred with the other. Furthermore, S. Mathewe describeth the generation of Ioseph, though it belong nothing to Iesus Christ after the flesh, and S. Luke that of the Virgine Mary: for it was very necessary to recite both, forasmuch as women were commonly reputed of the line or kinred of their husbands: And so as well on her husbands side, as on her owne offspring, it is mani- fest that she was of the Royal line of Dauid.

* Iuda of the line of Nathan, engendered Simeon, called Ioas, which came to the Royal seate, because the posteritie of Solomon failed in Ochofias: and there- fore the kingdome belonged to Nathans posteritie, ac- cording to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the youngest of the children of Beersebec (which was Solomon) should reigne after him, and that if the poste- ritie failed, the kingdome should come to the posteritie of the next younger, which was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Abiscar, that is to say, Brother of the Prince, and they of his posteritie, Abiscarim, that is to say, Brothers of the Prince, and Mathiim, which signifi- eth, Giuen to succeed. The said Philo reciteth, that the posteritie of the said Nathan was so honoured of the King Iofaphat, that he called his children the brothers of Ioram his sonne, and their children the brothers of Ochofias his nephew: and this is the cause why the Scripture saith, that Ioas was the sonne of Ochofias, though he were not his naturall sonne, but the sonne of Iuda, descended from Nathan.

Note that S. Matthew, going about to describe the generation by fourteen, did first leaue out Ioas, Ama- zias, and Azarias, which are set in betweene Ochofias, the last of the race of Solomon, and Iotham. Further, he hath left out Iohaas, and Ioachim, placed betweene the same description more perfect and plaine.

* Forasmuch as it seemeth that S. Luke maketh no mention of the generation of Mary, but rather of Ioseph, for he useth these wordes, that Iesus was counted the sonne of Ioseph, which was of Heli, that is to say, the sonne of Heli: we must vnderstand that in this place the name of sonne is taken for the name of sonne in law, and that S. Luke meanteth, that Ioseph was the son in law to Heli, for that he tooke to wife the Virgine Mary daughter to the said Heli, which maner of speech is com- mon in the Scripture: for we finde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, which was but her step daughter, her sonnes wife.

15 Eliud begate Eleazar, Eleazar begate Matthan, Matthan begate Jacob.

16 Jacob begate Ioseph the husband of Marie, of whom was borne Iesus, that is called Christ.

17 And so all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are foureteene generations: and from Dauid vntill the carrying away into Babylon, are foureteene generations: and from the carrying away into Babylon vnto Christ, are foureteene generations.

18 * The birth of Iesus Christ was on this wise, when as his mother Mary was betrothed to Ioseph (before they came together) shee was found with childe of the holy Ghost.

19 When Ioseph her husband being a righteous man, * and not willing to make her a publicke example, was minded priuily to put her way.

20 But while hee thought these things, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take vnto thee Mary thy wife, for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 She shall bring forth a sonne, * and thou shalt call his Name Iesus: for hee shall saue his people from their sinnes.

22 (All this was done, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 * Behold, a virgin shall be with childe, and shall bring forth a sonne, and they shall call his Name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.)

24 Then Ioseph, being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had bidden him, and he tooke his wife:

25 And knewe her not, till shee had brought forth her first borne sonne, and called his Name Iesus.

1 The time and place of Christs birth. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The yong children are slaine.

15 When * Iesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Iurie, in the dayes of Herode the King: beholde, there came wise men from the East to Hierusalem, 3 When Herode the King had heard these things, he was troubled, and all the citie of Hierusalem with him.

4 And when hee had gathered all the chiefe Priests & Scribes of the people together, hee demanded of them where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: for thus it is written by the Prophet,

6 * And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall there come a captaine, that shall gouerne my people Israel.

7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the Starre appeared:

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe, and search diligently for the yong childe, and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the King, they departed, and so the Starre which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood o-

 10 When they saw the Starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy.
 11 And went into the house, and they sawe the yong childe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him gifts, golde, and frankincense, and myrthe.
 12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

13 When they were departed, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the yong childe, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, & be thou there till I bring thee word: for it will come to passe, that Herod shall seeke the yong childe, to destroy him.

14 When hee arose, hee tooke the yong childe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, * Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

16 When Herode, when hee saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coastes thereof, as many as were two yeres old and vnder, according to the time, which hee had diligently searched out of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, * lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

19 But when Herode was dead, beholde, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the yong childe and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel: for they are dead, which sought the yong childes life.

21 And hee arose, and tooke the yong childe and his mother, and came into the lande of Israel.

22 But when hee heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iury in the roome of his father Herod, he was afraid to goe thither: nor withstanding, after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:

23 And when he was come thither, he dwelt in a city, which is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shall be called a Nazarite.

In those dayes came * Iohn the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Iury,

3 For this is hee that was spoken of by the Prophet Esaias, saying, * The voyce of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 * This Iohn had his raiment of camels haire, and a leatherne girdle about his loynes, his meate was locusts and wilde honey.

5 * Then went out to him Hierusalem, and all Iury, and all the region rounde about Iordane,

6 And were baptized of him in Iordane, confessing their sinnes.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his Baptisme, he saide vnto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits meete for repentance.

9 And be not of such minde, that ye would say within your selues, * We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

16 And Iesus, when he was baptized, went vp straight way out of the water: and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn sawe the Spirit of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

at any time thou dash thy foote against a stone.
 7 Jesus said vnto him, It is written againe, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
 8 Again the deuill taketh him vp into an exceeding high mountaine, & sheweth him all the kingdomes of the world, & the glory of them:
 9 And sayth vnto him, All these things will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship mee.
 10 Then sayeth Jesus vnto him, Get thee
 hence behinde mee, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him
 onely shalt thou serue.
 11 Then the deuill leaueth him, and beholde, the angels came and ministred vnto him.
 12 * When Jesus had heard that John was deliuered by, he departed into Galilee, 13 And when he had left Nazareth, he went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is a citie vpon the Sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephtali:
 14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Oaias the Prophet, saying,
 15 * The lande of Zabulon, and the lande of Nephtali, by the way of the Sea beyond Jordane, Galilee of the Gentiles.
 16 The people which sat in darkenesse, sawe great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung by.
 17 * From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent, for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.
 18 * And Jesus walking by the Sea of Galilee, sawe two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers) 19 And he sayth vnto them, Follow me: and I will make you fishers of men.
 20 And they straight way left their nets, and followed him.
 21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he sawe other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.
 22 And they immediatly left the ship and their father, and followed him.
 23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease among the people.
 24 And his fame spread abroad thorowout all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and gripings, and those which were possessed with devils, & those which were lunatique, and those that had the palse, and he healed them.
 25 And there followed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Iherusalem, and from Iury, and from the regions that lye beyond Iordane.

The v. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and in the two next following, is contained the most excellent and louing sermon of Christ in the mount, which sermon is the very key that openeth the vnderstanding into the lawe. In this fifth Chapter especially, 3 he preacheth of the eight beatitudes or blessings, 21 of manlaughter, 22 wrath and anger, 33 of swearing.

When hee sawe the multitude, hee went by into a mountaine: and when hee was set, his disciples came vnto him.
 2 And when he had opened his mouth, he caught them, saying, 3 * Blessed are the poore in spirit: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.
 4 * Blessed are they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.
 5 * Blessed are the mecke: for they shall inherite the earth.
 6 * Blessed are they which doe hunger and thirst after righteousnesse: for they shall be satisfied.
 7 Blessed are the mercifull: for they shall obtaine mercie.
 8 * Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
 9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
 10 * Blessed are they which haue bene perfecuted for righteousnesse sake: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.
 11 Blessed are ye, when men shall reuile you, and persecute you, and lying, shall say all maner of euill saying against you, for my sake.
 12 Reioyce ye and be glad: for great is your reward in heauen. For so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.
 13 * Ye are the salt of the earth: But if the salt become vnswaory, wherein shall it be salted?
 It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foot of men.
 14 Ye are the light of the world. A citie that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.
 15 * Neither doe men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, and it giueth light vnto all that are in the house.
 16 Let your light so shine before men, * that they may see your good works, and glorifie your father which is in heauen.
 17 Thinke not that I am come to destroy the lawe of the Prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.
 18 For truly I say vnto you, * Till heauen and earth passe, one loze or one tittle of the lawe shall not scape, till all be fulfilled.
 19 * Whosoever therefore shall breake one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, hee shall be called the least in the kingdome of heauen: but whosoever shall doe and teach so, the same shall be called great in the kingdome of heauen.
 20 For I say vnto you, * Except your righte-ousnesse shall exceede the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharises, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdome of heauen.
 21 Ye haue heard, that it was sayd to them of old time, * Thou shalt not kill: whosoever killeth, shall be in danger of iudgement.
 22 But I say vnto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother vnadvisedly, shall be in danger of iudgement: And whosoever shall say vnto his brother, Racha, shall be in daunger of a counsell: but whosoever shall say, Thou foole, shall be in danger of hell fire.
 23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee:
 24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and 26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt by no meanes come out thence, till thou hast payd the uttermost farthing.

 27 Ye haue heard that it was said vnto them of olde time, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie.
 28 But I say vnto you, That whosoever loo- keth on a woman to lust after her, hath committ- ed adultery with her already in his heart.
 29 * If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

 43 Ye haue heard that it hath bene sayde, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy:

The vi. Chapter.

1 Of almes, 5 prayer, 16 of fasting. 19 Hce for- biddeth the carefull seeking of worldly things.

Hee heede that ye doe not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no reward of your fa- ther which is in heauen.
 2 Therefore, * when thou doest thine almes, doe not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypo- crites doe, in the Synagogues, & in the streets, that they might be esteemed of men. Verely, I say vnto you, they haue their reward.
 3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy left hand know, what thy right doeth:
 4 That thine almes may be in secret: And thy father which seeth in secret, himselfe shall re- ward thee openly.
 5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray stand- ing in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.
 6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father which is in secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.
 7 But when ye pray, babble not much, as the heathen doe, for they thinke that they shall be heard, for their much dabbings sake.
 8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: for your father knoweth what things ye haue need of, before ye aske of him.
 9 After this manner therefore pray ye: * Our father which art in heauen, hallowed be thy name.
 10 Let thy kingdome come, Thy will be done, as well in earth, as it is in heauen.
 11 Giue vs this day our daily bread.
 12 And forgive vs our debts, as wee forgive our debtors.
 13 And lead vs not into temptation, * but deliuer vs from euill: for thine is the kingdome, and the power and the glory, for euer, Amen.
 14 For, * if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly father shall also forgive you.
 15 But, if ye forgive not men their trespasses: no more shall your father forgive you your trespasses.
 16 Moreover, when ye fast, be not of an hea- tie countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfigure their faces, that they might appeare vnto men to fast: Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.
 17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face:
 18 That thou appeare not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy father which is in secret: and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

 30 Wherefoze, if God so cloath the grasse of the field, which though it stand to day, is to morrow cast into the ouen: shall hee not much moze doe the same for you. O ye of little faith?
 31 Therefore take no thought, saying, what shall we eat? or what shall we drinke? or, wherewithall shall we be clothed?
 32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seeke): for your heauenly father knoweth that ye haue neede of all these things.
 33 But seeke yee first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shall be added vnto you.

 7 *Aske ye, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall find: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.
 8 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.
 9 What man is there of you, if his sonne aske bread, will giue him a stone?
 10 Why if hee aske fish, will he giue him a serpent?
 11 If ye then being euill, knowe to giue your children good gifts: how much moze will your father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aske him?
 12 Therefore all things whatsoeuer ye would that men should doe to you, doe yee euen so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.
 13 *Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there bee which goe in thereat.
 14 Because strait is the gate, and narrowe is the way which leadeth vnto life, and fewe there be that find it.
 15 Beware of the false prophets which come to you in sheepes cloathing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.
 16 Ye shall knowe them by their fruits: * Doe men gather grapes of thornes? or figs of thistles?
 17 Euen so, euery good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth euil fruite.
 18 A good tree cannot bring forth bad fruite, neither can a bad tree bring forth good fruite.
 19 * Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is he wen downe and cast into the fire.
 20 Wherefoze, by their fruits ye shall knowe them.
 21 Not euery one that sayth vnto me, * Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen: but hee that doth the will of my father which is in heauen.
 22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, haue we not prophecied through thy name? and through thy name haue cast out devils? and done many great workes through thy name?
 23 * And then wil I confesse vnto them, That I neuer knewe you: * Depart from me all yee that worke iniquitie.
 24 * Therefore, whosoever heareth of mee these sayings, and doeth the same, I will liken him vnto a wise man, which built his house vpon a rocke:
 25 And the raine descended, and the floods came, and the windes blew, and beat vpon that house: and it fell not, because it was grounded on a rocke.
 26 And euery one that heareth of me these sayings, and doth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which built his house vpon the sand:
 27 And the raine descended, and the floods came, and the windes blew, and beat vpon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.
 28 * And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonied at his doctrine.

The viij. Chapter.

3 Christ cleanseth the leper, 24 stilleth the sea and the wind, 28 and driueth the deuils out of the possessed, into the swine.

When he was come downe from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him.

2 *And beholde, there came a leper, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Jesus, when hee had put foorth his hand, touched him, saying, I wil, be thou cleane. And immediatly his leprosie was cleansed.

4 And Jesus sayth vnto him, See thou tell no man, but goe, he we thy selfe to the priest, and offer the gift that *Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

5 *And when Jesus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my seruante lieth at home sicke of the palse, grievously pained.

7 And Jesus sayth to him, when I come, I will heale him.

8 The Centurion answered, and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my rooffe: but speake the word only, and my seruante shall be healed.

9 for I also my selfe am a man set vnder authority, hauing souldiers vnder me: and I say to this man, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled, and sayd to them that followed, wercely, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

11 I say vnto you, that many shal come from the East and West, and shall rest with Abraham, and Isahac, and Jacob, in the kingdome of heauen:

12 *But the children of the kingdome shal be cast out into vtter darknesse: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus sayd vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it done vnto thee. And his seruant was healed in the selfe same houre.

14 *And when Jesus was come into Peters house, he saue his wiues mother layd, and sicke of a feuer:

15 And he touched her hand, and the feuer left her: and he arose, and ministred vnto them.

16 *When the Euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with deuils: and he cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all that were sicke, 17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, *He tooke on him our infirmitie, and bare our sicknes.

18 *When Jesus saue great multitudes about him, he commaunded them to depart vnto the other side.

19 And a certaine scribe came, and sayd vnto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoouer thou goest.

20 And Jesus sayeth vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birds of the ayre haue nests:

but the sonne of man hath not where to rest his head.

21 And another of his disciples sayde vnto him, Lord, suffer me first to goe, and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 *And when he entred into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the Sea, in so much that the shippe was covered with the waues: but he was asleepe.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, saue vs: we perish.

26 And he sayth vnto them, Why are ye fearefull, O pee of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea, and there followed a great calme.

27 But the men maruelled, saying, what manner of man is this, that doth the windes and the sea obey him?

28 *And when he was come to the other side, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuils, comming out of the graues, very fierce, so that no man might passe by that way.

29 And behold, they cryed out, saying, O Jesu, thou sonne of God, what haue we to do with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them, an heard of many swine, feeding.

31 So the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe away into the heard of the swine.

32 And hee sayd vnto them, Goe. Then went they out, and departed into the heard of the swine: and behold, the whole herd of the swine rushed headlong into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 Then they that kept them, fled, and went their wayes into the city, and told euery thing, and what was done of the possessed with the deuils.

34 And beholde, the whole city came out to meete Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that hee would depart out of their coasts.

The ix. Chapter.

2 He healeth the palse, 9 and calleth Matthew from the custome.

When he entred into a ship, and passed ouer, and came into his owne citie.

2 *And behold, they brought to him a man sicke of the palse, lying in a bed: and when Jesus saue the faith of them, he said vnto the sicke of the palse, Sonne, be of good cheere, thy sinnes be forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certaine of the Scribes sayd with in themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And when Jesus saw their thoughts, he sayd, wherfore thinke ye euill in your hearts?

5 whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and walke?

6 But that ye may know that the sonne of man hath power to forgive sinnes in earthy (Then sayd he to the sicke of the palse) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe vnto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled and glorified God, which had given such power vnto men.

9 * And as Iesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man named Mattheu, sitting at the receite of custome: and hee sayth vnto him, follo w me. And he arose and followed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at meat in his house, behold, many publicanes also and sinners came and sate downe with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharises saw it, they sayd vnto his disciples, why eateth your master with publicanes and sinners?

12 But when Iesus heard that, he sayd vnto them, They that be whole, neede not a Physicion, but they that are sicke.

13 Goe ye and learne what that meane, * I will mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, * but sinners to repentance.

14 Then came the disciples of John vnto him, saying, * Why doe we and the Pharises fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Can the children of the bride chamber mourne, as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the dayes will come when the bridegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth in an old garment, for then the picce taketh away some thing from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither doe men put new wine into olde bottles: els the bottles breake, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles will perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved together.

18 * while he spake these things vnto them, behold, there came a certaine ruler of the synagogue and worshipped him saying, My daughter is euen now dead: but come, and lay thy hand vpon her and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 (And beholde, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres, came behinde him, and touched the hemme of his besture.

21 For shee sayd within her selfe, If I may touch but euen his besture onely, I shall be safe.

22 But Iesus when hee had turned him about, and saw her, sayd, Daughter, bee of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee safe. And the woman was made whole from that same houre.

23 And when Iesus came into the rulers house of the synagogue, and sawe the minstrels and the people making a noise, 24 Hee sayd vnto them, Giue place, for the maide is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scoorne.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, & tooke her by the hand: and the maide arose.

26 And the same of this went abroad into all that land.

27 And when Iesus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying, and saying, O thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

28 And when hee was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Iesus sayth vnto them, Beleeue ye that I am able to doe this? They sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened: and Iesus straightly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his name in all that land.

32 As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumbe man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the dumbe spake, and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was neuer so seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises sayd, * He casteth out the deuils through the prince of the deuils.

35 * And Iesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospell of the kingdome, and healing euery sicknesse, and euery diseale among the people.

36 * But when hee saw the multitudes, hee was moued with compassion on them, because they were destitute, and scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepheard.

37 Then sayth hee vnto his disciples, * The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few.

38 Pray yee therefore the Lorde of the harvest, that he will thrust forth labourers into his harvest.

4 Simon the Chanaanite, and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuill.

The xij. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne.

At that time, * Iesus went on the Sabbath dayes thorow the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and beganne to plucke the eares of corne, and to eat.

2 But when the Pharisees sawe them, they sayde vnto him, Beholde, thy disciples doe that which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabbath day.

3 But he sayd vnto them, Haue ye not read * what Dauid did when hee was an hungred, and they that were with him,

4 How he entred into the house of God, and did eate the shewe bread, which was not lawfull for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, * but only for the priests?

5 Or haue yee not read in the * law, howe that on the Sabbath dayes the Priests in the Temple * profane the Sabbath, and are blamelesse?

6 But I say vnto you, that in this place is one greater then the temple.

7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, * I will mercie, and not sacrifice, yee would not haue condemned the guiltlesse.

8 For the sonne of man is Lord of the Sabbath day.

9 * And when he was departed thence, hee went into their Synagogue.

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dreyed vp, and they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he sayd vnto them, What man of you will there be that shall haue one sheepe: and if it fall into a pit on the Sabbath day, will hee not take hold of it, and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? wherefore it is lawfull to doe well on the Sabbath dayes.

13 Then sayth he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand: and he stretched it forth, and it was refozed whole, like as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and held a counsell against him, howe they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knewe it, hee departed thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowne:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Elias the Prophet, saying,

20 A bruised reede shall hee not breake, and smoking flaxe shall hee not quench, till hee send forth iudgement vnto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 * Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuill, blind, and dumbe: and he healed him, in so much that the blinde and dumbe both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

24 * But when the Pharisees heard it, they sayd, This fellowe doth not cast out these deuils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils.

25 But when Iesus knewe their thoughts, he sayd vnto them, Every kingdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and euery citie or house diuided against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he diuided against himselfe, how shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Wherefore they shall be your Iudges.

28 But if I cast out the devils by the spirit of God, then is the kingdome of God come vpon you.

29 Or else, howe can one enter into a strong mans house, and spoile his goods, except he first binde the strong man, and then will spoile his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and hee that gathereth not with mee, scattereth abroad.

31 Wherefore I say vnto you, * All maner of sinne and blasphemie shall be forgotten vnto men: but the blasphemie against the holy spirit, shall not be forgiven vnto men.

32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the sonne of man, it shall bee forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: Or else make the tree euil, and his fruit euil: for the tree is knowen by his fruit.

34 O generations of vipers, howe can yee speake good things, when ye your selues are euill? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an euill man out of the euill treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, That of euery idle word that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof in the day of iudgement.

37 For of thy words thou shalt be iustified, and of thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 * Then certaine of the Scribes, and of the Pharises, answered him, saying, Master, we will see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered, and sayd to them: An euill and adulterous generation seeketh a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen to it, but the signe of the Prophet Ionas.

40 * For as Ionas was three dayes and three nightes in the whales belly: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes and three nightes in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Nineue shall rise in the iudgement with this nation, and condemne it, * because they repented at the preaching of Ionas, and behold, here is one greater then Ionas.

42 * The Queene of the South shall rise in the iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vttermost parts of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, in this place is one greater then Solomon.

43 When the uncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thoro'out drie places seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he sayth, I will returne into my house from whence I came out. And when hee is come, he findeth it empty, swept and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with him selfe seuen other spirits worse then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: * And the last state of that man is worse then the first. Euen so shall it be also vnto this froward generation.

46 While he yet talked to the people, * behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speake with him.

47 Then one sayd vnto him, * Beholde, thy mother & thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered, and sayd vnto him that told him, who is my mother? Or who are my brethren?

49 And when he had stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, he sayd, * Beholde, my mother and my brethren.

50 For whosoever shall doe the will of my father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 The parable of the seede, 25 and of the cares.

The same day when Iesus was gone out of the house, * he saze by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together vnto him, so that he went into the ship, and saze, and the whole multitude stood on the shoze.

3 And he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, the sower went forth to sowe.

4 And when hee sowed, some seedes fell by the wayes side: and the soules came, and deuoured them by.

5 Some fell vpon stony places, where they had not much earth: and anon they sprang by, because they had no deepnesse of earth.

6 And when the sunne was by, they caught heate: and because they had not roote, they withered away.

7 Againe, some fell among thornes: and the thornes sprang by, and choked them.

8 But some fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, some thirty fold.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and sayd vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them by parables?

11 Hee answered and sayd vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 * For whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen, and hee shall haue more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

13 Wherefore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing they heare not, neither do they vnderstand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaias, which sayth, * With the eare ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand: and seeing, ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their heart, and should conuert, that I might heale them.

16 Blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 Verily I say vnto you, * that many desire phets and righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard.

18 * Heare ye therefore the similitude of the Sower.

19 When one heareth the word of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then cometh that euill, and catcheth a way that which was sown in his heart: this is he which receiued seede by the way side.

20 But he that receiued the seede into stonie places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with ioy receiueth it:

21 For he hath he not roote in himselfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth becauise of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that receiued seede into the thornes, is he that heareth the word, and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke by the word, and so is he made vnfriutfull.

23 But he that receiued seede into the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, some thirty fold.

24 Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung vp, and had brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So, the seruants of the householder came, and said vnto him, Sir, diddest not thou sowe good seede in thy field, from whence then hath it tares?

28 He sayd vnto them, The malicious man hath done this. The seruants saide vnto him, wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

29 But he saide, Nay: leaue while ye gather by the tares, ye tooke vp also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together vntill the harvest: and in time of harvest, I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burne them: but carie the wheate into my barn.

31 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is like to a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke and sowed in his field.

32 Which indeede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree: so that the birdes of the aire come and make their nests in the branches thereof.

33 * Another parable spake he vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in thre peckes of meale, till all were leauened.

34 * All these things spake Iesus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them:

35 That it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in parables, I will speake forth things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Iesus, when he had sent the people away, went into the house: * And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered, and said vnto them, He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.

38 The field, is the world. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome. But the tares, are the children of the wicked.

39 And the enemy that sowed them, is the deuill. * The harvest, is the end of the world. The reapers, be the Angels.

40 Euen as the tares therefore are gathered and burnt in the fire: so shall it be in the end of the world.

41 * The sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which do iniquity:

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 * When shall the righteous shine as the sunne in the kingdom of their father. who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto treasure hid in the field: the which, when a man hath found, hideth, and for ioy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seeking goodly pearles:

46 Which when hee had found one precious pearle, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of all kind, 48 Which, when it was full, the Fishers drew to land, and sate downe, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and seuer the bad from among the iust,

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Iesus sayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderstood all these things? They say vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then sayd he vnto them, Therefore euery Scribe which is taught in the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 * And when he came into his owne countrey, he taught them in their Synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, whence cometh this wisdom, and mighty workes vnto him?

55 * Is not this the Carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? and his brethren, James, and Ioses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And are not all his sisters with vs? whence hath he then all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Iesus said vnto them, * A Prophet is not without

The xiiij. Chapter.

10 Iohn is taken and beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth fiue thousand men with fiue loaues and two fishes.

At that time * Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Iesu,

4 And said vnto his seruants, This is Iohn the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therefore great workes do shew forth themselves in him.

3 * For Herode, when he had taken Iohn, he bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn said vnto him, * It is not lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the people: * because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herodes birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode.

7 Wherefore he promised with an oath, to giue her whatsoever she would aske.

8 And she, being before || instructed of her mother, said, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the king was soze: neuertheless, for the othes sake, and them which sate also at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her:

10 And sent a tormentor, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the damsell: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his bodie, and buried it: and went and told Iesus.

13 * When Iesus heard of it, hee departed thence in a ship, vnto a desert place out of the way: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foote out of the cities.

14 And when Iesus went forth, he saw much people, and was moued with mercie towarde them, and he healed their sick.

15 * And when it was euening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is now past: let the people depart, that they may goe into the villages, and buy them victuals.

16 But Iesus said vnto them, They haue no neede to goe away: giue ye them to eate.

17 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And when he had commanded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and lifted vp his eyes toward heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken them, he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.

20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: and they tooke vp (of the fragments that remained) twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, be side women and children.

22 And straightway Iesus constrained his disciples to get vp into a ship, & to go before him vnto the other side, while he sent the people away.

23 And when he had sent the people away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: * and when night was come, he was there himselfe alone:

24 But the ship was now in the middelt of the sea, and was tolt with the waues: for it was a contrary winde.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirit: and they cryed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afraid.

28 Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mightie winde, hee was afraid: and when he began to sinke, he cryed, saying, Lord saue me.

31 And immediatly Iesus, when he had stretched forth his hand, caught him, and said vnto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde cealed.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.

34 * And when they were gone ouer, they came into the land of Genesaret.

35 And why the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and brought vnto him all that were sick, 36 And besought him that they might touch the hemme of his garment onely: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

The xv. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples, & rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees.

Then * came to Iesus Scribes and Pharisees, which were come from Ierusalem, saying,

2 why do thy Disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders: for they wash not their hands when they eate bread.

3 But he answered, and saide vnto them, why doe you also transgresse the commaundment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, * Honour thy father and thy mother: And he that curseth * father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, By the gift that is offered of me, thou shalt be helped:

6 And so shall he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue yee made the commaundment of God of none effect by your tradition.

10 * And when he had called the people to him, he said vnto them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and saide vnto him, Knowest thou not that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered, and said, * All manner planting which my heauenly father hath not planted, shall be rooted by.

14 Let them alone: * they be blind leaders of the blind. If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 * Then answered Peter & said vnto him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Jesus said, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?

17 Doe not ye yet vnderstand, that whatsoeuer entrech in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 * For out of the heart proceed euil thoghts, murders, adulteries, whooredomes, thefts, false witness, blaiphemies.

20 These are the things which defile a man: But to eat with vnwashed hands, defileth not a man.

21 * And Jesus, when he went thence, departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman of the Chanaanites, which came out of the same coasts, cryed vnto him, saying, Haue mercie on me, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is grievously vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered not a word. And his disciples came, and besought him, saying, Send her away for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent * but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 But he answered, and said, It is not meet to take the chyldrens bread, and to cast it to litle dogges.

27 And she said, Yes, Lord: for the litle dogges also eat of the crummes which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Jesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.

29 * And Jesus, when he was departed from thence, came nigh vnto the sea of Galilee, and when he was gone by into a mountaine, he sate downe there.

30 * Then great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maymed, and other many, and cast them downe at Jesus feete, and he healed them:

31 In so much that the people wondered, when they saw the dumbe speake, the maymed to be whole, the lame to walke, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 * Then Jesus called his disciples vnto him, and sayde, I haue compassion on the people, because they continue with me now three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: & I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples say vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wilderness, as to suffice to great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith vnto them, How many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a few litle fishes.

35 And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground.

36 And when he had taken the seuen loaves and the fishes, and had giuen thankes, he brake them, and gaue to his disciples: and the disciples gaue them to the people.

37 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: and they tooke by of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.

38 And yet they that did eat, were foure thousand men, beside women and chyldzen.

39 And when he had sent away the people, he tooke ship, and came into the partes of Magdala.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The Pharises require a token. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the Pharises doctrine.

2 He answered, and said vnto them, when it is evening, ye say, It will be faire weather: for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foule weather to day: for the skie is lowing red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the outward appearance of the skie: but can ye not discern the signes of the times?

4 * A froward and adulterous nation requirereth * a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen vnto it, but the signe of the Prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side of the water, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

6 Then Jesus said vnto them, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

7 And they thought in themselves, saying, For we haue taken no bread with vs.

8 Which when Jesus vnderstood, he said vnto the, O ye of litle faith, why thinke you within your selues, because ye haue brought no bread?

9 * Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember those five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets tooke ye by?

10 * Neither the seuen loaves of the foure thousand, and how many baskets tooke ye by?

11 How is it that ye doe not vnderstand that I speake it not vnto you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstoode they how that he had not them beware of the leauen of the bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

13 When Jesus came into the coastes of Caesarea, which is called Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, * Whom doe men say that I the sonne of man am?

2 And was transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the Sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

3 And beholde, there appeared vnto them Moses, and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and sayde vnto Iesus, Lord, it is good for vs to be here. If thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 *while hee yet spak beholde, a bright cloud ouershadowed them: and behold, there came a voyce out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloued sonne, in whom I am well pleased, heare ye him.

Mat. 17.2. p. 2.

6 And when the disciples heard these things, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise ye, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lift vp their eyes, they saw no man, saue Iesus only.

9 And when they came downe from the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shew the vision to no man, till the sonne of man be risen againe from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, *why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come?

Mat. 17. mark. 9.

11 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things:

12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatsoever they lust: Like wise shall also the sonne of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that hee spake vnto them of John Baptist.

Mark 9. luke 9.

14 *And when they were come to the people, there came to him a certaine man, kneeling downe to him, and saying,

15 Lord, haue mercie on my sonne, for he is lunaticke, and sore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.

17 Iesus answered, and saide, O faithlesse and peruerse nation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Iesus rebuked the deuill, and he departed out of him: and the child was healed euen that same time.

19 Then came the disciples of Iesus secretly, and said, why could not we cast him out?

Luke 9. 17.

20 Iesus said vnto them, Because of your vnbelieve: for verily I say vnto you, *If ye haue faith as a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place: and it shall remoue, neither shall any thing be impossible vnto you.

21 Howbeit, this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

Of d. Mat. 20. mark. 9. luke 9.4.

22 *while they were conuersant in Galilee, Iesus said vnto them, It will come to passe, that the sonne of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the thirde day shall hee rise againe. And they were exceeding soze.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued tribute money, came to Peter, and said, Doeth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus prevented him, saying, what thinkest thou, Simon? of whom doe the kings of the earth take tribute or toll? of their owne children, or of the strangers?

26 Peter sayeth vnto him, Of the strangers. Iesus saith vnto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest wee should offend them.

them, goe thou to the sea, and cast an hooke, and take by the fish that it commeth by: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, and giue vnto them for me, and thee.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 He teacheth his disciples to be humble and harmeless, 6 to auoide occasions of euill.

At the same time came the disciples vnto Iesus, saying, who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?

2 Iesus called a litle child vnto him, and set him in the middes of them,

3 And said, verily I say vnto you, Except ye turne and become as litle children, ye shal not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Whosoever therefore shal humble himself as this litle child, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

5 And who so shall receiue such a litle child in my name, receiue me.

6 But who so shall offend one of these litle ones which beleue in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe vnto the world because of offences, it must needs be that offences come: but woe to that man by whom the offence commeth.

8 If then thy hand or thy foote offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather then thou shouldest, hauing two hands or two feete, be cast into the euerlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

10 Take heede that ye despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their angels doe alwayes behold the face of my father which is in heauen.

11 For the sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? if a man hate an hundred sheepe, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leaue those ninetie and nine, and goeth into the mountaines, and seeketh that which went astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say vnto you, he reioyce more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 Euen so it is not the will of your father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones should perish.

15 Whereouer, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault betweene thee and him alone: if he shall heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he will not heare thee, then take yet with thee one or two: that in the mouth of two or thre witnesses, every word may be established.

17 If he will not heare them, tell it vnto the Church: if he will not heare the Church, let him be vnto thee as an heathen man and a publicane.

18 Whatsoever I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye shall binde on earth, shall be bound in heauen:

and whatsoeuer ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

19 Againe, truly I say vnto you, that if two of you shal agree in earth as touching any thing that they shall aske, it shall be done for them of my father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or thre are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, and sayd, Lord, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I forgiue him? till seven times?

22 Iesus saith vnto him, I say not vnto you, vntill seuen times: but vntill seuentie times seuen.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certain man that was a king, which would take account of his seruants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 But soasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be solde, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payement to be made.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Lord, haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the Lord of that seruant, moued with pitie, loosed him, and forgaue him the debt.

28 But the same seruant went out, and found one of his fellowes which ought him an hundred pence: and when hee had laide handes on him, he tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellowes sawe what was done, they were very sorie, and came, and told vnto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that hee had called him, saide vnto him, O thou ungracious seruant, I forgaue thee all that debt when thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also haue had compassion on thy fellow, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So likewise shall my heauenly father doe also vnto you, if ye from your hearts forgiue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

The xix. Chapter,

3 Christ giueth answere concerning mariage, 21 and teacheth, not to be carefull, 22 nor to loue worldly riches.

And it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these sayings, hee gate him from Galilee, and came into the coastes of Iury, beyond Iordane:

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 The Pharisees also came vnto him, tempting him, and saying vnto him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

Deut. 24. 1. 7 They say vnto him, * why did Moses then command to giue a writing of diuorcement, and to put her away?

Mat. 5. 32. mar. 10. 11. luke 6. 18. 1. cor. 7. 11. 9 * I say vnto you, whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marrie another, committech adulteric: and who so marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulteric.

10 His disciples say vnto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, then is it not good to marrie.

11 But hee sayde vnto them, All men can not receiue this saying, saue they to whom it is giuen.

12 for there are some chaste, which were so bozne out of their mothers wombe: and there are some chaste, which were made chaste of men: & there be chaste, which haue made themselues chaste for the kingdome of heauens sake. He that is able to receiue it, let him receiue it.

Mar. 10. 13. luke 18. 15. 13 * When were there brought vnto him yong children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

Exo. 20. 13. 18 He sayth vnto him, which? Iesus sayd, * Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adulteric, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, 20 The yong man sayeth vnto him, All these things haue I kept from my youth by: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, goe and sell thy substance, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen: and come and follow me.

22 But when the yong man heard that saying, he went away forie: for he had great possessions.

23 Then said Iesus vnto his disciples, verily I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a Camel to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 But Iesus beheld them, & said vnto them, which men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is debter vnto no man. 20 He teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30 and giueth two blind men their sight.

BO the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penie a day, hee sent them into his vineyard.

3 And when hee went out about the third houre, he saw other standing idle in the market place,

4 And said vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will giue you. And they went their way.

5 Againe, when he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, he did like wise.

6 And about the eleventh houre, when he went out, he found other standing idle, and saith vnto them, why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He saith vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyard: and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 So when euen was come, the lord of the vineyard saith vnto his Seward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning from the last, vnto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh houre, they receiued every man a penie.

10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they should haue receiued more: and they likewise receiued every man a penie.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the good man of the house.

12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue bozne the burden and seruent heat of the day.

13 But he answered to one of them and said, friend, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way. I will giue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee.

with mine owne: As thine eye euill, because I am good?

16 *So the last shalbe first, and the first shalbe last: for many be called, but few be chosen.

17 *And Iesus going by to Hierusalem, tooke the twelue disciples aside in the way, and said vnto them,

18 Behold, we go by to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be betrayed vnto the chiefe priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shal condemne him to death:

19 *And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles to be mocked, & to be scourged, and to be crucified: and the third day he shall rise againe.

20 *Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21 And he saith vnto her, what wilt thou? She saith vnto him, Grant, that these my two sonnes may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdome.

22 But Iesus answered, and said, Vee wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with? They say vnto him, wee are able.

23 He saith vnto them, Vee shal drinke indeede of my cup, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to giue, but to them for whom it is prepared of my father.

24 *And when the ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 But Iesus, when he had called them vnto him, said, Vee knowe that the princes of the Gentiles haue domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authority vpon them.

26 It shal not be so among you: But whosoever wil be great among you, let him be your minister, 27 And who so will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant.

28 Euen as * the sonne of man came not to be ministered vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a rancome for many.

29 * And as they departed from Hiericho, much people followed him.

30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, they cried, saying, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the people rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, Haue mercie on vs, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid.

32 And Iesus stood still, and called them, and said, what wilt ye that I shall do vnto you?

33 They say vnto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Iesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

The xxj. Chapter.

7 He rideth into Hierusalem, 12 driueth the merchants out of the Temple, 19 and curseth the figge tree.

AND * when they drewe nigh vnto Hierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Olives, then sent Iesus two disciples,

2 Saying vnto them, Goe into the billage that lieth ouer against you, and anon ye shal find an Ass tied, and a colt with her: when ye haue loosed them, bring them vnto me.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, ye shall say, The Lords hartly neede of them, and straightway he will let them goe.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 * Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy king commeth vnto thee, meeke, and sitting vpon an Ass, and a colt, the foale of the Ass bled to the yoke.

6 The disciples went, and did as Iesus commanded them,

7 And brought the Ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and he sate thereon.

8 And many of the people spred their garments in the way, other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cried, saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 * And when hee was come into Hierusalem, all the citie was mouued, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude saide, This is Iesus that prophet of Nazareth a citie in Galilee.

12 And Iesus went into the Temple of God, and cast out all them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that sold Doves, 13 And said vnto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer, * but ye haue made it a denne of thieues.

14 * And the blind and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 When the chiefe priests and Scribes sawe the wonders that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdained, 16 And sayd vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Iesus saith vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, * Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast ordeined praise?

17 And he left them, and went out of the city vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.

19 * And when he sawe one figge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon but leaues onely, and said vnto it, Neuer fruit grow on thee hence forthward. And anon the figge tree withered away.

20 And when the Disciples sawe it, they marvelled, saying, Howe soone is the figge tree withered away?

21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shall not onely doe this which is done to the figge tree, but also, if ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And all things whatsoever ye shall aske in prayer, belceuing, ye shall receiue.

23 * And when he was come into the temple, the chiefe priests & the elders of the people came vnto him teaching, and say, By what authority doest thou these things: and who gaue thee this power?

24 Jesus answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske you one question, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves saying, If we shall say, from heauen, he will say vnto vs, why did ye not then beleue him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men, then feare we the people, * for all men hold John as a Prophet.

27 And they answered vnto Jesus, and said, wee cannot tell. And he saide vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 But what thinke you? A certaine man had two sonnes, and when he came to the first, he said, Sonne, go and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered, and said, I will not: but after ward he repented, and went.

30 And when he came to the second, he sayd like wise: And he answered, and said, I goe sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of his father? And they said vnto him, The first. Jesus saith vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the publicanes and the harlots go into the kingdome of God before you.

32 For * John came vnto you by the way of righteousnesse, and ye beleued him not: but the publicanes and the harlots beleued him. And ye when ye had seene it, were not moued afterward with repentance, that ye might haue beleued him.

33 Hearken another similitude. * There was a certaine man, an housholder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine presse in it, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew neere, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen, that they might receiue the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruants, they beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe, he sent other seruants, moe then the first, and they did vnto them likewise.

37 But last of all, he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will stand in awe of my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the sonne, they said among themselves, * This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and let vs seison vpon his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and thrust him out of the vineyard, and slue him.

40 When the Lord therefore of the vineyard commeth, what will he doe vnto those husbandmen?

41 They say vnto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruit in due seasons.

42 Jesus saith vnto them, * Woe bee neuer reade in the scriptures, The stone which the builders disallowe, the same is become the head of the corner. This is the Lords doing, and it is maruelous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and giuen to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And * whosoever shall fall on this stone, shall be broken in pieces: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall all to grinde him.

45 And when the chiefe Priests & Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46 And when they sought to lay handes on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

The xxij. Chapter.

17 Tribute to be giuen to the Emperour. 39 He answereth the Scribe vnto his question.

AND Jesus answered, * and spake vnto them againe by parables, and said,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that was a King, which made a marriage for his sonne,

3 And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bidden to the wedding, & they would not come.

4 Againe, he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner, my Dren and my fatlings are killed, and all things are readie: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intreated them spitefully, and slue them.

7 But when the King heard thereof he was wroth, and when he had sent forth his armies, he destroyed those murderers, and burnt by the citie.

8 Then saith he to his seruants, The marriage is ready prepared, but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Goe ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as many as ye shall find bid to the marriage.

10 And the seruants went out into the high wayes, and gathered together all as many as they found, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 When the King came in to see the guests, he spied there a man, which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he saith vnto him, Friend, howe camest thou in hither, not hauing a wedding garment? And he was euen speechlesse.

13 Then sayde the King to the ministers, when ye haue bound him hande and foote, take him by, and cast him into vtter darknesse, * there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

14 For many are called, but fewe are chosen.

15 * Then went the Pharisees, and tooke counsaile howe they might entangle him in his talke.

16 And they sent out vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, neither carest thou for any man, for thou dost not respect mens persons.

Psal. 118. 22. act. 4. 11.

17 Call vs therefore, ho we think thou: Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?
 18 But Iesus, when he knew their wickednesse, sayd, why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
 19 Show mee the tribute money. And they brought vnto him a peny.
 20 And he sayth vnto them, whose is this Image and superscription?
 21 They say vnto him, Cesars. Then sayth he vnto them, * Giue therefore vnto Cesar the things which are Cesars: and vnto God, those things that are Gods.
 22 When they had heard these wordes, they maruelled, and left him, and went their way.
 23 The same day came to him the Sadducees, * which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, * Moses sayd, If a man die, hauing no children, his brother shall marrie his wife, and raise by seede vnto his brother.
 25 There were with vs seuen brethren, and the first when he had married a wife, deceased, & hauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.
 26 Likewise the second also, and the third, vnto the seventh.
 27 Last of all the woman died also.
 28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she bee of the seuen? for they all had her.
 29 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Pee doe erre, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.
 30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie, nor are giuen in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heauen.
 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, haue yee not read that which was spoken vnto you of God, which sayth, 32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob: God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.
 33 And when the multitudes heard this, they were astounded at his doctrine.
 34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.
 35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,
 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the lawe?
 37 Iesus sayd vnto him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, 38 This is the first and great commandment.
 39 And the second is like vnto it, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.
 40 In these two commandements hang all the law and the Prophets.
 41 When the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, what thinke ye of Christ? whose sonne is hee? They sayd vnto him, the sonne of Dauid.
 43 He sayth vnto them, How then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying,
 44 The Lord sayd vnto my Lord, * Sit thou on my right hand, til I make thine enemies thy footstool:
 45 If Dauid then call him Lord, how is hee then his sonne?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man (from that day) aske him any more questions.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

3 Christ crieth wo to the Pharisees, Scribes, and hypocrites, 37 And prophesieth the destruction of Hierusalem.

Then spake Iesus to the multitudes, and to his disciples,
 2 Saying, * The Scribes & the Pharisees || late in Moses seate:
 3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you obserue, that obserue and doe, but doe not yee after their workes: for they say, and do not.

4 Pea, they bind together heauie burdens, and grievous to be bozne, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselues will not moue them with one of their fingers.

5 All their workes they do, for to be seene of men: * they make broade their phylacteries, and enlarge the hemmes of their garments,

6 And loue the hypermost seates at feasts, and to sit in the chiefe place in the Synagogues,

8 But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your master, euen Christ, and all ye are brethren.

9 And * call no man your father vpon the earth: for one is your father, which is in heauen.

10 Neither bee yee called masters: for one is your master, euen Christ.

11 He that is greatest among you, shall be your seruant.

12 But whosoever shall exalt himselfe shall be brought lowe, hee that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

13 No vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye shut vp the kingdome of heauen before men: ye neither goe in your selues, neither suffer yee them that come, to enter in.

14 Noe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye deuoure widows houses, and that vnder a pretence of long prayer, therefore ye shall receiue the greater damnation.

15 Noe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye compass the sea and the land to make one * proselyte, & when he is become one, ye make him two fold more the child of hell then ye your selues are.

16 Noe be vnto you ye blinde guides, for yee say, whosoever shall sweare by the temple, it is nothing, but whosoever shall sweare by the gold of the temple, he is a debter.

17 Pe fooles and blinde, for whether is greater, the golde, or the temple that sanctifieth the golde?

18 And whosoever shall sweare by the altar, it is nothing, but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is vpon it, he is a debter.

19 Pe fooles and blinde, for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Who so therefore shall sweare by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And who so shall sweare by the temple, sweareth by it, & by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that shall sweare by heauen, sweareth by the seate of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The ten virgines. 14 The talents deliuered to the seruants. 31 And of the generall iudgement.

Then shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto ten virgins, which when they had taken their lampes, went forth to meet the bridegrome.

2 But five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish, when they had taken their lampes, took none oyle with them:

4 But the wise took oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.

5 While the bridegrome taried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 And euen at midnight there was a crye made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgines arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolish sayd vnto the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so, least there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the doore was shut vp.

11 Afterward came also the other virgines, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But hee answered, and sayd, Verely I say vnto you, I know you not.

13 * Watch therefore, for ye know not neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherein the sonne of man commeth.

14 * Like wise, as when a certaine man taking his iourney into a straunge countrey, called his owne seruants, and deliuered vnto them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents, to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his ability, and straightway tooke his iourney.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and occupied with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And like wise he that had receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But hee that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lords money.

19 After a long season, the lord of those seruants commeth, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so hee that had receiued five talents, came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto mee five talents: behold, I haue gained besides them, five talents moe.

21 His lord sayd vnto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.

22 Hee also that had receiued two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto mee two talents: behold, I haue won two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said vnto him, Well done, good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came, and saide, Lord, I kine to thee that thou art an hard maier, reaping tohere thou hast not sowed, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And therefore was I afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: for, there thou hast that thine is.

26 His Lord answered, and sayde vnto him, Thou euill and sloothful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For vnto euery one that hath shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

30 And call the vnprofitable seruant * into better darknesse, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the Sonne of man shall come in his glorie, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and hee shall separate them one from another, as a shepheard diuideth his sheepe from the goates.

33 And hee shall set the sheepe on his right hand, but the goates on the left.

34 Then shall the King say vnto them which shall be on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my father, inherite the kingdome, which hath bene prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I was thirskie, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: * I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee: or thirskie, and gaue thee drinke?

38 When sawe we thee a stranger, and tooke thee in: or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answer, and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it vnto me.

41 * Then shall he say also vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into the euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirskie, and ye gaue me no drinke.

43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirskie, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 They shall be answered them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall go away into euerlasting paine: but the righteous into life eternall.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Mary Magdalene anoineth Christ. 26 They eate the Easter lambe.

And it came to passe, when Jesus had finished al these thyngs, he said vnto his disciples,

2 * See knowe that after two dayes is the feast of Pascheouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 * Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high Priest, which was called Caiaphas,

4 And held a counsell, that they might take Jesus subtilly, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, least there be an uproare among the people.

6 * When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an alabaster bore of precious ointment, & powdered it on his head as he sate at the boord.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 This ointment might haue bene sold for much, and giuen to the poore.

10 When Jesus vnderstood that, he said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 * For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me ye haue not alwayes.

12 For in that this woman hath cast this ointment on my body, she did it to burie me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, whersoever this Gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this that this woman hath done, be told for a memoriall of her.

14 * Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests, 15 And said vnto them, What wil ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie siluer pecces.

16 And from that time forth, he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 * The first day of sweet bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we shall prepare for thee to eate the Pascheouer?

18 And he saide, Goe into the citie to such a man, and say vnto him, The master saith, My time is at hand, I make the Pascheouer at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and they made readie the Pascheouer.

20 * When the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he said, verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they being exceeding sorrowfull, began euery one of them to say vnto him, Lord, is it I?

23 Hee answered, and sayd, He that hath dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

26 When they were eating, * Jesus, when hee had taken the bread, and giuen thankes, hee brake it and gaue it to the disciples, and sayde, Take ye, eat ye, this is my body.

27 And when hee had taken the cup, & giuen thankes, he gaue it them, saying, Drink ye all of it:

28 For this is my blood of the new testament, that is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I say vnto you, I will in no wise drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntill that day when I drinke it newe with you in my fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had praised God, they went out vnto the mount of Oliues.

31 *Then sayth Jesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, *I will smite the shepheard, & the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scatterd abroad.

35 Peter sayde vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I by no maner of meanes deny thee. Like wise also said all the disciples.

36 *Then commeth Jesus with them vnto a place called Bethlemane, & sayeth vnto the disciples, Sit ye here while I goe and pray sponder.

37 And when he had taken with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, hee began to be sorrowfull and heauy.

38 Then said Jesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauie, euen vnto the death: tary yee here, and watch with me.

39 And when he had gone a litle further, he fell flatte on his face, praying, and saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And hee commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them asleepe, & saith vnto Peter, what, could ye not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch and pray, that yee enter not into temptation: The spirit in deede is willing, but the flesh is weake.

42 He went away againe the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drinke it, thy will be fulfilled.

43 And when he came, he findeth them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.

44 And hee left them, and went againe and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then commeth he to his disciples, & sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, & take your rest: behold, the houre is at hand, and the sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 * While he yet spake, loe, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swordes and stauces from the chiefe priests and Elders of the people.

48 But he that betrayed him, gaue them a token, saying, whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that same is he, hold him fast.

49 And forthwith when hee came to Jesus, he sayd, Halle master: and kised him.

50 And Jesus said vnto him, friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layde hands on Jesus, and tooke him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, & drew his sword, and after that he had striken a seruant of the hie priests, he smote off his eare.

52 Then sayd Jesus vnto him, Turne backe thy sword into his place: * for all they that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my father, and he shall cause to stand by me moze then twelue legions of angels?

54 But howe then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, * that thus it must be?

55 In that same houre said Jesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe with swordes and stauces so: to take me: I tate dayly with you teaching in the Temple, and yee tooke me not.

56 But all this was done that the scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. * Then all the disciples hauing forsaken him, fled.

57 * But they that had taken Jesus, led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him a farre off, vnto the hie priests palace, and went in, and sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 * The chiefe priests and elders, and all the counsell, sought false witnesse against Jesus, to put him to death,

60 But found none: yea, when many false witness came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witness, 61 And sayd, This I saw sayd, * I am able to destroy the Temple of God, and to builde it in thre dayes.

62 And the chiefe priest arose, and sayd vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is that which these witness against thee?

63 But Jesus helde his peace. And the chiefe priest answered, and said vnto him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs whether thou be Christ the sonne of God?

64 Jesus sayeth vnto him, Thou hast sayde: neuertheless, I say vnto you, * Hereafter shall ye see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and coming in the clouds of the shie.

65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what neede we of any moe witness? Behold, now yee haue heard his blasphemy.

66 What thinke ye? They answered and said, He is worthy to die.

67 * Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him with stices, and other smote him on the face with the palme of their hands, 68 Saying, Prophecie vnto vs, O Christ, who is he thae smote thee?

69 * Peter sate without in the palace: And a damosel came vnto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denped before them all, saying, I wote not what thou sayest.

72 And againe he denied with an othe, I doe not knowe the man.

73 And after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then beganne he to curse and to sweare, saying, I knowe not the man. And immediatly the cocke crew.

75 And Peter remembered the words of Iesu, which sayde vnto him, Before the cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

The xxvij. Chapter.

2 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth himselfe.

When the morning was come, * all the chiefe priests and Elders of the people helde a counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they ledde him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.

3 Then Iudas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie siluer pieces to the chiefe priests and elders.

4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betrayed the innocent blood. And they sayde, what is that to vs? see thou to that.

5 And when he had cast downe the pieces of siluer in the temple, he departed, * and went his way, and hanged himselfe.

6 And the chiefe priests tooke the siluer peeces, and sayd, It is not lawfull for to put them into the treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And when they had taken counsell, they bought with them the potters felde, to burie strangers in.

8 wherfore that field was called, * The field of blood vnto this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke the thirtie siluer peeces, the price of him that was valued, whome they bought of the children of Israel:

10 And gaue them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 Iesus stood before the deputie. & the deputie asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jewes? Iesus sayth vnto him, Thou sayest.

12 * And when he was accused of the chiefe priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 When sayeth Pilate vnto him, Hearst thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to neuer a word: in so much that the deputy marvelled greatly.

15 * At that least the deputie was woont to let loose vnto the people a prisoner, whome they would.

16 He had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate sayd vnto them, Whether will ye that I give loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus, which is called Christ?

18 for he knewe that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 When he was set downe on the iudgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame because of him.

20 * But the chiefe priests and elders perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and destroy Iesus.

21 The deputie answered, and sayde vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you? They sayd, Barabbas.

22 Pilate sayde vnto them, what shall I doe then with Iesus, which is called Christ? They all sayd vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie sayd, what euill hath hee done? But they cryed exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that he could perswade nothing, but that more businesse was made, hee tooke water, and washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and sayd, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Then let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, hee deliuered him to be crucified.

27 * Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hall, gathered vnto him all the band of souldiers.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Haile king of the Jewes.

30 And when they had spitte vpon him, they tooke the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they tooke the robe off him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to beare his crosse.

33 * And when they were come vnto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 They gaue him vineger to drinke, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 * When they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting downe, they watched him there:

37 And set by ouer his head, his accusation written, THIS IS IESVS, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 Then are there two thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 They that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, 40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the temple, and buidest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: If thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.

John 19. 12.

41 Like wise also the high Priests mocking him, with the Scribes and Elders, sayd, 42 He saith other, himselfe can he not saue: If he be the king of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and we will beleue him.
 43 * Per hath trusted in God, let him deliuer himselfe if he will haue him: for hee sayd, I am the sonne of God.
 44 The theeues also which were crucified with him, call the same in his teeth.
 45 From the sixth houre was their darknes ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.
 46 And about the ninth houre, Iesus cryed with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, Lama sabachthani, that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
 47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, sayd, This man calleth for Elias.
 48 And straight way one of them ranne, * and tooke a sponge, and when he had filled it full of vineger, & put it on a reed, he gaue him to drinke.
 49 The rest sayde, Let be, let vs see whether Elias will come to saue him.
 50 Iesus, when hee had cryed againe with a loud voice, yeclded by the ghost.
 51 * And behold, the baile of the temple was rent in two parts, from the top to the bottoine, and the earth did quake, and the stones rent.
 52 And graues were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept, arose, 53 And after that they were come out of the graues after his resurrection, came into the holy citie, and appeared vnto many.
 54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the son of God.
 55 And many women were there (beholding him afarre off) which followed Iesus from Galilee, ministring vnto him.
 56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Ioses, and the mother of Zebedees children.
 57 * When the Euen was come, there came a rich man from the citie of Arimathea, named Ioseph, which also himselfe was Iesus disciple.
 58 He went to Pilate, and begged the bodie of Iesus: then Pilate commaunded the body to be deliuered.
 59 And when Ioseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And layd it in his new tombe which hee had hewen out in the rocke: and when hee had rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, he departed.
 61 And there was Mary Magdalene, & the other Mary, sitting ouer against the sepulchre.
 62 The next day that followed the day of preparing, the high Priests and Pharises came together vnto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that this deceiver said while hee was yet aliue, After three dayes I will rise againe.
 64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, leaſt his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error shall be worse then the first.
 65 Pilate said vnto them, Ye haue the watch, goe your way, make it as sure as ye know.

 66 So they went, and when they had sealed by the stone, they made the sepulchre sure with the watch.

The xxviii. Chapter.

2 The resurrection of Christ. 12 The high Priests giue the souldiers money, to say that Christ was stolen out of his grave.

In the latter * end of the Sabbath day, which daowneth the first day of the weeke, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake, for the Angel of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sat vpon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for feare of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 The Angel answered, and sayde vnto the women, feare ye not: for I know that ye seek Iesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here, he is risen, as he said, Come, see the place where that the Lorde was laid,

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead. And behold, hee goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him: loe, I haue told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did run, to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Iesus met them, saying, All haile. And they came, and helde him by the teete, and worshipped him.

10 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid: goe tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 When they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed vnto the high Priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say yee, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the deputies eares, wee will perswade him, and make you carelesse.

15 So they, when they had taken the money, did as they were taught. And this saying was noyed among the Jewes vntill this day.

16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountaine where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.

19 * Goe yee therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the holy Ghost:

20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoever I haue commaunded you: and loe, I am with you alway, euen vnto the ende of the world.

We haue in this description conferred the vse and manner of the celebration of Easter that the Iewes held, with that which we vse to reckon and beginne at, and also to name the dayes of the weeke, & haue added thereto certaine dayes of the moneth of March, in the yere that Iesus Christ suffered, to declare the vnderstanding of the sayd difficultie. Wherem there is to be noted, that the Lord Iesus celebrated not the Pascheouer the same day that the Iewes did: but that he which came not to breake the Lawe, but to fulfill the Law in every point, ate the Lambe with his disciples at the time ordeined by the Law. Exod. 12. which is the foureteenty day of the first moneth (that is to say, March) in the afternoone, on the which began the sayd feast: which fell this yere on the Friday, the Euen of the Sabbath or day of rest. On the which day, he which was the true Lambe was offered, to the end that the truth might agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebrated the sayd Pascheouer the day following at Euen after Sunne set, Iesus Christ being in the graue: for that by tradition of their predecessors, the sayd feast which fell on the Friday, according to the Lawe, was deferred to the next day, which was the day of their weekly Sabbath, because they would not keepe two feasts together: for this feast day they called the great Sabbath, Iohn 19. and also because (as enemies of the truth) they would seeke all meanes possible to keepe him from being knowne for the Messias.

|---|--|---|--|
| The disciples prepare the Lambe which Iesus Christ ate with them after Euen: the same day of which Euen, began the feast. | Iesus hauing eaten the Lambe with his disciples, instituted the Sacrament of the Supper, as Iesus was killed by Iudas, is crucified, dead, and buried. | Iesus Christ resteth in the graue all this day. | The women carry ointments, and went early in the morning to the graue. |
|---|--|---|--|

Here is also to be noted, that where the eating of the Lambe, the institution of the Sacrament, with the residue before mentioned, is referred to Thursday and Friday: If ye reckon according to the Iewes account, who begin their Friday night on Thursday after Sunne set, and continueth that night and day vntill the next day after Sunne set, ye shall find that Christ did eat the Paschal Lambe, instituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, was killed by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday. But if ye reckon after our vse, then Christ did eat the Paschal Lambe, instituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, and was killed of Iudas on Thursday, but was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday.

The Gospel by S. Marke.

The first Chapter.

2 The office of Iohn Baptist. 9 The Baptisme of Christ, 13 his fasting, 14 and preaching.

In the beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Sonne of God,

2 As it hath bene written in the Prophets, * Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 * A voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight.

4 * Iohn was baptizing in the wilderness, and preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of finnes.

5 * And all the land of Iury, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto him, and were all baptizd of him in the riuer of Iordane, confessing their finnes.

6 Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: * and he did eate locusts and wilde honny,

7 * And preached, saying, Hee that is stronger then I, cometh after mee, whose shoote latchet I am not worthy to soupe downe, and vnloose.

8 I haue baptizd you with water: but he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 * And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came from Nazareth a citie of Galilee, * and was baptizd of Iohn in Iordane.

10 And alsoone as he was come by out of the water, he saw heauen open, and the Spirit descending vpon him like a Doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, Thou art my deare Sonne, in whom I am wel pleased.

12 * And immediatly the Spirit driueth him into wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness fourtie dayes teimpted of Satan, and was with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 After that Iohn was deliuered to prison, * Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God.

15 And saying, The time is come, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent ye, and beleeue the Gospel.

16 * As he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting nets into the Sea (for they were fishers.)

17 And Jesus said vnto them, Follow mee, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when hee had gone a little further thence, hee sawe James the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, which also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruants, and followed him.

21 * And they came into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath dayes, hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 * And they were astonied at his learning: for hee taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 * And there was in their Synagogue, a man vexed with an vnclene spirit, and he cried aloud, 24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue wee to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy One of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vnclene spirit had torne him, and cried with a lowde voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they demanded one of another among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authoritie commandeth he the foule spirits, and they doe obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29 * And forthwith, when they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with James and Iohn.

30 But Simons wifes mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anon they tell him of her.

31 And hee came and tooke her by the hand, and lift her by: and immediatly the feuer forsooke her, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And at Euen, when the Sunne was downe, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, and them that were vexed with devils:

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the dooze.

34 And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and cast out many devils, and suffered not the devils to speake, because they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Jesus when hee was risen vp, went out, and departed into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had found him, they saide vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preach there also: for therefore am I come.

39 And he preached in their Synagogues, in all Galilee, and cast the devils out.

40 * And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling downe to him, & saying vnto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus, hauing compassion on him, when he had put too:th his hand, touched him, and saith vnto him, I will be thou cleane.

42 And as soone as he had spokn, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after he had giuen him a strait commandement, he sent him a way forth with:

44 And saith vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but get thee hence, shew thy selfe to the Priest, * and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a witnes vnto them.

45 * But he, as soone as he was departed, beganne openly to declare many things, and to publish this rumour: insomuch, that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He healeth the man of the pallsie, 14 and calleth Leui the Customer.

After a few dayes also, * he entered into Capernaum againe, and it was noyded that hee was in the house.

2 And anon many were gathered together, insomuch that now there was no reome to receiue them, no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word of the Gospel vnto them.

3 And they come vnto him, bringing one sick of the pallsie, which was borne of foure men.

4 And when they could not come nigh vnto him for plesse, they vncouered the rooffe of the house that he was in: and when they had broken vp the rooffe, they do with cords let downe the bed wherein the sicke of the pallsie lay.

5 When Iesus saw their faith, he said vnto the sicke of the pallsie, Sonne, thy sinnes be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doeth he thus speake blasphemies? who can forgive sinnes but God onely?

8 And immediatly, when Iesus perceived in his spirit that they so reason within themselves, he saith vnto them, Why reason ye such things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the pallsie, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, take vp thy bed and walke?

10 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power in earth to forgive sinnes, (He saith to the sicke of the pallsie,) 11 I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence into thine house.

12 And immediatly he arose, tooke vp the bed, and went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We neuer saw it on this fashion.

13 * And he went againe by the Sea side, and all the people resorted vnto him, and hee taught them.

14 And as Iesus passed by, He saw Leui the soane of Alphaee sitting at the receite of Custome, and said vnto him, Follow me. And he arose, and folloved him.

15 And it came to passe, that when Iesus sat at meate in his house, many Publicanes and sinners fate also together at meate with Iesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees sawe him eat with Publicanes and sinners, they said vnto his Disciples, How is it that he eateth and dzinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 When Iesus heard that, hee sayeth vnto them, They that be whole, haue no neede of the Physicion, but they that are sicke: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 * And the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees did fast: and they come and say vnto him, Why doe the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy Disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus saide vnto them, Can the children of the Bride-chamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the Bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the dayes will come, when the Bridegrome shall be taken a way from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 No man also seweth a piece of newe cloth vnto an olde garment: other wayes, his newe piece taketh away somewhat from the olde garment, and so the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into olde vessels, else the new wine doth burst the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels will be marred: But new wine must be put into new vessels.

23 * And it came to passe, that hee went thorow the corne fields on the Sabbath dayes, and his Disciples began by the way to plucke the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharisees said vnto him, Behold, why do they on the Sabbath dayes that which is not lawfull?

25 And he said vnto them, * Haue yee neuer read what Dauid did, when hee had neede, and was an hungred, both hee, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high Priest, and did eate the Shew-bread, * which is not lawfull to eate but for the Priests, and gaue also to them which were with him?

27 And he said vnto them, The Sabbath was made for man, & not man for the Sabbath.

28 Therefore is the Sonne of man Lord also of the Sabbath.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He helpeth the man with the dried hand, 14 and chooseth his Apostles.

After * he entered againe into the Synagogue, and a man was there which had a withered hand:

2 And they watched him, whether hee would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

3 And he sayd vnto the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand in the midd.

4 And hee sayeth vnto them, Is it lawfull to doe good on the Sabbath dayes, or to doe euill? to saue life, or to kill? But they holde their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, mourning for the hardnesse of their hearts, hee saith vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And hee stretched it out: and

6 And the Pharisees departed, and straightway gathered a counsell with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus auoyded with his disciples, to the Sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Iury,

8 And from Hierusalem, and from Idumea, and from the region which is beyond Iordane, and they that dwelt about Tyze and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what things he did, came vnto him.

9 And Jesus commanded his disciples that a ship should wait on him, because of the people, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many, in so much that they pressed vpon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And the vncleane spirits, when they saw him, they fell downe before him at his feet, and cried, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And hee straitly charged them, that they should not make him kno wen.

13 * And hee goeth by into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom hee would: and they came vnto him.

14 And he ordeined twelue, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach:

15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.

16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name Peter.

17 And he called James the sonne of Zebedee, and John James brother (and gaue them names, Boanerges, which is to say, The sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Chanaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they come into an house.

20 And the people commeth together againe, so that they could not so much as eate bread.

21 And when they that belonged vnto him, heard of it, they went out to lay hands vpon him, for they said, He is made.

22 And the Scribes which came downe from Hierusalem, sayde, * Hee hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the deuils, calleth hee out deuils.

23 And when he had called them vnto him, he said vnto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a realme be diuided against it selfe, that realme cannot endure.

25 And if a house be diuided against it selfe, that house cannot continue.

26 And if Satan make insurrection against himselfe, and be diuided, he cannot continue, but hath an ende.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goods, except he will first binde the strong man, and then will spoyle his house.

28 * Verely I say vnto you, All finnes shalbe forgiven vnto the children of men, and blasphemies, where withsoeuer they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the holy Ghost, hath neuer forgiveness, but is in danger of eternall damnation.

30 For they said, He hath an vncleane spirit.

31 * There came his mother, and his brethren, and standing without, sent vnto him, calling him.

32 And the people sate about him, and saide vnto him, Beholde, thy mother, and thy brethren, and thy sisters seeke for thee without.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And when he had looked round about on them which sate about him, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For who so euer shall doe the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, & mother.

The iij. Chapter.

3 The parable of the Sower. 37 Christ stilleth the tempest of the Sea, which obeyeth him.

And hee began againe to teach by the Sea side: and there gathered vnto him much people, so that hee entred into a ship, and sate in the Sea: and all the people were by the Sea side on the shore.

2 And hee taught them many things by parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a sower to sowe:

4 And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fell by the wayes side: and the foules of the aire came, and deuoured it by.

5 Some fell on stonie ground, where it had not much earth: and immediatly it sprang by, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But as soone as the Sunne was by, it caught heate, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grewe by, and choked it, and it gaue no fruit.

8 And some fell on good ground, and did yeeld fruite that sprang by, & grewe, and brought forth some thirtie, and some firtie, and some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath cares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, asked of him the parable.

11 And he sayd vnto them, Vnto you it is giuen to knowe the mysterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, al things are done by parables, 12 * That when they see, they may see, and not discern: and when they heare, they may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they should turne, and their finnes should be forgiven them.

13 And hee saide vnto them, Knowe yee not this parable? And howe then will yee know all parables?

14 The Sower soweth the word.

15 And they that receiued seed by the way side, are those where the word is sown, but when they haue heard, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the worde that was sown in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue seede into the stonie ground, are they, which when they haue heard the worde, at once receiue it with gladnesse:

17 Yet haue no root in themselves, and so endure but a time : and anon when trouble and persecution ariseth for the words sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And those bee they that receiue seede among thornes : and they are such as heare the word, 19 And the cares of the world, * and the deceitfulness of riches, & the lusts of other things entring in, choke the word, and it is made unfruitfull.

20 And they which receiued seede into good ground, are such as heare the word, and receiue it, so that one cometh forth thirty, some sixty, some an hundred.

21 And hee saide vnto them, * Is the candle lighted to bee put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table: and not to be put on a candlesticke?

22 * For there is nothing so priuie, that shall not be opened: neither hath it bene so secret, but that it shall come abroad.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what ye heare: * with what measure yee mete, with the same shall it be measured to you againe: And vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen: and from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

26 And hee sayde, So is the kingdome of God, euen as if a man should sowe seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow vp, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the full cometh in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is brought forth, anon he thrusteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 And hee saide, * wherunto shall we liken the kingdome of God? Or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard seed: which when it is sown in the earth, is lesse then all seedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is sown, it groweth vp, and is greater then all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of the aire may make their nestes vnder the shadow of it.

33 * And with many such parables preached he the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without parable spake hee not vnto them: but when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 * And the same day when the Euen was come, he saith vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the people, and tooke him, euen as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the shippe, so that it was now full.

38 And hee was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow: and they awake him, and say vnto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the winde, and saide vnto the Sea, Peace, and be still: and the winde ceased, and there followed a great calme.

40 And he said vnto them, Why are ye fearefull? How is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

The v. Chapter.

8 Christ deliuereth the possessed from the vnclane spirit, 25 and the woman from the bloody issue.

And they came ouer vnto the other side of the Sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him from among the tombes, a man possessed of an vnclane spirit,

3 which had his abiding among the tombes, and no man coulde binde him, no not with chaines:

4 Because that hee had bene often bound with fetters and chaines, and the chaines broken in pieces: neither coulde any man tame him.

5 And alwayes, night and day, he was in the mountaines, and in the tombes, crying, and all to cutting himselfe with stones.

6 But when hee had spied Iesus afarre off, he ranne, and worshipped him,

7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, what haue I to do with thee, Iesus, thou sonne of the most highest God? I require thee in the Name of God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For hee saide vnto him, Come out of the man, thou soule spirit.)

9 And he asked him, what is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he praied him instantly that he would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 But there was there nigh vnto the mountaines, a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that wee may enter in to them.

13 And anon Iesus gaue them leaue. And the vnclane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong into the sea (they were about two thousand) and were choked in the sea.

14 And the swineherds fled, and tolde it in the city, and in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:

15 And they come to Iesus, and see him that was hered with the feend, and had the Legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that sawe it, tolde them howe it came to passe to him that was possessed with the deuill, and also of the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, hee that had bene possessed with the deuill praied him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus suffered him not, but saith vnto him, Goe home to thy friends, and shew them howe great things the Lord hath done for thee, and had compassion on thee.

21 And when Jesus was come ouer againe by ship into the other side, much people gathered vnto him, and he was nigh vnto the sea.

22 And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue. Jairus by name: & when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete, 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My yong daughter lieth at point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that she may bee safe, and she shall liue.

24 And Iesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And there was a certaine woman, which had bene diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and felt none amendement at all, but rather the worse.

27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preece behind him, & touched his garment.

28 For he said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried by: and she felt in her body that shee was healed of the plague.

30 And Jesus immediatly knowing in himselfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preece, and sayd, who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples sayde vnto him, Thou seeest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing, and trembling, knowing what was done within her, came and fel down before him, and told him all the trueth.

34 And he sayd vnto her, Daughter, thy faith hath saued thee, go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogues house, certaine which sayd, Thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the master any further?

36 As soone as Jesus heard the worde that was spoken, he sayth vnto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, onely beleue.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, saue Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, & seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he sayth vnto them, why make ye this adoe, and weepe? the damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn: but hee, after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damosell, and them that were with him: and entreteth in where the Damosell lay.

41 And when hee had taken the Damosell by the hand, he sayth vnto her, Talicha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damosell (I say vnto thee) arise.

42 And straightway the Damosell arose, and walked, for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: and they were adomed out of measure.

43 And hee charged them straitly that no man should know of it: and commanded to giue her meate.

The vj. Chapter.

Of Christs doings and estimation in his owne countrey.

And he departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the Sabboth day was come, he beganne to teach in the synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonished, saying, from whence hath hee these things? And what wisdom is this that is giuen vnto him, and such mighty workes that are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, the brother of James and Ioses, and of Juda and Simon? And are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.

4 Jesus said vnto them, A Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinne, and in his owne house.

5 And he could there doe no mighty worke: but layd his hands vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them:

6 And he marvelled because of their vnbeleefe. And he went about by the villages that lay on euery side, teaching.

7 And he calleth the twelue, and began to send them forth, two and two, and gaue them power against vncleane spirits.

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe: onely: no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9 But should be shodded with sandals: and that they should not put on two coates.

10 And he sayd vnto them, wheresoeuer ye enter into an house, there abide till pee depart thence.

11 And whosoever shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: I say verely vnto you, it shall be easier for the Sodomites and the Gomozreans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent:

13 And they cast out many deuils, and anointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

14 And king Herod heard of him, (for his name was spred abroad:) and he sayd that John Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty workes do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Other said, That it is Elias. Some said, That it is a Prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Herod had heard of him, hee sayd, It is John, whom I beheaded, he is risen from death.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth || and laid hands vpon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For John said vnto Herod, It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias layd waite for him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.

21 And when a conuenient day was come, that Herod on his birth day made a supper to the lords, high captaines, and chiefe estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at boord also, the king sayd vnto the Damosel, Aske of me, whatsoeuer thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And he swaue vnto her, whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I wil giue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.

24 And she went forth, and sayd vnto her mother, What shall I aske? She sayd, John Baptists head.

25 And shee came in straight way with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I wil that thou giue me by and by in a charger, the head of John Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding soze, howbeit for his oaths sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he would not cast her off.

27 And immediately the king sent the hangman, and commanded his head to be brought in, and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the Damosel, and the Damosel gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came & tooke vp his body, and layd it in a tombe,

30 * And the Apostles gathered themselues together vnto Iesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And he sayd vnto them, Come ye alone out of the way into the wilderness, and rest a while, for there were many commers and goers, and they had no leasure so much as to eate.

32 * And they departed by ship out of the way into a desert place.

33 And the people spied them when they departed, and many knew him, and ranne afoote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and came together vnto him.

34 * And Iesus when he came out, saw much people, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe not hauing a shepheard: and he began to teach them many things.

35 * And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples come vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the time is farre passed:

36 Let them depart, that they may goe into the countrey round about, and into the billages, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

37 He answered, and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they say vnto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and giue them to eate?

38 Hee sayth vnto them, Howe many loaves haue ye? goe and looke. * And when they had searched, they say, fise, and two fishes.

39 And hee commanded them to make them all sitte downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when hee had taken the fise loaves, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, hee blessed, and brake the loaves, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes diuided he among them all.

42 And they did eate, and were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eate the loaves, were about fise thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to goe into the ship, and to goe ouer the sea before vnto Bethsaida, while he should send a way the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, hee departed into a mountaine to pray.

47 * And when Euen was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And hee sawe them troubled in rowing (for the winde was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night, hee cometh vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 But when they sawe him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cried out.

50 (For they all saw him, & were troubled,) and anon he talked with them, and sayth vnto them, Be of good cheare, It is I, be not afraid.

51 And he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased, and they were soze amazed in themselues beyond measure, and maruelled.

52 For they vnderstood not what was done of the loaves, because their heart was hardened.

53 * And when they had passed ouer, they came into the land of Cenezareth, and drew vp into the haven.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straight way they knew him, 55 And ran forth throughout all the region round about, and began to carrie about in beds, those that were sicke, thither where they heard that he was.

56 And whithersoever he entred, into billages, or cities, or fields, they layd the sicke folkes in the streetes, and prayed him that they might touch & it were but the hemme of his garment: and as many as touched it, were made whole.

The vij. Chapter.

2 The Pharises finde fault at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashed hands. 32 The healing of the deafe and dumbe.

AND * the Pharisees come together vnto him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashed) hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees and all the Jewes, except they wash their hands oft, eate not, observing the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eate not. And many other things there bee which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups and pots, brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then asked him the Pharisees & Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashed hands?

6 He answered and said vnto them, Surely Elias hath prophesied well of you hypocrites, as it is written, *This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is farre from me.

7 Howbeit in vaine do they worship me, teaching doctrines, the commandements of men.

8 For, the commandement of God being laid apart, yee oblerue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he sayd vnto them, full well ye cast aside the commandement of God, that yee may keepe your owne tradition.

10 For Moses sayd, * Honour thy father and thy mother: * and whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, Cobhan (that is, by the gift) that is offered of me, thou shalt be helped.

12 And so ye suffer him no more to doe ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye haue ordeined: And many such things do ye.

14 * And when hee had called all the people vnto him, he sayd vnto them, Hearken vnto me euery one of you, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man that can defile him, when it entreteth into him: but the things which proceed out of a man, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when hee came into the house a way from the people, his disciples asked him of the similitude.

18 And hee sayth vnto them, Are yee also so without vnderstanding? Doe yee not perceiue that whatsoeuer thing from without entreteth into the man, it can not defile him, 19 Because it entreteth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all the meats?

20 And he sayd, That which cometh out of the man, defileth the man.

21 * For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceed euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, couetousnesse, wickednesse, deceit, wantonnesse, a wicked eye, blasphemie, pride, foolishnesse:

23 * All these euill things come from within, and defile the man.

24 And from thence hee arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue known, but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman, whose yong daughter had an vncleane spirit, when she had heard of him, came and fell at his feet.

26 (The woman was a Greeke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa): & she besought him that he would cast out the deuill from her daughter.

27 But Iesus sayd vnto her, Let the childrens bread, be fed: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the little dogges.

28 She answered, and sayd vnto him, Yes lord, for the little dogges also eat vnder the table of the childrens crummes.

29 And he sayd vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when shee was come home to her house, shee found that the deuill was departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 And when hee was departed againe from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the sea of Galilee, thro' the mids of the coastes of Decapolis.

32 And they bring vnto him one that was deafe, and had an impediment in his speech: and they pray him to put his hands vpon him.

33 And when hee had taken him aside from the people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had spet, touched his tongue.

34 And when hee had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and said vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and hee spake plaine.

36 And he commanded them that they should tell no man: but the more he commanded them, so much the more a great deale they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he hath made both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

The viij. Chapter.

6 The miracle of the seuen loaves. 34 Howe wee should follow Christ.

In those daies, * the company being very great, and hauing nothing to eat, when Iesus had called his disciples vnto him, he sayth vnto them,

1 I haue compassion on the people, because they haue now bene with mee three daies, and haue nothing to eat:

2 And if I send them a way fasting to their owne houses, they shall faint by the way: for diuers of them come from farre.

3 And his Disciples answered him, From whence can a man satiffie these men with bread here in the wilderness?

4 And hee asked them, How many loaves haue ye? They sayd, Seven.

5 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaves, and when he had giuen thanks, he brake, & gaue to his disciples to set before them: and they did set them before the people.

6 And they had a few small fishes: and when he had blessed, he commanded to set them also before them.

7 So they did eat, and were sufficed: and they tooke by of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets full.

8 And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand: And he sent them away.

9 * And anon, when hee had entred into a ship with his disciples, he came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

10 * And the Pharisees came foorth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, tempting him.

11 * And when he had sighed deeply in his spirit, he sayth, Why doth this generation seeke a signe? Merely I say vnto you, There shall no signe be giuen vnto this generation.

12 * And when he had left them, and entred into the ship againe, he departed ouer the water.

13 * And they had forgotten to take bread with them, neither had they in the shippe with them more then one loafe.

22 And hee commeth to Bethsaida, and they bring a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touch him:

23 And when he had caught the blinde by the hand, he led him out of the towne: and when he had spit in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked by, and said, I see men: for I perceiue them walke as they were trees.

25 After that, he put his handes againe vpon his eyes, and made him see: and he was restozed, and saw euery man clearly.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man.

31 And hee beganne to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reppoued of the Elders, and of the high Priestes and Scribes, and be killed, and after three daies rise againe.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

The ix. Chapter.

2 The transfiguration of Christ. 49 Of seasoning with salt.

And he said vnto them, * verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power.

Matt. 16. 21. luke 9. 27.

2 And after sixe dayes, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and Iohn, and leadeth them by into an high mountaine out of the way alone: and he was transfigured before them.

3 * And his raiment did shine, and became very white, euen as snow: so as no fuller vpon the earth can white them.

Matt. 17. 1. luke 9. 28.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered, and saide to Jesus, Master, here is good being for vs: and let vs make thre Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what hee should say: for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them: and a voyce came out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne: heare him.

8 And suddenly when they had looked round about, they saw no man, moze then Jesus onely with themselves.

9 * And as they came downe from the hill, hee charged them that they should tell no man those things that they had seene, till the Sonne of man were risen from the dead.

Matt. 17. 9.

10 And they kept that saying with them, and demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead should meane.

11 And they asked him, saying, why then say the Scribes, that * Elias must first come?

Mala. 4. 5.

12 He answered, and said vnto them, Elias verely when he cometh first, restozeth all things: and the Sonne of man, * as it is written of him, shall suffer many things, and be set at nought.

Esa. 53. 4.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would, as it is written of him.

14 * And when hee came to his disciples, hee saw much people about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

Matt. 17. 16. luke 9. 38.

15 And straightway all the people, when they behelde him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the Scribes, what disput ye among your selues?

|| Some reade, what they say among themselves.

17 And one of the company answered, and said, Master, I haue brought vnto thee my son, which hath a dunbe spirit:

18 And wheresoeuer hee taketh him, hee teareth him, and he someth, and gnatheth with his teeth, and pineth a way: and I spake to thy disciples that they should call him out, and they could not.

19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithlesse nation, how long shall I be with you, how long shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when |

when hee saw him, straightway the spirit tare him, and when he fell downe on the ground, he wallowed, foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he sayd, Of a childe.

22 And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs.

23 Iesus sayd vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleue, all things are possible to him that beleueth.

24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cried with teares, he sayd, Lord, I beleue, helpe thou mine vnbeliefe.

25 When Iesus sawe that the people came running together, hee rebuked the foule spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, & enter no more in: o him.

26 And the spirit when he had cried, and rent him sore, came out of him, and hee was as one that had bene dead, insomuch that many sayd, He is dead.

27 But Iesus, when hee had caught him by the hand, lifted him by: and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he sayd vnto them, This kinde || can come forth by nothing, but by prayer & fasting.

30 * And after they departed thence, they tooke their iourney throo w Galilee, & he would not that any man should know it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto them, The sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they vnderstood not that saying, and were afraid to aske him.

33 * And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked the, what was it that pee disputed among your selues by tye way?

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they had reasoned among themselves, who should be the chiefest.

35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and sayth vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And when he had taken a yong childe, he set him in the middelt of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he sayd vnto them,

37 whosoever shall receiue any such a yong childe in my Name, receiue me: and whosoever shall receiue me, receiue me, but him that sent me.

38 * John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy Name, and he followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

39 But Iesus sayd, * Forbid him not, for there is no man, which if he do a miracle in my name, can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For hee that is not against vs, is on our part.

41 * whosoever shall in my Name giue you a cuppe of colde water to drinke, because ye be long to Christ: wterely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 * And whosoever shall offend one of these litle ones that beleue in me, it is better for him if a millstone were hanged about his necke, and he were cast into the sea.

43 * And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, then hauing two hands, to go into hell, into fire that neuer shall be quenched:

44 * Where their woyme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, then hauing thy two feet, to be cast into hell, into fire that neuer shall be quenched:

46 Where their woyme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their woyme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every man shall be salted with fire, and * euery sacrafice shall be seasoned with salt.

50 * Salt is good: but if the salt be infaucery, with what thing shall you season it? Haue ye salt in your selues, and haue peace among your selues one with another.

The x. Chapter.

2 Of diuorcement. 7 A rich man questioned how he should inherite eternall life.

Ad * when he rose from thence, he cometh into the coasts of Iurie, throo to the region that is beyond Iordan: and the people resort vnto him a fresh, & as he was woont, he taught them againe.

2 And the Pharisees came, and asked him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And hee answered, and sayd vnto them, what did Moses command you to do?

4 And they sayd, * Moses suffered to write a booke of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, for the hardnesse of your heart, hee wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But from the beginning of the creation, * God made them male and female,

7 * And sayd, for this cause shall a man leaue his father and inother, and bide by his wife,

8 And they twaine shall be one flesh: so then are they no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 * Therefore what God hath coupled together, let no man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of the same matter.

11 And he sayth vnto them, * whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 * And they brought yong children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus saw it, he was sore displeas'd, and sayd vnto them, Suffer the yong children to come vnto me, and forbid them not:

for to such belongeth the kingdome of God.

15 Verily I say vnto you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdome of God as a spong child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

16 And when hee had taken them bp in his armes, putting his hands vpon them, he blessed them.

17 And when hee was gone soorth into the way, * there came one running, and knecled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternall life?

18 Iesus sayd vnto him, why callest thou me good? There is no man good, but one, which is God.

19 Thou knowest the commandements, Do not commit adulterie, * Doe not kill, Bee not keate, Do not beare false witness, Defraidd no man, Honour thy father and mother.

20 He answered, and sayd vnto him, Master, all these haue I obserued from my youth.

21 Iesus beheld him, and loued him, and sayd vnto him, One thing thou lackest: So thy way, sell whatsoeuer thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come follow me, when thou hast taken vp the crosse.

22 But hee was discomforted because of that saying, and went away mourning: for hee had great possessions.

23 And when Iesus had looked round about, he sayth vnto his Disciples, How hardly shall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

24 And the Disciples were astonied at his words. But Iesus answereth againe, and sayth vnto them, Childzen, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God?

25 It is easier for a camel to goe thro'w the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were astonied out of measure, saying among themselves, who then can be saued?

27 Iesus, when hee had looked vpon them, sayth, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 And Peter beganne to say vnto him, Loe, * we haue forsaken all, and haue follo wed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and sayd, Verily I say vnto you, There is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receiue an hundred fold now at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions, and in the world to come eternall life.

31 * But many that are first, shall be last: and the last, first.

32 * And they were in the way going by to Hierusalem: and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they follo wed, were afraid: and when he had againe taken with him the twelve, he began to tell them what things should happen vnto him, 33 Saying, Beholde, we go by to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the high Iudges, and vnto the Scribes: and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they that moche him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: and the third day he shall arise.

35 * And James and John the sonnes of Zebedee come vnto him, saying, Master, we will that thou shouldest doe for vs whatsoeuer wee shall desire.

36 He sayd vnto them, What will yee that I should do for you?

37 They sayd vnto him, Grant vnto vs that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 But Iesus sayd vnto them, Ye wote not what ye aske: Can ye drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of? and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with?

39 And they sayd vnto him, That we can, Iesus sayd vnto them, Ye shall indeed drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of: and with the baptisme that I am baptized with shall ye be baptized:

40 But to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to giue, but it shall be giuen vnto them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the other ten heard it, they began to disdain at James and John.

42 But Iesus, when hee had called them to him, saith vnto them, * Ye know that they which seeme to beare rule among the Gentiles, reigne as lordes ouer them: and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie vpon them.

43 But so shal it not be among you: but whosoever of you will be great among you, shall be your minister:

44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be seruant of all.

45 For the sonne of man also came not to be ministered vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a ransome for many.

46 * And they came to Jericho: and as hee went out of the city of Jericho with his Disciples, and a great number of people, blinde Bartimeus, the sonne of Timeus, sate by the high wayes side, begging.

47 And when hee heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and say, Iesus thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, that hee should holde his peace: But hee cried the more a great deale, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

49 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, hee calleth thee.

50 And when he had thro'wen away his cloke, he rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, what wilt thou that I do vnto thee? The blind sayd vnto him, Master, that I might see.

52 Iesus sayd vnto him, Goe thy way, thy faith hath saued thee. And immediatly he receiued his sight, and follo wed Iesus in the way.

as ye be entred into it, ye shall finde a colt tied, whercon neuer man sate, looke him, and bring him hither.

3 And if any man say vnto you, why doe ye so? Say ye that the Lord hath need of him: and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the dooze without, in a place where two wayes met: and they looke him.

5 And diuers of them that stood there, sayd vnto them, what do ye loosing the colt?

6 And they sayd vnto them euen as Iesus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 * And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, & he sate vpon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: & other cut downe branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the kingdome that commeth in the Name of him that is Lord of our father Dauid, Hosanna in the highest.

11 * And Iesus entred into Hierusalem, and into the Temple, and when he had looked round about vpon all things, and now the euentide was come, hee went out vnto Bethanie with the twelue.

12 And on the morow, when they were come from Bethanie, hee hungered.

13 * And when he had spied a figge tree afar off, hauing leaues, he came to see if he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, hee found nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

14 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto the figge tree, Neuer man eat fruit of thee hereafter while the world standeth. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Hierusalem, and when Iesus went into the Temple, he beganne to cast out them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that solde boues, 16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any stuffe thoroze the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, * As it is not written, My house shall be called the house of prayer vnto all nations: * but ye haue made it a denne of theeuers.

18 And the Scribes and high Priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was ascribed at his doctrine.

19 And when euen was come, Iesus went out of the cite.

20 * And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the figge tree dried vp from the roots.

21 And Peter hauing remembered, sayth vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered away.

22 And Iesus answering, sayth vnto them, Haue faith in God.

23 For verily I say vnto you, that whosoever shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remooued, and be thou cast into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall beleue that those things which he sayth shall come to passe: whatsoeuer he shall say, shall be vnto him.

24 Therefore I say vnto you, * what things soeuer ye desire when ye pray, beleue that ye receive them, and ye shall haue them.

25 And when ye stand praying, * forgive, if ye haue ought against any man: that your father also which is in heauen, may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your father which is in heauen forgive you your trespasses.

27 And they come againe to Hierusalem: and * as hee walked in the Temple, there come to him the high Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders, 28 And say vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things: and who gaue thee this authoritie to do these things?

29 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, I will also aske of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

30 The baptisme of John, whether was it from heauen, or of men? Answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, from heauen, he will say, why then did ye not beleue him?

32 But if we shall say, of men, * we feare the people: for all men counted John that he was a very Prophet.

33 And they answering, say vnto Iesus, we cannot tell. And Iesus answering, sayth vnto them, Neither do I tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The vineyard is let out to husbandinen. 41 The poore widowes farthing.

And he began to speake vnto them by parables. A certaine man planted a vineyard, and he set an hedge about it, and digged a wine presse, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandinen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And when the time was come, he sent to the husbandinen a seruant that hee might receive of the husbandinen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away emptye.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant: and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away all to cruiled.

5 And againe he sent another, and him they killed: and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 And so when hee had yet but one beloued sonne, he sent him also at the last vnto them, saying, They will stand in awe of my sonne.

7 But the husbandinen said amongst themselves, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the Lord of the vineyard do? He shall come and destroy the husbandinen, and will giue the vineyard vnto other.

10 Haue ye not read this Scripture? * The stone which the builders disallowed, is become the chiefe stone of the corner?

11 This was the Lords doing, and it is maruellous in our eyes.

12 They went about also to take him, and feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 * And they sent vnto him certaine of the pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shall we giue, or shall we not giue? But hee knowing their hypocrisie, sayd vnto them, why tempt yee mee? Bring mee a penic, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and hee sayeth vnto them, whose is this image and superscription? And they sayd vnto him, Cessars.

17 And Iesus answering, sayd vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that belong to Cesar: and to God, the things which pertaine to God. And they marvelled at him.

18 * There come also vnto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection, & they asked him, saying,

19 Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife behinde him, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no seed behinde him.

21 And the seconde tooke her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third like wise.

22 And seuen had her, and left no seed behinde them: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 And Iesus answering, sayd vnto them, Doe ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are giuen in marriage: but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 As touching the dead, that they rise: haue yee not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, * I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore do greatly erre.

28 * And when there came one of the scribes, and had heard them disputing together, and perceived that he had answered them well, he asked him which is the first commandment of all.

29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, * Heare, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandment:

31 And the second is like vnto this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe: there is none other cominadement greater then these.

32 And the Scribe sayd vnto him, well, master, thou hast sayd the truth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue a mans neighbour as himselfe, is greater then all the burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Iesus saw that hee answered discreetly, he sayd vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 * And Iesus answering, sayd, teaching in the Temple, how say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

36 For Dauid himselfe inspired with the holy Ghost, sayd, * The Lord sayd to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 Dauid himselfe calleth him Lorde, and whence is he then his sonne? And much people heard him gladly.

38 And hee sayd vnto them in his doctrine, * Beware of the Scribes, which desire to walke in long clothing, and loue salutations in the market places, 39 And the chiefe seats in the Synagogues, and the vppermost roundes at feasts.

40 * which desire widowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers: These shall receiue greater damnation.

41 * And when Iesus sat ouer against the treasure, he beheld how the people put money into the treasure: and many that were rich, call in much.

42 And there came a certaine poore widow, and shee threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And when he had called vnto him his disciples, he sayeth vnto them, aserily I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasure.

44 For all they did cast in of their superfluitie: but shee of her want, did cast in all that shee had, euen all her liuing.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 The destruction of the Temple. 24 Signes before Christes comming. 31 Gods word shall not passe away.

As he went out of the temple, one of his disciples sayd vnto him, Master, see what stones and what buildings are here.

2 And Iesus answering, sayd vnto him, Seeest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwen downe.

3 And as he sat vpon the mount of Oliues, ouer against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him secretly.

4 Tell vs, when shall these things be? And what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Iesus answering them, began to say, * Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceiue many.

7 when ye shall heare of warres, & tidings of warres, be yee not troubled: for such things must needs be, but the end shall not be yet.

8 For there shall nation rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in diuers places, and famings shall shall there be, and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take heed to your selues: for they shall deliuer you by to counceils, and to synagogues, and ye shall be whipped, yea, and shall be brought before rulers & kings for my sake, that this might be for a witnesse against them.

10 * And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 * But when they shall leade you, deliue- ring you by, be not carefull afozehand, neither take thought what ye shall speake: but whatsoever shall be giuen you in the same houre, that speake ye: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 The brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne: and children shall rise against their fathers and mothers, and shall put them to death.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my names sake: but hee that shall endure vnto the end, the same shall be saue.

14 * Moreover, when ye see the abomination of desolation, whereof is spoken by Daniel the Prophet, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth, vnderstand) then let them that be in Iurie, flee to the mountaines:

15 And let him that is on the house top, not go downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turne backe againe for to take his garment with him.

17 Woe shall be then to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter:

19 For there shall be in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, vnto this time, neither shall be in any wise.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for the elects sake whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 * And then, if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or loe, he is there: beleeue him not.

22 For false Christs, and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signes and woonders, to deceiue, if it were possible, euen the elect.

23 But take ye heed: behoide, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 * Moreover, in those dayes, after that tribulation, the Sunne shall be darkened, and the Moone shall not giue her light:

25 And the Starres of heauen shall fall, and the powers which are in heauen shall be shaken.

26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man comming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure winds, from the end of the earth, to the vttermoost part of heauen.

28 Learne a parable of the figge tree. when her branch is yet tender, and hath brought forth leaues, ye know that Summer is nere:

29 So ye in like maner, when ye shall see these things come to passe, vnderstand that it is nigh, euen at the doores.

30 Verily I say vnto you, that this generatio shall in no wise passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my words shall in no wise passe away.

32 But of that day and that houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels which are in heauen, neither the Sonne himselfe, saue the father onely.

33 * Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 || As a man which is gone into a strange countrey, and hath left his house, and giuen authority to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commanded the porter to watch:

35 Watch ye therefore (for ye know not when the master of the house commeth, at euen, or at midnight, whether at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning)

36 Lest if he come suddenly, he finde you sleeping.

37 And that I say vnto you, I say vnto all, watch.

1 The high Priests conspire against Christ. 12 The Pasche is prepared and eaten.

fter * two dayes was the feast of the Pasche, and of vnicauened bread: and the high priests, and the Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest any businesse arise among the people.

3 * And when hee was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, euen as hee sate at meat, there came a woman, hauing an Alaba- ster boxe of very prectous ointment, called Spard pilsicke: and when she had broken the boxe, shee powred it on his head.

4 And there was some that had indignati- on within themselves, and sayd, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might haue bene sold for more then three hundred pence, and haue bene giuen to the poore. And they grudged against her.

6 And Iesus sayd, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? She hath done a good worke on me. 7 For ye haue poore with you alwayes, and whensoever ye will, ye may do them good: but me haue ye not alwayes.

8 Shee hath done that she could: she came afozehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say vnto you, wheresoever this Gospel shall be preached thorowout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be rehear- sed in remembrance of her.

10 * And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away vnto the high Priests, to betray him vnto them.

11 When they heard that, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money. And hee sought how hee might conueniently betray him.

12 * And the first day of vnicauened bread, when they did kill the Pasche, his disciples sayd vnto him, where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the Pasche?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and sayth vnto them, Go ye into the citie, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

15 And he will shew you a large upper chamber, paved and prepared: there make a table for vs.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the citie, and found as he had sayd vnto them: and they made ready the Pascheover.

17 And when it was now euen tide, he cometh with the twelue.

18 * And as they sate at boord, and did eat, Iesus sayd, Verily I say vnto you, one of you that eateth with me, shall betray me.

19 And they began to be fozp, and to say vnto him, one by one, Is it I? And another sayd, Is it I?

20 He answered, and sayd vnto them, It is one of the twelue, euen he that dippeth with me in the platter.

21 The Sonne of man truly goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: Good were it for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.

22 * And as they did eat, Iesus, when he had taken bread, and blessed, he brake it, and gaue to them, and sayd, Take, eat: this is my body.

23 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thanks, he gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he sayd vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no moze of the fruit of the vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had praised God, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

27 * And Iesus sayth vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: * for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, & the sheepe shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into Galilee before you.

29 Peter sayd vnto him, Although all men shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Iesus sayth vnto him, verily I say vnto thee, that this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt denie mee threc times.

31 But he spake moze vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not denie thee in any wise. Likewise also sayd they all.

32 * And they came into a place which was named Bethlemiani, and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, & James, and John, and began to be foze amazed, and to be in an agony, 34 And sayth vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauy, euen vnto the death: tary ye heere, and watch.

35 And when he had gone forward a litle, he fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, the houre might passe from him.

36 And he sayd, Abba, father, all things are possible vnto thee, take away this cup from me: neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 And hee cometh and findeth them sleeping, and sayeth vnto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? Couldst not thou watch one houre?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And againe he went aside, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep againe (for their eyes were heavy) neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your ease: it is enough, the houre is come, behold, the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp, let vs goe: Lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 * And immediatly, while he yet spake, cometh Iudas, being one of the twelue, and with him a great number of people with swords and staves, from the high priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a generall token, saying, Whosoever I shall kisse, that same is he: take him, and leade him away warily.

45 And as soone as hee was come, he goeth straightway to him, and sayeth vnto him, Master: and kised him.

46 And they layed their hands on him, and tooke him.

47 And one of them that stood by, when hee had drawen out his sword, smote a seruant of the high priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Doe be come out as vnto a thiefe, with swords and with staves for to take me.

49 I was dayly with you in the Temple, teaching, and ye tooke me not: but these things come to passe that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 And they all forsooke him, and ran away.

51 And there followed him a certaine yong man, clothed in linnen vpon the bare: and the yong men caught him.

52 And hee left his linnen garment, and fled from them naked.

53 * And they ledde Iesus away to the high priest, and with him came all the high priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a great way off, euen till he was come into the palace of the high priest: and he sate with the seruants, and warmed himselfe at the fire.

55 * And the high priests and all the councel sought for witness against Iesus, to put him to death, and found none:

56 For many haue false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certaine, and brought false witness against him, saying, 58 Wee heard him say, I will destroy this Temple that is made with handes, and within thre dayes I will build another made without handes.

59 But yet their witness agreed not so together.

60 And the high priest stood vp in the mids, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? How is it that these beare witness against thee?

61 But hee held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe, the high priest asked him, and sayd vnto him, Art thou Christ the sonne of the blessed?

John

62 * And Iesus sayd, I am: and yee shall see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and comming in the clouds of heauen.

63 Then the high Priest, hauing rent his clothes, sayth, what need we any further witnessnes?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some began to spet at him, and to couer his face, and to beat him with fists, and to say vnto him, Prophecie: And the seruants did beat him with rods.

66 * And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there commeth one of the wenches of the high Priest.

67 And when shee saw Peter warming himselfe, after shee had looked vpon him, shee sayth, And thou also wast with Iesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know him not, neither wote I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 And a damosell, when she saw him, began againe to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it againe. And anon after, they that stood by sayd againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galilee, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to sweare, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speake.

72 * And the second time the cocke crew: and Peter remembered the word that Iesus sayd vnto him, Before the cocke crew twice, thou shalt deny me thre times: And he began to weepe.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Iesus is deliuered bound to Pilate. 43 Ioseph beggeth Christes body, and burieth it.

AND anon in the dawning, when the high Priests had held a counsell with the Elders & the Scribes, and the whole congregation, and had bound Iesus, they caried him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Iewes? And hee answering, sayd vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high Priests accused him of many things, but he answered nothing.

4 * So Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing: behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 Iesus yet answered nothing at all, so that Pilate marvelled.

6 At that least Pilate did deliuer vnto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.

7 And there was one that was named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that made insurrection with him, which men had committed murder also in the insurrection.

8 And the people crying aloud, began to desire that hee would doe according as hee had euer done vnto them.

9 Pilate answered them, saying, will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?

10 (for he knew that the high Priests had deliuered him for enuy.)

11 But the high Priests moued the people, that hee should rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 Pilate answering againe, said vnto them, what will ye then that I shall do vnto him whom ye call the king of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Pilate sayd vnto them, what euill hath he done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, let loose Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered by Iesus, when he had scourged him, for to be crucified.

16 And the souldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head, 18 And beganne to salute him, saying, Haile king of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spet vpon him, and bowing their knees, worshipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke off the purple from him, & put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they compell one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (comming out of the field, the father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 * And they bring him to a place named Golgotha, which is, if a man interpret it, a place of a skull.

23 And they gaue him to drinke, wine mingled with myrthe: but he receiued it not.

24 * And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots vpon them, what euery man should take.

25 And it was the third houre, and they crucified him.

26 And the title of his accusation was written ouer, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 And they crucified with him two thieves, the one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

28 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which sayth, * He was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * Ah wretch, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in thre dayes.

30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Like wise also the high Priests mocking him among themselves, with the Scribes, said, He saued other men, himselfe he cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel descend now from the crosse, that we may see, and beleue: And they that were crucified with him, checked him also.

33 And when the sixth houre was come, darkenede arose ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the ninth houre, Iesus cried with a loud voice, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani: which is, if one interpret it, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard that, sayd, Behold, he calleth for Elias.

The Gospel by S. Luke.

The first Chapter.

1 The preface of Luke. 5 Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40 Marie visiteth Elizabeth.

As much as many haue taken in hand to set forth in order the declaratiō of those things which are most surely beleued among vs.

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe them themselves with their eyes, and were ministers of the word:

3 It seemed good to me also, hauing perfect vnderstanding of al things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus.

4 That thou mightest knowe the certaintie of those things wherof thou hast bene taught by mouth.

5 There was in the dayes of Herode the king of Iury, a certaine Priest, named Zacharias, * of the course of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 They were both righteous before God, walking in all the commaundements and ordinaunces of the Lord, blamelesse.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharias executed the Priestis office befoze God as his course came,

9 According to the custome of the Priestis of fice, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 * And the whole multitude of the people were without in praye, while the incense was burning.

11 And there appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of the incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, hee was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel sayd vnto him, feare not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shall reioice at his birth:

15 And hee shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine nor strong drinke, and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 * for many of the children of Israel shall he turne to the Lord.

17 And he shall goe befoze him with the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the iust men, to make readie a perfect people for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the Angel, What token shall I knowe this? for I am old, and my wife well stricken in yeres.

19 And the Angel answering, sayd vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntil the day that these things shall be perfozmed, because thou beleuest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he taried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: and they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the temple: for hee beckened vnto them, and remained speechlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that as soone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid her selfe fixe moneths, sayng, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the dayes wheremin he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth.

27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Joseph of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And when the Angel was come in vnto her, he sayd, Hail thou that art in high fauour, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what maner of salutation this should be.

30 And the Angel sayd vnto her, feare not Marie, for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 * for beholde, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Iesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall bee called the sonne of the Highest, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid.

33 * And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome there shall be no end.

34 Then sayd Marie vnto the Angel, Howe shall this be, seeing I knowe not a man?

35 And the Angel answering, said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the Highest shall ouerthadowe thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shall be borne, shall be called the sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a sonne in her old age, and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 for with God shall no word be impossible.

40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loude voice, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

48 For he hath looked on the lowliness of his handmaiden: for loe, now from henceforth shall all generations call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.

56 And Marie abode with her about thre moneths, & afterward returned to her own house.

57 Elizabeths time came that she should bee deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard howe the Lord had shewed great mercie vpon her, and they reioiced with her.

59 And it came to passe, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answering, sayd, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none in thy kinred that is called by that name.

62 And they made signes to his father, what he would haue him called.

63 And when he had asked for writing tables, he wrote, saying, His name is John: and they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, and hee spake, praising God.

65 And feare came on all them that dwelt round about them, and all these sayings were noised abroad thowout all the hill countrey of Iurie.

66 And all they that had heard them, sayde them by in their hearts, saying, What maner of childe shall this bee? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 * Praised be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 * And hath raised by an<sup>d</sup> horne of saluati- on vnto vs, in the house of his seruant Dauid:

72 That he would deale mercifully with our fathers, and remember his holy covenant.

73 * And that hee would performe the othe which he<sup>e</sup> sware to our father Abraham, for to giue vs.

74 That we being deliuered out of the hands of our enemies, might serue him without feare.

75 * In holinnesse and righteounnesse before him, all the dayes of our life.

The ij. Chapter.

The taxing of the world by Augustus Cesar.

3 And all went to be taxed, euery man into his owne citie.

8 There were in the same countrey shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch ouer their flocke by night.

9 And loe the Angel of the Lord stood hard by them, and the glorie of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 And the Angel sayde vnto them, Bee not afraid: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great ioy, that shall be to all people.

12 And take this for a signe, Ye shall finde the childe swaddled, laid in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of heavenly souldiers, praising God, and saying, 14 Glorise to God in the highest, and peace on the earth, and among men a good will.

15 And it came to passe, as soone as the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, the men the shepherds sayd one to another, Let vs goe nowe euen vnto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 And they came with haste, and found Marie and Ioseph, and the babe layd in a manger.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroad the saying which was tolde them of this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, woondered at those things which were tolde them of the shepherds.

19 But Marie kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seene, euen as it was tolde vnto them.

21 * And when the eight day was come, that the childe should be circumcised, his name was called Iesus, which was so named of the Angel befoze he was conceived in the wombe.

22 And when the dayes of her purification, after the lawe of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 (As it is written in the lawe of the Lord, * Every man childe that first openeth the wombe, shall be called holy to the Lord.)

24 And to offer, * as it is sayd in the lawe of the Lord, a paire of turtle doves, or two yong pigeons.

25 And beholde, there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simcon, and the same man was iust and godly, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, not to see death, befoze he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by inspiration into the temple: and when the parents brought in the childe Iesus, to doe for him after the custome of the lawe,

28 Then tooke he him by in his armes, and praised God, and sayd, 29 Lord, now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy promise.

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluation,

31 which thou hast prepared befoze the face of all people.

32 A light to be reuealed to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And his father and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said vnto Marie his mother, Behold, this childe is set to be the fall and <sup>d</sup> vprising againe of many in Israel: and for a signe which is spoken against,

35 (And moreover, the sword shall pierce thy soule) that the thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetesse one Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had liued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginite.

37 And shee had bene a widow about foure score and foure yeeres, which departed not from the temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And the comming at the same instant vpon them, gaue thankes like wise vnto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the lawe of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their owne citie Nazareth.

40 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was vpon him.

41 Now his parents went to Hierusalem euerie yere, * at the feast of the Pascheouer.

42 And when he was twelue yeeres old, they ascended by to Hierusalem, after the custome of the feast day:

43 And when they had fulfilled the dayes, as they returned home, the childe Iesus abode still in Hierusalem, and Ioseph & his mother knewe not of it.

44 But they supposing him to haue bene in the company, came a dayes iourney, and sought him among their kinfolke and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe againe to Hierusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to passe, that after thre dayes they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the Doctors, hearing them, and posing them.

47 And all that heard him, were astonished at his vnderstanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? Behold, thy father and I haue sought thee forsoewing.

49 And he sayd vnto them, How is it that yee sought me? wist yee not that I must goe about my fathers businesse?

50 And they vnderstood not that saying which he spake vnto them.

51 And hee went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was obedient vnto them: But his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

Jordane, preaching the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of finnes.

Esai. 40. 3.

4 As it is written in the booke of the words of Esaias the Prophet, saying, * The voyce of a cryer in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight.

b All impediments shall be taken away that may hinder us from our salvation
c Christ, is that Christe way to us, and our way to him shall be plaine and marked.
Math. 3. 7.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountaine and hill shall be brought lowe, and things that be crooked, shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made plaine.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then saide he to the people that were come forth to be baptised of him, * O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore due fruits of repentance, and begin not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

c The vengeance of God is at hand,

9 Now also is the tree layed vnto the roote of the trees: Every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, what shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith vnto them, * Hee that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none, and he that hath meate, let him do like wise.

12 Then came Publicanes also to bee baptised, and saide vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And hee said vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 And the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, whether hee were very Christ.

Matt. 3. 11. mark. 1. 8. Iohu 1. 26.

16 Iohn answered, saying vnto them all, * In dedde I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I cometh, whose shoes I latchet I am not worthy to vnloose, he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

21 Nowe it came to passe, as all the people were baptised, and when Iesus was baptised, and did pray, that the heauen was opened:

22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a Dove vpon him, and a voice came from heauen, which said, Thou art my beloved Sonne, in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Iesus himselfe beganne to be about thirtie yeeres of age, being (as he was supposed) the son of Ioseph, which was the sonne of Iesse,

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ. 41 The devils confesse Christ, and are of him reprod.

Jesus * being full of the holy Ghost, returned from Jordan, and was ledde by the same Spirit into wilderness.

2 Being fourtie dayes tempted of the deuill, and in those dayes did he eat nothing: and when they were ended, he after ward hungred.

3 And the deuill saide vnto him, If thou see the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Iesus answered him, saying, * It is written, that man shall not liue by bread onely, but by every word of God.

5 And when the deuill had taken him vp into an high mountaine, hee shewed him all the kingdomes of the worlde in a moment of time.

6 And the deuill said vnto him, Al that thou wilst I will I giue thee every whit, and the glory of them, for that is deliuered vnto mee, and to whomsoever I wil, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, it shall be all thine.

8 Iesus answering, said vnto him, Get thee hence behinde mee, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

9 And hee caried him to Iherusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and sayd vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, call thy selfe downe from hence.

10 For it is written, that hee shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee, to keepe thee.

11 And in their handes they shall beare thee vp, that thou dash not thy foote at any time against a stone.

12 And Iesus answering, sayde vnto him, It is saide, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuill had ended al the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 And Iesus returned by the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their Synagogues, being glorified of all men.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he was nurtd, and as his custome was, hee went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood by for to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when he had opened the booke, he founde the place where it is written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord vpon me, because he hath anointed me, to preach the Gospel to the poore: he hath sent me, to heale the broken hearted, to preach deliuerance to the captiue, and recovery of sight to the blinde, freely to set at libertie them that are bruised.

19 And to preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And when he had closed the booke, and giuen it againe to the minister, he sate downe: and the eyes of al them that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious wordes, which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Iosephs Sonne?

23 And he saide vnto them, Ye will bitterly say vnto me this prouerbe, Why thusion, heale thy selfe: whatsoeuer wee haue heard done in Capernaum, doe the same here likewise in thine owne country.

24 And hee saide, were I say vnto you, no Prophet is accepted in his owne country.

25 But I tell you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when the heauen was shut three yeeres and sixe moneths, when great famishment was throughout all the land:

26 And vnto none of them was Elias sent, save vnto Sarepta a citie of Sidon, vnto a woman that was a widow.

27 And many Iepers were in Israel in the time of Elizeus the Prophet: and none of them was cleansed, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the Synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the city, and led him euen vnto the top of the hill (whereon their city was built) that they might cast him downe headlong.

30 But hee passing thorow the mids of them, went his way:

31 And came downe to Capernaum, a citie of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his preaching was with power.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of a fowle deuill, and cried out with a lowd voyce, 34 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue wee to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth: art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the holy One of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the deuill had throwen him in the mids, hee came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, what maner of saying is this? for with authoritie and power he commaundeth the fowle spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into euery place of the countrey round about.

38 And when hee was risen out of the Synagogue, hee entred into Simons house: and Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for her.

39 And he stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her. And immediatly shee arose, and ministered vnto them.

40 When the Sunne was downe, all they that had any sicke with diuers diseases, brought them vnto him: and when he had layd his handes on euery one of them, hee healed them.

41 And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art that Christ the Sonne of God. And hee rebuking them, suffered them not to speake: for they knew that hee was Christ.

42 And when it was day, hee departed, and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that hee should not depart from them.

43 And he said vnto them, I must preach the kingdome of God to other cities also: for therfore am I sent.

44 And hee was preaching in the Synagogues of Galilee.

H* came to passe, that when the people pressed vpon him, to heare the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Genezareth.

2 And hee sawe two shippes stand by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And when hee was entred into one of the shippes which pertained to Simon, he prayed him that hee would thrust out a little from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the shippe.

4 When he had left speaking, hee saide vnto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let slippe your nets to catch.

5 And Simon answering, saide vnto him, Master, wee haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheless, at thy commandement I will loose forth the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their net brake:

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other shippe, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the shippes that they sunke againe.

8 When Simon Peter sawe this, hee fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Go out from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.

9 For hee was vterly astonied, and all that were with him, at the taking of the fishes, which they had caught together.

10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Iesus saide vnto Simon, feare not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought by their boates to the shoare, they forsooke all, and followed him.

12 * And it came to passe, that when hee was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie: and when hee had spied Iesus, hee fell flat on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make mee cleane.

13 And when hee had stretched forth his hand, hee touched him, saying, I will: bee thou cleane. And immediatly, the leprosie departed from him.

14 And hee charged him to tell no man: but, Goe saith he, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moyses commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and much people came together to heare, and to be healed of him from their infirmitie.

16 And hee kept himselfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day, as hee was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and doctours of the Law sitting by, which were come out of all the townes of Galilee, and Iurie, and Iherusalem: and the power of the Lord was present, to heale them.

18 * And beholde, men brought in a bedde a man which was taken with a palse: and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde on what side they might bring him in, because of the palse, they went vpon the top of the house, and let him downe through the tiling with his couch, euen into the middell before Iesus.

20 When he sawe their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to thinke, saying, what fellow is this which speaketh blasphemies: who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

22 But when Iesus perceiued their thoughts, he answering, said vnto them, what thinke pee in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Rise vp and walke?

24 But that pee may know that the sonne of man hath power to forgive sinnes on earth (he said vnto the sicke of the palse,) I say vnto thee, Arise, and when thou hast taken by thy couch, goe into thine house.

25 And immediatly hee rose vp before them, and when hee had taken by his couch, wheron he lay, he departed to his owne house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they gaue the glorie vnto God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse wee haue seene strange things to day.

27 * An after these things he went forth, and sawe a Publicane, named Leui, sitting at the receite of custome: and hee sayd vnto him, follow me.

28 And when hee had left all, he rose vp, and followed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that late at meate with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, why doe ye eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners?

31 And Iesus answering, sayde vnto them, They that are whole neede not a phisition: but they that are sicke.

32 * I came not to call the righteous: but sinners to repentance.

33 And they said vnto him, why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees: but thine eate and drinke.

34 * Hee sayd vnto them, Can pee make the children of the wedding chamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come: and when the Bridegrome shall be taken away from them, then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 Hee spake also vnto them a similitude, No man putteth a piec. of new garment into an old besture: for then the new renteth the old, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man poureth new wine into olde vessels: for if he doe, the new wine will burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new vessels, and both are preferred.

39 No man also hauing drunke olde wine, will straightway haue new: for he saith, The olde is better.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The disciples plucked the eares of corne on the Sabbath. 47 With what fruite the word of God is to be heard.

AND it came to passe on the second Sabbath after the first, that he went thozome the cornfeldes: and his disciples plucked the eares of corne and did eate, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said vnto the, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabbath dayes?

3 And Iesus and answering them, said, * Haue yee not read so much as this that Dauid did, when he himselfe was an hungred, and they which were with him:

4 How hee went into the house of God, and did take and eate the shew bread, and gaue also to them that were with him, which is not lawfull to eate * but for the Priests onely?

5 And he said vnto them, That the Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 And it came to passe also in another Sabbath, that hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether hee would heale on the Sabbath day: that they might finde how to accuse him.

8 But he knewe their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise vp, and stand forth in the middes. And he arose, and stood forth.

9 Then saide Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euil? to saue ones life, or to destroy it?

10 And when he had beheld them all in compasse, he saide vnto the man, stretch forth thy hand. And hee did so: and his hand was restored againe as whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madnesse, and communed together among themselves what they might do to Iesus.

12 And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went out into a mountaine to pray, and continued all night there in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, hee called his disciples: * and of them hee chose twelue, whom also he called Apostles:

14 (Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andre w his brother: James and John, Philip, and Bartholome w, 15 Matthew, and Thomas, James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon, which is called Zelotes,

16 And Judas, James brother, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.)

17 And when he came do wne with them, he stood in the plaine field, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people, out of all Iurie and Hierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases.

18 And they that were bered with soule spirits: and they were healed.

19 And all the people prealled to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 And when hee had lifted by his eyes vpon his disciples, hee saide, * Blessed be ye poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 * Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied. * Blessed are ye that weepe now, for ye shall laugh.

22 * Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall raile on you, and put out your name as euil, for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Woe ye in that day, and leape ye for ioy: for behold, your reward is great in heauen, for in the like maner did their fathers vnto the Prophets.

24 * But woe vnto you that are rich: for yee haue your consolation.

25 * Woe vnto you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Woe vnto you that now laugh: for yee shall mourne and waile.

26 Woe vnto you when men shall praise you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 * But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies, doe good to them which hate you, 28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which wrongfully trouble you.

29 * And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbidd not to take thy coat also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee, and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 * And as yee would that men should doe to you, doe ye also to them likewise.

32 * If ye loue them which loue you, what thanke haue ye? for sinners also loue their louers.

33 And if ye doe good for them which do good for you, what thanke haue ye? for sinners also do euen the same.

34 * And if yee lende to them of whom yee hope to receiue, what thanke haue ye? * for sinners also lende to sinners, to receiue such like againe.

35 But loue ye your enemies, and doe good, and lend, looking for nothing againe: and your reward shall be great, and yee shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euill.

36 Bee ye therefore mercifull, as your father also is mercifull.

37 * Judge not, and yee shall not be iudged at all: condemne not, and yee shall not be condemned at all: forgiue, and ye shall be forgiven.

38 * Giue, and it shall be giuen vnto you, good measure, prealled downe, shaken together, and running ouer, shall men giue into your bosomes: for with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you againe.

39 And he put forth a similitude vnto them, * Can the blinde leade the blinde? Shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 * The disciple is not aboue his master: but whosoever will be a perfect disciple, shall be as his master is.

41 * And why seeest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

47 Whosoever commeth to me, and heareth my sayings, and doth the same, I wil shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layd the foundation on the rocke. And when the waters arose, the flood beat behemently vpon that house, and could not moue it: for it was grounded vpon the rocke.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth it not, is like a man that without foundation built an house vpon the earth: against which the flood did beat behemently, and it fel immediatly, and the fall of that house was great.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Hee healeth the captaines seruant. 6 The faith of the Centurion. 37 The woman washeth his feete with her teares.

Matth. 8. 1.

When he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, * he entred into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, which was deare vnto him, being sicke, was in perill of death.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 And when they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him.

5 For he loueth our nation, and hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my rooffe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the word, and my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I also am a man set vnder power, hauing vnder mee souldiers: and I say vnto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and hee doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, hee maruelled at him, and turned him about, & said vnto the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found to great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, when they were returned home, found the seruant whole that had bene sicke.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that hee went into a city called Naim: and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 And when he came nigh to the gate of the city, beholde, there was a dead man carryed out, which was the onely sonne of his mother, and shee was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And when he was come nigh, he touched the heere (and they that bare him, stood still.) And he said, Young man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat vp, and began to speake: and he deliuered him to his mother.

16 And there came a feare on them all, and they gaue the glory vnto God, saying that a great Prophet is risen vp among vs, and verily God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Iury, and throughout all the regions which lie round about.

18 * And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.

19 And John, when hee had called vnto him two of his disciples, he sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

20 When the men were come vnto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke wee for another?

21 And in that same houre he cured many of their infirmities & plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many that were blinde, he gaue sight.

22 Then Iesus answering, said vnto them, Go your way, and bring word againe to John, what things ye haue seene and heard, how that the blinde see againe, the halt goe, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise, to the poore is the Gospel preached.

23 And happy is hee whosoever shall not be offended at me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he beganne to speake vnto the people concerning John: what went yee out into the wilderness for to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went yee out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparellled, and liue delicately, are in Kinges courts.

26 But what went yee forth to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and moze then a Prophet.

27 This is hee of whom it is written, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, among womens children is there not a greater Prophet then John Baptist: neuertheless, hee that is least in the Kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the Publicanes, being baptized with the baptisme of John, * iustified God.

30 But the Pharisees and Lawyers despised the counsell of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord saide, * Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what thing are they like?

Matth. 12.

Matth. 13.

Matth. 10.

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For John Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a deuill.

34 The sonne of man is come, eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a wine bibber, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 And wisdome is fulfilled of all her children.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that hee would eate with him. And hee went into the Pharisees house, and sate downe to meate.

37 And behold, a woman in that city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Iesus sate at meate in the Pharisees house, shee brought an Alabastrer bore of oymnt: shee

38 And stood at his feet behind him, weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them cleane with the haire of her head, and all to kised his feete, and annoynted them with the oymnt.

39 When the Pharisee which had bidden him, sawe it, hee spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, hee would surely know who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for he is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, Simon, I haue some what to say vnto thee. And he sayth, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender, which had two debtors: the one ought fure hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, hee forgaued them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and sayde, I suppose, that hee is to whome hee forgaued most. And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast truly iudged.

44 And hee turned to the woman, and sayde vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gapest me no water for my feet: but shee hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the hayres of her head.

45 Thou gapest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyle thou diddest not annoynt: but this woman hath annoynted my feet with oymnt.

47 Wherefore, I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgiven her, for shee loued much: to whome little is forgiven, the same loueth little.

48 And he sayd vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

49 And they that sate at meate with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sinnes also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.

The viij. Chapter.

2 Christ and his Apolles goe from towne to towne, and preach. 5 The parable of the feede, 16 and of the candle.

ANd it came to passe afterward, that hee himselfe went through out euery city and billage preaching, and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdome of God: and the twelue were with him.

2 And also certaine women which had bene healed of euill spirites and infirmities, Mary which is called Magdalene, * out of whome went seuen deuils,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herodes steward, and Susanna, and many other, which ministered vnto him of their substance.

4 * When much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of all cities, hee spake by a similitude.

5 The Sower went out to sowe his feede: and as hee sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was troden downe, and the fowles of the aire deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on stones, and as soone as it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moistnesse.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprang by with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang vp, and bare fruite an hundred folde. And as hee sayd these things, he cryed, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What manner of similitude is this?

10 And hee sayd vnto them, Vnto you it is giuen to know the secrets of the kingdom of God: but to other by paraboles, * that when they see, they should not see, and when they heare, they should not vnderstand.

11 * The parable is this, The seed is the word of God.

12 Those that are beside the way, are they that heare: then cometh the deuill, and taketh away the worde out of their hearts, lest they should belceue, and be saued.

13 They on the stones, are they, which when they heare, receiue the word with ioy: and these haue no roots, which for a while belceue, and in time of temptation goe away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they, which when they haue heard, goe forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and voluptuous liuing, and bring forth no fruit.

15 But that which fell on the good ground, are they, which with a pure & good heart heare the word, and keepe it, and bring forth fruite through patience.

16 * No man when hee lighteth a candle, couereth it with a bessel, or putteth it vnder a bed: but setteth it on a candlesticke, that they which enter in, may see the light.

17 * For nothing is secreete, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shall not be knowne, and come to light.

18 Take heede therefore how ye heare: * for whosoeuer hath, to him shall be giuen: & whosoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken, euen that same which he supposeth that he hath.

19 * When came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him, for prease.

20 And it was told him by certaine which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, willing to see thee.

22 * And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship, and his disciples also: and he sayde vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they lanchted forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleepe, and there came downe a storme of wind on the lake, & they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we are lost. Then he rose, and rebuked the winde, and the tempest of water: and they ceased, and it waxed calme.

25 And hee sayde vnto them, Where is your faith? And they feared, and wondred, saying one to another, Who is this? For he commaundeth both the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 * And they sayed vnto the region of the Gadarenites, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And when he went out to land, there met him out of the city a certaine man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in graues.

28 When he saw Iesus, and had cryed aloud, he fell downe before him, and with a loud voyce sayd, What haue I to doe with thee Iesus, thou sonne of God most highest? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he commaunded the foule spirite to come out of the man: for oftentimes hee had caught him, and hee was bound with chaines, and kept with fetters: and hee brake the bands, and was caried of the fiend into the wilderness.)

30 And Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And hee sayd, Legion: because many devils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not commaund them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there an heard of many swine feeding on an hill: and <sup>b</sup> they besought him that hee would suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, & entred into the swine: and the heard ran headlong with violence into the lake, & were choked.

34 When the heardmen saw what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the city, and in the billages.

35 Therefore they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whome the devils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, cloathed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes hee that was possessed of the devils, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought him that he would depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and hee gate him by into the shippe, and returned backe againe.

38 Then the man, out of whome the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying, 39 Goe home againe to thine owne house, and shew what things soeuer God hath done for thee. And hee went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what things soeuer Iesus had done vnto him.

40 And it came to passe, that when Iesus was come againe, the people receiued him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 And beholde, there came a man, named Jairus, * and he was a ruler in the Synagogue, and hee fell downe at Iesus feete, praying him that he would come into his house.

42 For he had but one daughter onely, byon a twelue yeres of age, and she lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.

43 And a woman, hauing an issue of blood twelue yeres, which had spent all her substance vpon Physicians, neither could be holpe of any,

44 Came behind him, and touched the hemme of his raiment: & immediatly her issue of blood stanchted.

45 And Iesus said, Who is it that touched me? when euery man denied. Peter and they that were with him, sayd, Master, the people thrust thee, and berce thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Iesus sayd, Some body hath touched mee: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hidde, shee came trembling, and fell at his feete, and told him before all the people, for what cause shee had touched him, and how shee was healed immediatly.

48 And he sayde vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there commeth one from the ruler of the Synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, discafe not the master.

50 But when Iesus heard that word, hee answered him, saying, feare not, belecue only, and shee shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, hee suffered no man to go in with him, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 Euery body wept, and sorrowed for her: and he sayd, Weepe not, the damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scozne, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them all out, and tooke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and shee arose straightway: and hee commaunded to giue her meate.

56 And her parents were astonied: but hee warned them that they should tel no man what was done.

Jesus * when hee had called the twelue together, gaue them power and authoritie ouer all devils, and to heale diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to heale the sicke.

3 And he sayd vnto them, Take nothing to your iourney, neither rod, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money, neither haue two coates apiece.

4.13. 6.35.

10 And the Apostles when they returned, told him all that they had done. *And he tooke them, and went aside into a solitary place, nigh vnto the city called Bethsaida.

11 Which when the people knewe, they folloved him: and when he had receiued them, he spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had need to be healed.

4.16. 6.35. 7.5.

12 *And when the day began to weare away, then came the twelue, and sayd vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the billages and fieldes round about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a place of wildecnesse.

13 But he sayd vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And they sayd, Wee haue no more but fise loauces and two fishes, except we should goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 And they were about fise thousand men. And hee sayd to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a companie.

15 And they did so, and made them all to sit downe.

16 And when hee had taken the fise loauces and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, hee blessed them, and brake them, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauie with sleepe: and when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter sayd vnto Iesus, Master, it is good being here for vs, and let vs make thre tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he sayd.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloude and overshadowed them, and they feared, whilst they were come into the cloude.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 Iesus answering, sayde, O faithlesse and peruerse nation, how long shall I be with you, and shall suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 As hee was yet a coming, the fiend rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, and healed the child, and deliuered him againe to his father.

50 And Jesus sayde vnto him, forbidde yee him not: for hee that is not against vs, is with vs.

51 And it came to passe, when the time was come that he should be received by, hee stedfastly set his face to goe to Hierusalem, 53 And they did not receiue him, because his face was as though he would goe to Hierusalem.

58 And Jesus sayde vnto him, foxes haue holes, and birds of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

Mat. 8. 21.

19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and ouer all manner power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any meanes hurt you.

20 But in this reioyce not, that the spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in the heauens.

21 The same houre Jesus reioyced in the spirit, and sayd, I confesse vnto thee, father, Lorde of heauen and earth, that thou hast hidde these things from the wise and prudent, and hast opened them vnto babes: euen to father, for so it pleased thee.

22 All things are giuen me of my father: no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the father: and who the father is but the sonne, and hee to whom the sonne will reueale him.

23 And he turned vnto his disciples, and sayd secretly, Happy are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings haue desired to see those things which yee see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 And beholde, a certaine Lawyer stood by, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life? He sayd vnto him,

Mat. 23. 1.

26 what is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering, sayd, *Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde, * and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But he willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answering, sayd, A certaine man descended from Iherusalem to Jericho, and fell among theeues, which robbed him: of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed leauing him halfe dead.

31 And it befell that there came downe a certaine priest that same way, and when hee sawe him, hee passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Leuite, when he came nigh to the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritane as hee iourneyed, came by him: and when he sawe him, hee had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, a bound by his wounds, pouring in oile and wine, and set him on his owne beast, & brought him to a common Tyme, and made pouision for him.

35 And on the morow when he departed, hee tooke out two pence, and gaue them to the host, and sayd vnto him, Take cure of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come againe I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Goe, and doe thou likewise.

38 Now it came to passe as they went, that hee entred into a certaine billage: and a certaine woman, named Martha, receiued him into her house.

39 And this woman had a sifter called Marie, which also sat at Iesus feete, and heard his word:

40 But Martha was cumbered about much seruing, and came to him, and sayde, Lord, doest thou not care that my sifter hath left me to serue alone? Wilt thou therefore that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou art carefull, and troubled about many things:

42 Verely one is needefull, Marie hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

The xj. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 Hee driueth out a dumbe deuill.

And so it was, that as hee was praying in a certain place, when hee ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, * Our father which art in heauen, Halowed be thy name, Thy kingdome come, Thy will be done, euen in earth as it is in heauen.

4 And forgive vs our finnes: for euen wee forgive euery man that trespasseth vs. And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from the euill.

5 And hee sayd vnto them, which of you shall haue a friend, and shall go vnto him at midnight, and say vnto him, friend, lend mee thre loaves:

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And he from within shal answer, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and giue thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though hee will not rise, and giue him, because hee is his friend: yet because of his importunitie: he will rise, and giue him as many as he needeth.

9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

10 * For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 * If the sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? Or if he aske fish, will he for fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall aske an egge, will hee offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being euill, haue knowledge to giue good gifts vnto your children: how much more shall your father of heauen giue the holy spirit to them that desire it of him?

14 And hee was casting out a deuill, and the same was dumbe. And it came to passe, when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake: and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, * He casteth out deuils, through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

16 And other tempting him, required of him a signe from heauen.

17 But he knowing their thoughts, sayd vnto them, * Euerie kingdome diuided against it selfe, is desolate: and a house diuided against a house, falleth.

18 If Satan also be diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome endure? Because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub.

19 If I by Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out deuils, no doubt the kingdome of God is come vpon you.

21 When the strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then hee shall come vpon him, and ouercome him, hee taketh from him all his harnesse where in hee trusted, and diuideth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 When the vncleane spirit is gone out * of a man, he walketh thorow drie places, seeking rest: and finding none, hee sayth, I will returne vnto my house, whence I came out.

25 And when he commeth, he findeth it swept, and garnished.

27 And it came to passe as hee spake these things, a certaine woman of the companie lift up her voyce, and saide vnto him, Happy is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

28 But he sayd, Yea, rather happy are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

29 * When the people were gathered thich together, he began to say, This is an euill nation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe bee giuen them, * but the signe of Jonas the Prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a signe vnto the Ninuities, so shall also the sonne of man bee to this nation.

31 * The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement with the men of this nation, & condemne them: for she came from the vtmost parts of the earth, to heare the wisdom of Solomon: and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

32 The men of Ninuie shall rise in iudgement with this nation, and shall condemne them: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde, a greater then Jonas is here.

33 * No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a priue place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 * The candle of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, all thy body also is full of light, but if thine eye be euill, all thy body also is full of darkenesse.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.

36 If all thy bodie therefore bee cleere, hauing no part darke: then shall it all be full of light, euen as when a candle doth light thee with brightnesse.

37 And as hee spake, a certaine Pharisee besought him to dine with him: And Iesus went in, and sate downe to meate.

38 When the Pharisee saw it, hee marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord said vnto him, Now do ye Pharisees make cleere the outside of the cuppe and the platter: but your inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Yee fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 But rather <sup>b</sup> giue almes of those things which are || within: and behold, all things are cleane vnto you.

42 But woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye tie the minit, and rue, and all maner herbs, and passe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: These ought ye to haue done, and yet not to leaue the other vndone.

43 * Woe vnto you Pharises: for ye loue the hypermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the marketes.

44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for yee are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying, thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

46 * And hee sayd, Woe vnto you also ye lawyers: for yee lade men with burdens grieuous to bee borne, and yee your selues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe vnto you, for ye builde the sepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Cruelly ye heare witness that ye alow the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore sayde the wisdom of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation, 51 * From the blood of Abel vnto the blood of Zachary, which perished betweene the altar and the temple: verily I say vnto you, it shall be required of this nation.

52 Woe vnto you lawyers, for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: yee entered not in your selues, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 When hee thus spake vnto them, the lawyers and the Pharisees beganne to brge him vehemently, and to prouoke him to speake many things:

54 Laying waite for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, wherby they might accuse him.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The leauen of the Pharises is to be auoyded. 20 Against care of earthly things.

H * the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inso much that they trode one another, hee began to say vnto his disciples first of all, Be ware of the leauen of the Pharises, which is hyppocrite.

2 * For there is nothing couered, that shall not be vncouered, neither hid, that shall not bee knowen.

3 Therefore, whatsoever ye haue spoken in darkenesse, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secret places, shall be preached on the top of the houles.

4 * And I say vnto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, haue no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarne you whom you shall feare: feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hel, yea, I say vnto you, feare him.

6 * Are not five sparrows solde for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But, euen the very haire of your head are numbered: feare not therefore, yee are more of value then many sparrows.

8 * Also I say vnto you, whosoever shall confesse me before men, him shall the sonne of man knowe also before the Angels of God.

9 But hee that shall denie me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And whosoever shall speake a word against the sonne of man, it shall be forgiven him: but vnto him that blasphemeth the holy<sup>b</sup> Ghost, it it shall not be forgiven.

11 * And when they bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and officers, take ye no thought how or what thing yee shall answer, or what shall ye speake:

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.

13 One of the company said vnto him, Master, speake to my brother, that he diuide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?

15 And he said vnto them, Take heed, and beware of couctousnesse: for no mans life standeth in the abundance of the things which hee possesseth.

d. 11. 19.

16 And he put forth a similitude vnto them, saying, * The ground of a certaine rich man brought forth plentifull fruits.

17 And he thought within himselfe, saying, What shall I do, because I haue no roume where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laid vp in store for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and be merie.

20 But God said vnto him, Thou fool, this night do they require thy soule again from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himselfe, and is not rich to wards God.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life what ye shall eate, neither for the body what ye shall put on.

23 The life is moze then meate, and the body is moze then raiment.

24 Consider the rauens, for they neither sow nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barn, and notwithstanding God feedeth them: How much moze are ye better then the foules?

25 Which of you with taking thought can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then bee not able to doe that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the Lilies how they growe, they labour not, they spinne not: and yet I say vnto you, that Solomon in all his royaltie, was not clothed like one of these.

28 If God so clothe the grasse, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the furnace: how much moze will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And aske not ye what ye shall eate, or what ye shall drinke, neither be ye of doubtfull mind.

30 For all such things doe the people of the world seeke for: and your father knoweth that ye haue neede of these things.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these things shall be added vnto you.

32 feare not O little flocks, for it is your fathers good pleasure to giue you a kingdome.

33 Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: * and prepare you bagges which waxe not olde, euen a treasure that faileth not in the heauens, where no theefe approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there wil your heart be also.

35 * Let your loynes be girded about, and your lights burning,

36 And ye your selues bee like vnto men that waite for their Lord, when he will returne from the wedding, that when he shall come and knock, they may open vnto him immediately.

37 Happy are those seruants, whom the Lord when he commeth, shall finde watching: Verily I say vnto you, that hee shall giue himselfe, and make them to sit downe to meate, and will come forth, and minister vnto them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, yea, if he shall come in the thirde watch, and finde them so, happye are those seruants.

39 * This vnderstand ye, that if the good man of the house had knowen what houre the theefe would come, he would surely haue watched, and not haue suffered his house to be broken through.

40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the sonne of man commeth at an houre when ye thinke not.

41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellet thou this similitude vnto vs, or to all?

42 And the Lord sayd, Who is a faithfull and wise steward, whom his Lorde shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their portion of meate in due season?

43 Happy is that seruant, whom his Lorde when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a trouth, I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all his substance.

45 But and if that seruant say in his heart, My Lorde delayeth his coming: and shall beginne to smite the seruants and maidens, and to eate and drinke, and to be drunken,

46 The lord of that seruant wil come in a day when hee looketh not for him, and at an houre when hee is not ware, and will be woe him in pieces, and will set him his portion with the vnbelievers.

47 And the seruant that knewe his masters will, & prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his wil, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knewe not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with fewe stripes, for vnto whomseuer much is giuen, of him shall be much required: and to whom men haue committed much, of him they will aske the moze.

49 I am come to send fire on the earth, and what is my desire, if it be already kindled?

50 For withstanding, I must bee baptized with a baptisme, and how am I payned till it be ended?

51 * Suppose ye that I am come to send peace on earth: I tell you, Nay, but rather is diuision.

52 For from henceforth there shall bee diuision in one house diuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall bee diuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: in law against her daughter in law, & the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 He said also to the people, * when ye see a cloude rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There commeth a shower: and so it is.

55 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say, It will be hot, and it commeth so to passe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, and of the earth: but howe is it that ye doe not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is right?

The xiiij. Chapter.

6 Of the figge tree that bare no fruit. 24 Few enter into the kingdome of Christ.

Here were present at the same season, certaine men that shewed him of the Galileans, who blood Pilat had mingled with their owne sacrifice.

b Pilate murdered them as they were sacrificing.

2 And Jesus answering, saide vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they suffered such punishment?

3 I tell you, Nay : but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Of those eightene, vpon which the tower in Siloe fell, and slew them, thinke ye that they were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Hierusalem?

b Which tower stood by the figg poole or stuer in Siloam in Hierusalem.

5 I tell you, Nay : but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 He told also this similitude. A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he vnto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, this three yeeres I come seeking fruit in this figge tree, & find none: cut it downe, why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, till I haue digged round about it, and dung it:

9 And if it beare fruit, thou maiest let it alone: and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teaching in one of their Synagogues on the Sabbath dayes.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eightene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp her selfe.

12 When Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediatly she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said vnto the people, There are five daies in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 But the Lord answered him, and sayde, Thou hypocrite, both not eche one of you on the Sabbath day loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound loe eightene yeeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for all the excellent deedes that were done by him.

18 * Then said Iesus, what is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

19 * It is like a graine of mustard seed which a man tooke, and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and wared a great tree: and the fowles of the aire made nests in the banches of it.

20 * And againe he said, wherunto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke and hid in three peckes of meale, till all was leauened.

22 * And he went thorow all townes and billages, teaching, and iourneying towardes Hierusalem.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? and he said vnto them, 24 * Striue to enter in at the strait gate: for many I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the dooze, and ye beginne to stand without, and to knock at the dooze, saying, Lord, Lord, open vnto vs, and he shall answer, and say vnto you, I knowe you not whence you are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, we haue eaten and drunken in thy presence, & thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 * And he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are, depart from me all ye that worke iniquitie.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Iſaac, and Iacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdom of God, and ye your selves thrust out.

29 And they shall come from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit downe in the kingdome of God.

30 * And behold, there are last, which shall be first, and there are first, which shall be last.

31 The same day came there certaine of the Pharisees, saying vnto him, Get thee out, and depart hence, for Herode will kill thee.

32 And he sayd vnto them, Goe ye and tell that fore, Behold, I cast out devils, and I doe cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

33 Neuerthelesse, I must walke to day and to morrow, and the day following, for it cannot be that a Prophet perish out of Hierusalem.

34 * O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them that are sent vnto thee, how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as a henne doeth gather her yong vnder her wings, and ye would not?

35 Behold, your house is left vnto you desolate. verily I say vnto you, ye shall not see me, vntill the time come that ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

The Gospel on the xvij. Sunday after Trinitie.

3 And Iesus answering, spake vnto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they helde their peace. And he tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe.

5 And answered them, saying, which of you shall haue an alle oꝝ an oxe fallen into a pit. and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they could not answere him againe to these things.

7 He put forth also a similitude to the guests, when he marked how they chole out the chiefe roome, saying vnto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not downe in the highest roome: least a more honourable man then thou be bidden of him,

9 And he that bade thee and him come, and say to thee, Giue this man roome: and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest roome.

10 * But when thou art bidden, goe and sit in the lowest roome, that when he that bade thee commeth, he may say vnto thee, friend, sit vp higher: then shalt thou haue worship in the presence of them that sit at meate with thee.

11 * For whosoer exalteth himselfe, shall be brought lowe: and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

12 Then sayd hee also to him that bade him to meate, * When thou makest a dinner oꝝ a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours: least they also bid thee againe, and a recompence bee made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, and the blind, 14 And thou shalt be happye, for they cannot recompence thee: for thou shalt be recompenced at the resurrection of the iust men.

15 When one of them that sate at meate also heard these things, he said vnto him, * Happy is he that shall eate bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then said he vnto him, A certaine man oꝝ deined a great supper, and bade many:

17 And sent his seruant at supper time, to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.

18 And they al at once began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a piece of ground, and I must needs goe and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I haue bought five yoke of oxen, and I goe to prooue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another said, I haue married a wife: and therefore I cannot come.

21 And the seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then the Goodman of the house being angry, said to his seruant, Goe out quickly into the broad stretes and lanes of the cite, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is roome.

23 And the Lord said vnto the seruant, Goe out into the high wayes and hedges, and compell them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 There went a great companie with him: and he returned, and said vnto them,

26 * If any man come to me, and hate <sup>b</sup> not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my discipule.

27 * And whosoer doth not beare his crosse, and come after me, cannot be my discipule.

28 For which of you disposed to builde a tower, sitteth not downe before, and counteth the cost, whether hee haue sufficient to performe it?

29 Least at any time after he hath laide the foundation, and is not able to performe it, all that behold it, begin to mocke him.

30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to make an end.

31 Or what king going to make battell against another king, sitteth not downe first, and caseth in his minde whether he be able with ten thousand, to meeete him that commeth against him with twenty thousand?

32 Or els, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoer he be of you, that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my discipule.

34 * Salt is good: but if the salt haue lost the salnesse, wherein shall it be seasoned?

35 It is neither good for the land, nor yet for the dung-hill: but men cast it out at the doores. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

The xv. Chapter.

The great mercy of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

Then resorted vnto him all the Publicaness and sinners, for to heare him.

2 And the Pharisees & Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,

4 What man of you, hauing an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, vntill he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he laieth it on his shoulders, reioycing.

6 And when he commeth home, hee calleth together his friendes and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer ninetie and nine iust persons, which neede no repentance.

8 Either what woman hauing ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seeke diligently till she find it?

9 And when she hath found it, shee calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Reioyce with me, for I haue found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he sayde, A certaine man had two sonnes:

12 And the younger of them saide to his father, Father, giue mee the portion of the substance that to me belongeth. And he deuised vnto them his liuing.

13 And not many dayes after, when the younger sonne had gathered all that he had together, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that land, and hee beganne to lacke.

15 And going, he ioynded himselfe to a citizen of that countrey: and he sent him into his fields to feede swine.

16 And he would faine haue filled his belly with the cobs that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.

17 And when he came to himselfe, he saide, Howe many hired seruants of my fathers haue bread ynough and spare, and I perishe with hunger?

18 I will arise and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and befoze thee, 19 And am no moze worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.

20 And he arose and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his necke, and all to kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, and am no moze worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 But the father sayde to his seruants, Bring forth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete, 23 And bring hither that fat calfe, and kill it, and let vs eate, and be merie.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliuie againe: he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merie.

25 The elder brother was in the field: & when he came and drew nigh to the house, hee heard minstrelle and dauncing, 26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fat calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 And he was angrie, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 He answering, said to his father, Lo, these many yeeres do I serue thee, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kisse, that I might make merie with my friends:

30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy liuing with harlots, thou hast for his pleasure killed that fat calfe.

31 And he saide vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue is thine.

32 It was meeete that wee should make merrie, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliuie againe: and was lost, and is found.

The xvj. Chapter.

13 No man can serue two masters. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus.

And he saide vnto his Disciples, There was a certaine rich man which had a Stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And when he had called him, he said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue accompts of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 The Steward said wthin himselfe, what shall I doe, for my master taketh away from me the stewardship? I cannot digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I wote what to doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue me into their houses.

5 So when hee had called all his masters detters together, he said vnto the first, Howe much owest vnto my master?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oile. And he said vnto him, Take thy bill, & sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And he saide, An hundred measures of wheat. He said vnto him, Take thy bill, and write fourescore.

8 And the Lord commended the vnjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their nation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends of the vnrighteous Mammon, that when ye shall haue neede, they may receiue you into the euertlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithfull in that which is least, is faithfull also in much: and he that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in much.

11 So then, if ye haue not bene faithfull in the vnrighteous Mammon, who shall trust you in the true treasure?

12 And if ye haue not bene faithfull in that which is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?

13 No seruant can serue two masters, for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other: ye cannot serue God and Mammon.

14 All these things heard the pharisees also which were couetous: and they mocked him greatly.

15 And he said vnto them, Ye are they which iustifie your selues before me, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 The law and the Prophets reigned vntil John, and since that time the glad tidings of the Kingdome of God is preached, and every man striveth to goe in.

17 Easier it is for heauen and earth to passe away, then one tittle of the law to falke.

18 Whosoever forsaketh his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her that is diuorced from her husband, committeth adulterie also.

19 There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and sared very deliciously every day.

The Gospel on the ix. Sunday of ter Trinitate.

20 And there was a certaine beggar named Lazarus, which was layd at his gate full of sores:

21 And desiring to bee refreshed with the crummes which fell from the rich mans board, and no man gaue vnto him: but the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into Abrahams bosome: the rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torment, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham as farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and saide, Father Abraham, haue mercie on mee, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham saide, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuest thy pleasure, and likewise Lazarus paines, but now hee is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, can not, neither haue they passage to vs that would come from thence.

27 Then he saide, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue five brethren, that he may witness vnto them, least they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophets, let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay, father, Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 He said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, neither wil they beleue though one rose from death.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth to auoide offences. 30 The maner of Christs coming.

He said vnto the disciples, It can not be but offences will come, neuertheless, woe vnto him through whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and he cast into the sea, then that he should offend one of these litle ones.

3 Take heede to your selues: If thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him, and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And though he sinne against thee seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, I repent, thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, If ye had faith as much as a graine of mustard seede, ye should say vnto this Sycamine tree, Be thou plucked by by the roote, & be thou planted in the sea, and it should obey you.

7 But which of you hauing a seruant plowing, or feeding cattell, will say vnto him by and by when he were come from the field, Goe and sit downe at the table?

8 And will not rather say vnto him, Dresse thy selfe with I may sup, and giue by thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and drunken: and afterward thou shalt eate and drinke?

9 Doeth he thanke that seruant because he did the things that were commanded vnto him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when yee shall haue done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruants: wee haue done that which was our ducie to doe.

11 And so it was, as he went to Ierusalem, that he passed thorow the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certaine billage, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood as farre off, 13 And they put forth their voices, and said, Iesumaster, haue mercie on vs.

14 When he sawe them, he saide vnto them, Goe shew your selues vnto the Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleaned.

15 And one of them when he sawe that he was healed, turned backe againe with a loude voice, glorifying God, 16 And fell downe on his face at his secte, giuing him thanks: and the same was a Samaritan.

17 And Iesus answering, said, Are there not ten cleaned, but where are those nine?

18 There are not found that returned againe to giue glory to God, save onely this stranger.

19 And he said vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 When he was demanded of the Pharisees when the kingdom of God commeth, he answering them, said, The kingdom of God commeth not with obseruation.

21 Neither shall they say, Lo here, lo there: for behold, the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he said vnto the Disciples, The daies will come when he shall desire to see one day of the sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 And they shall say to you, See here, see there: goe not after them, nor follow them.

24 For as the lightningning that lighteneth out of the one part that is vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part which is vnder heauen: so shall also the sonne of man be in his day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be disallowed of this nation.

26 And as it was in the daies of Noe: so shall it be also in the daies of the sonne of man.

27 They did eat & drinke, they married wiues, and were married, euen vnto the same day that Noe went into the arke: and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 Likewise also as it was in the daies of Lot, they did eat, they dranke, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded:

29 But euen the same day that Lot went out of Sodome, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all:

30 Euen thus shall it be in the day when the sonne of man is reuealed.

31 At that day he which shall be on the house top, & his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and let not him that is in the felde, turne backe againe likewise to the things that he left behinde.

The xviiij. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth to continuic in prayer. 31 He foresheweth his death.

A D he put forth a parable vnto them, to this end, that men ought * alwayes to pray, and not to be wearie:

2 Saying, there was in a certaine citie a certaine Judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a certaine widow in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying, || Auenge me of mine aduersarie:

4 And he would not for a while. But afterward he sayd within himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man, 5 Yet because this widow much troubleth me, I will auenge her, least she come at the last, and make me wearie.

6 And the Lord sayd, Heare what the bnrightrous Judge saith.

7 And shall not God auenge his elect, which cry day and night vnto him, yea, though he deferre them?

8 I tell you that he will auenge them, and that quickly. Neuertheless, when the sonne of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 And he tolde this parable vnto certaine which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised oher:

10 Two men went vp into the Temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himselfe, God, I thanke thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this Publicane.

12 I fast twice in the weeke, I giue tithe of all that I possesse.

13 And the Publicane standing asarte off, would not lift vp his eyes to heauen: but snote vpon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed home to his house iustified rather than the other: * for every one that exalseth himselfe, shall be brought low: and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

15 They brought vnto him also * infants, that he should couch them: when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Jesus, when he had called them vnto him, said, Suffer little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for vnto such belongeth the kingdome of God.

17 Verily I say vnto you, whosoever shall not receiue the kingdome of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what ought I to doe to possesse eternall life?

19 * Jesus said vnto him, why callest thou me good? None is good saue God onely.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, Doe not commit adulterie, Doe not kill, Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these haue I kept from my youth vp.

22 When Jesus heard that, hee sayd vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follo to me.

23 When he heard this, he was very sorry: for he was very rich.

24 When Jesus sawe that he was very sorry, he said, How hardly shall they that haue money enter into the kingdome of God?

25 For it is easier for a Camel to goe thorow a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God?

26 And they that heard it, said, And who then can be saued?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 * Then Peter said, Loe, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee.

29 He said vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, either parents, either brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdome of Gods sake, 30 which shall not receiue manifold moze in this world, and in the world to come life euertlasting.

31 * Jesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and said vnto them, Behold, we goe by to Hierusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the sonne of man that are written by the prophets.

32 For he shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spittefully entreated, and spitte on:

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death, and the third day he shall rise.

34 And they vnderstode none of all these things: and this saying was hid from them, so that they perceiued not the things which were spoken.

35 * And it came to passe, that as he was come nigh vnto Jericho, a certaine blind man sat by the wayes side, begging.

36 And when he heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they said vnto him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cryed, saying, Jesu thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but hee cryed so much the moze, Thou sonne of Dauid haue mercie on me.

40 And Jesus saying, commanded him to be brought vnto him: & when he was come neere, he asked him,

12 *He said therefore, A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and to come againe.

13 And when he had called his ten seruants,
he deliuered them ten || pieces of money, saying vnto them, Occupie till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a messenger after him, saying, We wil not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, that when he had returned, receiuing his kingdome, then he commanded these seruants to be called vnto him, to whom he had giuen the money, that he might knowe how much euery man had gained in oc-cupping.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath gained ten pieces.

17 And he said vnto him, Well, thou good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very litle thing, haue thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Loyde, thy piece hath increased siue pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer siue cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy piece, which I haue laid by in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a strait man: thou takest by that thou laidst not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sow.

22 Then he saith vnto him, Of thine owne mouth wilt I iudge thee, thou euill seruant:
Knewest thou that I am a strait man, taking by that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sow?

23 And wherefore gauest not thou my money into the banke, and at my conuining I might haue required mine owne with bantage?

24 And he said vnto them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it to him that hath ten pieces.

25 And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.

26 For I say vnto you, * That vnto euery one which hath, shall be giuen: & from him that hath not, shall be taken away euen that he hath.

27 Whereouer, those mine enemies which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, he went forward, ascending by to Hierusalem.

29 * And it came to passe, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethanie, besides the mount which is called Oliuet, hee sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Goe ye into the towne which is ouer against you, in the which at your entring ye shall find a Colt tied, whereon yet neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man aske you, why do ye loose him? Thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath neede of him.

32 They that were sent, went their way, and found euen as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were a loosing the Colt, the owners thereof said vnto them, why loose ye the Colt?

34 And they sayd, For the Lord hath neede of him.

35 * And they brought him to Iesus: and their garments being cast on the Colt, they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was now come nigh to the going downe of the mount Oliuet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne reioycing to praise God with a loud voice, for al the miracles that they had seene.

38 Saying, Blessed be the king that commeth in the name of the Lord, peace in heauen, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees of the company said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 He answering, said vnto them, I tell you, that if these would holde their peace, then shall the stones cry immediatly.

41 And when he was come neere, he beheld the citie, and wept on it,

42 * Saying, If thou hadst knowen those things which belong vnto thy peace, euen in this thy day: but now are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies also shall cast a banke about thee, and compassle thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side,

44 And make thee euen with the ground,

The xx. Chapter.

17 Christ the stone reprooved. 41 Christ the sonne of David.

Mat. 21. 25. mar. 11. 27.

AD * it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as hee taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came by on him, with the Elders.

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs, by what authoritie dost thou these things? Either who is he that gaue thee this authoritie?

3 He answering, said vnto them, I wil also aske you one word, and answer me.

a. That is, the whole mantle of John.

4 The baptisme of John, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, from heauen, he will say, why then beleueed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perfwaded that John is a Prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Iesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

Esa. 5. 1. iere. 2. 21. mat. 21. 23. mar. 12. 1.

9 Then beganne he to put forth to the people this parable: * A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went himself into a strange countrey for a great season.

10 And when the time was come, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard, but they, when they had beaten him, sent him away empty.

11 And againe, hee sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten him also, and entreated him shamefully, sent him away empty.

12 Againe, he sent the third, and when they had wounded him also, they cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, what shall I doe? I will send my deare sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned within themselves, saying, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyard, they killed him. what then shall the lord of the vineyard doe vnto them?

16 He shall come and destroy those husbandmen, and shall let out his vineyard to other. When they heard this, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and saide, * what is this then that is written, The stone that the builders disallowed, the same is become the head of the corner?

Psa. 118. 22. b. The stone which the builders refused, the same is become the head of the corner.

18 Whosoever shall stumble vpon that stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 And the high Priests and the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him, & they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this similitude against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should faime themselves righteous men, that they might take hold of his wordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

21 And they asked him, saying, * Master, we know that thou saiest and teachest right, neither considerest thou the outward appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truly:

23 When he had perceiued their craftinesse, he said vnto them, why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penie: whose image & superscription hath it? They answering, said, Cæsars.

25 And he said vnto them, * Giue then vnto Cesar the things which belong vnto Cesar: and to God, the things that pertaine vnto God.

Rom. 13. 2.

26 And they could not reprove his sayings before the people: and they maruelled at his answer, and held their peace.

28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, * If any mans brother die, hauing a wife, and he die without children, that then his brother should take his wife, and raise by seede vnto his brother.

Deut. 25. 5.

29 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first, when he had taken a wife, died without children.

30 And the second tooke her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third tooke her, and in like wise the residue of the seuen, and left no children vnto him, and died.

32 Last of all, the woman died also.

33 Now in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Iesus answering, sayd vnto them, The children of this world marrie wiues, and are married:

c. The children of this world are as like to them.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, doe not marrie wiues, neither are married:

36 for neither can they die any more, for they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, in as much as they are the children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead be raised, * Moses also shewed besides the bramble bush, when he calleth the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

Exod. 3.

38 for he is not a God of dead, but of liuing: for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the pharisees answering, said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, durst they not aske him any question at all.

The xxj. Chapter.

2 The liberalitie of the poore widow. 27 Of the end of the world.

A She looked vp, * he saw the rich men, which cast their gifts into the treasure.
2 Hee sawe also a certaine poore widow, calling in thither two mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth, I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath put in more then they all.

4 For all these haue of their superfluitie cast in vnto the offerings of God, but she of her penu-rie hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

5 * And vnto some that spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones and gifts, he said,

6 As for those things which ye behold, the dayes will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwen downe.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, when shall these things be? and what signe will there be, when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heede that ye be not de-ceiued: for many shall come in my name, saying,
I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: goe ye

9 But when ye shall heare of warres and se-

10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise

11 * And great earthquakes shall be in diuers places, and hungers, and pestilences, and fearethe mountaines, and let them which are in the midst of it, depart out, and let not them that are in other countreys, enter therein.

22 For these bee the dayes of vengeance, the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexitie, the sea and the water roaring,

26 And mens hearts failing them for feare, and for looking after those things which are com-ming on the world: for the powers of heauen shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the sonne of man comming in a cloude, with power and great glorie.

28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, and lift vp your heads, * for your redemption draweth nigh.

the figge tree, and all the trees,

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things

He feast of sweete bread is to night, which is called the Pascheover.

2 And the high Priests and Scribes sought howe they might kill him, for they feared the people.

3 * Then entred Satan into Judas, whose surname was Iscarot, being of the number of the twelue.

4 * And hee went his way, and communed with the high priests & captaines, howe he might betray him vnto them.

5 And they were glad, and promised to giue him money.

6 And hee consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them without tumult.

7 * Then came the day of sweet bread, when of necessitie the Pascheover must be killed.

8 And hee sent Peter and John, saying, Goe and prepare vs the Pascheover, that we may eate.

9 They said vnto him, where wilt thou that we should prepare it?

10 And he said vnto them, Behold, when ye are entred into the citie, there shall a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water, him follow into the same house that he entrech in.

11 And ye shall say vnto the good man of the house, The master saith vnto thee, where is the ghest chamber, where I shall eate the Pascheover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a great upper chamber prepared, there make readie.

13 And they went, and found as hee had said vnto them, and they made readie the Pascheover.

14 * And when the houre was come, he sate downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.

15 And he said vnto them, with hearty desire, I haue desired to eate this Pascheover with you before that I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not in any wise eate of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

17 And when hee had taken the cup, and giuen thanks, he said, Take this, and diuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I will not in any wise drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntill the kingdome of God shall come.

19 * And when hee had taken bread, and giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue vnto them, saying, This is my body which is giuen for you, this do in the remembrance of me.

20 Like wise also when hee had supped, hee tooke the cup, saying, This cup is the new Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 * Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table.

22 And truly the sonne of man goeth as it is appointed, but woe vnto that man by whom he is betrayed.

23 And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was that should doe this thing.

24 * And there was a strife among them, which of them should seeme to be the greatest.

25 * And hee said vnto them, The kings of nations be lords over them, and they that haue authoritie vpon them, are called benefactors.

26 But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, shall be as the younger, and he that is chiefe, shall be as he that doth minister.

27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meate, or he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at meate? But I am among you as he that ministereth.

28 Ye are they which haue continually bid- den with me in my temptations.

29 And I appoint vnto you a kingdome, as my father hath appointed vnto me, 30 That ye may eate and drinke at my table in my kingdome, * and sit on seates, iudging the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 * And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath earnestly desired to sift you, as it were wheate:

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith should not faile, and when thou art conuerted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And hee sayde vnto him, Lord, I am readie to goe with thee both into prison, and to death.

34 * And he said, I tell thee Peter, the Cocke shall in no wise crow this day, before that thou shalt thise denie that thou knowest me.

35 * And he said vnto them, when I sent you without wallet, and scrip, and shoes, lached ye any thing? And they said, No.

36 Then said he vnto them, But now he that hath a wallet, let him take it by, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath none, let him sell his coate, and buy a sword.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is writen must be performed in mee, which is, * Euen among the wicked was he reputed: for those things which are writen of me, haue an end.

38 And they said, Lord, beholde, here are two swords, And he said vnto them, It is enough.

39 * And hee came out, and went as hee was wont to mount Olivet, and his disciples fol- lowed him.

40 * And when hee came to the place, hee sayd vnto them, Pray, leas ye fall into temptation.

41 And hee was pulled away from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou wilt, remoue this cup from mee; neuertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, comforting him.

44 And hee was in an agonie, and hee prayed moze earnestly, and his sweate was like droppes of blood, trickling downe to the ground.

45 And when hee rose by from prayer, and was come to his disciples, hee found them sleeping for heavinesse, 46 And said vnto them, why sleepe ye? Rise, and pray, leas ye fall into temptation.

47 While hee yet spake, behold, * there came a company, and hee that was called Judas, one of the twelue, went before them, and pressed nigh vnto Iesus, to kille him.

48 But Iesus said vnto him, Judas, betrayest thou the sonne of man with a kisse?

49 When they which were about him, sawe what would follow, they said vnto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 And one of them smote the seruant of the high Priest, and tooke away his right eare.

51 Jesus answered, and sayd, Suffer ye thus farre forth. And when he touched his eare, he healed him.

52 When Jesus said vnto the high priests and rulers of the temple, and the elders which were come to him, Bee yett come out as vnto a thiefe, with swords and stauers?

53 When I was dayly with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is euen your very houre, and the power of darthenesse.

54 * When tooke they him, and led him, and brought him to the high priests house, and Peter followed as farre off.

55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set downe together, Peter also satte downe among them.

56 But when a certain wench beheld him as hee satte by the fire, & earnestly looked vpon him, she said, This same fellow was also with him.

57 And hee denied him saying, woman, I know him not.

58 And after a while another sawe him, and sayd, Thou art also of them. And Peter sayde, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an houre after, another affirmed, saying, verely this fellow was with him also: for he is of Galilee.

60 And Peter sayd, Man, I wote not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yett spake, the Cocke crew.

61 And the Lord turned backe, and looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembred the word of the Lord, how hee had sayd vnto him, * Before the Cocke crewe, thou shalt denie me thrise.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that helde Jesus, mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they strooke him on the face, and asked him, saying, Arcade, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 * And alsoone as it was day, the elders of the people, and the high priests, and the Scribes came together, and led him into their councill, saying,

67 Art thou very Christ? Tell vs. And he said vnto them, If I tell you, you will not beleue in any wise.

68 And if I aske you, you wil not in any wise answer me, nor let me goe.

69 Hereafter shall the sonne of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they al, Art thou then the sonne of God? He sayd, Ye say that I am.

71 And they said, What neede we any further witness? for we our selues haue heard of his owne mouth.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

Iesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod.

AND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

1 And they began to accuse him, saying, wee found this felow peruerterting the people, * and forbidding to giue tribute to Cesar, saying that hee is Christ a king.

3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Hee answered him, and sayd, Thou sayest it.

4 Then sayd Pilate to the high Priests, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the moze fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching thozowout all Iurie, and began at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 When Pilate heard mention of Galilee, he asked whether the man were of Galilee.

7 And alsoone as he knew that he belonged vnto Herods iurisdiction, he sent him to Herode, which was also at Hierusalem at that time.

8 And when Herod sawe Jesus, hee was exceeding glad, for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because hee had heard many things of him, and hee trusted to haue scene some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 The high priests and Scribes stood forth, and accused him traitly.

11 And Herod with his men of warre despised him, and when he had mocked him, he arrayed him in white clothing, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 * And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together, for before they were at variance betweene themselves.

13 And Pilate, when hee had called together the high Priests, and the rulers, and the people,

14 Sayd vnto them, Bee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerteth the people, and behold, I hauing examined him before you, haue found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him, 15 No, nor yett Herod: for I sent you to him, and loe, nothing worthis of death is done to him.

16 I will therefore chassen him, and let him loose.

17 For of necessitie he must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.

18 And all the people cried aloude, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas, 19 which for a certaine insurrection made in the cite, and for murder was cast in prison.

20 Pilate therfore spake againe to them, willing to let Jesus loose.

21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 He sayd vnto them the third time, what euil hath he done? I haue found no cause of death in him, I will therefore chassen him, and let him goe.

23 And they were instant with loud boices, requiring that hee might bee crucified, and the boices of them, and of the high Priests, preuailed.

24 And Pilate gaue sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And hee let loose vnto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they had deliued, and he deliuered Jesus to their will.

26 * And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him they layd the crosse, that hee might beare it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great companie of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued other men, let him saue himselfe, if hee be verie Christ, the chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger, 41 And we truely are righteously punished, for we receiue according to our deeds, but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he sayd vnto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdome.

43 And Jesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

45 And the Sunne was darkened, and the baile of the temple was rent, euen thozow the middes.

50 *And beholde, there was a man named Joseph, a counseller, and hee was a good man, and a iust,

51 (The same had not consented to the counsell and deed of them) which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Jewes, which same also waited for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And when he had taken it downe, he wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and layd it in a sepulchre that was hewen in stone, wherein neuer man before was layd.

54 And that day was the preparing of the Sabbooth, and the Sabbooth drew on.

55 The women that followed after, which had come with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was layd.

56 And they returned, and prepared sweete odours and ointments, but rested the Sabbooth day, according to the commandement.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

13 Christ appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emaus.

13 * Upon the * first day of the Sabbooths, very early in the morning, they came vnto the sepulchre, bringing the sweete odours, which they had prepared, and other women with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they went in, but found not the bodie of the Lord Iesu.

4 And it came to passe, as they were amazed thereat, beholde, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they sayde vnto them, Why seeke ye the liuing among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: * Remember how he spake vnto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, The Sonne of man must bee deliuered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise.

8 And they remembered his wordes,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things vnto those eleuen, and to all the remnant.

10 It was Marie Magdalene, and Joanna, & Marie Jacobi, & other that were with them, which told these things vnto the Apostles.

11 And their wordes seemed to them fained things, neither beleued they them.

12 * Then arose Peter, and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and when he had looked in, hee sawe the linnen clothes layd by themselves, and departed, wondering in himselfe at that which was come to passe.

13 * And beholde, two of them went that same day to a billage called Emaus, which was from Hierusalem about threescore & furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things that had come to passe.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himselfe drew ncare, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

onely a stranger in Hierusalem, and hast not knowen the thinges which are come to passe there in these dayes?

19 He saide vnto them, what thinges? And they said vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet, mightie in dede & word before God and all the people.

20 And how the high Priests and our rulers deliuered him to bee condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had bene he which should haue redeemed Israel: and as touching all these thinges, to day is euen the third day since they were done.

22 Yea, and certaine women also of our companie made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre, 23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying that they had seene a vision of Angels, which say that he was aliue.

24 And certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the woman had sayde, but him they saw not.

25 And he saide vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart, to beleuee all that the Prophets haue spoken:

26 Dought not Christ to haue suffered these thinges, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he began at Moses, and all the Prophets, and thoroughly interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures, those thinges which were written of himselfe.

28 And they drew nigh vnto the billage, which they went vnto, and he made as though he would haue gone further.

29 And they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs, for it draweth toward night, and the day is farre passed: And he went in to tarie with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sate at meate with them, he tooke bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gaue to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, & they knee to him, and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one vnto another, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose by the same houre, and returned againe to Hierusalem, and found the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them,

34 Saying, The Lord is risen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they tolde what thinges were done in the way, and how he was knowen of them in the breaking of the bread.

36 * And as they thus spake, Iesus himselfe stood in the mids of them, and saith vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

37 But they were abashed and astraide, and supposed that they had seene a spirit.

38 And hee sayde vnto them, why are yee troubled, and why doe thoughts arise in your heartes?

39 Behold my hands and my feete, that it is euen I my selfe: handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feete.

41 And while they yet beleueed not for ioy, and wondered, he said vnto them, Haue ye here any meate?

42 And they offered him a peece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe.

43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.

44 And he saide vnto them, These are the wordes which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all must needs be fulfilled which were written of me in the law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened he their wits, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise from death the third day:

47 And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations, and must begin at Hierusalem.

48 And ye are witnesses of these things.

49 * And beholde, I will send the promise of my father vpon you: But tarie ye in the citie of Hierusalem, vntill yee be endued with power from on high.

50 And he led them out into Bethanie, and lift vp his hands, and blessed them.

51 * And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was caried by into heauen.

52 And when they had worshipped him, they returned to Hierusalem, with great ioy:

53 And were continually in the Temple, praising and lauding God, Amen.

The Gospel by Saint Iohn.

The first Chapter.

1 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christ. 15 The testimonie of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, Philip, and Nachanael.

In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and God was that word.

2 * The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without it, was made nothing that was made.

4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darknesse, and the darknesse comprehendeth it not.

6 * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnessse, that hee should beare witnessse of the light, that all men through him might beleue.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witnessse of the light.

9 That light was the true light, which lighteth euery man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 Hee came into his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them gaue he power to be the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleued on his Name, 13 which were borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor yet of the will of man, but of God.

14 * And the same worde became flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we saw the glory of it, as the glory of the onely begotten Sonne that came from the father) full of grace and trueth.

15 Iohn beareth witnessse of him, and cryed, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me, is preferred before me, for he was before me.

16 And of his fulnesse haue all we receiued, and grace for grace.

17 For the Lambe was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.

18 * No man hath seene God at any time, the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the record of Iohn, when the Jewes sent Priests and Leuites from Ierusalem to aske him, what art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denyed not, and said plainly, I am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, what art thou? Art thou Elias? And hee sayeth, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, what art thou, that we may giue an answer to them that sent vs? what sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 * Hee sayd, I am the voice of a cryer in the wilderness: Make straight the way of the Lord, as sayd the Prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and sayd vnto him, why baptizest thou then, if thou bee not that Christ, nor Elias, neither a Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whome ye know not,

27 * He it is, which though he came after me, was before mee, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordane, where Iohn was baptizing.

29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayth, Behold the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is hee of whom I sayde, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before mee: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 * And Iohn bare record saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heauen, like vnto a Dove, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same sayde vnto me, Upon whome thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and tarying still on him, the same is hee which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare record, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The next day after, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples.

36 And when he beheld Iesus walking, hee sayth, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and they followed Iesus.

38 And Iesus, when hee turned about, and sawe them following him, sayeth vnto them, what seeke yee? They sayde vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say if one interprete it, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He sayth vnto them, Come and see. They came, and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth houre.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn speake, and folowed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and sayth vnto him, we haue found the Messias, which is by interpretation, the anointed.

42 And brought him to Iesus. And when Iesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the sonne of Iona, thou shalt bee called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 The day following, Iesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and sayeth 46 And Nathanael sayd vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip sayth vnto him, Come and see.

The ij. Chapter.

Christ turneth water into wine.

And the third day was there a marriage in Cana || a citie of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

2 And both Jesus was called and his disciples vnto the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus sayth vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Jesus sayeth vnto her, woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayeth vnto the || ministers, whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there six water pottes of stone, after the maner of the purifying of the Jewes, conteyning two or thre || Urkins apiece.

7 Jesus sayeth vnto them, fill the water pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brimme.

8 And he sayth vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (and knewe not whence it was, but the ministers which drawe the water knew) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bidegrome,

10 And saith vnto him, Euery man at the beginning doth set forth good wine, and when the gueskes haue well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 After this he went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.

13 And the Jewes passeouer was at hand, and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem,

14 And found sitting in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doves, and changers of money.

15 And when he had made as it were a scourge of small cordes, hee droue them all out of the Temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:

16 And said vnto them that sold doves, Haue these things hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandize.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, * The zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me.

18 Then answered the Jewes, and sayd vnto him, What token seest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them, * Destroy this temple, and in thre dayes I will reare it vp.

20 Then sayde the Jewes, fourtie and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, & wilt thou reare it vp in thre dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from death, his disciples remembered that he thus had sayd: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the words which Jesus had sayd.

23 When he was in Hierusalem at the Passouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they saw his miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knewe all men, 25 And needed not that any should testifye of man: for he knewe what was in man.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Christ teacheth Nicodemus. 16 The loue of God toward the world.

Here was a man of the Pharises, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jewes:

2 The same came to Jesus by night, and sayd vnto him, Rabbi, wee knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doe these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Jesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he cannot see the kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus sayth vnto him, How can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter the second time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

5 Jesus answered, verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that which is borne of the spirit, is spirit.

7 Marueille not thou that I sayd vnto thee, Ye must be borne from aboue.

8 The winde bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and sayd vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things :

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that wee doe knowe, and testifie that wee haue seene : and ye receiue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue told you earthly things, and ye beleeue not : how shall ye beleeue if I tell you of heauenly things :

13 And no man hath ascended vp to heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, euen the sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 * And as Moses lift by the serpent in the wilderness : euen so must the sonne of man be lifted by :

15 That whosoever beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 * † For God so loued the worlde, that hee gaue his onely begotten sonne : that whosoever beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euertlasting life.

17 For God sent not his sonne into the worlde to condemne the worlde : but that the worlde through him might be saued.

18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned : but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the onely begotten sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the world, and men loued darknesse rather then light : because their deedes were euill.

20 For every one that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, leass his deedes should be repproued.

21 But he that doeth truely, commeth to the light, that his deedes may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iurie, and there he taried with them, and baptized.

23 * And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neere to Salim, because there was much water there : and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yett call into prison.

25 And there arose a questiō betwene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and sayd vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, * to whome thou barest witnesse, behold, the same baptiseth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, and sayd, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him fro heauen.

28 Ye your selues are witnesses, how that I sayd, * I am not that Christ, but am sent befoze him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome : but the friend of the bridegrome, which standeth and heareth him, reioiceth greatly because of the bridegromes voice : This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must encrease, but I must decrease.

31 He that commeth from on high, is aboue all : hee that is of the earth, is earthly, and speaketh of the earth : hee that commeth from heauen, is aboue all :

32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth, and no man receiueh his testimony.

33 Hee that hath receiued his testimony, * hath set to his seale, that God is true.

34 For hee whome God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God : for God giueth not the spirit by measure vnto him.

35 * The father loueth the sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.

36 * He that beleeueth on the sonne, hath euertlasting life : he that beleeueth not the sonne, shall not see life : but the wrath of God abideth on him.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 Christ wearied, asketh water of the woman of Samaria. 10 The liuely water,

After that the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Iesus made and baptized moe disciples then Iohn,

8 (Though that Iesus himselfe baptized not, but his disciples.)

9 Hee left Iury, and departed againe into Galilee.

10 For it was so that he must needs go thorow Samaria.

11 Then commeth hee to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, neere to the possession * that Iacob gaue to his sonne Joseph.

12 And there was Jacobs well. Iesus then being weary of his iourney, sat thus on the well : and it was about the sixth houre.

13 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to draw water : Iesus sayth vnto her, Giue me drinke.

14 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buy meat.

15 Then saith the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it that thou, being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria : for the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.

16 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayeth to thee, Giue mee drinke : thou wouldest haue asked of him, and hee would haue giuen thee water of life.

17 The woman sayeth vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the well is deepe : from whence then hast thou that water of life :

18 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he himselfe drank thereof, and his children, and his cattell :

19 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe :

20 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be moze athirst : but the water that I shall giue him, shall bee in him a well of water springing vp into euertlasting life.

21 The woman sayeth vnto him, Sir, giue me of that water that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

22 Iesus sayeth vnto her, Doe, call thy husband, and come hither.

23 The woman answered, and said vnto him, I haue no husband. Iesus sayd vnto her, Thou hast well sayd, I haue no husband.

24 For thou hast had sixe husbands : and hee whome thou now hast, is not thy husband : In that saydest thou truely.

25 The woman sayth vnto him, Sir, I perceiue that thou art a Prophet.

21 Jesus sayeth vnto her, woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Hierusalem worship the father.

22 * Ye worship ye toote not what: we know what we worship: for saluation commeth of the Jewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit, and in trueth: for such the father also requireth to worship him.

24 * God is a spirite, and they that worshippe him, must worshippe him in spirite, and in the trueth.

25 The woman sayth vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Jesus sayeth vnto her, I that speake vnto thee, am he.

27 And immediately came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man sayd, what seekest thou, or, why talkedst thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water pottle, and went her way into the citie, and sayth to the men, 29 Come, see a man which told me all things that euer I did: Is not he that Christ?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

31 In the meane while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.

32 He sayde vnto them, I haue meat to eate that ye wote not of.

33 Therefore sayde his disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?

34 Jesus sayth vnto them, My meat is that I doe the will of him that sent me, and finish his worke.

35 Say not yee, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth haruest? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: * for they are white already vnto haruest.

36 And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, and gathereth fruit vnto life eternall: that both hee that soweth, and he that reapeth, might reioyce together.

37 And herein is the saying true, That one soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entred into their labours.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, That he told me all that euer I did.

40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that hee would carrie with them: and he abode there two daies.

41 And many moe beleeued, because of his owne worde:

42 And sayd vnto the woman, Now wee beleeue, not because of thy saying: for wee haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is euen that Christ, the Sautour of the world.

43 After two dayes hee departed thence, and went away into Galilee.

44 * For Jesus himselfe testified, that a p<sup>ro</sup>

phet hath none honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when hee was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, when they had scene all the things that hee did at Hierusalem at the feast: for they went also vnto the feast day.

46 * So Jesus came againe into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When the same heard that Jesus was come out of Iurie into Galilee, hee went vnto him, and besought him that hee would come downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen at the point of death.

48 Then sayde Jesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, yee will in no wise beleeue.

49 The ruler sayeth vnto him, Syr, come downe or euer that my sonne die.

50 Jesus sayeth vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleeued the worde that Jesus had spoken vnto him, and hec went his way.

51 And as he was now going downe, the seruants met him, and told him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

52 Then enquired hee of them the houre when hee began to amend: and they sayde vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 So the father knewe, that it was done the same houre, in the which Jesus sayde vnto him, Thy sonne liueth: and he beleeued, and all his houthold.

54 This is againe the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Iurie into Galilee.

The v. Chapter.

Christ healeth on the Sabbath day the man that was sicke thirtie and eight yeeres.

After this, there was a feast day of the Jewes, and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem.

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the sheep marker, a poole, which is called in the hebrue tongue Bethesda, hauing five porches:

3 In which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the moouing of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diseased thirtie and eight yeeres.

6 When Jesus saw him lye, and knewe that hee now long time had bene diseased, hee sayeth vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Syr, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put mee into the poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Jesus sayeth vnto him, Rise, take by thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke by his bedde, and walked: And on the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Jewes therefore sayd vnto him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day, * it is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

11 Hee answered them, Hee that made me whole, sayd vnto me, Take vp thy bed, & walke.

12 Then asked they him, what man is that which sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bedde, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wist not who it was: for Iesus had gotten hymselfe away, because that there was a p'ease of people in that place.

14 Afterward Iesus findeth him in the temple, and sayd vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Jewes that it was Iesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jewes persecute Iesus, and sought the meanes to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 Iesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Jewes sought the more to kill him, not onely because hee had broken the Sabbath, but sayde also, that God was his father, and making hymselfe equall with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of hymselfe, but that hee seeth the father doe: for whatsoeuer he doeth, that also doth the sonne like wise.

20 For the father loveth the sonne, and he w'eth him all things that he hymselfe doth: and he will shewe him greater workes then these, because ye should maruile.

21 For like wise as the father raiseth by the dead, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whome he will.

22 Neither iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto the sonne.

23 Because that all men should honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. Hee that honoureth not the sonne, the same honoureth not the father which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, Hee that heareth my worde, and beleueth on him that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto life.

25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, The houre is comming, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voic of the sonne of God: and they that heare, shall liue.

26 For as the father hath life in hymselfe: so like wise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in hymselfe:

27 And hath giuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man.

28 Maruile not at this: for the houre is comming, in the which al that are in the graues shall heare his voic.

29 And shall come forth, * they that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine owne selfe doe nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the father, which hath sent me.

31 * If I heare witness of my selfe, my witness is not true.

32 * There is another that beareth witness of me, and I am sure that the witness which he witnesseth of me, is true.

33 * He sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witness vnto the truth.

34 But I receiue not the record of man: neither thelesse, these things I say, that ye might be saued.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye would for a season haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witness then the witness of Iohn: for the workes which the father hath giuen me to finish, the same workes that I doe, beare witness of me, that the father hath sent me.

37 And the father hymselfe which hath sent mee, * hath borne witness of me. Ye haue not heard his voice at any time, * nor seen his face.

38 And his word haue ye not abiding in you: for whome he hath sent, him ye beleue not.

39 Search the Scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternall life, and they are they which testify of me.

40 And yet will ye not come to me, that ye might haue life.

41 I receiue not the praise of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my fathers name, & ye receiue me not: * if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue.

44 How can ye beleue, which receiue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?

45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses, in whome ye trust.

46 For had ye beleued Moses, ye would haue beleued me: * for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleue not his writings, how shall ye beleue my words?

The vi. Chapter.

29 Faith is the worke of God. 35 Of the bread of life. 40 Of faith.

After these things, Iesus went his way ouer the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias:

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which hee did on them that were diseased.

3 And Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.

4 And the pallcouer, * a feall of the Jewes, was nigh.

5 * When Iesus then lift by his eyes, and saue a great company come vnto him, he sayth vnto Phillip, whence shall we buy bread, that these may eate?

6 (This he sayd to prouue him: for hee hymselfe knew what he would doe.)

7 Phillip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that every man may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, And we, Simon Peters brother, sayth vnto him, Leuit. 13. 2 deut. 16. 1 The Gospel on the xxv. Sunday after Trinitie. Mat. 14. 14 mark. 6. 34 luke 9. 13 a. His answer amounteth to about this o There!

9 There is a little lad here, which hath fiue barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus sayde, Make the people sit downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousand.

11 And Jesus tooke the bread, and when hee had giuen thanks, hee distributed to the Disciples; and the Disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaves, which broken meate remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 When those men, when they had seene the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a trueth the same Prophet that should come into the world.

15 When Jesus therefore perceined that they would come and take him by force, to make him King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 * And when euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the Sea, 17 And gate vp into a ship, and went ouer the Sea towards Capernaum: and it was nowe darke, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the Sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about xxx. or xxx. furlongs, they sawe Jesus walking on the Sea, and drawing nigh vnto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But hee saith vnto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 And they would haue receiued him into the ship, and immediatly the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the Sea, saw that there was none other ship there, saue that one wherinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not in with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 Howbeit, there came other ships from Cebrias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lord had giuen thanks.

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the Sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke mee, not because ye saw the miracles, but because yee did eate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for that meate which endureth vnto euerlasting life, which meate the Sonne of man shall giue vnto you: * for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then saide they vnto him, What shall wee do, that we might worke the workes of God?

29 Jesus answered, and saide vnto them,

* This is the worke of God, that ye beleue on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that wee may see, and beleue thee? What doest thou worke?

31 Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is written, * He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

32 When Jesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not that bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then said they vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Jesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger in any wise: * and he that beleueth on me, shall neuer thirst.

36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seen me, and yet ye beleue not.

37 All that the Father giueth me, shall come to me, and him that commeth to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but the will of him that ient me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen mee, I shall lose nothing, but raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent mee, that euery one which seeth the Sonne, and beleueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Jewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread of life which came downe from heauen.

42 And they saide, * Is not this Jesus, the sonne of Joseph, whose father and mother we knowe? Howe is it then that he saith, I came downe from heauen?

43 Jesus answered, & saide vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the Prophets, * And they shall be all taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, commeth vnto me, 46 Not that any man hath seene the Father, * saue he which is of God, the same hath seene the Father.

47 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat * Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is that bread which cometh downe from heauen, that if any man eate thereof, hee should not die.

51 I am that liuing bread, which came down from heauen. If any man eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I wil giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

52 The Jewes therefore stroue amongst themselves, saying, Howe can this fellow giue

53 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.

54 * Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinke my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat in deed, and my blood is drinke in deed.

56 Hee that eateth my flesh, and drinke my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the liuing father hath sent mee, and I liue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth mee, shall liue by the meanes of me.

58 This is that bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eat Manna, and are dead: hee that eateth of this bread, shall liue euer.

59 These things saide he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can abide the hearing of it?'

66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, and walked no moze with him.

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternall life:

69 * And wee beleuee and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Sonne of the louing God.

70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I chosen you Twelue, and one of you is a deuil?'

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the Twelue.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Iesus fled the murmuring Iewes. 5 Christs kinde men beleued not on him.

After these things, Iesus went about in Galilee: for he would not go about in Iurie, because that the Iewes sought to kill him.

2 The Iewes feast of Tabernacles * was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore said vnto him, Get thee hence, and go into Iurie, that thy disciples also may see the wordes that thou doest.

4 There is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and hee himselfe seeketh to be knowen openly: If thou do such things, shewe thy selfe to the world.

5 For neither his brethren beleued in him.

6 When Iesus saide vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the worlde thereofe euill.

8 Soe ye be vnto this feast: I goe not by yet vnto this feast, * for my time is not yet ful come.

9 When he had said these wordes vnto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone by, then went hee also by vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then sought him the Iewes at the feast, and said, where is he?'

12 And much murmuring of him was there among the people: for some said, He is good: Other said, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Iewes.

14 Nowe when halfe of the feast was done, Iesus went by into the Temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marvelled, saying, How knoweth he the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?'

16 Iesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnesse is in him.

19 * Did not Moses giue you the Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? * Why go ye about to kill me?'

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast the deuil: who goeth about to kill thee?'

21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I haue done one worke, and ye all maruile.

22 * Moses therefore gaue vnto you the Circumcision (not because it is of Moses, * but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath day receiue circumcision, without breaking of the Law of Moses: disdain ye at me, because I haue made a man every whit whole on the Sabbath day?'

24 * Iudge not after the vnder appearance, but iudge with a righteous iudgement.

25 Then said some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they go about to kill?'

26 But so, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing vnto him: So the rulers know in deed that this is very Christ?'

27 Howbeit, we know this man whence he is: but when Christ commeth, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye know both me, and whence I am ye know, and I am not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him, for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laied hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Many of the people beleued on him, and said, when Christ commeth, will hee do mo miracles then these that this man hath done?'

33 Then said Iesus vnto them , Yet am I a little while with you , and then I goe vnto him that sent me.

34 * Ye shall seeke me , and shall not finde me : and where I am , thither can ye not come.

35 Then said the Iewes among themselves , Whither wil he goe , that we shall not finde him : wil he goe vnto the dispersed among the Grecians , and teach the Gentiles ?

36 What maner of saying is this that he said , Ye shall seeke mee , and shall not finde mee ? and where I am , thither can ye not come.

37 In the last day , that great day of the feast , Iesus stood , and cried , saying , If any man thirst , let him come vnto me , and drinke.

38 * He that beleueth on me , as the Scripture hath saide , out of his belly shall flow riuers of wa ter of life.

39 (* But this spake he of the Spirit which they that beleue on him , should receiue . for the holy Ghost was not yet there , because that Iesus was not yet glorified .)

40 Many of the people therefore , when they heard this saying , said , Of a trueth this is the Prophet .

41 But other said , This is Christ . But some said , Shall Christ come out of Galilee ?

42 * Hath not the Scripture said , that Christ commeth of the seede of Dauid , and out of the towne of Bethlehem , where Dauid was ?

43 So was there dissention among the people because of him .

44 And some of them would haue taken him , but no man layed hands on him .

45 Then came the seruants to the high Priests and Pharisees , and they saide vnto them , why haue ye not brought him ?

46 The seruants answered , neuer man spake as this man doeth .

47 Then answered them the Pharisees , Are ye also deceiued ?

48 Haue any of the rulers or of the Pharisees beleued on him ?

49 But this common people which know not the Law , are cursed .

50 Nicodemus saith vnto them , (* Hee that came to Iesus by night , being one of them .)

51 Doeth our Lawe iudge any man before it heare him , * and know what he doeth ?

52 They answered , and saide vnto him , Art thou also of Galilee ? Search , and looke : for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet .

53 And euery man went vnto his owne house .

The viij. Chapter.

12 Christ the light of the world. 56 Abraham did see Christs day.

Jesus went out vnto Mount Oliuet :

2 And early in the morning he came againe into the Temple , and all the people came vnto him , and he saide vnto them , and taught them .

3 And the Scribes and Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adultery , and when they had set her in the middes ,

4 They said vnto him , Maister , this woman was taken in adulterie , euen as the deed was a doing .

5 * Moses in the Law commanded vs that such should be stoned : but what sayest thou ?

6 This they saide , tempting him , that they might accuse him . But Iesus stouped downe , and with his finger wrote on the ground , as though he heard them not .

7 So when they continued asking him , he list by himselfe , and saide vnto them , * Let him that is among you without sinne , cast the first stone at her .

8 And againe , he stouped downe , and wrote on the ground .

9 And when they heard this , being accused of their owne consciences , they went out one by one , beginning at the eldest , euen vnto the last : and Iesus was left alone , and the woman standing in the mids .

10 When Iesus had list by himselfe , and saw no man but the woman , he said vnto her , woman , where are those thine accusers ? hath no man condemned thee ?

11 She said , No man , Lord . And Iesus said , Neither do I condemne thee : Goe , and sinne no more .

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them , saying , * I am the light of the world : hee that followeth me , shall not in any wise walke in darkness , but shall haue the light of life .

13 The Pharisees therefore saide vnto him , Thou bearest record of thy selfe , thy record is not true .

14 Iesus answered , and sayde vnto them , * Though I beare record of my selfe , yet my record is true : for I knowe whence I came , and whither I goe : but ye cannot tel whence I come , and whither I goe .

15 Yee iudge after the flesh , but I iudge no man .

16 And if I iudge , my iudgment is true : for I am not alone , but I & the father that sent me .

17 * It is also written in your Law , that the testimony of two men is true .

18 I am one that beareth witness of my selfe , and the father that sent mee , beareth witness of me .

19 Then said they vnto him , where is thy father ? Iesus answered , Ye neither know me , nor yet my father : if ye had knowen me , yee should haue knowen my father also .

20 These words spake Iesus in the treasury , as he taught in the Temple : and no man layde hands on him , for his houre was not yet come .

21 Then said Iesus againe vnto them , I goe my way , and ye shall seeke me , and shall die in your sinnes : whither I goe , thither can ye not come .

22 Then said the Iewes , wil he kil himselfe , because he saith , whither I goe , thither can ye not come ?

23 And hee saide vnto them , Ye are from beneath , I am from aboue : ye are of this world , I am not of this world .

24 I said therefore vnto you , that ye shall die in your sinnes . for if ye beleue not that I am he , ye shall die in your sinnes .

25 Then said they vnto him , who art thou ? And Iesus sayeth vnto them , Euen the very same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning .

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: Pea, and he that sent me is true, and I speake to the world those things which I haue heard of him.

27 Howbeit, they vnderstood not that he spake to them of his father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, when ye haue lift vp on high the Sonne of man, then shall yee know that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe: but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these things.

29 And he that sent me, is with mee: the father hath not left mee alone: for I doe alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake those wordes, many beleued on him.

31 Then saide Iesus to those Iewes which beleued on him, If yee continue in my word, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And yee shall knowe the Trueth, and the Trueth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, we be Abrahams seed, and were neuer bond to any man: how sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, * That whosoever committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth euer.

36 If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, then ye shall be free in deed.

37 I knowe that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke meanes to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saith vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, yee would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye goe about to kill mee, a man that hath toide you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deedes of your father. Then said they to him, we be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Iesus saide vnto them, If God were your father, truely ye would loue mee, for I proceeded south, and came from God: neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not know my speech? euen because ye cannot heare my word.

44 Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father wil ye do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. when he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, therefore ye beleue me not.

46 Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? If I say the trueth, why do ye not beleue me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say wee not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill: but I honour my father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glozy, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say vnto you, If a man keepe my saying, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then saide the Iewes vnto him, Some knowe wee that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my saying, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I glorifie my selfe, my glozy is nothing: It is my father that glorifieth me, which ye say, that he is your God:

55 And yet yee haue not knowen him, but I know him: and if I say that I know him not, I shall be a liar like vnto you: but I knowe him, and keepe his saying.

56 Your father Abraham was glad to see my day: and he saw it, and reioyced.

57 Then saide the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres old, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Iesus said vnto them, verily, verily I say vnto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then tooke they by stones to cast at him: but Iesus was hid, & went out of the Temple.

The ix. Chapter.

Christ restoreth sight vpon the Sabbath day to him that was borne blinde.

As Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his parents: but that the workes of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is day: The night commeth, when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, hee spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and hee anoynted the clay vpon the eyes of the blinde,

7 And saide vnto him, Goe wash thee in the pool of Siloe ( which by interpretation is as much to say, as sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 The neighbors therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: Other said, He is like him. He himselfe said, I am euen he.

10 Therefore said they vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anoynted mine eyes, and said vnto me, Goe to the pool of Siloe, and wash: and when I went and washed, I receiued my sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, where is he? He said, I cannot tel.

13 They brought to the pharisees him, that a litle before was blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the pharisees also asked him him how he had receiued his sight. He sayd vnto them. He put clay vpon mine eyes, and I walke, and doe see.

16 Therefore sayde some of the Pharisees. This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Other sayd. How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles: and there was a strife among them.

17 They say vnto the blind man againe. What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? He sayd. He is a Prophet.

18 But the Jewes did not beleue the man how that he had bene blinde, and receiued his sight, buttill they called the parents of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying. Is this your sonne, whom ye say that hee was borne blinde? how doeth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and sayd. We knowe that this is our sonne, and that hee was borne blind:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, wee cannot tell, or who hath opened his eyes cannot we tell, he is of age, aske him, he shall speake for himselfe.

22 Such wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Jewes: for the Jewes had agreed already, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore sayd his parents, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blinde, and sayde vnto him, Giue God the praise, we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered, and sayd, whether I be a sinner or no, I cannot tel: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blinde, now I see.

26 Then sayd they to him againe, what did he to thee? How opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I told you yer while, and ye did not heare: wherfore would you heare it againe? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, and sayd, Thou art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this fellow, wee knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, This is a marueilous thing, that yee wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 For wee be sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde:

33 If this man were not of God, he could doe nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, & doest thou teach vs? And they call him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had excommunicate him: and when he had found him, hee said vnto him, Doest thou beleue on the sonne of God?

36 He answered and said, who is hee, Lord, that I might beleue on him?

37 And Jesus sayd vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleue: and he worshipped him.

39 And Jesus sayd vnto him, * I am come vnto iudgement in this world, that they which see not, might see, & that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these words, and said vnto him. Are we blind also?

41 Jesus said vnto them, If ye were blind, ye should haue no sinne, but now ye ye say, we see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

The x. Chapter,

1 Christ the true shepheard, and the doore. 34 Princes called gods.

Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that entrecheth not in by the doore into the sheepfold, but climeth by some other way, the same is a thiefe and a robber.

2 But he that entrecheth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voice, and hee calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when hee shall put forth his owne sheepe, hee goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voice.

5 A stranger wil they in no wise follow, but will flee from him, for they knowe not the voice of strangers.

6 This prouerbe spake Jesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then sayd Jesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All, euen as many as came before me, are theeves and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by mee if any man enter in, he shall be safe, and shall goe in and goe out, and finde pasture.

10 The thiefe commeth not, but for to steale, kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.

11 I am the * good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for the sheepe.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and knowe my sheepe, and am knowen of mine.

19 There was a dissention therefore againe among the Iewes for these things.

21 Other sayd, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill. Can a deuill open the eyes of the blinde?

1. Mac. 4. 59

22 * And it was at Hierusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter:

23 And Iesus walked in the temple, euen in Salomons porch.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and sayd vnto him, How long doest thou make vs to doubt? If thou be Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I told you, and ye beleued not: the workes that I doe in my fathers name, they beare witness of me.

26 But ye beleuee not, because ye are not of my sheepe, as I sayd vnto you.

27 Why sheepe heare my voice, and I knowe them, and they follow me:

28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shall any man picke them out of my hand.

29 My father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hand.

30 I and my father are one.

31 Then the Iewes tooke by stones, to stone him withall.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my father, for which worke of them doe ye stone me?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For a good worke wee stone thee not, but for thy blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, makest thy selfe God.

Psal. 82. 6.

34 Iesus answered them, * Is it not written in your law, I sayd, ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, vnto whome the word of God was spoken, and the scripture cannot be broken:

36 Say ye of him, whom the father hath sanctified and sent into the worlde, Thou blasphemest: because I sayd, I am the sonne of God?

37 If I doe not the workes of my father, beleuee me not.

38 But if I doe, and ye beleuee not me, beleuee the workes: that ye may knowe and beleuee, that the father is in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: and he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away againe beyond Iordane, into the place where Iohn was first baptizing: and there he abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and sayd, Iohn did no miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleueed on him there.

The xj. Chapter.

43 Christ raised Lazarus from death. 45 Certaine Iewes beleuee Christ.

Certaine man was sicke named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her suster Martha.

2 (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his suster sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, hee whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard that, hee sayd, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Iesus loued Martha, and her suster, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, saith he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iurie againe.

8 His disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, & goest thou thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? If any man walke in the day, hee stumbleth not, because hee seeth the light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he, & after that, he sayth vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeeth, but I goe, that I may awake him out of sleepe.

12 Then sayd his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall doe well enough.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.

14 Then sayd Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead:

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there (because ye may beleuee:) Neuertheless, let vs goe vnto him.

16 Then sayd Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his fellow disciples, Let vs also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Iesus came, he found that hee had lien in the graue foure dayes already.

18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about fifteene furlongs off.)

19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.

20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Mary saue still in the house.

21 Then sayd Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not died.

22 But euen now I know, that whatsoever thou wilt aske of God, God wil giue it thee.

23 Iesus sayth vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha sayth vnto him, I knowe that hee shall rise againe in the * resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the * life: he that beleueth on me, yea, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And whosoever liueth, and beleueth on me, shall neuer die. Beleueest thou this?

27 She sayth vnto him, Yea Lord, I beleuee that thou art Christ the sonne of God, which should come into the worlde.

28 And when shee had so sayd, shee went her way, and called Marie her suster secretly, saying, The master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soone as she heard that, she ariseth quickly, and commeth vnto him.

30 Jesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Mary that she rose by hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 When when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fel downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jewes also weeping which came with her, he groined in the Spirit, and was troubled in himselfe, 34 And said, where haue ye layed him? They say vnto him, Lord, Come, and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jewes, Behold, how he loued him.

37 And some of them saide, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue caused that this man also should not haue died?

38 Jesus therefore againe groning in himselfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone layed on it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, sayeth vnto him, Lord, by this time hee sinketh: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.

40 Jesus saith vnto her, Saide I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldst beleue, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was layde. And Jesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, that thou hast heard me.

42 Howbeit, I know that thou hearest me alwayes: but because of the people which stand by, I saide it, that they may beleue that thou hast sent me.

43 And when hee thus had spoken, hee cried with a lowd voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with graue clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus sayeth vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

45 Then many of the Jewes which came to Mary, and had seene the things which Jesus did, beleued on him.

46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and tolde them what Jesus had done.

47 Then gathered the high Prielles and the Pharisees a counsell, and said, what do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him scape thus, all men will beleue on him, and the Romanes: shal come, and take away both our roome, and the people.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, We perceiue nothing at all,

50 For consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man should die for the people, and not that all the nation perish.

51 This spake he not of himselfe: but being high Priest that same yeere, hee prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth, they tooke counsell together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jewes: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wildernesse, into a citie which is called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Jewes Easter was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey by to Hierusalem before the Easter, to purifie themselves.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the Temple, what thinke yee seeing hee cometh not to the feast day?

57 Both the high Prielles and the Pharisees had giuen a commandement, that if any man knewe where hee were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

The xij. Chapter.

3 Mary anoynteth Jesus feete. 37 Wherefore the Jewes beleue not.

When *Jesus, sixe dayes before the Passcouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had bene dead, whom hee raised from death.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Mary a pound of oymntment, of Spikenard, very costly, and anoynted Jesus feete, and wiped his feete cleane with her haire: and the house was filled with the odour of the oymntment.

4 Then sayeth one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne, which should betray him, 5 why was not this oymntment sold for thre hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 *This he saide, not that hee cared for the poore: but because he was a theefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then saide Jesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.

9 Much people of the Jewes therefore had knowledge that hee was there: and they came, not for Jesus sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he raised from death.

10 But the high Prielles held a counsell, that they might put Lazarus to death also, 11 Because that for his sake many of the Jewes went away, and beleued on Jesus.

12 *On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus commeth to Hierusalem, 13 tooke branches of Palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed is hee that commeth in the Name of the Lord, King of Israel.

14 And Jesus, when hee had founde a yong asse, sate thereon, as it is written, 15 *Feare not, daughter of Sion, behold, thy King commeth, sitting on an Asse colt.

16 These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that such things were written of him, and that such things they had done vnto him.

17 The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and raised him from death, bare record.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done such a miracle.

19 The Pharisees therfore said among themselves, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Behold, all the whole world is gone after him.

20 There came certain Greeks among them, that came to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therfore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida, a citie of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would faine see Iesus.

22 Philip commeth and telleth Andrew: and againe Andrew and Philip tolde Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except the wheat come fall into the ground, and die, it abideth alone: if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 * He that loueth his life, shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 If any man minister vnto me, let him follow me: and where I am, there shall also my minister be: If any man minister vnto me, him will my father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, saue mee from this houre, but therfore came I into this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voice from heauen, saying, I both haue glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 The people therfore that stood by, and heard it, sayd, that it thundered: other sayd, An angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered and sayd, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I were lift vp from the earth, will draw all men vnto me.

33 (This he sayd, signifying what death hee should die.)

34 The people answered him, * Wee haue heard out of the Law, that Christ bideth euer: and how sayest thou, The Sonne of man must be lift vp? who is that sonne of man?

35 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Yet a little while is the * light with you: walke while pee haue light, lest the darkenesse come on you: for he that walketh in the darke, woteth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye haue light, beleeue in the light, that ye may be the childe of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and was hid from them.

37 But though hee had done so many miracles before them, yet beleueed not they on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, * Lord, who hath beleueed our saying? and to whom hath the arme of the Lord bene declared?

39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias sayd againe, 40 * He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, and lest they should vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

41 Such things sayd Esaias, when hee saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Neuerthelesse, among the chiefe rulers also, many beleueed on him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confesse him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue.

43 * For they loued the praise of men, more then the praise of God.

44 Iesus cried, and sayd, He that beleeueth on mee, beleeueth not on mee, but on him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent mee.

46 I am come * a light into the world, that whoso euer beleeueth on me, should not bide in darknesse.

47 * And if any man heare my words, and beleeue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiuech not my words, hath one that iudgeth him: * the word that I haue spoken, the same shall iudge him in the last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the father which sent me, he gaue me a commandement what I should say, & what I should speake.

50 And I know that his commandement is life euertlasting: whatsoeuer I speake therfore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

BEFORE * the feast of the Pasche, when Iesus knew that his houre was come that hee should depart out of this world vnto the father, when hee loued his owne which were in the world, vnto the end hee loued them.

2 And when it was now supper (after that the deuill had put in the heart of Judas Iscariot Simons sonne, to betray him)

3 Iesus knowing that the father had giuen all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God:

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his byper garments: and when he had taken a towell, hee girded himselfe.

5 After that, hee poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them cleane with the towell where with he was girded.

6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter: and Peter sayth vnto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

7 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, what I do, thou wotest not now: but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter sayth vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feet. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayth vnto him, Lord, not my feet onely, but also my hands, and my head.

10 Iesus sayth to him, Hee that is washed, needeth not saue to wash his feet, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are cleane, but not all.

11 For hee knew to who it was that should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feet, & receiued his clothes, & was set downe againe, he sayd vnto them, Note ye what I haue done to you?

The xv. Chapter.

5 The consolation betwene Christ and his members, vnder the parable of the vine.

I Am the true vine, and my father is the husbandman.

2 Every branch that beareth not fruit in mee, he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth, that it may bring forth moze fruit.

3 Nowe are yee cleane through the word which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Bide in me, and I in you: As the branch can not beare fruit of it selfe, except it bide in the vine: no moze can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: Hee that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me can ye do nothing.

6 If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye bide in me, and my wordes abide in you, ye shall aske what ye will, and it shall be done for you.

8 Herein is my father glorified, that ye beare much fruit, and become my disciples.

9 As the father hath loued me, euen so haue I loued you: continue you in my loue.

10 If ye keepe my commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, eue as I haue kept my fathers commandements, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.

12 This is my commandement, that yee loue together, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this, that a man bestow his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye doe whatsoever I command you.

15 Henceforth call I not you seruants, for the seruant knoweth not what his lord doeth, but you haue I called friends: for all things that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knownen vnto you.

16 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that you should goe and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remaine: that whatsoever ye shall aske of the father in my name, he may giue it you.

17 This command I you, that ye loue together.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would loue his own: howbeit, because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I sayd vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the lord: if they haue persecuted me, they wil also persecute you: if they haue kept my saying, they wil keepe yours also.

21 But all these things will they do vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knownen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come, and spoken vnto them, they should haue had no sinne: but now haue they nothing to cloke their sinne withall.

23 Hee that hateth mee, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they should haue had no sinne: but now haue they both seene, and hated both me and my father.

25 But this cometh to passe, that the world might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send vnto you from the father, euen the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the father, he shall testifie of me.

27 And ye shall beare witness also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

These things haue I sayd vnto you, because ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of their Synagogue: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will thinke that he doth Gods seruice.

3 And such things will they doe vnto you, because they haue not knowen the father, neither yet me.

4 But these things haue I tolde you, that when the time shall come, yee may remember then that I tolde you: These things sayd I not vnto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.

a Who being the true fruit, that are not great in Christ.

b That is, the true vine, which is the true vine.

5 But now I goe my way to him that sent mee, and none of you asketh mee, whether goest thou?

6 But because I have sayd such things vnto you, sorrow hath filled your hearts.

7 Neuerthelesse, I tell you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, that Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he will rebuke the world of sinne, & of righteousness, and of iudgement.

9 Of sin, because they beleueed not on me.

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my father, and ye see me no more.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged already.

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye can not heare them a way now.

13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the spirit of truth, he will leade you into all trueth. He shall not speake of himselfe: but whatsoever he shall heare, that shall he speake: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me, for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew vnto you.

15 All things that the father hath, are mine: therefore said I vnto you, that he taketh of mine, and shall shew vnto you.

16 After a while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, after a while, and ye shall see me: for I go to the father.

17 Then sayd some of his disciples betweene themselves, what is this that he sayth vnto vs. After a while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, After a while, and ye shall see me: and, What I go to the father?

18 They sayd therefore, what is this that he sayth, After a while? we can not tell what he sayth.

19 Iesus perceiued that they would aske him, and sayd vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues of that I sayd, After a while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, After a while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe & lament, the world shall reioyce: ye shall sorrow, but your sorrow shall be turned into ioy.

21 A woman, when she trauelleth, hath sorrow, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembereth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therefore haue sorrow: but I will see you againe, & your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me no question: verily, verily I say vnto you, whatsoever ye shall aske the father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you by prouerbs: the time commeth when I shall no more speake vnto you by prouerbs, but I shall shew you plainly of my father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name: and I say not vnto you that I will pray vnto my father for you:

27 For the father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, & haue beleueed that I came out from God.

28 I went out from the father, and came into the world: againe, I leaue the world, and go to the father.

29 His disciples sayd vnto him, Doe, now talke thou plainly, and speake not pouerbe.

30 Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee any question: therefore beleue we that thou camest from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe ye now beleue?

32 Beholde, the houre draweth nigh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his owne, and shall leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me.

33 These words haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace, for in the world ye haue tribulation: but be of good cheare, I haue overcome the world.

The xvij. Chapter.

Christ prayeth to his father, that their glory might be made manifest.

These words spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and said, father, the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne, that thy sonne also may glorifie thee:

2 As thou hast giuen him power ouer all flesh, that he should giue eternall life to as many as thou hast giuen him.

3 This is the life eternall, that they might know thee the onely true God, and Iesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

5 And now glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee yer the world was.

6 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gauest them mee, and they haue kept thy word.

7 Now they haue knowen that all things whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee:

8 For I haue giuen vnto them the words which thou gauest mee, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, & they haue beleueed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them, I pray not for the world: but for them which thou hast giuen me, for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, & thine are mine: and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I not in the world, and they are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy father, keepe through thine owne Name, them which thou hast giuen me, that they may also be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but that lost childe: that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 Now come I to thee, & these words speake I in the world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I haue giuen them thy word, and the 15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keepe them from the euill.

16 They are not of the world, as I also am not of the world.

21 That they all may be one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that the world may beleue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gauest mee, I haue giuen them: that they also may be one, as we also are one,

The xviii. Chapter.

3 Christ is betrayed by Iudas. 40 The Iewes aske Barabbas to be let loose.

When Iesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which hee entred and his disciples.

2 Iudas also which betrayed him, knew the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 * Iudas then, after he had receiued a band of men, and officers of the high Priests and Pharises, cometh thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 And Iesus knowing all things that should come on him, went forth, and sayd vnto them, whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus sayeth vnto them, I am hee. Iudas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Alasone then as he had sayd vnto them, I am he, they went backward, & fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them againe, whom seeke ye? They sayd, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answered, I haue tolde you that I am he: If ye seeke me therefore, let these goe their way.

9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, * Of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare: The seruants name was Malchus.

11 Therefore sayd Iesus vnto Peter, Put bp thy sword into the sheath: Shall I not drinke of the cup which my father hath giuen me?

12 Then the company, and the captaine, and officers of the Iewes, tooke Iesus, and bound him, 13 * And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father in law to Caiaphas) which was the high Priest that same yere. And Annas knt Christ bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

14 * Caiaphas was he which gaue counsel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 * And Simon Peter followed Iesus, and so did another Disciple: That Disciple was known vnto the high Priest, and went in with Iesus into the palace of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known vnto the high Priest, and spake vnto the damosell that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then sayeth the damosell that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He sayth, I am not.

18 The seruants & officers stood there, which had made a fire of coales (for it was colde) and they warmed themselves: Peter also was standing among them, warming him.

19 The high Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world, I euer taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Iewes resort, and in secret haue I sayd nothing:

21 Why askest thou me? Aske them which heard me what I haue sayd vnto them: behold, they can tell what I sayd.

22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, smote Iesus with a rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 * Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

25 Simon Peter was standing & warming himselfe: * Then sayd they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and sayd, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the high Priests (his cousin whose eare Peter smote off) sayeth vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter therefore denied againe, and immediately the cocke crew.

28 * Then ledde they Iesus from Caiaphas, into the hall of iudgement: It was in the morning, and they themselves went not into the iudgement hall, lest they should be defiled: * but that they might eat the Passouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and sayd vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then sayd Pilate vnto them, Take ye

32 * That the words of Iesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death hee should die.

33 * Then Pilate entred into the iudgement hall againe, and called Iesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Jewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy selfe? or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Whine owne nation and high Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, then would my seruants surely fight; that I should not be deliuered to the Jewes: but now we is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore sayd vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witness vnto the trueth: and all that are of the trueth heare my voice.

38 Pilate sayth vnto him, what is trueth? And when he had sayd this, he went out againe vnto the Jewes, and sayth vnto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

39 * We haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loose at the Pasche: will yee that I looke vnto you the king of the Jewes?

40 * Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas. This Barabbas was a robber.

The xix. Chapter.

i Christ is whipped, beaten, and crowned. ii All power is of God.

When Pilate tooke Iesus therefore, and scourged him.

2 * And the souldiers, when they had wound a crowne of thornes, they did put it on his head, & they did cast about him a purple garment.

3 And sayd, Haile king of the Jewes: and strooke him with rods.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and sayd vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and Pilate sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 when the high Priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Jewes answered him, wee haue a law, and by our law he ought to die: because he made himselfe the sonne of God.

8 when Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afrayd,

9 And went againe into the iudgement hall, and sayth vnto Iesus, whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him no answer.

10 Then sayeth Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto mee? knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against mee, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And from thenceforth sought Pilate means to loose him: but the Jewes cried, saying, If thou let him go, thou art not Cæsars friend: for whosoever maketh himselfe a king, speaketh against Cæsar.

13 when Pilate heard that saying, he brought Iesus forth, and he sat downe in the iudgement seat, in a place that is called the pavement, but in the Hebrew tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Pasche, and about the first houre: and he sayth vnto the Jewes, Behold your king.

15 They cried, A way with him, a way with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Shall I crucifie your king? The high Priests answered, we haue no king but Cæsar, 16 * Then deliuered hee him therefore vnto them to be crucified: and they tooke Iesus, and led him a way.

17 And he bearing his crosse, went sooth into a place which is called the place of a skull, but in the Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the middes.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. The writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title read many of the Jewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nigh to the cite: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greeke, and Latine.

21 Then sayd the hie Priests of the Jewes to Pilate, Write not, The king of the Jewes: but that he sayd, I am king of the Jewes.

22 Pilate answered, what I haue written, that haue I written.

23 * Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, (and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part) and also his coat: the coat was without seame, wouen from the top thoro wout.

24 They sayd therefore among themselves, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saying, * They parted my raiment among them, and for my coat did they cast lots. And the souldiers did such things in deed.

25 There stood by the crosse of Iesus, his mother, and his mothers suster, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 when Iesus therefore saw his mother and the disciple standing by, whom he loued, he saith vnto his mother, woman, beholde thy sonne.

27 Then sayth he to the disciple, Beholde thy mother. And from that houre the disciple tooke her vnto his owne house.

28 After these things, Iesus knowing that all things were now performed, * that the scripture might be fulfilled, he sayth, I thirst.

29 So there stood a beseil by, full of binger: Therefore when they had filled a sponge with binger, and put it vpon hylope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 when Iesus therefore had receited the binger, he said, It is finished, and when he had bowed his head, he gaue vp the ghost.

preparing of the Sabbath, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the Crosse on the Sabbath day (for that Sabbath day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

32 Then came the souldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Iesus, a saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into the side, and forthwith came there-out blood and water.

35 And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true, and he knoweth that he sayth true, that ye might beleue also.

36 For these things were done that the scripture should be fulfilled, * A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, * They shall looke on him whom they pearfed.

38 * After this, Ioseph of Arimathea (being a Disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the body of Iesus, and Pilate gaue him licence: he came therefore, and tooke the body of Iesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus, which at the beginning came to Iesus by night, and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together, about an hundred pound weight.

40 Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to bury.

41 And in the place where hee was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

42 There layd they Iesus therefore, because of the preparing of the Sabbath of the Iewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Mary commeth to the sepulchre. 9 The Apostles were ignorant of the resurrection.

The first day of the Sabbath, commeth Marie Magdalene early when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the graue.

2 Then shee runneth, and commeth to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Iesus loued, and sayth vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the graue, and we can not tell where they haue layd him.

4 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They came both together, and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And when he had stooped downe, he saw the linnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then commeth Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linnen clothes lie,

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 They went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and hee saw, and beleued.

10 Then the disciples went away againe vnto their owne house.

11 * Marie stood without at the sepulchre, weeping: so as she wept, she bowed herselfe into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels clothed in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Iesus was layd.

13 They say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She sayth vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lord, and I wote not where they haue layd him.

14 When she had thus sayd, she turned herselfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposing that it had bene the gardiner, sayeth vnto him, Sir, if thou haue doorne him hence, tel me where thou hast layd him, and I will fetch him.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Mary. She turned herselfe, and sayd vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus sayth vnto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my father, and your father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene commeth, bringing tidings to the disciples that she had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken such things vnto her.

19 * The same day at night, which was the first day of the Sabbath, when the doores were shut, where the Disciples were assembled together for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus, and stood in the midst, and sayth vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so sayd, he shewed vnto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 Then sayd Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so send I you also.

22 And when hee had sayd thole words, hee bfeathed on them, and sayth vnto them, Receiue ye the holy Ghost.

23 * Wholoouers sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them, and wholoouers sinnes ye retaine, they are retained.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelue, which is called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other Disciples therefore sayd vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he sayd vnto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, and thrust my hand into his side, I will in no wise beleue.

26 And after eight dayes, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores being shut, and stood in the midst, and sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that, saith he to Thomas, Bring thy finger hither, and see my hands, and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side, and be not faithlesse, but beleuing.

28 Thomas answered, and sayde vnto him, My Lord, and my God.

The xxj. Chapter.

Christ forewarneth Peter of his death & persecution.

Afterward did Iesus shew himselfe againe to his Disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wise he wred he himselfe.

2 There were together, Simon Peter, & Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, & two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter sayeth vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, wdee also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a shippe immediatly, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuer thelesse, the disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus sayth vnto them, Children, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he sayth vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shall finde. They cast out therfore, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Then said the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat vnto him (for hee was naked) and did cast himselfe into the sea.

8 The other disciples came in a little shippe, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits) drawing the net with fishes.

9 Asoone then as they were come to land, they saw hote coales, and fish layd thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus sayth vnto them, Bring of the fish, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fiftie and three, and for all these were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus sayth vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the Disciples durst aske him, who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Iesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and giueth them, and fish like wise.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen from death.

15 So when they had dined, Iesus sayth to Simon Peter, Simon | Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He sayth vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, feed my lambs.

16 Hee sayth to him againe the second time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayth vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, feed my sheepe.

17 He sayd vnto him the third time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sorry, because hee sayd vnto him the third time, Louest thou me? And hee sayd vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus sayth vnto him, feed my sheepe.

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, when thou wast yonger, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and cary thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 Thus spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he sayth vnto him, follow me.

20 Peter turning about, seeth the Disciple whom Iesus loued, following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therfore saw him, hee sayth to Iesus, Lord, what shall he do?

22 Iesus sayth vnto him, If I will haue him to tary till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that Disciple should not die: Yet Iesus sayd not vnto him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tary till I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same Disciple is he which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

25 * There are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should be written e- uery one, I suppose the world could not contene the books that should be written, Amen.

7 And he sayd vnto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power.

8 * But ye shall receiue power after that the holy Ghost is come vpon you, and ye shall be witnesses vnto me, both in Hierusalem, and in all Iurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worlds end.

9 * And when hee had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up on high, and a cloud receiued him by out of their sight.

10 And while they looked by steadfastly toward heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stood by them in white apparell, 11 which also sayd, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing by into heauen? This same Jesus, which is taken by from you into heauen, shall come, euen as ye haue seene him go into heauen.

12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, which is from Hierusalem a Sabbath dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went by into a parlour, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Mattheu, James the sonne of Alphesus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stood by in the mids of the disciples, and sayd. (The number of names together, were about an hundred and twente)

16 Ye men and brethren, This Scripture must needs haue bene fulfilled, * which the holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Judas, which was guide to them that tooke Jesus:

17 For he was numbred with vs, and had obtained fellowship in this ministerie.

18 * And the same hath nowe purchased a field with the reward of iniquity, and when he was hanged, he burst asunder in the mids, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was knowen vnto all the dwellers at Hierusalem, insomuch that the same field is called in the mother tongue, Acedama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, * Let his habitation be desert, and no man dwelling therein: * And his Bishopricke let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs all the time that the Lord Jesus went out and in among vs, 22 Beginning from the baptisme of John, vnto that same day that he was taken by from vs, must one be ordeined to be a witness with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph which is called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And when they had prayed, they said, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take the course of this ministerie and Apostleshippe, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his owne place.

26 And they gaue forth their lots, and the lot fell vpon Matthias, and hee was counted with the eleuen Apostles.

† The Epistle on S. Matthias day.

6 When this was noised about, the multitude came together and were assented, because that every man heard them speake in his owne language.

7 They wondered all, and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speake of Galilee?

8 And how heare we every man his owne tongue, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iury, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jewes and Proselitites, 11 Cretes, and Arabians, we doe heare them speake in our tongues the wonderful workes of God.

12 They were all amazed, & were in doubt, saying one to another, what meaneth this?

13 Other mocking, sayd, These men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter standing forth with the eleven, lift up his voice, and sayd vnto them, Ye men of Iurie, and all yee that dwell at Hierusalem, bee this knowen vnto you, and heare my wordes:

15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, seeing it is but the third houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Joel,

17 * And it shalbe in the last daies (sayth God) of my spirit I will powze out vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your old men shall dreame dreames:

18 And on my seruants, and on my handmaidens, I will powze out of my spirit in those dayes, and they shall prophesie:

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath: blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

20 * The Sunne shall be turned into darkenesse, and the Moone into blood, befoze that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 * And it shall come to passe, that whosoever shall call on the Name of the Lorde, shall be saued.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes, Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, with miracles, wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also know,

23 Him, after that yee had taken by wicked hands, being deliuered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and slaine:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the fetters of death, because it was impossible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh of him, * I sawe the Lord alwayes set forth befoze my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued.

26 Therefore did my heart reioice, and my tongue was glad: Forcour also, my flesh shall rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed mee the wayes of life, thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Ye men and brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the Patriarch David: for hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day:

30 Therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had swozne with an oth to him, * that he would raise vp Christ, as concerning the flesh, of the fruit of his loines, to sit on his seate, 31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, * that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Then being by the right hand of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and heare.

34 For David is not ascended into the heauens, but he sayth himselfe, * The Lord sayd vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 vntill I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made that same Iesus whom yee haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Nowe when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and sayd vnto Peter, and to the other Apostles, Yee men and brethren, what shall we doe?

38 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Repent ye, and let euery one of you be baptized in the name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise was made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other wordes bare he witness, and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this vntoward generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added vnto them about thye thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleued were together, and had all things common,

45 And solde their possessions and goods, and had parted them to all men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing dayly with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eate their meate together with gladnesse of heart, 47 Praising God, and hauing fauour with all the people. And the Lord added to the Church dayly such as should be saued.

By breaking of bread is meant the misterie wherof is our Saviour Christ both communicate and distributed vnto vs by his body and blood, by his blessed sacrament of bread & wine, where is presented to vs of our faith, the breaking of Christes body, and the shedding of his blood.

It is most like that the miracle was wrought in a speech, and also in the hearing, in the presence, for that they speaking by the wordes of the tongue, did not receive that language of the Apostles, speaking their mother tongue. called beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Which seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked almes.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon him, with John, sayd, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue something of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I haue, giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth rise vp, and walke.

7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp: and immediatly his feete and ancle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaping vp, stood, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God.

10 And they knew him, that it was he which sat for the almes at the beautifull gate of the Temple: and they wondered, and were soze astonished at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame which was healed, helde Peter and John, all the people ranne together greatly amazed vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons.

12 And when Peter saw that, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why maruelle ye at this? or why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or godlinesse wee had made this man to walke?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isahac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his sonne Iesus, whom ye betrayed and denied in the presence of Pilate, when hee had iudged him to be loosed.

14 * But ye denied the Holy and Iust, and delivered a murderer to be giuen you, 15 And killed the Lord of life, whome God hath raised from the dead, of the which we are witnesses.

16 And his Name, through the faith in his Name, hath made this man sound, whom yee see and know, and the faith which is by him, hath giuen to this man health in the presence of you all.

17 And now brethren, I wote that thoroze ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had snewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 Repent yee therefore, and reuert, that your sinnes may be blotted out, when the time of refreshing shall come in the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you.

21 Whom the heauen must receiue, vntill the time that all things be restored, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets since the world began.

22 * For Moses truly sayd vnto the fathers, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you of your brethren, like vnto me, him shall ye heare in all things whatsoever he shall say vnto you.

23 For the time will come, that every soule which will not heare that same Prophet, walbe destroyed from among the people.

24 All the Prophets also from Samuel, and these that follow in order, as many as haue spoken, haue likewise tolde you before of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the Prophets, and of the couenant which God made vnto our fathers, saying vnto Abraham, * Euen in thy seede shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed,

The iiii. Chapter,

7 The Apostles are brought before the counsell. The Church increaseth in doctrine, and exercises of all godlinesse.

As they spake vnto the people, the Priests and the ruler of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they layd handes on them, and put them in hold vnto the next day: for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, beleeued, and the number of the men was about siue thousand.

5 And it came to passe on the morowe, that their rulers, and Elders, and Scribes,

6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, and Cataphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high Priests, were gathered together at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghost, sayde vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 If wee this day be examined of the good dede done to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whome God raised againe from the dead, euen by him, doth this man stand here before you, whole.

11 * This is the stone which was set nought by of you builders, which is the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there saluatio in any other: for among men vnder heauen, there is giuen none other name wherein we must be saued.

13 Now when they saw the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned, and ignorant men, they maruelled, and they knew them that they had bene with Iesu:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they could not say a gainst it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the counsell, they counsell'd among themselues, 16 Saying, what shall we do to these men? for a manifest signe is done by them, and is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we cannot denie it.

the people, let vs threaten, and charge them that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this Name.

18 And they called them, and commaunded them, that in no wise they should speake nor teach in the Name of Iesur.

19 But Peter and John answered, and saide vnto them, whether it bee right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake that, which we haue seene and heard.

21 So when they had more sharply threaten'd them, they let them goe, finding nothing howe to punish them, because of the people: for al men glorified God, because of that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then assoone as they were let goe, they came to their fellowes, and shewed all that the high Priests and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and said, Lord, thou art God which hast made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is,

25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The Kings of the earth stood vp, and the Rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For of a trueth against thy holy childe Iesus, whom thou hast anoynted, both Herod, and also Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, gathered themselues together, 28 For to doe whatsoever thy hande and thy counsell determined befoze to be done.

29 And now Lord, behold their threatenings, and graunt vnto thy seruants, that with all boldnesse they may speake thy word, 30 So that thou stretch forth thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders bee done by the Name of thy holy childe Iesus.

31 And as soone as they had prayed, the place mooued where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleened, were of one heart, and of one soule: Neither said any of them, that ought of the things which bee possessed, was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus, and great grace was with them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were solde,

35 And layde it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.

36 And Ioses, which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say, if ye interpret it, The sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprius, 37 Hauing land, sold it, and brought the money, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

The v. Chapter.

12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 34 The sentence of Gamaliel.

But a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

2 And kept away part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter saide, Ananias, how is it that Satan hath filled thine heart, to lie vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Ananias hearing these words, fel downe, and gaue vp the ghost: and great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and put him apart, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe, that as it were about the space of thre houres after, his wife came in, not knowing that which was done:

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell me, solde ye not the land for so much? And she saide, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter saide vnto her, why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them which haue buried thy husband, are at the dooze, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell shee downe straightway at his feete, and perced by the ghost: And the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon all the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

12 And by the handes of the Apostles, were many signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were also together with one accord in Salomons porch.

13 And of oother durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuerthelesse, the people magnified them.

16 There came also a multitude of the cities round about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sick folk, & them which were bered with vncleane spirits: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde hands on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doozes, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Goe, and stand and speake in the Temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, & taught: but the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsell together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with all diligence, & the keepers standing without before the doozes, but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the high Priests heard these things, they doubted of them wherunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captaine of the Temple, with the officers, and brough't them without violence: (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councell, and the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, *Did not we straitly command you that you should not teach in this Name? And beholde, yee haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answered, and sayd, We ought more to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers raised by Iesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand to be a Prince and a Sainour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are records of those things which we say, and so is also the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slay them.

34 Then stood there by one in the Councell, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of Law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a little space, 35 And sayd vnto them, See men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye intend to doe as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting himselfe to be some great man, to whom a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned themselues: which was slaine, and they all which beleued him were scattered abroad, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose vp one Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all, even as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But and if it be of God, ye cannot destroy it, least happily yee be found to strue against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the Apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesu, and let them go.

41 And they departed from the face of the Councel, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his Name.

42 And dayly in the Temple, and in euery houle, they ceased not to teach and preach Iesus Christ.

AD in those dayes, when the number of the Disciples grew, there arose a grudge among the Greekes against the Hebrewes, because their widowes were despised in the dayly ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and sayd, It is not good that we should leaue the word of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you, seuen men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and wisdom, to whom we may commit this businesse.

4 But we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen, a man full of faith, and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioch.

6 These they set before the Apostles: and when they had prayed, they layd their hands on them.

7 And the word of God encreased, and the number of the Disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Steuen full of faith and power, did great woonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the Synagogue, which is called the Synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Steuen:

10 And they could not resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then they prauely prepared men which sayd, We haue heard him speake blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they moued the people, and the Elders, and the Scribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the Councell:

13 And brought forth false witnesses, which sayd, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the Law.

14 For we heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shal destroy this place, and shal change the ordinances which Moses gaue vs.

15 And all that sate in the Councell, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had bene the face of an Angel.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, saide God: And after that shall they come foorth, and serue me in this place.

8 * And hee gaue him the couenant of Circumcision: * and so Abraham begate Isaac, and circumcised him the eight day: * and Isaac begate Jacob, * and Jacob begate the twelue Patriarkes.

9 * And the Patriarkes mooued with enuie, solde Joseph into Egypt: and God was with him.

10 And deliuered him out of all his aduersities, * and gaue him fauour and wisdom in the sight of Pharao King of Egypt: and he made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer all his household.

11 But there came a dearth ouer all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 * But when Jacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

13 * And at the second time Joseph was knowne of his brethren, and Josephs kinred was made knowne vnto Pharao.

14 Then sent Joseph, and caused his father Jacob to be brought, and al his kinne, threeciope and fiftene soules.

15 * And Jacob descended into Egypt, & died, both he and our fathers.

16 * And were caried ouer into Sichem, and layde in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for money of the sonnes of Emoz, the sonne of Sichem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had swozne to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt:

18 Till another King arose, which knew not of Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kinred, and euill entreated our fathers, and made them call out their yong children, that they should not remaine aliue.

20 * The same time was Moses bozne, and was acceptable vnto God, and nourished by in his fathers house thzee moneths:

21 And when hee was call out, Pharaos daughter tooke him by, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all maner of wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in deedes and in words, 23 And when he was full fortie yeeres olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

24 * And when hee sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarrell that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would haue vnderstood, how that God by his hand should deliuer them: but they vnderstood not.

26 * And the next day he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren, why doe ye wrong one to another?

27 But hee that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, who made thee a ruler and a Iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill mee, as thou diddest the Egyptian yester day?

29 Then seld Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 * And when fourtie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bramble bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew neere to behold, the voice of the Lord came vnto him, 32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not beholde.

33 Then sayd the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groaning, and am come downe to deliuer them: And now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forooke, saying, who made thee a ruler and a Iudge: the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliuerer, by the handes of the Angel which appeared to him in the bramble bush.

36 * He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signes in Egypt, and in the red sea, * and in the wilderness fourtie yeeres.

37 This is that Moses, which saide vnto the children of Israel, * A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise by vnto you of your brethren, like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 * This is hee that was in the Church in the wilderness with the Angel, which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: this man recited the word of life, to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt.

40 Saying vnto Aaron, * Make vs gods to go before vs, for as for this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypt, we wote not what is become of him.

41 And they made a Calse in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 Ye stiffnecked & of vnicircumcised hearts and eares, ye do alwayes resist the holy Ghost, as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fa

54 When they heard these things, their hearts claue asunder, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, loo ked vp steadfastly into heauen, and saw the gloiy of God, and Iesus standing on the right hand
of God,

56 And said, Behold, I see the heauens open, and the Sonne of man standing on the right
of God.

57 Then they gaue a shoute with a lowde boyce, and stopped their eares, and ranne vpon him all at once,

58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the witnesses layd downe their clothes at a yong mans feete, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuven, calling on, and saying, Lord Iesu, receiue my spirit.

60 And he kneeled downe, and cried with a lowde voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge.
And when he had thus spoken, he fell asleepe.

The viij. Chapter.

4 The Apostles are scattered abroad. 38 Philip baptizeth the Eunuch.

SAUL was consenting vnto his death: and at that time there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Hieru salem, and they were all scattered abroade thorowout the regions of Iury, and Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 And deuoute men caried Steuven together to his burfall, and made great lamentation ou er him.

3 As for Saul, hee made hauocke of the Church, entering into euery house, and draui ng out both men and women, did put them in to prison.

4 Therfore they that were scattered abroad, went euery where preaching the word of God.

5 Then came Philip into the city of Sama ria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accorde, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits, crying with lowde voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with pallies, and many that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 But there was a certaine man called Si mon, which before time in the same citie bled withcraft, and bewitched the people of Sama ria, saying that hee was a man that could doe great things:

10 To whom they all gaue heede, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And him they set much by, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with so:
ceries.

12 But when they beleued Philips preach ing of the kingdome of God, and of the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe beleued also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Phi lip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signes which were done.

14 When the Apostles which were at Hieru salem, heard say that Samaria had receiued the worde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and John.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receiue the ho ly Ghost.

16 ( For as yet hee was come downe vpon none of them: but they were baptized onely in the Name of Christ Iesu.)

17 Then layde they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through lay ing on of the Apostles handes, the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Giue mee also this power, that on whomsoever I put the handes, hee may re ceiue the holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said vnto him, Thy money pe rish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this businelle: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceiue that thou art in the gall of bitternelle, and in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and saide, Pray ye to the Lord for mee, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, fall on me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned toward Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many bil-lages of the Samaritanes.

26 And the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Phi-lip, saying, Arise, and go toward the South, vn-to the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose, and went on: and beholde, a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great au-thoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopi-ans, and had the rule of all her treasure, which came to Hierusalem for to worship.

28 And as hee returned home againe, sitting in his charet, hee read Claias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Come neere, and loyne thy selfe to this charet.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him reade the Prophet Claias, and said, Under-standest thou what thou readeest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And hee desired Philip that he would come vp, and sit with him.

32 The tenor of the Scripture, which hee read, was this. * He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a Lambe dumbe before the shearer: so opened not he his mouth.

33 In his humilitie, his Judgement is exal-ted: but who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the Eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and be-gan at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water: & the Eunuch said, See, here is water, what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 Philip saide vnto him, If thou beleueest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And hee an-swered, and said, I beleuee that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 And he commaunded the charet to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and also the Eunuch, and hee bap-tized him.

39 And as soone as they were come out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phi-lip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and hee walked thoro wout the cuntry, preaching in al the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

The ix, Chapter.

3 The conuersion of Saul. 34 Peter healeth Eneas, 40 and raiseth vp Tabitha.

AND * Saul yet breaching out threatenings and slaughter against the Disciples of the Lord, went vnto the high Priest.

2 And desired of him letters to carry to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if hee found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 And when hee iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nigh to Damascus, sud-denly there shined round about him a light from heaven.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying vnto him, * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: It is hard for thee to hicke against the prickes.

6 And he both trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou haue me to doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shall be tolde thee what thou must do.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stood amazed, hearing a voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, hee saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Da-mascus.

9 And hee was three dayes without sight, and neither did eate nor drinke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Da-mascus, named Ananias: and to him saide the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the streete, which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul, of Tarsus: for beholde, he prayeth, 12 And hath seene in a vision, a man named Ananias, comming in to him, and putting his handes on him, that hee might receiue his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem:

14 And here hee hath authoritie of the high Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 The Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how great things hee must suffer for my Names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent mee, that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and hee receiued sight forth-with, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had receiued meate, he was comforted. Then was Saul certaine daies with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straight way hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he is the Sonne of God.

21 But all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound vnto the high Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jewes which dwelt at Da-mascus, prouing by conferring one Scripture with another, that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Jewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But hee laying a waite was knowne of Saul: * and they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night,

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assaied to couple himselfe to the disciples, but they were all afrayd of him, and beleueed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared vnto them how hee had scene the Lord in the way, and that hee had spoken to him, and how hee had preached boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And hee was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem.

29 Speaking boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and hee spake and disputed against the Greekes: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brechzen knewe, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarfus.

31 Then had the Churches rest thorowout all Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked thorowout all quarters, hee came also to the Saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there hee found a certaine man named Eneas, which had kept his bedde eight yeeres, and was sicke of the pallsie.

34 And Peter saide vnto him, Eneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, saw him, which turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Joppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: the same was full of good workes, and almes deedes, which shee did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes that shee was sicke, and died: whom when they had washed, they layed her in an upper chamber.

38 And so much as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring him that he would not be grieved to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widowes stood round about him weeping, & shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while shee was with them.

40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and saide, Tabitha, arise. And shee opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, shee saie vp.

41 And Peter gaue her the hand, and lift her vp: and when he had called the Saints and widowes, hee deliuered her aliu.

42 And it was knowne thorowout all Joppa, and many beleueed in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe, that hee taried many dayes in Joppa, with one Simon a Tanner.

The x. Chapter.

1 The vision that Peter sawe. 17 Hee was sent to Cornelius.

There was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captain of the band, called the Italian band,

2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his householde, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway.

3 The same saue by a vision evidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 And when hee looked on him, hee was afraid, and said, what is it, Lord: And he said vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 And now sende men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 Hee lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his householde seruants, and a deuoute souldier of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all the matter, and sent them to Joppa.

9 On the morrowe as they went on their journey, and drew nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the highest part of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 And when hee was hungry, hee would haue eaten: But while they made ready hee fell into a trance.

11 And hee seeth<sup>b</sup> heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come down vnto him, as it had bene a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

12 wherein were all maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes, and such as creepe, and foules of the aire.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voice spake vnto him againe the second time, what God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrise: and the vessel was receiued vp againe into heauen.

17 Nowe while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which hee had scene should meane: behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made inquirance for Simons house, and stood before the doore, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and saide, Behold, I am he, whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captain, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare words of thee, 23 Then called hee them in, and lodged them: And on the morrowe Peter went away with them, and certaine brechzen from Joppa accompanied him.

c Tabitha is called Dorcas. Dorcas signifies a doe. Such an one was Tabitha, for this effect, that she being from brauen, shee beholde frequently things, and shee receiue into brauen with good workes.

a The vision that Peter sawe before hee baptised Cornelius. Cornelius was a Gentile, and hee was the first that was baptised by Peter.

b This vision was a figure of the church. The church is called a vessel, and it is filled with all maner of creatures. The church is cleansed by the word of God, and it is not to be common.

24 And the third day after, entred they into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and speciall friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp, for my selfe also am a man.

27 And as hee talked with him, hee came in, and sinderth many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Jew, to company or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, as soone as I was sent for: I aske therefore for what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius sayde, foure dayes agoe vntill this houre I was fasting, & at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayd, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes deeds are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter, hee is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the Sea side, who when hee commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Nowe therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded vnto thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayd, *Of a truth I perceiue that God hath no regard of persons:

35 But in euery nation, he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Touching the word which God sent vnto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ (he is Lord ouer all.)

37 See knowe how the worde was published thorowout all Iurie, beginning in Galilee, after the baptisme which John preached:

38 How God annoynted Iesus of Nazareth with the holy ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which hee did in the land of the Iewes, and at Hierusalem, whome they slue, when they had hanged him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and shewed him openly,

41 Not to all the people, but vnto vs witnesses, chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eate and drinke with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to bee the Iudge of quicke and dead.

43 *To him giue all the Prophets witness, that through his name whofoeuer beleueth in him, shall receiue remission of finnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleued, were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbidde water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And hee commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

The xj. Chapter.

22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophecieth dearth to come.

And the Apostles and brethren that were in Iurie, heard that the heathen had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and didst eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision, a certaine vessel descend, as it had bene a great heere, let downe from heauen by foure corners, and it came euen vntill me.

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and such as creepe, and foules of the aire.

7 And I heard a voice, saying vnto me, Arise Peter, slay, and eate.

8 But I sayde, Not so, Lorde: for nothing common or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me againe from heauen, Doe not thou make them common which God hath cleansed.

10 And this was done thre times: and all were taken by againe into heauen.

11 And behold, immediately there were thre men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the spirit sayd vnto me, that I should goe with them, nothing doubting: Whereouer, these six brethren accompanied me, and wee entred into the mans house:

13 And he shewed vs how he had scene an angel in his house, which stood and said vnto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter:

14 Hee shall tell thee wordes, whereby both thou, and all thy house shall be saued.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, as hee did on vs at the beginning, 16 Then remembered I the worde of the Lorde, how that he sayd, *John baptized with water: but pee shall be baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 Inasmuch then as God gaue them the like gift as hee did vnto vs when we beleued on the Lorde Iesus Christ: what was I that I should haue withstood God?

their peace, and glorified God, saying, When hath God also to the Gentiles graunted repentance vnto life.

19 They also which were scattered abroad through the affliction that arose about Streuen, walked throughout vnto Phenice, and Cyprius, and Antioch, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Jewes onely.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprius and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioch, spake vnto the Greekes, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number belceued, and turned vnto the Lord.

22 When trydings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Hierusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that hee should goe vnto Antioch.

23 Which when hee came, and had scene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man and full of the holy Ghost, and of faity: and much people was added vnto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Charsus, for to seeke Saul.

26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioch. And it came to passe that a whole yeere they had their conuersation with the Church there, and taught much people: insomuch that the disciples of Antioch were the first that were called Christians.

27 And in those dayes, came Prophets from Hierusalem vnto Antioch.

28 And there stood by one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the spirite, that there should be great dearth thowout all the world: which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man according to his abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iurie:

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Herode persecutech the Christians. 24 The Gospel flourisheth.

At the same time Herode the king stretched forth his handes to bere certaine of the Church.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jewes, hee proceeded further, and tooke Peter. (Then were the dayes of sweete bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison also, and deliuered him to foure quarters of souldiers to be kept, intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 And Peter was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode would haue brought him forth vnto the people, the same night Peter was sleeping betweene two souldiers bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lorde was there present, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and stirred him vp, saying, Arise vp quickly. And his chaines fell off from his handes.

8 And the Angel sayde vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and binde on thy sandales. And so hee did. And he sayth vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And Peter came out, and folowed him, and wist not that it was trueth which was done by the Angel: but thought he had scene a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the Iron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by the owne accord: and they went out, and passed on thowt we one street, and forthwith the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he sayd, Now I know of a suretie that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Jewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together in prayer.

13 As Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a damosell came forth to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the doore for gladnesse, but rane in, and told how Peter stood before the doore.

15 And they layd vnto her, Thou art madde. But she affirmed that it was euen so. Then sayd they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: & when they had opened the doore, and sawe him, they were astonished.

17 And when hee had beckened vnto them with the hand, that they might hold their peace, hee tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought him out of the prison: And hee sayde, Goe: hee these things vnto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now alsoone as it was day, there was no little adoe among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and found him not, hee examined the keepers, and commaunded them to be caried away. And hee descended from Iurie to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 And Herode was displeas'd with them of Cyze and Sydon: but they came all with one accord to him, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kings chamberlaine, and desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings countrey.

21 And vpon the day appointed, Herode araid him in royall apparell, and set him in his seat, and made an Oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying, It is the voice of a God, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the Angel of the Lorde smote him, because he gaue not God the honor, and he was eaten of worms, and gaue by the ghost.

24 And the word of God grew, and multiplied.

The xiiij. Chapter.

7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elimas the forcerer. 26 The Jewes are reiected.

Here was also in the Church that was at Antioch, certaine Prophets, and teachers: as Barnabas, and Simon that was called Nigger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahan, which had bene nourished by with Herode the Tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost sayde, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and layd their hands on them, they let them goe.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Jewes: and they had also John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone thorow the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certaine forcerer, a false prophet, a Jewe, whose name was Bar-tesu:

7 which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: the same when hee had called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, desired to heare the word of God.

8 But Elimas the forcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, seeking to turne the deputie away from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And sayde, O full of all subtiltie and all mischief, thou childe of the deuill, thou enemy of all righteousnesse, wilt thou not cease to peruert the right wayes of the Lord?

11 And now behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediately there fell on him a myt and a darkenesse, and he went about, seeking them that should lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputie, when hee sawe what was done, beleued, and wondred at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Nowe when they that were with Paul, were departed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John, when he departed from them, returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and late downe.

15 And after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any word to exhort the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stoode vp, and when hee had beckened with the hand for silence, sayd, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, giue audience.

17 The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers, and craled the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with an high arme brought he them out of it.

18 And about the time of fourtie yeeres suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when he had destroyed seuen nations in the land of Chanaan, he decuded their land to them by lot:

20 And afterward hee gaue vnto them iudges, about the space of foure hundred and fiftie yeeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 And afterward they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of fourtie yeeres.

22 And when he had remoued him, he set by Dauid to be their king, of whome he reported, saying, I haue found Dauid the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which shall fulfill all my will.

23 Of this mans seede hath God, according to his promise, brought forth to Israel, the launour Iesus.

24 When John had first preached before his coming, the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And when John had fulfilled his course, hee sayde, whome thinke ye that I am? I am not he. But beholde, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loofe.

26 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the boices of the Prophets which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled thym in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that hee should be slaine.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him from the dead:

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them which came by with him fro Galilee to Hierusalem, which are his witness vnto the people.

32 And wee declare vnto you glad tydings, how that the promise which was made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled the same vnto vs their children, in that he hath raised by Iesus againe, as it is also writtē in the second Psalme: Thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, nowe no more to returne to corruption, he sayd on this wise, I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are faithfull.

35 wherefore he sayth also in another place, Thou shalt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 For Dauid after hee had serued his time, by the will of God, fell on sleepe, and was laide vnto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But hee whome God raised againe, sawe no corruption.

38 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, ye men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of sinnes:

42 And when they were gone out of the Synagogue of the Jewes, the Gentiles besought that these wordes might be preached to them the next Sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken bp, many of the Jewes, and vertuous Proselytes folowed Paul and Barnabas, which speaking to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the wholc cite together to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Jewes saw the people, they were ful of indignation, and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul, speaking against, and railing.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bolde, and sayde, It was necessary that the worde of God should first haue bene spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and thinke your selues bntworthy of euerlasting life, loe, wee turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lorde commaunded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou be the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lorde: and as many as were ordained to eternall life, beleueed.

49 And the word of the Lorde was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jewes moued the deuout and honest women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shooke off the dust of their feet against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 God giueth successe to his word. 19 Paul is stoned.

And it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Jewes, and to spake, that a great multitude both of the Jewes, and also of the Grecks beleueed.

2 But the unbelieuing Jewes stirred bp, and corrupted the minds of the Gentiles against the brethzen.

3 Long time therefore abode they there, speaking boldly with the helpe of the Lorde, which gaue testimony vnto the worde of his gracc, and granted signes and wonders to bee done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the cite was diuided: and part helde with the Jewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jewes, with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them, 6 They were ware of it, and fledde vnto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lieth round about.

7 And there were they preaching the Gospel.

8 And there sate a certaine man at Lystra, weake in his feete, being a creeple from his mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speake: which beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to be whole,

10 Saide with a loud voice, Stand vp right on thy feet: And he start bp, and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift vp their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The Gods are come downe to vs in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Iupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because hee was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters priest, which was before their cite, brought Oren, and garlands vnto the doore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? we also are mortall men like vnto you, & preach vnto you the Gospel, that ye should turne from these vanities, vnto the liuing God, which made heauen and earth, and the sea, & all things that are therein.

16 The which in times past, suffered all nations to walke in their owne waies.

17 Neuertheless, hee left not himselfe without witness, in that hee shewed his benefites from heauen, in giuing vs raine, and fruitfull seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thither came certaine Jewes from Antioch and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, and had stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing hee had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stood round about him, hee rose bp, and came into the cite, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospel to that cite, and had taught many, they returned againe to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch, 22 And strengthened the disciples soules againe, and exhorted them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordained them Elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lorde, on whome they beleueed.

24 And when they had gone throughout Bithynia, they came to Samothracia.

25 And when they had spoken the worde of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by ship to Antioch, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The decree of the Apostles concerning circumcision and other ceremonies of the Iewes. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach in Antioch. 39 Paul and Barnabas falling at strife, breake company.

A certaine men which came downe from Iurie, taught the brethren, and sayd, * Except yee bee circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saued.

2 So when there was risen dissention and disputing not a little vnto Paul and Barnabas against them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, should go by to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders, about this question.

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Church, they passed thorow Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles, and Elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 Then rose vp certaine of the sect of the Pharisees which did beleue, saying, that it was needfull to circumcise them, and to command to keepe the law of Moses.

6 And the Apostles and Elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had bene much disputing, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, * Ye men and brethren, ye know how that a good while agoe, God did chuse among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleue.

8 And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, and gaue vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs:

9 * And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put on the disciples neckes the yoke, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleue that through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ, we shall be saued euen as they.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon told how God at the beginning did visite, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 * After this will I returne, and will build againe the tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that which is fallen in decay of it, will I build againe, and I will set it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, sayth the Lord, which doeth all these things.

18 Knowne vnto God are all his workes from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that wee write vnto them, that they abstaine themselves from filthinesse of idoles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and from blood.

21 For Idoles of old time hath in euery citie them that preach him in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 When pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to send chosen men of their owne company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: That is, Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Syllas, which were chiefe men among the brethren.

23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, send greeting vnto the brethren, which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as wee haue heard that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbrd your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the law, to whom wee gaue no such commaundement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thing, when we were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their liues for the name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary things:

29 That is to say, That yee abstaine from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall do well. So fare ye well.

30 Now therefore when they were departed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they reioiced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being Prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthened them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Not withstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the worde of the Lord, with other many also.

36 But after a certaine space, Paul sayde into Barnabas. Let vs goe againe and visit our brethren in every cite where wee haue biterred the woꝝde of the Lord, and knowe and see howe they doe.

Amos, 9. 11

37 And Barnabas gaue counfel to take with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul would not take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the woꝝde.

c. God directeth the most perfect to fall, and yet turneth their indurating into the feeling south of his grace, as this breach of companie caused the Gospel to be preached in more places.

39 And the contentions was so sharpe betwene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cypꝛus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And hee went thoroꝝw Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7 The spirit calleth them from one country to another. 24 Lydia is conuerted.

Then came hee to Berbe, and to Lystra: and beholde a certaine disciple was there, named * Timotheus, a womans sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleued: but his father was a Greeke.

2 Which was well reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul would that he should goe foorth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Jewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greeke.

4 And as they went throught the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were * ordeined of the Apostles & Elders which were at Hierusalem.

Actes 21. 28.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gone thoroꝝwout Bhyrgia, & the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the woꝝde in Asia,

7 They comming to Mysia, sought to goe into Bithynia: but the spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing thoroꝝw Mysia, came downe to Troada.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, & help vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediately we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gathering by conference that the Lorde had called vs for to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 When we being caried from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippios, which is the chiefe cite in the parties of Macedonia, and a free cite: and wee were in that cite abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the day of the Sabbathys we went out of the cite, besides a riuier, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sat downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the cite of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, gaue vs audience: whose heart the Lord opened, that shee attended vnto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptizd, and her household, she besought vs, saying, If yee haue iudged mee to bee faithfull to the Lorde, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, as wee went to prayer, a certaine Damocell possessed with a spirit of soothsaying, met vs: which brought her masters much bantage with soothsaying.

17 The same followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul not content, turned about, and sayd to the spirit, I commaund thee in the name of Iesu Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when her masters sawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and dre'w them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These men being Jewes, doe exceedingly trouble our cite:

21 And preach ordinances which are not lawful for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 And the people ran against them, and the officers rent their clothes, and commanded * to beate them with rods.

Which cometh of being possessed with a spirit of soothsaying, which in many things doth resemble that to the heathen: that the same might be in many things be ascertained that the spirit of soothsaying is not of God.

23 And when they had layd many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, commaunding the iaylour of the prison to keepe them diligently.

24 Which when hee had receiued such commandement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their fecte fast in the stocks.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed and lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and immediatly all the doozes opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and sawe the prison doozes open, hee dre'w out his sword, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing that the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fel downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and sayde, Sirs, what must I doe to be saued?

31 And they sayd, Belieue on the Lord Iesus Christ, and thou shalt bee saued, and thy household.

32 And they spake vnto him the woꝝde of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their wounds, and was baptizd himselfe, and all they of his household straightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, and soyed that hee with all his household beleued on God.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this saying to Paul, The officers have sent word to loose you: Now therefore, get you hence, and go in peace.

37 Then said Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vntocondemned, being Romans, and haue cast vs into prison, now do they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verily, but let them come themselves, and fetch vs out.

38 And the sergeants tolde these words vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia, and when they had scene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

The xvij. Chapter.

Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore.

As they made their iourney thoro Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and thre Sabboth dayes disputed with them out of the Scriptures,

3 Opening and alleaging, that Christ must needes haue suffered and risen againe from the dead: and that this is Christ Iesus which I preach vnto you.

4 And some of them beleued, and toynded with Paul & Silas, and of the deuout Greekes a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 But the Iewes which beleued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine bagabonds, and euill men, and gathered a company, and set all the citie on a roze, and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, These that haue troubled the world, are come hither also,

7 whom Iason hath receiued priuily: and these all doe contrary to the decrees of Cesar, saying that there is another king, one Iesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken sufficient suretie of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: which when they were come thither, they entered into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were the noblest of birth among them of Thessalonica, which receiued the word with al readinesse of mind, & searched the Scriptures dayly, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleued: also of honest women which were Greekes, and of men not a few.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither, and moued the people.

14 And then immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with speede, and went their way.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was moued in him, when he saw the citie giuen to worshipping of idoles.

17 Therefore disputed he in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto him by chance.

18 Then certaine philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoikes, disputed with him: and some said, What will this babbler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a letter forth of newe gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the strecte of Mars, saying, May we know what this newe doctrine whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things to our eares: we would knowe therefore what these things meane.

21 (For all the Athenians & strangers which were there, had leasure to nothing els but either to tell or to heare some new thing.)

22 Then Paul stood in the middes of the strecte of Mars, and saide, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld the maner how ye worship your gods, I found an altar wherein was written, vnto an vnknoen God, whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shew I vnto you.

24 God that made the world, and all that are in it, seeing that hee is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands:

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed of any thing, seeing he him selfe giueth life and breath to all euery where:

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and also the bounds of their habitation:

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if perhaps they might haue felt & found him, though he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as certaine of your owne Poets haue said, for we are also his offspring.

29 For as much then as we are the offspring of God, wee ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold, siluer, or some grauen by art and mans deuice.

30 And the time of this ignorance God winked at, but now biddeth all men euery where to repent:

31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom hee hath appointed, and hath offered faith to all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: and other said, We will heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them. 34 Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto him, and beleueed : among the which was Dionys Arcopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24 Of Apollos, 26 Aquila and Priscilla.

After these things, Paul departed from Athens, & came to Corinth. And found a certaine Jewe named Aquila, bozne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla. (because that Claudius had commaunded all Jewes to depart from Rome) and came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, hee abode with them, and wrought (for by their occupation they were Tent makers.)

4 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabboth, and exhorted the Jewes, and the Greekes.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the spirit to testifie to the Jewes, that Iesus was Christ.

6 And when they sayde contrarie, and blasphemed, heeooke his rayment and sayd vnto them, Your blood bee vpon your owne heads: from henceforth will I goe blamelesse vnto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house toynded hard to the Synagogue.

8 And one Crispus, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleueed on the Lord with all his household: and many of the Corinthians, hearing, beleueed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall inuade thee, to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this city.

11 And hee continued there a yere and sixe moneths, teaching the worde of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Jewes made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow counselleth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul now was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Jewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deed, I see Jewes, reason would that I should beare with you:

15 But if it be a question of wordes & names, or of your law, looke yee to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of such matters.

16 And hee draue them from the iudgement seat.

17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and smote him before the iudgement seat: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this taried there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying him.) And hee thoze his head in Cenchrea: for he had a bow.

19 And hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee himselfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Jewes.

20 When they desired him to tary longer time with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I will returne againe vnto you, if God will: and he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and ascended by, and saluted the Church, hee went to Antioch.

23 And when he had taried there a while, hee departed, and went ouer all the country of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Jewe, named Apollos, bozne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mightie in the Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, & being feruent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.

26 And the same began to speake boldly in the Synagogue: whome when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.

27 And when hee was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: which when he was come, helped them much which had beleueed through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Jewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christ.

The six. Chapter.

3 Of Baptisme. 6 Of the holy Ghost giuen by Pauls hands. 9 The Lewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

And it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thorow the upper coast, and came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples.

2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the holy Ghost since ye beleueed? And they said vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy Ghost or no.

3 And he saide vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptized? And they sayd, vnto Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayde Paul, Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands vpon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 And hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and perswading those things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed hard hearted, and beleueed not, but spake euill of the way of the Lord, and that before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples:

d The holy Ghost here is meant the visible grace of the holy Spirit.

and he disputed dayly in the schoole of one called Tyranus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yerres, so that all they which dwell in Asia, heard the word of the Lorde Jesus, both Jewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought br- to the sicke, naphins, and partlers, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the bagabond Jewes, exorcistes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirits, the name of the Lorde Jesus, saying, We adiure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Jewe, and chiefe of the Priestes, which did so.

15 And the euill spirit answered, and sayd, Jesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ran on them, and ouertame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that houle naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Jewes and Greekes also which dwell at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, & the name of the Lorde Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came, and confessed, and heued their workes.

19 Many also of them, which bled curious craftes, brought their bookes & burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fittie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So mightily grew the word of God, and preuailed.

21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministered vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he himselfe remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no little ado about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer shrines for Diana, ministered no small gaine vnto the craftsmen:

25 Whom he called together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we haue advantage.

26 Whereouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands.

27 So that not onely this our craft cometh into perill to bee set at nought: but also that the Temple of the great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephelians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Caius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia Pauls companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certaine of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friendes, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not prease into the common hall.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: and the assembly was all out of quiet, and the more part knew not wherfoze they were come together.

33 And certaine of the people bre to Alexander out of the multitude, the Jewes thrusting him forwarde. And Alexander beckened with the hand, and would haue giuen the people an answer.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephelians.

35 And when the towne Clarke had pacified the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephelians is the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image which came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that these thinges cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefoze if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are Deputies, let them accise one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are in it opardy to be accused of this dayes bypocry, forasmuch as there is no cause whereby we may giue a reckoning of this course of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia: 7 He celebrateth the Lords supper, and preacheth,

¶ After the bypocry was ceased, Paul called the Disciples, & tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia:

2 And when he had gone ouer the parts, and had giuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode thre moneths: & when the Jewes laied waite for him, as he was about to passe into Syria, he purposed to returne thow Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Caius of Berbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus,

5 These going before, taried by at Troas:

6 And we sayied away from Philippos, after the dayes of sweete bread, and came vnto them to Troas in siue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

¶ Some reade a worthip- per.

Act. 2. 46.

7 And vpon one of the Sabbath daies, when the Disciples came together for to breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, readie to depart on the morrow, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an upper chamber where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a windowe a certaine young man named Eurychus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long reasoning, hee was the more overcome with sleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fell on him, and embraced him, and said, Make nothing adoe: for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come by againe, and had broken bread & eaten, and talked a long while, euen till the morning, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afoze to ship, and sailed vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoote.

14 And when he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile ouer by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he halied, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 Which when they were come to him, hee said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all humblenesse of mind, and with many teares, and temptations, which came vnto me by the layings of wait of the Jewes:

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throughout euery house, 21 Witnessing both to the Jewes and also to the Greekes, the repentance that is toward God, and the faith which is toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I goe bound in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things that shall come vnto me:

23 But that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery city, saying that bonds & troubles abide in me.

24 But none of these things moue me, neither count I my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I might fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministry which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesu, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now beholde, I am sure that henceforth ye all, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore, I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the countell of God.

28 Take heed therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy Ghost hath made you ouerscers, to rule the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking peruerse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of thre yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one night and day with teares.

32 And now brethren, I comend you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue desired no mans siluer, or gold, or besture.

34 Yea, you your selues knowe, that these hands haue ministered vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weak, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesu, (how that he said) It is more blessed to giue, then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorowing most of all for the wordes which he spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Pauls journey by ship. 8 Of Philip the Euangelist, 10 and Agabus the Prophet.

¶ When it came to passe that we had launched forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, & the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had found a ship sailing vnto Phenice, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when Cyprus began to appeare vnto vs, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and came vnto Cyre: for there the ship unladed the burden.

4 And when we had found Disciples, we taried there seuen dayes: who saide to Paul through the spirit, that he should not goe by to Hierusalem.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, till we were come out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shoze, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we tooke ship, and they returned home againe.

7 When we had full ended the course from Cyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, we that were of Pauls company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (* which was one of the seuen) and abode with him.

Act. 6. 5.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, birgins, which did prophetic.

10 And as we taried there a good many of dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iurie named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feete, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Jewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we and other which were of the same place, besought him that he would not goe bp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, what doe ye weeping and veying mine heart? for I am readie, not to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when wee could not turne his mind, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be fulfilled.

15 And after those dayes wee tooke bp our burdens, and went bp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Anaton of Cypus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And on the morow Paul went in with vs vnto James, and all the elders came together.

19 And when he had saluted them, he told by order all things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministrie.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, howe many thousand Jewes there are which beleuee, and they are all earnest followers of the law.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: we haue foure men which haue a vow on them, 24 Them take, & purifie thy selfe with them, and doe cost on them, that they may haue their heads: * and all shall knowe that those things which they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleuee, * we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no such thing, saue onely that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, & from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifying himselfe with them, entred into the Temple, * declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them:

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Jewes which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, moued all the people, and laid hands on him.

28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the law, and this place: he hath also brought Greekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the cite, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moued, and the people swarmed together: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came vnto the high captaine of the souldiers, that all Hierusalem was in an uprore.

32 Which immediately tooke souldiers, and vnder captaines, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe captaine and the souldiers, they left smiting of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere, and tooke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cryed one thing, some another, among the people: and when he could not knowe the certaintie for the rage, he commaunded him to be caried into the castle.

35 And when he came vpon the staires, it was so that he was bozne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And when Paul began to be caried into the castle, he said vnto the high captaine, What I speake vnto thee: who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art thou not that Egyptian which before these daies madest an uprore, and leddest out into the wilderness foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jewe of *Tarsus, a cite in Cilicia, a citizen of no vile cite: and I beseech thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the staires, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

MEN, brethren, and fathers, heare yee mine answer which I make vnto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith.)

3 I am verely a man which am a Jewe, bozne in Tarsus a cite in Cilicia, & yet brought vp in this city at the feete of Gamaliel, & taught according to the perfect maner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous towards God, as yee all are this same day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth heare me witness, and all the estate of the elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my journey, and was come nigh vnto Damascus about noone, suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me:

7 And I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voice, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, who art thou, Lord? And he said vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me, saw verily the light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, what shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus: & there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I saw nothing for the brightness of the light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuout man as pertaining to the law, hauing a good report of al the Jewes which there dwell, 13 Came vnto mee, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight. And the same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordained thee before, that thou shouldst knowe his will, and see that Iust one, & shouldst heare the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnes vnto all men, of those things which thou hast seene and heard:

16 And now, why tariest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy finnes, in calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a trance, 18 And sawe him saying vnto mee, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witness concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord they know that I am imprisoned, and heare in euery synagogue them that beleueed on thee.

20 And when the blood of thy witness Steuen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his deatch, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this word, and then list by their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is no reason that he should liue.

23 And as they cried and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire, 24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined: that he might know wherefore they cried so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Romane, and vncouided?

26 When the Centurion heard that, he went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and sayd vnto him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? He said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, with a great summe obtained I this freedome. And Paul said, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from him they which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid after he knewe that he was a Romane, and because hee had bound him.

30 On the morow, because he would haue knowen the certainty wherof he was accused of the Jewes, he looked him from his bands, and commanded the high priests and all the counsell to come together, and brought Paul forth, and set him before them.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Paul commeth before the counsaile. 2 Ananias caufeth him to be stricken.

And Paul earnestly beholding the counsaile, said, Men and brethren, I haue liued in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then saith Paul vnto him, God shall smite thee: painted wal: for tittest thou a iudgement after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I will not, brethren, that he was the high Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cryed out in the counsaile, *Men and brethren, I am a pharisee, the sonne of a pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a debate betwene the pharisees & the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 *For the Saducees say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great cry: and when the Scribes which were of the pharisees part arose, they troue, saying, we finde no euil in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not strue against God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captaine fearing least Paul should haue bene pluckt asunder of them, commanded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheere, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, so must thou heare witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Jewes gathered themselues together, and made a bow, saying that they would neither eat nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie men, which had made this conspiraacie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a bowe, that wec will eate nothing untill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Howe therefore giue yee knowlege to the chiefe captaine, and to the counsaile, that he bring him forth vnto you to morow, as though ye would knowe something moze perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neere, are readie to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters some heard of their laying awaite, he went and entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the bnder captains vnto him, and said, Bzing this young man vnto the high captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bzing this yong man vnto thee, which hath a certaine matter to shew thee.

19 Then the high captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, what is it that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Jewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morow into the counsaile, as though they would enquire some what of him moze perfectly.

21 But follow not thou their mindes: for there lie in wait for him of them moe then fouertie men, which haue bound themselves with a bowe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they readie, and looke for a promise from thee.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, & charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And hec called vnto him two bndercaptaines, saying, Make readie two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threelcore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mightie ruler felix, sendeth greetings.

27 This man was taken of the Jewes, and should haue bene killed of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, and perceiued that he was a Romane:

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherfore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsaile.

29 Whom I perceiued to be accused of questions of their law, but hauing nothing layd to his charge woorthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed me how that the Jewes laid wait for the mā, I sent him straightway to thee, & gaue commandement to his accusers, that the things which they haue against him, they should tell before thee. farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him nigh to Antipatridis.

32 On the morow, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the deputie had read the letter, he asked of what prouince he was. And when he bnderstood that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are come also. And he commanded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

The xxiiij. Chapter,

Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine.

After five dayes, Ananias the hie Priest descended with the elders, and with a certaine Diator, named Tertullus, which appeared before the deputie against Paul.

2 And when Paul was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnes by the means of thee, and that many good things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 That allow we euer, and in al places, most noble felix, with all thanks.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a few words.

5 For we haue found this man a pestilent fellowe, and a moouer of debate vnto all the Jewes in the whole world, and a maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 Which also hath gone about to pollute the temple: whom we tooke, and would haue iudged according to our law.

7 But the high captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou maiest, if thou wilt enquire, know the certaintie of all these things wherof we accuse him.

9 And the Jewes likewise affirmed, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie himselfe had beckened vnto him that hec should speake, answered, with a moze quiet mind doe I answer for my selfe, for as much as I bnderstand that thou hast bene of many yeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou maiest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went by to Hierusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found mee in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising by the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proue the things wherof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call herelle, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleuing all things which are written in the Law & the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they themselves looke for also, shall be both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein study I, to haue alway a cleare conscience to ward God, and to ward men.

17 Now after many yeres, I came & brought almes to my nation, and offerings:

18 In the which they found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with bquietnesse.

a Felix by his diligencie had taken care: a rus the captain of the souldiers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which railed by tumults in July. For this the Diator pleades him: and sayes he was both cruel and couetous.

b So maust thou in our time vnder the religion be called herelle, for so it was counted of the iusts, as it is in the beginning of Courtes kings booke.

Act. 21. 27.

19 Howbeit, there were certaine Jewes out of Asia,

20 which ought to be here present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue found any euill doing in me, while I stand here in the Councell, 22 Except it be for this one voice, that I cryed standing among them, *That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these things, he deferred them: for he knewe very well of that way, and sayde, When Lyllias the captaine is come downe, I will knowe the uttermost of your matter.

24 And he commanded an vndercaptaine to keepe Paul, and to let him haue rest, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine daies, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, he called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith which is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Woe thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I will send for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bin giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

28 But after two yerres, Porcius Festus came into Felix roume: and Felix willing to shew the Jewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The Jewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himselfe.

When when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea to Hierusalem.

2 Then enuironed him the high priest, and the chiefe of the Jewes, against Paul, and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would send for him to Hierusalem, laying waite in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse him, if there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had taried among them moze then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next daye sate downe in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 Who being come, the Jewes which were come from Hierusalem, stood about him, and laide many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue.

8 While hee answered for himselfe, that neither against the lawe of the Jewes, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to doe the Jewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, wilt thou go by to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged, to the Jewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I doe any wrong, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer mee vnto them, I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then spake Festus with the Councell, and answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar: vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had bene there a good season, Festus reheard Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certaine man left in bondes of Felix.

15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high Priests & the Elders of the Jewes enforced me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romanes, for fauour to deliuer any man that he should perish, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answer for himselfe concerning the crime laide against him.

17 Therefore when they were come thither, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood by, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether hee would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morow, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the chiefe captaines, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement was Paul brought forth.

24 And Festus saide, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with vs, seee this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jewes haue entreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet found I nothing worthy of death that he had committed: Neuerthelesse, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee,

e. These accusers speak but upon false reports, which the bellows of Satan haue blowne abroad, and must not to shame appeare chameleon.

Acts. 23. 7.

2. Such is the might a force of Gods hearing word, that it causeth the weake heart to tremble and quake.

2. Christe I will fight for thee, but the lawe is not to be broken, his commandment on this part is not to be broken, and after this cometh that he is a common safe, that the lawes of Gods are still spoken of as their due.

King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue some what to witte.
27 For mee thinketh it unreasonable for to send a prisoner, & not to shewe the causes which are layd against him.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25 Pauls modest answer against the iniurie of Festus.

When Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before thee of all the things where of I am accused of the Jewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare mee patiently.

4 Why life that I haue led of a child, which was at the first among mine own nation at Hierusalem, know all the Jewes.

5 Which knew me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I liued a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Vnto which promise our twelue tribes incessantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for which hopes sake, King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God raise the dead?

9 I also verily thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things, cleane against the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

10 Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the Saints did I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence.

11 And I punished them oft in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, and persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 About which things as I went to Damascus, with authoritie and commission of the high priests, 13 Euen at midday, I saw in the way a light from heauen, aboue the brightness of the sunne, shine round about mee, and them which tourneyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto me in the Hebreu tongue, and saying, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee? It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

15 And I said, who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stande vpon thy secte, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness, both of these things which thou hast seene, & of those things in the which I will appeare vnto thee.

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom nowe I sende thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiveness of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heavenly vision:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, a thoroughout all the coastes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe such works as become them that repent.

21 For this cause the Jewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Seeing therefore that I haue obtained helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things then those which the Prophets and Poets did say should come:

23 That Christ should suffer, and that hee should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himselfe, Festus sayde with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy selfe, much learning doth make thee madde.

25 But he said, I am not madde, most noble festus, but speake forth the words of truth and sobernesse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake freely, neither beleue I, that any of these things are hidden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, beleuest thou the Prophets? I wote well that thou beleuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perswadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare mee to day, were both somewhat, and also in a great deale such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselmes, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

32 Then saide Agrippa vnto festus, This man might haue bene let loose, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Paul shippeth toward Rome. 3 Iulius the captaine entreateth him courteously.

When it was concluded that we should saile into Italy, they deliuered both Paul and certaine other prisoners, vnto one named Iulius, an vndercaptaine of Augustus band.

2 And we entred into a ship of Adramyttium, and looked from land, appointed to saile by the coastes of Asia, one Aristorchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, carying with vs.

3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Iulius courteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friends, and to refresh himselfe.

4 And when we had lanchd from thence,

c Festus being much troubled with Pauls doctrine, a drawing out his tyme to say against him, he wrote vnto the king, and to the rulers concerning him, as wicked and subvertuous: For whosoever are thus, they will be punished with double measure, and come all such foolish things to their end. He saw a little light, but it was gone out, like vnto those that bring a stone, and they will murther, but after returne to their old course.

we sayled hard by Cyprus, because the windes were contrary.

5 And when we had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra a city which is in Lykia.

6 And there the vndercaptaine found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy, and he put vs therein.

7 And when wee had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarce were come ouer against Cnidum, because the winde withstood vs, we sayled hard by Candie, ouer against Salomone,

8 And with much worke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place which is called the faire hauens, nigh whereunto was the cite of La-sea.

9 When much time was spent, and when sayling was nowe icopardous, because also that the fall was nowe already past, Paul put them in remembrance,

10 And sayd vnto them, Sirs, I perceiue that this boiage wil be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 Neuerthelesse, the vndercaptaine beleued the gouernour and the master of the shippe, more then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the Hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter, which is an Hauen of Candy, and lieth toward the South west and North west winde.

13 And when the South winde blew softly, they supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosed vnto Alon, and sailed past Candie.

14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flaw of winde out of the North east, which is called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the winde, wee let her goe, and were diuenu with the weather.

16 But we were caried into an Ile, which is called Claudia, and had much worke to come by a boate, 17 which they tooke by, and bled helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing least they should fall into the Syrtes: and so they let downe a bessel, and were caried.

18 The next day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lighted the ship:

19 And the third day wee cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that wee should be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Sirs, ye should haue hearkned vnto mee, and not haue loosed from Candie, and to haue gained vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheere: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul, thou must be brought before Cesar, and loe, God hath giuen thee: all them that sayle with thee.

25 Wherefore Sirs, be of good cheere: for I beleue God, that it shall be euen as it was told me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certaine Island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were sayling in Adria about midnight, the shipmen decimed that they dyewe nere to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and found it twentie fadomes: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and found it fiftene fadomes.

29 When fearing least we should haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boat into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the vndercaptaine, and to the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saued.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the rope of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when the day begarne to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing at all.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shal not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good cheere, and they also tooke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the ship, two hundred threescore, and fiftene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lighted the shippe, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the land: but they spied a certaine Hauen, with a bank, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken by the ankers, they committed the rudder bandes, & hopped by the maine saile to the winde, and dyew to land.

41 And when they fell into a place which had the sea on both sides, they thrust in the shippe, and the forepart stucke fast and mooued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swom out, should runne away.

43 But the vndercaptaine, willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commaunded that they which could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and scape to land:

44 And the other, some on boords, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they escaped all safe to land.

And when they were escaped, then they knew that the Isle was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no little kindnesse, for they kindled a fire, and received vs every one because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and layd them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hand.

4 And when the strangers sawe the beast hang on his hand, they sayd among themselves, No doubt this man is a murtherer, whome though hee hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to liue.

5 And he shooke off the viper into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they waited when hee should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and sayd that he was a God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the Isle, whose name was Publius, which receiued vs, & lodged vs three daies courteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, and of a bloody fluxe, to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and layd his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, other also which had diseases in the Isle, came, and were healed: 10 which also did vs great honour, and when we departed, they laded vs with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Isle, whose badge was Casio and Pollux.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee set a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blew, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

14 where we found brethren, and were deliued to carrie with them tenen dayes: and so wee came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the thre tauernes: when Paul saw them, he thanked God, and wared bold.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vndercaptaine deliuered the prisoners to the chief captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three daies, Paul called the chiefe of the Jewes together.

And when they were come together, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 which when they had examined me, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 for this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chaine.

21 And they sayd vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we wil heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him in his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the Prophets, euen from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded in the things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

24 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, (that is to say,) Well spake the holy Ghost by Istaia the Prophet, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, *Goe vnto this people, and say, with your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstand, and with your eyes shall ye see, and not perceiue.

27 for the heart of this people is wared grosse, and their eares are dul of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should be conuerted, and I should heare them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when hee had sayd these wordes, the Jewes departed, & had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres full in his owne hired house, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

After that Saint Paul had preached the Gospel of Christ, both in the East and West, about seuen and thirtie yeeres, he was in the last yeere of Nero the Emperour beheaded at Rome with the sword.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

The first Chapter.

1 Paul sheweth to whome and to what purpose hee is called. 16 What the Gospel is. 18 The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20 The vse of the creatures. 24 The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

Daul the seruant of Iesus Christ, called to be an Apostle, seuered vnto the Gospel of God, which hee had promised afore by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures

3 Of his sonne, which was made of the seede of Dauid after the flesh:

4 And hath bene declared to be the sonne of God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Iesus Christ our Lord:

5 By whome wee haue receiued grace and Apostleship, that obedience might be giuen vnto the faith in his name among all Heathen.

6 Among whome, yee are also the called of Iesus Christ:

7 To all that bee in Rome, beloued of God, saints by calling: Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Iesus Christ:

8 First verely I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you all, that your faith is published throughout all the world.

9 For God is my witnesse, whome I serue with my spirite in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceasing I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might make a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestow among you some spirituall gift, that yee might be established, 12 That is, that I might haue consolation together with you, ech with others faith, yours and mine.

13 I would that yee should knowe, brethren, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (and haue bene let hitherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am detter both to the Greekes, & to the barbarous, both to the wise and to the vnwise.

15 So that as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also, 16 for I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleue, to the Jewe first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the righteousnesse of God opened from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reuealed from heauen, against all vngodlinesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, which withhold the truth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For that that may bee knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible things, being vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the world, are seene, that is, both his eternall power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, notwithstanding they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but waxed full of banities in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was blinded.

22 When they counted themselues wise, they became fooles:

23 And turned the glory of the incorruptible God vnto an Image, made not onely after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping beastes.

24 Wherefore God gaue them by to vnclennesse, through the lustes of their owne heartes, that their owne bodies should be defiled among themselues.

25 Which changed his truth for a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, more then the Creatour, which is to bee praised for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore God gaue them by vnto shameful lustes, for euen their women did chaunge the naturall vse, into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also, the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and went in their lustes one with another, and men with men wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselues the reward of their error (as it was according.)

28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: euen so, God deliuered them by vnto a lewd minde, that they should doe those things which were not comely:

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnesse, fornication, craftinesse, couetousnesse, maliciousnesse, full of enuie, murder, debate, deceit, euill conditioned, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despitefull,

Which appeared the world knowing nothing of God in the sight of God all turne are godless, sinners, and the children of wrath: who when they knowe of God, will not be worshipped, because they neither thinke him worthy to be worshipped, nor do they therefore are punished upon them from heauen. They hold the creature as vngodly, which is the cause of their blindness and lie.

Which is to be called: that is, because the idolaters were about to be called: that is, because they were, thinking that: to be worshipped: which is the cause of their blindness and lie.

Why hee is called that is not the office of the Apostle, by his arrogancy, by the name of God, which hee receiued from the Apo-proud, boasters, bringers by of euill things, disobedient to father and mother :

31 Without vnderstanding, covenant breakers, without natural affection, truce breakers, vnrmercifull.

32 The which knowing the righteousnesse of God (howe that they which commit such things, are worthise of death) not onely doe the same, but also haue pleasure in them that doe them.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites. 13 All men are sinners.

Herefoze art thou vnexcusable, O man, whofoeuer * thou bee that iudgeth : for in that same wherein thou iudgeth another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgeth, doest euen the same things.

2 But wee are sure that the iudgement of God is according to the trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgeth them which doe such things, and doest the same thy selfe, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God ?

4 Either despisest thou the riches of his goodnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the goodnesse of God leaeth thee to repentance ?

5 But thou, after thy stubbornnesse & heart that cannot repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God :

6 * which will reward euery man according to his <sup>b</sup> deeds :

7 To them which by continuing in well doing seeke for glory, and honour, and immortallitie, eternall life :

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and doe not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteousnesse, shall come indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation, and anguish, vpon euery soule of man that doeth euill, of the Jewe first, and also of the Greeke :

10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doeth good, to the Jewe first, and also to the Greeke :

11 * for there is no respect of persons with God,

12 For whofoeuer hath sinned without law, shall also perish without lawe : and as many as haue sinned in the lawe, shall be iudged by the lawe, 13 (For in the sight of God, * the hearers of the law are not righteous : but the doers of the law shall be iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the law, doe of nature the things contained in the law : they hauing not the law, are a law vnto themselves,

15 Which shewe the workes of the law written in their hearts, their consciences bearing them witness, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing)

16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jewe, and <sup>d</sup> restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,

18 And knowest his will, and allowest the things that be excellent, insourmed by the law :

19 And believest that thou thy selfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenesse, 20 An insourmer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned : which hast the forme of knowledg, and of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe ? Thou preaches a man should not steale, yet stealest thou ?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adulterie, breakest thou wedlocke ? Thou abhorrest idoles, and yet committedst sacrifice ?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the lawe, through breaking the lawe, dishonourest thou God ?

24 For the name of God is euill spoken of among the Gentiles through you, as it is written,

25 For circumcision berey auaieth, if thou keepe the lawe : but if thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the <sup>c</sup> vncircumcision keepe the ordinaunces of the lawe, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision ?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the law, iudge thee, which being vnder the letter & circumcision doest transgresse the lawe ?

28 For he is not a Jewe, which is a Iewe outward. Neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh.

29 But he is a Jewe, which is one inwardly, and the circumcision of the heart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter, is circumcision, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes haue a prerogatiue, 24 All are iustified by grace through faith, and not through workes.

What preferment then hath the Jewe ? What prokfte is there of circumcision ?

2 Much euery way. first, for because that vnto them were committed the wordes of God.

3 What then though some of them did not beleue ? Shall their vnbeliefe make the <sup>e</sup> faith of God without effect ?

4 God forbid : Yea, let God be true, and euery man a liar, as it is written, That thou mightest bee iustified in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But if our vnrighteousnesse letteth forth the righteousnesse of God, what shall we say ? Is God vnrighteous which taketh vengeance ? (I speake after the manner of men.)

6 God forbid : for how then shall God iudge the world ?

7 For if the trueth of God hath more aboundeth through my lye vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner ?

8 And not rather (as we be vnderstandly reported, and as some affirme that we say) let vs doe euill, that good may come thereof : whose damnation is full.

9 What then, are we better then they ? No, in no wise : for wee haue before accused both

Mat. 7. 1. a Sicut Saul sperabit here againt those men only, who being themselves filled with all wickedness and impietie, yet be of all other most bitter and curious in noting and registering other mens faults : not of any goodly yeale, but to iudice themselves, and to bring other in into hatred and contempt.

Mar. 16. 27. b For that our workes be of such meere that they desire reward: but the scriptures shew the kinde of speaking, that thereby it was promised and there by vnto our good liuing, whereby our faith may be more apparent, which good workes God of his free grace doth reward.

2. Par. 19. 7. ad 10. 34

Iam. 1. 22.

c It is like Gospel, both for the freer love and zeal that be beareth to it, and also for the great paines that be both taken in suffering, and the same. d We sheweth the Iewes which were desirous through a certaine seruile and confidence in the law.

e This word was the name of the people, of which country so many were they be, which haue the signe of the circumcision, according to the law of Moses. Or, openly or, secretly

f It is like the perfection of the lawe, as it is written, that thou mightest bee iustified in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged. Or, rather

Jewes and Gentiles, that they are all vnder sinne:

10 As it is written, * There is none righteous, no not one:

11 * There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

13 Their thioate is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceiued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lips.

14 * Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 * Their feet are swift to shed blood.

16 * Heartes grieue and miserie are in their wayes:

17 And the way of peace haue they not knowen.

18 * There is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 Now we knowe that what things soeuer the lawe sauyeth, it sauyeth it to them which are vnder the lawe: that every mouth may be stopped, and that all the world may bee endangered to God.

20 Because that by the deedes of the lawe, there shall no fleshe be iustified in his sight: for by the lawe cometh the knowledge of sinne.

21 * But now the righteousness of God without the lawe is made manifest, beeing witnessed by the lawe and the Prophets.

22 The righteousness of God cometh by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, & vpon all them that beleue. There is no difference:

23 For all haue sinned, and haue need of the glory of God,

24 But are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus:

25 Whome God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness, by the forgiuing of the sinnes that are past, 26 Which God did suffer, to shewe at this time his righteousness: that hee might be iust, and the iustificer of him which beleueth on Iesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of workes: Nay: but by the lawe of faith.

28 Therefore, we hold that a man is iustified by faith, without the deedes of the lawe.

29 Is he the God of the Jewes onely? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by faith, and vncircumcision thorow faith.

31 Doe wee then destroy the lawe through faith? God forbid: but we rather maintaine the lawe.

The iiii. Chapter.

7 Iustification is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13 and also by the office of the law and faith,

8 What shall wee say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, did finde?

9 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

3 For what sauyeth the Scripture? * Abraham beleued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousness.

4 To him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of dutie.

5 To him that worketh not, but beleueth on him that iustificieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednes of the man vnto whome God imputeth righteousness without workes:

7 Saying, * Blessed are they whose vnrigh- tounesse are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed is that man to whome the Lorde will not impute sinne.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in the circumcision, or when he was in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

11 * And hee receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seal of the righteousness of faith, which he had yet being vncircumcised: that hee should be the father of all them that beleue, though they bee not circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed vnto them also.

12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which came of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he should be the heire of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the lawe be heires, then is faith but baine, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the lawe causeth wrath: for where no lawe is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore by faith is the inheritance given that it might bee by grace, that the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, which is the father of vs all.

17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whome yee beleueed, which reioyeth the dead vnto life, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Who contrary to hope, beleueed in hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, * So shall thy seed be.

19 And hee fainted not in the faith, nor considered his owne body nowe dead, when hee was almost an hundred yeeres olde, neither yet the deadnesse of Sarases wombe.

20 Hee slackered not at the promise of God through vnbeleife: but was strong in faith, giuing glory to God.

21 And beeing full certified, that what hee had promised, hee was able also to performe.

22 And therefore was it reckoned to him

Gen. 15. 6. gal. 3. 6. ian. 2. 23.

Opening, that the Jewes the Gentile be both iustified by one promise, which is by faith.

for righteoulesse.
 23 Neuerthelesse, it is not written for him onely, that it was reckoned to him:
 24 But also for vs, to whom it shall be reckoned, so that wee beleeue on him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead,
 25 which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raised againe for our iustification.

The v. Chapter.

1 The fruite of faith. 12 From whence commeth death, and from whence life,

Ferefoze being iustified by faith, wee are at peace with God, thorough our Lord Iesus Christ:

2 By whom also wee haue had an entrance by faith, vnto this grace wherein wee stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 Not that onely: * but also wee reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation woꝝ keth patience:
 4 Patience prooue: prooue hope:
 5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shedde abroad in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For when wee were yet weak, according to the time, Christ died for the vngodly.
 7 Now scarce will any man die for the righteous: yet peradventure for the good, some man durst die.
 8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.
 9 Much more then now, wee that are iustified by his blood, shall be laued from wrath thorough him.

10 For if when we were enemies, wee were reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: much more, seeing we are reconciled, we shall be laued by his life.
 11 Not onely so, but wee also toy in God, thorough our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom we haue now receiued the atonement.

12 No herefoze, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne: euen so, death entred into all men, in so much as all haue sinned.

13 For vnto the Lawe was sinne in the worlde: but sinne is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Neuerthelesse, death reigned from Adam to Moyses, ouer them also that had not sinned with like transgression as did Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the sinne, so is the free gift. For if through the sinne of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 And not as by one that sinned, euen so the gift, for the sinne entred by one offence into condemnation: but the gift of many sinnes into iustification.

17 For if by the sinne of one, death reigned by the meanes of one, much more they, which receiue abundance of grace and of the gift of righteoulesse, shall reigne in life by the meanes of one, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then, as by the sinne of one, sinne came on all men to condemnation: euen to, by the righteoulesse of one good came vpon all men to the righteoulesse of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many be made righteous.

20 But the law in the meane time entred in, that sinne should increase. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was moze plenteous.

21 That as sinne hath reigned vnto death: euen so might grace reigne thorough righteoulesse vnto eternall life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vj. Chapter.

Newnesse of life followeth iustification, to the which he exhorteth.

What shall we say then? Shall wee continue in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 How shall wee that are dead vnto sinne, liue any longer therein?

3 And now ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized vnto his death?

4 We are buried then with him by baptism into his death, that like wise as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glorie of the father: euen so wee also should walke in newnesse of life.

5 For if we be graff together by the likenesse of his death: euen so shall wee be partakers of the resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him also, that the body of sinne might utterly be destroyed, that hencefoorth we should not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is iustified from sinne.
 8 And if we be dead with Christ, wee beleeue that we shall also liue with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no moze, death hath no moze power ouer him.

10 For as touching that he died, he died concerning sinne once: And as touching that he liueth, he liueth vnto God.

11 Likewise reckon your selues to bec dead vnto sinne: but aliue vnto God, thorough Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne therefore reigne in your mortall body, that ye should therunto obey by the lusts of it.

13 Neither giue ye your members as instruments of vnrighetesnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteoulesse vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because yee are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace.

15 What then? shall wee sinne, because wee are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 And knowe ye not howe that to whomsoever ye commit your selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteoulesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the seruants of sinne: but yee haue obeyed with heart the forme of doctrine, into the which yee were brought vnto,

18 Being then made free from sinne, yee are become:

To peace, which is the fruit of faith, is meant the tranquillitie of the conscience being quiet, and without any disturbance.

Both for the soules that are reconciled to God by faith, and also for those which are yet sinners, but who desire to be reconciled to God by his blood.

For by Christ we are not only freed from the bondage of sin, but also from all such things as we have added therunto.

By which is meant the tranquillitie of the conscience being quiet, and without any disturbance.

Or, we possess

Or, we possess

What is meant by the lawe, the lawe of the office of the conscience, and by grace, the lawe of the heart, which is the lawe of the nature of man, which is the lawe of the nature of the flesh.

When we to become the seruants of righteousnesse.

19 I speake after the manner of men, because of the infirmite of your flesh. For, as ye haue giuen your members seruants to uncleannesse and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so now giue your members seruants to righteousnesse, vnto holinesse.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were free from righteousnesse.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? For the ende of those things, is death.

22 But now ye being made free from sinne, and made the seruants of God, haue your fruit vnto holinesse, and the ende euertlasting life.

23 For the reward of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vij. Chapter.

The fight betwene the lawe of the flesh, and the Law of the Spirit.

Howe ye not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the Law) how that the Law hath power ouer a man, as long as he liueth?

2 For the woman which hath an hus band, is bound by the Lawe to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then if while her husband liueth, shee couple her selfe with another man, shee shall be counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husband be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though shee couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the Law by the body of Christ, that ye should be coupled to another, who is raised from the dead, that wee should bring foorth fruit vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the lusts of sinne which were by the Lawe wrought in our members, to bring foorth fruit vnto death.

6 But now are we deliuered from the Law, and dead vnto it whereunto wee were in bondage, that wee should serue in newnesse of Spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall wee say then? Is the Lawe sinne? God forbid. Nevertheless, I knewe not sin, but by the Law: for I had not knowen lust, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, wrought in mee all manner of concupiscence. For without the Law sinne was dead.

9 I once liued without Law: but when the Commandement came, sinne reuiued.

10 And I was dead: and the very same Commandement which was ordeined vnto life, was found to be vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, hath deceiued mee, and by the same led me.

12 Wherefoze the Law is holy, and the Commandement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which was good, made death vnto mee? God forbid: But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that which was good to worke death in mee: that sinne by the Commandement might be out of measure full.

14 For we know that the Law is spirituall: but I am carnall, soide vnder sinne.

15 For that which I doe, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I doe now that which I would not, I consent vnto the Law that it is good.

17 Now then, it is not I that do it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in mee (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. For to will, is present with me: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For the good that I would doe I not: but the euil which I would not, that do I.

20 And if I doe that I would not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Lawe, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delite in the Lawe of God, after the inward man.

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling against the law of my minde, and subduing me vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer me from the body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the Lawe of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of sinne.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The assurance of the faithfull. 6 The fruits of the holy Ghost.

Here is then no damnation to them which are in Christ Iesu, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Lawe of the Spirit of life, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free from the law of sinne and death.

3 For what the Lawe coulde not doe, in as much as it was weake through the flesh, God hauing sent his owne Sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesh, euen by sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh:

4 That the righteousnes of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are carnall, are carnally minded: but they that are Spirituall, are Spirituallly minded.

6 To be carnally minded, is death: but to be Spirituallly minded, is life and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enmitie against God: for it is not obedient to the Lawe of God, neither can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. If any man haue not the Spirit of Christ, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sinne: but the Spirit is life for righteousnesse sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken the as bond men are violently thrust, buried, & crucified, as it pleased their cruel malice: So are wee through heape of sinnes vnto death, which we do neither like nor allow.

It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lump of sinne, rolling and rotting vnto the whole man, and plucking him from God, wherby vniuersal and miseries are heaped on, and in sinne as he were in the middell of death.

The Lawe of the spirit and the lawe of sinne, is here taken improperly for the power and strength of the lawe and sinne: and it is called the Spirit of life, because it quickeneth and giueth life. Christ through the sacrifice of his blood, which hee offered vpon the crosse in his flesh, hath condemned and abolished sinne, which reigned in our mortall flesh.

Christ would do not so much signify wisdom and piety, as affection, care which is the numbering of any thing.

Albeit we haue a body which is dead to all goodnes, by reason of sinne, which is strongly reigned in it, yet when we are giued in Christ, his spirit of life enuirteth it, and maketh vs.

Before the coming of Christ, all men were in bondage to law, which then more or lesse did disclose the sinne and cleanness, vnto them which were his seruants. When then the lawe was brought in, it was to be a reflection, then cleanness through grace, spoiled a Conscience, new birth, then to be in the lawe of life, called. Because the lawe of Christ was an offering and a sacrifice for our sinnes, wherby we are pleased and his approbation for us take hold vnto all things, vnto the lawe of our sinne.

As if you goeth to mind, or to more. But cause the latter was true, and I have nothing doubting hereof, it is true made, I am persuaded. The creature shall not be restored before Gods childre be brought to their perfection. In the same reason they dance, grieve, and walke.

your mortall bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are detters, not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh,

13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit, doe mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are ledde by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receiued the spirit of bondage againe to feare: but ye haue receiued the Spirit of adoption, whereby wee cry, Abba, Father.

16 The Spirit it selfe beareth witness to our spirit, that we are the sonnes of God.

17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heires, the heires of God, and ioynt heires with Christ: so that we suffer together, that wee may be also glorified together.

18 For I am certainly perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not worthy of the glory which shall be shewed vnto vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abideth, looking when the sonnes of God shall appere:

20 Because the creature is subject to vanitie, not willing, but for him which hath subdued the same in hope.

21 For the creature it selfe shall be made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we know that euery creature grooneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine with vs, euen vnto this time.

23 Not onely they, but wee also which haue the first fruites of the Spirit, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the deliuerance of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is scene, is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But and if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise, the spirit also helpeth our infirmitie. For we know not what to desire as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh great intercession for vs, with groanings, which cannot be expressed.

27 And hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for hee maketh intercession for the Saints, according to the pleasure of God.

28 For we know that all things worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them which also are called of purpose.

29 For those which hee knew before, hee also did predestinate, that they should be like fashioned vnto the shape of his Sonne, that he might be the first begotten among brethren.

30 Moreover, whom hee did predestinate, them also hee called: and whom hee called, them also hee iustified: and whom hee iustified, them also hee glorified.

31 What shall wee then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Which spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all: how shall hee not with him also giue vs all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ which died, yea rather which is raised againe, which is also on the right hand of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, either hunger, either nakednesse, either perill, either sword?

36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.)

37 Neuertheless, in all these things wee ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither life, neither Angels, nor rule, neither power, neither things present, neither things to come,

39 Neither height, nor deapth, neither any other creature, shall be able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesu our Lord.

The ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue toward his nation.

Say the truth in Christ, I lie not (my conscience also bearing mee witness by the holy Ghost)

2 That I haue great heavines, and continual sorrow in my heart.

3 For I haue wished my selfe to be cursed from Christ, for my brethren, my kinsmen as pertaining to the flesh.

4 Which are the Israelites: to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the Law that was giuen, and the Service of God, and the promises:

5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came which is God, in all things to be praised for euer, Amen.

6 And it cannot bee, that the word of God hath taken now effect. For they are not all Israelites, which are of Israel:

7 Neither are they all children, that are the seed of Abraham: but in Isahac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is to say, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but they which be the children of promise, are counted the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, * About this time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

10 Not onely this, but also * Rebecca was with childe by one, euen by our father Isahac.

11 For per the children were borne, when they had neither done good, neither bad, (that the purpose of God by election might stand: not by reason of workes, but by the caller)

12 It was said vnto her, The elder shall serue the younger.

13 As it is written, Iacob haue I loved, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shall wee say then? is there any bnrighthousnesse with God? God forbid.

15 For hee saith to Moyses, I will shewe mercie, to whomsoever I shewe mercie: and will haue compassion, on whomsoever I haue compassion.

16 So then election is not of the willer, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercie.

17 For the Scripture saith vnto Pharao, * Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, and 18 So hath he mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth.

25 As he saith also in Deee, * I wil call them, My people, which were not my people: and her, Beloued, which was not beloued.

26 * And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shall they be called, The children of the liuing God.

27 And Elaias cryeth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the Sea, yet but a remnant shall be saued.

28 For he finisheth the word, and maketh it short in righteousness: for a short word will the Lord make on earth.

29 And as Elaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabbooth had left vs seed, we had bene made as Sodoma, & had bene likened to Gomorpha.

30 What shal we say then? that the Gentiles which followed not righteousness, haue obtained righteousness: euen the righteousness which commeth of faith:

31 But Israel which followed the Lawe of righteousness, hath not attained to the Lawe of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the woorkes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is writen, Beholde, I put in Si on a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, and whoeuer beleueth on him, shall not bee founded.

The x. Chapter.

Brethren, my hearts desire & prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 for I beare them record, that they haue a zeale of God: but not according to knowledge.

3 for they being ignorant of Gods righteousness, and going about to stablish their owne righteousness, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousness of God.

4 for Christ is the ende of the Lawe, for righteousness to all that beleuee.

is called another righteousness which commeth by our owne woorkes and duties. c. That is, that hath fulfilled the whole Law, and therefore whoeuer beleueth in him, is counted full be-doe, as well as hee hath fulfilled the whole Law himselfe.

5 for Moses writeth of the righteousness which is of the Law, howe that the man which doeth those things, shall liue by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thine heart, who shall ascende into heauen? that is to fetch Christ downe from aboue.

7 Either who shall descend into the deepe? that is to fetch by Christ againe from the dead.

8 But what saith hee? The word is nigh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart. This same is the word of faith, which we preach.

9 for if thou halt knowledge with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, & shalt beleuee in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 for with the heart man beleueth vnto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 for the Scripture saith, whoeuer beleueth on him, shall not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Jew and the Greeke: for the same Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all that call vpon him.

13 for whoeuer shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 How then shall they call on him, on whom they haue not beleueed? How shall they beleuee on him, of whom they haue not heard? How shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? As it is writen, Howe beautifull are the feete of them which bring good tidings of peace, and bring good tidings of good things?

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Elaias saith, Lord, who hath beleueed our sayings?

17 So then faith commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the word of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into all landes, and their words into the endes of the world.

19 But I demand whether Israel did know, or not? first Moses saith, * I will prouoke you to enue by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20 And Elaias is bolde, and saith, * I haue bene found of them that sought me not: I haue bene made manifest vnto them that asked not after me.

21 But against Israel he saith, * All day long haue I stretched out my handes vnto a people that beleueth not, but speaketh against me.

men, which haue not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant, according to the election of grace.

6 If it bee of grace, then is it not now of woakes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of woakes, then is it now no grace, for then woake is no more woake.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that which hee seeketh for, but the election hath obtained it, the remnant hath bene blinded.

8 (According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirit of remorfe: eyes, that they should not see, and eares, that they should not hear) euen vnto this day.

9 And Dauid saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling stoeke, and a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes bee blinded, that they see not, and bow thou downe their backs alway.

11 I say then, Haue they therefore stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall, saluation is come vnto the Gentiles, for to prouoke them withall.

12 Now if the fall of them, be the riches of the world, and the minishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: Ho w much more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 If by any meane I may prouoke them which are my flesh, & might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiuing of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruite be holy, the whole lump also is holy. And if the roote be holy, the branches also.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde Olive tree, wast graff in among them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Olive tree:

18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graff in.

20 Well: because of vnbeliefe they were broken off, and thou stoodst stedfast in faith. Be not high minded, but feare.

21 For seeing that God spared not the naturall branches, take heed lest it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the kindenesse and rigorositie of God: on them which fell, rigorositie: but to wards thee, kindenesse, if thou continue in kindenesse: or els thou also shalt bee hewen off.

23 And they, if they bide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be graffed in: for God is of power to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou were cut out of a natural wilde Olive tree, & were graffed, contrary to nature, in a true Olive tree: how much more shall these which bee the naturall branches, bee graffed in their owne Olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mysterie, (lest ye should bee wise in your owne conceits) that partly blindednesse is happened in Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saued, as it is written, * There shall come out of Sion he that doth deliuer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Jacob.

27 And this is my Couenant vnto them * when I shall take away their finnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the Election, they are loued for the fathers sakes.

29 For the free gifts and calling of God, are without repentance.

30 For as yee in time past haue not beleued God, yet haue ye now obtained mercy through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen so now haue they not beleued the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obtaine mercy.

32 For God hath shut by all nations in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercy on all.

33 O the deepenesse of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God: howe vnsearchable are his Judgements, and his wayes past finding out?

34 For who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? Or who hath bene his counseller?

35 Either who hath giuen vnto him first, and he shall be recompensed againe?

36 For of him, and through him, and for him, are all things: to whom be glory for euer, Amen.

The xij. Chapter.

How euery man should walke in his seuerall calling.

Beleeue you therefore, brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that ye giue by your bodies a quick sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice.

2 And bee not ye fashioned like vnto this world: but be ye changed in your shape, by the renewing of your minde, that ye may proue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, through the grace giuen vnto mee, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of himselfe, more then hee ought to esteeme: but so esteeme himselfe that he behaue himselfe discreetly, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of faith.

4 For as wee haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office:

5 So wee, being many, are one body in Christ, and euery one, members one of another.

6 Seeing that we haue diuers gifts, according to the grace that is giuen vnto vs: either prophetic, after the measure of faith:

7 Either office, in administration: or he that teacheth, in teaching:

8 Or he that exhorteth, in exhorting: hee that giueth, in singlenesse: he that ruleth, in diligence: he that is mercifull, in chearefulness:

9 Loue without dissimulation: hating euil, cleauing to good:

10 Affectioned one to another with brotherly loue, in giuing honour, going one before another.

11 Not lither in businesse, seruant in spirit, seruing the Lord.

1 Of obedience to the rulers, which beare not the sworde in vaine. 8 Charitie must measure all our doings.

The Epistle on the iij. Sunday after the Epiphanie. pi. 6.4.

Et every soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: for there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therfore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not fearefull to good works, but to the euill. Wilt thou not feare the power? Doe well, and thou shalt haue praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth. But if thou doe euill, feare, for he beareth not the sworde in vaine: for he is the minister of God, reuenger of wrath on him that doeth euill.

The xiiij. Chapter.

One ought to beare with anothers conscience in charitie.

I'm that is weake in the faith receiue, not to doubtfulnesse of disputations.

2 One beleueeth that he may eate every thing: another which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receiued him.

4 What art thou that iudgeth another mans seruant? To his owne master he standeth or falleth: Pea, he shall be holden by, for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man putteth difference betweene day and day. Another man counteth all dayes alike. Let every man be fully perswaded in his owne minde.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto the Lord, and he that esteemeth not the day, to the Lord hee doth not esteeme it. Hee that eateth, eateth to the Lorde, for hee giueth God thanks: and hee that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thanks.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, and no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For if we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: and if we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therfore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of dead and quicke.

10 But why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Either, why doest thou set at nought thy brother? * We shall all stand before the iudgment seat of Christ.

What is, not to this end, contentiously to dispute with him in matters of religion, whereas the rule of faith be cannot be attained, but he should depart with a better conscience, or be offended with unbearable occasioning.

It must be assured to one content: by Gods word in all things that we do, that if we be wrong, we may know where our libertie; and if we be weaker, we may see to grow daily.

13 Let vs not therfore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way.

14 For I knowe, and am perswaded by the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing common of it self, but vnto him that iudgeth it to be common, to him it is common.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably: destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ died.

The xv. Chapter.

14 Paul sheweth his zeale toward them, 30 and requireth the like of them.

Ve which are strong, ought to beare the frailnesse of the weak, and not to stand in our owne conceits.

2 Let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to edifying.

3 For Christ pleased not himselfe, but as it is written, The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fell on me.

4 For whatsoever things haue bene written aforetime, were written for our learning, that wee through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, might haue hope,

5 The God of patience and consolation, * grant you to be like minded one towards another, after the ensample of Christ Iesu:

6 That ye all agreeing together, may with one mouth praise God, & the father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 wherfore receiue ye one another, as Christ receiued vs, to the glory of God.

8 And I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers:

9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his mercie, as it is written, * for this cause I will praise thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy name.

10 And againe he saith, * Reioice ye Gentiles with his people.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord all ye Gentiles, and laud him all ye people together.

12 And againe, Esaias saith, * There shall be the roote of Jesse, and he that shall rife to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 The God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in beleeuing, that ye may be rich in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, and filled with all knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuerthelesse, brethren, I haue somewhat more boldly written vnto you, as putting you in remembrance through the grace that is giuen to me of God.

16 That I should bee the minister of Iesus Christ to the Gentiles, and should minister the Gospel of God, that the offering of the Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy Ghost.

17 I haue therefore wherof I may reioice through Christ Iesus, in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I will not be bold to speake of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient with word and deed, 19 In mighty signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God, so that from Hierusalem, & the coasts round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christ.

20 So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built vpon another mans foundation.

21 But as it is written, * To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that heare not, shall vnderstand.

22 For this cause I haue bene oft let, that I could not come vnto you:

23 But now hauing no more to do in these countries, and also hauing a great desire many yeeres to come vnto you,

24 whensoever I take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, and to bee brought on my way thitherward by you, after that I be somewhat filled with you.

25 But now go I vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine common gathering for the poore saints which are at Hierusalem.

27 * It hath pleased them verily, and their betters are they, for if the Gentiles bee made partakers of their spiritual things, their dutie is to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue performed this, and haue sealed to them this fruit, I wil come by you into Spaine.

29 And I am sure that when I come vnto you, I shall come with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

30 I beseech you brethren for the Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye helpe me in my businesse with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered fro them which beleene not in Iurie, and that this my seruice which I haue at Hierusalem, may be accepted of the saints:

32 That I may come vnto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 The God of peace be with you all, Amen.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 exhorting them to concord and humilitie.

Paul called to be an Apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and brother Sosthenes:

2 vnto the Church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that * are sanctified in Christ Jesus, both of theirs and ours:

3 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thanke my God alwayes in your behalfe, for the grace of God which is giuen you in Jesus Christ,

5 That in all things yee are enriched in him, in all bitterance and in all knowledge:

6 As the testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you.

7 So that yee are destitute of no gift, waiting for the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,

8 which shall also strengthen you vnto the end, that yee may be blamelesse in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 * God is faithful, by whom yee haue bene called vnto the fellowship of his sonne Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that yee all speake one thing, and that there be no diuisions among you: but that yee be perfectly ioynd together in the same minde, and in the same meaning.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I say, that every one of you sayth, I am of Paul, and I am of * Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christ.

¶ Or, con-

16 I baptized also the household of Stephanas: Besides, I knowe not whether I baptized any other.

1. 29. 14.

19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will cast away the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made the wisdom of this world foolish?

21 For after that in the wisdom of God, the world through their wisdom knew not God, it pleased God through foolishnesse of preaching, to save them that beleeue.

at. 12. 38.

22 For the Jewes require a signe, and the Greeces seeke after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jewes a stumbling blocke, & unto the Greeces, foolishnesse:

24 But unto them which are called, both Jewes and Greeces, Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 For the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men: and the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.

26 Brethren, see see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mightie, not many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise: and God hath chosen the weake things of the worlde, to confound the things which are mighty:

28 And binnoble things of the worlde, and things which are despised hath God chosen, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 And of him are ye in Christ Jesus, which of God, is made unto vs wisdom, and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:

He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not in gloriousnesse of words, or of wisdom, shewing unto you the testimony of God.

2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 And my wordes and my preaching was not with entling words of mans wisdom, but in the wing of the spirit, and of power:

6 And we speake wisdom among them that are perfect: not the wisdom of this world, neither of the princes of this worlde which come to nought:

7 But we speake the wisdom of God in a mysterie, even the hid wisdom which God ordained before the world, unto our glory.

8 Which none of the princes of this worlde knewe: for had they knowen it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glorie.

9 But as it is written, The eye hath not scene, and the eare hath not heard, neither haue entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

Esa. 64. 4.

10 But God hath revealed them unto vs by his spirit: for the spirit searcheth all things, yea the deepe things of God.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 13 Christ is the foundation of the Church.

P I could not speake unto you brethren, as unto spirituall, but as unto carnall, euen as unto babes in Christ.

2 I haue nourished you with milk: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are yet carnall: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For while one saith, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?

5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? but ministers by whom ye beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to every man.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 he appealeth to Gods judgement.

If a man to extreme of vs as the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 furthermore, it is required in the disposers, that a man be found faithfull.

3 which me it is but a very small thing that I should be iudged of you, either of mans judgement: yea, I iudge not mine owne selfe.

4 For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustificed: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, but till the Lord come, who will lighten the hidden things of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things brethren, I have figuratively applied unto my selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wise above that which is written, that you swel not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who separateth thee? And what hast thou, that thou hast not received? If thou hast received it, why doest thou glory as though thou hadst not received it?

8 Now are ye full, now are ye rich, ye have reigned as kings without vs, and I would to God ye did reigne, that wee also might reigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs which are the last Apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For wee are made a gazing stock unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are fooles for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ. We are weak, but ye are strong: We are honourable, but we are despised.

11 Even unto this time we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certaine dwelling place.

12 And labour, working with our owne hands: being reviled, we besse: being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 Being defamed, we pray: we are made as the filthinesse of the world, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you, through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I desire you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, which is my beloved sonne, and faithful in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my wayes which be in Christ, as I teach every where in all Churches.

18 Some are swollen, as though I would come no more at you:

19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the words of them which are swollen, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? Shall I come unto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of meeknesse?

The v. Chapter.

1 He reproveth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 willing them to excommunicate him, 7 to embrace penitencie, 9 and flee wickednesse.

Here goeth a common saying, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not named among the Gentiles: that one should have his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed up, and have not rather sorrowed, that he that hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.

3 For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have determined already, as though I were present, that hee that hath so done this deed,

4 In the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, you being gathered together, and my spirit with you, with the power of the Lord Jesus Christ,

5 To deliver such a one unto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the olde leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our Pasche is offered by vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe holy day, not with olde leaven, neither with the leaven of malitiousnesse and wickednesse: but with the unleavened ned bread of purenesse and trueth.

 9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye should not company with fornicatours.
 10 I did not meane not at all with the fornicatours of this world, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needs haue gone out of the world.
 11 But nowe this I write vnto you, not to company together, if any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with him that is such not to eat.
 12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them that are without? do not ye iudge them that are within?
 13 Them that are without, God shall iudge. And ye shall put away from among you that wicked person.

The vj. Chapter.

7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 Hereprooueth the abusing of Christian liberty, 15 and sheweth that we ought to serue God purely, both in body and soule.

DAre any of you hauing businesse with another, be iudged vnder the vnjust, and not rather vnder the saints?

2 Doe ye not know that the saints shall iudge the world? If the world shall be iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not how that we shall iudge the angels? How much more, things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgement of things pertaining to this life, let by them to iudge, which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no not one that shall be able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?

7 Now therefore, there is utterly a fault among you, because ye goe to law one with another: why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?

8 Nay, ye your selues doe wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shall not inherit the kingdome of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor theues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor reuilers, nor pillars, shall inherit the kingdome of God.

11 * And some such like you were: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawfull vnto mee, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawfull for me, but I wil not be brought vnder the power of any.

13 Meats for the belly, & the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord: and the Lord for the body.

14 And God both hath raised vp the Lord, and also shall raise vs up by his power.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, know ye not that he which is coupled with an harlot, is one body? * For two (saith he) shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is coupled vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

18 Flee fornication: Every sinne that a man doth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 What, know ye not that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost which is in you, whom ye haue of God, and ye are not your owne?

20 * For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are Gods.

The vij. Chapter.

The Apostle answereth to certaine questions which the Corinthians desired to know.

Que as concerning the things wherof ye wrote vnto me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman,

2 Neuertheless, to auoid fornication, let every man haue his owne wife, and let every woman haue her owne husband.

3 * Let the husband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence: Likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: And likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraud you not the one the other, except it be with both your consents for a time, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer: and after ward come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 This I say of fauour, and not of commendement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe: but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

8 I say therfore to the unmarried & widowes, It is good for them if they abide euen as I.

9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10 Vnto the married command, not I, but the Lord, * Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remaine unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband againe: And let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lord. If any brother haue a wife that beleueth not, and she consent to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husband an infidell, and he consent to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husband is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husband, els were your children vncleane, but now are they holy.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not made subiect in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

 Rom. 6. 5.

16 For how knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walke, and so ordaine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not adde vncircumcision: Is any called in vncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheless, if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For hee that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords free man: like wise also he that is called, being free, is Christs seruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment of the Lord: yet giue I counsell, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose therefore that it is good for the present necessitie, that I say, it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned, and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheless, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I beare with you.

29 But this I say brethren, because the time is short: it remaineth that they also which haue wives, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 I woud haue you without care. He that is unmarried, careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that hath married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wife: the unmarried woman careth for the things that are of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things that pertaine to the world, how she may please her husband.

35 This speke I for your profit: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelinesse sake, and sitting fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomey for his virgin, if he passe the time of marriage, and need to require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, hauing no need, but hath power over his owne will, say hath so decreed in his heart that he will keepe his virgin, doth well.

38 So then he that giueth in marriage doth well: but he that giueth not in marriage, doth better.

39 The wife is bound to the law as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will, onely in the Lord.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: and I thinke verily that I haue the spirit of God.

The viij. Chapter.

He rebuketh them that vse their liberty to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices.

As touching things offered vnto idols, we know that we all haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swell: but charitic edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is knowne of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice vnto idols, we know that an idole is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth (as there be gods many, and lords many:)

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the father, of whom are all things, and wee in him, and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and wee by him.

7 But there is not in every man that knowledge: for some hauing conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eat as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience being weak, is defiled.

8 But meat doth not commend to God: for neither if we eat, haue we the more: neither if we eat not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heed lest by any meanes this libertie of yours become a stumbling to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hath knowledge, sit at meat in the idols temple: shall not the conscience of him that is weak, be holde- ned to eat those things which are offered to idols, 11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But when ye sinne against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, yee sinne against Christ.

13 Wherefore, if meat offend my brother, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I should offend my brother.

The ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of others.

Am I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Jesus Christ our Lord? Are not ye my worke in the Lord?

b Or a Sister, a wife. I haue used more of these words to expresse a wife then you, Valia, what needeth it to adde a woman, wher was permitted a sister? Wherefore I thinke I ought to be translated a wife, specially because it is expresse in the familiar number. The old translation saith, translate with the words, saying, Mulierem from, where the old is uxorem con- taining the Sororem mulierem, as all the Greeke copies of the same.

Or, boasting.

c The Greek word signifies a guidance, or distribution of things, as it were to the mouth of an outbold.

19 what say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that it which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But this I say, That the things which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should haue fellowship with the devils.

21 Ye can not drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: Ye can not be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of devils.

22 Either do we prouoke the Lord to anger? what, are we stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for mee, but all things are not expedient: All things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man anothers wealth.

25 whatsoeuer is solde in the market, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For the earth is the Lords, and the plentie thereof.

27 If any of them which beleue not, bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idols, eat not for his sake that he wed it, & for conscience sake. The earth is the Lords, and the plentie thereof.

29 Conscience I say, not of thine owne selfe, but of the other: for why is my libertie iudged of another mans conscience?

30 For, if I by Gods benefit may be partaker of the gifts of God, why am I euill spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thanks?

31 whether therefore ye eat or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 See that ye giue none offence, neither to the Jewes, nor yet to the Grecians, neither to the Church of God.

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saued.

1 He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church, 4 as touching prayer, or prophecyng, 18 and ministring the Lords supper, 23 bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

2 ye followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

3 I commend you brethren, that ye remember all my things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

4 But I will that ye know, that Christ is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head, and God is Christs head.

5 Euery man praying or prophecyng, hauing any thing on his head, shameth his head.

6 But euery woman that praieth or prophecieth bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for that is euen all one as if she were shauen.

7 If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: if it be a shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

8 A man ought not to couer his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

9 For the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman to haue power on her head, for the angels sakes.

11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man also by the woman, but all things of God.

13 Judge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto God bareheaded?

14 Woth not nature it selfe teach you, that it is a shame for a man if he haue long haire?

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a praise for her: for her haire is giuen her for a couerting.

16 If any man lust to scrute, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

17 This I warne you of, and commend not, that you come together, not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there be dissentions among you, and I partly beleue it.

19 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approued among you, might be knowen.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, you can not eat the Lords supper:

21 For euery one preuenteth other in eating his owne supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What, haue ye not houses to eat and to drinke in? Or despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? what shall I say vnto you? shall I praise you? in this I praise you not.

23 That which I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord, that the Lord Iesus the same night in the which he was betrayed, took bread:

24 And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and sayd, Take ye, eat ye, this is my bodie which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same maner also he tooke the cup when hee had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this doe ye, as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drinke this cup, ye doe shew the Lords death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But let a man examine himselfe, and so let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto himselfe, making no difference of the Lords body.

30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

31 For if wee would iudge our selues, wee should not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, carie one for another.

34 If any man hunger, let him eat at home,

The xij. Chapter.

1 The diuerſitie of the gifts of the holy Ghoſt, ought to be vſed to the edifying of Chriſtes Church, 12 as the members of mans body ſerue to the vſe one of another.

Oncerning ſpirituall giſtes, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away vnto dumbe idols, euen as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that no man ſpeaking by the ſpirit of God denieth Jeſus: * alſo no man can ſay that Jeſus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghoſt.

4 There are diuerſities of gifts, but it is the ſelfe ſame ſpirit.

5 And there are differences of adminiſtrations, but it is the ſelfe ſame Lord.

6 And there are diuers maners of operations, but it is the ſelfe ſame God, which worketh all in all.

7 The manifeſtation of the ſpirit, is giuen to euery man to profit withall:

8 For to one is giuen by the ſpirit, the word of wiſdome, to another the word of knowledge, by the ſame ſpirit:

9 To another is giuen faith, by the ſame ſpirit, to another the gift of healing, by the ſame ſpirit:

10 To another power to doe miracles, to another prophetic, to another diſcerning of ſpirits, to another diuers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 * But theſe all worketh euen that one and the ſelfe ſame ſpirit, diuiding to euery man ſeuerally, euen as he will.

12 For as the bodie is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one bodie, being many, are one bodie: euen ſo is Chriſt alſo.

13 For by one ſpirit are wee all baptized into one bodie, whether wee be Jewes or Gentiles, whether wee be bond or free: and haue all drunk of one ſpirit.

14 For the bodie is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot doe ſay, Becauſe I am not the hand, I am not of the bodie: is it therefore not of the bodie?

16 And if the eare doe ſay, Becauſe I am not the eye, I am not of the bodie: is it therefore not of the bodie?

17 If all the bodie were an eye, where were then the hearing? If all were hearing, where were the ſmelling?

18 But now hath God ſet the members, eue- ry one of them ſeueral in the bodie, as it hath pleaſed him.

19 If they were all one member, where were the bodie?

20 Now are there many members, yet but one bodie.

21 And the eye cannot ſay vnto the hand, I haue no need of thee: no; againe, the head to the feet, I haue no need of you.

22 Yea rather a great deale thoſe members of the bodie, which ſeeme to be moze feeble, are neceſſary:

23 And vpon thoſe members of the bodie which we thinke to be leſſe honourable, we owe moze honour: and our vncomely parts haue moze comelineſſe.

24 For our comely members need it not: but God hath tempered the bodie together, hauing giuen the moze honour to that part which lacked,

25 That there ſhould be no ſtriſſe in the bodie: but that the members ſhould haue the ſame care one for another.

26 And if one member ſuffer, all the members ſuffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.

27 We are the bodie of Chriſt, and members in part.

28 * And God hath ordeined ſome in the Church, firſt Apoſtles, ſecondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the gifts of healing, helpers, gouernours, diuerſities of tongues.

29 Are all Apoſtles? are all Prophets? are all Teachers? are all doers of miracles?

30 Haue all the gifts of healing? do all ſpeake with tongues? do all interpret?

31 Couet after the beſt gifts: And yet ſhew I vnto you a moze excellent way.

The xiiij. Chapter.

Becauſe loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he ſetteth forth the nature, office, & praife thereof.

Though I ſpeake with the tongues of men, and of Angels, and haue not charitie, I am as ſounding braſſe, or as a tinkling Cymbal.

2 And though I haue prophetic, and vnderſtand all ſecrets, & all knowledge: yea, if I haue all faith, ſo that I can remooue mountaines, and haue not charitie, I am nothing.

3 And though I beſtow all my goods to feed the poore, and though I giue my body that I ſhould be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charitie ſuffereth long, and is courteous: Charitie enuieth not, charity doth not ſtewardly, ſwelleth not.

5 Dealeth not diſhoneſtly, ſeeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euill,

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the truth:

7 Suffreth all things, beleueth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Though that prophecies ſaile, either tongues ceaſe, or knowledge baniſh away, yet charitie ſalleth neuer a way.

9 For our knowledge is imperfect, and our prophecying is imperfect:

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is imperfect ſhalbe done away.

11 When I was a childe, I ſpake as a childe, I vnderſtood as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but alſoone as I was a man, I put away childiſhneſſe.

12 Now wee ſee in a glaſſe, euen in a darke ſpeaking: but then ſhall we ſee face to face. Now I know imperfectly: but then ſhall I know, euen as I am known.

13 Now abideth faith, hope, and charitie, theſe three: but the chiefe of theſe is charitie.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall gifts. 5 But chiefly propheciings.

How after charity, and couet spirituall gifts: but most chiefly, that ye may prophecie.

2 For he that speaketh with an vnknown tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man heareth him: howbeit, in the spirit he speaketh mysterious.

3 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh with an vnknown tongue, edifieth himselfe: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is he that prophecieth, then hee that speaketh with tongues, except he expound it, that the Church may receiue edifying.

6 How brethren, if I come vnto you, speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speake to you either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by propheciing, or by doctrine?

7 And euen things without life, giuing sound, whether it be a pipe, or an harpe, except they giue a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the Trumpe giue an vn certaine sound, who shall be prepared to the warre?

9 So likewise you, except ye better words by the tongue easie to be vnderstood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speake in the aire.

10 There are happily so many kindes of voices in the world, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, an aliant, and he that speaketh, shall be an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, forasmuch as ye couet spirituall gifts, seeke that ye may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that ye may interpret.

14 For if I pray with an vnknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, how shall hee that occupieth the roome of the vnlearned say, Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seeing he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

17 Thou verily giuest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues moze then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake five words with my vnderstanding, than by my voice I might teach other also, then tenne thousand words in an vnknown tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding: howbeit, as concerning naughtinesse be ye children, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

21 In the Law it is written, with men of sundry tongues and sundry lippes, will I speake vnto this people: and yet for all that, will they not heare me, sayth the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but propheciing serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore all the Church be come together in one place, and all speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of all men, he is iudged of all men.

25 And so are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he will worship God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 How is it then brethren? when ye come together, euery one of you hath a psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by thre, & that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two or thre, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the spirits of the Prophets are subiect to the Prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the saints.

34 Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they are commanded to be vnder obedience, as sayth the law.

35 If they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 Sprung the word of God from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himselfe to be a prophet, either spirituall, let him know that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to speake with tongues.

40 Let all things be done honestly, and in order.

The xv. Chapter.

the doctrine which I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleueed in vaine.

3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, that which also I receiued, how that Christ died for our finnes, according to the Scriptures:

4 *And that he was buried, and that he arose the third day, according to the Scriptures:

5 *And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that, he was seene of moe then fure hundred brethren at once: of which, the moze part remaine vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.

7 And after that, hee was seene of James, then of all the Apostles.

8 *And last of all, he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 *But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in mee, was not vaine: but I laboured moze abundantly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleueed.

12 If Christ be preached, how that hee rose from the dead: how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there bee no rising of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

15 Yea, and wee are found false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, how that he raised by Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ risen.

17 If it be so, that Christ is not risen, then is your faith vaine, ye are yet in your finnes:

18 But also they which are fallen asleepe in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life only we haue hope in Christ, then are we of all men most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, he is become the first fruits of them that slepe.

21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as by Adam all die, euen so by Christ shall all be made aliue.

23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruits is Christ, after ward, they that are Christs at his comming.

24 When commeth the end, when hee shall haue deliuered by the kingdome to God the father, when hee shall haue put downe all rule, and all authoritie, and power.

25 For he will reigne * till hee shall haue put all his enemies vnder his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 * For he hath put downe all things vnder his feet: But when hee sayth, All things are put vnder him, it is manifest that hee is excepted which did put all things vnder him.

28 When all things shall be subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne also himselfe be subject vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Els what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And why stand wee in leopordie euerie houre?

31 I protest by our rejoycing which I haue in Christ Iesu our Lord, I die daily.

32 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus, after the maner of men, what aduantageeth it me, if the dead rise not? * Let vs eat and drinke, for to morrow we die.

33 Be ye not deceiued: Cuill wordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised by? With what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare corne, it may chance of wheat, or of some other corne.

38 But God giueth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to euery seed his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one maner of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestriall: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestriall another.

41 There is one glory of the sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: for one starre differeth from another star in glory.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, it riseth in honour. It is sown in weakenesse, it riseth in power.

44 It is sown a naturall body, it riseth a spirituall body: There is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 And so it is also written: The first man Adam was made a liuing soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spirituall, but that which is naturall, & then that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthy, the second man is the Lord from heauen:

48 As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as wee haue borne the image of the earthy, we shall also beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I brethren, that flesh and blood can not inherit the kingdome of God: neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shew you a mystery. we shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed.

52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, * at the last trumpe (for the trumpe shall blowe) and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall must put on immortallitie.

54 When this corruptible shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on

In the world nothing is so true as that which is written in the Scriptures: for as much as we are mortal, we shall die: and as much as we are mortal, we shall be raised againe.

As 9.4. phel. 3.8.

For if Christ be not risen, here remaineth no hope for us.

As by the offering of the first fruit, the whole fruit is sanctified: so by Christ, which is the first that is raised, all haue assurance of the resurrection.

The first Chapter.

Hee declareth the great profit that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions.

Paul an Apostle of Iesu Christ, by the will of God, and brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God which is at Corinthus, with all the saints which are in and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort:

4 which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in all manner trouble, with the comfort wherewith wee our selues are comforted of God.

5 for as the afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christ.

6 whether wee bee troubled, it is for your consolation and saluation, which saluation is wrought by the suffering of the same afflictions which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation, and our hope of you is steadfast:

7 knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so ye shall be partakers also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came vnto vs in Asia: that we were grieved out of measure, passing strength, in so much that we were in great doubt, euen of life.

9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust in our selues, but in God, which raiseth the dead:

10 who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth deliuer: in whom we trust that hereafter also he will deliuer vs:

11 * You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the benefites bestowed vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thanks may be giuen of many on our behalfe.

12 For our reioicing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly purenesse, not with fleshy wisdom, but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to youwards.

13 For we write none other things vnto you then that ye read, and also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the end.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioicing, euen as ye are ours in the day of the Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to iuaue come vnto you, that ye might haue had one pleasure more:

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led soorth of you into Iurie.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or minde I carnally those things which I minde, that with me should bee yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 Yea God is faithfull, for our preaching to you, was not yea, and nay.

19 For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me and Splanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and are in him, Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And hee which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs, is God:

22 which hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the spirit in our hearts.

23 I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we be lords ouer your faith, but are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stand.

The ij. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacy of his doctrine.

But I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he that maketh mee glad but the same which is made sorie by me?

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heauinesse of them of whom I ought to reioice, heuing confidence in you all, that my ioy, is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sorie, but that ye might receiue the loue which I haue most abundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly, (lest I should ouergriue) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest the same person should be swallowed vp with much heauinesse.

8 wherefore, I pray you, that you would confirme your loue towards him.

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might know the prooue of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgaued it, for your sakes forgaued it in the sight of Christ, 11 Lest we should be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 furthermoze, when I came to Troada, to preach Christs Gospel, and a dooze was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Nowe thankes bee vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph in Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ in them that are saued, & in them which perish.

16 To the one are wee the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of life, vnto life: * And who is meete vnto these things?

17 For we are not as many are, which chop and change with the worde of God: but as of purenesse, but as of God in the sight of God, speake we in Christ.

The iij. Chapter.

Paul exaltech his apostleship against the brags of the false Apostles.

oe wee begin to commend our selues againe? Or neede we, as some other, Epistles of commendation vnto you: or letters of commendation from you?

2 Yee are our Epistle written in our hearts, vnderstood and read of all men:

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christ ministered by vs, written not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in stony tables, but in fleshy tables of the heart:

4 Such trust haue wee through Christ to Godward:

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues,

10, 15, 30.

to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God:

6 Which hath made vs able Ministers of the New testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giueth life.

7 But if the ministracion of death in letters figured in stones, was with glory, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which glory is done away:

8 How shall not the ministracion of the spirit be much more in glory?

9 For if the ministracion of condemnation be glory: much more doeth the ministracion of righteousnesse exceed in glory.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceeding glory.

11 For if that which is put away, was glorious: much more that which remaineth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speech:

13 And not as Moses, which put a baile ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not stedfastly looke vnto the end of that which is abolished.

14 But their mindes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same baile vntaken away in the reading of the Olde testament, which vaile is put away in Christ.

15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the baile is layd vpon their heart.

16 Neuerthelesse, when it shall turne to the Lord, the baile shall be taken away.

17 The Lord is the spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.

18 But waill beholding as in a mirrour, the glory of the Lord, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glory to glory, euen as of the spirit of the Lord.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnesse in his office, 17 shewing what profit commeth thereby.

Therefore seeing that we haue such a ministerie, as we haue receiued merite, we saint not:

2 But haue cast from vs the clothes of vnhonestie, walking not in craftinesse, neither handling the word of God deceitfully, but in opening of the truth, commending our selues to every mans conscience in the light of God.

3 If our Gospel be hid, it is hid in them that are lost:

4 In whom the God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeue not, lest the light of the Gospel of the glory of Christ should shine vnto them, which is the image of God.

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Jesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Jesus sake.

6 For it is God that commanded the light to shine out of darknesse, who hath shined in our hearts, for to giue the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 We are troubled on every side, yet are we not without hope: we are in pouertie, be not in extreme pouerty.

9 Wee are persecuted, but are not forsaken therein: wee are cast downe, but wee perish not:

10 Wee alwayes beare about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus might also be made manifest in our body.

11 For wee which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortall flesh.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but life in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the same spirit of faith (according as it is written, I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken:) we also beleeue, and therefore speake:

14 Knowing that hee which raised vp the Lord Jesus, shall raise vp vs also by the meane of Jesus, and shall set vs with you.

15 For all things do I for your sakes, that the plenteous grace by thankgiuing of many, may rebound to the praise of God.

16 Wherefore we are not wearied: but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For the momentary lightnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternal weight of glory vnto vs:

18 While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

The v. Chapter.

Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse.

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were destroyed, we haue a building of God, euen an habitation not made with handes, but eternal in heauen.

2 For therefore sigh we, desiring vpon our clothing to be further clothed with our house which is from heauen.

3 If so be that we being clothed, shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle, sigh, being burdened, because wee would not put off our clothing, but vpon the same put on more, that mortallitie might bee swallowed vp of life.

5 He that hath ordeined vs for the selfe same thing, is God, which hath also giuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirit.

6 Therefore wee are alway of good cheare, and know that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walke by faith, not after outward appearance.)

8 Neuerthelesse, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the bodie, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeavour our selues to be accepted vnto him.

10 For we must all appeare before the iudge.

ment seat of Christ, that every man may receive the works of his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the feare of the Lord, we perswade men, for wee are known well ynough vnto God: I trust also that wee are known in your consciences.

12 For wee commend not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to glory on our behalfe, that yee may haue somewhat against them which glory in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For if wee be too seruent, to God are wee too seruent: Or if wee keepe measure, for your cause keepe we measure.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs, because we thus iudge, that if one died for all, then were all dead.

15 And hee died for all, that they which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto themselves, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore henceforth know wee no man after the flesh: Inasmuch though wee haue knownen Christ after the flesh, nowe yet henceforth know we him no moze.

17 Wherefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Olde things are passed away, behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Jesus Christ, and hath giuen to vs the ministry of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the preaching of the atonement.

20 Now then are wee messengers for Christ, euen as though God did beseech you through vs: so pray we you in Christs stead, that ye be reconciled vnto God.

21 For hee hath made him to be sinne for vs, which knewe no sinne, that wee should be made the righteousnesse of God in him.

The vij. Chapter.

An exhortation to Christian life.

We also as helpers to him exhort you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

2 (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I succoured thee: Beholde, nowe is that accepted time, behold, nowe is that day of saluation.)

3 Giuing no offence in any thing, that the ministerie be not blamed:

4 But in all things behauing our selues as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in anguishs,

5 In stripes, in prisonments, in strifes, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

6 By purenesse, by knowledg, by long suffering, by kindenesse, by the holy Ghost, by loue vnfeined:

7 By the worde of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by euill report and good report, as deceiuers, and yet true,

9 As vnknownen, and yet knownen: as dying, and behold we liue: as chastened, and not killed:

10 As sorrowing, and yet alway merry: as pooze, and yet making many rich: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O yee Corinthians, our mouth is open vnto you, our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not pressed into a narrow roome in vs, but are pressed into a narrow roome in your owne bowels.

13 Now for the same recompence (I speake as vnto my childzen) be ye also enlarged.

14 And I beare not ye the yoke together with the vnbelieuers. For what fellowship hath righteousness with vnrightheousnesse: or what communion hath light with darkenesse?

15 Or what concord hath Christ with Belial: either what part hath hee that belieueth with an infidel?

16 Or what agreement hath the Temple of God with idoles: For yee are the Temple of the liuing God, as said God, I will dwell in them, and walke in them, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separated from them (saith the Lord) and touche no vnclene thing, and I will receiue you,

18 And will be a father vnto you, and yee shall be my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

The vij. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by the promise of God to keepe themselves pure.

Auing therefore these promises (dearely beloved) let vs cleanse our selues from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holinesse in the feare of God.

2 Receiue vs: wee haue wronged no man, wee haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake not this to condemne you, for I haue the wed you before, that ye are in our hearts to die and liue with you.

4 I vse great boldnes of speech towards you, I glory greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on every side: without were fightings, within were feares.

6 Neuerthelesse, God that comforteth the humble, comforted vs by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming onely, but also by the consolation which hee receiued of you, when hee tolde vs your vehement desire, your weeping, your seruent minde towarde mee: so that I reioyced the moze.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that I same Epistle made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce (not that ye were made sorry, but that yee were made sorry to repentance: for yee were made sorry to Godward, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorrow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not so be repented of: but the sorrow of the world causeth death.

The viij. Chapter.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, hee exhortheth them to continue in releeuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning.

Moreouer, we doe you to wit, bzethzen, of the grace of God, which was giuen in the Churches of Macedonia,

2 How that in much triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their deepe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

3 For to their powers (I beare them recozd) yea and beyond their powers, they were willing of themselues:

4 Praying vs with great instance, that we would receiue this grace and societie of the ministerie which is toward the Saints.

5 And this they did not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

6 That wee should desire Titus to accomplish the grace among you also, euen as hee had begunne.

7 Now therefore, as yee are plenteous in all things, in faith, and in word, and in knowledge, and in all feruentnesse, and in loue, which yee haue to vs: euen so, see that yee be plenteous in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, || but because of the feruentnesse of other, and prouing the vnfaignednesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that though hee was riche, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that yee through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I giue counsell herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doe oney, but also to will a yere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also: that as there appeared in you a readinesse to will, euen to there may appeare a readinesse to performe, of that which ye haue.

12 For if there bee first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Cruely, not that other bee set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of like condition nowe at this time your abundance supplieth their want, that their abundance also may supply your want, and there may be equalitie:

15 As it is wrytten, * See that had gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that had gathered little, had no lacke.

16 Thankes bee vnto God, which put the same earnest care for you in the heart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and being the more carefull, came of his owne accord vnto you.

18 Wee haue sent with him that brother whose praise is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches:

19 (And not that onely, but he was also chosen of the Churches to bee a fellow with vs in our iourney, concerning this grace that is ministrd by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready minde.)

20 Ccheuing this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is ministrd by vs:

21 Making prouision for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom wee haue oftentimes proued diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence which I haue in you.

23 Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my fellowe and helper concerning you: or of other which are our bzethren, they are the messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore the we yee vnto them the prooffe of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

The ix. Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them.

Of the ministring to the saints, it is superfluous for mee to wryte
vnto you:

2 For I know the readinesse of your minde, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yere agoe: and || your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Yet haue I sent the bzethren, lest our boasting of you should bee in baine in this behalfe, that (as I haue said) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest happily if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, wee (I will not not say, you) should be ashamed in this boldnesse of boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the bzethren, that they would come before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be ready as a beneficence, and not as an exhortation.

6 This yet I say, he which to weth sparingly, shall reape sparingly: and he that to weth bountifully, shall reape bountifully.

7 * Every man according as hee purposeth in his heart, so let him giue, not grudgingly, or of necessitie: * for God loueth a cheerefull giuer.

8 God is able to make you plentiful in all grace, that ye in all things having alwayes sufficient vnto the vttermost, may bee plentiful in euery good worke.

9 As it is written, * Hee hath dispersed abroad, he hath giuen to the poore, his righteousnesse remaineth for euer.

10 Moreover, I beseech him that ministereth seed vnto the Sower, to minister bread also for food, and to multiply your seede, and to encrease the fruits of your righteousnesse:

11 That in all things ye may bee made rich vnto all bountifulnes, which causeth through vs thanks giuing vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplyeth the want of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thank-giuing of many vnto God.

13 (Whiles by the experiment of this ministracion, they glorifie God for the obedience of your consenting to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distributio to them, and to all men:)

14 And by their prayers for you, which long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thanks bee vnto God for his vnspokeable gift.

The x. Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

Paul my selfe beseech you by the meeknesse & gentlenesse of Christ, which in presence am lowly among you, but am bolde toward you being absent.

2 I beseech you, that I may not need to bee bolde when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherewith I am supposed to haue bene bolde against some, which repute vs as though we walked according to the flesh.

3 For walking in the flesh, yet wee doe not warre according to the flesh.

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the overthrowing of strong holds.)

5 Wherewith we overthrow counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie all imagination to the obedience of Christ:

6 And hauing in a readinesse wherewith to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke ye on things after the vtter appearance: If any man trust in himselfe that hee is Christs, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is of Christ, euen so are we of Christ.

8 For though I should boast some what more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen to vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed.

9 Let I should seeme as it were to make you afraid by letters.

10 For the letters (sayeth hee) are soze and strong: but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech nothing worth.

11 Let him that is such a one, thinke on this wise, that as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such also are wee in deed when wee are present.

12 For wee dare not number or compare our selues with certaine which prattle themselues:

wherthelisse, while they measure themselues with themselues, and compare themselues with themselues, they vnderstand not.

13 But we wil not boast aboute measure: but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reach euen vnto you.

14 For wee stretch not out our selues beyond measure, as though wee reached not vnto you: for euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hoping when your faith is increased, to be magnified among you according to our measure abundantly, 16 That I may preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyonde you: and not glory of those things which by another mans measure are prepared already.

17 * But let him that glorieth, glorie in the Lord.

18 For hee that commendeth himselfe, is not allowed, but whom the Lord commendeth.

The xi. Chapter.

2 He declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same.

Would to God ye could suffer a little my foolishnesse, and indeede suffer mee.

2 For I am ielous ouer you with godly ielousie: for I haue coupled you to one man, to present you a chaste virgine vnto Christ.

3 But I feare lest by any meanes, that as the serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, euen so your mindes should bee corrupted from the singlenesse that is toward Christ.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth an other Iesus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receiue another spirit whom ye haue not receiued: either another Gospel which ye haue not receiued, you would well haue suffered him.

5 Verily I suppose that I was not behinde the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speaking, yet not in knowledge: but in all things among you we haue bene well known to the vttermost.

7 Haue I committed an offence because I submitted my selfe, that yee might bee exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, * I was chargeable to no man by my solennesse: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I haue kept my selfe not chargeable to you, and so will I keepe my selfe.

10 The truth of Christ is in mee, that this boasting shall not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherfore: because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that wil I do, that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion: that they might bee found like vnto vs, in that whererein they glory.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also bee transformed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shall be according to their workes.

16 I say againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolish: or else euen now we take yee mee as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a little.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly in this boldnesse of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For yee suffer fooles gladly, seeing ye your selues are wise.

20 For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure, if a man take, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

23 They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in prison more plentifully, in deathes<sup>d</sup> oft.

24 Of the Jewes five times receiued I fouertie stripes saue one.

25 Christe was I beaten with rods, * once stoned, * thrise I suffered shipwracke, a night and a day haue I bene in the depth:

26 In iourneyng often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Heathen, in perils in the cite, in perils in the wildernesse, in perils in the Sea, in perils among false brethren,

27 In labour and trauaile, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in colde and nakednesse, 28 Besides the things which outwardly come vnto mee, the trouble which pynfully conspirteth against mee dayly, is the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak: who is offended, and I burne not?

The xij. Chapter.

I Hereioyceth in his preferment, 5 but chiefly in his humblenesse.

It is not expedient doubtlesse for me to glorye. I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 For I know a man in Christ, aboute fourteene yeres agoe (whether in the body I cannot tell, or whether out of

3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth.)

4 How that he was taken vp into<sup>c</sup> paradise, and heard inspeakeable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to utter.

5 Of such a man will I glorye, yet of my selfe will I not glorye, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glorye of them, I shall not bee a foole, for I will say the truth, but I no to refraine, lest any man should thinke of me aboute that which hee seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should bee exalted out of measure, through the abundance of the reuelations, there was giuen to mee a pynche to the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet mee, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing befonght I the Lord thrise; that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto mee, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Wholl gladly therefore I wil rather glorye in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ might dwell in me.

10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Chrisses sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, yee haue compelled mee: for I ought to haue bene commended of you. For nothing was I inferior vnto the chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Cruelly the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signes, and wonders, and mightie deedes.

13 For what is it wherein yee were inferior vnto other Churches, except it bee that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse: for giue me this wrong.

14 Beholde now the thirde time I am readie to come vnto you, and yet will I not bee chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse. For I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 I will very gladly spend, and will be spent for your soules, though the more abundantly I loue you, the lesse I be loued againe:

19 Againe, thinke you that wee excuse our selues vnto you: we speake in Christ in the sight of God: but we do all things, bearely beloued, for your edifying.

20 For I feare lest when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would, and that I shall bee found vnto you, such as ye would not: lest there bee debates, enuyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:

NOWE come I the thirde time vnto you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall euery word be established.

2 I told you before, and tel you before, as though I had bene present with you the second time, so write I now being absent, to them which in time past haue sinned, and to all other: that if I come againe, I wil not spare,

3 Seeing that ye seeke experience of Christ which speaketh in me, which to you ward is not weak, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified of weaknesse, yet liueth he of the power of God: And we also are weak in him, but wee shall liue with him by the might of God toward you.

5 Examine your selues whether you are in the faith: For you owne selues. Know ye not your owne selues howe that Iesus Christ is

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Galathians.

The first Chapter.

Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, which suffred themselves to be seduced by the false Apostles.

PAUL an Apostle not of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and by God the father, which rayled him vp from the dead:

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ:

4 which gaue himselfe for our finnes to deliuer vs from this present euill world, according to the will of God, and our father:

5 To whom bee glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I marueile that yee are so soone turned from him that had called you in the grace of Christ, vnto another Gospel:

7 which is not another Gospel, but that there bee some which trouble you, and intend to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 Neuerthelesse, though wee, or an Angel from heauen, preach any other Gospel vnto you, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preach any other Gospel vnto you, then that ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 Do I now perswade men, or God? Either doe I seeke to please men? For if I yet pleased men, I should not be the seruant of Christ.

11 I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neither receiued it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For yee haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Jewes religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the Church of God, and spoiled it:

14 And profited in the Jewes religion aboute many of my companions in mine owne nation, being a very feruent maintainer of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, which separated me from my mothers wombe, and called mee by his grace,

16 To reueale his Sonne by mee, that I should by the Gospel preach him among the heathen: immediately I communed not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I vp to Hierusalem, to them which were Apostles before mee: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hierusalem:

rusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen daies.

19 But other of the Apostles sawe I none, save James the Lords brother.

20 The things therefore which I write vnto you, behold, before God I lye not.

21 Afterward I came into the coasts of Syria and Cilicia, and was unknowne in face vnto the Churches of Iurie, which were in Christ:

22 But they had heard onely, that hee which persecuted vs in times past, now preacheth the faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God in me.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 hee sheweth why Titus is not circumcised,

Hen foueteene yerres after, I went by againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went by by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles: but privately with them which were esteemed the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had run in vaine.

3 But neither Titus which was with mee, being a Grecke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, being false brethren, which came in privily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesu, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whom, no not for an houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 Of them which seemed to be somewhat (what they were in times pasted it maketh no matter to me. * God accepteth no mans person:) for they which seemed chiefe, added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto mee, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie in Peter to the Apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mightie in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was giuen vnto me, then James, Cephas, and John, which seemed to be pillars, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes of fellowship: that wee should be Apostles vnto the heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Only that we should remember the poore: wherein also I was diligent to doe the same.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because hee was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from James, hee did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, hee withdrew, and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jewes dissembled likewise with him: insonuch that Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

14 But when I saw that they went not the right way to the trueth of the Gospel, I sayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou being a Jewe, liuest after the manner of the Gentiles, and not as doe the Jewes: why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as doe the Jewes?

15 Wee which are Jewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles.

16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: and wee haue beleued on Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the deedes of the lawe: because by the deedes of the lawe no flesh shalbe iustified.

17 * If then while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, wee our selues also are found sinners: Is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things which I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the law, that I might liue vnto God: I am crucified with Christ.

20 Neuerthelesse, I liue: yet now not I, but Christ liueth in me: and the life which I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith of the sonne of God, which loued me, and gaue himselfe for me.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: for if righteousness come of the lawe, then Christ is dead in vaine.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them sharply, 10 and prouoeth by diuers reasons, that iustification is by faith.

Foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that yee should not obey the trueth: to whom Iesus Christ was before described before the eyes, and among you crucified?

2 This onely would I learne of you, whether yee receiued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearing of the faith?

3 Are yee such fooles, that after yee haue begun in the spirit, ye would now end in the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so great things in vaine? If it be yet in vaine.

5 See therefore that ministrerth to you the spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearing of the faith?

6 * Euen as Abraham beleued God, and it was ascribed to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture seeing afozehand that God would iustifie the heathen through faith, shewed beforehand glad tidings vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then, they which be of faith, are blessed with the faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euery one that continueth not in all things which are written in the booke of the lawe, to do them.

11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the lawe is not of faith: * but the man that doth them, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: for it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ, that we might receive the promise of the spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speake after the manner of men, though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be allowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

16 To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. Hee sayeth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christ.

17 This I say, that the lawe which beganne after ward beyond foure hundred and thirtie yeres, doth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christward, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not nowe of promise. But God gaue the inheritance vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the lawe? It was added because of transgressions, till the seede should come to whome the promise was made: and it was obtained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 A mediator is not a mediator of one, but God is one.

21 Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbid. For if there had bene a lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, then no doubt righteousness should haue bene by the lawe.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Jesus Christ should be giuen vnto them that beleeeue.

23 But before faith came, wee were kept vnder the lawe, and were shutte by vnto the faith which should after ward be reuealed.

24 Wherefore the lawe was our schoolmaster vnto Christ, that wee should bee iustified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder a schoolmaster.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For all ye that are baptized, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Jewe, neither Greeke, there is neither bond, nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 If ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires according to the promise.

The iiii. Chapter.

Hee sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordained, which being shadowes, must end when Christ the truth commeth.

And I say, That the heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of all:

2 But is vnder tutors and gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the rudiments of the world:

4 But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, that wee might receiue the adoption of children.

6 Because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the spirit of his sonne into your hearts, crying, Abba father.

7 Wherefore thou art no moze a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heire of God, through Christ.

8 Notwithstanding, when yee knewe not God, yee did seruire vnto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, how turne yee againe vnto the weak and beggerly rudiments, wherunto againe yee desire afresh to be in bondage?

10 Yee obserue dayes, and moneths, and times, and yeres.

11 I am in feare of you, least I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am, for I am as ye are: Ye haue not iniured me at all.

13 Ye know how that through infirmities of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 And my temptatio which was in my flesh yee despised not, neither abhorred: but receiued me as an Angel of God, euen as Christ Jesus.

15 What is then your felicitie? for I heare you record, that if it had bene possible, yee would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They are ialous ouer you: amisse: Yea, they intend to exclude you, that yee should be seruent to themward.

18 It is good alwayes to bee zealous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 Why little children, of whome I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be fashioned in you.

20 But I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice: for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the lawe, doe ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes: the one by a bondmaid, the other by a free woman.

23 But hee which was of the bondwoman, was borne after the flesh: but hee which was of the free woman, was borne by promise.

24 Which things are spoken by an allegory: for these are two testaments: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

25 For Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the cite which is now called Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children, breake forth and cry, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children then the which hath an husband.

28 But brethren, we are after Iacob the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit: euen so is it now.

 fite you nothing.

3 For I testifye againe to every man which is circumcised, that he is a detter to do the whole lawe:

4 Christ is become but baine to you, as many of you as are iustified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For wee through the spirite, waite for the hope of righteousnesse by faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ, neither is circumcision any thing worth, neither yet bncircumcision: but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Pee did runne well, who was a let vnto you, that ye should not obey the tructy?

8 This perwasion cometh not of him that called you.

9 * A little leauen leaueneth the whole lump of dough.

10 I haue trust toward you in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare iudgement, whatsoe-uer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slander of the crosse ceased.

12 I would to God they were cut off, which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue beene called vnto liberty: only * let not liberty be an occasion to the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the lawe is fulfilled in one worde, which is this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heed lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 * Then I say, walke in the spirit, and pee shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth contrary to the spirit, and the spirit contrary to the flesh: these are contrary one to the other, so that ye cannot do what ye would.

18 But and if ye be led of the spirit, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deeds of the flesh are manifest, which are these, adultery, fornication, vncarnelle, wantonnesse,

20 worshipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, sediti-ons, sects,

21 Enuiysings, murders, drunkennesse, glut-tonies, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I haue to be you in time past, that euen they which doe such things, shall not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is loue, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnes, faith, 23 Meekenesse, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 They truly that are Christes, haue crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts.

25 If wee liue in the spirit, let vs also walke in the spirit.

26 Let vs not be desirous of baine glory, prouoking one another, enuiysing one another.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth them to vse gentlenesse toward the weake, 2 and to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie, 6 also to prouide for their ministers.

Brethren, if a man be prevented in any fault, yee which are spirituall, restore such a one in the spirite of meeknesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the lawe of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe that hee is some what, when hee is nothing, the same deceiueth himselfe in his owne fantasie.

4 But let every man proue his owne worke:
 and then shall hee haue reioycing onely in his owne selfe, and not in another.

5 * For euery man shall beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto him that teacheth him, in all good things.

7 Bee not deceiued, God is not mocked: for whatsoeuer a man soweth that shall he also reap.

8 For he that soweth in his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but hee that soweth into the spirite, shall of the spirite reape life euerlasting.

9 Let vs not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reape, if we faint not.

10 While wee haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, specially vnto them which are of the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as desire with outward appearance to please // carnally, the same constraime you to be circumcised: onely lest they should suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselves which are circumcised, keepe not the law: but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might glory in your flesh.

14 God forbidde that I should glory, but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ: whereby the worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

15 For in Christ Iesu, neither circumcission auaileth any thing, nor bncircumcission, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercie, and vpon the Israel that is of God.

17 From henceforth let no man put me to burdensse: for I beare in my body the marques of the Lord Iesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Iesus
 Christ be with your spirit, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

The first Chapter.

After his salutation, 4 hee sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them, giuing thanks, and praying God for their faith. 21 The maiestie of Christ.

1. Cor. 1. 1.

Paul * an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithfull in Christ Iesus,

1. Cor. 1. 3.
2. pet. 1. 2.

2 Grace be with you, and peace frō God our father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

2. Tim. 1. 9.
Col. 2. 129.

3 * Blessed bee God the father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, which hath blessed vs in all spiritual blessing in heavenly things by Christ:

4 * According as hee had chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the worlde, * that wee should bee holy, and without blame before him through loue.

5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of children by Iesus Christ vnto himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will:

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein hee hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

7 In whome we haue redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sinnes according to the riches of his grace.

8 wherein he hath abounded toward vs in all wisdom and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the myserie of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in himselfe,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, hee might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whome also we are chosen, being predestinate according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsell of his own will:

12 That wee should be vnto the praise of his glory, which before beleued in Christ.

13 In whome also yee hoped after that yee heard the word of trueth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherein also after that ye beleued, yee were sealed with the holy spirit of promise, 14 which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the praise of his glory.

15 wherefore I also, after that I heard of the faith which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, and loue vnto all the saints,

16 Cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lorde Iesus Christ, the father of glory, may giue vnto you the spirit of wisdom and reuelation, in the knowledge of him,

18 The eyes of your minds being lightened: that yee may know what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance is in the saints:

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vsward which beleue, * according to the working of his mighty power,

20 which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him on his right hand in heavenly places, 21 farre aboue all rule, and power, & might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not onely in this worlde, but also in the worlde to come.

22 And hath put all things vnder his feete, and gaue him to be the head ouer all things to the Church, 23 which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

The ij. Chapter.

To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onely cause of saluation.

Hee quickened you that were dead in trespasses and sinnes:

2 In the which in time passed ye walked, * according to the course of this worlde, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience.

3 Among whome we all had our conuersation also in time past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the minde, and were by nature the children of wrath, euen as other:

4 But God which is rich in mercie, for his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together with Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,

6 And hath raised vs by together, and made vs sit together in heavenly things in Christ Iesus,

7 That in ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindnesse to vsward, through Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are yee made safe through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,

9 Not of works, least any man should boast himselfe:

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Iesus vnto good works, which God hath before ordained, that wee should walke in them.

11 wherefore remember that yee being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, called uncircumcision of that which is called circumcision in

Eph. 2. 1

o What by grace we are saued, and not by works.

the flesh, made by hands :

12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being strangers from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the *Cestaments of promise, having no hope, and without God in this worlde.

13 But now in Christ Jesus, ye which sometime were farre off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one : and hath broken downe the <sup>b</sup>middle wall that was a stop betweene vs.

15 Taking away in his flesh the hatred, euen the *law of commandements contained in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, so making peace :

16 And that hee might reconcile both vnto God in one body through his crosse, and slew hatred thereby :

17 And came and preached the glad tidings of peace to you which were as farre off, and to them that were nigh.

18 For through him wee haue both an entrance in one spirit vnto the father.

19 Now therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners : but fellowe citizens with the saints, and of the household of God,

20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himselfe being the head corner stone, 21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lord.

22 In whom also ye are builded together for an habitation of God through the spirit.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 and desireth them not to faint because of his trouble.

2 Of this cause I Paul am a prisoner of Jesus Christ for you heathen :

3 If yee haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me to you wards :

4 For by revelation thewed God the *mysterie vnto me (as I wrote afoze in few words,

5 whereby when yee reade, yee may vnderstand my knowledge in the mysterie of Christ.)

6 Which mysterie in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the spirit :

7 That the Gentiles should be inheritous also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel :

8 Wherefore I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given vnto mee * after the working of his power.

9 vnto me which am lesse then the least of all saints is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

10 And bring to light to all men what the fellowship of the mysterie is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, which made all things through Jesus Christ :

11 To the intent that now vnto the rulers and powers in heauely things might be knowen by the <sup>b</sup> Church, the very manifold wisdom of God,

12 According to the eternall purpose which he wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord :

12 By whom we haue boldnesse of entrance in the confidence by faith of him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not for my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15 Of whome all the familie in heauen and earth is named :

16 That he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to bee strengthened with might by his spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith : that yee being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 Might bee able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, & depth, and height :

19 And to know the loue of Christ, which excelleth all knowledge, that ye might be filled with all fulnesse of God.

20 vnto him that is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in vs.

21 Bee glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, worlde without end, Amen.

The iij. Chapter.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenes, long suffering, and vnto loue and peace.

Therefore a prisoner // in the Lord exhort you, that ye walke worthy of the vocation wherewith yee are called,

2 With all lowlinesse and meeknesse, with long suffering, forbearing one another in loue,

3 Endeououring to keepe the vnitie of the spirit in the bond of peace.

4 One body, and one * spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your calling.

5 One Lord, one faith, one baptysme.

6 One God and father of all, which is aboue all, and through all, and in you all.

7 But * vnto every one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he sayth, when he * went by on high, he led captiuitie captiue, and gaue gifts vnto men.

9 (But that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? )

10 * He that descended, is euen the same also that ascended by farre aboue all heauens, to fulfill all things.)

11 * And he gaue some Apostles, & some Prophets, and some Euangelists, and some shepherds, and teachers,

12 To the gathering together of the saints, into the worke of the ministracion, into the edifying of the body of Christ :

13 Till wee all meete together into the vnitie of faith and knowledge of the sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christ :

14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering and caried about with euery winde of doctrine, and in the wilinesse of men, in craftinesse, to the laying <sup>b</sup>waite of deceit.

1. phe. 1. 19.

The Church was gathered to many kindes of people, as an example of a glasse, as the angels to be like the multitude of God in, who hath turned their particular gifts, into an vnsearchable and vnmeasurable storehouse of wisdom, and made the Church of freedom.

bp into him all things which is the head, euen Christ:

16 In whom all the bodie being conuentently coupled, and knit together by every ioynt, yeelding nourishment according to the effectuall power in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.

17 This I say therefore, and testifie in the Lorde, that yee henceforth walke not * as other Gentiles walke in vanitie of their minde:

18 Darkened in cogitation, being alienated from the life of God, by the ignorance that is in them by the blindnesse of their hearts.

19 Which being past feeling, haue giuen themselves ouer vnto wantonnesse, to worke all uncleannesse with greedinesse.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If to see that yee haue heard him, and haue bene taught in him, as the trueth is in Iesus,

22 To lay downe * according to the former conuersation, the old man, which is corrupt according to the luses of errour:

23 To be renued in the Spirit of your minde,

24 And to put on that new man, which after God is shapen in righteousnesse, and holinesse of trueth.

25 * Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neighbour: forasmuch as we are members one of another.

26 * Be ye angry, and sinne not: let not the sunne goe downe vpon your wrath.

27 Neither giue place to the deuill.

28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may giue vnto him that needeth.

29 Let no filthy communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withall, as oft as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

30 And grieue not the holy Spirit of God, by whom yee are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and fiercenesse, & wrath and crying, and euil speaking, be put away from you, with all naughtyenesse.

32 Be ye courteous one to another, mercifull, forgiving one another, euen as God for Christs sake hath forgiven you.

The v. Chapter.

He entreateth of corporall marriages, and of the spirituall betwixt Christ and his Church.

Ye therefore followers of God, as deare children.

B And walke yee in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete smelling fauour to God.

3 * But fornication, and all uncleannesse or conductounesse: let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth saintes:

4 Neither filthinesse, neither foolish talking, neither iesing which are not comely: but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whozemonger, neither uncleane person, noz couetous person, which is a worshipping of images, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 * Let no man deceiue you with baينه wordes: for because of such things cometh the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore companions of them.

8 For yee were sometimes darkenesse, but now are ye light in the Lord: walke as children of light.

9 For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodnes, and righteousnesse, and trueth,

10 Approouing what is acceptable vnto the Lord.)

11 And haue no fellowship with the unfruitfull works of darkenesse, but rather euen rebuke them.

12 For it is shame euen to name those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things when they are rebuked, are made manifest of the light: for al that which doeth make manifest, is light.

14 Wherefore see sayst, * Awake thou that sleepest, and stand by from the dead: and Christ shall giue thee light.

15 Take heed therefore that ye walke circumspectly: not as vnwise, * but as wise.

16 Redeeming the time, because the daies are euill.

17 * Wherefore be ye not vnwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunkie with wine, wherein is excelle: but be filled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in Psalmes, and hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts:

20 Giuing thanks alwayes for all things vnto God and the father, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ:

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the feare of God.

22 * Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as vnto the Lord:

23 * For the husband is the head of the wife, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and he is the saulour of the body.

24 But as the Church is subiect vnto Christ, likewise the wiues to their owne husbands in all things.

25 * Ye husbands loue your wiues, euen as Christ also loued the Church, and gaue himselfe for it,

26 To sanctifie it, when hee had cleansed it in the fountaine of water in the word:

27 That he might present it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: hee that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord the Church:

30 For wee are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shall be ioined vnto his wife, and two shall be made one flesh.

32 This is a great secret: but I speake of Christ and of the Church.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Howe children should behaue themselues toward their fathers and mothers, 4 Likewise parents toward their children, 5 Seruants toward their masters, 9 Masters toward their seruants.

Children, *obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 *Honour thy father and mother. (which is the first commaundement in promise.)

3 That thou mayest prosper, and liue long on earth.

4 Fathers, prouoke not your children to wrath: but bring them vp in instruction and in formation of the Lord.

5 *Seruants, obey them that are your lordly masters with feare and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as vnto Christ.

6 Not with seruice vnto the eye, as men pleasers: but as the seruants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,

7 With good will seruing the Lord, and not men:

8 Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, that shall he receiue againe of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 And ye masters, doe the same things vnto them, putting away threatenings: *knowing that your master also is in heauen, neither is respect of person with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, bee strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 Put on all the armour of God, that yee may stand against the assaults of the deuill.

12 For wee wrestle not against blood and flesh, but against rulers, against powers, against worldly gouernours of the darkenesse of this world, against spirituall wickednesse in heauenly places.

13 Wherefore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that yee may be able to resist in the euill day, and hauing finished all things, to stand fast.

14 Stand therefore, hauing your loynes girt about with the truth, and hauing on the brest-plate of righteousness:

15 And your feete shod in the preparation of the Gospel of peace.

16 About all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith yee may quench all the fiery darter of the wicked.

17 *And take the helmet of saluation, and the sword of the spirit, which is the worde of God:

18 Praying alwayes in all prayer and supplication in the spirit, *and watching for the same purpose with all instance and supplication for all saints:

19 And for me, that utterance may be giuen vnto me, that I may open my mouth freely, to utter the secrets of the Gospel, 20 Whereof I am a messenger in bondes, that therein I may speake freely, as I ought to speake.

21 But that yee also may know my affaires, and what I doe, Tychicus a deare brother and a faithfull minister in the Lord, shall shewe you all things:

22 Whome I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye might know of our affaires, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be vnto you brethren, and loue with faith from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace bee with all them which loue our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

The first Chapter.

1 Saint Paul discouereth his heart toward them, 3 by his thanksgiving, 4 prayers, 8 and wishes for their faith and saluation.

Paul and Timotheus the seruants of Jesus Christ, to all the Saintes in Christ Jesus, which are at Philippios, with the Bishops and Deacons:

2 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 *I thanke my God with all remembrance of you:

4 (Alwayes in all my prayers for all you, making prayer with gladnesse:)

5 For your fellowship in the Gospel, from the first day vntill now:

6 Being persuaded of the same thing, that hee which hath begunne a good worke in you, will perfoyme it vntill the day of Jesus Christ:

7 As it becommeth mee to iudge this of you all, because I haue you in my heart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, you all being partakers of my grace.

8 For God is my record, howe greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

1. thes. 1. 3. The Epistle on the xij. Sunday after Trinitie.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstanding:

10 That ye may discern things that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence till the day of Christ.

11 Being filled with the fruites of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, vnto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would see should vnderstand, brethren, that the things which came vnto mee, haue come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.

13 So that my bondes in Christ are manifest throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, being incouraged through my bonds, dare more plentifully speake the word without feare.

15 Some preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will:

16 The one preach Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by truth, I joy therein, and will joy.

19 For I know that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministering of the spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all boldnesse, as alwayes, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my bodie, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For Christ is to me life, and death is to me advantage.

22 But whether to liue in the flesh, this be the fruit of my labour, and what I shall chuse, I wote not.

23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, hauing a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is much farre better.

24 Neuertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.

25 And this I am sure of, that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith:

26 That your reioycing may be the more abundant in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you againe.

27 Onely let your conuersation be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirit, in one soule, holding together in defence of the faith of the Gospel.

28 And in nothing fearing your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and that of God.

29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, not onely this, to beleeuie on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake.

30 Hauing the same fight which ye sawe in me, and now heare in me.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He exhorteth about all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly maintained.

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the spirit, if any compassion and mercie:

2 Fulfill ye my joy, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 Let nothing be done through strife or vain glory, but in meeknesse euery man esteeme one the other better then himselfe.

4 Looke not euery man on his own things, but euery man also on the things of others.

5 Let the same minde be in you, which was in Christ Jesus:

6 Who being in the forme of God, thought it no robbery to be equal with God:

7 But made himselfe of no reputation, taking on him the forme of a seruant, and made in the likeness of men, and found in figure as a man:

8 He humbled himselfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.

9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and giuen him a name, which is aboue euery name:

10 That in the name of Jesus euery knee should bow, of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth:

11 And that euery tongue should confesse that the Lord is Jesus Christ, to the glory of God the father.

12 Wherefore, my dearly beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, worke out your owne saluation with feare and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to doe, of good will.

14 Doe all things without murmuring and disputing:

15 That ye may be blamelesse and pure, the sonnes of God, without rebuke, in the mides of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whom shine ye as lightes in the world.

16 Holding fast the word of life, to my reioycing in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vaine, neither laboured in vaine.

17 Yea, and though I be offered by upon the sacrifice and seruice of your faith, I reioyce, and reioyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also doe ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.

19 But I trust in the Lord Jesus, to sende Timothy shortly vnto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I haue no man like minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seeke their owne, not the things which are Jesus Christs.

22 Ye know the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, hee hath serued with me in the Gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send, as soon as I know my state.

24 But I trust in the Lord, that I also myselfe shall come shortly.

25 But I supposed it necessary, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and companion in labour, and fellow soldier, but your Apostle, and the minister of my neede.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 against whom he setteth Christ.

Moreover, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It grieveth me not to write the same thinges often to you, for to you it is a sure thing.

2 Beware of dogs, beware of euill workes, beware of concision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reioyce in Christ Jesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that hee hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the kindred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrewes, after the law a Pharisee.

6 Concerning feruentnesse, persecuting the Church: touching the righteousness which is in the law, I was blamelesse.

7 But the thinges that were vantage vnto me, those I counted losse for Christs sake.

8 Yea, I thinke all thinges but losse for the excellencie of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whose sake I haue lost all thinges, and doe iudge them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And bee found in him, not hauing mine owne righteousness, which is of the law: but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which commeth of God through faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions, being made conformable vnto his death,

11 If by any meanes I might attaine vnto the resurrection of the dead, 12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend, wherein also I am comprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe as yet that I haue attained: but this one thing I say, I forget those thinges which are behinde, and endeavour my selfe vnto those thinges which are before.

14 And I presse towarde the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let vs therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwise minded, God shall reueale the same also vnto you.

16 Neuerthelesse, vnto that which we haue attained vnto, let vs proceede by one rule, that we may be of one accord.

17 Brethren, be followers together of me, and looke on them, which walke so as ye haue vs for an ensample.

18 For many walke, of whom I haue told you often, and now tell you weeping, that they are the enemies of the crosse of Christ:

19 Whose ende is damnation, whose God is their belly, and glory to their shame, which mind earthly thinges.

20 But our conuersation is in heauen, from whence also we looke for the saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 Who shall change our vile bodie, that it may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working whereby hee is able to subdue all thinges vnto himselfe.

The iijij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteeth them to be of honest conuersation, 15 and thanketh them because of the prouision that they made for him being in prison.

Herefore, my brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy, and crowne, so continue in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I pray Eudias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of one accord in the Lord.

3 Yea, and I beseech thee also faithful fellow, helpe those women which laboured with me in the Gospel, and with Clement also, and with other my labourer fellowes, whose names are in the booke of life.

4 Reioyce in the Lord alway: and againe I will say reioyce.

5 Let your patient mind be knowen vnto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be carefull for nothing: but in all thinges let your petition be manifest vnto God, in prayer and supplication, with giuing of thanks.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall keepe your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoever thinges are true, whatsoever thinges are honest, whatsoever thinges are iust, whatsoever thinges are pure, whatsoever thinges pertaine to loue, whatsoever thinges are of honest report: if there be any vertue, and if there be any praise, thinke on these thinges:

9 Which ye haue both learned, and receiued, and heard, and seene in me, those thinges do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are renewed againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of necessitie: for I haue learned, in whatsoever estate I am, therewith to be content.

12 I know how to be low, and I know how to errecede: euery where and in all thinges I am instructed both to be full, and to be hungry, both to haue plentie, and to suffer neede.

13 I can do all thinges through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, ye haue wel done, that ye did communicate to my affliction.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Colossians.

The first Chapter.

3 He giueth thanks vnto God for their faith. 7 Confirming the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 he prayeth for their encrease of faith.

IN an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God, and Timotheus the brother,
2 To the saints and faithfull brethren in Christ, which are at Colossa, grace be vnto you, & peace from God our father, & the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 We giue thanks to God, and the father of our Lord Iesus Christ alwayes for you, praying:

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of the loue which yee haue to all Saints:

5 For the hopes sake which is laid by for you in heauen, of which hope ye heard before in the word of trueth of the Gospel.

6 Which is come vnto you euen as it is in al the world, and is fruitfull, as it is also in you, from the day ye heard of it, and knewe the grace of God in trueth.

7 As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

8 who also declared vnto vs your loue in the spirit.

9 For this cause wee also since the day we heard it, doe not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spirituall vnderstanding:

10 That yee might walke worthy of the Lord in all pleasing, being fruitfull in all good workes, and encreasing in the knowledge of God:

11 Strengthened with all might, through his glorious power, vnto all patience and long suffering with ioyfullnesse.

12 Giuing thanks vnto the father, which hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkenesse, and hath translated vs into the kingdome of his deare sonne:

14 In whom we haue redemption through his blood, euen the forgiveness of sinnes:

15 Who is the image of the inuisible God, the first borne of all creatures.

16 For by him were all things created that are in heauen, and that are in earth, visible and inuisible, whether they bee maiesties or Lordships, either rules or powers: all things were created by him, and for him.

17 And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18 And hee is the head of the body of the Church: who is the beginning, the first borne from the dead, that in all things he might haue the preeminence:

19 For it pleased the father that in him should all fulnesse dwell,

20 And by him to reconcile all things vnto himselfe, since hee hath set at peace through the blood of his crosse by him, both the things in earth, and things in heauen.

21 And you which were sometime strangers, and enemies by cogitation in euill workes, hath he now yet reconciled, 22 In the body of his flesh through death, to preserve you holy and blameable, and without fault in his sight.

23 If ye continue grounded and stablished in the faith, and bee not moued away from the hope of the Gospel, which ye haue heard how it was preached to euery creature which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am made a minister.

24 Now reioyce I in my sufferings for you, and fulfil that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,

25 whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God, which is giuen to me to youward, to fulfill the word of God:

26 Euen the myserie which hath bene hid since the world beganne, and since the beginning of generations: but nowe is opened to his saints, among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory: 28 Whom we preach, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus. 29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working which worketh in mee mightily.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Having protested his good will toward them, 4 he admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christ.

D: I would that yee knew what great fight I have for you, and for them that are at Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my face in the flesh:

2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in loue, and in all riches of certaintie of vnderstanding, to know the mysterie of God, and of the Father, and of Christ:

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 This I say, lest any man should beguile you with persuasion of words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, toying and beholding your order, and your steadfast faith in Christ.

6 As ye haue therefore receiued Christ Jesus the Lord, so walke ye in him:

7 Rooted and built in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, * abounding therein with thanksgiuing.

8 Beware lest any man spoyle you through philosophy and baine deceite, after the tradition of men, and after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily:

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principalitie and power.

11 In whom also ye are * circumcised with circumcision made without hands, by putting of the bodie of the flesh subiect to sinne, by the circumcision of Christ:

12 * Buried with him in baptism, in whom ye are also risen againe through the faith<sup>b</sup> of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And ye being dead in your sinnes, and the bincircumcision of your flesh, hath hee quickened with him, hauing forgiven all your trespasses.

14 And when he had blotted out the hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, and that was contrary to vs, euen that hath he taken out of the way, hauing fastened it to his crosse:

15 And hauing spoiled all principalities and powers, hath made a shew of them openly, triumphing ouer them in himselfe.

16 Let no man therefore iudge you in meate or in drinke, or in part of an holy day, or of the new Moone, or of the Sabbath dayes:

17 which are shadowes of things to come, but the body is of Christ.

18 Let no man beguile you of victorie, in the humblenesse and worshipping of angels, intruding himselfe into those things which hee hath not seene, causelesse pufft by with his fleshy mind:

19 And holdeth not the head, wherof all the body by ioyntes and bandes, hauing nourishment ministred, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world: why, as though liuing in the world, are ye led with traditions,

21 Touch not, taste not, handle not:

22 which all be in corruption, in abusing after the commaundements and doctrines of men:

23 which things haue a shew of wise done in voluntarie religion and humblenesse of minde, and in not sharing of the bodie, not in any hono<sup>r</sup> to the satisfiing of the flesh.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth where we should seeke Christ. 5 He exhortheth to mortification, 10 to put off the old man, and to put on Christ.

If yee then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God:

2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 Whensoever Christ which is our life shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glory.

5 Mortifie therefore your members which are vpon the earth: * fornication, uncleannesse, inordinate affection, euill concupisence, and couetousnesse, which is worshipping of images:

6 For which things sake, the wrath of God commeth on the children of disobedience.

7 In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye liued in them.

8 * But now put ye off also all wrath, fiercenesse, maliciousnesse, blasphemie, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye haue put off the old man with his workes:

10 And haue put on the new man, which is renewed into knowledge, after the image of him that made him,

11 where is neither Greeke nor Jew, circumcision nor bincircumcision: Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free: but Christ is all, and in all.

12 * Put on therefore (as the elect of God, holy and beloued) bowels of mercie, kindnesse, humblenesse of mind, meeknesse, long suffering, 13 forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man haue a quarell against any: euen as Christ forgave you, so also doe ye.

14 And aboute al things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectnesse.

15 And let the peace of God haue the victorie in your hearts, to the which also wee are called in one bodie: and see that yee be thankfull.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing your owne selues, in psalmes, and Hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 * And whatsoeuer ye doe in word or deed, doe all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giuing thanks to God and the father by him.

18 * vsues, submit your selues into your owne husbands, as it is comely in the Lord.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Theſſalonians.

The first Chapter.

2 He thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good workes.

Paul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians which is in God the father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ. Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * We giue thanks to God alwayes for all you, making mention of you in our prayers

3 without ceasing, calling to remembrance the worke of your faith, and labour of loue, and patient abiding in the hope of our Lord Iesus Christ, in the light of God and our father.

4 Knowing, brethren beloued, your election of God.

5 For our Gospel came not vnto you in worde onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much certaintie, as ye knowe after what manner wee were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, hauing receiued the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were an ensample to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lord, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in euery place your faith to Godward is spread abroad, so that we needs not to speake any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of you, what manner of entring in we had vnto you, and how

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 and theirs in obeying.

But ye your ſelues, brethren, know our entrance in vnto you, that it was not in baine.

2 *But euen after that we had ſuffered beſore, and were ſhamefully increaſed as ye know at Philippios, we were bold in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpel of God, in much ſtriving.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, neither of uncleauneſſe, neither in guiſe:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in credit with the Goſpel, euen ſo we ſpeake, not as pleaſing men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time vsed we flattering words, as ye knowe, neither cloke of couetouſneſſe, God is record,

6 Neither ſought we praife of men, neither of you, nor yet of others:

7 When mee might haue bene in authority, as the Apoſtles of Chriſt, but were tender among you, euen as a nurſe cheriſheth her children.

8 So, being tenderly affected toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Goſpel of God only, but alſo our owne ſoules: becauſe ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and trauaile: *for we labouring night and day, becauſe we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Goſpel of God.

10 Ye are witneſſes, and God alſo, how holily, and iuſtly, and vnblaimeably, we behaued our ſelues among you that beleeue.

11 And ye know how that as a father his children, ſo haue we exhorted, comforted, and beſought euery one of you.

12 That yee would walke worſhipie of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glorie.

13 For this cauſe thanke we God alſo with our cealing, becauſe when yee had receiued the word of God which ye heard of vs, ye receiued it not as the word of men, but (as it is indeede) the word of God, which effectiouſly worketh alſo in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Iurie are in Chriſt Jeſus: for ye alſo haue ſuffered like thinges of your countrey men, as they haue of the Jewes:

15 who both killed the Lord Jeſus, and their owne prophets, and haue persecuted vs: and God they pleaſe not, and are contrarie to all men:

16 And hinder vs to ſpeake to the Gentiles, that they might be ſaued, to fulfill their finnes alway. for the wrath of God is come on them to the vttermoſt.

17 For aſmuch, brethren, as we are kept from you for a ſhort ſeaſon, in perſon, not in heart, we enforced the more to ſee you perſonally with great deſire.

18 And therefore we would haue come vnto you (euen I Paul) once and againe: but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? Are not ye it in the preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt at his comming?

20 Yea, ye are our glory and ioy.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He ſheweth how greatly he was affectioned toward them, both in that he ſent Timotheus to them, 10 and alſo prayed for them.

Wherefore, ſince we could no longer ſo beare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone:

2 *And ſent Timotheus our brother and miniſter of God, and ſcilow labourer in the Goſpel of Chriſt, to ſtabliſh you, concerning your faith:

3 That no man ſhould be moued in theſe afflictions: for ye your ſelues know that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verely when we were with you, we told you beſore, that wee ſhould ſuffer tribulation: euen as it came to paſſe, and as ye know.

5 For this cauſe when I could no longer ſo beare, I ſent him to know your faith, leſt by ſome meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had bene baine.

6 But now lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good thinges of your faith and charitie, and how that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, deſiring greatly to ſee vs, as we alſo to ſee you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted ouer you in all our aduerſitie and neceſſitie, becauſe of your faith:

8 For now we b liue, if yee ſtand faſt in the Lord.

9 For what thankes can we recompence to God againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith we ioy for your ſakes beſore our God,

10 *Praying night and day exceedingly to ſee you perſonally, and reparaire the wantings of your faith?

11 Now God himſelfe, and our father, & our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, guide our way vnto you.

12 And the Lord increaſe you, and make you abound in charitie one toward another, and toward all men, euen as we alſo toward you:

13 To ſtabliſh your heartes vnblaimeable *in holinneſſe beſore God and our father, in the comming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt with all his ſaints.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 He exhortheth them to holinneſſe, 6 and innocencie, 9 loue, 11 labour, 13 and moderation in lamenting for the dead.

Burthermore wee beſeech you, brethren, & exhort you by the Lord Jeſus, that ye increaſe more & more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke and to pleaſe God.

2 For ye know what commandements we gaue you by the Lord Jeſus.

3 For this is the will of God, euen your holinneſſe, *that ye ſhould abſteine from fornication:

4 That euery one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſſe his beſell in holinneſſe and honour:

3 For when they shall say, peace and safety: then suddenly destruction cometh vpon them,

* as sorow vpon a woman with child, and they shall not escape in any wise.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, lest that day should ouertake you as a thiefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nei- ther of darknesse.

6 Therefore let vs not sleepe, as doe other: but let vs watch, and be sober.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, * putting on the breastplate of faith and charity, and a helmer, the hope of saluation.

9 For God hath not appointed vs to wrath: but to obtaine saluation by our Lord Iesus Christ, 10 which died for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we should liue together with him.

11 Wherefore, comfort your selues together, and edifie euery one another, euen as ye doe.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to knowe them which labour among you, and haue the ou- ueright of you in the Lord, and admonish you:

13 That yee haue them in high reputation, in loue for their worke: and be at peace among your selues.

14 We exhort you, brethren, warne them that are vnruely, comfort the feeble minded, lift vp the weakie, be patient toward all men.

15 * See that none recompence euill for euill vnto any man: but ener followe that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men.

16 Reioyce euer.

17 * Pray continually.

18 In all things giue thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

19 Quench not the spirit.

20 Despise not prophecysings.

21 Examine all things: hold fast that which is good.

22 Abstaine from all apparance of euill.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue, and patience.
11 He praieih for the increase of the same, 12 and sheweth what fruit shall come thereof.

PAUL and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace vnto you, & peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 * We are bound to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, & the charitie of euery one of you towards another aboundeth:

4 So that we our selues reioyce in you in the Churches of God, for your patience & faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

5 Which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, in the reuelation of the Lord Jesus frō heauen, with the angels of his power,

8 In flaming fire, rendering vengeance vnto them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ,

9 which shall be punished with euerlasting damnation from the presence of the Lord, and from the glorie of his power:

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleue (because our testimony toward you was beleueed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God would make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all good pleasure of goodnesse in the worke of faith in power:

12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, & ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shal not come, till the departing from the faith come first, 9 and the kingdome of Antichrist, 15 and therefore he exhorteth them not to be deceived, but to stand stedfast in the things that he hath taught them.

Ve beseech you brethren, by the comming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him, 2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your mind, no; be troubled, neither by spirit, no; by word, no; yet by letter, as from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

3 * Let no man deceiue you by any meanes, for the Lord shal not come, except there come a falling away first, and that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of perdition.

4 Which is an aduersarie, & is exalted aboute all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now you knowe what withholdeth, that he might be reuealed in his time.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doth already worke, onely he which now letteth will let, vntill he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked bee reuealed * whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his comming.

9 Euen him whose coming is after the working of Satan, in all power and signes, and wonders of lying.

10 And in all deceiueablenesse of brightnesse, in them that perish: because they receiued not the loue of the truth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleue lies:

12 That all they may be damned which beleued not the truth, but had pleasure in vnrigh- teousnesse.

13 But we are bound to giue thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, in sanctifying of the spirit, and in faith of the truth.

14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obtaining of the glorie of the Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, & hold the ordinances which ye haue bene taught, whether it were by our preaching, or by our Epistle.

16 Our Lord Jesus Christ, and God our father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in all good saying and doing.

The iij. Chapter.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto Timothie.

The first Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothy to waite vpon his office, namely, to see that nothing be taught but Gods word.

As the Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commission of God our saviour, and Lord Iesus Christ, which is our hope, vnto Timothie a naturall sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, & peace from God our father, and Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou command some that they teach no other doctrine:

4 Neither giue heede to fables, and endless genealogies, which breed questions, moze then godly edifying, which is in faith.

5 But the ende of the commandement, is charitie out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfeined.

6 From the which things, some hauing erred, haue turned vnto vaine tangling:

7 Coueting to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderstanding what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

8 But we knowe that the lawe is good, if a man vse it lawfully:

9 Knowing this, that the lawe is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to vnholly, and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whomongers, to them that defile themselves with mankinde, to manstealers, to liars, to perjured, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine:

11 According to the Gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

12 And I thanke Christ Iesus our Lord, which hath made me strong: for he counted me faithfull, putting me into the ministerie, 13 who was before a blasphemour, and an oppressour: but yet I obtained mercie, because I did it ignorantly, in unbeliefe.

14 Nevertheless, the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith, and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This is a faithfull saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, that Christ Iesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was mercie shewed vnto mee, that in me the first Iesus Christ might shew all long suffering, to the example of them which should beleue on him to life euerlasting.

17 Nowe vnto the king euerlasting, incorruptible, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour and glory for euer and euer. Amen.

18 This commandement commit I vnto thee some Timotheus, according to the propheties which went before vpon thee, that thou in them shouldest fight a good fight:

19 Having faith and good conscience, which some hauing put away, as concerning faith, haue made shipwacke.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorte to pray for all men, 4 wherefore, 8 and how. 9 As touching the apparell and mode-stie of women.

Exhort you therefore, that first of all, prayers, supplications, inter-cessions, and giuing of thanks be made for all men:

2 For kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may leade a quiet & peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honestie.

3 For that is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4 Who will haue all men to be saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

5 For there is one God, and one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Iesus:

6 Who gaue himselfe a ransome for all, a testimonie in due times:

7 * Whereunto I am ordeined a preacher and an Apostle (I tell the trueth in Christ, and ke not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith, and verity.

8 I will therefore that the men pray euery where, lifting vp holy hands without wrath and reasoning.

9 * Like wise also the women, that they aray themselues in comely apparell, with shamesfulesse and discrete behauiour, not in braided haire, either golde, or pearles, or colly aray:

10 But (that becommeth) women professing godlinesse) through good workes.

11 * Let the women learne in silence with all subiection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to blasphe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.

13 * For Adam was first formed, then Eue.

14 And Adam was not deceived, *but the woman being deceived, was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shall be saued, if she continue in faith, and charitie, and holinesse, with modestie.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He declareth what is the office of Ministers, 11 and as touching their families. 15 The dignitie of the Church, 16 and principall point of the heavenly doctrine.

His is a faithfull saying: If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desi-reth a good worke.

2 * A Bishop therefore must be blameles, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, comely apparellled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teach.

3 Not giuen to ouermuch wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre: but gentle, abhoyring fighting, abhoyring couetousnesse:

4 One that ruleth well his owne house, having children in subiection with all grauity,

5 (For if a man know not to rule his owne house, how shall he care for the Church of God?)

6 Not a yong scholler, lest he, being pushed vp, fall into the condemnation of the deuil.

7 He must also haue a good report of them which are without. lest he fall into the rebuke and snare of the deuil.

8 Likewise must the Ministers be graue, not double tongued, not giuen to much wine, neither greedy of filthy lucre:

10 And let them first be proued, then let them

11 Euen so must their wiues be graue, not euill speakers, sober, faithfull in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.

13 For they that haue ministred wel, get them selues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

14 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come shortly vnto thee:

15 But if I tarie long, that thou mayst know howe thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing
God, the pillar and ground of the trueth.

16 And without doubt, great is that mysterie of godlinesse: God was shewed manifestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirit, was seen among the angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleueed on in the world, and was receiued vp in glorie.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Hee teacheth him what doctrine he ought to see,
6. 8. 11 and what to follow, 15 and wherein hee ought to exercise himselfe continually.

No we the spirit speaketh evidently, that * in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giuing heede vnto rites of erro, and doctrines of deuils,

2 which speake false in hypocricie, hauing

3 Forbidding to marrie, and commanding to abstaine from meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thanks, of them which beleue and know the trueth.

4 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thankgiuing.

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hath bene nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.

7 * But cast away prophane and olde wiues

nesse:

8 For bodily exercise profiteth little, but god-linesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promises of the life that is now, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a sure saying, and by all meanes
wothy to be receiued:

10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer rebuke, because wee haue hoped in the liuing

5 And she that is a widow in deede, and left alone, hopeth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead, being aliuie.

7 And these things command, that they may be blamelesse.

8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and specially for them of his household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse then an infidel.

9 Let not a widow bee chosen vnder threescore yeres old, hauing bene the wife of one man,

10 And well reported of in good woekes, if she haue brought by children, if she haue lodged strangers, if she haue washed the saints feete, if she haue ministered vnto them that were in aduersitie, if she haue bene continually giuen to euery good worke.

Or, holpen
them.

11 But the yonger widowes refuse, for when they haue begun to waue wanto against Christ, they will marrie:

12 Hauing damnation, because they haue cast away their first faith.

13 They learne to wander about from house to house idle, yea not idle onely, but also tattlers and busibodies, speaking things that are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the yonger women doe marrie, to beare children, to guide the house, to giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake slanderously.

15 For certaine of them are already turned hache after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that beleueth haue widowes, let them sustaine them, and let not the Church be charged, that it may sustaine them that are widowes in deed.

17 The Elders that rule well, let them be counted worthy of double honour, most specially they which labour in the word and teaching.

23 Drinke no longer water: but vse a little wine for thy stomacks sake, and thine often diseases.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul to Timothie.

The first Chapter.

Paul exhortheth Timotheus to stedfastnes and patience in persequation, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Iesus,

2 To Timothie my dearly beloued sonne: Grace, mercie, and peace from God the father, and Christ Iesus our Lord.

3 I thanke God, whom I worship from my forefathers in pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day:

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stirre by the gift of God, which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the spirit of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound minde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, neither of me his prisoner, but suffer thou aduersity with the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 who hath saued vs, and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our workes, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was giuen vs in Christ Iesus, before the world began:

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Iesus Christ, who hath mortalitye into light through the Gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, neuertheless, I am not ashamed, for I know whom I haue beleued, and I am persuaded that hee is able to keepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 See thou haue the paterne of wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of mee in faith and loue, that is in Christ Iesus.

14 That good thing which was committed to thy keeping, hold fast through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned from mee, of whom are Phygellus, and Herinogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for hee off refreshed mee, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant vnto him that hee may finde mercie with the Lord in that day: And in howe many things hee ministered vnto mee at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The ij. Chapter.

He exhortheth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ.

1 Thou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of mee by many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, which shall be apt to teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer afflictions as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

5 And if a man also wrestle, yet is hee not crowned, except he wrestle lawfully.

6 The labouring husbandman must first be partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ, of the seede of Dauid, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel:

9 wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bondes: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I suffer all things for the elects sakes, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glorie.

11 It is a faithfull saying: * for if we be dead with him, we shall also liue with him.

12 If we be patient, we shall also reigne with him: * If we denie him, he also shall deny vs:

13 * If we be vnfaithfull, he abideth faithfull, he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, testifie befoze the Lord, that they strue not about words to no profit, but to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 Studie to the w thy selfe approued vnto God, a worke man not to be ashamed, rightly diuiding the word of truet h.

16 But prophane boyces of banitie passe ouer: for they will increas e vnto greater vngodliness.

17 And their word shall fret as doth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus.

18 Which about the truth haue || erred, saying, that the resurrection is past already, and do ouerthrow the faith of some.

19 But the strong foundation of God standeth still, hauing this seale, <sup>b</sup> The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let euery one that nameth the name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

20 But in a great house are not onely vessels of golde, and of siluer, but also of wood and of earth: some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himselfe from these, he shall be a vessel sanctified vnto honour, and mee te for the bles of the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 Lusts of youth auoide: but follow righteousness, faith, charitie, peace, * with them that call on the Lord with a pure heart.

23 * But foolish and vnlearned questions put from thee, knowing that they doe but gender strife.

24 And the seruant of the Lorde must not strue: but be gentle vnto all men, apt to teach, suffering euill.

25 In meekenesse instructing them, which are contrary minded, if God at any time will giue them repentance, to the knowledge of the truth:

26 And that they may come to themselves againe, out of the snare of the deuill, which are taken captiue of him at his will.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He prophesieth of the perilous times, 16 also what

His knowe also, that in * the last dayes perilous times shall bee at hand.

2 For men shall be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, vnthankfull, vngodly:

3 without natural affection, truce breakers, false accusers, riotous, fierce, despisers of them which are good,

4 Traitours, headie, high minded, louers of pleasures moze then louers of God:

5 Hauing a forme of godliness, but denying the power thereof: Turne away from these.

6 These are they which enter into houses, and leade captiue simple women laden with sin, caried with diuers lusts:

7 Euer learning, and neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth:

8 * For as Iannes and Iambres withstood Moses, so doe these also resist the truth: Men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith:

9 But they shall preuaile no longer, for their madness shall be manifest vnto all men as also theirs was.

10 But thou hast followed my doctrine, fashion of liuing, <sup>b</sup> purpose, faith, long suffering, charitie, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, which persecutions I suffered patiently: & from them all the Lord deliuered me, 12 Yea, and all that will liue godly, in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But the euill men, and deceiuers, shall waxe worse and worse, deceiuing, and being deceiued.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, || which also were committed vnto thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them.

15 And that from an infant thou hast known the Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation, through faith which is in Christ Iesus.

16 * All scripture is giuen by inspiration of God, and is profitable to doctrine, to reproofe, to correction, to instruction which is in righteousness.

17 That the man of God may be perfect, instructed vnto all good workes.

The iij. Chapter.

He exhortheth Timotheus to be seruicent in the word, and to suffer aduerfities.

2 Preach the word, be <sup>a</sup> instant in season, out of season, improue, rebuke, exhort in all long suffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come, when they shall not suffer wholesome doctrine: but after their owne lusts, shall they whose cares itch, get them an heape of teachers:

4 And shall turne away their hearing from the truth, and shall be turned vnto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, suffer afflictions, doe the worke of an Euangelist, fulfill thy ministerie:

The Epistle of Saint Paul vnto Titus.

The first Chapter.

5 He aduertiseth Titus touching the government of the Church. 7 The ordinance & office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Creteians, and of them which follow abroad Iewish fables, and inuentions of men.

Paul a seruant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ according to the faith of Gods elect, and the knowledge of the trueth, which is after godnesse:

2 In the hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began:

3 But hath made manifest his word at the time appointed through preaching, which is committed vnto mee according vnto the ordinance of God our Sauour:

4 To Titus a naturall sonne after the common faith, Grace, mercie, and peace from God the father, and the Lorde Iesus Christ our Sauour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete that thou shouldst reforme the things that are left, and ordaine elders in every citie, as I had appointed thee.

6 If any be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, hauing faithful children, not accusabile of riot, or vntractable.

7 For a Bishop must be blamelesse, as the steward of God: not stubborn, not angrie, not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthy lucre.

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good...

9 Holding fast the faithful word which is according to doctrine, that hee may be able both to exhort in wholesome doctrine, & to improue them that say against it.

10 For there are many vntruly and baine talkers, and deceiuers of mindes, specially they that are of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouthes must be stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre sake.

12 One of themselues, euen a Prophet of their owne, sayd, The Creteians are alway lyars, euill beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true: wherefore rebuke the sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, 14 Not taking heed to Jewes fables, & commandments of men, turning from the trueth.

15 Vnto the pure are all things pure: but vnto them that are defiled and vnbeseeuing, is nothing pure, but euen the mind and conscience of them is defiled.

16 They confesse that they knowe God: but with wordes they denie him, seeing they are abominable, and disobedient, and vnto euerie good worke reprobate.

The ij. Chapter.

Do not speake thou the things which become wholesome doctrine.

2 That the elder men be watching, sober, found in faith.

3 The elder women likewise, that they be in such behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things :

4 That they may make the young women sober minded, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 To be discrete, chaste, housekeepers, good, obedient unto their owne husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort, to be sober minded :

7 In all things shewing thy selfe a patterne of good workes, in the doctrine, in corruptiuelles, grauitie, integritie,

8 wholesome word, vnrebukeable, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauing no euill thing to say of you.

9 Exhort seruants to be obedient vnto their owne masters, and to please them in all things, not answering againe :

10 Neither pickers, but shewing all good faithfulness, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our sauour in all things.

11 For there hath appeared the grace of God, which is healthfull to all men.

12 Teaching vs, that denying vngodliness, and worldly lustes, wee should liue soberly, and rightously, and godly in this present world :

13 Looking for that blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great God, and our sauour Iesus Christ, 14 which gaue himselfe for vs, that he might redeeme vs from all vnrightheousnesse, & purge vs a peculiar people vnto himselfe, zealous of good workes.

15 These things speake and exhort, and rebuke with all authoritie : Let no man despise thee.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Hebrewes.

The first Chapter.

It sheweth the excellencie of Christ, 4 aboute the Angels: 7 and of their office.

1 Cod which in time past, at sundry times, and in diuers manners spake vnto the fathers in the Prophets,
 2 Hath in these last dayes spoken vnto vs in the sonne, whome hee hath appointed heire of all things, by whome also he made the worldes.
 3 Who beinge the brightnesse of the glory, and the very image of his substance, by holdinge all things with the worde of his power, hauing by himselfe purged our sinnes, hath sit on the right hand of the maiestie on hie.
 4 Beinge so much more excellent then the angels, as hee hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name then they.
 5 For vnto which of the angels sayd hee at any time, * Thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee?
 6 And againe, I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a sonne? And againe, when hee bringeth in the first begotten sonne into the world, he sayth, * And let all the angels of God worship him.
 7 And vnto the angels he sayeth, * Hee maketh his angels spirites, and his ministers a flame of fire:
 8 But vnto the sonne he sayth, Thy seate, O God, shall be for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.
 9 Thou hast loued righteousness, and hated iniquitie: therefore God, euen thy God, hath anoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

 10 * And, Thou Lord, in the beginninge hast layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thy hands:
 11 They shall perish, but thou endurest: and they all shall waxe old as doth a garment,
 12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them by, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.
 13 But vnto which of the angels sayd hee at any time, * Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?
 14 Are they not all ministering spirites, sent forth into ministry for their sakes which shall be heires of saluation?

The ij. Chapter.

Hee exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new lawe, which Christ hath giuen vs.

Wherefore wee ought to giue the more earnest heede to the things which we haue heard: lest at any time we should let them slip.
 2 For if the word spoken by angels, was stedfast, and euery transgression, and disobedience receiued a full recompence of reward:
 3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great saluation? which at the first began to bee preached of the Lorde, and was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard it,
 4 * God bearinge witnesse thereto both with signes and wonders also, and with diuers powers, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will.

7 Thou madest him for a little while lower then the angels, thou hast crowned him with glory and honour, and hast set him aboute the workes of thy hands.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his secte. In that he put all things vnder him, hee left nothing that is not put vnder him. But nowe wee see not yet all things put vnder him.

9 * But him that for a while was made lesse then the angels, wee see that it was Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God, should taste of death for all.

10 For it became him for whome are all things, and by whome are all things, after hee had brought many sonnes vnto glory, that hee should make the captaine of their saluation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both hee that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified are all of one: for which cause, hee is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, * I will declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the midst of the Church will I praise thee.

13 And againe, I will put my trust in him. And againe, Behold here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, * that through death, hee might expell him that had lordship ouer death, that is the deuil:

15 And that hee might deliuer them which through feare of death, were all their life time in danger of bondage.

16 For hee in no place taketh on him the <sup>d</sup> angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh hee on him.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that hee might be mercifull, and a faithfull high priest in things concerning God, for to purge the peoples finnes.

18 For in that hee himselfe suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Herequireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ, 3 who is more worthy then Moses.

Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiaall calling, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus,

2 Being faithfull to him that appointed him, as also * Moses was faithfull in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in as much as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, but he that builded all things is God.

5 And Moses hereby was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of those things which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: whose house are we, if wee holde fast the confidence and the reioyng of that hope vnto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost sayth, * To day if ye will heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, prouoked me, and sa to my workes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with this generation, and sayd, They doe alway erre in heart, they berey haue not knowen my wayes.

11 So that I swaie in my wrath, * If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heed brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an euill heart of vnbeliefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort yee one another daily, while it is called to day: leaue any of you be hardened toward the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For wee are made partakers of Christ, if wee keepe sure vnto the ende <sup>d</sup> the beginning of the substance.

15 || So long as it is sayd, * To day if yee will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they had heard, did prouohe: || howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whome was he displeasid forty yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkeises fell in the desert:

18 And to whome swaie hee that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And wee see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

The iij. Chapter.

2 The worde without faith is vnprofitable. 3 The Sabbath of rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleuers, 12 The nature of the word of God,

Et vs feare therefore, leaue at any time by forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you should seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as well as vnto them: but the worde which they heard, did not profit them, not being coupled with faith to them that heard.

3 For wee which haue beleueed, doe enter into this rest, as hee sayde, * Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were made perfect from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee spake in a certaine place of the seventh day on this wise: * And God did rest the seventh day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it followeth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whome the Gospel was first preached entred not therein for vnbeliefe:

7 Againe hee appointeth a certaine day, by to day, saying in Psalme after to long a time, (as it is sayde) * To day if yee will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

would he not after ward haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entred into his rest, hath ceased also from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is quicke and mighty in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and entrencheth through euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the soule and the spirit, and of the ioynts, and the marow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and of the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but all things are naked and open vnto the eyes of him of whom we speake.

14 Seeing then that wee haue a great high Priest, which is entred into heauens, Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast this confession.

15 For we haue not an high Priest which cannot bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as wee are, and yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obtaine mercy, and finde grace to helpe in the time of need.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hee compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuitical priests, shewing wherein they either agree, or dissent.

¶ Of every high Priest taken from among men, is ordeined for men, in things pertaining to God to offer gifts, and sacrifices for sinne:

2 which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuch as hee himselfe also is compassed with infirmities.

3 And for the same infirmities hee is bound to offer for sinnes, as well for himselfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto himselfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 Euen so Christ also glorified not himselfe to be made the high Priest: but hee that said vnto him, Thou art my Sonne, to day haue I begotten thee, gaue it him.

6 As hee saith also in another place, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

7 which in the dayes of his flesh, when hee had offered by prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares vnto him that was able to saue him from death, and was heard in that which he feared:

8 Though he were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by these things which he suffered:

9 And being perfect, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom wee haue many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing yee are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye need againe that wee teach you the first principles of the beginning of the word of God, and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For every one that bleth milke, is imperit of the word of righteousness, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen those which by reason of vse, haue their wits exercised to discerne both good and euill.

The vj. Chapter.

1 He proceedeth in reproofing them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 but to be steadfast and patient, 18 for as much as God is sure in his promise.

¶ Herefore leaving the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let vs goe forth vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of Baptismes, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternall Iudgement.

3 And this will we doe, if God permit.

4 For it cannot be that they which were once lightened, & haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come:

6 And they fall away, should bee renued againe into repentance, crucifying to themselves the Sonne of God afresh, and making a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which hath drunken in the raine that cometh oft vpon it, and bringeth forth hearbes, meete for them by whom also it is tilled, receiveth blessing of God:

8 But that ground which beareth thornes and briers, is repproued, and is nigh vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Feuerthelesse, deare friends, wee are persuaded better things of you, and things which accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vngracious, to forget your worke and labour of loue, which yee haue shewed toward his Name, hauing ministered to the Saints, and do minister.

11 Yea, and wee desire that euery one of you doe shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That yee faint not, but bee followers of them, which through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he could sweare by no greater, hee sweare by himselfe.

14 Saying, Surely, blessing, I will blesse thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee.

15 And so after that hee had taried patiently, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily sweare by the greater, and an othe of confirmation, is to them an ende of all strife.

17 Wherein God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promise the stability of his countell, confirmed by an othe:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might haue a strong consolation, which haue fledde to holde fast the hope layed before vs:

19 which hope wee holde as an anchor of the soule both sure & steadfast, an entering in into that thing which is within the vasis:

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entered, euen Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a Priest for euer.

The vii. Chapter.

He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchisedech, & also Christ's priesthood with the Leuites.

WHich * Melchisedech King of Salem, Priest of the most high God, who mette Abraham returning from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him,

2 To whom also Abraham gaue tithe of all things: first being called by interpretation King of righteousness: and after that also, King of Salem, which is, King of peace,

3 without father, without mother, without kinne, hauing neither beginning of dayes, neither ende of life, but likened vnto the Sonne of God, continueth a Priest for euer.

4 Nowe consider howe great this man was vnto whom also the Patriarch Abraham * gaue tithe of the spoyle.

5 And bereft they which are of the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a commandement to take tithe of the people, according to the Lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But hee whose kindred is not counted among them, receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there hee receiued them of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also, which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham:

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection was by the Priesthood of the Leuites, (for vnder that Priesthood the people receiued the Lawe) what needeth it further more that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to bee called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the Priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the Lawe.

13 For hee of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the Altar.

14 For it is euident that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning Priesthood:

15 And it is yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another Priest, 16 which is not made after the Lawe of the carnall Commandement, but after the power of the endlesse life.

17 For hee thus testifieth, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

18 For there is truly a disanulling of the commandement going before, for the weaknesse and impossibilitie thereof.

19 For the Lawe made nothing perfect, but was the bringing of a better hope, by the which we draw nigh vnto God.

20 And inasmuch as that was not without an othe, (for those Priests were made without an othe:

21 But this Priest with an othe, by him that said vnto him, * The Lord sware, and will not repent him, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.)

22 By so much was Iesus made a suretie of a better testament.

23 And among them many were made priests, because they were forbidden by death to endure:

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an unchangeable Priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the uttermost, that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high Priest became vs, which is holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then heauens.

27 which needeth not dayly, as those high Priests, to offer by sacrifice, first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did hee once, when he offered by himselfe.

28 For the Lawe maketh men high Priests which haue infirmitie, but the word of the othe which was after the Lawe maketh the Sonne, which is perfect for euermore.

The viii. Chapter.

6 Hee proueth the abolishing a swell of the Leuiticall Priesthood, as of the old couenant, by the spirituall and euerlasting Priesthood of Christ, 8 and by the new Couenant.

But of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe: Wee haue such an high Priest, that sitteth on the right hande of the throne of the Maiestie in the heauens,

2 A minister of holy things, & of the true tabernacle, which the Lord might, and not man.

3 For euery high Priest is ordeined to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing that there are Priests, that according to the Law offer gifts,

5 who serue vnto the example and shadowe of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finish the Tabernacle: for see, saith hee, that thou make all things according to the paterne shewed to thee in the Mount.

6 But now we hath hee obtained a more excellent office, by howe much also hee is the mediator of a better Couenant, which was confirmed in better promises.

7 For if that first couenant had bene faultlesse, then should no place haue bene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them, he saith, * Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, and I will finish vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house of Iuda, a new Couenant:

9 Not like that, that I made with their fathers, in the day when I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my Couenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those dayes, Gene. 14. 18.

So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or sinnefolke, but as he had bene vnderly sent of God into the world, to be a signe of Christ our euerlasting Priest, a thorn in the side of the world against Christ as thou mighte haue no father, and committing his sinne to no brother. For testament.

Iere. 31. 31. I will finish vpon the house of Iuda, a newe Couenant.

Psal. 110. 4. hebr. 5. 6.

saith the Lord: giuing my Lawes into their minde, and in their heart I wil write them, and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

11 And they shall not teach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the little of them, to the great of them.

12 For I will be mercifull to their unrighteousnesse, and their finnes and their iniquities will I thinke vpon no more.

13 In that he saith a new Couenant, hee hath woyned out the first: for that which is woyned out and waxed old, is ready to banish away.

The ix. Chapter.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished, 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

The first Couenant then had verity iustifying ordinances, seruings of God, and worldly holinesse.

2 For there was a tabernacle made, the first truly wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the Shew bread, which is called holy.

3 But after the second baile, was a tabernacle, which is called holiest of all:

4 Which had the golden censer, and the arke of the Couenant overlaped round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot hauing Manna, and Aarons rodde that had budded, and the Tables of the Couenant:

5 And ouer it the Cherubims of glory shadowing the Mercie seat: Of which things wee cannot now speake particularly.

6 When these things were thus ordeined, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood, which hee offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the way of holy things, was not yet made manifest, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing:

9 Which was a similitude for the time then present, in which were offered gifts, and sacrifices, that could not make the worshipper perfect as pertaine to the conscience.

10 With onely meates and drinckes, and diuers washings and iustifying of the flesh, which were layde by vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things that should bee, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goats, and calues: but by his owne blood he entered in once into the holy place, and found eternall redemption.

13 For if the blood of oxen and of goats, and the ashes of a yong Cowe, sprinckling the cleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more the blood of Christ, which through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without spot to God, shal purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is hee the mediator of the newe Couenant, that through death, which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were vnder the first Couenant, they which are called, might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For whereas is a testament, there must also of necessitie bee the death of him that made the testament.

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as hee that made the testament is aliue.

18 For which cause also, neither the first testament was dedicated with blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to all the people according to the Lawe, taking the blood of calues, and of goats, with water, and purple wooll, and hyssop, hee sprinckled both the booke it selfe, and all the people, 20 Saying, This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enioyned vnto you.

21 And likewise hee sprinckled with blood both the tabernacle, & all the vessels of the ministerie.

22 And almost all things are by the Lawe purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly things bee purified with such things: but the heauenly things themselues be purified with better sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places made with hands, which are paternes of true things: but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the sight of God for vs.

25 Not that hee should offer himselfe offer, as the high Priest entreteth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood.

26 (For then must hee haue often suffered since the foundation of the world): but now once in the ende of the world hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men once to die, and after this the Iudgement:

28 Euen so Christ once offered to take away the finnes of many, the second time shall be scene without sinne, of them which wait for him vnto saluation.

The x. Chapter.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all.

By the Lawe hauing the shadow of good things to come, and not the very fashion of the things themselves, can neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

2 For would not then those sacrifices haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of finnes?

3 Neuertheless, in those sacrifices is mention made of finnes euery yeere.

3 For it is not possible that the blood of buls and of goates, should take away finnes.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not haue: but a body hast thou ordeined me.

6 In burnt sacrifices and offerings for sinne thou hadst no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is written of mee) to doe thy will, O God.

The Levitical sacrifices offered braked blood: but Christ the true and eternall Priest, offered his owne blood, which was most holy and pure. The Levitical Priest offered vnto, and therefore did only represent the true holinesse: but Christ by one onely sacrifice had made both for ever them that believe. Or, testament.

itude as are the starres in the skie, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died according to faith, not having received the promises, but when they had seene them as farre off, and beleueed, and saluted, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare that they seeke a country.

15 Also if they had bene mindful of that country, from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned:

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them that he called their God, for he hath prepared for them a citie.

17 * By faith Abraham offered by Isaac when hee was prooued: and he that had received the promises, offered up his onely begotten sonne, 18 To whom it is sayd, * That in Isaac shall thy seede be called.

19 For hee considered that God was able to raise the dead by againe, from whence also hee received him in a certaine similitude of the resurrection.

20 * By faith did Isaac blesse Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 * By faith, Jacob when hee was a dying, blessed both the sonnes of Joseph, and worshipped || toward the top of his scepter.

22 * By faith, Joseph when hee died remembered the departing of the children of Israel: and gaue commandement of his bones.

23 * By faith, Moses when hee was borne, was hid three moneths of his father & mother, because they saw he was a proper child, neither feared they the kings commandement.

24 * By faith, Moses when he was great, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter:

25 Choosing rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of sinne for a season:

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ, greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompense of the reward.

27 * By faith he forsooke Egypt, fearing not the wrath of the king: for he endured, euen as though he had seene him which is invisible.

28 * Through faith hee ordained the Pascheuer and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

29 * By faith they passed thorow the red sea, as by drie land: which the Egyptians assaying to doe, were drowned.

30 * By faith the walles of Jericho fel down, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

31 * By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedient, when shee had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would faile me to rehearse of * Gedon, of * Barac, and of * Samson, and of * Jephthah, * of * Dauid also and * Samuel, and of the Prophets:

33 which through faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousnesse, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of the Lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weaknesse were made strong, wared baliant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 The women receiued their dead raised to life againe: Other were racked, not looking for deliuerance, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others were tried with mockings, and scourgings: Pea, mozeouer, with bonds and prisonment:

37 They were stoned, were hewen asunder, were tempted, were slaine with sword, wandered about in sheepes skinnies, and goats skinnies, being destitute, afflicted and tormented:

38 Of whom the world was not worthy: They wandered in wilderness, and in mountaines, and in demnes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these all through faith, hauing obtained good report, receiued not the promise:

40 whereas God hath prepared a better thing for vs, that they without vs should not be made perfect.

The xij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlasting reward.

2 A commendation of the new Testament about the olde.

Therefore, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, all * layd away, that * presseth downe, and the || sinne that * hangeth so fast on, let vs runne with patience vnto the battell that is set before vs:

2 Looking vnto Iesus the || captaine and finisher of our faith, which for the ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, hauing despised the shame, and is set downe on the right hand of the throne of God.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against him of sinners, least you should be wearied, fainting in your mindes.

4 We haue not yet refused vnto the shedding of blood, striving against sinne.

5 And yee haue forgotten the exhortation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, * My sonne, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth euery sonne that he receiuech.

7 If ye endure chastening, God sendeth you as his sonnes: for what sonne is hee whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, wee haue had fathers of our flesh, which corrected vs, and wee gaue them reuerence: shall we not then much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spirits, and liue?

10 For they berey for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he, for our profite, that wee might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 No chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grievous: neuerthelesse, afterward it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousnesse, vnto them which are exercised hereby.

12 Straighten by therefore the hands which were let downe, and the weak knees:

13 And make right steppes vnto your feete.

They had not such cleare light as we: for they looked for that which we haue, therefore it were shame for vs, if at the lead we haue not as great contentment as they.

24 And to Iesus the mediatour of the newe covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better then did the blood of Abel.

26 whose voyce then shooke the earth, and nowe hath declared, saying, * Yet once more I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this word Yet once more, signifieth remouing of those things which are shaken, as of things which are made, that the things which are not shaken, may remaine.

28 wherefore, we receiuing a kingdom which cannot be moued, let vs haue grace, wherby we may so serue God acceptable, with reuerence and godly feare.

The xiiij. Chapter.

He exhortheth vs to loue, 2 to hospitality, 3 to thinke vpon such as are in aduersity, 4 to maintaine wedlocke, 5 to auoide couetousnesse.

Et brotherly loue continue.

2 * Bee not forgetfull to lodge strangers: for thereby some haue lodged Angels bntowares.

3 Remember them that are in bondes, as bound with them: And them which suffer aduersitie, as being your selues also in the bodie subiect to aduersitie.

4 Wedlocke is honourable among all men, and the bed undefiled: But whoremongers and adulterers, God will iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnesse, being content with such things as ye haue. for he hath sayd, * I will in no case saile thee, neither forsake thee.

6 So that we may boldly say, * The Lord is my helper, and I will not feare what man may doe vnto me.

7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue spoken vnto you the word of God: whose end of conuersation ye considering, follow to their faith.

8 Iesus Christ yesterday, and to day, and the same for euer.

9 Bee not caried about with diners and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart bee stablished with grace, and not with meats, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10 We haue an altar, whereof they haue no right to eate, which serue in the tabernacle.

11 For the bodie of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high Priest for sinne, are burnt without the tents.

12 Wherefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore vnto him out of the tents, bearing his reproch.

14 For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 By him therefore let vs offer sacrifice of laude alwayes to God, that is, the fruit of lippes confessing his name.

16 To doe good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacrifice God is well pleased.

17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you and submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue accompts, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnprofitable for you.

18 Pray for vs: for we trust we haue a good conscience, in all things willing to liue honestly.

19 But I desire you the more earnestly that ye so do, that I may be redreued to you the sooner.

20 The God of peace, that brought againe from the dead our Lord Iesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, 21 Make you perfect in all good works to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Iesus Christ, to whome be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation, for I haue written vnto you in fewe wordes.

23 Know ye, that our brother Timotheus is deliuered: with whom (if he come speedily) I will see you.

The Epistle of Saint James.

The first Chapter.

2 He exhorteth to reioice in trouble, 6 to be seruent in prayer with stedfast beleefe, 17 and to looke for all good things from aboue.

Ames a seruant of God, and of the Lorde Jesus Christ, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroad, Greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all ioy when yee fall into diuers temptations.

3 * Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience,

4 And let patience haue her perfect worke, that yee may bee perfect, and found, lacking nothing.

5 If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God, that giueth to all men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shall bee giuen him.

6 * But let him aske in faith, nothing wauering: for hee that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, toss of the winde, and caried with violence:

7 Neither let that man thinke that he shall receiue any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is vnsable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioice in that he is exalted:

10 Againe, the rich, in that he is made lowe: * Because as the flower of the grasse he that passe away.

11 For as the Sunne hath risen with heate, and the grasse hath withered, and his floure hath fallen away, and the beauty of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shall the rich man fade away in his wayes.

12 * Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 Let no man say when hee is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But every man is tempted, when hee is drawen away, and entised with the baite of his owne concupiscence.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne: and sinne, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Doe not erre, my deare brethren.

17 Euer y good: giuing, and euer y perfect gift is from aboue, and cometh downe from the father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his owne will begate hee vs, with the word of truth, that we should be the first fruits of his creatures.

19 wherefore, my deare brethren, * let euery man be swift to heare, slowe to speake, slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not that which is righteous before God.

21 wherefore lay apart all filchinesse, and superfluitie of || naughtinesse, and receiue with meekenes the word that is graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 And * be ye doers of the word, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a glasse.

24 For he hath considered himselfe, & is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediatly what his fashion was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shall be blessed in his deede.

26 If any man among you seeme to be || deuout, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueh his owne heart, this mans || deuotion is vaine.

27 Pure deuotion and vncorrupted before God and the father, is this, To visit the fatherlesse and widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted of the world.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 but to regard the poote as well as the rich.

My brethren, * haue not the faith of our Lorde Jesus Christ the Lord of glorie, * with respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your company a man wearing a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man, in vile raiment:

3 And ye haue respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say to the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footstoolle:

4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, and are made iudges of euill thoughts?

5 Hearken, my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this world, that they might bee rich in faith, and heires of the kingdom, which hee promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doe not rich men oppresse you by tyrannie, and draw you before the iudgement seate?

7 Doe not they blasphemie that good name, by the which ye are named?

8 If ye fulfil the royall law according to the Scripture, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye doe well:

My brethren, bee not many masters, knowing how that we shal receive the greater damnation.

2 For in many things wee sinne all. If any man sinne not in worde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body:

3 Beholde, wee put bittes in the horses mouches, that they may obey vs, and wee turne about their whole body:

4 Beholde also the shippes, which though they be so great, & are driuen of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whither soeuer the lust of the gouernour will:

5 Euen so the tongue is a little member also, and boasteth great things: behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, euen a world of wishednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

The Inten- perancie of the tongue is a flame of hell fire.

7 All the nature of beasts, and of birdes, and of serpents, and things of the Sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an vnruely euill, full of deadly popson:

9 Therewith blesse we our God, and father: and therewith curse wee men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one hole sweete water and bitter also?

12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare O. liue berries: either a wine beare figgs: so can no fountaine giue both salt water, and fresh also.

13 Who is a wise man, & endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe his workes out of a good conuersation with meekenesse of wisdom.

14 But if ye haue bitter enuying and strife in your heart, glozy not, neither bee liers against the trueth.

15 For such wisdom descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensuall, and deuillish.

16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.

17 But the wisdom that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.

18 Yes, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

The iiij. Chapter.

4 Hee exhorteth them to loue God, 7 and submit themselves to him.

How hence commeth warres and fightings among you? Come they not here hence, euen of your lustes that fight in your members? 2 Ye lust, and haue not: yee enue, and haue indignation, and cannot obtaine: Yee fight and warre: yee haue not, because yee aske not.

For the lust of the concupiscence continually fighteth against the Lawe of the minde.

3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

4 Yee adulterers, and adulteresses, know you not howe that the friendship of the world is enimitie with God: whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is made the enemy of God.

We called adulterers here after the manner of the scriptures, when we had aske the pleasures of the world, to the loss of Gods.

5 Either doe yee thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The spirit that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enue?

The strength of mans heart is weak. I. Pet. 5. 6. Pro. 3. 34

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, God resisteth the proud, but giueth grace vnto the lowly.

7 Submit your selues therefore to God: but resist the deuil, and he will flie from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purifie your hearts ye double minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, & mourne, and weepe: let your laughter bee turned to mourning, and your ioy to heavinesse.

10 Humble your selues in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you vp.

I. Pet. 5. 6.

11 Backbite not one another, brethren: See that backbiteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and iudgeth the law: but and if thou iudge the law, thou art not an obseruer of the law, but a iudge.

Rom. 14.4

13 Go to now ye that say, To day and to morrow let vs go into such a city, and continue there a yere, and buy, and sell, and win:

16 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: All such reioyng is enill.

17 Therefore to him that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sinne.

The v. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the wicked rich men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 and to beware of swearing.

W to now ye rich men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you.

2 Your riches be corrupt, your garments are moth eaten:

3 Your golde and siluer is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye haue heaped treasure together in the last dayes.

4 Beholde, the hire of the labourers which haue reaped downe your fields, which hire is of you kept backe by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of Sabboth.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and bene wanton: Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in the day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and killed the iust, and he doth not resist you.

waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience thereupon, vntill he receiue the early and latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient, and settle your hearts: for the comming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 Wrudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be damned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffering aduersitie, and of patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, we count them happy which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and haue seene the end of the Lord: for the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 * But about all things, my brethren, sweare not, neither by heauen, neither by the earth, neither by any other othe: Let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing Psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and * anoint him with oile in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lord shall raise him vp: and if hee haue committed sinnes, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Knowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: For the feruent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 * Elias was a man vnder infirmities, euen as wee are, and hee prayed in his prayer that it might not raine: and it rained not on the earth by the space of thre yeres and sixe moneths.

18 And hee prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, * if any of you doe erre from the truth, and another conuert him, 20 Let the same know, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide the multitude of sinnes.

The end of the Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Epistle of Saint Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

2 Hee sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God, we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and how faith must be tried.

Peter an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to * them that dwell here and there as strangers thorowout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia:

2 Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the father, vnto the sanctifying of the spirit, through the obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercie, begat vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the rising of Iesus Christ from the dead.

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and vndermined, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heauen for you,

5 which are kept by the power of God

b The free election of God, is the efficient cause of our saluation: the materiall cause is Christs obedience: our actual saluation is the materiall cause: and the final cause, is our sanctification.

a Iudged to be Iesus, to whom he was appointed to be an Apostle.

through faith vnto saluation, ready to be shew- ed in the last time.

6 In the which ye reioyce, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heauinesse through manifold temptations:

7 That the triall of your faith being much more precious then golde that perissheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found to be vnto you vnto laud, honoz, and glozy, at the appearing of Iesus Christ,

8 Whom ye haue not seene, & yet loue him, in whom euen now though ye see him not, yet do ye beleue him, and reioyce with ioy vspeak- able and glorious:

9 Recciuing the end of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the prophets en- quired and searched diligently, which prophced of the grace that should come vnto you:

11 Searching when or what time the spirit of Christ, which was in them, should signifie, which spirit testified befoze the passions that should happen vnto Christ, and the glozy that should follow after.

12 Vnto which Prophets it was also reuea- led, that not vnto themselves, but vnto vs, they should minner the things which are now shew- ed vnto you of them, which by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, haue in the Gospel preached vnto you the things which the angels desire to beholde.

13 Wherefoze gird by the loines of your mind, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelation of Iesus Christ:

14 As obedient childzen, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lusts of your ignorance:

15 But as he which called you, is holy, * euen so be ye holy also in all maner of conuersation.

16 Because it is writt'n, * Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if so be that ye call on the Father, * which without respect of person iudgeth accord- ing to eury mans worke, see that ye passe the time of your dwelling here, in feare.

18 Forasmuch as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, from your vaine conuersation, which ye received by the tradition of the fathers:

19 * But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled and without spot:

20 Which was ordeined befoze hand, euen be- foze the world was made, but was declared in the last time for your sakes:

21 Which by his meanes doe beleue on God that raised him by from the dead, and gaue him glozy, that ye might haue faith and hope toward God:

22 Euen ye which haue purified your soules, through the spirit in obeying the trueth, * with brotherly loue vnfained, see that ye loue one an- other with a pure heart feruently:

23 For ye are borne anew, not of corruptible seed: but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which lieth and lasteth for euer.

24 * For all fleish is as grasse, and all the glozie of man is as the floure of grasse: the grasse with- ereth, and the floure falleth away.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth euer: and this is the word which by the Gospel was preached vnto you.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhortheth them to lay aside all vice, 4 shewing that Christ is the foundation wherupon they build.

Wherefoze * all naughtinesse, and all guile, and fainednesse, and en- uie, and backbiting, layd aside,

2 As new borne babes, desire ye the milke of the word, which is without deceit: that ye may grow thereby vnto saluation.

3 If so be that ye haue tasted how gracious the Lord is:

4 To whom ye come as vnto a liuing stone, disallowed of men, but chosen of God, and pre- cious,

5 And ye as liuely stones, be you made a spi- rituall house, an holy Priesthood, for to offer by spirituall sacrifice, acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefoze it is contained also in the Scripture, * Beholde, I put in Sion a stone to be layed in the chiefe corner, elect and precious, and he that beleueth on him, shall in no wise be confounded.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleue, he is precious, but vnto them which beleue not, * the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner.

8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rocke of of- fence: which stumble at the word, and being disobedient, vnto the which thing they were or- deined.

9 But ye are a chosen generation, * a royall Priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people: that ye should shew forth the vertues of him that called you out of darknesse into his maruel- lous light.

10 * Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which sometime had not obtained mercy, but now haue obtained mercy.

11 Dearely beloued, I beseech you as stran- gers and pilgrims, abstaine from * fleshy lusts, which fight against the soule, 12 And see that ye haue honest conuersation among the Gentiles: that whereas they back- bite you as euill doers, * they may by your good workes which they shall see, glorifie God in the day of visitation.

13 * Submit your selues therefore vnto all maier obdiuance of man for the Lordes sake: whether it be vnto the king, as hauing the pre- minence.

14 Either vnto rulers, as vnto them that are sent by him for the punishment of euill doers, but for the laud of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with wel do- ing ye may stop the ignorance of foolish men:

16 As free, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of naughtinesse, but euen as the seruants of God.

17 Honoz all men. * Loue brotherly fellow- ship, feare God, Honoz the king.

18 * Seruants, obey your masters with all feare, not onely if they be good and courteous, but also though they be forward.

19 * For it is thanke worthy, if a man for con- science toward God endure griefe, and suffer wrong vnder serued.

22 * Which did no sinne, neither was there guile found in his mouth.

23 Which when he was reviled, reviled not againe: when he suffered, he threatned not, but committed the vengeance to him that iudgeth righteously.

25 For ye were as sheepe going astray: but are now turned vnto the Shepheard and Bishop of your soules.

The iij. Chapter.

1 How wiuers ought to order themselves toward their husbands, 3 and in their apparell.

The wise * ye wiuers, be in subiection to your husbands, that euen they which obey not the word, may without the word be woon, by the conuersation of the wiuers:

2 After that they haue beholden your chaste conuersation coupled with feare.

3 * whose apparell, let it not be that which is outward, with braided haire, and hanging on of gold, either in putting on of gorgeous apparell:

4 But let the hid man, which is in the heart, be without all corruption, of a meeke and quiet spirit, which spirit is before God a thing much set by.

5 After this maner in the old time did the holy women also, which trusted in God, tire themselves, being obedient vnto their husbands.

6 Euen as * Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord, whose daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and are not afraid for any terror.

7 * Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giuing honoz vnto the wife, as vnto the weaker vessel, & as vnto them that are heires also of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

8 In conclusion, be ye all of one mind, hauing compassion one of another, loue as brethren, be pitifull, be courteous,

9 Not rendering euill for euill, or rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise blesse, knowing that ye are thereunto called, euen that ye should be heires of the blessing.

10 For he that doth long after life, and loueth to see good dayes, let him reframe his tongue from euil, and his lips that they speake no guile.

11 * Let him eschew euil, and do good, let him seeke peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous, and his cares are open vnto their prayers: againe, the face of the Lord is ouer them that do euill.

13 Doe ouer, who is it that will harme you, if ye be follo wers of that which is good?

14 Yea, * happy are ye, if any trouble happen vnto you for righteousnes sake, be not ye afraid for any terror of them, neither be ye troubled:

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be ready alwayes to giue an answer to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you.

16 And that with meekenesse and feare, hauing a good conscience: that whereas they backbite you as euill doers, they may be ashamed that: falsely accuse your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the wil of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

18 * Forasmuch as Christ hath once suffered for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, to bring vs to God, and was killed as pertaining to the flesh, but was quickened in the spirit.

19 In which spirit he also went and preached vnto the spirits that were in prison, 20 which sometime had bene disobedient, when once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of Noe, while the Arke was a preparing, wherein few (that is to say) eight soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure agreeth that now saueth vs, euen baptisme, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ:

22 Which is on the right hand of God, and is gone into heauen, angels, powers, and might subdued vnto him.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth all men to cease from sinne, 7 to be sober, and apt to pray.

As much then, as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme ye your selues like wise with the same mind: for hee which suffereth in the flesh, ceaseth from sinne:

2 That he henceforth should liue, as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

3 * For it is sufficient for vs that wee haue spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lusts, in excelle of wines, in excelle of eating, in excelle of drinking, and abominable idolatry.

4 And it seemeth to them a strange thing, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excelle of riot, & therefore speake they euill of you:

5 which shall giue accounts to him that is ready to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verily was the Gospel preached also vnto the dead, that they should be iudged like other men in the flesh, but should liue before God in the spirit.

7 † The end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watch vnto prayer,

8 But aboue all things haue feruent charity among your selues: for charity that couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be ye harborous one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receiued the gift, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speake, let him talke as the word of God: if any man minister, let him doe it as of the abilitie which God ministreth vnto him, that God in all things may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for euer and euer. Amen.

The v. Chapter.

The duty of pastors, is to feed the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent.

By Elders, or ministers, which all them, which haue charge, teach, & minister in the Church.

The Elders which are among you Exhort, which are also an Elder, and a witness of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be opened:

3 Not as though ye were lords ouer Gods heritage: but that ye be an ensample to the flocke.

4 And when the chiefe Shepheard shall appeare, ye shall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glory.

Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them all things pertaining vnto life, hee exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts.

Simon Peter, a seruant and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to them which haue obtained like precious faith with vs, through the righteousness of our God and Saviour Iesus Christ:

2 Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you, through the knowledge of God and of Iesus our Lord.

3 According as his godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto life and godlinesse, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue:

4 By the which are giuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes thereof, ye might be partakers of the godly nature, if ye flee the corruption of worldly lusts.

5 And hereunto giue all diligence, in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge,

8 For if these things be among you, and be plentiful, they make you that ye neither shall be idle, nor infructfull in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind, and cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherefore, brethren, giue the more diligence for to make your calling & election sure: for if ye do such things, ye shall neuer fall.

5 For this they know not (and that wilfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water, and by the water, by the word of God:

6 By the which things the world that then was, perished, being then ouerrun with water.

7 But the heauens and earth, which are now, be kept by his word in store, and reserved vnto fire against the day of iudgement, and perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, * how that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day.

9 The Lord that hath promised, is not slack (as some men count slackenelle) * but is patient to vsward, forasmuch as he would haue no man lost, but will receive all men to repentance.

10 Neuerthelesse, * the day of the Loyde will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with seruent heate, the earth also, and the workes that are therein, shall be utterly burned.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall perish, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlinesse, 12 Looking for, and having vnto the coming of the day of God, by whome the heauen shall perish with fire, and the elements shall melt with seruent heate.

13 * Neuerthelesse, wee, according to his promise, looke for a newe heauen, and a newe earth, wherein dwelleth righteousnesse.

14 Wherefore dearely beloved, seeing that ye looke for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spotte, and defiled:

15 * And suppose that the long suffering of the Loyde is saluation, euen as our dearely beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given vnto him, hath written vnto you:

16 Vea almost in euery Epistle, speaking of such things, among which are many things hard to be vnderstood, which they that are vnlerned and vnstable, peruert, as they doe also the other Scriptures, vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therefore beloved, seeing ye be warned aforehand, be ware lest ye also, being led away with the errour of the wicked, fall from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord & saviour Iesus Christ: To whome be glory both now and for ever, Amen.

Here endeth the second Epistle of Saint Peter,

The first Epistle of Saint Iohn the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 The true witnesse of the euerlasting word of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

That which was from the beginning, which wee haue heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled of the word of life:

2 And the life appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shew vnto you that eternall life which was with the father, and appeared vnto vs:)

3 That which we haue seene and heard, declare wee vnto you, that ye also may haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship be with the father, and his sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these things write we vnto you, that your joy may be full.

5 And this is the cyding which wee haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, * that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse at all.

6 If wee say that wee haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and do not the truth.

7 But if we walke in the light, euen as hee is in the light, then haue wee fellowshipe one with another, * and the blood of Iesus Christ his sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 * If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and the truth is not in vs:

9 If we knowlege our sinnes, hee is faithfull and iust to forgive vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

10 If wee say that wee haue not sinned, wee make him a liar, and his word is not in vs.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Christ is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tryed. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

M little children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And if any man sinne, we haue an advocate with the father, Iesus Christ the righteous:

2 And hee is the stonement of our sinnes, not for our sinnes onely, but also for the sinnes of all the world:

3 And hereby wee are sure that we knowe

him,

him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 He that sayth, I know him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the veritie is not in him.

5 But whoſo keepeth his word, in him is the loue of God perfect indeed: Hereby knowe we that we are in him.

6 Hee that sayth hee abideth in him, ought himſelfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandement vnto you, but an olde commandement which ye haue heard from the beginning. The olde commandement, is the word which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Again, A new Commandement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and the ſame is true alſo in you, for the darkneſſe is paſt, and the true light now ſhineth.

9 He that ſayth how that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkneſſe, euen vntill this time.

10 Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occaſion of euill in him.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darkneſſe, and walketh in darkneſſe: and cannot tell whether he goeth, becauſe the darkneſſe hath blinded his eyes.

12 Babes, I write vnto you, becauſe your finnes are forgiven you for his names ſake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, becauſe ye haue known him that is fro the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, becauſe ye haue overcome the wicked.

14 I write to you little children, becauſe ye haue known the father. I haue writen to you fathers, becauſe ye haue known him that is from the beginning. I haue writen vnto you yong men, becauſe ye are ſtrong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue overcome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, as the luſt of the fleſh, and the luſt of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the father, but of the world.

17 And the world paſſeth away, and the luſt thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth for euer.

18 Little children, it is the laſt time: and as ye haue heard how that Antichriſt ſhall come, euen now there are many Antichriſts: whereby we know that it is the laſt time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they would no doubt haue continued with vs: But that it might appeare that they are not all of vs.

20 Neuertheleſſe, ye haue an ointment of him that is holy, and ye know all things.

21 I haue not writen vnto you as though ye knew not the truth: but becauſe ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jeſus is Chriſt: the ſame is Antichriſt, that denieth the father and the Sonne.

23 Whoſoever denieth the Sonne, the ſame hath not the father: But he that knowledgeth the Sonne, hath the Father alſo.

24 Let therefore abide in you, that ſaue which ye heard from the beginning: if that which ye haue heard from the beginning ſhall remaine in you, ye alſo ſhall continue in the Sonne and in the father.

25 And this is the promiſe that hee hath promiſed vs, euen eternall life.

26 Theſe things haue I writen vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 And the anointing which ye haue receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you, but as the ſame anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye ſhall abide in it.

28 And now babes, abide in him: that when he ſhall appeare, we may be bolde, and not be aſhamed of him at his coming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, know alſo that euery one which doth righteouſneſſe, is borne of him.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The ſingular loue of God toward vs, 7 and howe we againe ought to loue one another.

Behold what charity the father hath ſhewed vs, euen that we ſhould bee called the ſonnes of God: for this cauſe the world knoweth vs not, becauſe it hath not known him.

2 Dearely beloved, now are we the ſonnes of God, and yet doth it not appeare what we ſhall be: But we know that when he ſhall appeare, we ſhall be like him: for we ſhall ſee him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himſelfe, euen as he alſo is pure.

4 Whoſoever committeth ſinne, tranſgreſſeth alſo the law: for ſinne is the tranſgreſſion of the law.

5 And ye know that he appeared to take away our finnes, and in him is no ſinne.

6 As many as bide in him, ſinne not: whoſoever ſinneth, hath not ſeene him, neither known him.

7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: hee that doth righteouſneſſe, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth ſinne, is of the deuill: for the deuill ſinneth ſince the beginning: for this purpoſe appeared the ſonne of God, to looſe the works of the deuill.

9 Whoſoever is borne of God, ſinneth not: for his ſeed remaineth in him, & he cannot ſinne, becauſe he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowne, and the children of the deuill: whoſoever doth not righteouſneſſe, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the tidings that ye heard from the beginning, that ye ſhould loue one another.

12 Not as Cain, which was of the wicked, he ſlew his brother: And wherefore ſlew he him? becauſe his owne works were euill, and his brothers righteous.

13 Maruell not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 Wee know that wee are tranſlated from death vnto life, becauſe we loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Difference of ſpirits. 2 How the Spirit of God may be known from the ſpirit of error.

Dearely beloved, beleue not euery ſpirit, but prouue the ſpirits, whether they are of God or not: for many faile prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby ſhall ye know the Spirit of God: Euery ſpirit that confeſſeth that Jeſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh, is of God:

3 And euery ſpirit which confeſſeth not that Jeſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh, is not of God, and this is that ſpirit of Antichriſt, of whom yee haue heard how that he ſhould come: and euen now already is he in the world.

4 Little children, ye are of God, and haue overcome them: for greater is hee that is in you, then he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world, therefore ſpeake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 * Wee are of God, hee that knoweth God, heareth vs: hee that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know we the ſpirit of veritie, and the ſpirit of error.

7 Dearly beloved, let vs loue one another: for loue cometh of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

9 * In this appeared the loue of God to vs, ward, because God ſent his onely begotten Sonne into the world, that wee might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and ſent his Sonne to be the atgrement for our finnes.

11 Dearly beloved, if God ſo loued vs, we ought alſo to loue one another.

12 * No man hath ſeene God at any time, If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and hee in vs: because hee hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And we haue ſeene, and do teſtifie that the father ſent his Sonne to be the Sauiour of the world.

15 Whoſoever confeſſeth that Jeſus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And wee haue knowen and beleueed the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we ſhould haue boldneſſe in the day of iudgement: for as he is, euen ſo are we in this world.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue caſteth out feare: for feare hath painfullneſſe. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, for he loued vs firſt.

20 If a man ſay, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a liar: for how can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath ſeene, loue God whom he hath not ſeene?

21 * And this commandement haue wee of him, that he which loueth God, ſhould loue his brother alſo.

Iohn 13. 24
and 15. 11.

The v. Chapter.

Of the fruits of faith.

Whoſoever beleueeth that Jeſus is Chriſt, is borne of God: and euerly one that loueth him which begat, loueth him alſo which is begotten of him.

2 * By this wee know that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandements.

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commandements: and * his commandements are not grieuous.

4 For all that is borne of God, overcomeeth the world: and this is the victorie that hath overcome the world, euen our faith.

5 Who is it that overcomeeth the world, but he which beleueeth that Jeſus is the ſonne of God?

6 This Jeſus Chriſt is he that came by water and blood: not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the ſpirit that beareth witneſſe, because the ſpirit is trueth.

7 For there are three which beare record in heauen, The father, the word, and the Holy ghoſt, and theſe three are one.

8 And there are three which beare record in earth, The Spirit, and water, and Blood, and theſe three agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witneſſe of men, the witneſſe of God is greater: for this is the witneſſe of God, which he teſtifieth of his Sonne.

10 * He that beleueeth on the Sonne of God, hath the witneſſe in himſelfe: Hee that beleueeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleueed not the record that God gaue of his Sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternal life, and this life is in his Sonne.

12 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.

1 He writeth vnto a certaine Lady, 4 reioicing that her children walke in the truth, 5 and exhorteth them vnto loue.

He rideth vnto the elect Lady and her children, whom I loue in the truth, and not I only, but also al that haue knowen the trueth:

2 For the truetys sake which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for ever:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ, the sonne of the father in trueth and loue.

4 I reioiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in the trueth, as wee haue receiued a commandement of the father.

5 And nowe I beseech thee, Lady, not as though I wrot a newe commandement vnto thee: but that same which we haue had from the beginning, that we should loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements: This is the commandement, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the world, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiuer, and an Antichrist.

8 Looke on your selues, that we lose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the trueth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrophes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefoze if I come, I will declare his deede which he doeth, resting on vs with malicious wordes: and not content therewith, neither he himselfe receiueth the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.

Saint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to drawe away the hearers of the simple people from the trueth of God.

first and the last: that thou seest, write in a booke, and send it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voice that spake to me. And when I was turned, I saw seuen golden candlesticks, 13 And in the midst of the seuen candlesticks, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feet, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his haïres were white as white wooll, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feet like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a furnace: and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword: and his face shone euen as the Sunne in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet euen as dead: and he layed his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, feare not, * I am the first and the last, 18 I am aliué, and was dead: and beholde, I am aliué for evermore, Amen, and haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write therfore the things which thou hast scene, and the things which are, and the things which shalbe fulfilled hereafter.

20 The mystery of the seuen stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seuen golden candlesticks. The seuen stars are the Angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhortheth soure Churches 5 to repentance, 10 to perseverence, patience and amendment, 14 20 23 aswell by threatnings, 7 10 17 26 as by promises of reward.

Vnto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus, write, These things sayeth he that holdeth the seuen stars in his right hand, and that walketh in the midst of the seuen golden candlesticks:

2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and patience, and how thou canst not forbear them which are euill: and hast examined them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuerthelesse, I haue somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first workes: or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will remooue thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deede of the Nicolaitans, which deede I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayeth vnto the Churches: To him that ouercommeth, I will giue to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.

8 And vnto the angel of the church of Smyrna, write, These things sayth he that is first and the last, which was dead, and is aliué:

9 I know thy workes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art rich:) and I know the blasphemie of them which call themselves Jewes, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things which thou shalt suffer: beholde, the deuill shall cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shall haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithful vnto the death, and I will giue thee a crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches. Hee that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church of Pergamos, write, These things sayth he which hath the sharpe sword with two edges.

13 I know thy workes, and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans seat is, and that thou holdest fast my Name, and hast not demied my faith, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a few things against thee, because thou hast thre them that maintaine the doctrine of Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eat of meat sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication.

15 Euen so hast thou them that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eat of the manna that is hid, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing he that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the Angel of the Church of Thyatira, write, These things sayth the Sonne of God, who hath eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brasse:

19 I know thy workes, and thy charity, seruice, and faith, and thy patience, and thy deede, which are moe at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezabel, which called herself a Prophetesse, to teach, and to deceiue my seruants, to make them commit fornication, and to eat meat sacrificed vnto idols.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Beholde, I will cast her into a bed, & them that commit fornication with her into great aduersity, except they repent of their deede.

23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches shall know that I am hee which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according to his workes.

24 Vnto you I say, and vnto other of them of Thyatira, as many as haue not this learning, and which haue not knowen the deepenesse of Satan, as they say, I will put vpon you none other burden:

25 But that which ye have already, holde fast till I come.

26 And whosoever overcommeth, and keepeth my wordes unto the end, to him will I give power over nations:

27 *And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and as the vessels of a potters shall they be broken to shivers:

28 Even as I receiued of my father, so will I give him the morning starre.

29 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

The iij. Chapter.

Hee exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith, and to watching.

AND write vnto the Angel of the Church that is at Sardis, These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven starres, I knowe thy workes, euen that thou hast a name that thou liuest, and thou art dead.

2 Bee awake, and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I haue not found thy workes perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast receiued and heard, and holde fast, and repent, *If thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre I will come vpon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments, and they shall walke with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcommeth, shall be thus clothed in white aray, and I will not blot out his name out of the *booke of life, and I will confesse his name before my father, and before his Angels.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

7 And write vnto the Angel of the Church of Philadelphia, These things saith hee that is Holy and True, which hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man shutteth, and shutteth, and no man openeth.

8 I knowe thy workes: behold, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my sayings, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which call themselves Jewes, and are not, but do like: behold, I will make them that they shall come and worship before thy seete, and shall know that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly, holde that fast which thou hast, that no man take away thy crowne.

12 Him that overcommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the Citie of my God, which is new Ierusalem, which cometh downe out of heauen from my God: and I will write vpon him my new name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church which is in Laodicea, write, These things saith Amen, the faithfull and true witness, the beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I knowe thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art like warme, and neither colde nor hot, I will spee thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and haue neede of nothing: and knowest not howe that thou art wretched, and miserable and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to buy of me golde tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, that thy filthy nakednesse doe not appeare, and annoynt thine eyes with eye salue, that thou mayest see.

19 *As many as I loue, I rebuie and chasten, be feruent therefore, and repent.

20 Beholde, I stand at the doore, and knocke: if any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I will come in to him, and will suppe with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcommeth, will I graunt to sit with mee in my Throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sitten with my father in his Throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The vision of the Maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the Throne, and one sitting vpon it, 8 and foure and twentie seates about it, with foure and twentie Elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praising God day and night.

After this I looked, and beholde, a doore was open in heauen: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a Trumpet, talking with me, which saide, Come by hither, and I will shew thee things which must be fulfilled hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirit: and behold, a Throne was set in heauen, and one sate on the Throne.

3 And he that sate was to looke vpon like a Jasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainebow about the Throne, in sight like vnto Emeralde.

4 And about the Throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doe procede lightnings, and thundings, and voyces: and there were seven lampes of fire burning before the Throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the Throne there was a sea of glasse, like vnto Chrystal: and in the middell of the throne, and round about the Throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a Lion, and the second beast like a Calfe, and the third had a face as a man, and the fourth was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the foure beastes had each of them fire wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they had no rest saying,

11 *Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory, and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasures sake they are and were created.

The v. Chapter.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 and therefore the foure beasts, the foure and twentie Elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 9 for their redemption and other benefits.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sate on the Throne, a booke written within, and on the backside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong Angel preaching with a lowd voyce, who is worthy to open the Booke, and to looke the seales thereon.

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders sayeth vnto mee, weepe not: behold, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obtained to open the Booke, and to looke the seuen seales thereon.

6 And I behelde, and loe, in the middes of the Throne, and of the foure beasts, and in the mids of the Elders stood a Lambe as though he had bene killed, hauing seuen hornes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen Spirits of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And hee came, and tooke the Booke out of the right hande of him that sate vpon the Throne.

8 And when hee had taken the Booke, the foure beasts and foure and twentie Elders fell doونه before the Lambe, hauing every one of them harpes and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints:

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of all kindreds, and tongues, and peoples, and nations:

10 And hast made vs vnto our God *Kings and Priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 And I behelde, and I heard the voyce of many Angels about the Throne, and about the beasts and the Elders, and heard thousande thousandes, 12 Saying with a lowd voyce, worthy is the Lambe that was killed to receiue power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and I that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen. And the foure and twentie Elders fell vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

The vj. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things follow the opening thereof.

And I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beasts say, as it were the noise of thunder, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and beholde, there was a white horse, and hee that sate on him had a bow, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was giuen to him that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I heard the thirde beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse: and he that sate on him had a paire of ballances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penie, and three measures of barley for a penie, and oile and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was death, and hell followed with him: and power was giuen vnto him ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seale, I saw vnder the Altar the souls of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they had.

10 And they cried with a lowde voyce, saying, Howe long cariest thou Lord holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white garments were giuen vnto every one of them, and it was saide vnto them that they should rest yet for a little season, vntil their felow seruants, & their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I behelde when hee had opened the sixth seale, and lo, there was a great earthquake, and the Sunne was as black as sackcloth made of haire, & the Moone wared all euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth her vntimely figs when she is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen banished away as a scroll, when it is rolled together, and all mountaines and Isles were moued out of their places.

15 And the Kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaynes, and the mightie men, and every bond man, and every free man, hid themselves in the denmes, and in the rockes of the hilles:

16 And said to the hills and rockes, *Fall on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe: 17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

The vij. Chapter.

4 9 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads, out of all nations, and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

After that, I saw foure angels standing on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure winds of the earth, that the winde should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the Sunne, hauing the seale of the liuing God: and he cried with a loud voice to the foure angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth and the sea.

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we shall haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheades.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephtali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Iaschar were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and loe, a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with white garmentes, and palmes in their hands:

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation be ascribed to him that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the Lambe.

11 And all the angels stood in the compasse of the throne, and of the Elders, and of the foure beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God.

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our God for ever more, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying vnto mee, what are these which are arrayed in white garmentes: and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou wotest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and made them white by the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth in the throne will dwell among them.

16 * They shall hunger no more, neither thirst, neither shall the Sunne light on them, neither any heate.

17 For the Lambe which is in the middle of the throne shall feede them, and shall leade them vnto liuing fountaines of waters: * 3 God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The seventh seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure angels blow their Trumpets, and great plagues follow vpon the earth.

After that he had opened the seventh seale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seuen angels which stood before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood before the altar, hauing a golden censel, and many odours were giuen vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours which came of the prayers of Saints, ascended vpon before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel tooke the censel, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and voices were made, and thunders, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselves to blow.

7 The first angel blew, and there was made haile and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the thirde part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the second angel blew, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the thirde part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel blew, and there fell a great starre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the thirde part of the riuers, and into fountaines of waters:

11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood, and the thirde part was turned to wormewood, & many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel blew, and the thirde part of the Sunne was smitten, and the thirde part of the Moone, and the thirde part of starres, that the thirde part of them should be darkened: and the day was smitten that the thirde part of it should not shine, and like wise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the mids of heauen, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the voices to come of the trumpets of the three angels which were yet to blow

And the first angel blew, and I sawe a starre fall from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was giuen the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And hee opened the bottomlesse pit, and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great fornice, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke Locusts vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.

5 And to them it was giuen that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed five moneths, and their paine was as the paine that commeth of a Scorpion, when he shall haue stricken a man.

6 *And in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shall not find it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 *And the similitude of Locusts was like vnto horses prepared vnto battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had bene the faces of men.

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions, as it were habergions of iron, and the sound of their wings was as the sound of charcets when many horses runne to battell.

10 And they had tailles like vnto Scorpions, and there were stings in their tailles: and their power was to hurt men five moneths.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Grecke tongue hath his name Appollyon, that is to say, A destroyer.

12 One woce is past, and beholde, two woecs come yet after this.

13 And the first angel blew, and I heard a voice from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the first angel which had the trump, Loose the foure angels which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were loosed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yere, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the horsemen of the armies were twenty thousand times ten thousand: And I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in the vision, and them that were on them, hauing fierie habergions of a Jacint colour, and brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth fourth fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 And of these three was the third part of men killed, that is to say, of the fire, of the smoke and of the brimstone which proceeded out of the mouthes of them.

19 For the powers be in their mouthes, and in their tailles: for their tailles were like vnto

Serpents, hauing heads, and with them they doe hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their hands, that they should not worship deuils, *and idols of golde, and siluer, and brasle, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, neither heare, neither goe:

21 Also they repented not of their murders, and of their sozceries, neither of their fornication, neither of their thefts.

The x. Chapter.

1 The Angel hath the booke open: 6 He sweareth there shalbe no more time: 9 He giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

And I sawe another mighty Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rainebove vpon his head: and his face as it were the Sunne, and his feete as it were pillars of brasle.

2 And he had in his hand a little booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders vttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had vttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heauen, saying vnto me, Seale vp those things which the seven thunders vttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I sawe stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and things which therein are, that there should be no longer time,

7 But in the daies of the voice of the seventh Angel, when he shall begin to blowe, and the ministration of God shall be finished, as he declareth to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heauen spake vnto me againe, and sayd, Go, and take the little booke which is open in the hand of the Angel which standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the Angel, and said vnto him, Giue me the little booke. And he sayd vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it shal make thy bellie bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweet as honie.

10 And I tooke the little booke out of the angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as honie: and as soone as I had eaten it, my bellie was bitter.

11 And he sayd vnto me, Thou must prophesie againe among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The Temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses raised vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beast.

And then was giuen me a reed like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise, and mete the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they treade vnder foote fortye and two moneths.

3 And I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, and they shall propheticke a thousand, two hundred, & threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two Oliue trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, thus wise must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue finished their testimony, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them and kill them.

8 And their bodies shall lye in the streets of the great Citie, which spiritually is called Sodomome and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kinreds, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall see their bodies thre dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their bodies to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and bee glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two prophets bereyde them that dwell on the earth:

11 And after thre dayes and an halfe, the Spirit of life comming from God, entred into them: and they stood vpon their feet, and great feare fell vpon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heauen, saying vnto them, Come by hither. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enemies saw them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie fell, and in the earthquake were slaine names of men seuen thousand: and the remnant were afraid, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The second woe is past, and behold, the third woe commeth anon.

15 And the seventh Angel blew, and there were made great voices in heauen, saying, The kingdome of this world are our Lords, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for evermore.

16 And the foure and twentie Elders which sit before God on their seats, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, Wee giue thee thanks, O Lord God almightie, which art, and wast, and art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets and Saints, and to them that feare thy name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was scene in his temple the arke of his testament, and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thundrings, and earthquake and much haile.

The xij. Chapter.

There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the Sunne, &c.

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen, a woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres:

1 And shee beeing with childe, cryeth, traouailing in birth, and pained ready to bee deliuered.

2 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, for behold a great red Dragon, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads.

3 And his taile draweth the third part of the starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stood before the woman which was ready to bee deliuered, for to deuoure her child as soone as it were borne.

4 And she brought forth a man child, which shall rule all nations with a rodde of iron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and to his throne.

5 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes.

6 And there was a battell in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels,

7 And preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

8 And the great Dragon, that old Serpent, called the Deuill and Satanas, was cast out, which deceiureth all the world: and he was cast out into the earth, and his argels were cast out with him.

9 And I heard a loude voice saying in heauen, Now is come saluation, and strenght, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

10 And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, and by the word of his testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

11 Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them, vnto the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

12 And when the Dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman which brought forth the man childe.

13 And to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the face of the Serpent.

14 And the Serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had bene a flood: that he might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

15 And the earth holpe the woman, so the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed by the riuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

16 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the comman-

The xiii. Chapter.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12 and is confirmed by another. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

And I saw a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heads, a ten hornes, and vpon his hornes ten crownes, and vpon his heads, the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leopard, a his feete were as the feete of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lyon: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heads as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: and all the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saints, and to ouercome them: And power was giuen him ouer all kindes, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the Lambe, which was killed from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall goe into captiuitie: Hee that killeth with a sword, must be killed with a sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the Saints.

11 And I behelde another beast comming by out of the earth, and hee had two hornes like a lambe, and he spake as did the Dragon.

12 And hee doeth all that the first beast could doe in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worshippinge the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that hee maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwell on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which hee had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an Image to the beast which hath the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And he had power to giue a spirit vnto the Image of the beast, that the Image of the beast should both speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bonde, that he should giue them a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The notable companie of the lambe, 6 One Angel announceth the Gospel, 8 Another the fall of Babylon, 9 And the third warneth to flee from the beast, 18 Of the Lords harvest.

And I looked, and loe, a Lambe stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred and fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sound of many waters, & as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of Harpers, harping with their Harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beasts, and the Elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and forty and foure thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgines: These are they which follow the Lambe whithersoever he goeth: These were redeemed from men, being the first fruits vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without spotte before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another Angel flee in the middle of heauen, hauing the euerlasting Gospel, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to all nations, and kindes, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voice, * feare God, and giue gloze to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: * and worshippinge him that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaines of waters.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for shee made all nations drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loude voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: yea, of the pure wine which is powred in the cup of his wrath, and hee shall be punished in fire and brimstone, before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe, 11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth by euermore: And they haue no rest day nor night which worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: Here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord. Euen so sayeth the spirit, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes followe them.

17 And another Angel came out of the Temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cryed with a loude cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great winesatte of the wrath of God.

20 And the winesat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and five hundred furlongs.

The xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueilous, seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie Sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Lozde God Almighty, * iust and true are thy wayes, thou king of saints.

4 * Who shall not feare thee, O Lozde, and glorifie thy name? for thou onely art holy: And all Gentiles shall come, and worship befoze thee, for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of the testimony was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the Temple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, & hauing their breastes girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beasts gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoake of the glorie of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The Angels powre out their vials full of wrath, 6 and what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watch.

AND I heard a great voice out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first Angel went, and powred out his biall vpon the earth, and there fel a noysoine and a soze botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel shedde out his biall vpon the Sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

4 And the third Angel shedde out his biall vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lozde, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast giuen such iudgements:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saints and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar, say, Euen so Lozde God Almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel powred out his biall on the Sunne, and power was giuen vnto him to bere men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boiled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues: and they repented not to giue him glozy.

10 And the fifth Angel powred out his biall vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome wared darke, and they gnewe their tongues for sorrowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sorzes, and repented not their dedes.

12 And the sixt Angel powred out his biall vpon the great riuier Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of the East should be prepared.

13 And I sawe thzee vnclene spirites like frogges, come out of the mouth of the Dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the falsse pprophet.

14 For they are the spirites of detriis working miracles, to goe out vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almighty.

15 * Behold, I come as a thiefe, Happte is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, leaste he walke naked, and men see his filthinesse.

16 And hee gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrew tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth Angel powred out his biall into the aire: and there came a great voice out of the temple of heauen, from the thronc, saying, It is done.

18 And there followed voices, thunders, and lightnings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 The description of the great whore, 3 and her sins, and punishment.

And there came one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto me, Come, I will shew vnto thee the iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vpon many waters:

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabitants of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried mee away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heads and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was araid in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of golde in her hand, full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whores: dome and abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great maruell.

7 And the Angel said vnto mee, wherefore maruellest thou? I will shew thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heads, and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shal wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the beginning of the world) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisdom. The seuen heads, are seuen mountaynes, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kings.

10 Ifiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eighth, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are ten kings, which haue receiued no kingdom as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shal giue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shal fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shal overcome them: For he is the Lord of Lords, and the King of Kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull.

15 And he saith vnto me, The waters whi-thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent, for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

The xvij. Chapter.

3.9 The louers of the world are forie for the fall of the whore of Babylon: 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

And after that, I saw another Angel come from heauen, hauing great power, & the earth was lightened with his glorie.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voyce, saying, * Great Babylon is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of all foule spirits, and a cage of all vnclane and hatefull birdes:

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voice from heauen say, Come away from her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone by to heauen, and God hath remembered her wickednesse.

6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes, and powre in double to her in the same cup which she filled vnto you.

7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so much powre gee in for her of punishment and sorow: for she said in her heart, I sit being a queene, * and am no widowe, and shall see no sorow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorow, and hunger, and she shall be utterly burnt with fire, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth her.

9 And they shall bewaste her, and the kings of the earth shall lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing afarre off for feare of her punishment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth do weepe and waile ouer her, for no man buyeth their ware any moze.

12 The ware of gold, and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearles, and raires, and purple, and like, and scarlet, and all thyne wood, and all maner vessels of Puerie, and all maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasle, and yron, and marble.

13 And Cynamome, and odours, and oymments, and frankincence, and wine, and oile,

and:

and fine flour, and wheate, and beastes, & sheep, and hoxses, and charets, and bodiēs and soules of men.

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, & all things which were daintie, and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things which were wared rich, shall stand as farre off from her, for feare of the punishment of her, weeping and wailing.

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raines, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and purple, and precious stones, and pearles:

17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery ship governour, and all they that occupie ships, and shipmen, and as many as worke in the sea, stood as farre off.

18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, what citie is like vnto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping, and wailing, and saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea, by reason of her coullitnesse, for at one houre is she made desolat.

20 Reioice ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath giuen you iudgement on her.

21 And a mighty Angel tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, with such violence shall that great citie Babylon be cast, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voice of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a mill, shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: & the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine enchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

The xix. Chapter.

Praises are giuen to God for iudging the whore.

After these things I heard a great voice of much people in heauen, saying, Alleluia: saluation and glory, and honour, and power be ascribed to the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his iudgments, for hee hath iudged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his seruants of her hand.

3 And againe they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the four and twenty Elders, and the foure beasts fell downe, & worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our Lord God al ye that are his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of much people, euen as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of strong thundrings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioice, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed with pure and goodly raines: for the raines is the righteoussesse of Saints.

9 And he sayd vnto me, Write, * Happie are they which are called vnto the supper of the Lambes marriage. And hee sayd vnto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet, to worship him: And hee said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimony of Iesus, worship God: for the testimony of Iesus, is the spirit of prophecie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a white hoxse, and he that sat vpon him was called faithfull and true, and in righteoussesse hee doeth iudge and make battell.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, and hee had a name written, that no man knowe but he himselfe.

13 * And hee was clothed with a vesture dypt in blood, & his name is called the word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heauen followed him vpon white hoxses, cloathed with white and pure raines.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe sword, that with it he should smite the heathen: * and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and hee treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And hee hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, * King of King, and Lord of Lords.

17 And I saw an Angel stand in the Sunne, and he cryed with a loud voice, saying to all the foules that flie by the mids of heauen, Come and gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That yee may eate the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of hoxses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, & bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make battell against him that sat on the hoxse, and against his armie.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast quicke into a pond of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sworde of him that sat vpon the hoxse, which sworde proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their flesh.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 and after let loose, vexeth the Church grievously.

After these things I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

that old serpent, which is the deuill and Satanas, and bound him a thousand yeres.

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and set a seale on him, that hee should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousand yeres should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed for a little season.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat vpon them, and iudgement was giues vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witness of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their hands, and they liued and reigned with Christ a thousand yeres.

5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe vntill the thousand yeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is hee that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be the Priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeres.

7 And when the thousand yeres are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison:

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations which are in the foure quarters of the earth, * Gog and Magog, together them together to battell: whose number is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went vp in the plain of the earth, and compassed the tents of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shall be tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and the heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I sawe the dead both small and great stand before God: and the booke were opened: and another booke was opened, which is the booke of life: and the dead were iudged of those things which were written in the booke, according to their deedes.

13 And the sea gaue by her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered by the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deedes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

The xxj. Chapter.

3. 14. The blessed estate of the godly, 8. 27 and the miserable condition of the wicked.

AND I sawe a new heauen, and a new earth: * for the first heauen, and the first earth were banished away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy citie new Hierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heauen, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall bee his people, and God himselfe shall bee with them, and be their God.

4 * And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the former things are gone.

5 And he that sat vpon the throne, sayde, * Behold, I make all things new. And he sayd vnto me, Write: for these wordes are true and faithfull.

6 And he sayd vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. * I will giue vnto him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely.

7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.

8 But the fearefull, and vnbeleeting, and the abominable, & murderers, and whozmongers, and sozerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came vnto mee one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shewe thee the bride, the lambs wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountaine, and he led me that great citie, holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Jasper, cleare as Chrysolite:

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the East side three gates, and on the North side three gates, and towards the South three gates, and from the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the twelue names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the walles thereof.

16 And the citie lieth foure square, and the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the citie was pure golde, like vnto cleere glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first foundation was Jasper, the second Saphir, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald, 20 The fifth Sardonix, the sixt Sardius, the seventh Chrysolite, the eight Beryl, the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysolithus, the eleuenth a Iacinct: the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euerie gate was of one pearle, and the street of the citie was pure gold, as it were shining glasse.

22 And I sawe no temple there in: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lambe, are the Temple of it.

23 * And the citie hath no need of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to lighten it: for the glory of God do lighten it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24 * And the nations of them which are saved, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glorie and honour vnto it.

25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night.

26 And they shall bring the glory, and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any vnclene thing, neither whatsoever woꝛtheth abomination, or maketh lies: but they only which are * written in the lambes booke of life.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 The riuier of the water of life. 9 The Angel will not be worshipped.

AND he shewed me a pure riuier of water of life, cleare as Chrystall, proceeding out of the thꝛone of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middes of the streete of it, and of either side of the riuier was there wood of life, which bare twelue maner of fruits, and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the wood serued to heale the people withall.

3 And there shall be no moꝛe curse, but the thꝛone of God, and the Lambe shall be in it, and his seruants shall serue him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 * And there shall be no night there, & they neede no candle, neither light of the sunne, for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermoze.

6 And he said vnto mee, These sayings are faithfull and true. And the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shewe vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Beholde, I come shortly: Happie is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecie of this booke.

8 I John saw these things, & heard them. And when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to * worship before the seete of the Angel, which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he vnto mee, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and the fellow seruant of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the sayings of this booke: but worship God.

10 And he saicth vnto me, Seale not the sayings of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that doeth euill, let him doe euill: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And beholde, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, * to giue euery man according as his deedes shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, * the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that doe his commandments, that their power may be in the tree of life, & may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shall be dogges, and incharners, and whoꝛmongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh leasings.

16 I Iesus sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches. I am the root and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say also, Come. * And let him that is a thirst, come. And whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely.

18 I testifie vnto euery man that heareth the wordes of the prophesie of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are written in this booke:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the booke of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from the things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saicth, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.
